The Schola Cantorum will be presented by the Friends of the College concert series Thursday night.

The Duke Symphony Orchestra will accompany the chorus which is directed by Dr. Hugh Ross. On three selections, a combined chorus of forty mixed voices from State, Meredith, and St. Mary's will join the Schola Cantorum.

In the special feature with the collegiate chorus, the choral group will present five choruses from Handel's "Oratorio Solomon," "The Cryes of London" by Orlando Gibbons, and four choruses from Leonard Bernstein's "Candide."

The concert, which begins at 8 p.m., is open to all students upon presentation of registration cards.

HCB Rules No-Trial

A no-trial was declared by the Honor Code Board last night in a case of five students accused of possession of stolen property.

The students, found last October 31 with five traffic signs in the trunk of their car, pleaded guilty as charged.

According to HCB Chairman Bob Shearin, the no-trial was declared because "it is the unanimous decision of the Board that the offence merits no penalty as severe as probation. There being no lesser penalty, the Board declares no trial, handing down a warning to said defendants." (Editors' note: The Honor Code Board has available to it four penalties: no-trial, probation, suspension, or dismissal. It is, unlike the Campus Code Board, not able to officially reprimand a student after finding him guilty.)

Shearin added, "The Board considers the said defendants guilty by their own admissions."

The students said they found five traffic signs lying in a wooded area in Pullen Park while they were repairing a car and decided to take the signs back to Bragaw Dorm and place them in the halls as a prank. After leaving Pullen, the five were stopped by the campus police, who found the signs in the trunk of the car.

The five said they had had no intention of destroying the signs.

Talent Show In Good Shape

Confusion about the recently scheduled talent show has finally been straightened out.

A new date has been set. All interested persons should be at Pullen Hall at 7 p.m. this Thursday. Tentative plans are to have the talent show December 5 in the College Union ballroom.

"Tryouts for the show had been scheduled for the past two Thursdays," explained John Monroe, chairman of the Performing Arts Committee. At those times only one act had been signed up, but not even this act turned up for the tryouts.

"After publication of such a poor turnout, other people became interested in the show," added Monroe. Six acts have been signed up for the show to (See TALENT, page 4)

No Action Planned For NSA Meet, Says YAF Group

By Allen Lennon

The newly-formed North Carolina State Chapter of the Young Americans for Freedom held their second meeting last night in the Student Union and decided to take no action in connection with a National Student Association regional conference to be held here this weekend.

YAF Chairman Tom Buchanan cited the YAF's opposition to NSA as it is presently constituted, but indicated that no plans had been made regarding the NSA meeting here. Buchanan indicated, however, that the local chapter would work toward a campus-wide referendum on NSA in the spring.

Buchanan described the YAF national convention held recently in Miami and read to the group of about 20 students some of the resolutions adopted.

According to Buchanan, the YAF opposes all compromises in individual liberty designed to help any race, opposes expansion of national park areas to include areas now controlled by interests aside from the federal government, favors non-deficit spending and commends Senator Harry Byrd's stand on fiscal policy, and favors victory over Communism rather than co-existence.

Noted Pacifist To Lecture At Union

Norman Whitney, chairman and director of the Syracuse Peace Council, will speak on campus.

According to a lecture committee member, Whitney will present his views on pacifism at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 21 in the Union. The lecture, sponsored by the YMCA and the Union Lecture Committee, will be accompanied by a film, "Which Way the Wind?", and a coffee hour afterwards.

Blue Key

Nominations for membership in Blue Key National Honor Fraternity are now being received.

Blue Key president John Carr announced today that all juniors and seniors who wish to be considered for membership should stop by the Office of Student Activities in 204 Peele Hall and fill out an activity sheet.

Thirteen Frosh Fight Fiercely In Run-Off

If you did not vote in the primaries last week, you still have another chance.

Ballots for the run-off election will be cast Thursday at 10 polling stations at Harrelson Hall, Carmichael Gym, back terrace of the Erdahl-Cloyd Union, Student Supply Store, Owen Dorm, Reactor Building, Leazar Hall, new cafeteria, Syme Dorm, and Becton, Berry, Bagwell Quadrangle.

Candidates in the run-off are as follows:

Vice-president — John Foxworth and Skip Wooten

Secretary — Chris Conte and John A. Hawkins

Treasurer — Webb Langford and John L. Sullivan

Engineering Senator — Gene Autry and Bobby Pentz

Textile Senator — Forest Edwards Jr. and David Gardner

PSAM Senator — John Bercau, Mike Lanier, and Robert Plasky

Five Graduate Senator positions remain to be filled, but names of the candidates are not available at this time.

partments on campus.

The committee requests each person at the meetings to fill out a questionnaire concerning honor systems. This information will be assessed by the committee later, Hawkins said.

The School of Forestry, Mathematics Department, Department of Ag Education, and the Department of Mathematics and Science in the School of Education have been investigated so far.

No Communists In Core, Members Told

By Grant Blair

State's CORE chapter will have to be segregated.

In the chapter's organizational meeting last night, Buddy Tieger, CORE field manager, explained that Communists are barred from national membership in the organization. He added that this is the only discrimination in membership CORE has.

Tieger spoke to a gathering of 26 persons. During the last few weeks, he explained, CORE chapters have been set up at Duke, Lenoir Rhyne, Johnson C. Smith, and Davidson. He told the group that a chapter here is necessary, "because Raleigh is the capital," and pointed out that the state's seat of government is located here.

Honor Study Group Studying Education

Investigation of the effectiveness of the honor system here is now underway in the School of Education.

The SG Honor Study Commission plans to meet with students and faculty members from each department on campus before a final evaluation of the present system is made.

The investigations will probably be spread over the academic year, according to Gerald Hawkins, administrative member of the committee. Present plans call for meeting with at least two departments each week. There are about 40 de-

USIA Official Speaking Here Friday

Robert M. Evans will be the guest speaker during the Virginia-Carolinas Collegiate Radio Broadcasters' Convention Banquet here Friday night.

Evans is special assistant to Edward R. Murrow, director of the United States Information Agency.

In 1961 Evans was in Berlin with Murrow when the Wall was erected. He has been responsible for coordinating the inaugural demonstrations on communication satellites.

Evans was graduated from UNC in 1952. He received a masters degree from Oxford in 1957 and an LLB degree from Yale in 1958.

Students and faculty may attend the banquet, according to Gerald Hawkins, assistant director of Student Activities. Tickets may be purchased at Peele Hall, room 204, for $2.50 each. The banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Erdahl-Cloyd Union.

WKNC will be host for the two-day convention, November 15 and 16.

Dr. Wesley Wallace of UNC, gins of WDNC in Durham will also be guests at the convention. Southeastern Radio Supply, Bob Farrington of WPTF in Raleigh, Larry Gardner of WKIX in Raleigh, and Ed Hig-Vizual Electronics, Gates' Radio Electronics, and Electronics Wholesale are expected to have exhibits according to George Heeden, WKNC station manager.

The convention is being underwritten by Jefferson-Standard Life Insurance Company (WBT) and Durham Life Insurance Company (WPTF).

Playing Politics

The Young Americans for Freedom and the Congress of Racial Equality met last night.

It is, to say the least, heartening to see diverse views spring up on campus. Although YAF and CORE represent different political views, it is hoped that more middle-of-the-road organizations may be formed in the future.

There is a very real danger in organizations which offer extreme views either to the right or left. Persons who support the organizations' stands just because they want to hold "conservative views" or "radical views" are indulging in a dangerous game of self-delusion.

Issues should be considered on an individual basis, rather than from a conservative or radical stand.

The ideal solution, and one that it is hoped the campus is moving toward, is a variety of organizations representing a variety of political viewpoints on specific issues. This would enable the student to study both sides of subjects and decide his stand on a factual basis.

Despite this drawback, campus activities could be made more interesting with the introduction of some radically diverse views. Lobbying and voting blocs would make Student Government a governing body with more activity and student interest. The introduction of "interest groups" on campus could aid in giving the majority of students information on definite campus issues.

Campus politics and political activity may be far in the future for this developing university.

On the other hand, they might be just around the corner.

Status Quo

Over 1,000 students here are in Graduate School, but a person wouldn't know it judging from the election's results.

The Graduate School had seven legislative positions to fill in last Thursday's election. Only one candidate's name appeared on the ballot. Another student was elected by write-in ballots.

Five positions are still to be filled.

In the run-offs this Thursday, the graduate students will have a choice of voting for five out of six candidates. These six people now running received one vote each by write-ins.

Less than one per cent of the graduate students bothered to vote in the primary. The run-offs can't get much worse.

Obviously, the graduate students' interest in Student Government and their campus as a whole, has hit the bottom.

But just wait until some issue comes up concerning their welfare and watch them whoop and holler about their rights.

Picket Line At Madame Nhu's Visit Explained And Radicals Blasted In Letters To The Editors

To The Editors:

Now that we have heard from the YAF... Young American Facists... and we expect to hear from the YAC... Young Americans for Cubanism or some ideology [sic] of the same ilk, I would like to insert a word from the MMF... Militant Middle Front.

While we abhor extremism in anything or from any "view-point," we believe fervently in the right and duty of anyone to express his views, popular or not, in this time of growing apathy and un-concern.

The mature individual should be able to decide for himself just what he believes in and what he stands for. For him to do this, he must necessarily be well informed, and he can not be well informed if he has a blanket thrown over his head... especially if this blanket is thrown by someone else... someone who decides that he and only he has the "correct" or proper or "American" point of view. There are at least two... usually more... sides to any question. To make a useful, intelligent decision on any matter, one must weigh the facts as they are... not as some group or band wishes they were.

In any field of human endeavor, there is no such thing as an absolute right or an absolute wrong. All human relations are the result of cause and effect. For a "Son of a Birch" to stand up and attack Communism, an ex-president of the United States, civil rights, and flouridation of drinking water in the same breath, is, to our way of thinking, somewhat ridiculous.

On the other side, when a "Bolshevik bullspitter" denounces capital, the United States, freedom of travel, and alcoholic beverages and sex in the same utterance, it is also quite humorous.

The absolute absurdity of any extremist, right or left, position is pointed up by the fact that both groups which actively hate each other and deplore violently each other's methods, so they say, actually utilize the same techniques, methods of coercion [sic], and propaganda to achieve their ends. The long forgotten initiator of the "Big Lie" technique must be quite happy, wherever he is, to see his theories have such wide spread usage.

As for "non-partisan" content of either side, one has to look only at a listing of the membership to realize that a right wing group is as non-partisan as a fund raiser in a "Goldwater" camp and that to even consider a left wing enthusiast non-partisan would be like saying, "Actually boys, Cousin Nikita is anti-Communism."

Basically, both sides are for freedom... freedom for everyone else to adhere to their views and none other.

To answer the recent letter by Mr. Mixon, here is my interpretation of the great song quoted in his letter...

"My country 'tis of thee..." yes, MY country, not anybody else's. "Sweet land of liberty..." yes, sweet. For liberty is sweet. (Liberty to go where I will. Liberty to decide what I will do with my life. Liberty to decide what I believe and liberty to decide what I will say, think, hear, or read. Any effort that diminishes my ability to seek the facts about any situation by deciding for me what I shall hear, read, or see also diminishes my liberty... and everyone's. Freedom of choice is not freedom from choice... which the odious "gag law" would impose on us by eliminating sources of information about all views but their own.)

Extremists, right and left, take heed! There are enough people in this country who were sickened by what extreme jingoistic nationalism and its racist overtones did to the European continent in the forties, and also enough people sickened by the atrocities committed in the name of "the people" in Hungary and Cuba, to mount an offensive against the takeover of this country by either of you.

To both sides... believe what you will... preach it to anyone who is willing to listen. Only don't try to make decisions for me. I and I only will decide what I will listen to, read, or otherwise perceive. Thought, like morality, can not be legislated.

Also, to the extreme right with its "Hitler was right" attitude and feeling of race superiority, and to the extreme left with its wish to reduce everyone in the world to the common denominator of servant of the state, I issue a heartfelt and sincere... "Go to hell!"

C. Ray McCrary Jr.
President and only known member of MMF

To The Editors:

This is to clarify, for your readers, an editorial which was printed in the Times, Wednesday, October 30. This editorial, entitled "True University" was reprinted from the student newspaper of North Carolina State of the University of North Carolina at Raleigh.

In its editorial, the paper, The Technician, congratulated its student body on finally reaching a "university" status, drawing attention to the fact that cultural events on the Raleigh campus had drawn full or near-full houses on several occasions this year. In fact, this rise in attendance at such events on the Raleigh campus prompted an instructor here at U.N.C., Chapel Hill, to remark: "Culture has finally triumphed over agriculture at our brother institution."

The Technician's editorial stated: "Madame Nhu received one of the most polite welcomes of her tour of this country on this campus. The only blot upon the visit was picketing by members of a less responsible student body."

Across The State And Beyond

Freedom Rings

Down at the University of South Carolina, the Student Senate passed a bill recognizing "academic freedom as the basic principle upon which the University and the student body would grow—now and in the future."

Also passed was a bill calling "for the University to recognize the necessity of laying new walks (where students insist upon walking, said one senator) for the sake of maintaining the beautiful grounds of the University."

The Gamecock

University of South Carolina

Bad Boys

The Minataurs at UNC have been attacked by student leaders there for "singing all sorts of gross songs" and then abusing policemen at a recent football game.

The group of 40 to 60 fraternity men "were running up and down the aisles attempting to get onto the field during the game. They had apparently been drinking since early morning," according to The Daily Tar Heel.

"The Minataurs were originally founded early in the century as a drinking and service organization," The Tar Heel explained. But their behavior at the game was "one of the most vulgar, tasteless and senseless displays of crudeness and irresponsibility that this campus has witnessed in many years."

However, no arrests were made.

"What's Eure's?"

N. C. Secretary of State Thad Eure says he has another gag in the bag if opponents of the present one succeed in getting it repealed. This is about as heartening as the doctor who told his patient, "the ankle's okay but the knee's got to go."

And then there was the bartender who turned to our honorable Secretary of State and said:

"Okay, bud. What's Eure's? Right."

One Democracy On The Rocks, comin' up."

State or Georgia Tech?

After reading the sports pages of several North Carolina papers this week, many people believe that either State or Georgia Tech will be one of the two teams playing in the Orange Bowl on New Year's day. This is not entirely true. It is possible that one of these two teams will play, but with three weeks remaining in the season for many teams it can only be concluded that State and Georgia Tech are two of the teams being considered.

Most coaches, including State's conservative Earle Edwards, do not talk about a bowl bid with two or even one game remaining. Although a few bids may be let out before the last week, nothing is final until after the tenth game.

State has a better than even chance of getting a bowl bid. With the all-round potential that the Pack has this year, a bowl dream could come true. Good luck Wolfpack!

Dormitories Begin Football Play-offs

In dormitory action last week, Owen #2 defeated Alexander for one of the four play-off positions. Owen was joined by Tucker #1, Bragaw North #1, and Bragaw South #2 in the title race after Monday's action.

Tucker won a 14-6 decision over Watauga to take its play-off berth. Price threw nine yards to Henderson for Tucker's first score in the first period. Watauga came within one point on a pass from Campbell to Lineberger. Tucker put the game out of reach in the third period when Henderson took the second half kick-off 50 yards for Tucker's second score.

Bragaw North #1 broke a 12-12 tie in the last minute of their game with Becton with a pass from Leonard to Doughton for an 18-12 victory. Bragaw had taken a 12-0 lead in the first half with two passes from Leonard to Doughton only to see Becton score twice in the final period for a 12-12 tie. Both Becton scores were on passes from Fitz Simmons to Krider.

Bragaw South #2 took the fourth play-off berth with a 15-9 win over Bragaw North #2. The North team held a 9-6 lead at the end of the first half with a safety and a scoring pass from Funderburk to Swartz. South came within one point, 9-8, in the third period with a safety and went on to win with a TD pass from Fulp to Ensore in the final period. Fulp threw to Butler for South's first score.

In today's semi-final round, Tucker #1 meets Owen #2 and Bragaw South #2 plays Bragaw North #1.

Fraternity Volleyball Teams Near Play-offs

With only one round remaining in regular season volleyball action, three teams remain undefeated and only five of the eight play-off positions have been decided.

In Section #1, Sigma Chi fell from the undefeated ranks with a two game loss to Sigma Phi Epsilon. The Sig Eps and Sigma Chi's will represent this section in the play-offs. Sigma Pi needed only two games to win their match over Sigma Alpha Mu in the other Section #1 contest.

Phi Kappa Tau downed Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 15-2 and 15-3, to lead Section #2 with a 5-0 record. Farm House won two of three from Alpha Gamma Rho for a chance to tie SAE for second place in the section.

Theta Chi remained undefeated in Section #3 with a two-game win over Kappa Alpha. Lambda Chi Alpha downed Delta Sigma Phi, 15-10 and 15-6. Now in third place, LCA could tie the Delta Sigs for second.

In Section #4, undefeated Tau Kappa Epsilon did not play while Sigma Nu beat Pi Kappa Phi in two games and Pi Kappa Alpha won two-of-two from Kappa Sigma.

SPE - Theta Chi, Meet In Finals

Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Chi won semi-final round contests Monday afternoon to take finalist positions in the fraternity football championship play-offs.

The two teams finished the regular season with identical 5-1 records to tie for first place in Section #2. Each team's loss was to the other team. The Sig Eps edged Theta Chi in their first meeting, 6-0, and Theta Chi evened the score in their next game, 12-0.

Sigma Phi Epsilon reached the finals with victories over Sigma Chi and Pi Kappa Alpha. Theta Chi downed Phi Kappa Tau and Pi Kappa Phi for their final's berth.

In Monday's action, SPE edged Pika, 2-0, and Theta Chi romped over PKP, 25-0. The Sig Eps came within 15 yards of the goal three times, but could not score a touchdown. A "would-be" touchdown play from Morton to Calhoun was nullified by an off-sides penalty. The winning points came when Hicks caught the PKA quarterback, Morrison, in the end zone on a crash play in the second period.

DelloStritto passed the Theta Chi's to victory over PKP with four touchdown passes, all four were caught by Wilson. The one extra point was from DelloStritto to Swain.

Theta Chi led in yardage with 188 to 68 for Pi Kappa Phi. In the other contest, the Sig Eps netted 46 yards to —17 for PKA.

Dedication ceremonies for the new addition to Polk Hall are scheduled for November 22.

Raleigh architect Carter Williams will present the building to UNC President William C. Friday, who will accept it on behalf of the University.

The new addition to the building nearly doubles the floor space, increasing it from 57,000 to 109,305 square feet. Of the $1,018,220 which the building cost, $830,300 was provided by the General Assembly and $200,920 by the National Institutes of Health.

Recreation Project

A recreation program for the Wake County Juvenile Detention Home has been set up as a joint project of the State College Recreation Department and the Wake County Juvenile Court.

The project was set up by the co-ordinated efforts of Bert Brantley, recreation instructor at State, and Carl Staley, Wake County's chief probation counselor.

Approximately ten hours at the home are required of the students in Brantley's playground leadership class.

The purpose of this program is to provide supervised recreation for the children at the home and to provide the R.P.A. students with the opportunity to work with children who may be in need of patience, understanding, and firm supervision.

The home is for the temporary detention of delinquent children under 16 years of age who require secure custody. There are usually three or four children at the home at one time and most of these do not stay over two weeks.

Usually two students each day work at the home for several hours, playing games or conducting tournaments. Several of the basketball players from State working at the home have taken the children to practice games occasionally.

The program has been in progress for several months and has received enthusiastic acceptance by both the children and students.
