Completion Of CE Building To Be Delayed

Due to adverse weather conditions this past winter, the new Civil Engineering building will not be completed this September as planned according to Prof. Carroll L. Mann, Jr., professor of Civil Engineering.

Mann called the weather this past winter as "some of the worst construction weather I have ever seen." Mann went on to say that the weather this spring has been very good and the construction is proceeding at an accelerated pace. He further noted, "we hope the contractor will continue to work at an accelerated pace so we can move in as soon as possible."

NCSU Passes House Vote Overwhelmingly

By Ernie McCrary

The North Carolina House of Representatives has now for all practical purposes officially approved the name "North Carolina State University of the University of North Carolina."

The House decision was made Wednesday when the Higher Education Act, including an amendment calling for this name, was passed on second reading by an overwhelming 111-3 vote. A third reading is expected today.

The last minute name-changing amendment was instigated by freshman representative

George Wood, of Camden. He is a 1950 graduate of State. Another proposal by Rep. Roger Kiser, of Scotland County, met a worse fate today, however. His proposal to leave the name of Woman's College unchanged and to forbid male undergraduates, was killed 103-9.

Since the House-approved version of the Higher Education Bill differs from the Senate version, which approved the UNCR name, the entire bill will now have to be sent back to the Senate for reconsideration. If the Senate approves the amended House version, it will be law.

Wake County Representative Archie McMillan who voted for the amendment says, however, that anything can happen to the bill once it is sent to the Senate today. It can be voted on right away or it can be referred back to a committee for further study. He says it is possible that the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate will appoint a joint committee to try to iron out the difficulties and come up with a satisfactory compromise. Rather than tie up the whole education bill in a deadlock.

Golden Chain

Golden Chain nominations are now being accepted in Room 206 Holladay Hall. Golden Chain selects each year the twelve outstanding rising seniors. The officers request that anyone nominating a rising senior include the nominee's academic and extra-curricular record and a wallet size photograph.

Shown above are the lovely young ladies who are the sponsors for the up and coming IFC weekend. If all the spritely girls visiting State this weekend are this attractive, the scenery should be considerably brightened.

Reading clockwise, they are Miss Arden Evans for Jack Watson; Miss Matilda Ghoslon for Joe McCall; and, Miss Sandy Walker for O. T. Hayes.

Kappa Sigs Upheld In Investigation

A misunderstanding about a party nearly placed Kappa Sigma on probation, according to Wendy Prescott, chairman of the IFC Investigations Committee.

According to Prescott, Kappa Sig decided to have a party on Sunday, April 7 and, according to IFC procedure, turned in the party and the names of the chaperones to Holladay Hall. Later, however, the fraternity decided to cancel the party and did so without going through proper procedure. The fraternity had not at this time contacted the chaperones.

When Holladay Hall sent the chaperones a questionnaire, the chaperones notified the administration that they had never been contacted about the party one way or the other. From there the case went to the Investigations Committee, according to Prescott.

The Investigations Committee ruled that the case was a misunderstanding resulting from Kappa Sig not having followed the correct procedure, said Prescott.

Prescott went on to state that the fraternity will be checked each weekend to see that there are chaperones present. Also, each house is being sent a letter notifying them that in the future, ignorance will not stand as an excuse for violating IFC rules.

Covington States Optimistic Hope For NCS IFC

By Pete Warner

The IFC at State College can be tops in the nation, Tom Covington, assistant director of student affairs, asserted in a meeting of the IFC yesterday.

Covington cited the rapid progress made by the fraternity system in the past year. With the introduction of the New Arts program and leadership seminars, as two examples, Covington said that the IFC program has begun to accomplish what could be a snowballing advancement with the continued hard work of the fraternity men and cooperation between students and administrators.

Covington stressed the importance to the IFC of being especially conscientious in the role of leadership on campus. Covington said that it is the responsibility of the IFC and each fraternity man to set a good example on campus and in the community, and that this responsibility is a necessary and integral part of the IFC's goals.

AGR Move Caused By Need For Space

In order to meet the pressures created by the new rule that a fraternity must have a house mother, Alpha Gamma Rho has moved to a new location.

The fraternity was located at 2718 Clark Avenue and has now moved to 2304 Hillsboro Street. The rule will not take effect until the beginning of the fall semester next year, but since there were no facilities for her at the old house, the brothers of AGR decided that a move to a new house would be advisable.

The new house cost approximately $30,000 according to Horace Skipper, president of the fraternity. The old house is now up for sale. According to Skipper, the proceeds of the sale will be used to buy new desks, beds, and chests of drawers to furnish the new house.

In an interview with The Technician, Skipper said, "The brothers and I are generally pleased with our new house. It is much more comfortable and efficient than our old one."

Library Rated Higher; Still Is Ranked Low

Due to a new system of rating, the D. H. Hill Library has moved up in standings with other Southern colleges and universities, according to statistics from Louisiana State University.

Last year under the old system of rating the libraries by the number of volumes which they contained, the State College Library ranked 35th. This year when the system of rating was based on total library expenditures, the D. H. Hill Library was ranked 24th.

Texas University was rated first in the South with expenditures totaling almost $2,000,000. State's library expenditures amounted to over $400,000. Duke was rated third, The University of North Carolina was fifth, and Woman's College was thirty-sixth.

In commenting on the change of rating systems, I. T. Littleton, assistant director of the library, said, "We feel that the number of volumes is not a correct way to rank libraries. The total number of expenditures is a more accurate way to rate them."

The library has almost doubled its total expenditures and has added almost 100,000 new volumes since 1957, according to Littleton.

Commencement To Cost $9

Graduating Seniors have still another bill to pay, according to the Student Activities Office.

The $9.00 Commencement fee includes $3.09 for Bachelor cap and gown, $1.81 for the diploma, $2.06 for the diploma holder, and $2.04 for miscellaneous graduating expenses.

No formal Commencement Exercises are held following the fall semester or summer school. If a student who graduates in the summer or winter chooses not to participate in the Spring Exercises, his diploma and diploma folder will be mailed to him, but no refunds will be made.

F-S Hop To Hear Covington Band

Warren Covington and his fifteen piece band will play for the Freshman-Sophomore dance. The dance will be held in the College Union on Saturday, May 4.

"Covington's band is undoubtedly one of the biggest and best in the business," said Zan Smith, treasurer of the Sophomore class. "He is perhaps best known for his cha-cha, but his phenomenal success with all types of music is virtually unsurpassed."

When asked about the new 20th Century Fox movie "Adventures in Rhythm," in which Covington is featured, Covington only expressed his hopes for its success. He had no idea when it would come to the Raleigh area.

Bids for the Freshman-Sophomore dance are being given out on the ground floor of the College Union each night this week between the hours of five and seven p.m., according to Smith.

He added that these bids are considered necessary for a formal affair and a girl may feel insulted unless she gets one. The class membership card, however, will be the actual ticket to the dance as it has been to all other class functions.

CU Budget Approved

A $28000 College Union social program budget was approved last night.

This budget includes almost all portions of College Union programs, functions, and workshops. Items such as building maintenance and staff salaries are included in separate budgets.

Top items on the budget are workshops, expenditures for the "Friends of the College" series, and the College Union Calendars. The six workshops total $3770, the "Friends" series will cost $3500, and the calendars are budgeted for $2000.

The Budget which was passed by the Board of Directors last night gives $2730 to the Gallery Committee, $770 to the International Committee, $625 to the Leadership Training Committee, $1105, $2552 to the Performing Arts Committee, $3995 to the Social Activities Committee, and $2461 to the Recreation Committee. The Recreation Budget includes $1340 for films.

PICKETING ANNOUNCED

Students interested in picketing the State theater in a segregation protest can meet Tuesday, April 30 in the North Parlor of the YMCA. There will be a 30 minute training session, after which the students will go and picket until 8 p.m.

The YMCA is in no way involved with the protest, according to officials.

Miss Kay Kendall was crowned Star and Crescent Queen for FarmHouse Fraternity at the recent Star and Crescent ball. Miss Kendall is a Sophomore at Western Carolina.

A Legislative Dilemma

The State House of Representatives has passed an amendment to the Higher Education Bill designating State College as "North Carolina State University of the University of North Carolina."

The House action came as a surprise to almost everyone who has been following the name-change controversy.

The bill had previously passed both the Senate and House Education Committees and had received strong approval in the Senate. It remained only for the House to pass the measure and State College would be renamed "North Carolina State, the University of North Carolina at Raleigh." However, a State graduate, Representative George Wood, was able to gather enough strength in the House to get the bill amended much to the delight of State College students and alumni alike.

Although some may now be crying that the House has thrown logic to the winds and succumbed to emotionalism, we cannot help but be glad that they have.

The bill and its new amendment will now have to be considered by the Senate and possibly be hashed out in joint committees. It will be interesting to see which house of the General Assembly will back down under the renewed pressures which will undoubtedly be brought to bear by students, alumni, and Consolidated University officials.

The members of the House who voted for the "State University" amendment apparently did so on the assumption that the amendment would not endanger the entire Higher Education measure. Evidently the amendment passed simply because a majority of the representatives felt that the people of the state want this college to be "North Carolina State University."

There has been talk that the Senate will stay with the recommendation of the Board of Trustees and Consolidated University officials, refuse to backdown, and thus endanger passage of the entire measure. If this happens, and we hope that these tactics will not be resorted to, the House could not be blamed for relinquishing their stand in order to insure the safety of the overall bill.

We do contend, however, that State College should be named what the people of the state want it to be named. In the House's action, the Senate now has a mirror of public opinion on this matter. Surely the Senate cannot ignore this.

Let us preserve the Higher Education bill which will mean so much to the state in future years, but let us also preserve the people's role in the legislative process.

Library Moving Up

Elsewhere in tonight's edition is an article stating that the D. H. Hill Library has moved up eleven notches to the third-fourth position among Southern college and university libraries.

This is partially due to a new system of rating the libraries, but it is also due to much hard work by the library staff and a realization by the General Assembly that the State College Library should be expanded.

We are grateful for both.

Courses Feature Trucks, Fish

By Sid Rice

Want to land a big fish or learn to drive a truck? The College Extension Division, through their short course program offers just such a variety, according to Director E. W. Ruggles.

There are several areas in which short courses are offered. Engineering comprises the largest area, followed by agriculture, textiles, and forestry. Only a few courses come from design, education, and general studies, Ruggles added.

The first short course ever offered was the Electrical Meter School. This course started in 1927 and had an enrollment of about 30 students. This year will make the thirty-second running of the course and it will have over 150 participants, Ruggles noted. Now the Extension offers about one hundred short courses.

The levels of courses are also greatly varied. The most recent high level course offered was the Nuclear Instrumentation Symposium, while one of the lower level courses is Land Surveying.

Ruggles added that some of the courses are repeated each year while others only are offered once. One course for construction people, entitled Critical Path Method, is being offered for the fourth time this year because of its great success. The course is taught by Prof. Carroll L. Mann, Jr., professor of Civil Engineering.

Here are a few of the short courses offered by the College Extension Division: Artificial Breeding, Advanced Income Tax, Garden School, Water Works Operators' School, Sports Fishing, Commercial Photography, Industrial Ventilation, and Soft Frozen Dairy Products.

Letter To The Editor

Soph Projects

To the Editors:

It has been a privilege to have had the opportunity to serve as Sophomore Class President. Under present school policies, the Sophomore officers are responsible for handling the Freshman Class Activities until their officers are elected, and then they continue to counsel with the Freshman Class officers. Both classes are supported from a joint bank account.

Many students wonder what the class officers do and where the class dues are spent. Our responsibilities consist of three main functions:

(1) Collection of $2.00 annual class dues from both freshmen and sophomores at fall and spring registration. This money is principally used for the class dance which will be held in May.

(2) Promotion and handling of both fall and spring blazer sales. We are attempting to establish a blazer tradition at State and each year more blazers are sold than the previous year.

(3) Our largest function is the creation, promotion and execution of the annual Freshman-Sophomore Spring Formal. This year Warren Covington will play for the dance.

(4) The officers also arrange for the many miscellaneous activities that arise such as a contestant for Miss N. C. State Title and a class exhibit in the CU for the Engineers' Fair.

Our class faces two inherent problems: (1) N. C. State is arranged in schools and each student feels closer to his personal curriculum and school rather than his class. (2) Our class is dependent on class dues which are not mandatory.

These two problems make it very difficult to achieve class spirit or unity. I have my personal ideas for overcoming these problems and will do my best to help distinguish the graduating Class of 1965. If you have any ideas for a function which will help promote our unity and spirit, please contact Ed Bailey at TE 3-2221.

Saturday Quiz For Peace Corp

Ready to swap school for the Peace Corps?

The Peace Corps placement test will be given Saturday, in Raleigh at the Main Post Office Building, 300 Fayetteville Street, in Room 314, at 8:30 a.m.

According to Lee McDonald, associate social director of the College Union, 4,000 volunteers are needed to begin training this summer for projects throughout the world; approximately 5,000 volunteers are presently serving in underdeveloped countries overseas. McDonald added that these countries have emphasized a need for teachers of general science, biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics at the secondary school and college level.

The examinations in no way obligate students to the Peace Corps; they are not competitive, there is no passing or failing score. McDonald said that students who take the Peace Corps exam will be excused from classes by the Student Activities Office, provided they present written evidence from the examiner.

The placement test is divided into two sets of examinations: the general examinations and the secondary school teacher's examination, both administered in a morning session, according to McDonald.

The general examination includes testing in verbal aptitude; testing in one of the four general knowledge fields of agriculture, health sciences, mechanical skills, and English; testing in US history and institutions and in modern language aptitude, McDonald itemized.

The secondary school teacher's examination, offered to teaching candidates, requires testing in one of the six fields of mathematics, biology, chemistry, physics, literature, and world history. Each test is two hours long.

Campus Crier

This Sunday, a cricket team from India will play against a combined Commonwealth-U.S. team drawn from Duke, Carolina, and State. The game will start at 1:00 p.m. on the intramural field behind Carmichael Gym. Spectators are most welcome.

There will be Sabbath services in Danforth Chapel Friday at 8 p.m. for the Hillel Foundation. Following the service, there will be a planning session for next year.

Blue Key nomination blanks can be picked up in the Activities Office or at the Main Desk of the CU. They must be turned in to Room 206 Holladay Hall by May 3.

The Animal Science Club will meet next Monday at 7 p.m. in 110 Polk.

Six Teams Unbeaten In Tennis Play-Offs

Six teams, two in the dormitory division and four in the fraternity division, remain undefeated as the intramural tennis play-offs near the final rounds.

In dormitory action this week, Turlington and Bragaw South earned the right to play in the final game of the winner's bracket next week. Turlington defeated Alexander 2-1 to gain their final position while Bragaw South downed Bragaw North 2-1 for the other final's spot.

In the loser's bracket of the dormitory division, Owen #2, Watauga, Owen #1, and Welch-Gold-Fourth were defeated and eliminated from further competition. The winner in these four matches, Bagwell, Syme, Tucker #1, and Beeton, will continue action in the loser's bracket along with Bragaw North and Alexander.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, Delta Sigma Pi, and Kappa Sigma are the four unbeaten fraternity teams.

In action last week, Tau Kappa Epsilon downed Theta Chi 2-1, Sigma Nu defeated Alpha Gamma Rho 2-1, and Lambda Chi Alpha edged Sigma Chi 2-1.

This week's action saw Sigma Phi Epsilon win over FarmHouse by forfeit and then defeat Pi Kappa Alpha 2-1. Kappa Alpha edged Sigma Alpha Mu 2-1, Kappa Sigma downed Pi Kappa Phi 3-0, and Delta Sigma Pi defeated Lambda Chi Alpha 2-1.

Phi Kappa Tau defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the only loser's bracket contest. Pi Kappa Phi, Sigma Nu, and Sigma Pi received credit for wins over Tau Kappa Epsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha, and FarmHouse by forfeit.

In the semi-final round of action in the fraternity winner's bracket next week, Delta Sigma Pi will play Kappa Sigma and Sigma Phi Epsilon will meet Kappa Alpha. In the final game of the dormitory winner's bracket, Bragaw South will meet Turlington.

Dorm Softball Teams Collect 175 Runs

In six dormitory softball games Wednesday afternoon, each of the twelve teams scored at least seven runs as the combined total reached 175 runs, 23 of which were four-baggers.

Alexander led in the barrage of runs with 27 in their game with Tucker #2. The big inning for the winners was the sixth, when eleven runs crossed the plate. Tucker #2 scored in six of the seven innings to total 22 runs. Buffalo hit three home runs for Alexander with Breeden adding two and Hinderson one. Drum hit the only homer for Tucker #2.

In the two closest contests of the day, Berry scored nine times in the fifth inning on their way to a 15-14 victory over Welch-Gold-Fourth, and Bragaw North rallied for two runs in the last frame to edge Tucker #1, 12-11. Brunkhurst and Greeson homered for Berry, Thomas had a round-tripper for WGF, Mattocks and Ashby homered for Bragaw North, and Daughtry had the only home run for Tucker #1.

In another close contest, Syme defeated Bragaw South 17-15. Syme took an early 7-1 lead in the game, but needed four more tallies in the sixth inning to win the game.

Wolfpack Wins In 11 Innings, 8-7

Larry Clary, the big gun in State's recent win over Wake Forest, singled in the eleventh inning against Florida State yesterday to score Warren Lineberger from second base and give the Pack an 8-7 victory.

John Boughan, a senior hurler from Raleigh, received credit for the victory in relief for starter George Allen. It was Vaughan's first victory of the season against no losses. The Wolfpack took an early 3-0 lead in the game only to fall behind 4-3 in the fourth inning. The Pack struck again with four runs to take the lead at 7-4. Florida added another run before the ninth frame and two more in the ninth to tie the game at 7-7.

In the last of the eleventh inning, Lineberger singled and then went to second on a sacrifice fly by Steve Parham.

Two New Cars are Born

Avanti-inspired...
Bonneville-tested!
R2 SUPER LARK
R2 SUPER HAWK

We designed two new cars—and built a lot of our record-setting Avanti into them: supercharged R2 engines... heavy duty springs and shock absorbers, plus anti-sway bars, front and rear...trac rods, rear...racing type disc brakes, the safest-known—and ours alone.

We named them R2 Super Lark and R2 Super Hawk and had Andy Granatelli take them out to the infamous Bonneville Salt Flats for final performance and endurance tests.

We could scarcely believe the results, but the official U.S. Auto Club timers confirmed them: R2 Super Lark—132 mph! R2 Super Hawk—140 mph! Two-way averages—under the most punishing weather and surface conditions. That kind of performance, combined with their gentle 'round-town manners, told us these cars were ready. R2 Super Lark and R2 Super Hawk are now available on special order at your Studebaker dealer's.

Flash: front seat safety belts now come factory-installed on every car—another advance from Studebaker.
