Tonight At CU

Author To Present First 'Arts' Lecture

"The Contemporary Scene," a series of four lectures in the arts, will be presented at 8:15 tonight in the ballroom of the College Union. John Dos Passos, the famous American novelist, will be the featured speaker. Immediately following the lecture a coffee hour will be held in order that interested persons may have the opportunity to meet Mr. Dos Passos.

DOS PASSOS

John Dos Passos was born in Chicago in 1896, the son of a New York lawyer of Portuguese descent. His service in the First World War, not only in the French and Italian ambulance corps but in the U. S. Medical Corps as well, influenced him to write his first novel, "Three Soldiers." A strong portrait of individual helplessness in a mechanical society, this book gave a definite hint of things to come from Dos Passos' pen in the future.

"Manhattan Transfer," written in 1925, marked the inception of Dos Passos' experiments in the technique of the novel. This work is a rather complex but absorbing view of New York City, involving many characters, some of whom are inter-related and some not.

In 1937 Dos Passos had published what was to become his most famous work, "U.S.A." The novel is a trilogy which includes "The 42nd Parallel," "1919," and "The Big Money" and records with amazing precision the complex lives of American people in an industrialized society. This work has been placed alongside Tolstoy's "War and Peace" and Joyce's "Ulysses" because of its tremendous scope and technique.

A second trilogy, beginning with "Adventures of a Young Man" (1939), was continued with "Number One" (1943) and concluded in 1949 with "Grand Design." He also wrote "Tour of Duty" in 1946.

Since that time, Dos Passos has written historical works, including "The Head and Heart of Thomas Jefferson," and "The Men Who Made the Nation."

He is now living in Westmoreland County, Virginia and has just recently finished another book.

Ford Foundation Gives NCS Three-Quarter Million Grant

A Ford Foundation grant of $760,000 to State College was termed today by college officials as a means of attaining an even higher level of excellence in the college's graduate program in engineering.

Dr. John T. Caldwell, chancellor of State College, described the Ford grant as "splendid encouragement and tremendously valuable for advancing the college's already vigorous and excellent program."

Chancellor Caldwell added, "We will move promptly to raise the increased funds which will qualify for the conditional portion of the Ford grant."

Dr. J. Harold Lampe, dean of State College's School of Engineering, said the funds will spur the college's quest for greater excellence in its graduate program in engineering.

Dean Lampe, who has been designated to administer the funds provided by the Ford Foundation, and that the grant will enable the college to assist "in the further professional development of our present faculty and will be a means of encouraging young people to enter engineering education as a career."

University of Texas, and North Carolina State College—confer nearly all the doctoral degrees in engineering in the South.

Major features provided by the Ford Foundation grants will be additions to the engineering faculty, development of the present faculty, expansion and improvement of the graduate enrollment, and general use funds for research, equipment, conferences, and the like.

North Carolina State College confers the Doctor of Philosophy Degree in seven fields of engineering and physics including ceramic engineering, chemical engineering, civil engineering, electrical engineering, mechanical engineering, nuclear engineering, and applied physics.

It is one of the South's top centers of graduate study in engineering.

WKNC 'Campus Roundtable' To Discuss College Union

On last week's Campus Roundtable on WKNC the principle topic of discussion was the funds used by the College Union. The question was raised, what is being done with the fifteen dollars that is paid by each State student to the College Union. With sixty-five hundred students, this amounts to almost one hundred thousand dollars per year.

The following questions were raised: What is being done with this money? In what ways is it being returned to the students in services? Is there a profit being made and if so, what is being done with it? How can the students be better served by the Union? Should emphasis be placed more on students activities rather than on outside activities?

Due to the interest shown by some students in where their money goes, these questions and many others concerning the CU will be answered and discussed this Thursday night on Campus Roundtable. WKNC has invited six members of the Board of Directors of the CU to be present in their studios for this week's Campus Roundtable to help discuss this issue. This show will begin at eight P.M. Thursday.

It is anticipated that this discussion will be of great interest to all students.

Students who have questions, opinions, or suggestions or any other discussion concerning this problem, call Campus Roundtable at TE 2-7861 Thursday night between eight and nine.

Engineering Senators Vie

Goldwater

Arthur Goldstein, campaign manager for Leon Goldwater issued this statement concerning the Engineering Senator run-offs.

"Leon Goldwater has qualified for the senatorial run-offs in the freshman class. The final election will be held this Thursday deciding who shall become our officers.

"I, as Leon Goldwater's roommate and campaign manager, do urge all freshmen to vote, whether for my candidate or another.

"I am not trying to persuade all freshmen in engineering to vote for Goldwater, but merely to familiarize you with my candidate.

"Leon has shown leadership previous to his arrival to State College. He was the most active senior in his high school, vacating posts in most activities ranging from scholastic, to social, to athletic organizations.

"Goldwater's inborn characteristics of leadership has shown through here at State College after only six weeks of school. My on-the-spot coverage showed Leon leading three cheers from the stands during the Maryland game, being in the front line as the freshmen started an unsuccessful march on the capital previous to the Carolina game, in addition to his leading three yell fights on Owen. Seriously considering his ability to lead a group, I think Leon Goldwater is deserving of one of your votes for engineering senator.

"In the upcoming election, Leon will surely receive my vote, or I'll have to move out. Won't y'all give your support to a candidate that is willing to represent each freshman to the best of his ability. Your vote will be appreciated. Thank you."

Joe Ridgill

The following statements were submitted to The Technician by the campaign managers of Joe Ridgill, candidate for Engineering Senator:

"The time has come to let it be known the qualifications of Joe Ridgill. Joe has held offices in his church and in Scouting. He was elected Youth Mayor of Winston-Salem, N. C., for the year 1958. Because of the training Joe has had, he is seeking to represent you honestly for the advancement of our class. At present Joe is busy at work on the pamphlet "Information Concerning Your Candidates", which will be delivered to all freshmen tonight by the Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity. Joe has decided that if he is elected that he will give of himself as he is doing now. He has the freshmen class foremost in his mind as is shown by his concern regarding the number that voted in last week's election. Joe has put many hours of work into this pamphlet in order to give you the chance to vote tomorrow with some knowledge of each candidate. Joe only asks that you take advantage of your privilege to vote in tomorrow's election. Just make sure that when you do vote that you consider the importance of having well qualified persons as your class officers and Senators.

"I am sure that your vote will be greatly appreciated by Joe. When you go to the polls tomorrow just remember old Joe is running for Engineering Senator."

An additional statement by Phil Simpson said: "It is only natural to want a political office or important position occupied by someone whom we think is capable of fulfilling the requirements for the position in question. By voting and electing Joe Ridgill you will be doing yourself a favor by electing a person who has had experience in leadership. Help your class and yourself. Elect Ridgill."

Frosh President Hopeful Releases Statement

Ed Aycoth, a candidate for Freshman President, recently released this statement concerning his candidacy.

"Please permit me to introduce myself. I am Ed Aycoth and am running for president of the freshman class. My purpose in putting an article in the Technician is to let you know more about myself and thereby enable you to make a wiser decision when voting at the poles tomorrow. You should enlighten yourself as much as possible on the political situation around campus. There will be a pamphlet entitled "Information Concerning Your Candidates" which is to be passed out to each member of the class. Please read this pamphlet; perhaps, it will help you make up your mind about voting.

"Without a doubt, all the candidates would greatly appreciate your efforts in trying to honestly make the best decision you can.

"I would also like to mention that I am running on a semi-ticket with Roger Evens who is a candidate for Vice President of the class. Both Roger and I would greatly appreciate your consideration when voting.

"In closing, I want to wish each candidate the best of luck and only wish that all could be elected; however, this is not possible, someone must make the selection. Freshman, it is your responsibility to make this selection.

Mr. Edward G. Blakeway, director, and members of the Consolidate University Student Council's European tour Committee will meet with persons interested in visiting Europe this summer. Slides of places to be visited will be shown. The meeting will be held Wednesday night, October 26, at the College Union. All interested persons are urged to attend.

The Apollo Club will meet Thursday, October 27, in the Grill Room of the Cafeteria. Its speaker will be Mr. Edward Gill, who will speak on "Political Foundations of Democracy."

The Leopold Wildlife Club will meet this Thursday evening in room 149 Gardner at 7:00 p.m. The program will feature Mr. Bill Hammett, an Educational Representative of the Wildlife Commission. He will talk on the topic of conservation. We hope that all wildlife and zoology majors will be there.

All Air Science cadets will wear their winter uniforms beginning with Thursday's drill.

The College Union travel committee has established for your convenience a travel board which is located by the barber shop in the basement of the College Union. This board is to help persons to secure rides or riders when they so desire. It is divided into four sections representing four areas of the south and mid-east. If you desire a ride to a certain place, fill out a pink card and place it on the appropriate part of the board. If you desire riders, do the same operation except use a green card. When you have secured your ride or rider(s), please remove your card from the board.

Lost — one silver Hamilton wrist watch. Call William C. Walker, Jr. at VA-8-5103, 201-B Bragaw Dormitory. Reward.

The Special Committee which has been formed by the India Association at Raleigh for celebrating Dewali, has the pleasure of cordially inviting you and your guests to participate in the following and to make it a success. The celebration will take place at 6:00 p.m. Saturday, (See CRIER, page 4)

Political Classes Plan 'Straw Vote'

On Thursday, November 3rd, State College students will have an opportunity to decide which political candidates will win. On this date, there will be a straw vote taken by Dr. Holtzman's political science classes. Ballots will be printed in The Technician and all students are urged to participate. Opportunity to vote will also be given to the Faculty, Administration, and Staff.

In order to vote, all you need do is clip the ballot from the paper, fill it out, and deposit it in a ballot box. Ballot boxes will be located in all dormitories and fraternity houses on Thursday night. Off-campus students may pick up their ballots and vote at the College Union, Student Supply Store, Winston Hall, or the library. Faculty, Staff, and Administration may vote in their departmental offices or at voting booths for off-campus students. Please vote only once so that this may be an accurate survey, but please VOTE!

The results of the straw vote will be given in The Technician on Monday, November 7th. Watch for further information.

Comments From The Editor

Grateful Grant

North Carolina State College should be and is grateful to the Ford Foundation for granting us $760,000 to expand our engineering education at the doctoral level. The doctor's degree is considered essential for able engineering teachers and advanced research personnel.

Four institutions received these grants. Besides State College, other schools receiving these grants were the University of Florida, Georgia Institute of Technology, and the University of Texas. Only Texas received more money than we did. They received $975,000.

$3,110,000 was allotted to the Southern schools.

This grant will bring more recognition to our fine engineering schools. It will indeed strengthen our engineering program.

So the educational program at State College continues to expand. It is presently strong, and it appears that it will continue to get stronger as the years go by.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor of The Technician:

In our present social set-up homosexuality is frowned upon as a thing which stimulates snide remarks from those who consider themselves mature, and a non-committal coexistence from the relatively mature.

I would like to inquire of the anonymous columnist, who authors "Judgment and Justice," the purpose in his disorganized attack on the School of Design, implying that it and homosexuality are synonymous.

"Judgment and Justice," in our opinion, is a poor imitation of the "Clean Living" of several years ago. Not only does Foursquare's column lack organization, but it has crossed the median which separates humor from insult.

Why is Foursquare so concerned with homosexuals? He makes constant reference to them, as if he had nothing else with which to occupy his alleged "mind." As a parting thought isn't it the "Bit dog which barks the loudest?"

Patrick Kolodny
Marshall M. McLeod

(Editor's Note. "Judgment and Justice" was not designed to imitate the School of "Clean Living" column. The column was designed to insult people, not humor them. As for the reason for Foursquare being concerned with homosexuals, we do not know. It is his pleasure to occupy his mind with what he desires since this is freedom of the press.)

To the Editor of The Technician: We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the freshmen who supported us in the elections. Due to the results in the election, we will be running again for President and Vice-President, in Thursday's run-off election.

This week we will try to see the men that we missed last week during the primary. Our object is to let you get to know us as much as possible, for we feel that no one should vote for just a name. We must apologize that we can not get back to see the men that we have already seen, as time will not permit it.

One of the important subjects on our platform is the improvement of social conditions here at State College, but we can not do anything without your support. Please come out on Thursday and vote; the Freshman Class needs your support.

Thank you,
Jim Braddock,
candidate for President
Steve Durek, candidate for Vice-President

NOTICE

As most of you know the Campus Fund drive is coming up Monday, Oct. 31, through Sat. Nov. 5, 1960. Just as in the past you will be asked for contributions.

If you have questions as to where the money is going, you should contact co-ordinators that are present on campus. This money is going to worthwhile causes so if you feel that you want to participate, I heartily urge you to do so.

Report From The Student Gov'n.

By Jim Hart

Called to order last Thursday night, October 20, at the College Union, the members of the 1960-61 State College Student Government spent the first 3 1/2 hours of their third session counting ballots cast in the Freshman campus elections. When the business session proper finally began, the first legislative action taken was approved of the permanent Honor Code Board alternates, who are to be Bill Land and Bill Morrison. The representatives were also informed of the Honor Code Board's interpretation of the controversial bill concerning the ordering and wearing of class rings by Juniors. Their decision was that the recent bill passed at the last Student Government meeting only restated and strengthened last year's bill, which prevents Juniors from obtaining class rings until second semester.

Those Senators absent from the meeting were: J. A. Gill, J. A. Hackney, E. G. Fincher, J. L. Cox, J. A. Toms, C. H. Flint, David Reynolds, J. M. Chatham, and Joe Baker.

Raleigh United Fund To Receive Campus Aid

As a result of the poll taken at the beginning of this semester, approximately 50% of our Campus Chest Drive contributions will be given to the Raleigh United Fund. This is a single campaign for the needs of our local community's health, welfare, and character-building services. Twenty-seven separate agencies have united, seeking support from an increasing population.

Many students indicated a preference of agencies such as the Mental Health Association, the Red Cross, and the Salvation Army. A closer inspection shows the twenty-seven agencies divided into three distinct services. Health Services include the Medical Research Foundation at Duke and U.N.C., and the Mental Health Association, which combats our No. 1 health problem. Welfare Services include the Red Cross with its emergency funds and the Salvation Army in its work to the needy. Character-Building Services include the YMCA with its program of education and recreation; and the Boy Scouts in their program of citizenship. Twenty-seven agencies are intergraded to help raise our understanding and concern for those less fortunate than we.

Deadlines !!

We would like to remind all persons that are interested in having articles in The Technician of our deadlines. We go to press at 7:00 each night preceding the following day's issue. We are going to follow these deadlines for the remainder of the school year.

Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi Remain Undefeated

By Richie Williamson

Sigma Nu and Sigma Chi remained as the only unbeaten teams in the fraternity football league and established themselves as co-favorites to win the championship. With only one week of regular season's play remaining before the playoffs begin, the section races tightened up considerably which will probably necessitate a couple of playoffs in the sections to determine which team will get the playoff berth.

PKA played Sigma Chi to a scoreless first half before giving way to the defending champs in the last half. The Chi's first TD came on a 32-yard score by Jim Wood. Tom Neal caught a PKA back behind the goal line to add two more points, and Ken Duncan finished the scoring on a 17-yard play as the final score was 15-0. Delta Sig clinched second place in section one by once again displaying their tremendous defensive power in stopping PKP 12-0. It was Wes Perry who paced the victory with a first period touchdown pass to Setzer and another pass to Gilbert in the last quarter. It was the fourth time this season that the Delta Sigs have held their opponents scoreless.

Sigma Nu used two long scoring plays to defeat SAM by a 13-0 margin. The first touchdown came on the second play of the game when Herman Snyder passed to "K" Smith for 40 yards. They added the second touchdown on a 28-yard pass play to Johnny Stevens. Outside of these two plays, the game was evenly played with SAM topping the yards gained department. Lambda Chi moved into a tie for second place in section four by edging Theta Chi 7-0. LCA pushed across a first quarter score on a running play by Bill Lassiter and added the extra point to give them the victory. Both teams threatened throughout the game but could not score.

Two previously unbeaten teams, SPE and PKT, played each other twice this past week and split victories by identical 7-6 scores. In both games one team held a 6-0 lead going into the last quarter only to see the get the win. This left both other team push across a touchdown and make the extra point teams tied for the top spot in section three and almost definitely put both into the playoffs since each team has an easy game for the last week.

Section two continued to remain to be in a tossup as KA stopped Kappa Sig to take over first place by a 13-0 verdict. Spence and McMillian caught passes for the touchdowns, both coming in the second quarter. This game left KA with a 4-1 record and one game to play against SAE who pushed their record to 3-2 in beating TKE 38-0. Kappa Sig also has a 3-2 record with their remaining game against winless TKE. This section's final standings will be very close with the KA-SAE game being the one to watch. SAE showed a lot of power in beating TKE as Brown and Hackney each scored three touchdowns and the team picked up 170 total yards.

State and Gabriel In Nat. Spotlight

The State College football team and one of its players came to the attention of national sports fans yesterday with two announcements.

The first announcement concerned Roman Gabriel, State's All-American candidate. Gabriel was named to the backfield-of-the week for the second time this year by United Press International. The honor followed the outstanding play of Gabriel in the Mississippi Southern game in which he almost beat the Southerners by himself. In that game Gabriel passed for two touchdowns and scored one himself. He completed nine passes in eleven attempts for 145 yards in the air.

This marks the second time this year that Gabriel has been named to national list this season. Only three other players have been named to the list twice this season in addition to Gabriel.

Yesterday also marked the announcement that State is one of the 15 teams being considered for the Gator Bowl to be played December 31. Another ACC team, Duke, was also on the current list of possible participants.

Wolfpack Coaches Stress Defense

RALEIGH, N. C., OCT 25, (UPI)—North Carolina State spent most of its practice session today working on its own plays and trying to stop UCLA plays set up by State freshmen.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., OCT. 25, (UPI)—Wake Forest put in a full afternoon on offensive fundamentals today in hopes of building a better scoring punch for this week's game with Virginia at Charlottesville, Va., Saturday.

Individual group work occupied most of the time. Considerable attention was also devoted to the passing attack. Coach Billy Hildebrand said the club has to take advantage of its scoring opportunities in the remaining games on the schedule.

"We have been moving the ball well at times but we haven't been able to punch it across when we had the chance," he said.

Starting right guard Paul Martineau was the only regular to miss today's drill. He suffered a sprained ankle against Mary- (See Wolfpack, page 4)

Confusion anyone? Notice to the boys at the CU:

"Chipmunk" is not THE Chipmunk. It seems that there is another Chipmunk on this campus besides me. He, being an acquaintance of mine, told me that one of the chairmen from the CU approached him and invited him to a meeting of the board of chairmen, rigged no doubt, to be held next week. This fellow from the CU also invited him to come up to the CU office at any time and look over the budget. An observer, just walking in and asking to see the books, would probably receive the same welcome as an inspector from the Internal Revenue Department walking into the office of the Mafia and asking to audit the books. Like I mean, WHICH set of books?

Everyone thinks that I'm against the CU totally. This is a misconception. I am totally in favor of the CU as it was originally meant to be. I am against what it has become. It, like Caesar, has become ambitious. Its, or rather, its management's ambition is to become the sole authority and seat of control of student activities on this campus, no matter how the students feel about this. When Caesar got ambitious, he got stabbed in the back, also the front, side, etc. To paraphrase a great man:

"Caesar had his Brutus, Charles the first had his Cromwell, and George the third profited from their example. May the CU do likewise."

I was looking over some of the freshman chemistry quizzes the other day, and I found some of the craziest definitions:

Barium: What you do with dead people.

Catalyst: A western ranch owner.

Boron: A person of low mentality. (like freshmen, I suppose)

They say that love makes the world go around, but so does a swallow of tobacco juice.

A little girl rushed into the house one day and said to her mother: "Mommy, if the baby were to eat tadpoles, would they give him a deep bass voice like frogs?"

"Dear me, Madeline, no. Why they'd kill the baby."

"Well, they didn't."

The room was darkened. The sophomore covered his right eye as directed.

"Now, read that top line. Ah that's fine. Now jump to the fourth line," said the doctor.

"ZYKSRYMNZDPS. Say, I know that guy, Doc, He's a tackle for Penn State."

I was talking to one of our coeds, the other day, and it seems that she has some interesting delusions. She told me that when she drinks champagne, she seems to float out into the stratosphere on a lovely blue cloud that was propelled through the heavens by six men, each with muscles like superman and a face like a movie star. They reach to the moon and break it up into sapphires and opals, which they spread over her body.

"But when I drink beer," she wailed, "all I do is belch."

Offensive Drill

DURHAM, N. C., OCT. 25, (UPI)—The Duke Blue Devils, who sit on top of the Atlantic Coast Conference, began working today toward the coming Georgia Tech battle Saturday in Duke stadium.

Today's session was devoted to ironing out offensive mistakes noted in the Clemson game and a thorough review of running and passing. Quarterbacks Don Altman and Walt Rappold did most of the throwing.

The defensive units spent the afternoon looking over Yellow Jacket formations. The freshmen team ran the Tech offense.

THE PARTY WEEKEND: ITS CAUSE AND CURE

With the season of party weekends almost upon us, my mail of late has been flooded with queries from young inmates of women's colleges wishing to know how one conducts one's self when one has invited a young gentleman for a weekend, so let us today take up this burning issue.

Well, my dear girls, the first thing to remember is that your young gentleman is far from home and frightened. Put him at his ease. You might, for instance, surprise him by having his mother sitting in a rocker on the station platform when he gets off the train.

Next, what kind of corsage should you send your young gentleman? Well, my beloved maidens, orchids are always acceptable. So, indeed, are phlox and delphinium. In fact, most any flora will serve. Do try, however, to avoid carnivorous plants.

If you find, my esteemed fillies, that your local florist has run out of stock, do not be dismayed. Make a corsage out of paper. But pick good, stiff, durable paper—twenty dollar bills, for example.

Remember at all times, my fond wenches, to show your young gentleman courtesy and consideration. Open doors for him, walk on the traffic side of the path, assist him to the punch bowl, zip his parka, light his Marlboros. (What, you ask, if he doesn't smoke Marlboros? Ridiculous, my precious nymphs! Of course, he smokes Marlboros! Don't you? Don't I? Doesn't everybody who knows a hawk from a handsaw? What other cigarette gives you such a lot to like? Such easy-drawing filtration? Such unfiltered taste? Such soft pack or flip-top box? No other, my sweet minxes, no other. Marlboro stands alone, and any man worthy of you, my estimable damsels, is bound to be a Marlboro man.)

Surprise him when he gets off the train...

If you will follow the simple instructions stated above, my good lasses, you will find that you have turned your young gentleman into a fast and fervent admirer. There is nothing quite like a party weekend to promote romance. I am in mind of a party weekend some years ago at Miss Pomfritt's Seminary for well-born females in West Linotype, Ohio. Serafina Sigafos, a sophomore at this institution, majoring in napkin folding, sent an invitation to a young man named Fafnir Valve, a junior at the Joyce Kilmer School of Forestry, majoring in sap and boles. Serafina had been ape for Fafnir since high school, but Fafnir preferred a girl named Gelia Fleshwound, the high school drum majorette who once threw a baton so high she impaled a south-bound mallard.

Anyhow, Serafina sent an invitation to Fafnir, and he came, and she showered him with kindness and cuff links, and then he went away, and Serafina sat anxiously by the mailbox, wondering whether she would ever hear from him again. Sure enough, two weeks later she got a letter: "Dear Serafina, Can you let me have fifty bucks? Yours, Fafnir."

Whimpering with ecstasy, she ran to the bank and withdrew the money and mailed it to him. From then on, she got the same request every week, and as a result, she became very well acquainted with Ralph T. Involute, teller of the West Linotype Bank and Trust Co., and their friendship ripened into love, and today they are happily married and live in Stamen, Oregon, where Ralph is in the extruded molasses game and Serafina is a hydrant.
