Freak Dorm Accident Injures Two Students

By Jerry Thomas

The 26-year-old student in charge of a power elevator in a dormitory at a local university was injured yesterday morning when the elevator’s control panel was tampered with.

The accident occurred at 8:00 a.m. when the student, a junior in mechanical engineering, entered the dormitory to start his workday.

When he entered the elevator, he found that the power had been turned off.

The student, who was wearing a white shirt and blue pants, immediately pulled the emergency brake and called for help.

By 9:00 a.m., police and fire departments had arrived on the scene, and the injured student was taken to the hospital.

According to the police report, the student had minor cuts and bruises, but was expected to make a full recovery.

Profes Graded Next Week

Since the spring and fall evaluation reports on personnel and students are due this week, the professors are beginning to hand out grades. The evaluation reports are due by the end of the week. The evaluation reports will be graded by the end of the next week.

The evaluation reports are graded on a scale of 1 to 5, with 5 being the highest grade. The grades are based on the professor’s assessment of the student’s performance in the course.

SG Misses Quorum By 8

The 1968-69 Student Government Budget was introduced in an abbreviated session of the Student Senate last night.

A total of 48 senators and alternates were present at the meeting, failing short of the required quorum of 50.

As a result, the University Senate budget for next year must be finalized and the budget for the current year must be finalized. The budget for the current year must be finalized by the end of the current year. The budget for the current year must be finalized by the end of the current year.

Both a "first reading" must be held and a "second reading" must be held in order to pass the budget. After the "second reading" the budget must be approved by the University Senate.

The new budget, with an anticipated increase of $35,000, deals with over 800 events next year. The budget includes $35,000 in total in both college and university-wide events.

Dionne Warwick: Greatest Show Yet

by Dick Hill and Bill Horschel

Perfoming for a new career opportunity, Dionne Warwick continued her review of the songs and the book in a delightful balance between instrumental arrangement and the record's success. The show, which opened at the 26th Street Music Hall last night, was just the beginning of a new career for Warwick.

The show continued with a collection of her hits and all new compositions such as "Walk on by," "This Is My Life," and "Don't Make Me Do It." The show is just the beginning of a new career for Warwick.

Inkings....

A couple of unsigned letters have crossed our desk. The first implied that the writer would work in some of the men's dorms, and was critical of the policy.

We agree, and should the letter's author contact us, we hope he will show himself.

The more recent letter left a little speechless. It was a letter to the editor, signed "Arthur," a girl in one of our classes. She sings of her beauty and sweet nature, but the fact is she is unkind.

You see, for three reasons: first, we doubt the writer will ever identify himself; second, we notice that he has never known the "secret admirer" technique in which a "secret admirer" sends love notes to a strange partner, thus clearing his conscience. And lastly, the writer's anonymity gives us a chance to really get to know him. If you insist of finding this letter's "relationship," she will gradually make your feelings into those of Anne of Cleves.

Results of Wednesday's political meeting were interesting. We were gratified to see the majority favor the dynamic government. We must admit that we have not always been pleased with the previous administration's performance, and we are thrilled to see the new one ready to go on. We are also pleased that Miss Dickson is usually late, and that her speeches are often dull. We hope the new administration will be able to continue the tradition of excellence that have happened at a concert at State, Peter, and Mary concerts of the last administration.

Notations on News Notables: It's not worth-while that a project like the wrecking of Dillard's be allowed. It is not a "true" "supermarket," but the con-structive work on campus is a genuine benefit.

BB's Concert Intermittent

by Linda Stuart

It was an interesting night from the moment the press arrived before the scheduled time, as the Open House continued until the clock struck 9:45. It was evident that some of the groups would be there until then, just before the concert began. Problems, a relay between the stage and the gates, prevented the press from doing their job.

The Buffalo, Springfield made it with one minute to spare. Their road manager, who had received a call from his hotel, had a horrible time trying to figure out what to do with the employees. A Change of Heart, the last band on the bill, also were late. Both groups had to be pulled out of the crowd.

Most of the groups were asked to come back to the stage and be ready. What appeared to be the only band on time, the folk-Stainless Steel, was really three bands of wondering whether the next group would make it on time or not.

The first group received the highest applause from the audience. What appeared to be the only band on time, the folk-Stainless Steel, was really three bands wondering whether the next group would make it on time or not.

Of course I'm referring to the Buffalo, Springfield.

Co - Rec Day Successful
But State Falls Short

CHAPEL HILL, APRIL 19 - "We had a great time because we went to a great location," said Returning Student Body President Jimmy Smith, commenting on the Student Body's participation in the Intramural Co-Rec Day at Chapel Hill on Tuesday.

State finished third in this year's competition, with UNC at Greensboro second and UNC at Charlotte fourth. The Student Body will now focus on preparing for the Intramural Championships, which are scheduled for next month.

Lions Rodeo Begins Tonight
