Ag Open House Set

By John Arnold

A mechanical cabbage harvester will be shown to about 1500 North Carolina high school students this week.

This exhibit will be one of many illustrated by the theme "Of Life and Science" at the annual Ag Open House here this Saturday.

After opening exercises led by Dean H. Brooks James, School of Agriculture, these seniors will visit five major tour areas which will demonstrate what State has to offer as an agricultural educational institution.

In the afternoon the varsity basketball team, Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity, Farmhouse, Fraternity, Bragaw Dorm, and the swimming team will be the seniors' host to give them an example of extra-curricular activities at State.

Alpha Zeta, agricultural honorary professional fraternity, will provide the guides.

This is an example of the type of booth which will be at the annual Ag Open House. Displays will be in the departments of the School of Agriculture and will illustrate the theme "Of Life and Science."

Board Of Trustees Opposes The Gag Law

By Rick Stypmann

The Board of Trustees of the Consolidated University of North Carolina joined the fight against the gag law Monday.

The trustees passed a resolution presented by W. F. Taylor of Goldsboro. The resolution said in part, "The General Assembly is a friend of the university . . . However, our best friends do things that hurt the university. Perhaps they may be most ready to reconsider."

Most of the trustees agreed with this resolution. Larry I. Moore was the strongest opponent to the resolution.

"I feel that the law can be amended to allow intellectual freedom and at the same time be an effective means to fight the Communists," said Moore. In taking this stand, Moore said that he was not seeking publicity, but just helping in his way to keep the Communists off our campuses.

Moore said that the Board of Trustees "should not go on record for repeal of the law when it can be amended into a useful, effective law that would be pleasing to everybody concerned."

When asked what type of amendment he was referring to, Moore stated that he had not given it enough thought, but was sure it could be arranged by the Legislators.

Moore went on to say that the U. S. spends twice as much money as the Communists on propaganda, so "why should we let them use our campuses for free?"

W. Frank Taylor, a member of the trustee's executive committee, introduced the resolution which was ultimately passed by the Board.

He felt the law was unnecessary because as far as he knew "all the faculties members and administration staff are opposed to communism." Secondly he said the law was a "handicap in obtaining learned lecturers on campuses." "The law is vague and indefinite; you don't know if it applies to just American Communists or to Communists from all over the world." This means that if a technical speaker from a Communist country were to speak on campus, "he could not do so under the law."

According to Taylor, the law stifles intellectual freedom of speech and thought, which is basic to American universities, and as such "injures the prestige of the University itself."

The resolution presented by Taylor called for a committee of fifteen persons to be appointed by Governor Sanford "to determine and implement measures to remove this legislative impairment of intellectual freedom and preemption of the authority and prerogatives of the Board of Trustees."

Chancellor Caldwell also spoke to the Board and cited several cases in which technical speakers were forced to cancel their lectures at State.

Candidates Pics Will Be Taken At The Technician

All candidates in the freshman elections may come to The Technician office Thursday afternoon at 4:30 to have a group picture made. Because of the large number of class office and senate candidates, it will be impossible to run individual pictures. Any candidate who wishes to be included in the picture but has a conflict at this time should immediately contact Ernie McCrary at the paper's office (basement of King Religious Center) or 215-C Bragaw to make further arrangements.

All candidates who plan to make platform statements must turn them in to The Technician before 7 p.m. next Monday night. Statements can also be sent to McCrary at Box 15078 if they are mailed by Saturday, November 2. They do not have to be typewritten, but must be legible and as short as possible.

Quota Changed

Minor changes in the classification of out of state students will permit an increased number of North Carolina residents to enroll in the Consolidated University next year.

The changes will place out of state residents who were born in North Carolina, and those whose parents were born in North Carolina, in the 15 per cent quota for out of state residents.

The changes were approved by the CU Board of Trustees Monday.

Manager of Slater Says Silverware Will Be Cleaned

By Grant Blair

Dirty silverware remains a problem in the cafeteria.

Representatives of Slater foods, meeting with student and faculty members of the Cafeteria Advisory Committee, discussed these and other problems Monday.

Following dinner, A. H. Clark, new manager for Slater on this campus, spoke about problems and complaints to the committee.

According to Clark, problems with machinery in the new cafeteria caused the recent serving of food on paper plates. Clark also cited Slater's recent expansion into the Student Union and the new cafeteria along with the number of new employees as the cause behind student complaints concerning unequal food portions and employee inefficiency.

Of the five student members of the committee, only one, Cal Newton Jr., attended. A representative from The Technician was also present.

Newton and The Technician representative presented student complaints to the committee. Complaints included size of portions, lack of specials, dirty silverware, inefficient employees, and poor arrangement of facilities.

Latin Club Meets

The Latin Club of N. C. State held its first meeting of the year Friday night in the Erdahl-Cloyd Union. New officers were elected and plans for the annual International Night were laid.

The new officers for 1963-64 are Julio Lago, president; Benito Artinano, vice president; Henry Gentzsch, secretary; Henri Mas, treasurer; Sarafin Balcasar, representative to the International Committee; Jaime Ferrand, social representative to the International Committee.

The other feature of the night was the discussion of the International night sponsored by the Latin Club. The date set for this is December 15. All students and faculty are invited. Tickets will be available at the main desk in the Student Union for 75¢ each. A meal consisting of Latin food and an international program will be served following the dance.

Carlos Garcia, past president, presided over the first part of the meeting.

Whistled-At Girls May Enter Wolfpack Contest

By Charles Wood

Like to have your best girl in the Miss Wolfpack Contest?

Only requirements are that her picture be in to Peele Hall by 5 p.m. Friday. "We would like to have as many nice looking contestants as possible," urged Pete Lesslie, chairman of the contest. "All contestants must be single and at least 18 years of age. Girls must have full-length photo along with an at least 8X10 portrait," Lesslie said.

Sponsors must fill out their name, age and telephone number when submitting their contestant. From these contestants, members of the Blue Key will select approximately ten finalists who will be in the Homecoming Parade.

From these ten finalists Miss Wolfpack of 1963 will be selected and crowned during halftime of the State-V.P.I. Homecoming game.

A post slide rule that was left on a book rack in the gym has been lost. Anyone who knows the whereabouts of this slide rule contact Jeff Ziemer in 328 Bagwell.

The McKimmon Village Wives will meet Monday, November 4 at 8 p.m. in the office of building P. The McKimmon Village Wives Club will be formed at this meeting.

Clark stated that all of these problems were being studied and "will be solved to the best of our ability." According to Clark, the problem of dirty silverware is expected to be solved with inspection of silverware and modification of the washing process.

Clark had previously stated that he had compared local food prices with Slater's and that he had found Slater's "competitive or lower."

A three-ring notebook was lost last Saturday. This notebook, containing all of its owner's notes for the year, was left in front of the Student Supply Store. If anyone knows where this notebook is, call Nissim Mayo at either 834-2951 or 832-7638 at any time.

Tryouts for this year's Talent Show will be held on the second floor of Pullen Hall at 7 p.m. tomorrow and a week from tomorrow.

Wits who are interested in writing for the tentative campus humor magazine should attend the meeting being held Friday night at 8 p.m. in The Technician offices at the King Religious Center. "Halfwits will also be considered," according to Herb Allred, organizer of the magazine.

DMS Awards Presented

Eighteen men of the N. C. State Army ROTC Brigade received the Distinguished Military Student Award yesterday.

Col. Robert Summers, Professor of Military Science, presented these awards, which he considers to be the most important award given in ROTC.

This award is based upon the student's performance both academically and militarily. To be eligible for this award the student must be in the upper half of his class academically and the upper third of his class militarily. He must demonstrate qualities of leadership and an interest in military science.

According to Col. Summers the DMS Award is the first step toward obtaining a regular Army Commission.

This year's DMS Awards went to the following cadets: Edwin F. Alexander, Ernest B. Avery, Kirby L. Ball, William T. Burns, Jr., Donald W. Coon, William R. Crow, III, Hobart G. Davis, Wallace T. Gray, Jr., Ira J. Jackson, III, George P. Kittrell, Robert M. Koehler, Phillip G. McMillan, Stephen W. Millsaps, David S. Seawright, Jerry L. Self, Arthur C. Springer, Sabert S. Trott, II, and Francis W. Williams.

Col. Summers begins working his way down the line of eighteen winners of the Distinguished Military Student Award. He can give eleven more of these awards this year if additional MS IV cadets qualify during the Spring semester.

Students May Attend SG Gag Law Forum

A discussion open to all students who wish to express an opinion concerning the controversial Speaker Ban Bill will be held in the Union.

This forum is to meet tomorrow at 7 p.m. according to John Carr, Student Government Secretary. It will precede a vote by the Student Government on said resolution.

Majors And Minors

Amidst the pride which comes from having a strong and winning football team, one fact appears to have been forgotten—State has a rather strong soccer team. Although the record may not be as impressive as that of the football team, the soccer team has amassed a 7-5 record. Captain Benito Artinano has broken his own school record of 17 goals in one season, set in 1961, with 19 goals this season—with one game remaining.

During any one of the home games, a crowd of 15 fans has been considered good attendance. Attendance at away games has been as high as 500.

This is typical of many of the so-called minor sports on this campus. Wrestling, golf, tennis, track and cross-country are activities which are notoriously ill-attended. This is also usually true of swimming, with the exception of a few large meets. Despite the lack of attendance, these teams have managed to accumulate a rather good record.

The situation is unfair. There is no obligation, on the part of many of these students to participate in these sports; they simply enjoy playing them enough to want to compete with the very best in the ACC. They are representing this university when they compete and have done the job rather well in the past; yet these athletes ask, and rarely receive, little in the way of special favors from this institution. The other week, several players from the soccer team were unable to receive excuses from class to travel to an away game.

Poor attendance and little recognition are discouraging to any competing athlete. He asks only that there be some realization that he is sacrificing his time and ability to represent his school. In a minor sport, he is not receiving this realization.

An answer to this problem might lie in the setting up of scholarships for minor sports, but a more effective answer lies in greater interest and support of these students from the faculty and student body. Give these students the support they deserve.

It Shows Something

The meeting of the Cafeteria Advisory Committee Monday showed that students are willing to express their views on the campus. The one student member of the committee present relayed a number of spoken complaints about Slater's operations, as well as two letters from students listing objections.

The other four appointed student members of the committee failed to show up.

The attendance speaks for itself. If members of the committee don't intend to go to meetings, or at least to offer excuses when they can't attend, then it would seem to be the time to appoint a new committee.

—GB

Acting In Good Faith

The Board of Trustees of the Consolidated University meeting this week in Chapel Hill took a firm stand against the speaker ban law passed this year by the General Assembly.

In doing so, the Trustees added another influential voice to the evergrowing clamor against this piece of legislation.

The Trustees are to be congratulated on their forceful stand on this important issue. They have shown their confidence in the administration and purposes of the Greater University.

It is hoped that they will follow through with their expressed conviction and help to effect the repeal of this law which so greatly disadvantages our institution.

A Letter To Bynum and A Letter To The Editors

Graduate Student Knocks SG; Hoffman Offers Assistance

(Editors' Note: The following letter was originally sent to John Bynum, SG president. Haviland sent The Technician a carbon copy with the request that it be printed here.)

Dear Mr. Bynum:

To display one's emotions is considered by some to be childish, and to expound upon their cause to be futile. The following will, no doubt, appear to you to be childish. I know that it will be futile. However, this is not the first time that I have been childish and futile.

Since my arrival here I have been aware of certain things which through some modifications might be improved. Among these things might be mentioned the manifestations which are obvious to all; the foot-paths through the lawns, the litter strewn about the campus, the complete inability of the Student Government to conduct its affairs in a coherent manner. I felt some concern toward these unnecessary liabilities. Thus, as you can understand, I became emotionally involved in State's affairs. Would you not consider this a childish emotion?

Having had these childish emotions I then acted in a futile manner. I nominated myself as a candidate for graduate senator in the Student Senate. Perhaps I should have realized that my efforts would in the end be fruitless when I was obliged to take part in two games (which were invented through the ineptitude of the Student Government).

The first of these games was called, I believe, "Book, Book, Who Has the Book?" In spite of your efforts, I did find the registration book in Peele Hall; the section of Peele Hall which is located in the Student Union.

After finding the sought after object of the first game, I unwittingly became involved in the second game. This one was called "We've Got A Secret." Really it was a rather intriguing game requiring guessing or mind reading in order to determine any rules or instructions involved in the registration procedure or on the obligations of the candidate.

Without doubt, this game was devised to compensate for the absence of any instruction sheets pertaining to the Student Senate election. The instruction sheets had all been handed out and not one sheet remained with the registration book where one should have been.

Since I am a notoriously poor guesser, and since no one could read the mind of a person who isn't thinking, the Student Government preserved their secret. I lost your second game.

It might be stated that The Technician ran an article warning candidates for freshmen senator that they must attend a meeting on October 21. Then, might I remind you that I am not, I repeat, am not a freshman, nor was my candidacy for that of freshman senator, but for that of graduate senator. As I have said before, I lost the game. I have been disqualified and you have won.

To use a colloquial expression, "The Student Government is a real winner."

With all the respect and admiration that you deserve,
James R. Haviland

To the Editors:

I noted with interest in your Wednesday, October 23 issue that a YAF group had been formed on campus.

This latent sentiment of reaction having become manifest calls for the formation of a liberal and/or progressive counterpart group.

I should be happy to be faculty adviser to such a group. Interested students may contact me through campus mail c/o Social Studies Department or see me at my office, 149 Harrelson Hall.

Movie Reviews

Two For The Price Of One

By Cora Kemp & Billi Darden
French films have hit the Varsity Theater.

The Girl with the Golden Eyes and Candide, complete with subtitles, are currently playing.

Both are equally amusing and full of the frolics of the French—including wining and shedding clothes.

The Girl with the Golden Eyes, starring Marie Laforte and Francoise Provost, is based on Balzac's The Thirteen. Put into contemporary life, it becomes the tale of a fashion photographer who considers love a mere sporting game and one of victims, an illiterate beauty.

The eternal triangle develops when the photographer finds he is competing for the girl's love, with one of his female associates.

Candide, based on Voltaire's novel by the same title, is the story of a true optimist in the twentieth century who struggles to prove that this the best of all possible worlds.

The movie will be enjoyed by those who like subtitles, sex in spots, and a confused plot.

The story involves a young man, Candide, who falls in love with a beautiful girl, Cunegende, after one innocent kiss. When the girl's father catches the two in an embrace, he banishes the boy from his home.

Candide then goes through a round of adventures in which he retains his optimism despite the trying nature of his experiences in which any lesser man would have faltered.

The Fate of the Wesley Foundation?

A resolution to censure the Methodist Wesley Foundation for providing "living quarters and support" to a field worker for the Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee is being sponsored by the Gamecock.

"To our surprise we have come under rather heavy attack" for introducing the resolution to the Student Senate, commented Dennis Meyers, editor of The Gamecock, in an editorial.

"We offered the resolution to the Student Senate because we felt Wesley Foundation had been aiding a person who sought to disrupt the otherwise peaceful integration of USC," Meyers said. Does Meyers expect the bill to be passed?

I Is A Mighty Slow, But Steady Turtle

By Dwight Minkler
I is a turtle.
Rather, I is the name of a turtle.
Last Friday morning, rambling through the work area of the new physics building, I methodically stomped her deliberate way. Stomp. Stomp. Stomp. A workman, eager to capture I, yet fearful of her jaws, stood on her back. "The stinker," he exclaimed, "just kept right on going, carrying me right out from under myself!" I—also—said a few #*!$% words about this back-breaking incident.

I weighs 8 pounds, extending 15 inches from stern to bow, as wide as eight inches from port to starboard.

Despite I's escape from her first predator, a student soon captured her. He quickly carried her away to his room, notwithstanding her flighty protests and a regulation prohibiting girls in the dorm rooms.

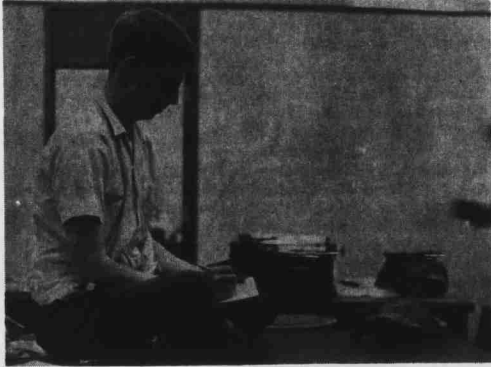

When asked about her name, I explained, "I am I; this being so, it seemed most fitting that I name myself what I am." I, incidently, is an orphan.

I is I. She pretends to be no one else; therefore, she is individualistic. When offered a place in the zoo with a guaranteed annual food rate, a minimum temperature of 42 degrees Fahrenheit, and an old age fish pension, she flatly rebutted, "I live for myself and no one else. I recognize no one's claim upon either my life or the fruits of my labor. I likewise make no claim upon the lives of others; for I am I, and all places are alike to me."

I was set free in Pullen Park creek on Sunday afternoon, October 27, 1963.

"Turtle soup? No. I've never tasted turtle soup. I really can't say that it appeals to me." I, the turtle, gave some of her less-philosophical, culinary opinions to Technician writer, Dwight Minkler, who is on the left.

John LaCost wanted a part in scientific progress

Does a man really take unfair advantage of women when he uses Mennen Skin Bracer?

All depends on why he uses it.
Most men simply think Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the best after-shave lotion around. Because it cools rather than burns. Because it helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Because it helps prevent blemishes.
So who can blame them if Bracer's crisp, long-lasting aroma just happens to affect women so remarkably?
Of course, some men may use Mennen Skin Bracer because of this effect.
How intelligent!

He has it at Western Electric

John LaCost received his B.S.E.E. from the University of Illinois in 1962. One of the factors which influenced him to join Western Electric was the quick manner in which new engineers become operational.
During the short time John has been with us, he has worked in several areas which are vital to the nation's communications complex. And with his future development in mind, John attended one of our Graduate Engineer Training Centers where he studied the front-line Electronic Switching System. He is currently working as a systems equipment engineer on such projects as cross bar switching and line link pulsing.
John's future at Western Electric looks promising indeed. He knows he will be working with revolutionary and advanced engineering concepts like electronic switching, thin film circuitry, computer-controlled production lines and microwave systems. He is also aware of the continued opportunity for advanced study through the Company-paid Tuition Refund Plan, as well as through Company training centers.
How do you see your future? If you have high personal standards and the qualifications we are looking for, we should talk. Opportunities for fast-moving careers exist now, not only for electrical, mechanical and industrial engineers, but also for physical science, liberal arts and business majors. No Undefeated Teams Left In Fraternity Football

By Martin White

Regular season action ended in fraternity football Monday afternoon with a tie for first or second place in all four sections. Monday's games also saw the only undefeated teams, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Kappa Tau, meet defeat to erase all perfect records in the league.

In Section #1, a rematch between Delta Sigma Phi, 3-2, and Pi Kappa Phi, 4-1, will have to be played to determine the section's leaders. Should Delta Sig win, there will be a three-way tie for first place with Pi Kappa Alpha, 4-2. Should the PKP's win, they would take first and PKA would be number two.

Pika ended the season with a 12-8 victory over play-off hopefuls Delta Sig. Morrison threw for both PKA scores, 26 yards to Collins and seven yards to Davenport. The loser's only TD came on a pass from Bare to 2-4 Steel. In the other Section #1 contest, PKP defeated Sigma Pi 32-12. Huggins threw four TD passes for PKP, connecting with Baxter, Carter, Scarborough, and DeMaso. Billings hit Baxter for the fifth score. Sigma Pi scored on a run by Hyatt and a pass from Broons to Gernert.

Sigma Phi Epsilon downed Alpha Gamma Rho, 13-0, and Theta Chi defeated Kappa Sigma, 33-0, to tie for first place in Section #2. The Sig Eps scored on a 13 yard run by Mike Morton and a pass from Morton to Robert Moser. Joe DelloStritto led the Theta Chi's with five touchdown passes, he threw to Swain twice and once to Cave-ness, Wilson, and Kirkman.

Section #3 featured the closest games of the day as Kappa Alpha edged Sigma Alpha Epsilon from the undefeated ranks, 13-11, and Lambda Chi Alpha pulled one out of its hat (?) to beat Tau Kappa Epsilon 14-13 with a safety on the last play of the game. KA and SAE are tied for first with 5-1 records.

KA came from behind, 11-7, to defeat SAE with three minutes to play on a pass from Wrenn to Al Myers. Wrenn threw to Thompson for the other score. SAE scored a TD in the first period on a run by Penninger and picked up four points with two safeties in the second half.

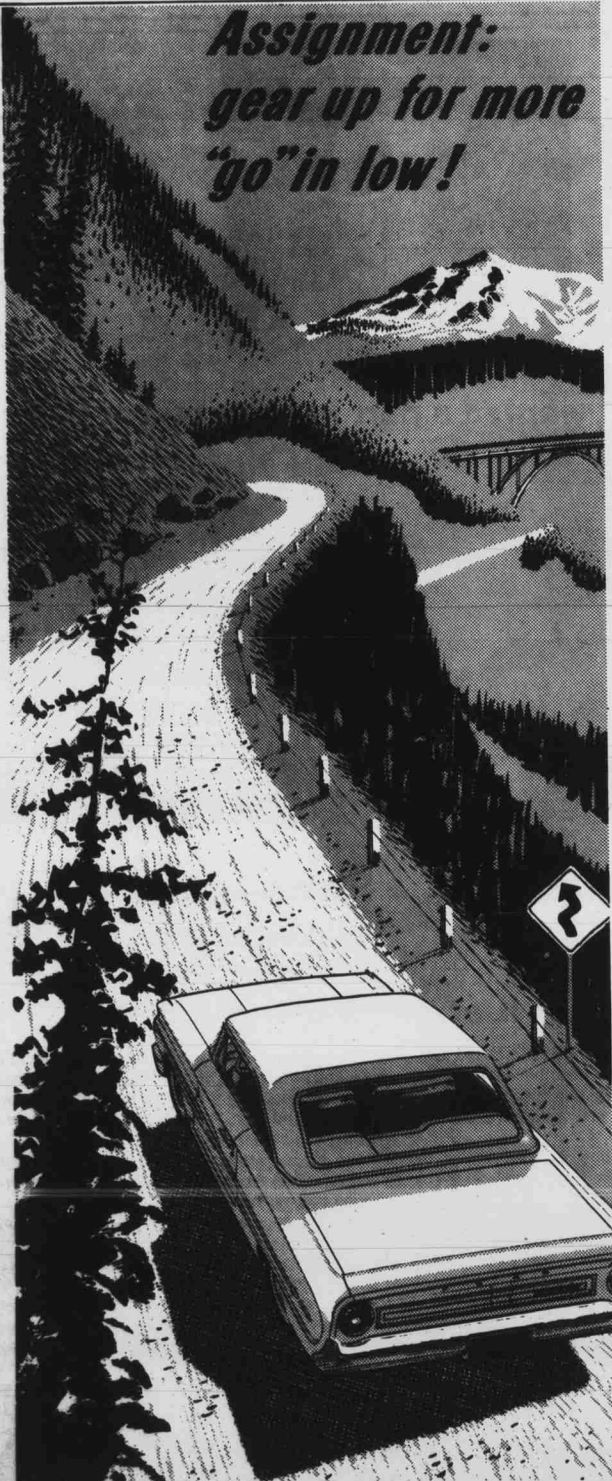

In the other Section #3 contest, Stanpley threw two TD passes to Styres in the first half to give LCA a 12-6 lead until one minute remained to be played. TKE then took the lead at 13-12 on a scoring pass from Moore to Scesny and a p.a.t. from Moore to Johnson. After the kick and an intercepted pass, TKE had the ball on their five yard line with five seconds remaining. The snap from center went into the end zone for a safety and a victory for LCA.

Phi Kappa Tau took their first defeat of the season from Sigma Nu 26-0 in Section #4. Brock started the scoring with a 60 yard run for Sigma Nu. Brock passed to Huntsman for the second score and Huntsman returned an intercepted pass 55 yards for the third TD. Phillips ended the scoring with a one yard run.

In a Section #4 game last week, Sigma Chi downed Farm House 20-0. This week, Farm House lost to Sigma Alpha Mu 19-0. PKT has sole possession of first place in the section with a 5-1 record, followed by Sigma Chi and Sigma Nu with 4-2 records in a tie for second place.

A toss of the coin will decide first and second place in Sections #2 and #3, while a play-off will decide the number two position in Section #4. One play-off match could settle the Section #1 leaders, if not it will require a coin toss and another play-off match.

Assignment: gear up for more
"go" in low!

Result: All 3-speed manual transmissions in Ford-built cars with V-8's now are fully synchronized in each forward gear

To get more "go" in low, Ford engineers were asked to upgrade the conventional 3-speed transmission to give drivers more control in all three forward gears—to make "low" a driving gear—and they tackled the problem imaginatively.

Their achievement, another Ford First, is the only U.S. 3-speed manual transmission with all three forward gears fully synchronized! No need now to come to a complete stop when you shift into low—and no clashing gears! It lets you keep more torque on tap for negotiating sharp turns and steep grades. It makes driving more flexible, more pleasurable.

Another assignment completed and another example of how engineering leadership at Ford provides fresh ideas for the American Road.

Intramural Volleyball

Five of the 33 teams participating in the intramural volleyball competition are undefeated after four weeks of action.

Sigma Chi, Phi Kappa Tau, Theta Chi, and Tau Kappa Epsilon are the undefeated fraternity teams after last week's action.

In Section #1, Sigma Chi edged the Sigma Pi's 2-1. After splitting the first two games, Sigma Chi won the match with a close 16-14 victory in the third game. Sigma Phi Epsilon won over Sigma Alpha Mu 2-0 in the other Section #1 match.

Phi Kappa Tau had little trouble in winning over Alpha Gamma Rho, 15-5 and 15-2 in a Section #2 contest. Sigma Alpha Epsilon took two easy games over Farm House, 15-5 and 15-4.

Theta Chi led Section #3 with a 2-1 win over Delta Sigma Phi while Lambda Chi Alpha won their first game of the season by downing Kappa Alpha 2-1.

In Section #4, Tau Kappa Epsilon took a forfeit win over Kappa Sigma while Pi Kappa Alpha won over Pi Kappa Phi 2-1.

In the dormitory league, Becton and Alexander are still undefeated after four weeks of action.

Becton continued to lead Section #1 with a 2-0 victory over winless Syme. Berry tied Bragaw North #1 for second place by defeating Bragaw 2-1.

Welch-Gold-Fourth and Owen #2 are tied for the first position in Section #2 as W-G-F won over Bragaw South #1, 2-0, and Owen won by forfeit over Tucker #2.

In Section #3 action, Watauga downed Owen #1, 2-0, while Bagwell took Bragaw North #2 by a 2-0 score.

Alexander kept its record clean in Section #4 with a 2-1 win over Bragaw South #2. Turlington defeated Tucker #2, 2-0.

New League Formed

The intramural program is organized around a core program of fraternity and dormitory leagues plus open competition in football, basketball, bowling, and special events.

With the increased enrollment and the addition of many organizations, the intramural department feels that there is now a need for another league.

This year, McKimmon Village, Wesleyan Foundation, and the Pershing Rifles have formed a football league. With the addition of six to eight more organizations, leagues could be formed in bowling, basketball, softball and possibly badminton, horseshoes, handball, tennis, table tennis, etc.

If you belong to an organization that is interested in participating in this new division please contact Art Hoch, Director of Intramural Athletics at extension 531.

Duke Tops Booters

By Ismail Misirli

Duke's Blue Devils shattered the hopes of the State soccer team for an ACC victory Monday afternoon by topping the Pack 3-0. State now has a 7-5 overall record and a 0-3 conference mark.

The Wolfpack played a fine defensive game the first period, but was unable to contain the Duke effort in the next three periods. State managed to threaten five times but was stopped by the Duke defense or goalie.

State was unable to play with the short, low passing which is most effective in the game. The high, long passing has been common to the Pack in its last three losses.

The last contest of the season for the Wolfpack will be at 3 p.m. Friday of this week on the upper intramural field. Lynchburg will be the visiting team.

Open League Football

The McKimmon Village team continued on its winning way by downing winless Pershing Rifle #2, 20-0. Vinson starred for the winners by running for two touchdowns on 12 and 15 yard plays and passing to Steen for the third score.

Wesley Foundation won their first game of the season by defeating Pershing Rifle #1, 7-6. The Pershing team scored in the first quarter on an interception by Fisher and led until Wesleyan's score in the final period.

McKimmon Village leads the league with a 3-0 record; followed by Wesleyan Foundation, 1-1; Pershing Rifle #1, 1-2; and Pershing Rifle #2, 0-2.

A Review

Antony And Cleopatra

By Max Halperen

East Carolina's presentation of "Antony and Cleopatra" here Saturday night stands as the most ambitious Shakespearian production seen in these parts in some time.

Brought here by the Erdahl-Cloyd Union theater, the East Carolinians undertook a play that the ordinary contemporary stage simply cannot handle without a good deal of makeshift. There was nothing makeshift about the staging Saturday night.

The play was, of course, designed for the roofless theater of Shakespeare's own time—probably the most versatile dramatic instrument ever devised, what with balconies, inner stages, an enormous outer stage, and trapdoors. Action moved briskly, without hindrance, without interruption.

In Saturday's production, clearly more than one leaf was borrowed from one or more summer Shakespeare festival by Director Edgar Loessin, head of the Department of Drama at East Carolina, and by Designer John A. Sneden, technical director of the East Carolina Playhouse. The curtain came down for only one short intermission, though the lights were occasionally dimmed. Otherwise, the action was sustained without a break, characters flowing in and out of the wings, on and off two small side stages, and down into the orchestra pit, where a passage led under the stage and back to the wings.

The staging was particularly impressive in view of the fact that, to an extent, it had to be improvised. After four sell-out nights at East Carolina, the troupe had to adapt its props for the somewhat different stage of the Raleigh Little Theatre.

It seemed to have little trouble. Loessin orchestrated superbly the great harmonies and discords of this basically symphonic play.

As one might expect, the acting was somewhat less than professional. Shakespeare's organ poetry was flattened into harmonica prose. Corinne Rickert's Cleopatra and Cleveland Bradner's Antony, lacking intensity and tragic dignity, often seemed trivial and unlikely.

BOARD PLAN

For the budget minded student, there is still time to take advantage of the Board Plan for the rest of the semester and save 15-28% of the $2.20 per day meal rate. You can buy the balance of the plan in two payments of $40 and $40 for the 7-Day or $35 and $34 for the 5-Day Plan. First of two payments must be made by 5:00 p.m. Friday, November 8, at Leazar Hall Cafeteria Office. First meal on the 7-Day Plan will be breakfast Saturday, November 9, 1963. First meal on the 5-Day Plan will be Monday, November 11, 1963.

For the student on a weekly budget, we suggest the $10.00 value coupon book selling for $9.00. These may be purchased from cashiers at Leazar or New Cafeterias.

But the play is episodic, and it came alive in more than one episode: Cleopatra in Alexandria, mourning the absence of Antony; the rulers of the Western world on Pompey's galley, getting gloriously drunk; Enobarbus, in a fine characterization by Douglas Ray, reciting the charms of Cleopatra.

According to Ira Allen, director of the Union Theater, the next out-of-town production sponsored by the Union will be "Midsummer Night's Dream" in a performance by the players of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. It will be given November 3 at the Union ballroom.
