Action Party Draws Fire

By Arthur Dumont

The Action Party's platform drew comment from two of the College's leading administrators yesterday.

L. L. Ivey, head of the Students Supply Stores, and Harlan C. Brown, director of the J. H. Hill Library both had comments for The Technician concerning references to their organizations found in the Action platform.

The Action Party platform had urged a complete investigation into the financial position and management of the Students Supply Stores and had suggested that the College Library is badly in need of help.

"Every year someone who is running for a Student Government office makes it a point to include Students Supply Stores in his (or her) platform. This is usually done with the implied notion that Students Supply Stores is out to do the student malice and that these well-meaning candidates will correct this situation.

"The notion that Students Supply Stores is out to harm the student stems from one basic fact—ignorance! Very few students really take time to learn of the full capacity of Students Supply Stores in relation to overall college function.

"The prices on merchandise in the Students Supply Stores compares favorably with any book store serving any college in our area.

"All of the profits that are made by Students Supply Stores is turned over to the college business office for direction. Most of this money goes to scholarships which are both athletic and non-athletic. Last year some $15,000 was paid out in North Carolina State Sales Tax by the Stores, money that could have been charged to the students when they purchased certain items.

"Several Colleges have sent representatives to our store to observe the way in which we operate. Using our store as an example these people have gone to work to design their own student supply stores. We believe, and we are not alone in our belief, that the Students Supply Stores of N. C. State College is the finest in the U. S."

In reference to certain candidates claims of wanting to keep snack bars open on the weekends Mr. Ivey had this comment:

"It would actually cost more to keep the snack bars open on weekends from a cost of operation standpoint. To do this would mean fewer profits and fewer scholarships.

"I certainly do not intend to choose sides in a campus election. But I would like for every State College student to realize that we are doing our best to

Design Publication Co-Editors Elected In School Balloting

Next year's editors of the School of Design's Student Publication have been elected.

Reyhan Tansal and Keller Smith, running for the co-editorship against this year's co-editor, Phil Gietzen, received an overwhelming majority of votes cast in the election held last Friday, according to a report to The Technician from the Design School.

Business manager next year will be Wayland Plaster, and circulation manager will be James Posey.

The transition is expected to be a very smooth one. "We don't expect any 'major shake-up,'" said one member of this year's staff. The Technician indicated in an article which appeared last Thursday, after a discussion with Gietzen, that a "major shake-up" would be in store if Tansal and Smith were elected co-editors. A number of sources in the School of Design have stated since then that this is clearly not expected to be the case, and that the publication should have a highly successful program next year.

Peace Corps Film Shown

The College Union will present a film, "The Peace Corps", Monday and Tuesday evenings, April 6 and 7, at 7:00 and 8:00 p.m.

Dave Garroway, former moderator of the National Broadcasting Company's morning show, Today, is the narrator of the film.

The film explains Peace Corps objectives and includes actual pictures of volunteers serving in Latin America, Africa, and Asia. Several interviews are also included, with Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver giving a factual history and the standards on which Americans are chosen for this type of service.

The training procedures are graphically portrayed with scenes from college and university training programs in the United States as well as the main Peace Corps Training Camp in Puerto Rico.

This is a twenty-seven minute color film, and will be shown in the CU theatre.

Raleigh Cop, Spring Fever Cause Campus Congregation

By Chip Andrews

Want to start a riot? Here are the ingredients: Something to start it (you don't really need this), spring weather, and anxious, eager students.

A demonstration involving an estimated 1,500 State College students took place last night and early this morning on virtually all parts of the campus. Very little damage was done.

The incident started when a student was given a ticket by a Raleigh city policeman in front of Bragaw Dormitory early last night. According to students the policeman then called M & O. While waiting for M & O to arrive at the scene about 25 or 30 Bragaw students gathered to boo and hiss the policeman, the sources stated. As the noise grew louder with the addition of students from Bragaw, the curious Tucker and Owen residents began to gather. Although the policeman had long since gone, the crowd appeared determined not to disband without any action at all the sources reported.

Several incidents followed in the Bragaw area; a radio aerial was snapped from a passing car, a frightened girl in a Volkswagen drove through the crowd—at one m.p.h., students gathered around another policeman who had stopped a car in the Bragaw area, and the crowd moved up to the railroad overpass of Dan Allen Drive on an attempted march to the Capitol. The arrival of Student Government officers and members of the administration in full force prevented the first of three student attempts to leave the campus.

Several football cheers were sounded, and the crowd moved toward the Student Supply Store, through the tunnel, and across the campus past Syme, Leazar, and the Design School. The crowd then proceeded to Hillsboro where SG officers including president-elect John Bynum discouraged them from going on to the Capitol.

The students then reversed direction and headed for Meredith College. Several SG and college officials met them at the intersection of Dan Allen Drive and Hillsboro Street and reminded the students that they were leaving the campus and were subject to city ordinances including the one against parading without a permit.

The crowd then dispersed about 2:00 a.m.

SG President McCall complimented most of the students on their cooperation and president-elect Bynum expressed satisfaction that the Raleigh police had allowed the college

"To the Capitol", were the cheers heard as the students prepared for their first march since the Fall Carolina game. This picture was taken as the students were in the second leg of the three stage riot. Shortly after this several SG officials made talks on the SG public address system which stopped this drive, and a new course was planned—Meredith College.

Alpha Phi Omega Adds PC Insert To Technician

A new addition to The Technician is The Peace Corps News, appearing in this issue, according to Bill Bromby, a member of APO.

The insert will appear three times a year, Bromby said. The spring insert for this year may not be included in The Technician since it may not arrive in time, according to Bromby.

It is sponsored by APO and inserted by members of Alpha Phi Omega, Bromby added.

Rushing To Be In Old Houses Due To Fraternity Row Delay

Rush next fall will be held in the old fraternity houses.

The IFC decided unanimously yesterday, according to a report to The Technician, to hold rush, as usual, at the beginning of the semester rather than awaiting the completion of the Fraternity Row project.

Banks Talley, Director of Student Affairs, in a statement to The Technician, said that delays in the construction of the Fraternity Row project will make it impossible for fraternities moving to the row to move by September, as originally planned.

IFC spokesmen feel certain that the delay will be too great to hold an effective fall rush in the new quarters.

Gem Found

The man-made sapphire which was stolen from Page Hall during the Engineers' Fair has been recovered.

The gem, which was stolen during the fair, was mailed in a match box and addressed to the Dean of the School of Engineering, according to Wayne Palmour, associate professor of engineering.

Palmour said that the value of the gem was hard to judge since its value came from the information it gave as a research specimen.

Palmour further stated that he does not know who took the gem.

The sapphire was received in Tuesday's mail.

Where Were We Going?

The darndest things happen in April, especially around April Fools' Day.

Without exposing our psychological ignorance by attempting to analyze why college students desire to run around campus at odd hours in varying stages of dress and undress, wondering where the guys in front of them are going, and talking about things like panty raids, tear gas, what fools those student government people seem to be making of themselves, and where the police are, we feel obliged to make a few observations concerning last night's "spontaneous demonstration."

These little late evening springtime get-togethers probably do a great deal for the unity of the student body as a whole. There can be no doubt that affairs of this kind are quite a lot of fun for those who are not particularly concerned with the final outcome of the party. Even the most conservative parent or professor may be forced to recall the days of his youth with a mischievous smile.

Luckily, the last night's party remained fun for the most part except for the few who may be counted on to go overboard at the first opportunity.

We congratulate the majority of the students involved who, by their cooperation prevented the more dire circumstances which could have resulted.

We also congratulate the Raleigh police for staying out of the whole affair. The College Administration has a working agreement with Raleigh authorities to the effect that the Raleigh police will stay out of these student activities unless called on for assistance by Holladay Hall. This is an excellent agreement and its merits were fully demonstrated last night as student government and student activities officials were able to keep the demonstration within reasonable bounds without using force.

We feel that our student government officers came through the evening in pretty good shape despite the usual flurry of remarks which come forth when anyone attempts to inject a degree of moderation into a spring evening.

To be sure, SG personnel loses the favor of some students whenever they find themselves in a position which requires them to exercise the powers and duties with which their office of their office in a direction opposed to the immediate desires of the student.

However this is one of the consequences of responsibility and carries its own reward.

We are happy to be able to note that our student government officers did not take the route of the coward and content themselves with allowing the night to run its course and be willing to stay out of the way and plan the most efficient way to try several hundred cases of ungentlemanly conduct before the Campus Code.

We see no valid grounds for student criticism of their actions such as they received from the crowd. They were doing their job and should be respected for that. —AL

Campus Composite

Editors Note: The following article is an attempt to keep State students posted on happenings on some of the other college and university campuses in this part of the country. All of the excerpts below are taken from recent editions of the respective student newspapers.

By Chip Andrews

Carolina students elected their 1962-63 Student Government officers in general campus elections on Tuesday, April 2. Mike Lawler, Student Party, was elected president of the Student Government. Bob Spearman was elected the vice-president, while Bonnie Hoyle "squeaked" by in the Secretary race; Griselda, an infant pig, polled 800 votes, according to The Daily Tar Heel.

Captain Charles H. Witten has been chosen to replace Dean George W. Tomlin as Dean of Students at the University of South Carolina. Captain Witten will retire as USC Naval ROTC officer after 22 years of active service, according to The Gamecock.

The students of Lenoir Rhyne college are rebelling to the start of a forced Honor System which their student government has placed them under for the next school year. Many students have stated that they are not against the system as a whole, but that they feel that to start the whole system at once, is a mistake, according to The Lenoir Rhynean.

Negro leader Martin Luther King was greeted by a surge of applause as he entered the auditorium at the University of Virginia where he was the featured speaker. Although preparation was made to resist any student demonstration, the campus was cordial in their greeting of Mr. King, according to The Cavalier Daily.

Class Rings

Junior class rings may be picked up in Room 230 of the College Union on April 8, 9, 10. Juniors are requested to have correct change or a check made out to Lee Blackwell. Juniors who have not ordered rings may do so at this time.

Minute Courses

Sociology 306

By Herb Allred

Hello again, good reader and compeer. This evening's course is SOC 306, criminology. For this course, you will need the following accessories: (1) a textbook, (2) some talcum powder, (3) a magnifying glass, (4) a wrist radio, (5) a sawed-off water pistol, and (6) a badge with the Lone Ranger secret code engraved on the back. Aside from your text, you will also be held responsible for the Dick Tracy funnies.

Toward the end of the semester, Kidd Brewer will speak to classes. The topic of his speech will be, "you won't be glad you did". He will then refer you to a book called, "Crime and Punishment" which may be picked up at the Student Supply Store when the clerk isn't looking.

Your text contains many case histories which your instructor will refer to from time to time. Frinstance there is the 1552 court decision of Hipflask vs. Scuppernong in which Hipflask was accused of making off with the secret hemorrhoid-shrinking formula which Scuppernong had perfected in his basement laboratory. The whole trial turned into a farce, however, when it was brought up that hemorrhoids had not even been invented yet. (Hemorrhoids were invented the very next year by an obscure snake oil salesman who also invented dandruff.) There are many more, but time nor space will permit summarizations.

There will also be arranged field trips. This means that you will be able to go to the state prison and watch them gas somebody.

Cat Reported Stalking Campus, Avoids Officials

By Dwight Minkler

The story you are about to read is true. The names and dorm rooms have been changed to protect the guilty.

The cat was the suite mascot of 811 Bragaw for five days, beginning on March 19. Jim, a suitemate of Belvedere (unchanged) the cat, said, "He stayed here from Tuesday 'til Saturday morning. He came back Sunday morning at 3 a.m., but left before we awoke in the afternoon."

When asked about the accommodations made for the cat, Henry related an incident. "We picked up the sandbox and the bottom fell out. The floor manager was trying to get in, so we turned off the lights. It was a mess all over the floor."

In another suite in which the cat was a pet for two days, one fellow commented, "I sure miss that cat." Another added, "I miss him too, but I'm damn glad I miss him."

Baseball - Football Scheduled For Old Timer's Day

Saturday, April 6, has been designated as Old Timer's Day at State College.

The Old Timer's Day program will include the Red-White football game at 1:30 and the State-Carolina baseball contest following at 3:00. All former Wolfpack football players have been invited back for the day.

Coach Earl Edwards will wrap up spring football drills with the annual inter-squad game. Edwards will enjoy the game from the press box while scouting the 1963 gridders.

Edwards will break the squad into two evenly matched groups with units one, four, and five making up the White team and units two, three, and six combining to make up the Red team.

Expected starters for the White team will be Merrick Barnes at quarterback; Joe Scarpati and Tony Koszarsky at halfbacks; Pete Falsano at fullback; guards, Sullivan and Williams; tackles, Wachtel and Wylder; ends Faircloth and Martin; and center DeAnglis.

In the backfield for the Red team will be Charles Noggle at quarterback, Mike Clark and Jimmy Guin at halfbacks, and Dave Houtz at fullback. The Red line will be Goldmont and Stout at ends, Amato and Parker at tackles, Snow and Shaffer at guards, and Krecicki at center.

Going into the final week of practice, Edwards has been very pleased with the performance of his team. "I think the boys have gone about the practices with good effort and determination. If the Red-White game is as hard played, it should be a good one. We'll find out how much the boys have learned in the practices when we put them in action Saturday," said Edwards.

Following the Red-White game will be the Carolina baseball game at 3:00. The game will be the first in the ACC for Coach Vic Sorrell's team, which was 4-0 in pre-ACC activity. "I'll trade the four victories we've taken so far for the one on Saturday," said Sorrell.

Scoring Heavy In Dormitory Softball

In dormitory league softball Wednesday, six games were played; while in the fraternity league, two contests were on tap.

Owen #2 led the dormitory scoring with 23 runs in defeating a stubborn Syme team with 21 runs. Syme started off the game with seven runs in the first, Owen #2 came back with six runs in their half of the inning. In the top of the fifth frame Syme went ahead by a 12-11 score only to see the Owen team rally with 12 runs in the last two innings. Nine more Syme tallies were not enough to top the Owen #2 team. Home runs for Owen #2 were hit by Honneycutt, Hendley, Gilliland, Green, Ensly, and Tridell; no homers were recorded for Syme.

Watauga scored eleven runs in the first two innings of their game with Becton and added six more in the last two frames to take a 17-10 victory. Cummings homered for Watauga and Trades hit one for the losers.

Bragaw North bombarded Welch-Gold-Fourth with ten runs in the fifth inning to take a 17-5 decision. Rohloff homered twice for the winners while White, Craven, and Mattocks each had one. Thomas hit the only home run for W-G-4th.

James Morgan hit three home runs in three times at bat.

to lead Turlington to a 17-2 victory over Tucker #2. Turlington scored two, four, eight, and three runs in the four inning contest. Furr and Owenby hit one home run each for the winners.

In other dormitory games, Alexander defeated Bragaw South 9-8, and Bagwell downed Berry, 8-5. Alexander scored six runs in the last two innings to post the victory. Sides and Breeden homered for Alexander while Glosson hit one for Bragaw South. In the other contest, Stalls homered for Bagwell and Stagner and Gresson hit home runs for Berry.

In fraternity action, Alpha Gamma Rho defeated Phi Kappa Tau 8-7. AGR scored their eight runs in the first two innings and were leading 8-5 at the end of the second frame. Harrison hit the only home run of the game for PKT.

Sigma Alpha Mu forfeited to FarmHouse in the other scheduled game.

serve him to the limits of our capacity."

Mr. Brown commented on the Action Party platform concerning their stand on library functions.

"The University of North Carolina does indeed have over 1,000,000 volumes in its library to our 250,000 plus, but let us remember that size of the collection is not everything. Our 250,000 volumes constitute a rich, excellently-selected library that has, until recently, well-represented the limited areas of instruction and research at State College. The University has been developing its library since its year of founding in 1795. State College started rolling in a very modest way in 1889. In recent years the North Carolina General Assembly has been very good to the Library, and we anticipate a continuation of the expression of interest and support."

Kamphoefner Named To National Group

Henry L. Kamphoefner, dean of the School of Design has been named recently to the seventeen member national Committee on Aesthetics of the American Institute of Architects.

According to an official release, Dean Kamphoefner was appointed to the committee by Henry L. Wright, president of the American Institute of Architects. Among the seventeen members of the committee is the famed Minoru Yamasaki, who was recently featured in Time magazine, with his portrait as its cover. Chairman of the committee is Richard W. Snibbe, of New York.

Dean Kamphoefner, a Fellow of the AIA is one of seven Fellows in North Carolina, and one of the elite group of about three percent of the organization's membership who have been chosen for excellence in the architectural profession.

Dean Kamphoefner is a former member of the AIA's National Committee on Education and has served as president of the Raleigh Council of Architects.

Having received his BS degree in Architecture at the University of Illinois in 1930, and his Master of Architecture at Columbia in the following year, Kamphoefner has been dean of the School of Design since 1948.

South Carolina Artist Featured In Exhibit

Among his list of national and international exhibitions are included: Berlin Academy of Art, International Biennial at the Brooklyn Museum, and museums at Birmingham, Dallas, Riverside, Georgia, Norfolk, North Carolina, Jacksonville, Montgomery, Ringling, Atlanta, and Winston-Salem.

Bardin has also been the recipient of several prizes and awards and his works are represented in the permanent collec-
