NCAA Announces

Pack Off Probation

By HAL WOOD
United Press International
SAN FRANCISCO, UPI — University of Kansas, one of the nation's top collegiate athletic powers, was placed on probation by the NCAA Wednesday—ruled out of post season competition for two years in football and one year in basketball.

The NCAA Policy Making Committee, concluding a three-day session here, also lifted probationary periods against North Carolina State, University of Mississippi and University of Wyoming.

Kansas drew the only penalty from the council, headed by H. J. Booriccott, NCAA president, of Western State College.

Walt Byers, executive secretary of the NCAA, reported that a basketball player at Kansas had been given a one-year old automobile with a net value of $1,564 after trade-in of his own car; and that three football players from an unnamed university had been transported by a school alumnus to an all-star football game in Chicago without consulting the other schools' coaches. This was in direct violation of NCAA rules.

The council placed Kansas' football team on probation for two years, the basketball team on probation for one year—both periods starting Wednesday.

No ban was placed against the Kansas track and field squad which has won the NCAA championship the past two years.

North Carolina State got off probation for the first time in four years. The school was placed on probation Nov. 13, 1956, for illegal recruiting of a basketball player, including excess aid, cash gifts and agreement to give a seven-year medical school scholarship to the player's girl friend. The player, Jack Moreland, withdrew from the school after a year and went to Louisiana Tech. He is now playing professional basketball.

Wyoming, which had been on probation for one year and ineligible for post-season games and TV, was restored to full rights. Mississippi, also on probation for one year but with no sanctions against it, also was restored to full rights.

Byers refused to divulge the names of the athletes involved in the Kansas case. He also refused to give the name of the university from which recruiting attempts were made.

The State College Union Outing Committee will present one of its primary functions November 5-6 as it sponsors a trip to the famed Linville gorge area of Western North Carolina, featuring the famed and mysterious Brown's Mountain Lights. The nationally known area, which is just off of the Blue Ridge Parkway, is one of the chief scenic attractions in the Tar Heel State and each year draws thousands of visitors.

Every member of the student body and of the College Union is invited to go on this trip to one of eastern America's most scenic gorges. The $3.50 fee for the trip will cover transportation to the mountains and will also

Greeks To Hear Kai Winding, Chris Conner During Weekend

By Richie Williamson
IFC Publicity Chairman

The Interfraternity Council is presenting its annual Fall Pledge Dance this Saturday night at the Coliseum for the enjoyment of the nearly 900 members of State's eighteen fraternities.

The Council will present an afternoon concert on Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. featuring two of the top names in jazz. One half of the concert will be given by Chris Connor and the second half by Kai Winding and his septet. The formal dance will begin at 8 p.m. with the music of Kai Winding. Highlight of the dance will be the presentation of the Figure at 10 p.m.

This year's Pledge Formal will feature an "Old South" theme with many beautiful decorations to match. In connection with the decorating, Alan Altman, IFC Vice-President, has asked that each chapter send at least 5 men to help decorate at 10 a.m. on Saturday.

Many of the various houses have planned additional functions such as cabin parties, hayrides, combos, and banquets to complement the formal affair and to make this weekend the highlight of the Fall social calendar.

Chris Connor hit the big time when she joined Stan Kenton and his orchestra on the West Coast. After a few years on the road with one-night stands, Chris went on her own in 1953. Since then she has appeared in all the top jazz clubs, like Birdland in New York, Storyville in Boston, and the Black Hawk in San Francisco. At the Newport Jazz Festival she was heard by the largest audience that ever attended the Festival and was accorded an ovation.

Kai Winding is probably best remembered as a part of the J & K Quintet when he combined with J. J. Johnson to become the most widely recorded duo in jazz history. It is now the Kai Winding Septet which furnishes the music for the formal dance and features the "Trombone Sound" created by Kai when he was a part of the quintet. The Septet consists of four trombones and three rhythm; but wait until the boys put down the Trombones and come up with four Trombones!

The Kai Winding Septet has appeared at Birdland, The Blue Note and the Brass Rail in Chicago, the Newport Jazz Festival and the New York Jazz Festival, and at over two dozen of the nation's leading colleges and universities.

The IFC sponsors two major dances each year, one in the fall and one in the spring. These dances are always well attended, due in part to the name bands on hand for the occasions. In the past the IFC has presented on the State campus, Stan Kenton, Joni James, Les Elgart, Duke Ellington, the Four Freshmen, the Tommy Dorsey Band, Richard Maltby, and Art Blakey and the Jazz Messengers.

Last fall the Pledge Formal saw an attendance estimated at between 1300 and 1400 persons, and this year is expected to be even greater.

NCS To Form Delegation To Student Assembly

On December 1 the North Carolina Student Legislative Assembly will once again convene in the Senate and House chambers of the Capitol for another session of legislation.

This assembly, patterned after the North Carolina General Assembly, meets once a year in Raleigh to discuss and take action on bills and resolutions presented by delegations from the various N. C. schools that attend. After a one year layoff in 1958 due to bad weather, the assembly was held last year with a tremendous amount of success. This year's meeting promises to be even better, with a more representative cross-section of schools from the state planning to attend.

With the assembly only five weeks away, it is important that the State College delegation be formed and begin work immediately on the bills that it will present. There will be a meeting next Monday night at 9:00 in the Student Government Office at the C.U. for all persons who are interested in working with the assembly this year. Please be sure to attend this meeting if you are at all interested.

The Circle K Club invites you to express your views on any issue or candidate in the presidential or gubernatorial campaigns. The Technician will print two letters in each of its issues between now and November 8. Send all letters to Ed Harris, Box 4500, State College Station. Members of the Circle K Club will select the letters to be published.

Young Democrats Plan To Conduct Visitation Day

Tuesday, November 1 has been named as a state-wide "Democrats Visiting Day" with Donald Blizard as N. C. State College chairman, according to an announcement from Jim Spence, Greensboro, State Chairman of this unique campaign idea.

Plans call for every Young Democrat Club in the state, along with representatives of the county executive committee, to visit with friends and neighbors during the Tuesday in behalf of the election of the entire Democratic ticket.

Blizard stated that the Young Democrats will meet and cover (See DEMOCRATS, page 8) include meals. Sleeping bags and all other camping equipment needed for the trip will of course be furnished by the Union. Students are urged to bring dates; however, for the ones who do not bring dates, girls from the various girl schools in the area have been invited to attend.

Students will leave the College Union on Nov. 5 at 1:00 p.m. and drive directly to Wiseman's view, located high on the crest of Linville gorge. The party will spend the night here in order to have ample opportunity to see the famed "Brown's Mountain Lights." These lights which move across the mountain ridge on the far side of the gorge from Wiseman's view appear and disappear mysteriously nearly every night. They will rise and fall every few minutes on the far mountain for their nightly show of splendor. Up to this time no one has been able to prove what the lights are or what causes them although some interesting theories have been advanced.

After a night spent watching the mysterious lights of the Blue Ridge, the party will rise early Sunday morning for a full day of sight seeing. For rock hounds on the trip, an expedition will be made to Spruce Pine to visit some of the famous mines in that area. All rock hounds will have a chance to try their luck at gem hunting in these mines.

For those who may not be interested in rock collecting, a trip to the spectacular Linville Falls will be staged. Also, a trip will be made to the only major limestone cave in the state which is open to the public, Linville caverns. If enough interest is shown there will be a hike deep into the rugged areas of the massive Linville gorge.

The party will leave the Linville area Sunday afternoon to return to Raleigh. It is expected that the group will return to the campus in ample time to get a good night's studying in after the trip.

If interested in going on this trip to one of the top scenic areas of eastern America, sign up at the College Union main desk by noon on Friday, November 4.

Tryouts for the Talent Show will be held Wednesday, November 2 at 8 p.m. in the College Union Theatre. All who wish to participate are invited to attend. Prizes will be free dinners at Gino's.

The Starlight Club, a social function sponsored by the College Union Dance Committee, will be held Saturday, November 5, at 8 p.m. in the College Union Ballroom. The atmosphere at the Club, executed by a candle lighted ballroom and a soft playing band, creates a warm air in which a gal and guy can really enjoy themselves. The dress is semiformal and no admission fee is charged.

The Saddle Club will meet Thursday, October 27, at 6:30 p.m. in Room 254 of the College Union. All who are interested please attend.

The Engineering Ball will be held on Nov. 19th. at Reynolds Col. between the hours of 8 and 12. The band will be the Duke Ambassadors, and the dress will be formal. All Engineering students may pick up their bids at their depts.

The Electrical Engineering Wives' Club meets Wednesday, November 2, at 8 p.m. in Rooms 256-258 of the College Union. "Christmas Food Ideas" is the theme of the program. Mrs. E. G. Manning will present several ideas and suggestions for preparation of Christmas foods. All faculty and student wives who would like to share their favorite Christmas food idea are urged to call Mrs. Margie Lucas (TE 4-8566).

All E. E. student and faculty wives are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Engineers' Council Thursday, Oct. 27, Room 11 Riddick.

NCS Dem. Make Extensive Plans To Get New Members

The Young Democratic Club has declared an all-out campaign for membership.

For membership in the State College Young Democratic Club see one of the following persons:

Bobby Heath, 220 Alexander; Jimmy Steele, 220 Bagwell; Donald Marsh, 205 Becton; Howard Sumner, 107-D Bragaw; Freddie Martin, 106-B Bragaw; Ed Merritt, 210 Owen; Tom Edwards, 5 Stadium; Pete Leonard, 109 Tucker; Phil Buckingham, 239 Turlington; Larry Cornwell, 201 Welch.

Off-campus workers are: Talmadge Brown, Farmhouse; John Stone, Alpha Gamma Rho; Mitch Gurganus, Married Student Housing H-21; Lee Harvey, 10 Enterprise Street.

Campus Stores Reveal System

The campus store system represents a composite of student service centers composed of the following units:

Students Supply Store, The Technical Press, Quad Canteen (Upper Quadrangle), Syme Coffee Shop, Tucker Snack Bar (Tucker Dormitory), Shuttle Inn (Textile Building), Bragaw Snack Bar.

The campus stores are operated under the supervision of the college administration, including the office of the Chancellor, the Business Office, and the management of the store system as employed by the college. All employees are paid a regular salary as agreed upon by the administration and approved by the Board of Trustees. They do not receive any share of the profits from store earnings.

The Chancellor and President have been granted authority by the Board of Trustees for allocating profits to the different kinds of scholarships in the past. The Chancellor has adopted a policy of requesting the recommendations of the Student Legislature for allocations regarding divisions of scholarship funds between athletic and non-athletic grants-in-aid. In 1960 this amounted to $38,279.06 for athletic scholarships and $31,319.23 for non-athletic scholarships.

The Board of Trustees has authorized a Campus Stores Advisory Committee consisting of three faculty members and three students. The student members are appointed by the President of the Student Body. The committee is required to meet at least once each semester with the Campus Stores Manager to review and discuss operational policies, including "student and faculty complaints, criticisms and suggestions." This committee can serve as an effective medium of communication between all members of the college community and the administrative staff on questions related to the operation of the Campus Stores.

The yearly profits from the Students Supply Stores which last year amounted to approximately $70,000.00 are derived from the sales of books and supplies. The stores are prohibited from underselling local merchants in everything but textbooks by the Umstead Act passed some years ago by the State Legislature.

Audit reports have shown that the profit margin on books has been held to approximately 3%. This margin is a necessary operating safety factor. Any students who have suggestions on commendations concerning the services offered at any of the Campus Stores should contact one of the following students who are members of the Campus Stores Advisory Committee:

- W. H. Lan, Jr. VA 8-9802.
- R. B. Willett, 218-A Bragaw Dorm.
- W. L. O'Quinn, 401-C Bragaw Dorm.

Comments From The Editor

Why, Why, Why??

Tonight, we are revealing the North Carolina State College Union budget. We were very fortunate in attending a meeting that was held by the College Union Board of Directors yesterday afternoon. The budget was the main topic of the meeting.

It was called to our attention at the meeting that the money from certain unfair expenses of the College Union budget could be reallocated to benefit the programs of the Publications Board and the College Union.

As you can note in the budget on this page, the College Union has to pay $8,225.00 each year in sales taxes because several persons other than students buy from the College Union. Students do not have to pay taxes on anything that they buy on campus. However, these same people are able to buy items from the Student Supply Store, free of sales tax.

You may also note that the College Union has to pay approximately $14,000 each year for their electricity, which all but two other organizations on campus . . . the Coliseum and Leazar Hall . . . receive free of charge.

Last, but not least, the Administration contracts the reserve fund of the College Union which amounts to $53,508.73. The College Union is not permitted to place this money into a bank which would pay a sizeable sum in interest. Considering the average bank interest of 3 1/2%, the interest would be $1,184.91. Why isn't Holladay Hall investing this large sum of money?

We feel that by eliminating the $8,225.00 for sales tax and the $14,000 for electricity and combining the interest of $1,184.91, we would have a total sum of $24,079.91 which the students would be saving.

With this savings, it would be possible for the College Union to cut their activities fee to $13.00 per year. Therefore, the $2.00 remaining could be turned over to the Publications Board.

As you can see, there would then be a reallocation of the Student Activity Fee. This is what we asked for recently, and we are asking for a thorough study of this serious matter again by the proper authorities as soon as possible.

It is hard for us to understand why something has not been done about this sooner. It appears that some of the officials in the administration are holding out on the students and the College Union.

We want some action, and we are willing to discuss this matter with anybody. We will continue to elaborate on this subject until some action has taken place.

"COME ON IN, JIM. WE'RE JUST BURNING THE MIDNIGHT HOYLE."

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor of The Technician:

I reluctantly take pen in hand to criticize a present policy of THE TECHNICIAN. I had the pleasure of serving on both the staff of one of our campus publications, and on the Publications Board for two years. Therefore, I feel that I understand quite well the ever present problems of a small staff and insufficient funds that plague not only THE TECHNICIAN, but most other campus publications as well.

However, the problems inherent in the operation of THE TECHNICIAN do not, in my mind, allow it to ignore the traditions of the journalistic profession. That is, a newspaper should not allow itself to become a sounding board for anonymous columnists who claim a great and profound knowledge of all campus affairs. Neither should editorials be written which are correct in content, but leave out facts which have a bearing on the subject being discussed.

It is the purpose of a newspaper to print facts, and to interpret those facts on its editorial page. Editorials are signed as they are not facts, but an interpretation of the facts. Therefore, it is not, as you claim, freedom of the press to allow anyone to express his opinions by virtue of an unsigned column, especially when this person casts doubt on the integrity of other students, and makes crude insinuations a major part of his attempts at interpreting news.

I challenge you to accept the ideals of the journalistic tradition. Print the facts, not what you believe to be the facts, and let the author of any column identify himself, for if he is to have the privilege of accusing any person, it is also his responsibility to defend his views in his own name. To do less is to destroy not only the right of the accused to defend himself, but to slowly destroy the freedom of the press, which you yourself have proclaimed time and time again as one of the most important rights in our society.

Morrison Named Head

In recent years the State College Honor System has been hotly debated — both criticized and strongly defended by varied opinions of the system are indicative of concern.

It is with this thought in mind that Student Government re-established the Honor System Study Commission. The committee will evaluate and recommend policies for further developing the Honor System. The Student Government firmly believes that the commission is a strong and positive step in establishing the Honor System as a more meaningful part of the lives of the citizens of the State College Community.

Bob Cooke, Student Body President, announced the following appointments today: Bill Morrison, Chairman, Sandy Matthews, Alan Feimster, Alvin Yorke, Betty Black, Dee Clark, Herb Little, John Curlee, Wade Radford, and Bill Watson.

In making the appointment, Bob Cooke remarked, "Bill Morrison's experience with the Judicial Department has been extensive. Having served as a board member and as chairman of the summer school Judicial Board, Bill can more fully appreciate the responsibilities he is assuming with this appointment."

"The Honor System, embracing the Honor Code and the Campus Code, is a statement of our standard of ethics. The committee will conduct a continuous campaign to improve student respect for the system. That his responsibility for individual integrity and academic honesty is significantly personal will maximum benefits be expected.

"I believe that our honor system has developed satisfactorily in the past several years. The student boards have maturely demonstrated a sense of responsibility in past actions."

Fraternity Flashes

By Ed Puckhaber
For some, tonight starts IFC weekend. There are a few lucky people who have a light schedule of classes on Friday and Saturday. For these, the partying begins on Thursday night and continues over the entire weekend. Reinforcements will be ready by late Friday afternoon to join in with the early starters to keep the partying going at a rapid pace until Sunday.

The concert will begin at 2 p.m. in the Coliseum. The chairs and tables should be in place by the time of the concert. I say should because we haven't heard for certain how many volunteers we can expect from some of the houses. Remember, with five guys from each house, the whole job can be done in about forty-five minutes. However, even with all the chairs set up, the expected crowd for the concert cannot be seated on the ground floor. Therefore, it is suggested that you bring along a blanket — to sit on. Of course there are seats upstairs in the coliseum, but the music can be appreciated more from the ground floor.

The dance will follow that night at 8 p.m. Bids must be presented at the door for both events.

This past Sunday, the Delta Pi chapter of Theta Chi fraternity was host for a Regional President Conference. Presidents of eleven Theta Chi chapters were present. These men represented this fraternity's collegiate chapters in North Carolina and Virginia. The meeting was held in the College Union and consisted of a luncheon and a business session. The main topic of discussion was the Mason-Dixon Jubilee to be held at Wake Forest

Ford Foundation Donates Hugh Grant For Graduate Development At State

(Editor's Note: The Ford Foundation announced today that a grant of $760,000 has been awarded to State. (See yesterday's Technician.) This article explains the uses and nature of the grant.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 — A series of grants to strengthen and expand engineering education at the doctoral level in Southern universities was announced today by the Ford Foundation. They total $3,110,000 and will go to:

University of Florida—	$695,000
Georgia Institute of Technology	$680,000
North Carolina State College	$760,000
University of Texas	$975,000

"The development of high-quality programs in engineering education at the doctoral level is an imperative national need," Henry T. Heald, president of the Foundation, said. "The South, with its expanding industrial and research facilities, shares the vastly increased demand for highly trained engineers. The hope is that these grants will assist these institutions to advance further their doctoral programs and improve even more the qualifications of their engineering faculties."

Mr. Heald said that these institutions were selected because they are the leaders in the South in engineering education with respect to the number of fields in engineering in which doctorates are offered as well as the number of doctorates awarded. He also said that the opportunities the grants offer for the further development of present faculty and the training of additional graduate students should contribute to the strengthening of engineering education in other institutions in the South by making more and better engineering teachers available.

The five major features of the series of grants are:
Addition of Faculty—Funds for hiring new faculty members who are capable of teaching doctoral courses and guiding graduate students working on their doctoral theses.

Development of Present Faculty—Funds to aid the professional development of present faculty members, so that they may be better prepared for teaching at the doctoral level. Financial aid will be available for full-time leaves of absence, fellowship loans, and part-time release from teaching assignments.

Expansion and Improvement of Graduate Enrollment—Funds for well-qualified graduate students working toward their doctorate. This financial aid includes student fellowships and forgivable loans to students preparing for faculty careers.

General Use Fund—Funds to be used at the discretion of the institution for the development of doctoral education in engineering. This general fund will support, for example, modest expenditures for research, equipment, conferences, or travel.

Matching Fund—Funds to stimulate stronger and more lasting support for the faculty and graduate-student development at the institutions. A condition of the grant is that, after an initial lump sum has been paid for use over a period of approximately three years, future payment from the Foundation will be made in an amount dependent on how much the institution has increased its own expenditures for faculty development and graduate fellowship from normal and continuing sources of support. These increases will be matched by the Foundation on a one-to-one basis up to a specified amount.

The breakdown of grant funds for each institution is as follows:

University of Florida: $695,000, consisting of $70,000 for additions to faculty; $100,000 initially and up to $100,000 in matching funds for professional development of present faculty; $60,000 initially and up to $180,000 in matching fellowship funds for increasing the quality and numbers of graduate students; a lump sum of $100,000 for forgivable loans; and $35,000 for engineering and $50,000 for the Institute of Quantum Chemistry for discretionary expenditures of importance to the doctoral program.

Georgia Institute of Technology: $680,000, consisting of $105,000 for additions to faculty; $100,000 initially and up to $100,000 in matching funds for professional development of present faculty; $60,000 initially and up to $180,000 in matching fellowship funds for increasing the quality and number of graduate students; $100,000 in a lump sum for forgivable loans; and $35,000 for discretionary expenditures of importance to the doctoral program.

North Carolina State College: $760,000, consisting of $105,000 for additions to faculty; $100,000 initially and up to $100,000 in matching funds to aid in professional development of present faculty; $60,000 initially and up to $180,000 in matching fellowship funds for increasing the quality and numbers of graduate students; $100,000 in a lump sum for forgivable loans; $20,000 initially and $60,000 in matching funds for fellowships in the School of Science; and $35,000 for discretionary expenditures of importance to the doctoral program.

University of Texas: $975,000, consisting of $150,000 initially and up to $150,000 later in matching funds for professional development of present faculty; $100,000 initially and up to $300,000 in matching fellowship funds for increasing quality and numbers of graduate students; a lump sum of $200,000 for forgivable loans; and $75,000 for discretionary expenditures of importance to the doctoral program.

Ag School Open House To Stress Career Plans

Scores of educational exhibits and demonstrations will highlight the second annual "Open House" planned by the School of Agriculture at North Carolina State College for Saturday, November 5.

Dean H. Brooks James says the "Open House" will "vividly demonstrate to high school students and their parents some of the challenging careers offered by modern agriculture." Special emphasis will be placed on career opportunities in agricultural business and science.

Registrations for "Open House" will begin at 8 a.m. in the college's William Neal Reynolds Coliseum. Preliminary activities will include a "chat" by Chancellor John T. Caldwell, a talk on "college experiences" by student body president Bob Cooke of Huntersville, and a preview of the 1960-61 basketball team by Coach Everett

Variety of Events Scheduled

The C U Music Committee : Big Plans Ahead

The College Union Music Committee is one of the nineteen committees of the College Union, created for the benefit of you, the student. Its aim is to meet the needs and desires of the student body and to contribute to the broadening of his appreciation and interest in the field of music. The Music Committee, which is composed of 18 students, a faculty advisor and staff advisor, sponsors a variety of musical events including concerts ranging from classical to jazz. The committee is constantly endeavoring to provide musical programs for the campus community. This goal is being worked toward through the efforts of sub-committees which report weekly on their progress to the Music Committee.

During the Spring of 1960, the Music Committee gave much thought and time toward planning the 1960-61 program. Working within the framework of its budget, the committee made every effort to schedule entertaining and beneficial programs that would be appealing to the students.

The following is a list of the programs which the Music Committee planned in the Spring of 1960 for this year's presentation. Three of these programs took place during Orientation Week. On September 14, the Central Prison Band performed; September 17, a Jazz Concert was held; and on September 18, the Second Marine Division Chorus performed in the ballroom. This Chorus met with such success last year that the committee felt it would be worthwhile to have a return engagement. One of the most outstanding programs of the year was the celebrated Branko Krstanovich Chorus. This group rendered an exciting musical program of the baroque, classic, romantic and contemporary works sung by the artists in colorful native costumes. The Music Committee worked closely with the Friends of the College, Inc. in presenting this program. Both financial and manpower assistance was contributed to the program by the committee. The remaining programs scheduled by the Friends of the College are: The Detroit Symphony which is ranked by impartial authorities as among the three or four great orchestras in the United States. Paul Paray, the great man of music, developed the Detroit Symphony Orchestra into magnificent instrument recognized the world over since his appointment as permanent conductor in 1941. This program will be given on February 16 in the Coliseum. Another in the Friends of the College series will feature a rare theatrical event, Archibald Macleish's "J. B." This is a play based on the Biblical story of Job. The last in the series of the Friends of the College programs will be the New York Philharmonic, the oldest symphonic organization in the United States and one of the oldest orchestras in the world. This program is scheduled for April 19.

Another program which the Music Committee has presented in addition to those during Orientation Week, is the Boston Lyric Theatre, known as the "Musical Miniatures Ensemble." For music goers, this group presented a delightful and refreshing program. Other programs which have been scheduled for the students by the Music Committee are: The Christmas Concert on December 9, presenting the North Carolina State College Band and Glee Club; February 17, the Music and Forum Committees will jointly sponsor Cilli Wang, Comic Pantomimist, who is certain to give an hilarious performance; February 19, the Duke University Band; February 24, the North Carolina State College Band; March 19, the St. Augustine Chorus; March 24, Bill Thompson, organist. He has been acclaimed as a unique artist who not only plays, but definitely excels in both classical and popular idioms. The Committee feels that this will be a standing room only audience.

The annual outdoor Pop Concerts featuring the State College Symphonic Band and Fanfare Band will be held on April 28, May 5, 12, and 19. The Committee is grateful to the Music Department for making these programs possible. The Committee concludes its 1960-61 programs with the Woman's College Glee Club scheduled for April 30.

In addition to these programs which appear on your College Union Calendar, the Music Committee is presently working on a Hi-Fi Show to be held sometime during December. The purpose of this show is to inform students of the best in Hi-Fidelity and Stereo sound. This promises to be a very informative and interesting show. The Committee is also working on plans for forming a Combo on campus, whereby students may bring their musical instruments and get together for nightly or afternoon sessions.

Another important aspect of the Music Committee is the operational upkeep of the Music Lounge.

STATELINE

By
EARL MITCHELLE

State will meet "one of the better teams in the country" this Saturday night when they face UCLA according to Head Pack coach Earle Edwards.

"UCLA has one of the finest group of athletes, those who can run, throw, and tackle, that I've seen in recent years," the Pack mentor added. Last year the Pack ran into the Bruins single-wing attack and were completely dominated in the first half. After a few adjustments at halftime the Pack came back in the second half and made a real ball game out of the contest. This year they will be much better prepared for the versatile Bruin attack after having played them last year.

The UCLA team has had a very successful year so far this season. The Uclans have won two games, while dropping one and tying one. Their wins have been over Pittsburgh, 8-7, and Stanford, 26-8, which came last week. Their only setback of the season came at the hands of powerful Washington by a 10-8 count. The lone tie was with Purdue, 27-27.

The game is slated to get underway at 8:00 PCT and UCLA officials are hoping for a much bigger crowd than the 21,000 that saw the game last year in the mammoth Memorial Coliseum which is capable of holding over a 100,000 fans. Last year the Pack went into this game with a meager 1-6 mark for the season, while this year they will be going into the Bruin game with a 5-1 mark, which is almost the reverse of last year's mark.

The center of attraction for the visiting State College team will be Roman Gabriel. Out of the last eleven touchdowns scored by the Pack, Gabriel has had a hand in ten of them. In addition to this, he is leading the team in point production with 24.

Gabriel, who has been named "back of the week" three times in ACC this year and who has been put in the "backfield of the week" by the United Press twice, will enter the game with a very impressive record behind him. In six games this year, Gabe has attempted 102 passes and has connected on 59 of them for 692 yards and six touchdowns. Adding the 692 yards in the air to the 105 he has picked up on the ground you get 797 yards and the number one offensive player in the ACC this year. Undoubtly all the eyes in the Coliseum will be on Gabe Saturday night.

Bruin coach Bill Barnes has one of the best tailbacks that UCLA has ever had this year and that's taking a lot into consideration. Bill Killmer can run real well and can pass while running to either side. Wolfpack scouts also gave a great deal of praise to tackle Marshall Shirk, fullback Skip Smith, end Marv Luster, and back Jim Johnson.

The Bruins will meet a much improved secondary defense and a more solid line than the met last year. The Pack secondary has made it real tough for opponent passers this year. So far this season the Wolfpack secondary has shagged perils at very crucial times in the games and, in some cases, have turned the game into victory for the Pack.

Coach Earle Edwards terms this secondary of Claude Gibson, Tom Dellinger, and John Stanton as the best defensive backfield that he has had in seven years at State College. When these three deep backs are teamed with linebackers Jim D'Antonio and Jim Fitzgerald you have one of the best backfields in the ACC. Fitzgerald has proved his value to the team on many occasions this year as have the rest of the defensive backfield.

A word of credit must also go to the offensive line. These seven men have made the State passing game what it is today just as much as the passing ability of Gabriel. They have kept the opposition out of the State backfield making it much easier for Gabriel to hit receivers with his rifle-shot passes.

The State defense that held national ranking Mississippi Southern to 200 yards last week will get its best test of the year Saturday against the powerful single-wing attack of the Bruins. The State ends, who have proved themselves over and over again this year will really have to be on their toes to stop the end sweeps that the single-wing is noted for. In simple words, its going to take a number one defensive effort to beat the Bruins as well as a good offensive punch.

A win out on the West Coast would add greatly to the prestige of the Pack. This game is going to be a real challenge for the Pack to say the least.

UCLA Bruins Next Big Test For High Flying Wolfpack

By Earl Mitchellle but winning two more will be hard.
"The first task will be to end a nine-game losing streak. Relief may come in the opener, but this statement was made before the 1960 season about the

N. C. State football team in a well known weekly sports publication. When the Wolfpack goes out to face UCLA this week they will be looking for their sixth win of the season. After a very impressive win over the Mississippi Southern team Saturday night, the State team will face another strong test in the form of the UCLA eleven. Last year the Bruins tripped the Pack by a 21-12 count.

Last year's game was the first of the series with UCLA and it was played out on the West Coast also. This year's contest is slated to get underway at 8:15 p.m. PCT. It will be the second night game in a row for the Pack and one of four night games for the team this season.

Last year the Bruins jumped off to a 14-0 lead before Ron Podwika reeled off a 28 yard run to put the Pack in the scoring column. Roman Gabriel passed to John Morris for the final touchdown. Athletic Publicity Director Vic Kelly said in preseason articles that the UCLA team will have more depth and experience than last year. This year the Bruins added the W formation to their already potent singlewing attack to make a very versatile offense for the Pack to handle. Coach Bill Barnes also has a good line to open the holes for his fast backs.

The Big Five team has a whole host of lettermen to carry the load of the playing. At ends the Bruins feature Craig Chudy, Marv Luster, Earl Smith, and Don Vena. Last year Luster caught 22 passes for a total of 366 yards and will prove to be a real threat to the Wolfpack. The tackle duties will probably be divided between Foster Anderson, Steve Bauwens, Dean Betts, Chuck Hicks, and Tony Longo.

The guard position is another strong position for the UCLA (See Bruins Next Test, page 5)

Crystal Ball Corner

This week the TECHNICIAN begins a new feature which should create a large amount of interest among the readers of the sports section. A three-man board will pick their choices of the winners of the Atlantic Coast Conference school's games. This feature will cover the remainder of the football season and extend through the basketball season. Each week the percentage of correct selections of each man will be tabulated to see which one is best suited as a sports analyzer.

The board will consist of Jay Brame, Earl Mitchellle, and Richie Williamson. Brame, who is presently editor of the Technician, was formerly sports editor of the paper, a present member of the State College Athletic Council, and athletic director of Sigma Nu.

Mitchelle is the sports editor of the Technician, was a sports staff writer last year, and was a sports editor of a bi-weekly newspaper in Danville, Va., before coming to State.

Williamson, the associate sports editor, is also a sports correspondent for the Asheville Citizen, IFC athletic director, and athletic director for Sigma Alpha Mu.

Gabriel Leads Conference In Offense

By Richie Williamson
Roman Gabriel continues to lead the ACC in total offense and in passing in the latest figures released. Gabriel has thrown 102 passes for 59 completions and 692 yards. This is a 58.5% accuracy mark, good for six touchdowns. In overall offense Gabe has picked up 797 yards of 157 plays. Al Taylor is in fourth spot in rushing, having ground out 219 yards in 63 carries.

However, the team in total offense is fifth in the conference with an average of 253.1 yards per game. The defense has given up only 222.5 yards per game to rank only behind Clemson. The pass defense has been exceptionally great in allowing only 51.5 yards per game through the air.

Shooters Open Slate Sat.

State College's Army ROTC rifle team, winner of first place last year in national Pershing Rifle competition, is preparing for the 1960-61 season with hopes of surpassing last year's brilliant record. Sgt. George Oakley, the team's new coach, stated last week, "Several new members have had a lot of experience, and their shooting so far shows plenty of promise."

the cadet commander of the team, "The purpose of this is to give the more inexperienced members of the team practice in match competition." According to Sgt. Oakley, more than 80 challenges have been made, and about two thirds of them have been accepted.

Plans are at present to hold several shoulder-to-shoulder matches, with the competing teams firing at the same place. The team also plans to enter competition for several trophies, including the Randolph Hearst Trophy and the Kenneth E. Simonson Memorial Trophy.

Bruins Next Test

The first test of the new team's potential will come on Saturday, October 29, when the team takes on Mississippi Southern, Notre Dame, and S. C. State College in a postal match. Team scores are recorded, certified, and mailed to the opposing schools. This allows several teams to compete at once, and avoids the expense and inconvenience of traveling to the matches.

Rules for the matches are set by agreement between the participating teams. Matches are fired with .22 rifles at targets 50 feet away. Rounds are fired by each team member from the prone, sitting, and standing positions. The usual procedure is to have ten men from each team fire; only the top five scores are counted. According to Cadet Lt. William L. Herr, Collice Moore and Tiny Reynolds at tackles, Joe Bushofsky and Alex Gilleskie at guards, and Billy Hill or Jim Fitzgerald at center. Bert Wilder, who was a defensive standout in the Mississippi Southern game, will lead the number two line made up of Dennis Kroll, John Gill, Graham Singleton, Harry Puckett, and Jake Shaffer, kicking specialist. George Vollmar, who caught a touchdown pass against the Southerners last week, Nick Maravich, and Kent Morton could also see action in the line.

In the backfield, the center of attraction will be Roman Gabriel, who has been a shining star in every game this season for the Pack. Tom Dellinger will spell him on defense. At one halfback will be Claude Gibson, who had a very good game last week, while John Stanton will handle the other. Al Taylor and Randy Harrell will also see plenty of action before the night is over. Jim D'Antonio and Roger Moore will be the main work horses at fullback.

The Wolfpack will probably counter with Jim Tapp and John Morris at the ends,

As the season record now stands, Coach Earle Edwards is assured of having his second best season since coming to the West Raleigh campus. With four more games on the '60 slate, the Pack needs to win three of them to give Edwards his best season mark at State College. This would top the seven wins that were produced by the State team in 1957 when they won the ACC crown.

Agricultural Institute Plans Noted

A report on the progress and plans of the Agricultural Institute highlighted a meeting of the Institute's 25-man advisory board held Friday (Oct. 21) at North Carolina State College.

The Agricultural Institute, now in its first semester of operation, is a two-year program offering training in specialized technical agricultural fields.

Dr. Homer C. Folks, assistant director of instruction for the State College School of Agriculture and director of the Institute, reported that enrollment for the Institute's first year was most gratifying. He said 94 students are now taking the five courses offered — livestock management and technology, general agriculture, farm equipment sales and service, poultry technology and pest control.

Dr. H. Brooks James, dean of agriculture, presided at the meeting.

Members of the Agricultural Institute advisory committee are:

M. Edmund Aycock, Raleigh; L. Y. Ballentine, Raleigh; V. H. Bode, Smithfield; A. G. Bullard, Raleigh; Harry B. Caldwell, Greensboro; Tom Cameron, Raeford; C. D. Colvard, Hickory; Norman Denning, Four Oaks; A. C. Edwards, Raleigh; E. Hervy Evans, Laurinburg; E. Y. Floyd, Raleigh; Carl Hicks, Raleigh, George Hyatt, Raleigh.

1. Predict the final score for each team.
2. Predict the half-time score for each team.
3. Use an empty pack* as your entry blank.

READ THESE EASY RULES...

1. On the coupon below or on the back of an empty wrapper or on a plain sheet of paper, select the winner of the above game. Predict the final score and the half-time score (predict ties if you wish). Each entry must be accompanied by an empty wrapper from L&M, Chesterfield or Oasis cigarettes (or a single hand drawn copy of the lettering L&M, Chesterfield or Oasis as it appears on the face of the package). If entry is submitted on back of empty wrapper, be sure to include name and address, printed clearly.
2. Mail entries to Liggett & Myers, at the address appearing in coupon below. All entries must be postmarked by midnight five days prior to date of game and received by midnight the day prior to date of game. Enter as often as you want, but be sure to enclose an empty wrapper (or acceptable substitute) with each entry. Illegible entries will not be considered.
3. Prizes: FIRST PRIZE JACKPOT—$300; SECOND PRIZE JACKPOT—$150; THIRD PRIZE JACKPOT—$50. Winning entries will be selected according to the accuracy of the entry against the following in the order listed: (a) the winning team; (b) the final score, and, as a tie-breaker, if necessary (c) the accuracy in determining the leading half-time team and the half-time score. In the event of ties among contestants, the prize money for each of the three prize categories will be divided equally among contestants tied for the respective prizes.

4. This contest is under the supervision of the Bruce, Richards Corporation, an independent judging organization, whose decisions are final and binding on all contestants. Only one prize per family.

5. This contest is open to the college students and college faculty members of the above competing colleges only. Employees and members of their families of Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company and its advertising agencies are not eligible to enter.

6. All entries become the property of the sponsor, and none will be returned. Winners will be notified by mail. A complete list of winners is available to anyone sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the address below.

Kamphoefner's Plan Extensive Tour Of Architectural Classics Abroad

Henry L. Kamphoefner, dean of the School of Design at State College, and Mrs. Kamphoefner will leave Raleigh Saturday (October 29) for New York and the first lap of an extended trip that will enable them to view architectural masterpieces, both old and new, and visit friends and former associates of the dean.

The Kamphoefners' tour, which will include such wondrous places as Amsterdam, Paris, Rome, Madrid, Casablanca, and the Canary Islands, will last for more than two months. They expect to return to New York on January 12, then on to Raleigh.

Dean Kamphoefner commented that the prime objectives of his trip are to visit schools of architecture and engineering and to look for potential faculty members and lecturers for the School of Design at State College.

According to the dean, this will be his second trip across the Atlantic and the first for his wife. Dean Kamphoefner visited several cities in Europe about 30 years ago just after he was graduated from college. He added that he will tour the same cities again plus many more.

The Raleigh travelers will leave New York Saturday night on a Dutch jet airliner and will arrive in Amsterdam six hours later. The dean exclaimed that he and his wife will have dinner in New York and breakfast in Holland.

When the Kamphoefners arrive in Amsterdam they will have a reunion with H. T. Wijdeveld. The dean brought Wijdeveld, who is presently a practicing architect in Holland's Capital City, to State College as a visiting professor in 1949-1950.

In fact, many of the stops on the Kamphoefners itinerary will include visits with friends and acquaintances.

While in Bergamo, Italy, the School of Design dean and his wife will renew friendships with Giuseppe Guarnieri and Guillo Pizzetti, who are both employees of the Structural Testing Laboratory there. Guarnieri was a visiting professor at the School of Design in 1956-57. Pizzetti, once a visiting lecturer at State College, again will visit the campus in the same capacity in March 1961.

Another familiar face will greet the Kamphoefners when they arrive in Rome. They plan to see Wayne Taylor, a 1957 graduate of the School of Design, during their visit to the American Academy. Taylor is at the academy on a Fellowship in Architecture.

Also during their stay in Rome the Kamphoefners will view the Olympic Sports Arena and will probably receive a lecture on the magnificent structure from its designer, Pier Luigi Nervi. Nervi, a world famous structural engineer, has been a School of Design visiting professor.

Another world famous structural engineer and designer will welcome the Raleighites in Madrid. Eduardo Torroja, director of the Cement Institute there, was at one time a visiting lecturer at State College's School of Design.

The Kamphoefners' well organized and educational tour is far from a spur of the moment jaunt. In fact, the dean has been making plans for the trip for the past two years.

During their five-day stop in Paris, the Kamphoefners will visit the Ecole des Beaux Arts and the new UNESCO building. However, while in the enchanting French city their thoughts will wander momentarily from architecture to automobiles. The couple will take possession of their new Mercedes-Benz which they purchased several months ago.

When the Kamphoefners bid farewell to Paris, they will motor to Versailles, Chartres, then Bourges. Next on the agenda will come the picturesque countryside and captivating cities of Italy. The couple entering Italy at Turin will stop at Milan, Venice, Florence, Naples, Pisa, Bergamo, and Rome.

After Italy, the dean and his wife will journey to Marseille, Arles, Nimes, and Carcassonne in France before entering Spain by way of the seaport city of Barcelona. In Barcelona, Dean Kamphoefner will devote much time to studying the works of Gaudi, the Baroque architect.

Madrid will be the next stop for the dean and his wife. Then they will visit Toledo, Seville, and Granada. The dean says that he is anticipating seeing the Alhambra (the alcazar of the Moorish kings) at Granada.

State Students Go TO Florida Meeting

Seven delegates from North Carolina State College attended the 11th Annual Region IV Conference of the Association of College Unions at the University of Florida last week.

Representatives from 20 southern institutions discussed directions unions should take in the sixties in student activities and the total college union program, during the three day meeting.

Delegates attending from State College included John Stone, Alan Eckard, Bob Binns, Ron Boger, George Heeden, Dodie Clark and Kaye Perryman.

LAST MINUTE PACKING—Henry L. Kamphoefner, dean of the School of Design at North Carolina State College, and Mrs. Kamphoefner complete their packing just prior to leaving for an extended tour. The trip will include stops at such cities as Amsterdam, Paris, Rome, Madrid, and Casablanca.

PR Assembly In New York Attended By State Group

By Jim Long

On October 13, 14, and 15, Company L-4, N. C. State Pershing Rifles sent four representatives to New York City for the National Assembly. Along with the meetings, several varied social functions were held. This convention gave P.R. brothers from all over the nation, a chance to exchange ideas for the betterment of Pershing Rifles.

Few people here at State

College know of the Pershing Rifles as nothing but a drill team in red uniforms. Actually the P.R.'s accomplish more than just marching in parades. Under very capable leadership this year, the P.R.'s are expecting a lot more than marching.

The students at State College don't see the Pershing Riflemen, except on the drill field. Off the drill field, Pershing Rifles is more like a social fraternity than a marching group. Several times a semester, we gather for parties and banquets at which we forget the drill field and enjoy ourselves as fraternity brothers.

IN MEMORIAN

After a long period of illness, we announce with no regret the death of THE FOURSQUARE. They lived a life that might be paralleled with that of a libertine and so they passed away. Rest in Peace.

Due to the fact that the gentlemen who have poisoned-penned this column in the past were charged with slander, libel and misrepresentation of the facts, this column has changed hands. Of course as many students who have had the misfortune to read this column will know, any change will be for the best!

While driving to New Bern last Saturday to attend the Climate of Learning Conference, Chancellor Caldwell was delayed by one of the local representatives of the Governor of the State of North Carolina. The offense: crossing what is now believed to be a non-existent yellow line painted on the highway. This in itself is not newsworthy because many citations are given everyday for the same or like offenses. But the fact that when the Officer asked the Chancellor for his drivers license and Chancellor Caldwell after much diligent searching handed over his boat license might prove interesting to someone.

Within the next two or three weeks the column will publish

'Miss Photogenic' Contest Planned

The Miss Photogenic Contest will begin Wednesday (November 2) at the College Union Photography Committee meeting.

Any single girl in or around Raleigh who is 17 years or over, may enter personally, or be entered by a sponsoring group or individual by calling Rodney McCarry at TE 2-1755 after 4 p.m. daily or by contacting a photography committee member.

The girls are to act as models for the photography committee and the most photogenic girl wins the contest. Judging will be based on modeling ability and beauty.

The contest is to be in two phases. The first, the preliminary judging, will be a photo and modeling session on November 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the College Union. The second, the final judging, will be on November 19 at 2:30 p.m. in the College Union Ballroom. All finalists and participating photographers will attend a luncheon at 1 p.m. given by the photography committee.

The photography committee would like to extend a special invitation to all campus groups and individuals who would like to sponsor an entry or attend as spectators.

for the benefit of all of the students of State College the complete facts on the Chipmunk's Den and Rambling Round. The report will include pictures and a few astounding facts. WATCH FOR THIS EXPOSE!

If anyone had the misfortune to be hit by a water balloon while walking on our campus last Tuesday night the following might prove interesting to them. The car that the water balloons were thrown from was registered to John Frederick Gettinger, 4903 Morehead Drive, Raleigh. The car involved was a green two door, 1953 Dodge with North Carolina license plate number AE-1353 and State College sticker number D-827.

I don't know if the ads that were run in The Technician on Monday and Wednesday Nights were noticed or not but I believe that two of them will prove very interesting for the students. The SAEs ran an ad that stated that they deeply regretted the serious illness of Brother Patrick Murphy on Monday night. On Wednesday night they ran an ad that stated that they deeply regretted the sudden death of Brother Patrick Murphy and that the funeral would be this coming Saturday afternoon at 12:30 p.m. at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon House on Hillsboro St. I have checked the records of the school and of the SAE fraternity for the past six years and I have not been able to find a Patrick Murphy listed anywhere. It sounds like a prank to me! The first ad that was run in The Technician was due to oversight on the part of the Print Shop in correct and one of the Brothers came to the Sigma Chi House (for information sake, there are a lot of Sigma Chis on the staff of The Technician) and said that if the Sigma Chis tried to foul-up this deal then the SAE would turn the Sigma Chi Fraternity page in the Agromeck (for information sake there are a lot of SAEs on the staff of the Agromeck upside down. Yes, Yes three cheers.

Last night I saw Little Bobbie Cooke (SG Pres.) sitting behind the College Union looking and waiting for the Great Pumpkin.

With the first big IFC social event itching to start, we feel it is safe to begin looking toward other coming IFC events. Alan Altman, head of the social committee, mentioned something a couple of weeks ago about the possibility of having some type of concert in January. There is a chance that we can contract Johnny Mathis for such an event.

Passers-by noticed an excavating crew laboring away in the front yard of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house. Just wondering whether they were looking for something or trying to bury something in that huge pile red clay.

assigned areas in the visitations. The Democratic callers will remind citizens to vote; distribute literature; discuss the Democratic programs and qualifications of the candidates; and give them an opportunity to make small contributions for the party's current campaign.

"We feel," Spence said, "that many people have not been contacted in person during this campaign, and we will be available to discuss the issues and answer pertinent questions just seven days prior to election day."

It is believed that this is the first time that a campaign method of this type has been used in the nation on a statewide basis.

playing U. N. C. "Beat Whiskey Hill". I think he is jealous because he isn't getting his share of booze. Every minute of the game he is getting the student body to cheer, and we are getting damn sick of it. We don't mind cheering but we also would like to watch the game. If he wants to act like a girl why doesn't he wear a skirt? With this jerk as head cheerleader, how the hell are we ever going to win the sportsmanship award. He doesn't know how to "fire-up" the student, and I think we would have a lot better spirit if he was sitting in the stands or home washing the dishes. His voice sounds like a female moose. He has a brain that would rattle like a B-B in a box car. I wish this could be printed in the next issue so we could get that ham in a sorority house where he belongs. Are we (Turlington Dormitory) the only ones who feel this way or are there others like us?

Indian Group Holds Meet

Approximately 100 persons are expected to attend a Dewali celebration sponsored by the Special Committee of the India Association at the West Raleigh Presbyterian Church Saturday night.

Festivities will begin with a reception at 6 p.m. followed by dinner at 6:30 p.m. Indian style food will be served.

During the program, guests of the association and Indian students will be introduced. A movie concerning India will be shown.

Humble will interview on the Campus October 31

Interviewing teams from Humble Oil & Refining Company will be on the campus October 31 to interview advanced degree Chemical Engineers graduating in 1961.

Young men at Humble share in the dynamic progress and growth of a leader in the petroleum industry. Humble is one of the leading producers of crude oil in the United States and is a completely integrated oil company. Humble's Baytown Refinery, one of the largest in the world, is engaged in Refining and Petrochemical Manufacturing. Research centers in Houston, for development of better methods of exploration and production, and at Baytown, for research in manufacturing, are making valuable contributions to the petroleum industry.
