Commission Recommended

Honor Code Bill Passed

A resolution creating a Honor System Commission on this campus was passed at the first meeting of the State Student Government last Thursday.

The following Senators were sworn into office: Murray Rudisill, Roger Mozingo, Joyce Meares, Bernard Furgeson, and William May.

President Eddie Knox, in his address to the body, brought forth the following points: welcomed new and old Senators back to the Legislature, complimented the Orientation Commission, urged Senators to support the bill concerning the honor system, and announced the Friday pep rally.

Knox also spoke about sportsmanship at the State-Carolina game, and the 5 million dollars that State will receive from the bond issue of October 27.

Treasurer Ben Kittrell was sworn into office, and Jim Hackney was appointed as N.S.A. Coordinator.

Joel Ray, Chairman of the Honor Code Board, spoke on the honor commission resolution and after some discussion it was unanimously passed.

The Resolution follows:

Whereas, it is a widely recognized fact that there is a definite need for the strengthening of the Honor System on this campus.

Therefore be it resolved that an Honor System Commission be created in order to better inform the student body as to the worth of the system and the benefits that may be derived from support of it.

The commission shall be composed of two persons from fraternities, campus dormitories, and off-campus housing (other than fraternities, and one person each from Verville and a campus honor society). Of the two members from the off-campus area, one member will be married and one be single. The chairman of the Honor Code and two Campus Code Boards shall also serve on this commission.

These members shall be appointed from fraternities and each living area at-large by the President of the Student Body with a two-thirds vote of approval by the legislature.

A chairman of this commission shall be elected by the members of the commission.

Each commission member must have a scholastic average of 2.0 at the time of appointment.

The commission membership shall be appointed and approved by the legislature no later than two weeks after classes begin in the fall of each year.

The policies and actions of this body shall be determined by a simple majority vote of the body.

One of the Board chairmen must be present in order for the body to vote on any action.

Students Warned Of Solicitors Without Permit

Each year a number of State College students living in dormitories and fraternity houses are relieved of a sizeable sum of money by confidence men operating in the guise of salesmen, saleswomen or solicitors.

These men or women "sell" everything from insurance to cut-rate clothes. A confidence man always has a reasonable story. One had a forged letter from this office.

To protect the student body, the college has ruled that there is to be no solicitation in any dormitory or fraternity house unless the solicitor has been approved by the Financial Aids Office (Dr. Johns, TE 4-5211, Ext. 460).

Such permission is rarely given. When it is given, it is only to State College students and the student is required to wear a badge issued by that office. No person who is not a student at State College can get a permit to solicit.

If an unauthorized salesman comes to your door notify your dormitory manager or call TE 4-5211 extension 215, 370 or 460. You can get what he is offering through reputable sources of supply, generally for less money than he is asking. No reputable insurance salesman in Raleigh will solicit business in a dormitory or fraternity house. No magazine salesman can give you a better price than you can get directly from the company.

Some of these salesmen will be fakes. College campuses are favorite targets for confidence men and thieves. You may have heard of the product, but you never can be sure that the salesman can or will deliver it.

If you become suspicious of any visitor, please notify this office—TE 4-5211, Extensions 215, 370, or 460.

Graduate Students Meet for First Time

The Council of the Graduate Student Association met September 28 for the first time this year. The meeting was planned to introduce the new council members to their co-workers, and to formulate plans for the coming year.

One of the goals of the G. S. A. is to provide social and cultural programs of more interest to the Graduate Students than those presented by the College Union.

In the past their social events (dances) have failed, mainly because of untimely planning. Would you, and when would you like to have a dance this year? Contact your council representative with your suggestions.

Do you know that you have paid an Agromeck fee? You undoubtedly have. Take advantage

State Stunned, 20-12, In Tar Heel Comeback

It was a sunny day in Chapel Hill's Kenan Stadium Saturday afternoon, and a crowd of 38,000 sat in coatless informality to see the Tar Heels of Carolina come from behind in the fourth quarter to defeat the Wolfpack from the West Raleigh campus by the score of 20-12.

It marked the first time in four years that a Carolina team had beaten N. C. State College. The last time the Tar Heels beat the Wolfpack as in 1955, and the score was 25-18.

Eddie Knox, president of the student body, made this statement concerning the sportsmanship shown at the State-Carolina game. "We can be extremely proud of the excellent sportsmanship displayed preceding, during, and following Saturday's game. Our students upheld their share of the bargain in respect to the goalpost and are to be congratulated. As students, our actions are observed as being representative of State College, and Saturday we represented our school admirably."

The Tar Heels started a completely revamped lineup against the Wolfpack with only three first-stringers in the lineup. These were quarterback Jack Cummings, halfback Wade Smith, and tackle Don Stallings. A fourth, halfback Milam Wall, was out with an injury. Al Goldstein, an end, fullback Don Klochak, and end John Schroeder were among the stars that did not start the contest.

However, Coach Jim Hickey, who accomplished something Saturday that the late Jim Tatum never did while he was at the Hill, mixed his lineup with the skill of a housewife mixing up a new dish. Hickey started eight second-stringers against the Wolfpack.

The Tar Heels won the toss and elected to receive the kickoff. It was a scoreless battle in the first quarter, but the Tar Heels started their drive toward a touchdown when quarterback Ray Farris took over for Cummings. A 15-yard penalty moved the ball to the Wolfpack's 45. Using fakes and handoffs, the Tar Heels stuck to the ground and drove 45 yards for the first score. Farris carried the ball the last five yards for the touchdown. Bob Shupin kicked the extra point and the score was 7-0.

The Wolfpack came driving back and marched 65 yards for their first score. The big play in this drive was an 18-yard lateral from fullback Arnold Nelson to halfback Claude Gibson. Two passes to Gibson, one from quarterback Roman Gabriel and the other from halfback Ron Podwika, carried the ball to the 11-yard line. Podwika then moved the ball to the one-yard line on a fourth and two situation from the nine. He

IDC Sponsors Formal Ball

The Tommy Dorsey Orchestra under the direction of Warren Covington has been engaged to play for the IDC ball on October 24. The annual dance which is the highlight of the dormitory social events is sponsored by the Inter-Dormitory Council, the governing body of State's thirteen dormitories.

The formal dance will be free to all dormitory residents. The IDC also hopes to arrange a tuxedo rental plan whereby students may rent a tux for the occasion at a reduced price. It will also be permissible for ROTC students to wear their uniforms as formal attire.

Buddy Gentry, IDC Social Director, is chairman of the committee in charge of completing arrangements for the ball. Other members of the committee are Richard Tucker, Ronnie Keen, Don Paul, Rex Hatch, Ed Elam, and Robert Farrell.

Gentry had the following comment with regard to the approaching dance: "The Tommy Dorsey Orchestra played for our ball last year and was considered a great success. We were very pleased that we were able to contract the Dorsey Orchestra again this year. The IDC is looking forward to the dance being an even greater success than last year."

In addition to the IDC Ball the dormitories will have other social events later in the year. These events will consist of parties and picnics which will probably be held in the Spring.

Enrollment Rises For Textile School

The School of Textiles at State College today reported a freshman enrollment increase of 57 per cent and a total enrollment jump of 13 per cent above last fall's figures.

In reporting the registration increase, Dr. Malcolm E. Campbell, dean of the college's School of Textiles, said the textile student body includes representatives from 16 states and 21 countries.

Dean Campbell said the number of students transferring from other colleges and universities to the School of Textiles also has shown a marked rise.

He attributed the enrollment increase to two factors—"a much-improved financial situation in the textile industry" and "an intensive recruiting program" conducted by G. H. Dunlap, director of the Placement Bureau in the School of Textiles and Prof. W. H. Smith of the faculty.

A scholarship program including restricted and unrestricted funds totaling $28,400 has enabled the School of Textiles to attract some of the most talented graduates of the State's public schools.

Dean Campbell said that North Carolinians among the students registered in the State College School of Textiles represented 72 per cent of the total enrollment.

The Forestry Club will hold its weekly meeting Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1959. The meeting will be held in Kilgore hall. Slides of western logging will be shown.

The State College Veterans Association held its first meeting of the school year Oct. 2, at 7:00 p.m. The Friday night meeting will be held in the College Union. All veterans are urged to attend. Non-members may apply for membership at this meeting.

The Agriculture Club will meet at 7:00 p.m., Tuesday in the College Union theater. The program will take up the problems, salaries, and expectations of extension work. The speaker will be Mr. Grady Miller.

For sale: a matchless motorcycle. It is a verticle twin 500 cc., 49 model, with a 50 engine. The tires are excellent. It runs good. The price of the cycle is $175. For more information see S. H. Napier, Williams Trailer Park, 5655 Western Blvd.

The E. E. Wives Club, will meet Wednesday night, Oct. 7, at 8:00 p.m. in room 256-258 of the College Union. It will be game night and all members are urged to attend.

Over a hundred enthusiastic beginners turned up for lessons in dancing on Thursday 24th Sept. at the College Union dance space. But there was a snag. Not one girl was to be seen anywhere. It was quite an interesting thing to watch boys dancing without girls and showing enough imagination that they were dancing with one. They were promised partners this week. In the meantime boys have been instructed in elementary foot-steps and quite a few 'dents' in dancing.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Fraternity Way

For the next five days, about seventeen per cent of the State Students will have just one thought on their minds; that thought will concern fraternities.

For about eight hundred of them, the thought will be: Will this man make a good brother in our chapter or not? And the rest of the group will be thinking: Which one of the fraternities that I'm seeing appeals to me most?

These questions are age-old; they have been asked by men ever since the origin of social fraternities in the nineteenth century. But, even though they are age-old, they are the most important questions that can be asked by each group.

The first group, the men of the eighteen fraternities here, are constantly looking for men whom they think can make a definite contribution to the way that their particular chapter is operated. Of course, the various operations are completely different, and therefore, the brothers at each house will be looking for a different quality in the rushees.

The second group, the rushees, both freshmen and upperclassmen, will be looking for a fraternity in which they can find people like themselves, that is, men who share their own interests. No matter what may be a man's particular interest, he will be able to find men like himself in at least one of the fraternities here.

Although it may sound old and worn out, the phrase, "There's a fraternity for everyone that wants one," still remains true. The rushee may not find the one fraternity for himself on the first night of rush, or a fraternity may not find all the men they want on the first night, but, during the weeks to come, both the rushees and the fraternity men will be able to tell, after meeting and talking with each other, that they have both found what they needed.

So, in the minds of each group will be a searching eye, that eye groping in the darkness of unfamiliarity hoping to find something that resembles itself. Usually, that "something" is found.

When these groups find what they want, both are glad. Finding each other means that each has found an asset, one that will help to fulfill their own particular needs.

In order that each group will be able to make an honest appraisal of the other, it is important, though, to be completely natural. A false front can be effective for a short time, but it is impossible to keep one all the time.

Therefore, to both the rushees and the fraternity men, a completely sincere approach is most important. Without that approach, much disappointment may follow, and the goal of either group may never be attained.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I WOULD LIKE YOU 'RUSHEES' TO SEE THE GRACIOUS LIVING WE HAVE INSIDE, BUT THIS DELIGHTFUL SURPRISE COMES AFTER YOU PLEDGE."

Rambling 'Round

by Harvey Horowitz

Well, I'm all set for the coming sojourn in Chapel Hill. I have my cowbell and my sheep shears, and tomorrow I'll go over to Cameron Village and get myself some 'Snake-bite remedy' . . . It is my belief that newspapers should be impartial, so I want to state right now that I don't care who gets more touchdowns—our first team or our second team. I understand Carolina has cooked up a sure-fire defense to stop our boys . . . it involves the use of sixteen linemen and six backs. That's the Carolina version of the two-platoon system.

I'm happy to see that our benevolent protectors are back on the job. I saw a couple of the boys over behind Winston in their little red jeep. Their eagle eyes had picked out two bicycles and a scooter in the parking lot, and, since these vehicles had no registration stickers, the intrepid lawmen had attached, to each, a bright yellow ticket which entitled the bearer to a receipt for the payment of a small fine. What I don't understand is how they missed the two bicycles which were parked illegally on the sidewalk behind Tompkins!

Does anyone know why the water fountains in Bragaw Dorm don't work? Doesn't the pressure make it to my floor? While I'm on the subject: it was nice of someone to warn me against plugging in the fountain on the top floor of Tompkins, but I have been told that that sign was there all through summer school. Is the thing working, or isn't it?

I certainly recognized the old place when I returned to the campus this fall. The sight of the freshly dug trench in front of Tucker brought back memories of the days when the other half of the streets were impassable. Why don't they do that kind of stuff in the summer?

If our football players are as tricky as the folks over in the Coliseum, those sheepherders up the road don't have a chance. I am thinking of a certain chap I know who waited until yesterday to get his ticket for the Carolina fracas, but was informed that tickets for the game were only given out last week. This, of course, situated him in the headwaters of a small tributary with no visible means of locomotion.

At last I have discovered why so many of my compatriots make a nasty face when the College Union is mentioned: all the other unions obtain shorter hours and higher pay for their members, while ours does everything else but. If I worked just a forty-hour week, I could enjoy my union membership. On the other hand, can one go on strike against his classes?

It is nice that WKNC can carry the football games this year, but who will be in town to listen this weekend? I hear the station has offers from about 500 boys who want to go along to help with the UCLA game. (499 and me.) However, I've been told that they are not taking that much microphone cable.

The sign on Hillsboro Street warns us to watch for the opening of the new bowling alley. You can't see much over that fence, but you can see enough to tell that they ain't building. Or is this to be an open-air alley?

I hear that there were more professors than students in the Coliseum for the "Rock and Roll Show." Maybe they are just trying to understand us, but this seems like a pretty desperate step!

State's Expansion Depends On Board

On October 27, the people of North Carolina will go to the polls to vote on a multi-million dollars Bond Issue. Out of the entire Bond, the share for higher education in North Carolina will amount to over eighteen million dollars.

State College has one of the largest slices in this Bond, that being over four million dollars. Many of the items in the Long Range Plan for State College will derive their monetary support from this Bond. Among the more important ones is the planned circular classroom building.

This Bond Vote will be one of the greatest assets that this college could receive if it is passed by the people. But, if it is defeated, it will serve as a virtual end to the expansion of State College's physical plant for the next few years.

Because this Bond Vote is so important to the future of State College and of higher education in North Carolina, we, as students, should do all in our power to see that it passes. Not only can it help us while we are in school, but also it will help our

Greeks On Campus

By Bill Marley

First in the news for you Greeks is a little item about the Kingston Trio which is a wee bit discouraging. On Friday night, the Interfraternity Council received a telegram from their business manager stating that they were in the process of preparing a television series, and, because of this fact, they would have to cancel their November 1 date here at State.

However, the Trio did request that the State Greeks consider a later date. So, the I. F. C. will have to do the "Considering". After that, I'll let you know.

According to the meager reports I've had, Visitation Week was a complete success and, reportedly, an all-time high as to the number of men visiting. One small word of advice to freshmen or rushees in general: Please dress correctly for all functions.

I don't mean to imply that "clothes make the man", but impressions can be good or bad. Sometimes, these impressions rest on the way a man dresses.

While rummaging through some old papers laying around the house, I found something that interested me. Therefore, I would like to relay it to the rushees and fraternity men: The article was entitled, "What the Nation's Leaders are Saying About Fraternities." Here are a few excerpts: "I liked fraternity life in college and I still think it is a highly satisfactory institution. There is no better way of getting edges knocked off or of developing the male animal into a social human being." Former Governor of New York Thomas E. Dewey.

"Nearly everything satisfactory and good that has come to me in my life has come to me because I joined a college fraternity. Most of my truly close friends came to me because of it. I believe the positive and obvious benefits of the fraternity system far outweigh the disadvantages." The late George Macy, founder and head of the Limited Editions Club, the Heritage Book Club, and the George Mary Companies.

"Fraternities are a distinctive and praiseworthy feature of American college life. Both as a fraternity man and as an educator, I firmly believe in the value of fraternities when they are properly managed and under good leadership." Dr. Walter C. Langham, President of the University of Cincinnati.

It pleased me to read these convictions and I'm sure, that it pleases all fraternity men that such prominent men are in favor of the fraternity system.

Campus Service Store Operations Explained

The campus store system represents a composite of student service centers composed of the following units: Watauga Book Shop, Student Supply Store, The Technical Press, Quad Canteen (Upper Quadrangle), Syme Coffee Shop, Country House (Alexander and Turlington Court), Tucker Snack Bar (Tucker Dormitory), and the Shuttle Inn (Textile Building).

The campus stores are operated under the supervision of the college administration, including the office of the Chancellor, the Business Office, and the management of the store system as employed by the college. All employees are paid a regular salary as agreed upon by the administration and approved by the Board of Trustees. They do not receive any share of the profits from store earnings.

The Chancellor and President have been granted authority by the Board of Trustees for allocating profits to the different kinds of scholarships in the past. The Chancellor has adopted a policy of following the recommendations for allocations regarding divisions of scholarship funds between athletic and non-athletic grants-in-aid. In 1959 this amounted to $43,525.76 for athletic scholarships and $29,017.17 for non-athletic scholarships.

The Board of Trustees has authorized a Campus Stores Advisory Committee consisting of three faculty members and three students. The student members are appointed by the President of the Student Body. The committee is required to meet at least once each semester with the Campus Stores Manager to review and discuss operational policies, including "student and faculty complaints, criticisms and suggestions." This committee can serve as an effective medium of communication between all members of the college community and the administrative staff on questions related to the operation of the Campus Stores.

The yearly profits from the Students Supply Stores which last year amounted to over $70,000.00 are derived from the sales of books and supplies. The stores are prohibited from underselling local merchants in everything but textbooks by the Umstead Act passed some years ago by the State Legislature in the several college communities.

Audit reports have shown that the profit margin on books has been held to approximately 3%. This margin is a necessary operation safety factor. Any students who have complaints or suggestions concerning the services offered at any of the Campus Stores should contact one of the following students who are members of the Campus Stores Advisory Committee: Herbert C. Henley, George Washington Brown, and Robert M. George.

With 37 seconds remaining in the second quarter State had the ball on the Carolina 39 and a third and eighteen situation. Gabriel was throwing for Bernie Latusick, and the pass was way out of the reach of the Wolfpack receiver. Cummings interfered with Latusick and it gave the Wolfpack first and two on Carolina's two-yard line. On the second try from the two Podwika crossed the goal line to give the Wolfpack a 12-7 lead with eight seconds remaining in the half. The try for the extra point failed and the score at half read: STATE 12 UNC 7.

There was no scoring in the third as the Wolfpack controlled the ball. The Wolfpack had numerous scoring chances, but could not cash in on them.

With a fourth and two situation the Wolfpack failed to make the first down on the Carolina line as they failed a yard shy.

From here the Tar Heels took over and marched 91 yards to give them a 13-12 lead a little less than ten minutes remaining Meyer Smith, the ball carrier for UNC on this play almost went all the way for the TD. He was stopped on the 14-yard line. From here Gib Carson carried the ball the remaining 14 yards for the score.

State had two more chances, but could not score. Carolina scored their final TD with a little less than a minute left in the game on a pass from Cummings to Goldstein. Moose Butler kicked the extra point, and the final score read: UNC 20 STATE 12.

Tar Babies Stop Wolflets In Freshmen Battle, 28-0

The N. C. State freshmen were not able to move the ball inside the North Carolina freshmen's 20 yard line and as a result went down to a 28-0 defeat at the hands of the Tar Babies.

Wally Dunham sparked the Carolina attack as he personally accounted for 26 of the 28 points scored by the Carolina freshmen. Dunham scored on two pass plays and added two more touchdowns by plunging one yard and by galloping 75 yards with a State punt. The Carolina halfback completed his scoring with a two point conversion.

The State frosh got down to the 15, 13, 22, 12 and 10 yard line of the Tar Babies during the contest but were unable to push any deeper and into pay territory.

The high spot in the State attack was the passing of quarterback Bill Krigger to end Don Montgomery. Carolina scored six points in the first stanza, eight game is history. The game could easily be summed up in two big situations. These would have to be fourth down situations. Each team had one. State had the ball fourth and two on the Carolina ten-yard line and could not make the first down, while Carolina had the ball fourth and seven on the State 32 and pulled a reverse for the first down and went on to score the touchdown which proved to be the margin of victory.

Intramural Grid Action Features Greek Tussle

The intramural football season started last week with 32 teams kicking off the program. There were many exciting battles, but the most unusual without a doubt would have to have been the game in the Fraternity League between the Sigma Nus and the Sigma Chis. The game ended in a 6-6 tie with the Nus winning on total yardage.

The Nus went into the game as a decided underdog as rated by the Sigma Chis whose line averaged 225 pounds per man. The unusual thing in the game was how the Sigma Nus scored their points. Their six points came on three safeties.

The Chis had a top notch team as the word was coming in to the Nus training camp. The game was not a contest for small boys as the lines battled with the power of a college varsity line.

Any time these two fine teams meet there is always going to be a terrific game. The game was a hard fought contest and it was a tough one for the Chis to lose, but a good one for the Nus to win.

The next battle between these two teams will come in about three weeks. Another hard fought contest will be on tap.

With Rush Week in process this week there will be a limited number of games in the Fraternity League.

The Dormitories will carry out a full schedule though with volleyball beginning Monday, October 5.

The football schedule is as follows for this week:

Wednesday, October 7
#27 WGS4—Bragaw N.
#26 Berry—Owen #22
#25 Owen #21—Beet No. 2
#24 Watauga—Tucker #22
Thursday, October 8
#21 Alex—Bragaw S.
#22 Beet #21—Syme
#23 Bagwell—Vetville

The Track meets will get under way for the dormitories and fraternities next week with the preliminaries for the dormitories and fraternities set Monday, October 19, and Tuesday, October 20 respectively. Finals will be Thursday, October 22 for both leagues. Details will be posted later for the Meets.

Golf for the dormitories and fraternities gets under way October 16 with play running every day thru the 24th. Details on the golf competition will be released at a later date.

The following is very important for all boys who play intramurals. The City Police prohibits parking on Glen Allen Drive or on the shoulders of Glen Allen Drive. Cars will be towed away at owner's expense. The student will be charged for the towing and also court costs. Please Park In The Parking Lot At Bragaw Or On The Road Behind The Intramural Field.

State Band Stars At Carolina Game

The State College Marching Band, one-hundred and fifty strong, opened its 1959-60 season Saturday when they marched out on the field at the State Carolina game.

The band this year is the largest marching band that State College has ever had. It is also the largest marching band in the State of North Carolina. The Band has thirty slide trombones, twelve saxophones, and a drum section of more than thirty members.

The band is under the direction of Robert A. Barnes and assistant director J. Perry Watson.

The band was heard Saturday afternoon by a unique feature of the State College band. A five man herald trumpet section announced the band. This trumpet section is composed of five men who play golden trumpets more than four feet in length.

Another unusual instrument that was featured in the band is the "world's largest brass drum." This giant drum which is more than seven feet tall was pulled on a cart by two members of the band wearing colorful wolf masks.

The show consisted of four major formations. The music was by the famous American Composer, Mr. Leroy Anderson.

The band moved out on the field and for its first formation spelled out C-A-R-O-L-I-N-A, in mass letters that extended from one ten yard line to the other.

The next formation was a gigantic trumpet, complete with moving valves. The third formation was a geometric type formation, which covered a very large portion of the field. From this formation the band moved into another gigantic formation of a horse drawing a sleigh. The fans were actually able to see the legs of the horse moving up and down as the sleigh moved down the field.

Going into the fourth and final formation the band struck the familiar State Fight Song. They then moved into a beautiful monogram formation facing the State side. In this formation, the band played the beloved State College Alma Mater before moving off of the field to conclude their portion of the half-time show.

Still young and beautiful at age 75!

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE

But America's most famous lady does it!

No Paris design of '59 is more lovely than this ageless beauty, a gift from France 75 years ago. Miss Liberty has welcomed millions to these shores with the words, "Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free... I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

A cigarette that's Low in tar with More taste to it!

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE

But L&M does it!

When you're in New York, be sure to make the trip over to see Miss Liberty. And wherever you are right now, enjoy the cigarette that's kindest to your taste.

That's L&M: Low in tar, with more taste to it. No wonder more Americans switch to L&M every day! Live Modern... switch to L&M!
