Christmas Performances Scheduled By Music Dept.

North Carolina State College's 85-voice Men's Glee Club will present a program featuring selections ranging from musical comedy hits to Christmas carols Tuesday night on WUNC-TV, channel 4.

The program is scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

A highlight of the musical show will be selections by the Glee Club Quartet.

Members of the quartet are Olin Jarrett of Marshall, first tenor; Collins Pippin of Smithfield, second tenor; Hoyt Beard of Pittsboro, baritone; and Jerry Bennett of Kernersville, bass.

The program will open with the glee club motto, "I Had a Dream Dear," which was written by Frederick Stanley Smith.

Solos on the program include "The Lullaby of the Christ Child," an old French carol, sung by Jarrett, and Frank Crow of North Wilkesboro will sing "Susanni," a 14th Century carol.

Other selections to be sung are "If I Loved You," the Rogers and Hammerstein favorite; "Shenadoah," and "I Hear a Voice A 'Praying."

The glee club is directed by J. Perry Watson, State College director of music.

North Carolina State College's annual Christmas carillon concert is planned for Wednesday (December 14) at 12 noon.

The program, which will last for approximately 30 minutes, will be played on the college Memorial Tower carillon by Ralph Daniel of Greensboro, a junior in the Department of Electrical Engineering at the college.

Young Daniel has been the State College carillonneur for the past three years. Each day at noon he presents short concerts of classical, semi-classical, and religious selections.

The Christmas concert is a service of the State College Music Department and the Division of Student Affairs.

Pack Wins Fourth of Season By Defeating Citadel 88-71

By Earl Mitchell
Sports Editor

If you ask Everett Case and his Wolfpack what their lucky number is, they will probably tell you that it is 88. The Wolfpack played their third home game of the season Saturday night, won their third straight home game, and scored 88 points for the third straight time at home.

The Pack met a Cinderella team in the Citadel Bulldogs. The Bulldogs weren't rated as one of the tough opponents of the Wolfpack this season until they defeated West Virginia, a Southern Conference power, on their home floor last Tuesday night. The Citadel team brought a perfect 3-0 mark into the State game, but met their match in the undefeated Wolfpack.

The 88-71 win over the Bulldogs was the fourth straight win of Case's charges against no defeats. Russ Marvel led the scoring with 20 points, 14 of which came in the first half. Guard Dutch Muehlbauer had 16 tallies, while Bob DiStefano and Stan Niewierowski had 13 and 12 points respectively. Gary Daniels brought a 23.0 points-per-game average into the State clash and dropped in 24 points in the losing cause. Little Jerry Buchanan was the number two scorer for the Citadel with 16 points.

State showed strength in the rebounding department with Marvel and DiStefano hauling down 13 and 12 respectively. Niewierowski had eight.

The Pack hit on 32 of 75 attempted shots from the floor for a 42.7% mark. The Citadel team hit on 39.4% of their shots from the floor. State held a slight edge at halftime in the percentage department, but threw in close to 50% in the second half to pull out in front.

For the third straight time Coach Case cleared his bench in a home game this year. The number one substitute for the Pack was sophomore John Pungger. Pungger came in for Niewierowski midway in the first half and hit on four straight

In Atlanta

Anti - Segregation March Held

An estimated 1,000 Negroes marched through downtown Atlanta in an orderly protest against segregation Sunday and three Negro college students were picked up by police for eating in a white cafeteria at a Macon, Ga., bus station.

The demonstration in Atlanta began with sunrise services in Atlanta university's Herndon Stadium where some 2,000 Negroes stood in a chilling rain to pray for integration.

After the services, a group of 400 persons rode in cars to Plaza Park in downtown Atlanta while another group of some 1,000 marched the mile and a half to the park.

The smaller group sang hymns and heard student leader Lonnie King urge a continuance of an economic boycott against downtown Atlanta merchants operating segregated lunch counters. Police Capt. T. C. Marler told the group it could not gather without a permit and the Negroes dispersed singing "We Shall Overcome" and "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Minutes later, the marchers, two-abreast and heeding traffic signals, arrived at the park. They left shortly after Negro real estate man Curtis Clark told them it was in their interests to continue the economic boycott.

Negro picketing of "target" stores in downtown Atlanta continued Saturday and Ku Klux Klansman marched in front of the Atlanta Journal-Constitution Building and the new post office as a protest against certain stories in the newspapers and the use of the post office as a gathering place for Negro sit-in demonstrators.

Police at Macon said the three Negroes, a youth and two girls, were en route from Atlanta to Jacksonville, Fla., and got into the line at the white cafeteria when the bus made a lunch stop at Macon.

The cafeteria manager asked the Negroes to use the facilities for their race in the rear, but they refused and continued through the line. The youth, identified as Benjamin Brown, president of the student body of Clark College, Atlanta, and one girl sat at a table and the other girl sat at a table with a white man who said he was not connected with the group.

Police took the group to the Macon police station and the bus left without them.

Soviet Arms Airlift Seen In Vientiane

Eyewitness reports from nearby Wattay Airport said the Soviet Union Sunday began airlifting arms and ammunition into this besieged capital of revolt-torn Laos.

The reported Russian move came as paratroop units led by leftist Capt. Kong Le dug in to defend the city against advancing units of pro-Western revolutionary leader Gen. Phouma Nosavan.

At the same time a provisional military government set up in Vientiane after neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma fled to Cambodia handed back power to the remaining members of Souvanna's cabinet. Taking over as head of the new government team was leftist Information Minister Quinim Pholsena.

Eyewitnesses reported they saw four howitzers being unloaded from Soviet IL-14 transport planes at Vientiane's Wattay Airport. The howitzers were described as similar to the U.S. 105 mm type.

According to these reports, the howitzers were unloaded on the side of the airport from the civilian terminal—apparently in an effort to ensure the utmost secrecy.

A Soviet airlift which was to have brought critically needed petroleum products from the Communist North Vietnamese capital to Hanoi to the old Souvanna government was resumed Sunday after a two-day interruption.

Reports from the airport said that unidentified cases were unloaded from the Soviet aircraft. These cases, the reports said, could have contained small arms and ammunition.

The Soviet Union has charged repeatedly in recent days that the United States was backing the anti-Communist forces of Gen. Nosavan.

Nosovan was last reported massing airborne, infantry and artillery units east of Vientiane in apparent preparation for a drive to capture the capital from Kong Le's red-kerchiefed paratroopers.

Comments From The Editor Slightly Ridiculous

Thousands of six-year-old children enter school each year, and no one other than their proud parents and grand-parents think anything about it; but the entrance of four little girls in Louisiana caused one of the greatest tornadoes of fury that has ever been unleashed in this country.

These four, harmless little girls have turned regular housewives, the average American women, into screaming and howling savages of the worst sort. They have turned duly-elected legislators and judicial department members whose function is to make and preserve the law to lawlessness of the worst sort: a "legal" perversion of existing laws.

Doesn't this seem slightly ridiculous?

The Negro in our society as it now stands has hardly a chance. He can go to college (if his parents can help him on their underpaid wages) and get a degree. Then if he has enough money he can get his law or medical degree and make a good living. He can also go into the field of education and possibly make a living comparable to what a white man can make. Almost all other fields of endeavor are closed to him in the South. So, one sees the Negro with a college degree "hopping curb" or waiting on white people in a country club or high-class restaurant, where his education and intelligence are wasted.

Doesn't this seem slightly ridiculous?

It is no idle speculation that this country is in trouble. In many branches of knowledge we are behind Communist Russia, and we are losing in almost every one in which we hold a superiority. More than anything, we need new and good minds to help us in our fight for democracy; yet we undemocratically hold a considerable portion of our population in virtual bondage—a portion which would help us greatly.

Doesn't this seem slightly ridiculous?

One of the greatest philosophers in America today is Harry Golden who is Jewish and lives here in the South. He, being a member of a highly persecuted minority group and living around the bigotry which is so highly evident in this section of the country, has thought very much on this problem. He contends that people must always feel superior to someone, and when they can find no legitimate reason such as intelligence they will resort to some artificial device such as a man's color or religion.

"All men are created equal."

Haven't we of the South made this statement which is supposedly the cornerstone of our belief in the American way of life sound slightly ridiculous?

WRAL Gives Reasons For Not Broadcasting Game

(Editor's Note. We received many letters concerning the radio stations in Raleigh not broadcasting the State-Clemson game last Tuesday night. We decided that we would select the best two letters. These letters came from two radio stations in Raleigh . . . WKNC and WRAL.)

To the Editor of The Technician:

Since our relations with State College's athletic department and students have always been warm and friendly, and because we value the good will which has existed for many years, I should like to explain our basketball broadcasting policy, with particular reference to the much discussed State - Clemson game of last Tuesday night. At WRAL we have always done everything possible to encourage and promote the entire program at State College, including, but certainly not limited to athletics. I feel certain that the apparently well organized and generally anonymous campaign of letters and telephone calls to which we have been subjected is the result of a lack of understanding.

While it is true that WRAL, itself, located in Raleigh, we must take a statewide view of sports since our broadcasts are fed to stations in every section of North Carolina. It is our earnest endeavor, therefore, to present the best possible schedule for state-wide consumption, within the limits of our resources, and the physical stamina of our personnel. The schedules, of necessity, are set up months in advance of the actual games, and it is obviously impossible to choose the best game in light of what may happen during the season.

If the broadcasts were carried only in Raleigh, the complete State schedule would doubtless be desirable, but this is not necessarily true at other points in the state which we serve. However, we attempt to carry as many State games as we can, and as many North Carolina games as possible, filling the schedule out with the best of Duke and Wake Forest. When it comes to a choice between State and Carolina, we try to choose the game of the most interest.

On last Tuesday night, we had a choice between State vs. Clemson or North Carolina vs. Virginia. Neither game shaped up as a headline attraction. State's rivalry with Clemson is so lukewarm that on occasions when the Tigers have played at the Coliseum, the athletic department has been hard pressed to take in enough money to heat up the building. Now the State home game is played in Charlotte in order to make it a paying proposition—interest here being so low. It is true that Clemson usually puts up a real battle at home, but even so, it is not a great rivalry. Carolina and Virginia have no more, and perhaps even less to offer, but in this case, they were playing at Chapel Hill necessitating a trip of only 30 miles as opposed to one of over 250 miles to Clemson. The difference in travel, in expense, and in wear and tear on us prompted us to take the Carolina - Virginia game. We have made dozens of similar decisions in the past, and nobody has complained.

It is patently impossible for us to change the schedule once it has been set up. Two years ago, we cancelled a Carolina game of relative small importance in mid-season to broadcast State vs. Maryland, a conference headliner as the race developed. This caused a great deal of trouble as stations in other cities had sold the game expecting it to be a Carolina game, and the sponsors, in many cases Carolina alumni, refused to pay, and the stations in turn, refused to pay us. We learned in this way that last minute switches in which so many people of varying tastes and loyalties are involved, cannot be carried out.

We have always carried every State football game we could. We have assisted the State officials in every way within our means to build a creditable network for the gridiron Wolfpack. It is our intention to continue to assist the college whenever and wherever it is our privilege to do so.

Many of the letters which I have received mention other local radio stations. You, in your editorial of December 7th, mention WSJS, Winston-Salem, as the sort of radio station you should have. WSJS carries no college basketball at all — not even Wake Forest, which is in Winston-Salem. Certain other stations in Raleigh carry none because it is expensive, time consuming, man-killing job to cover a slate of college games all over the country. We have 68 on our schedule this year.

At WRAL we are cognizant of, appreciate fully, the many courtesies we have received at North Carolina State. We consider ourselves friends of the college, the athletic program, and all the students. We have supported them all, and I, personally did verbal battle on the air with Raleigh police in protest of their using tear gas last year against State students. I hope that State college students and fans are reasonable and perceptive enough to appreciate our position and to be assured of cordial feelings.

Bill Currie
WRAL Station Manager

(Editor's Note. We would like to correct one point Mr. Currie. The State-Maryland contest at College Park two years ago was not a mid-season game. It was the Wolfpack's second contest of the year. State defeated the Terps 55-53 on a last second shot. If I am not mistaken, I believe that All-American Lou Pucillo made a 25-foot shot from the sidelines with three seconds left in the game. As for mentioning WSJS, we felt that since WPTF was broadcasting all of the Carolina games and since WRAL already had their schedule set, we would go to a station outside Raleigh that was well-known and try to persuade them to broadcast State's schedule. We knew that WSJS was not broadcasting any basketball games, and we felt they were a logical choice.)

Your editorial in the December 7 issue of The Technician concerning "No Basketball" was greeted with great interest here at W K N C. This situation concerning the broadcast of the State College basketball games has long been recognized here. For the last three years W K N C has been working for the installation of an "N. C. State Sports Network", and last year, in conjunction with the Sports Publicity Department and the Athletic Department, we were able to originate all the State football games which were heard in this area over a ten station network. Through its sponsors, W K N C was able to provide all the equipment and engineering personnel necessary for the broadcast of these games. (The personnel did not receive any payment for their services). Who in the Raleigh area would have broadcast the U.C.L.A. game, for instance, if it had not been for this network?

As is obviously known from the incident concerning the Clemson game not being broadcast by an area station, we have been unable to launch a similar basketball network. This is pathetic when we look at the fine record compiled by Everett Case's editions of the Wolfpack. Also, we have all heard the basketball games broadcast by the Tar Heel Basketball Network, The Wake Forest Basketball Network, and the Duke Basketball Network, and yet with the Wolfpack from year to year consistently in the national rankings, State does not even have a basketball network. W K N C, in conjunction with the Sports Publicity Department, has been trying to remedy this situation for the past two years, but without sponsorship of such a network it is impossible. It seems that in the Raleigh area, Carolina is the magic word. W K N C, being a student activity could originate the network almost for cost, but we have been unable to obtain even costs. Maybe the Wolfpack Club could obtain a sponsor for us?

field goals to keep the Pack in the game while the Citadel was putting the pressure on State.

State jumped into a 4-0 lead on baskets by Marvel and Ken Rohloff, who had eight points for the night. From here on in the Pack never lost their lead and they stretched it to as much as ten points in the first half before settling for a 38-31 intermission lead.

In the second half Niewierowski, Muehlbauer, and DiStefano began to throw in the points. The Pack moved out in front as far as 21 points in the closing minutes of the game before Coach Case cleared his bench. With three seconds left in the game it appeared that State would not be able to reach the 88-point mark, but a foul sent Bruce Hoadley to the charity line. Hoadley dropped two perfect tosses through the hoop for the final two points of the night.

The State freshmen won their first game of the season Saturday night with an 80-55 win over the Citadel frosh. Les Robinson poured in 29 points to lead the Wolflets and grab top scoring honors for the game. Ron Gossell tossed in 19 points while Don Cox had 12 tallies. Ron Erb had 11 points.

Larry Hitchcock was the number one scorer for the Citadel with 14 points. Mike

West and Wayne Isaces each had ten tallies. The State frosh held a 33-20 lead at halftime.

The next outing for the Wolfpack will be Wednesday night when they face Len Chappell and Company. Bones McKinney will bring his Wake Forest team into the Coliseum for State's second ACC game of the season. The varsity game is slated for 8:15 following the freshmen game.

Here is a little food for thought concerning the State-Wake Forest game. The Citadel beat West Virginia, West Virginia beat Wake Forest, and State beat the Citadel. Comparing scores doesn't mean too much in basketball, but if you like to do that sort of thing, that's the way you can look at it.

Matmen Drop Openers

The N. C. State wrestling team got its season underway this weekend with two matches. They faced the Citadel on Friday afternoon and the University of Maryland Saturday night.

Both matches ended in defeats for the Wolfpack grapplers. The first loss came by a 29-5 count at the hands of The Citadel. The five points that the Pack did pickup in the match with the Bulldogs was in the 147 pound class when James Reynolds won over his Citadel opponent by a default. The Bulldogs chalked up four pins and three decisions in downing the State team.

The worst defeat of the weekend came at College Park, Md., where the University of Maryland swept pass the Wolfpack by a 36-0 margin. The 36 points racked up by the Terps was almost the top number of points that a team can get in a meet.

The Terps combined six points with two decisions to hold the Wolfpack scoreless. The Terps, ACC champs, have never lost an ACC match.

DR. FROOD ON FINE ARTS

In which Lucky Strike's gift to the arts selects "The World's Greatest Masterpieces" and reveals all—in fact, more than all—that is known about each.

Whistlers' Mother: This painting, by an unknown artist, depicts the housemother of a college sorority patiently waiting for a dance to break up in the next room. Note how the artist has captured the anguish and devotion of this lonely woman as she frets over her young charges (who were nicknamed "The Whistlers" because of the way in which they obtained dates).

Early Rembrandt: That Rembrandt was born a genius is conclusively proven by this little-known masterpiece. This, his first known painting, astounded critics and made the name Billy Rembrandt famous throughout Europe. Believe it or not, Rembrandt created this masterpiece when he was two years old!

The Thinker: What is The Thinker thinking? This has been as baffling to scholars as the riddle of the sphinx and "Who's on first?" But now it can be revealed that this statue is actually a Roman warrior who had been asked, "Remember how great cigarettes used to taste?" When he failed to answer, "Luckies still do," he was turned to stone.

The Venus de Milo: Sculptured in the second century B.C. on behalf of a Greek pencil manufacturer, this great statue has won fame through the ages as the symbol of beauty parlors, bowling alleys, upholstery firms and reducing pills. Today it is used primarily as a vivid warning to small children who bite their fingernails.

Woman in Water: Here is the original of a great "lost" masterpiece which I was able to acquire for the ridiculously low price of $8,500. I mention this only to show what great bargains you can find in art if you know your subject. I determined the authenticity of this priceless original by proving that the small stain, upper left, was made by Renoir's favorite coffee.

AT LEFT: "MASTER OF ALL MASTERPIECES"! "Here, in my opinion," says Dr. Frood, "is the greatest work of art. Note the bold, clean strokes in LUCKY STRIKE, conveying the wisdom and pride of the manufacturer. Note the perfect circle, representing, of course, the perfect product inside. And in the product itself we find a truly magnificent expression of quality, good taste, pleasure and contentment. Surely, there is no work of art that, over the years, has brought more aesthetic joy not only to all of us in the art world, but to millions of people in all walks of life."
