Erdahl 'Family Doc' Cartoons In ECU

Cartoons by the late Jerry Erdahl, the first director of the Erdahl-Cloyd Union, are now being shown in the Union.

The series, entitled the "Family Doctor," will be displayed by the Gallery Committee until November 22. All of the cartoons in the show were drawn during the period from 1957 until the time of Erdahl's death in 1961.

According to Dave Phillips, Union social director, Erdahl got his start in the cartoon business by drawing a winning cartoon for Ford Motor Company. He then went on to draw cartoons for about a dozen newspapers.

Carolinas - Virginia Meets Of Broadcasters, NSA Here

By Jim Kear
State will host two interstate regional meetings here this weekend.

The two activities are the Virginia - Carolinas Collegiate Radio Broadcasters Convention and the Fall Regional Assembly of the US National Student Association (USNSA). Both will extend through Friday and Saturday and will take place at the Erdahl-Cloyd Union with luncheons at the two cafeterias.

The Collegiate Broadcasters Convention is hosted by the staff of WKNC. Participants from nine schools in the area are expected to take part.

The Regional Assembly of NSA is hosted by the local NSA delegation headed by Terry Lowder. Over 65 delegates from schools in the Virginia-Carolinas area are expected.

Registration for the broadcasters convention begins at 10 a.m. Friday with a general meeting and discussion groups planned for the afternoon. The banquet scheduled at 6:30 Friday night will feature Robert Evans as guest speaker. Evans is special assistant to Edward R. Murrow, the director of the US Information Agency.

Delegates for the NSA assembly begin registering at 3:00 p.m. Friday. The first activity of the day is the banquet at 6:30 p.m. with Joel Sharkey, NSA National Affairs Vice President, as keynote speaker. Sharkey will set the theme of the assembly with a discussion of the effect of community issues on higher education.

Further discussion groups and an exchange program between the participating colleges highlights the Saturday morning program for the radio broadcasters. These discussions are led by personnel from the large radio stations in the area as well as administrative personnel from college operated radio stations in the three-state area.

The convention culminates with a luncheon at Leazar Hall at noon Saturday.

Following the theme laid down in Sharkey's address, the NSA assembly moves into its series of discussions and debates Saturday morning in the Union. The morning's general meeting features a speech by a junior from UNC who is reputedly "very much up on current affairs" according to Terry Lowder, NSA coordinator for State.

Contributing to resources for the Radio Broadcaster's Convention are Ed Higgins of WDNC, Larry Gardner of WKIX, Bob Farrington of WPTF, Wesley Wallace of UNC, and H. Lee Swanson of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company. Displays are sponsored by several radio and electronics firms from the Raleigh area. The convention is being underwritten by the owners of WBT of Charlotte and WPTF of Raleigh.

Resource work for the NSA assembly is credited to Tom Covington, Tom Lambeth, and Kingston Johns. Lambeth is the Governor's administrative assistant, Covington is NCS assistant director of Student Activities, and Johns is NCS Director of Financial Aid. Harry DeLung of the UNC delegation and regional chairman of NSA is responsible for much of the planning and coordinating of the assembly.

Ag Director

Dr. R. L. Lovvorn, director of research for the School of Agriculture, arrived in India last Monday with a research team from the United States.

The Indian Ministry of Food and Agriculture requested the Rockefeller Foundation to send a research team to help in the organization and administration of Indian Agricultural research programs.

In compliance, the Foundation asked Dr. Marion Parker, director of crops research for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, to head the research team consisting of Dr. Lovvorn, Dr. O. Burr Ross, head of the Department of Animal Science at the University of Illinois, and a man from the United Kingdom. The team will be in India for six weeks.

Lit Critic To Appear

Literary critic Alfred Kazin will close the fall half of the "Contemporary Scene" lecture series with an address at 8 p.m. Monday in the Union Ballroom. Union director Henry Bowers noted last night that Kazin is "not just another" reviewer: "He's one of the four or five critics who shape our literary attitudes."

This will be a return engagement for Kazin, who spoke several years ago to the liberal arts faculty here. That meeting was not open to students. Monday night's lecture will be aimed primarily at students.

The "Contemporary Scene" faculty advisors, English Professors A. Sidney Knowles, Herbert Eldridge, and Max Halperen, concurred yesterday in remembering Kazin as a "forceful, intelligent, effective speaker." They pointed out that they have been attempting to get Kazin for the series for some time.

Kazin's first book, On Native Grounds, a study of modern American literature, brought him a major reputation. In 1951, he published a volume of autobiography, A Walker in the City, and in 1955, a collection of his essays, The Inmost Leaf. He has edited a number of anthologies, among them books by and about F. Scott Fitzgerald, William Blake, Theodore Dreiser, and Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Since 1937 he has taught at New York City College, Queens College, Cambridge, Harvard, Amherst, and Princeton among others. In 1949 he received the literature award of the National Institute of Arts and Letters.

The Calendar Girl

Julie

"Lonely Girl", "Calendar Girl", "Make Love to Me" Julie London will be here Sunday evening for a New Arts concert.

The alluring red-head has become famous for her motion pictures, night club and television appearances, and numerous records.

According to Bob Steinburg of the New Arts, Julie is probably the best-known celebrity to be presented by the New Arts this year.

Although being "discovered" because of her vocal ability, Julie became a motion picture actress in no time. A number of her better-known movies are "Saddle the Wind" (1958), "Wonderful Country" (1959) and more recently "The George Raft Story".

She will arrive on Sunday from Winston-Salem where she will appear at Wake Forest College. Her concert will be at 8 p.m. in the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum. She will be accompanied by Bobby Troup, her arranger-composer husband.

Sharpe Combo Plays To Cadets At ROTC Hop

The Cadets will be doing the "side step" to the music of The Sharpe Combo.

This year's annual Cadet Hop, sponsored by the Military Ball Association, will be held at the Erdahl-Cloyd Union Ball Room at 8 p.m. Saturday, November 16.

Dress for the hop will consist of coat and tie for the cadets and semi-formal wear for their dates.

Tickets may be purchased at Army or Air Force ROTC Headquarters through Friday at a cost of $3.00. This ticket will include the Cadet Hop and the formal Military Ball this spring.

Counter Insurgents Recruiting Members

When you walk across the campus at night be careful of those rustling bushes—the State College Counter Insurgent Group is in the process of recruiting new members.

Students who are not in the ROTC program should exercise the same caution because they are eligible for membership in the CI Group.

The Counter Insurgent Group, under the leadership of Lt. Donald Coon, intends to reach year Company size by the end of the year. They are presently at squad strength.

The main advantages which the CI Group offers are mainly educational. They teach such things as: how to take extended fresh air walks, how to throw a hand grenade, how to last three days with a pack of crackers, a can of beans and a quarter-roasted rooster, how to go on all-night patrols and how to make any adversary in general hate life! They also teach how to do fifty push-ups, fifty sit-ups, run a few miles and defeat two armed men with your bare hands.

This is all part of a program which has as its goal the training of college age men in the fine arts of military warfare so that, in the event they are needed, they will be better leaders.

Those who are interested should contact Capt. Robert Carr at Army ROTC headquarters in Reynolds Coliseum.

These four unsuspecting troops are about to be "drafted" into the State College Counter Insurgent Group. The CI Group is in the process of expanding to Company strength. (Photo by Cashion)

Focus On NSA

North Carolina State will host this week a regional conference of the National Student Association. (See story on page one.)

There appears to be three classes of student reaction to NSA at State: (1) some are strongly in favor of our continued association with the group, (2) some are equally opposed to our membership in NSA, and (3) the other group doesn't know anything about NSA. It would be a safe guess that the majority of the student body finds a home in the third group.

NSA is being rather vigorously opposed on many national campuses, except this one, by the Young Americans for Freedom as well as by individuals of similar persuasions. In fairness to the local YAF, the local chapter is quite young here and is evidently not yet prepared to engage this established organization in battle.

There has been some discussion in the SG Legislature about the amount of money which State spends for NSA activities in comparison with the benefits derived therefrom. Student Activities Director Banks Talley in a letter this week to The Technician provided a breakdown on SG expenditures for NSA activities. Mr. Talley said, "It seems inaccurate to me that we should continue to say that we are sending $850.00 to the NSA when in reality we are paying only $175.00 in dues, and we are using $675.00 for our own students to attend conferences that materially aid them in their leadership roles on our campus."

Mr. Talley provided an expenditure breakdown as follows: $130.00 for NSA national dues, $45.00 for regional NSA dues, $600.00 for expenses of student delegates to attend the National NSA Congress, and $75.00 for student delegates to attend the NSA Regional Conference.

The leading question is whether this money is well-spent and whether State derives any real benefit from its affiliation with the organization.

Student Government evidently believes that NSA membership is good for the university. The sponsorship of the regional conference here is viewed as an attempt to project our student government beyond the bounds of the campus as well as to insure the continued support of NSA here.

This weekend will provide an excellent opportunity for State to take a long and thoughtful look at NSA, its program, and its principles.

It is hoped that more than the usual few students will be interested in the activities of Friday and Saturday as they pertain to this institution and its affiliation with the National Student Association.

With Hands Tied . . .

Last Tuesday, Honor Code Board members felt themselves compelled to render a decision of no trial in a case of possession of stolen property.

Even though the Board felt that the five defendants were guilty as charged and deserved a penalty, they did not think probation was deserved. Because the Honor Code Board cannot levy a reprimand and because the members of the Board did not want to be unfair, they were forced to declare a no trial.

The moral is obvious.

Give the HCB the power of reprimand.

Alumni Award

The State Furniture Alumni Association has announced the winner of the E. Sigurd Johnson Memorial Award for this year.

David Arthur Holder of Raleigh, an engineering junior enrolled in North Carolina State's Furniture Manufacturing and Management curriculum, was presented the award at a luncheon Saturday.

The award, established by the alumni group this year, is in memory of the late Professor E. Sigurd Johnson, first head of the furniture curriculum in the Department of Industrial Engineering.

A graduate of Needham Broughton High School, Holder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Holder of Raleigh and is married to the former Frankie Wood of Clayton.

Holder was selected for the gift on the basis of academic achievement, leadership potential, character and interest in the furniture industry.

Teacher's Test

Graduating seniors who plan to teach in North Carolina can now take their teacher's certification test on the N. C. State campus.

The state of North Carolina requires this test before one can teach in the state. Information on the test, sponsored by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey, can be obtained from the office of Dr. L. B. Rogers, 205 Peele Hall.

Hang Down Your Head...

Students in Watauga hung their floor counselor in effigy last weekend. They suspended a skillfully-made dummy from a fire escape on the first floor. Students involved assured on-lookers that were they really mad at the counselor, they would have hung him rather than the dummy. (Photo by Andrews)

Director's Cartoons

A student admires a cartoon from "The Family Doctor" series. The cartoons were drawn by the former director of the Student Union, Gerald O. T. Erdahl. They appeared in many daily papers in the U. S. and Canada. The exhibit will be on display in the SU gallery until November 22. (See story P-1) (Photo by Andrews)

Education Blasted At Apollo Meeting

"The idea that a person should straight from his mind, and appear to have no difficulty expressing his own thoughts about a number of our society's 'squawks'."

Speaking before the Apollo Club Wednesday night, Goodman explained "The Role of the Radical in Our Society."

Goodman arrived at his conclusion that the need for education is a hoax after he had required as to what was required to get a job in an automated plant of one of the nation's largest corporations. He said he was told that each person receives three weeks' training for his job. No previous education is required or necessary, he said.

Self-described as an anarchist politically and one who accepts "most of the propositions of Aristotle, Kant, Marx, and Freud," Goodman seemed to speak not from notes, but Goodman grew up in New York, graduated from City College and received his Ph. D. from The University of Chicago. He is now affiliated with the New York Institute for Gestalt Therapy.

FSU Looms As Tough Opponent

North Carolina State, the only football team in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a clean record against non-conference opponents, meets strong Florida State at Tallahassee, Saturday.

The Wolfpack, tied for first place in the ACC with Duke and North Carolina, all with 5-1 records, has defeated Southern Mississippi, 14-0, and Virginia Tech, 13-7, in its only games against outside foes.

The Seminoles, annually one of the strongest independent teams in the South, shutout the headlined George Mira and Miami, 24-0, and last week led Georgia Tech at halftime, 7-3, before bowing 15-7.

The Wolfpack and Florida State have met six times in the past, with the Seminoles holding a 4-2 edge. The last game was in 1957, and was one of the seven victories (7-0) scored by the Wolfpack in its ACC title-winning year.

The Seminoles, with 29 lettermen, have won three, lost three and tied one game thus far. Saturday will be Homecoming Day at Tallahassee, and a capacity crowd of 25,000 is expected.

State's seven victories tie the most games won by a Wolfpack team under Earle Edwards, equalling the 1957 record of 7-1-2. A solid defense, which has directly produced six touchdowns, and some timely offensive plays have been vital to the Pack cause, along with fine team pride and determination.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Wins Football Title

Sigma Phi Epsilon downed Theta Chi, 19-0, Wednesday afternoon to win the 1963 fraternity football championship.

Theta Chi threatened first in the contest after the opening kick-off when quarterback DeloStritto passed 59 yards to put Theta Chi in scoring position. The Sig Ep defense was in top form as it stopped this drive and three more before the end of the game. Doug Monday stopped two of the drives by intercepting two Theta Chi passes within the five yard line. Bobby Stallings, Mike Wagoner, and Robert Moser also intercepted Theta Chi passes.

Mike Wagoner was outstanding on offense for the winners as he caught three passes for two touchdowns and an extra point, and scored the third TD on an intercepted pass.

The first Sig Ep score came on a 20 yd. pass from quarterback Mike Morton to Wagoner. Wagoner took an intercepted pass 30 yards for the second score and caught a Morton pass for the extra point. This gave SPE a 13-0 lead at half-time.

In the third quarter, Morton hit Wagoner in the end zone for the third TD to end the scoring, the play covered 31 yards.

Theta Chi threatened once more with a DeloStritto pass covering 76 yards in the final period.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was not scored upon in all three play-off games, defeating Sigma Chi 13-0 in the first game, and downing Pi Kappa Alpha 2-0 in the semi-final round.

Owen No. 2, Bragaw No. 1 Meet In Dorm Finals

Owen #2 and Bragaw North #1 won their semi-final games in the dormitory football play-offs to gain final's berths in the championship title.

Owen #2 won their game with Tucker #1 with a single touchdown in the third period for a 6-0 score. Owen held the edge in yardage 101 to 56.

Bragaw North #1 won their finals position with a 27-0 win over Bragaw South #2. Leonard threw for all four North touchdowns, hitting Craver twice and Doughton and Barnes once. The North team led South in yardage by 153 yards, 142 to -11.

Owen #2 and Bragaw North #1 will meet Monday afternoon to decide the championship.

Football Comments

By Coach Earle Edwards

In our game with VPI we were very much afraid of their quarterback, Bob Schweickert and their fullback, Sonny Utz. Their performance justified our concern, and we were real happy to have a victory. Our squad played real hard and without many mistakes. It is hard to single out any individuals without being unfair to others but we thought Jim Rossi, Dave Houtz, and Joe Scarpati had a real good day. Tony Kozarsky made a great play in recovering the fumbled punt. It proved to be as important as any single play in the game. Our ends and corner men deserve a lot of credit in containing Schweickert as well as they did throughout the game.

Before the season opened we coaches felt our next opponent, Florida State, might have the best football team on our schedule, and although they have lost three games, there is good reason to think this may still be true. Their victory over Miami and their close game just last week with Georgia Tech makes it apparent that this will be a difficult assignment for us, particularly in view of the fact we must play them in Tallahassee on their homecoming day. Again we will meet an outstanding quarterback in Steve Tensi who is 6'5" and weighs more than 200 lbs. Their halfback, Snyder, is one of the best we will face. They have good personnel and more depth than most teams.

EXTRA BONUS — the clean masculine aroma of OLD SPICE | SHULTON

Does a man really take unfair advantage of women when he uses Mennen Skin Bracer?

All depends on why he uses it. Most men simply think Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the best after-shave lotion around. Because it cools rather than burns. Because it helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Because it helps prevent blemishes. So who can blame them if Bracer's crisp, long-lasting aroma just happens to affect women so remarkably? Of course, some men may use Mennen Skin Bracer because of this effect. How intelligent!
