Poster Placement Pains Publicists

By Ernie McCrary

There is considerable confusion over the placement of freshman campaign posters around dorms, according to a survey made last night by The Technician.

Syme officially announced last week that its bulletin boards are off-limits to the candidates. As far as The Technician was able to determine last night, with comments from every dorm except Welch, this situation exists in at least three other dorms. They are Berry, Tucker, and Alexander. Many dormitories reported no posters were up inside merely because no one has tried to put them up.

The comment from Owen: "We are putting posters up until the bulletin boards get full. We have a limited amount of space for official dorm notices which must be reserved, however. None are up on the first floor yet, anyway."

From Turlington: "None are inside the dorm now, but we will put them up as long as there is room. We do not want 15 or 20 put around the door."

From Watauga: "Nobody has asked personally for permission, but one poster was put up inside. Actually our bulletin boards do not have enough room for them. Someone took it down and nearly all the posters on the outside of the building have disappeared, as a result of either the wind or students."

Fourth: "There are none in the dorm. They are all outside. The bulletin board stays full with dorm notices anyway."

Gold: "No one has tried yet, but we will not stop them if they do. There are some posters outside."

The Berry, Tucker, and Alexander spokesmen said they banned interior posters because there simply is not enough room on the boards for them.

From Becton and Bragaw came a different interpretation of the rules. Jimmy Alford, Becton floor counselor, said it is his understanding that posters are not allowed on the outside painted or brick surfaces of the buildings. He has removed the few posters put up there and placed them on bulletin boards inside. He says the boards will be used as long as there is space left. Fred Barkley, president of Bragaw, backed up this interpretation.

Bagwell has some bulletin board space available for posters. One candidate has used it, but he asked permission first.

Administration officials were unavailable for comment to clear the matter up last night, so the best advice for candidates seems to be—"Check with the floor counselor before placing any campaign material in or around a dorm."

HCB Finds Soph Guilty

Mattress theft netted an EE sophomore a three-semester probation from the Honor Code Board at its last meeting.

The student, already on probation from the Campus Code Board until the end of this semester for explosion of fire-works, pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a mattress and a pillow from the infirmary. The boy said he took the mattress October 22 so that a friend from Duke could spend the night in his room.

According to a member of the Board, the student went up to the fourth floor of the infirmary where mattresses and beds are stored, threw a mattress and a pillow over his shoulder, and walked out with them. On the way down the hall, however, an employee saw the student leaving and reported him for violating the honor code.

The trial was held Tuesday night.

Greeks Plan Big Fall

State fraternity men will really "raise it" this weekend.

The occasion is the Fall Greek Weekend. Twice annually the Interfraternity Council sponsors big weekends "for the purpose of bringing all the fraternities closer together in a formal atmosphere," according to Bob Steinburg, IFC vice president.

Saturday from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., fraternity men and their dates will be treated to a concert at the new cafeteria by the Gateway Trio. "The IFC was fortunate in booking this folk group at the beginning of their rise to stardom," added Steinburg. "They follow in the tradition of Peter, Paul and Mary."

Saturday evening will be the highlight of the weekend, featuring a formal dance, also in the new cafeteria. Music will be furnished by the Duke Ambassadors, along with new jazz sensation Carol Sloane. At intermission, the IFC officers, fraternity presidents, and IFC representatives will be presented with their dates.

NEW TRIO FOR IFC

The Gateway Trio, a new folk singing group, will appear Saturday afternoon for a concert as part of the IFC weekend. The concert will be held at the new cafeteria.

Liver Disease Claims SAE

By Dick Paschall

J. Patrick Murphy has died.

At 6:56 p.m. Wednesday, Murphy, an alumnus of Alabama Mu Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, succumbed to an infectious liver disease.

Brothers of the N. C. State chapter of SAE informed The Technician last night of Murphy's death. Funeral services are scheduled for 3 p.m. Saturday on the front lawn of the SAE house on Hillsboro Street, opposite the Carolina Power and Light Company substation. A procession down Hillsboro Street will be part of the ceremony.

At the personal request of Murphy, burial will take place on the front lawn of the SAE house. SAE pledges have just completed digging the grave in preparation for the burial.

Murphy was initiated into SAE at Alabama Mu in 1954 and was graduated from that institution in 1956. He then moved to Raleigh to begin work.

According to the SAE spokesman, he was very much attracted to the local chapter, becoming like an adviser there. He was a very frequent visitor to the chapter house on week ends, and was an integral part of the SAE social life.

"Having no family, Murphy sort of adopted our chapter as his family, and we came to feel like he was our uncle," stated an SAE spokesman. "Because of this great feeling between Uncle Patrick and the brothers, we're going to give him one of the biggest funerals ever!"

All SAE brothers will be wearing black velvet behind their fraternity pins this week, in mourning for Murphy.

"Summertime Revolution," a report from several students who spent the summer of 1963 in work camps, or other projects, and a forecast of opportunities for such projects in the summer of 1964 will be presented at the Westminster Fellowship Sunday at 6 p.m. in the West Raleigh Presbyterian Church at 27 Horne St.

Design Students To Compete

Product Design students will compete with students from five other schools of industrial design this year in the Alcoa Aluminum competition.

An unrestricted grant of $1000 has been made to the School of Design in recognition of its election to the competition. The competing students will have up to $500 worth of free aluminum with which to work.

One student from each of the six schools will be selected to receive a Student Design Merit Award upon the completion of the project. The five other competing schools are Auburn University, Kansas City Art Institute, Layton School of Art, San Jose State College, and the University of Southern California.

This is the first year SAE has participated in the competition.

The Consolidated University Student Council will meet at 7:30 p.m. in room 230 of the Student Union.

The Taylor Sociology Club will sponsor a picnic at 5 p.m. Friday, November 1, at the Optimist Club. All Sociology majors may attend. Those who need transportation may meet in front of the Student Union Erdahl-Cloyd Union at 4:45 p.m.

A three-ring notebook containing important notes on various subjects has been lost by Nissim Mayo. The finder may contact him at 834-2951 or 832-7638 at any time.

85-Year-Old Woman To Lecture Here

An 85-year-old mother of 12 children known as "the world's greatest woman engineer" will lecture here Tuesday.

Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, president of Gilbreth, Inc., and the mother in the book and film Cheaper by the Dozen will speak here at 4 p.m. Tuesday in Riddick Auditorium on "The Engineer's Role in Management."

Mrs. Gilbreth is internationally recognized for her work in management, time and motion study, and engineering in the humanities.

An Oakland, California, native, she graduated from the University of California and received her Doctor of Philosophy degree in psychology from Brown University. Other degrees she holds are Master of Engineering, Doctor of Engineering, Doctor of Science, and Doctor of Laws.

She has served as professor of management at Purdue University and as a chairman of the Department of Personnel Relations at Newark College of Engineering.

She is appearing on campus as part of the 1963-64 Engineering Lecture Series sponsored by the School of Engineering.

ECU Now Offering Hootenanny Tickets

State students can now get a substantial savings on tickets for the Hootenanny Friday night in Dorton Arena.

Tickets may be obtained at the Erdahl-Cloyd Union main desk for $1.70, $2.10 and $2.25. Groups of 20 or more may receive tickets for $1.55, $1.90 and $2.25 per person.

Show will be held on the second floor of Pullen Hall at 7 p.m. tonight.

The Order of Thirty and Three will meet at noon Monday, November 4, in the Erdahl-Cloyd Union. The meeting will concern the homecoming parade.

The Grate Pumpkin is coming to the Wesley Foundation at 2501 Clark Avenue Saturday at 8 p.m. Those planning to attend should contact Wesley's office no later than 10 a.m. Friday and supply their dates' names. Plans include a hayride and dancing.

McKimmon Village wives will meet Monday, November 4, at 8 p.m. in the office of Building P. The McKimmon Village Wives' Club will be formed at this meeting.

Jack Poisson lost a tan raincoat and tan umbrella at the Duke game in the end zone. The finder may contact him at the SAE House or phone VA8-9181.

Carol Sloane, new jazz sensation for Columbia Records, will sing Saturday night for the IFC formal dance. She will be accompanied by the Duke Ambassadors.

Silence Speaks Louder

Upperclassmen from last year may remember the slogan, "Action speaks louder than words."

It is a phrase seldom heard during Student Government meetings this year.

Despite all the election promises which the Action Party made last year, few, if any, parts of their platform have been fulfilled this year. Nor is there any evidence that the party itself has been instrumental in passing legislation.

Last year, the 12 candidates running in the Action Party proposed a platform which included an investigation of profit-making areas on campus, preregistration, changes in the honor code, voluntary ROTC, transportation of girls and WC students to State, and extension of the library, gym, and snack bar hours on weekends.

Little of this platform has been initiated.

There has been no record of any legislation being introduced by the Action party. Rather than legislation being introduced on behalf of the party, any bills which have come up appear to be on behalf of the individual representatives.

As far as the future is concerned, the party appears to be providing little for its continuation. Only one freshman candidate is running on the Action Party ticket in this fall's election.

Party politics are a needed thing on this campus. A well-managed party system, preferably with two or more parties competing, can prevent elections from turning into beauty and popularity contests with no hope of redress for the losers.

A well-managed party can provide managerial positions for persons with demonstrated ability who do not possess the needed "public image" to run in a general election. In doing this, it can also offer a service to the elected candidates by providing them with an administrative staff capable of keeping them up-to-date on every issue and handling minor work which a student cannot always find time to do.

A party can provide a very sizable voting bloc in Student Government, creating a "check" on crucial issues.

By pooling its monetary resources, a party can eliminate the numerous "scrapes" which candidates get into every year in trying to obtain maximum publicity while not exceeding the limit set for campaign expenses. Candidates can also be assured of accurate information concerning the election rules. This would eliminate many of the mistakes which freshman candidates usually make during the fall elections.

There are many advantages in having a party system on campus. It had been hoped that the Action Party would make use of these advantages.

Fall elections are becoming more and more fouled up—as usual.

A graduate student who was unable to receive any information about rules and who was mistaken about the candidates' meeting revealed some errors last night in the elections. (The Technician has personally apologized to him for the misleading article)

Now a dormitory counselor has announced that the outside of his dorm is definitely out for campaigners to post their posters.

You ain't got a chance fellers,—might as well stop running.

Letter Writers Speak For WKNC And The Virtues Of The Gag Law

To the Editors:

I should like to take this opportunity to answer the editorial which appeared in the October 28 edition of The Technician. As station manager of WKNC, I naturally have several various and sundry opinions about the station and should naturally resent anyone who attempts to deride, criticize, or in any other way cut the station whether it be constructive criticism or otherwise.

But considering the past impact WKNC has had on the student body of this institution as opposed to its potential impact I must sadly bow head, wipe tears from eyes, etc, and admit that the editorial was for the most part entirely correct.

Nevertheless, whatever WKNC's impact has been I think that I can truthfully say that all of the problem has not stemmed from the radio station itself. Some of the work has to be done by the student listeners.

There can be no student discussion programs unless students have problems to discuss and are willing to discuss them. There can be no request music program unless people make requests. WKNC cannot be a voice of student opinion unless students want to voice their opinions.

On November 4 at 2 p.m. WKNC will return to the air with remodeled studios, a changed frequency (from 580 to 600 kc.), a reorganized staff, and increased airtime with some programming changes. But it will take more than physical improvement of the station to make it a success.

The announcers cannot play the music you want to hear unless you let them know what you want to hear. The station cannot broadcast student opinions unless you come to us with an opinion you want to voice. If some interest is shown on the part of the students who listen along with the work put in by the staff of the station, then I think the Student Broadcasting System of N. C. State can become a success.

"The present remodeling of the station is a step in the right direction," but it takes many steps to make a good walk and the station cannot do it all alone. It needs the help of the student body and I hope you will give it.

George Heeden, Jr.
Station Manager, WKNC

To the Editors:

As a person considers the law that bans pro-Communist speakers from state-supported colleges, he should study related issues. If he does, his views will be in better harmony.

Communists should be considered the same as other criminals. Communist Party leaders are lawbreakers, for they have repeatedly defied the laws of the United States, upheld by the Supreme Court, which require them to register as agents of foreign governments. Should thieves, murderers, prostitutes, and tax evaders be given the opportunity to present their cases on college campuses, and thus be given the same respectability as loyal and law-abiding speakers? By thievery and murder, international gangsters and criminals, referred to as Communists, hold one-third of the human race in slavery.

With academic freedom comes academic responsibility. Is a state-owned college exercising responsibility when it furnishes a forum to those who give aid and comfort to the enemies of the citizens who make possible the college's existence? An example of freedom without responsibility is a baby with a hand grenade. The baby has more freedom if he has the grenade, but he assumes no responsibility for what happens when he has it.

Freedom of speech is not abridged by the ban of Communist speakers from colleges. It is not the inherent right of anyone to speak at a college; it is a privilege, an opportunity extended to him by a college. A Communist has the right to speak at any place which he or anyone else furnishes, and college students are not barred from hearing him. When a pro-Communist is outstanding in a particular scientific or academic field, the free world is in a pathetic situation if no loyal person just as prominent in that field can be found to speak at a college.

A student's search for truth has not the remotest relation to having Communist speakers at colleges. The system Communists represent is based, not on absolute truth, but on the belief that truth is only that which advances Communism. Seeking truth from Communist speakers is like seeking honesty among robbers or morality among prostitutes. How can a genuine search for truth be restricted by a law that prohibits as college speakers those whose ideal-

Dr. Caldwell Will Speak At Seminar

Chancellor Caldwell will be the main speaker at a Campus Leadership seminar tomorrow night in the Union.

The seminar is sponsored by the Erdahl-Cloyd Union in conjunction with Student Government, IFC, and IDC. It will begin with dinner being served in the Union at 6 p.m. and then move on to a discussion of "Apathy or Action?"

The planned areas of discussion are the lack of communications between campus organizations, the indifference shown to the Honor Code, and student-faculty relationships.

The people invited to the seminar represent leaders in all areas of campus life.

Talent Show Sets Tryouts

Auditions for this year's Talent Show will be held tonight and next Thursday night at 7 p.m. in Pullen Hall.

Participants in the Talent Show, which will be held on December 5, will compete for prizes. First prize will be $15, second, $10; and third, $5.

Reservations for try-outs may be made at the Erdahl-Cloyd Union main desk. The try-outs will be informal. There is no need for a polished presentation of any act at these try-outs.

Candidates

Freshman candidates who could not be at The Technician office Thursday afternoon should be there at 4:30 Friday. Another group picture will be made at that time.

ogy is founded on the flagrant disregard for truth? A student can search for truth about Communism by studying documented sources such as the reports of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Federal Bureau of Investigation, and Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

During meetings at New York in 1959 and at Moscow in 1960, Communists planned a program aimed at getting speakers onto college campuses. According to J. Edgar Hoover, from late October, 1961, to the end of May, 1962, known Communists made 48 addresses at colleges-to-audiences totalling about 43,000. It behooves loyal students to cooperate with those who oppose the spread of such nefarious propaganda from respectable colleges and universities.

Pack Meets Virginia

The Wolfpack will journey to Norfolk this Saturday to meet upset minded Virginia in the sixth annual Civitan Bowl. The Pack will be looking for its sixth conference victory which would put the team ahead of Duke in the standings.

The Cavaliers will be looking for their first conference win in five starts. They are 0-3-1 in the conference, having tied South Carolina, and 1-4-1 in overall competition.

State has won its last four games with the Virginia squad and is 8-5-1 with the Cavaliers since the series started in 1904.

This is the only series with a team now in the ACC in which the Pack has more victories than defeats.

Missing the game will be Bert Wilder who is not eligible because he has played against Virginia three times as a member of the varsity squad. Wilder was picked by Associated Press as its lineman of the week because of his contribution in the Duke victory.

Other than Wilder and Bill Sullivan, the Pack is expected to go with the same starting line-up that has netted five victories in six starts.

Faculty Bowling

Only two teams were able to sweep their matches in the faculty bowling league contests Monday night. One of these teams, Horticulture, won its first points of the season by downing Animal Nutrition, 4-0. In the other shut-out, Horticulture defeated Agriculture Econ. team.

The first three teams in the league were involved in matches ending with 2-2 scores. First place Crop Science split with the College Union team and second place Animal Breeding tied with third place Agriculture Econ. Grads.

Winstead had the high game and high series in individual scoring with 233-578; followed by Brantly, 211-542; and Dalton, 211-531. Animal Breeding led in team scoring with 887-2463; followed by Plant Pathology 821-2401.

Football Comments

By Coach Earle Edwards

We are real pleased with the win over Duke this past Saturday since it is the first time we have defeated them in seventeen years. The team made a great comeback after our loss to Carolina, for which we have no excuses. We are glad we can overcome such a letdown in one week.

Looking to the Virginia game Saturday, we are preparing for them as we would any other team. I feel that we are prepared emotionally but not like we were for Duke. We have great respect for the Virginia team, as they have the best punt and kickoff returns of any team we have seen, they also have a good ground and pass defense.

By Coach Earle Edwards

Our squad is in good physical condition with the exception of Bill Sullivan. Bill has a bad ankle and it is not known if he will see action Saturday. We will also be minus Bert Wilder who is ineligible to play against Virginia because he has already played them three times in varsity competition.
