The 1949 Gardner Award was announced during the dinner program, which will attract several hundred faculty members from the University of North Carolina in Greensboro, the University of North Carolina, and the North Carolina State College. The event is a formal gathering of the University of North Carolina faculty in Greensboro.

Nominations must contain a candidate’s full name, address, and curriculum, and the way he wishes to appear on the program. The book must be copyrighted by another University of North Carolina faculty member.

In several weeks the North Carolina State Legislature will deliberate an issue which is vital to State College students. There is a bill before the Assembly proposing a yearly tuition increase, in all state-supported colleges, of twenty-five dollars for in-state students and one hundred dollars for out-of-state students.

We feel that an increase in tuition would constitute a complete break with the philosophy of state-supported higher education, whose basic purpose is to provide quality education at the lowest possible cost. The land-grant college movement should strive toward the situation in which no student who shows reasonable interest and ability would be refused a college education for financial reasons.

Although State College is in dire financial need in many areas, it cannot afford to add to the heavy monetary burden of the student body. Though the increased intake would be used partly for student financial aid (and partly for teachers’ salaries and the library) the overall effect would be to take more from the student financially than he would receive in additional aid.

Of the approximately 1300 students receiving some form of financial assistance from the college, many find this aid inadequate to cover their expenses. There is also a large body of marginal students for whom no aid is available. These students, existing on a strictly nominal budget, would be placed in an untenable position. In addition, a number of prospective new students would be deterred from seeking enrollment at State College. We feel that this loss of both prospective and enrolled students is too great a price to pay.

It seems certain that this proposal, if passed, will set a precedent for further tuition increases in land-grant colleges. We feel that this trend should not be initiated in the North Carolina educational system, that the increased funds should come from sources other than the student.

In our viewpoint on the proposed tuition increase, we are expressing the feelings of the college administration and of the Student Government League, who Thursday night passed a resolution recommending “that all possible action be taken to assure nothing will be added to the present financial burden of the student body.”

Resumed as second class matter, February 15, 1939, at the Post office at North Carolina, under the act of March 3, 1934. Published every Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday by the students of North Carolina State College except during holidays and some periods. Subscription rate is $1.00 a year.
North Carolina State's Bob "Moose" Di Stefano paced the Atlantic Coast Conference All-Stars in a 97-77 win over the All-Stars of the Southern Conference.

The probable starting lineup for the Pack will include Romar Gabriel and Ray Perry in the outfield. The other outfield post will go to either Gerry Correll or Don Montgomery. These two boys are presently first base candidates, but Coach Vic Sorrell said that he would start one of them at first, but he wasn't sure which would start where.

At this third base, Sorrell is expected to go with Lee Young, a sophomore. Sorrell expressed doubt about Young's hitting strength and said either Kermit Young or Perry might play some third base.

At shortstop the number one man for the starting assignment is Wayne Edwards. Edwards is a junior and won a letter at this spot last season.

On the mound for the Wolfpack will be either Joel Gibbons or Wilson Carruthers. One of the two was to pitch today, and the other to draw the starting nod for tomorrow's tilt.

After the game with Dartmouth tomorrow afternoon, the Pack will be idle until March 29 when they face Colby College. The game will be played on Friday afternoon at 4:00.

Thirty umpires are needed for the intramural softball schedule that opens March 20. All persons interested are urged to get in contact with the intramural office in Frank. The schedule will be on the 21st. They will conclude their Easter vacation slate with Washington & Lee and West Virginia on April 1 and 2.

The ragged Southern Conference to death.

On the strength of Di Stefano’s brilliant burst of points in the first half, the ACC group moved out to a 47-39 halftime advantage and then moved away in the second half to win the game easily.

Di Stefano handled the big men of the Southern Conference very well. He outscored both Chris Smith and Jeff Cohen, who are regarded as two of the best in the Southern Conference. The high man for the SC All Stars was Dick Markowitz with 18 points. Second in the SC scoring was Cohen with 14.

Other big scorers for the ACC were Hart with 17, Youngkin with 16, and Frye and Kistler with 13 apiece. The leading rebounder for the game was Smith of VPI with 18. Second in this department was Youngkin with 13.

MATADOR MATES PREAISED BY TEST WEARERS

Test wearers from coast to coast have praised praise upon the new, high style Matodor Maters. Typical comments have been: "I am more than pleased with this new idea in style and T shirt comfort.
Although they cost a little more, they're certainly worth it! Matador has a new friend and customer." A lady from Richmond, Virginia wrote, "I love my husband in his Matador Maters."

This neat and clean south comes this comment, "Matadors are the smartest, neatest underwear I have ever worn. They're a great team."
And this abbreviated, but descriptive comment came out of the west, "WOW!"

From all sections of the country, the Matadors are strongly in favor of this radical new development in high style men's underwear. Most agree, "Matador Maters. are just what I have been looking for."
