To The General Assembly

This issue with the ensuing front page editorial is being distributed to all members of the General Assembly now in special session. The subject in question is HR Bill 1395—the speaker ban law.

This move is no designed to point the finger of blame at any individual in state government, for a majority vote was required to enact the law. Nor is it an effort to discuss the ethics and means by which the bill was passed. Above all, it is not designed to raise the ire of the General Assembly against this or any other branch of the Greater University or any state-supported institution; but rather, it is to express concern over the passage of such a measure and to take respectful exception to the ideas of academic freedom and the most desirable role of the Legislature in the administration of the state's colleges and universities as reflected in this law.

There has been a great amount of conjecture as to exactly why the Assembly found it necessary to impose such restrictions on the colleges and universities at this time. Some have suggested that the prime reason for its proposal was to slap the hands of the Consolidated University because of the conduct of some of its students and faculty with regard to the segregation protests. Others claim it is due to the name-changing controversy and the student trips to Cuba.

No evidence has been submitted to the truth of any of these reasons, but if these were the motives, it should be noted that the law is a shotgun blast, shelling not only the Consolidated University, but also the other "better-behaved" state institutions of higher learning.

The aspect of the measure which concerns most students and faculty members is the unprecedented intervention by the Legislature into the administrative affairs of the schools. The law shows a lack of faith in the current administrations and the Board of Trustees, who are, after all, members of the Assembly itself. University heads should be allowed to run their campuses as they see best, or else they should be relieved.

The state university campuses are currently being denied the American right to free and full discussion of all issues. The law is being taken as an insult to the loyalty, intelligence, and judgment of students, faculty, and administration.

Should the world's leading expert on cross-breeding of the water buffalo be a member of the Communist party, he should still have the right to speak on his specialty, and students and faculty here should have the privilege of learning from him.

Thus the law runs contrary to the spirit of world cooperation so recently and hopefully begun with the test ban treaty, United Nations programs, and joint space exploration proposals. The bill plays right into the hands of the Communist propaganda machine which delights in the exploitation of all apparent abridgements of freedom of speech by democratic governments.

Worst of all, the law has placed the state's institutions in an unfavorable light of public question and distrust. The schools can not perform at their best in such an atmosphere. Repeal of the law would restore to the state universities the confidence of the public, a confidence enjoyed for more than 150 years until 1963.

While the primary mission of the special session is appreciated, the General Assembly is urged to reconsider its position on HB 1395 at the earliest moment. Give back to the grateful state-supported colleges and universities their pride, their judgment, their cherished academic freedom, and your confidence.

Nhu Appears Here Thursday Despite Egg-Throwing Insult

The Vietnamese siren, Madame Ngo D'hn Nhu, will attempt to dispell the generally hostile attitude toward her she has found in the United States, as she speaks in the Student Union Thursday night. Le Thuy, her daughter, is on left. (Life Magazine photo)

In spite of egg-throwing incidents at previous engagements, Madame Ngo Dinh Nhu, the first lady of Viet Nam, will appear at State Thursday.

While speaking at Harvard and Columbia, Madame Nhu was heavily shaken by the egg-throwings, according to Steve Johnston, chairman of the Union's Lecture Committee.

The first lady will conduct a press conference at 4:30 p.m. in room 230 of the Union. The lecture will be held at 6 p.m. in the Ballroom.

The forty-five-minute lecture and fifteen-minute question period will be telecast live on WUNC-TV or channel 4 and will be broadcast on WKNC radio. The radio station will also broadcast a tape of her news conference immediately following her speech, Johnston stated.

Tran Van Chuong, Madame Nhu's father, has been invited to speak here later in the year. He may come in the spring as he does not wish to follow immediately behind his daughter, Johnson added. He has sworn to attempt to wipe out the stench left along his daughter's trail, according to Johnson.

The lecture at State is to be Madame Nhu's only appearance in the South.

Poor Attendance Changes Tone Of Gag Protest

The student protest before the General Assembly did not take place Monday.

At 10 a.m. Monday morning, representatives from Carolina, State, East Carolina, and Duke met to discuss their plans concerning the presentation of a petition before the General Assembly when it convened that afternoon. Because of the small number of colleges represented (See GAG, page 3)

Nhu News

UPI, (Princeton, New Jersey)—Madame Ngo Dinh Nhu received a generally hostile reception tonight at Princeton University. As the first lady of South Viet Nam drove up to the hall, her car was struck by ice cream cartons filled with rocks and eggs. She was not hit. Five American Buddhist monks wearing scarlet and orange robes picketed outside the hall. And once inside, Madame Nhu was alternately booed and cheered as she spoke for 10 minutes then answered questions for another 40 minutes.

Aphids Claim Doctor After Thirteen Years

State is losing a departmental head because of aphids.

After thirteen years as head of State's department of entomology, Dr. Clyde F. Smith is resigning.

He is quitting the post to devote all his time to research on aphids. The author of two books and many scientific papers on the subject, he is considered one of the world's top authorities on aphids, juice-sucking insects which produce plant wilting.

Dr. Smith's resignation will be effective as soon as a new department head can be approved. The successor will be recommended by an eight-man committee headed by Dr. C. H. Brett, associate professor of entomology.

Dean of the School of Agriculture H. Brooks James expressed regret over Dr. Smith's resignation but said that the School heartily approves of administrators returning to research.

Traffic Tickets

PP Issues 2,425; Students Learn Rules

The PP cops have issued 2,425 traffic tickets since the beginning of the semester.

This many tickets have been issued to staff, faculty, students, and visitors since the beginning of the semester, according to Mrs. Hinton of the Business Office. Most of the tickets have been given to cars parked in the wrong places. As the semester progresses and personnel and students of State become familiar with campus traffic laws and the number decreases continually.

Visitors to the campus contribute much to the total number of tickets.

Designer At State

Walter P. Baermann, noted industrial designer, is currently spending eleven days working with second, third and fourth year Product Design students.

Baermann was the first speaker in this year's series of public lectures sponsored by the School of Design.

Candidates

All candidates for fall elections must meet at 7 p.m., October 21, in the Student Union Theater. Candidates must be present to be eligible for the election, according to Ron Stinner of the Elections Committee.

Talk About A Fairy Scene

Monday night our reporter and photographer toured everything at the State Fair except the girlie shows. They left them for you to find out about, as if anything they said might stop half the campus from attending. See story, page four. (Photo by Cashion)

Cheaper And Better

Madame Ngo Dinh Nhu perhaps does not represent the view most State students have towards South Vietnam. She does represent one of the several points of view that the Legislature has not banned from this campus. And she might even be right.

This, however, is beside the point. She has the right to speak, and with this right, a right to expect to be treated with a responsible degree of courtesy. This is a major part of freedom of speech, although some people fail to realize this.

In spite of this, her welcome at several northern schools has been anything but polite. She almost discontinued her tour because of this, and her father is already training around behind her trying to straighten out the impression she is leaving.

State should have a relatively friendly atmosphere for her as it already has for a number of political speakers in the past.

If you must throw something at her, throw a question in the question-and-answer period which will follow her talk. You have more of a chance to hurt her permanently with a few words and a friendly welcome than you do with an egg.

Besides, you are probably short on money and words cost a lot less per dozen than eggs.

Dual Responsibility

What constitutes a gentleman of the university? Is it campus pride, respect for visitors, or the willingness to state views in public?

It is obviously all these things and many more.

Referring specifically to an informal, unguided tour of Chapel Hill's campus and other events which we know to be occurring this week, it should be pointed out that students have every right to indulge in these activities and take the consequences.

Believe it or not, this is a free campus as far as students are concerned.

It should also be pointed out that in indulging in these actions, they are representatives of this campus and will be judged as university gentlemen or hoodlums.

A blunter way of putting it would be that Chapel Hill and State campus police, on the basis of past experience, have posted double guards on these campuses this week. Any person apprehended indulging in malicious actions will be tried under their home campuses' Campus Code.

The charge will be appropriate—ungentlemanly like conduct.

There is, of course, the possibility that the students will also be tried in the city courts.

Each student has the right to indulge in any activity he wishes. An announcement of these plans may also be carried in this paper. This fundamental student right has been defended in the past and we will continue to remind the administration of it in the future. We require only knowledge of the student's name as protection against libel.

Each student who exercises this right also has this freedom: he has the right—and obligation—to accept full responsibility for his actions. If the image of the University is hurt by his action, then he must consider this before he acts.

Freedom is a two-edged sword. Use it wisely.

Death Valley Two At Riddick Stadium

By Ernie McCrary

Perhaps there should be two Death Valleys in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

One is Clemson Memorial Stadium. The other should be Riddick Stadium. Maybe the field here is not really a desert, but it comes pretty close.

Despite a great deal of work by the grounds department of the Physical Plant, the bald spots persist.

Dr. William M. Lewis, associate professor of Soil Science, was called in by the grounds people as a consultant. He helped rid the field of crab grass last summer after top soil had been hauled in to improve drainage and bermuda grass had been planted.

Said Dr. Lewis, "After the crab grass was gone the bermuda was a little thin, but we thought everything looked fine. Then after a heavy rain one weekend everything went ka-pooey."

"We agree that the turf is not what it should be, but it looks as good as can be expected under the circumstances." He pointed out that high school and freshmen games have been played on the field.

In preparation for the big Dook game, these PP men are setting up extra bleachers in the north end zone. A ticket sell-out was responsible for the action. The construction work was done Monday and Tuesday. (Photo by McCrary)

Letters To The Editors

Black Silence Of Fear

On October third last, a local TV commentator of Raleigh presented on the program "Viewpoint" a few "facts" about Communism.

He stated that the Communists of Russia have a socialist government; therefore both Socialists and Communists have the same world objective—"to bury us!"

I am concerned about the effect of such ideas. It is an effect that Justice William O. Douglas called "The Black Silence of Fear." This "fear" produces a constant pressure for conformity to American right-wing thinking. Persons who express unusual views or expressions which depart from the "accepted" American norm are called "un-American"—a word which has come to mean "Communist."

There are many factions which promote the Black Silence of Fear. Included are McCarthyism, the Christian Anti-Communist Crusade, and the John Birch Society.

Such organizations contribute to fear of any social change. They make no distinction between Socialism and Communism. They scream "Creeping Socialism" at many democratic social changes. They use a combination of facts, half-facts, and lies to "preserve Americanism."

I cannot understand why such right-wingers think they have the right to use the same methods as Russia's totalitarian state. They are trying so hard not to lean to the left that they are falling to the right (which is a totalitarian state)!

How can freedom of thought (guaranteed by the Constitution!) be un-American? If an American is a Communist, he can be charged with a federal crime! Right-wingers are insulting every American by telling us that we cannot listen to Communist views because we are stupid and might be "taken in" by it.

Since when should any organization including the House Un-American Activities Committee have the right to ostracize people for any political thoughts. Justice Douglas has stated, "They are unpopular and, to most of us, revolting. But they are nevertheless ideas or dogmas or faith within the framework of the First Amendment."

Is America based upon the fact that all political views can be freely expressed everywhere? Is this the case now? Take a look at the North Carolina "Speaker Ban" bill. Is this not an effect of the Black Silence of Fear?

Perhaps American's problem is not so much "creeping Socialism and Communism" as it is "creeping totalitarianism." I wonder when Karl Marx's books will be banned... or the "controlled" truth at our University made a little more narrow.

I am not a Communist nor a Socialist in writing this opinion. I am expressing it as a concerned American. Beware the Black Silence of Fear!

For a translation of Ikiru, the title of the Japanese movie to be featured in tonight's film festival, you will have to go to the movie... or look at one of the posters (photo from poster) advertising it. It will be run in the Textile Auditorium at 6 and 8 p.m.

If you have seen a game in Riddick this year maybe you have noticed the field is bald-headed. Despite seeding efforts, it remains that way. Notice the pigeons to the left of the fifty-yard line. Could they have anything to do with it?

The Thirty and Three will meet Thursday at noon in room 254 of the SU. All members must be present or account for their absence by calling John Atkins at TE 4-9359.

The Visiting Committee of the Board of Trustees is scheduled to visit State on November 1. Any student who wishes to appear before this committee in private should see John Bynum, president of the student body, or come by 204 Peele Hall to make an appointment. All appointments must be made by October 30.

All candidates for the fall election will convene at 7 p.m. October 21 in the theater of the SU. All candidates must be present to be eligible for the election.

The Wesley Foundation of Fairmont Methodist Church will hold an open house at 6 p.m. Saturday after the State-Carolina game. It will be held at 2501 Clark Avenue and will be for all State students regardless of church affiliation. Supper will be served at cost and will be followed by card playing, dancing, and relaxing.

Cast Announced

Mr. Ira Allen, director of the Frank Thompson Theater group, has announced the cast for Swan Song, the third play of the season. Craig Givens will portray Vassily, an old and dying actor, and Harry Kirkman will act the part of Nikita, a bum of the stage world. The play will run for sixteen performances, beginning November 6 in the Student Union Theater.

Against The Gag Law

Editor's note: the following is a short sampling of opinion against the law to regulate visiting speakers on state-supported campuses.

"Falsity has power only when unexposed . . . Scholars object (to the law) because they deeply believe that no principle is so fundamental to the preservation of the liberty and well being of the human race and of the enlargement of its liberty and happiness as freedom of the mind. . . . We deeply believe that no harm whatever can come to our state or nation from the exercise of free minds on our university campuses."

Chancellor John T. G. . . .
N. C. State

"The law is symptomatic of a distrust of education and of the students, faculty, administrators and trustees of State-supported colleges and the Consolidated University. . . . education flourishes when there is complete freedom to speak and discuss."

The Executive committee of the North Carolina State Chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

It is inconsistent with the heritage and traditions of the state and the nation that such a piece of legislation as HR Bill 1395 should conceivably be passed by our austere legislature. But even more important, in our estimation, is the method in which this bill was passed. If the legislators of North Carolina place no more confidence in the academic community than is indicated by the passing of this bill, then they should be made aware of several pertinent facts. The legislators who supposedly represent the people of this state are not competently fulfilling the jobs to which the voters elected them. The legislation enacted by them should reflect the will of the people and not necessarily their own personal will. Their estimation of what is best may not be, and in this case is not, best.

The East Carolinian
in an open letter

This enactment represents an intrusion of a law-making body into a sphere of responsibility normally delegated by the legislature, through the Board of Trustees, to officials and faculties of institutions of higher learning.

It constitutes a restriction on the free exchange of knowledge and opinion that is absolutely essential to the educational process.

It establishes a dangerous precedent, since any assumption of responsibility assigned to the administration of the University may be extended to a greater and greater degree of control over the internal affairs of the University.

For these reasons, the Faculty Senate views this legislation with genuine alarm.

(subsequently approved in general meeting of faculty by entire faculty)

"The law represents a lack of faith in the administrators and trustees of our public institutions. . . . This bill seems to presume that we should not hear our opponents or any dissenting element. I believe that a familiarity with diverse ideas serves to strengthen the faith of its citizens in democratic institutions." (upon introduction of bill opposing the gag law)

John Ulfelder,
Student Legislature
U.N.C. at Chapel Hill

The last session of the North Carolina General Assembly, acting in a similar spirit, passed a gag-rule to restrict communist affiliates of fifth amenders from delivering addresses to the students of the colleges and universities throughout the state. The American Legion has for a long time persisted in telling their fellow Americans about the communist cells on the campus of the University of North Carolina.

And what do these organizations and laws save us from? Certainly, they do not save us from communism. They are not protecting us from the lecherous communist who is supposedly tugging at our coat tails urging us to join his group. They are not saving us from the realization that our society does have short comings, neither are they making us better Americans.

They are, instead, saving us from academic freedom, from the ability to be secure in one's own convictions, and from the possibility of being intelligent anticommunists.

No Campus Pride

The two tiny figures are students doing something the Student Government has urged them not to do this week—walk across the campus greenery.

Campus Pride week, originating this week is sponsored by the Student Government in an effort to instill in the students of this university a pride in their campus, according to Student Government officials.

Officially, Campus Pride will attempt to end the cowpaths which the sort of activity pictured leads to, and eliminate trash and paper from the campus. (Photo by Cashion)

Flies A Problem In Becton

New Roomie In Becton Campus Pride?

This is the type of thing that worries University police forces when a big game is coming up. With Campus Pride week going on it also worries Student Government. But if you get an idea from this picture, remember both State and Whiskey Hill have doubled their guards for this week. This picture was taken two years ago. Note the inartistic quality of the work. PP police caught the painter.

By Doug Lientz

Supposedly everyone is having trouble with flies these days.

But the Basement of Becton residents feel that they have a few more than they deserve. Almost daily for the last two weeks one or two students there have gotten together to kill fifty or more of the bothersome insects within an hour, according to one of the residents.

Also, complaints about the number of flies in the hall have been turned in to both the Student Housing Office and the Dormitory Rental Office. Although the students who turned in these complaints said that they were told something would be done about the problem, no effort, other than students with fly swatters, has been made to remedy the situation, according to a student.

The reason no action has been taken, according to one of the students, is that the Physical Plant can not do anything about it.

A possible source of part of the trouble is the collection of vending machines between the basements of Berry and Becton, and the trash cans that go with them. At no time, he said, has he been out to these machines and seen less than forty of the insects.

The machines are enclosed in the brick walkway between the two dormitories, and are serving as a temporary substitute for the quadrangle snack bar.

One student describing the problem said that the worst part of the problem is the way the flies buzz around students whenever they start to study. Then he started to drink a cup of hot chocolate in which a drowning fly was still kicking, and changed his mind.

Homecoming Queen Applications Open

Applications for homecoming queen candidates are now being accepted.

Any student or campus organization may enter a candidate by submitting a full length photograph and an eight-by-ten-inch portrait of their entry. The contestant must be 18 to 25 years old.

The photographs plus the name and address of the candidate in a self-addressed envelope may be submitted to the Student Activities Office in 204 Peele Hall by 5 p.m. November 1.

Preliminary judging for ten finalists will be held November 4. The queen will be elected the morning of November 9 prior to the homecoming parade and game.

The queen will be crowned at the homecoming game and will reign at the homecoming dance. The ten finalists will ride in the homecoming parade.

The homecoming queen festivities are under the direction of Blue Key, a junior and senior honorary fraternity. Pete Lesslie is directing the contest.

Students Meet On Gag Law

that the petition, plan, released to The Technician Sunday night, would be dropped in favor of another approach.

The students agreed that more colleges and universities would have to be aware of this protest and would have to lend their wholehearted support to it if any student opposition to the gag law were to be effective.

Letters will be sent to all the colleges in the state inviting them to a meeting on November 10. This meeting will be the foundation of state-wide student opposition to HB 1395 (the gag law).

At 11 a.m. the meeting was adjourned and the students then proceeded to the State Legislature building to talk to Senators and Representatives and listen to the Governor's speech.

It was announced Monday that the student group planned to have a petition read before the Legislative body calling for the repeal of HB 1395 "as the first order of business" in the 1965 legislative session.

The N.C. State Fair

Story By Paschall

Fireworks with time delay

boys, parents, or just by themselves—all wandering around, looking . . .

And the ever-conforming ivy-leaguers, like the band of fellows, each wearing navy blue slacks, with navy blue "fogs."

The daredevil drivers in the new stock cars, racing around the dirt track, thrilled a grandstand audience with their exhibitions of skill behind the wheel; naturally, clowns were part of the act.

A sudden violent explosion drew all attention skyward; the famous State Fair fireworks display had begun at the grandstand. This tremendous display of the art of "lighting a fuse correctly" seemed to be worth all the trudging around the dusty grounds, the wandering in this exhibit and out the next, listening to this guy with the bow tie and that lady with the softballs in her hand. The multi-colored powder-bursts in the sky thrilled young and old alike.

And we promised to print a picture of the Rolls Royce that once belonged to a king and is supposedly worth $100,000. What a car!

Even if the foot long hot dog was seven inches too short, we

(By the Author of "Rally Round the Flag, Boys!" and "Barefoot Boy With Cheek.")

BOOM!

Today, foregoing levity, let us turn our keen young minds to the principal problem facing American colleges today: the population explosion. Only last week four people exploded in Cleveland, Ohio—one of them while carrying a plate of soup. In case you're thinking such a thing couldn't happen anywhere but in Cleveland, let me tell you about two other cases last week—a 45-year-old man in Provo, Utah, and a 19-year-old girl in Northfield, Minnesota. And, in addition, there was a near miss in High Point, North Carolina—an eight-year-old boy who was saved only by the quick thinking of his cat, Fred, who pushed the phone off the hook with his muzzle and dialed the department of weights and measures. (It would, perhaps, have been more logical for Fred to dial the fire department, but one can hardly expect a cat to summon a fire engine which is followed by a Dalmatian, can one?)

But I digress. The population explosion, I say, is upon us. It is, of course, cause for concern but not for alarm, because I feel sure that science will ultimately find an answer. After all, has not science in recent years brought us such marvels as the maser, the bevatron, and the Marlboro filter? Oh, what a saga of science was the discovery of the Marlboro filter! Oh, what a heart-rending epic of trial and error, of dedication and perseverance! And, in the end, what a triumph it was when the Marlboro research team, after years of testing and discarding one filter material after another—iron, nickel, tin, antimony, obsidian, poundcake—finally emerged, tired but happy, from their laboratory, carrying in their hands the perfect filter cigarette! Indeed, what rejoicing there still is whenever we light up a Marlboro which comes to us in soft pack and Flip-Top Box in all fifty states and Cleveland!

Yes, science will ultimately solve the problems arising from the population explosion, but meanwhile America's colleges are in dire straits. Where can we find classrooms and teachers for today's gigantic influx of students?

Well sir, some say the solution is to adopt the trimester system. This system, already in use at many colleges, eliminates summer vacations, has three semesters per annum instead of two, and compresses a four-year-course into three years.

This is, of course, good, but is it good enough? Even under the trimester system the student has occasional days off. Moreover, his nights are utterly wasted in sleeping. Is this the kind of all-out attack that is indicated?

I say no. I say desperate situations call for desperate remedies. I say that partial measures will not solve this crisis. I say we must do no less than go to school every single day of the year. But that is not all. I say we must go to school 24 hours of every day!

The benefits of such a program are, as you can see, obvious. First of all, the classroom shortage will disappear because all the dormitories can be converted into classrooms. Second, the teacher shortage will disappear because all the night watchmen can be put to work teaching solid state physics and Restoration drama. And finally, overcrowding will disappear because everybody will quit school.

Any further questions?

Yes, one further question: the makers of Marlboro, who sponsor this column, would like to know whether you have tried a Marlboro lately. It's the filter cigarette with a man's world of flavor. Settle back and enjoy one soon

Jim Rossi Leads Pack In Title Bid

A boy labeled too small to play football for Clemson College came back to spearhead the Tiger's defeat two weeks ago.

Before that against Maryland and Mississippi Southern, and afterwards against South Carolina it was the same story, a tough defense and the "Little General" leading the offense.

While a senior at Asheville's Lee Edwards High School, where he received all-state honors, Jim Rossi applied for a grant-in-aid at Clemson and was turned down because of his size, 5-10, 170 lbs. His only scholarship offer was made by State. After his performance in the North-South Shrine Bowl game and the East-West All-Star game, about 15 or 20 schools contacted him about college football, including Clemson.

As a junior last year, Rossi gained over 1000 yards as the regular quarterback, the fourth in State's history to achieve this mark. This year he has already totaled 545 yards to lead all ACC players. Of this number, 428 yards came on the completion of 39 passes, five have gone for touchdowns. The State offense has scored 75 points this season while the rugged defense has held the opposition to 23 points.

Rossi is married and has a son and daughter. He is a furniture manufacturing major and plans to enter that field upon graduation.

Fraternity Football Leaders Evident

By Martin White

After four weeks of action in intramural fraternity football, the leaders and possible play-off teams are evident in each section.

In Section #1, three teams have lost only one contest. Pi Kappa Alpha currently holds the lead with a 3-1 record; Delta Sigma Phi and Pi Kappa Phi, each with 2-1 slates are tied for the second position. In Monday's games, PKA defeated Sigma Pi 25-6, and PKP downed the Delta Sigs 6-0.

Morrison passed for two PKA touchdowns and ran 31 yards for a third score, both of Morrison's passes were to Roberts. Roberts scored the fourth touchdown on a 10 yard run. A TD pass from Huggins to Boyd tallied the only score of the Delta Sig-PKP game, but it was enough for a PKP victory.

Sigma Phi Epsilon remained unbeaten after their 18-12 victory over Kappa Sigma. The Sig Eps held a 12-0 lead at the end of the first period, but needed a fourth period score to win the game. Robert Moser scored first for the winners with a touchdown on the opening kickoff. The second score was tallied by Mike Morton with an intercepted KS pass. The Kappa Sigs scored first on the second half kickoff when McCall took the kick all the way for the score. Both teams scored in the final period as Monday scored on an intercepted pass for SPE and Seawright caught a 42 yard TD pass from Cotty for Kappa Sigma.

In the other Section #2 contest, Theta Chi downed Alpha Gamma Rho 25-6. Dellostritto threw to Wilson for three Theta Chi scores. Sigma Phi Epsilon holds first place in the section with a 4-0 record, followed by Theta Chi, 3-1.

Kappa Alpha Epsilon, 4-0, and Kappa Alpha, 3-1, are the leaders in Section #3. SAE's latest victory was a 25-0 score over Tau Kappa Epsilon. Penninger led the SAE offense by passing for three touchdowns and running the fourth. TD passes were caught by Everett, Parker, and Augsperger.

Kappa Alpha held on to second place in the section with a win over Lambda Chi Alpha, the only TD of the game brought KA from a 2-0 loss to a 6-2 win in the last 20 seconds of action when Jack Alford caught a scoring pass from Clyde Wrenn.

Four games have been played in Section #4 since last Monday. In Thursday's contests, Sigma Alpha Mu won a 1-0 forfeit over Farm House and undefeated Phi Kappa Tau took a 7-0 victory over Sigma Chi.

In this week's action, Sigma Chi topped Sigma Alpha Mu 20-12, and Sigma Nu downed Farm House 26-6. McClarin, Medley and Cobb scored for Sigma Chi while Prager and Dwoke tallied for SAM. In the other Section #4 contest, Phillips started the scoring for Sigma Nu with a 60 yard run. Brock passed to Hendrix and Huntsman for two more scores and Hendrix tallied the final TD. Phi Kappa Tau leads the section with a 4-0 record, followed by Sigma Nu, 3-1.

Booters Drop Close Game To Virginia

By Ismail Misrili

The Pack played a strong defensive game but was unable to outscore the Cavaliers, losing by a 3-2 margin. While Virginia used 25 players on the field, State had only 13 with 11 playing at one time. Four of the starting offensive players, including the second highest scorer, the right wing, did not go with the team because they would not have been allowed to make up any work missed in school work!

Virginia scored first after 4:15 to take a 1-0 lead. In the second period, State tied the game on a shot by Benito Artinano on an individual attack. From this point on, the Pack played a 10 man defensive with Artinano being the only offensive man.

During the third quarter, Virginia again took the lead with their second goal of the day. The Cavaliers increased their lead to two goals in the final period.

Artinano then scored his second goal of the day and his 13th of the season on a pass from Ali Oner who was moved to offense shortly before.

The Pack played an excellent game but could not keep up the offensive pace due to the lack of players. Virginia substituted six men at a time to keep fresh players in at all time.

Halis Alkis, goalie, played well on defense, saving many would-be Cavalier goals from hitting their mark. Artinano and Alkis constituted the Pack offense.

State's next game will be here Thursday afternoon with ACC rival UNC.

Four Teams Prepare To Decide ACC Lead

North Carolina State devoted most of its workout Tuesday to its rushing game. Coach Earle Edwards says the Wolfpack has been relying on its passing too much and in its Saturday opponent, North Carolina, is one of the nation's best pass defense teams. Said Edwards, "We're pleased with our success in winning but we would like to get our running game going better against Carolina's good line."

North Carolina football coach Jim Hickey told his Tar Heels Tuesday that he considers N. C. State as the cream of the ACC. Hickey says his team is in fairly good physical condition for the game.

Duke staged a rough workout Tuesday as the Blue Devils got ready for their homecoming game with Clemson. Goal line work and short yardage situations occupied most of the offensive scrimmages as well as punting and punt coverage. Duke is averaging 350 yards a game to lead the ACC, in rushing and passing.

Clemson held a two-hour scrimmage Tuesday as it prepared to get back on the winning track in Durham Saturday. Coach Frank Howard says parts of the workout were "Pretty good," but still he expresses some dissatisfaction with his defense.

Fraternity Volleyball Plays First Round

By Jim Miller

The volleyball season opened last Wednesday night with last seasons top teams vying for a repeat. In Section #1 play, defending champion, Sigma Phi Epsilon defeated Sigma Pi, 2-1. In the other section game Sigma Chi blanked Sigma Alpha Mu, 2-0. Farmhouse was held scoreless while giving up two points to Pi Kappa Tau in a Section #2 game. Sigma Alpha Epsilon slammed Alpha Gamma Rho, 2-0 in the other Section #2 play.

In Section #3, Theta Chi defeated Lambda Chi Alpha, 2-1 after being down 1-0 in the first period. Sigma Phi topped Kappa Alpha, 2-0 in the final game of Section #3. The nights play was topped off in Section #4 when Pi Kappa Phi was defeated, 2-0 and Pi Kappa Alpha overcame Sigma Nu, 2-0.

The Technician will be glad to pass out individual praise to those deserving players if the team captains will please give the score keepers the full names of the outstanding spiker, outstanding set-up man, and outstanding defensive player. There is a place provided on the score sheet for this information.
