Gabe Goes To Air As Pack Meets Blue Devils

Roman Gabriel fakes a pass in his usual All-American manner before running the ball for a gain. Despite Gabriel's able quarterbacking, and State's alert blocking and running, as evidenced by the picture, the Wolfpack was unable to match the skillful attacking strategy which the Blue Devils exhibited.

Campus Chest Drive Opens This Week

State students have long arms this week.

They can reach to Chile, to Algeria, to Japan, by contributing to the Campus Chest Drive, which opened today. Solicitors will visit students in their rooms throughout the week. Off-campus students may contribute at booths that will be set up at a number of places on campus.

The Raleigh United Fund will receive 15% of the proceeds, the American Friends Service Committee will get 15%, and the World University Service, 70%.

In a statement to the student body, Jim Spotts, chairman of the drive, pointed out that "The YMCA and the USO are good examples of local agencies which benefit from the Raleigh United Fund. American Friends Service Committee is concerned with employment in Southern cities, housing and broader community problems in the areas of San Francisco and Chicago."

Continuing, Jim Spotts outlined the work of the World University Service as an international organization which accepts donations and distributes these donations to different universities all over the world in the form of materials rather than money. He stated, "For example, the Service last year sent a printing press to India so that the students could print their own text books; construction materials were also sent to Chile where the recent earth quakes devastated dormitories at the University of Concepcion. This material will be used to construct new dormitories."

Appealing to the student body, Spotts stated, "If you feel the importance of the Campus Chest Drive is demonstrating the spirit of stewardship, then contribute. It's Up To You To Help Others In Need!"

Bureau Offers Sales Training

Free sales training classes to interested students began today. This course is sponsored by the Raleigh Merchants Bureau and the Wake County Distributive Education Service to train prospective part-time employees.

Some of the subjects to be covered in each of these classes include applying for a job, requirements for job success, cash register-sales check training, fundamentals of Christmas selling, and stock keeping, wrapping, and packing.

The class will be held as follows:

October 30-November 2, 4:00-6:00 p.m. at the News and Observer Building.

Harrelson On View Saturday

By Cora Kemp

Harrelson Hall, State College's unique new classroom building, will be open to the public for the first time Saturday, November 4.

The opening of the building will be in collaboration with the Agricultural School's annual "Open House." The first floor will be the only one available for a thorough inspection, however, for it will be the only floor completely furnished at that time.

Harrelson Hall, which will seat 3,429 people, is constructed so that each floor contains two large concentric circles of rooms with a central stairway. The 122 rooms in the outer circle will be used for offices and conference rooms for the 167 faculty and staff members; the 77 inner rooms, for classrooms and lecture halls.

All three floors will be equipped with modern furnishings purchased from the Southern Desk Company in Hickory, N. C. Each room maintains an attractive, individual color scheme. The desks, tables, and chairs will be bolted to the sloping classroom floors.

The School of General Studies and the mathematics department will be consolidated in the one building.

The first floor will be occupied by the departments of economics, history and political science, and social studies. The math department will dominate the entire second floor and part of the third. Also on the third floor will be the modern languages, philosophy and religion, and sociology classrooms.

The moving process from the old locations to Harrelson Hall will be departmental. Each department plans to move in as soon as its furniture is set up. As each department is situated in its proper section, its classes will be moved to the new building.

Dean John W. Shirley, Dean of Faculty, has expressed hope that "some of the departments will be set up shortly after Thanksgiving." The building will be in full operation by the second semester.

"The move to Harrelson Hall will constitute a big step toward consolidation of departments on the campus," said Dean Shirley.

At the present time, the mathematics and English departments are scattered to both ends of the campus. When the transfer is complete, all math

68 NCS Students To Run In Education Marathon

State College men have volunteered their services for the running of the Torch of Education Marathon this Friday, November 3.

A meeting for all runners will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night in the CU.

Over sixty runners will carry the torch from Fayetteville to Raleigh, and from Meredith College to the Capitol, the last stretches of both the Eastern and Western Routes, according to marathon leaders; and State College will pick up the flaming torch from a runner representing Fayetteville State Teachers College at the intersection of highways 301 and 401 at 2:00 a.m. The sprint is scheduled to be completed at 12:00 noon in Raleigh, over sixty miles away.

The volunteers, sixty-eight in number, come from several fraternity and dormitory groups. Included in the body are residents of Becton, Bragaw, and Syme dormitories and members of Alpha Gamma Rho, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, and Sigma Pi fraternities.

Bill Jackson, of The Technician staff, is in charge of the State College runners. Assisting in the direction of the 60-mile event are Jim Scoggins and Rocky Floyd. The entire project is under the supervision of Norris Tolson, Student Body President.

Sigma Chi is responsible for thirty-eight members of the 68-man team.

Other members of the team will include ten runners from Sigma Alpha Epsilon, six from Sigma Pi, five runners from Alpha Gamma Rho, four from Becton dormitory, two from Syme, two from Bragaw, and one off-campus student.

All State Students Must Show ID Cards For CU Activities

Effective immediately, all members of the College Union will be asked to show their identification cards at the entrance to all functions. This measure has been brought about in the interests of the students in order to insure them a place at all CU functions, Union officials stated.

Bill Guion, Vice President of the CU, stated, "It is because too many faculty members and persons from Raleigh have been attending CU activities and depriving students of the privileges to which they are entitled that we have taken this measure. We hope the students will not mind this change since it is to their good that we are working."

Lake, Golden Debate Here

"The Welfare State is the very antithesis of our basic government."

This statement characterized Dr. I. Beverly Lake's argument in an unscheduled debate with Harry Golden last Thursday night at the College Union.

Golden refuted this and mentioned that "no single inroad has been made by Communism in countries having strong social legislation."

Speaking at the weekly meeting of the Apollo Club, these two prominent North Carolinians, in discussing the merit of the Welfare State, shifted from the ordinary Apollo procedure of a short talk followed by a question and answer period, to an evening of debate.

Introductions were made by Dean Fred V. Cahill, Jr. of the School of General Studies. The club members first heard Mr. Golden, who expressed his definition of Fair Employment Practices and then proceeded to take a positive stand on the subject. This was followed by Dr. Lake's negative approach in a talk which lasted for a corresponding period of time. The general tones and references at this point gave the implications of debate, and the floor was given over to Mr. Golden for a period of rebuttal. Dr. Lake then spoke briefly before the audience was allowed to question the two speakers on their respective approaches.

The discussion became quite lively at times, with rather pointed exchanges being offered. Dr. Lake called the welfare state, "A snare and delusion which will trap the employer," went on to say that its existence, "which Mr. Golden proposes, will destroy our freedom. Its purpose is really to destroy capitalism."

The discussion soon turned into an evaluation of the Fair Labor Practices Law and "right to work" legislation. Golden here took the initiative and quoted some figures pertinent to the subject of discrimination, with which this legislation deals to a great extent. According to these figures, the average white man's wage in this state is two and one half times that of the colored man, and 84% of North Carolina's employed Negroes are engaged in menial tasks.

Dr. Lake then admitted that discrimination does occur, but replied that the government cannot legislate morals and that he was proud of the Southern white man's record in dealing with these matters.

Said one Apollo Club member, "The session ended with the still volatile question hanging in the air, unanswered."

SG Discusses Cow, Freshman Elections

At the Student Government meeting Thursday, October 26, rules were passed and others changed concerning Freshmen Class campaigns and elections. Another resolution concerning the advisability of presenting a cow at the State-Duke football game was debated lengthily. The "cud" was well chewed, but no action was taken on this utterly exasperating and entirely different situation.

Other changes in election rules included: Candidates for Freshmen elections must attend a meeting in the College Union Theatre Tuesday, November 7, at 7:00 p.m. Failure to attend will mean the candidate's disqualification.

Campaign funds may not exceed $75. In the past the maximum campaign funds have been set at $25. This maximum includes donations.

Candidates are responsible for actions of their supporters. Any violation of any campaign or election rules will disqualify the candidate at fault.

Elections will be held on November 14, 1961.

It's Up To You

We do not realize how lucky we are.

We attend an institution which has a surplus of educational aids ranging from nuclear reactors to greenhouses. . . we are never hungry . . . and we live in comfortable and relatively uncrowded conditions.

This is in sharp contrast to other parts of the world where colleges never have enough books to supply all of their students . . . the students make a meal off a half-pint of milk . . . and live in tents and other such make-shift domiciles.

"An empty stomach will listen to whoever feeds it." This is an axiom which has been proven recently by Russia in its quest for world domination. Russia finds countries that are having economic difficulties and inspires them to have a socialist-oriented revolution. When a man is hungry, he will accept the idea of a revolution, thinking that any change will be for the good. This has been the main line of the Communists and will continue to be used effectively by them as long as there are these underdeveloped countries.

The Campus Chest Drive which is being held on this campus this week is one of the best ways to counteract this Soviet threat. A large portion of the money used will go to help the students of undeveloped countries. Projects which have been undertaken or are planned by the World University Service, the organization that will receive a portion of the money from our drive, include the buying of textbooks in Greece, the rebuilding of dormitories in Chile, and many others which will aid students all over the world.

The Campus Chest Drive managers have used as the slogan of their drive this year—"It's up to you to help others in need." We, however, would like to enlarge upon this theme to say that it is up to you to help keep the world free.

An Invalid Criticism

Like any newspaper, we receive a considerable amount of criticism, and we are trying to accept it in good graces and better our paper by considering it. One criticism that we have been receiving lately will not be listened to in this light, however.

Different organizations on campus feel that they should get a disproportionate share of publicity, and many times have stated that we are not doing our job in the correct way because of this.

We would like to remind everyone on campus that we are a newspaper and not a publicity sheet. It is a difficult job considering what is most important and what should have precedence for printing; but it is a job for which we were chosen and a trust we will try our best to keep.

Fraternity Penalty

To the Editor:

. . . an associate member of KA supposedly visited the Theta Chi House and posed as a rushee. Members of Theta Chi stated that (He) asked embarrassing questions and that his actions were harmful to their rush program." The Technician, Thursday, October 26. "Hey, Lookit that! Wonder what they were trying to hide?"

This might easily be a typical reaction to such an unfortunate choice of words. It is made to appear that members of Theta Chi Fraternity have substantial flaws to cover in a grab for gullible rushees.

Such is not the case.

One example of the "embarrassing question": the KA had suggested that our financial program, which was being presented to him—as well as to some ten-odd other rushees—was as low as it is because of numerous assessments during the year, much like it is in other houses. Our treasurer said that we did not and would not have assessments, and that such assessments were an example of poor planning—whereupon the Kappa Alpha more or less called him a liar.

Continued conduct of this nature monopolized the treasurer's time, keeping it from being put to better use.

This lack of mature discretion and common courtesy was totally uncalled for. Should the I.F.C., that august body of justice, see fit to condone this action by ignoring it, an unfortunate precedent will have been set.

Bill Isler

Editors Note: No implication that Theta Chi had something to hide was meant by the writer of the story. We are sorry that it was possible for it to have been interpreted that way.

Harrelson Hall

classes will be in Harrelson Hall, and all of the English classes will be in Winston Hall.

In an interview with The Technician, Dr. Lodwick Hartley, Head of the English Department, stated that "the English department needed space and Harrelson Hall is making this possible." Although the new building will not accommodate the English department, it will house the other classes now in Winston Hall. The old building will be converted into a consolidated English department.

Dr. Hartley happily commented that "our English department will then have room for many new things. A student-faculty lounge will be one of its ideal features. With the available space, students will be able to study between classes, take make-up quizzes, and have conferences with their instructors, which are now nearly impossible in the limited space provided by present conditions."

An audio-visual aid room will be another helpful feature in this department. If additional equipment can be obtained, a speech laboratory will be established, too. Peele and Tompkins Halls will be vacated when Harrelson Hall is opened. Tentative plans for Tompkins Hall include the moving of the Department of Occupational Information and Guidance from the 1911 Building. The School of Education classes will continue to be held there.

Peele Hall will undergo considerable remodeling. It will be used for central administration and student affairs offices.

'La Dolca Vita'

When you leave "La Dolca Vita," you are not whistling the theme song. This is possibly because there is no noticeable theme song and possibly because you just don't feel like whistling. In fact, you don't feel like laughing, crying, fighting, screaming, or any of the emotions normally associated with going to a movie. The only emotion experienced was a slight disgust and a severe state of depression. Not disgust with the movie itself, but with the life it so accurately portrays.

Its apparently disjointed scenes all contribute to an underlying theme of the decadence into which our Western society is falling. Marcello, the main character was the embodiment of the organization man of modern times who came from the country to write, only to be grasped, held, and twisted by the way of life he encountered in the city. This way of life is graphically shown in the Roman cafe society, which embraces people from all walks of life—from beatnik to newspaper writer and publicity man to aristocracy—and which one feels could be transported to any other city in the world.

The bias sophistication of this society is exposed for the bored basement existence that it is in the opening scenes. Madalena, a wealthy young nymphomaniac, and Marcello give a street-walker a ride to her house. When she invites them in for coffee, you are at first struck only by the contrast between the nature of the two women. However, the next scenes quickly dispel this and show that the two are very alike indeed. In fact, about the only difference in their natures is that the prostitute is the more honest of the two.

As Marcello is drawn deeper and deeper into the web of power-hunger and sensuality, he makes one attempt to escape. This, however, is in vain because he was found to become a more and more decadent figure as the picture progressed.

The final scene very well sums up the whole mood of the picture. Marcello has just returned from a party in which he has utterly degraded himself and meets a girl who reminds him of his earlier attempt to escape. He looks at her longingly, but he walks away with his arm around one of the party girls, throwing only a cursory glance at his lost innocence.

The movie is a depressing look at innocence and ideals lost. As a denunciation and a glimpse at our times, it is outstanding; but as entertainment is shocking and brutal.

A documentary is not meant for entertainment, but for education. Although "La Dolca Vita" is fiction, it is, nevertheless, a documentary in its own right.

Honor System-Letter

To the Editor:

Pardon my pessimism but the honor system will never work! What I mean to say is that the honor system will never work so long as the system of education remains the same. As long as professors spoon feed cut and dried facts to students in the dull monotonous so often encountered now, students will cheat. The history fossil, the math egg head, and the rhetoric teacher do not belong in the modern college class room. As long as men like this roll off, day after day, a steady stream of meaningless facts about the most important course in college, students will sleep in class, lag in studies and consequently cheat on tests and exams. Why won't somebody turn them in?

By Benny Pearce
 State's once pre-season, high-riding Wolfpack was handed another defeat at the hands of mighty Duke before an almost capacity crowd of 21,800 fans Saturday afternoon. Although the score was only 17-6, the Blue Devils completely dominated the statistics. Duke combined a potent ground attack with some timely passing and excellent punt returning to vault themselves into undisputed possession of first place in the ACC race.

The Wolfpack's inability to get going in the first half kept them from battling Duke on even terms. State more or less played Duke on even terms the last half, both going scoreless in the third quarter and both scoring one touchdown in the last quarter.

The Wolfpack managed to stir up the fans late in the last quarter when it scored its touchdown on a perfect heave from Roman Gabriel to Johnny Morris. After the touchdown, the State team pulled off one of the few successful "onsides" kicks. The Wolfpack appeared to be within striking distance of the goal line again, but Duke quarterback Walt Rappold picked off one of Gabriel's aerials and ended the Wolfpack threat.

The only consolation for the Wolfpack that arose from the game was that no significant injuries were received. It is hoped that the squad will be intact when they travel to Mobile, Ala., next Saturday to play the Southern of Mississippi Southerners in a so-called "small" school, but they have an enrollment of approximately 4,000 (which is about 1,400 more than Wake Forest).

At any rate, the Wolfpack will be trying for their third win of the year. Mississippi Southern is currently in ninth place in the nation among the small colleges.

Becton Still Undeclared In Football (5-0) And Volleyball (4-0)

By Earl Mitchell
 Becton dormitory appears to be the class of the fall intramural sports scene so far this year. Becton is undefeated in both football and volleyball.

With a 12-0 grid win over Syme, Becton boosted their season record to a perfect 5-0 and this was the best record in Section 2 of the dorm grid league. In volleyball, Becton outclassed WG4 2-0 to remain unbeaten in Section 1 play with a 4-0 mark.

They, however, are not the only undefeated team in dorm volleyball play as Bagwell with a 5-0 mark and Bragaw North with a 4-0 record are fighting it out for the Section 2 title. Bagwell beat Owen #1 2-1 last week, while Bragaw North breezed by Turlington 2-0.

In other volleyball action last week, Tucker #1 beat Tucker #2 2-0, Bragaw South trounced Owen #2 2-0, and Watauga (Continued on page 4)

Dorm Swimming Finals Set For Wed. Night

downed Alexander 2-1.

In the closest football game of the week, Berry was edged by Alexander 14-13 in a game that was finally decided by yardage. In other play, Turlington beat Owen #1 8-7, Bragaw South dominated Bagwell 15-0, Owen #2 beat WG4 in a high scoring game 20-16, and Bragaw North won over Watauga 20-7.

Swimming moved into the spotlight last week with the qualifying rounds being held on Wednesday night. The finals are scheduled for this Wednesday night. Berry, one of the smaller dorms on campus, appears to be the favorite to capture the team title as they qualified seven swimmers in the events Wednesday.

The names of the qualifying swimmers and their dorms are as follows:

25-yard freestyle — Wilson, Berry; Hendrickson, Berry; Sloop, Alexander; Melton, Becton; Klipfel, Bragaw North; Cornwright; Bagwell; Yokely, Watauga; Stalls, Tucker #1; and Robbins, Alexander.

50-yard breaststroke — Holden, Tucker #2; MacLean, Becton; Oertel, Bagwell; Tuttle, Bragaw North; Walker, Watauga; Thomas, Berry; Bloomer, Owen #2; Stowe, Tucker #2; Cooper, Watauga.

50-yard backstroke — Kemp, Bragaw North; Braam, Bag-well; Charles, WG4; Klipfel, Bragaw North; Oertel, Bagwell, Swanson, Syme; Golden, Berry; Stresen, Syme; King, Tucker #2.

100-yard freestyle — Broughton, Turlington; Wilson, Berry; Golden, Berry; Charles, WG4; Melton, Becton; Blalock, Owen #2; Yokley, Watauga; Sloop, Alexander; Holden, Tucker #2; Newell, Berry.

In addition to the four listed events there will also be a 150-yard medley relay and diving competition.

Bowling gets into full swing tonight with six team matches on tap. All six will get underway promptly at 9:00. The matches are as follows; Berry-Alexander, Syme-WG4, Bragaw North-Becton, Tucker #2-Owen #2, Watauga-Turlington, and Bragaw South-Owen #1.

Wolfllets Lose

The frosh gridders lost a thrilling game to the Duke Blue Imps at Durham Friday, 23-20. State held a halftime lead 12-0 and a lead in the third quarter, 20-13, but was unable to hold either one of them. The Blue Imps scored a touchdown and a two point conversion in the last period to make the score 21-20. The final Duke points were scored on a two-point safety.
