Bids Held Up For 100 Frosh On Card Goof

By Bob Stampley

Approximately 100 freshman, nearly a third of all sent bids to pledge fraternities, have not received their bids due to probable improper processing of signature cards by individual fraternities and rushees, according to Buck Lee, IFC rush chairman.

IFC regulations state that freshman rushees must have a card signed by members of six different fraternities during formal rushing hours. Each card was supposed to have been left at the sixth house and turned in to the IFC by that house.

Somehow, about 100 of these cards were either lost, destroyed, or turned in without the required number of signatures, according to Lee.

The IFC has taken steps to notify those persons affected of the details of the situation. The IFC will release these delayed bids at Peele Hall between 6 and 6:30 this afternoon at the Student Activities Office.

Lee commented that the rush system at State will soon be analyzed and revised by a joint committee of rush chairmen and representatives from each fraternity on campus. The IFC hopes that the group will be able to give an analytical consideration to the recent rush, and take corrective action where necessary.

New Arts Rumor

The rumor that some of the New Arts ticket sales have been lost has been proved false.

For the past few days a rumor has been circulating around the campus that a number of New Arts ticket stubs were unaccounted for. The stub-holders represent stockholders in the corporation New Arts, Inc. Every corporation must be able to produce a full list of shareholders. With any tickets missing this would be impossible. John Monroe, Chairman of the College Union's Performing Arts Committee, announced the only error was in reporting voided ticket stubs.

Monroe also stated that 400

tickets are still available either at the C.U. Main Desk or at Thiem's Record Shop. The first New Arts presentation will be a Hootenanny on Sept. 25.

The Nurses

Rex Hospital nurses are increasing the ranks of the coeds here by 35 this semester.

Under a new program set up by the School of Nursing at Rex, the student nurses are taking all but one of their classes here.

The crew of nurses will be here a full calendar year, according to Mrs. Ruby Barnes, director of education at Rex. Then they will study at the hospital for two more years to complete their training to be registered nurses.

The nurses are taking their basic physical, social and biological sciences here, including zoology, biology, anatomy, math and physical education.

They are on campus every morning Monday through Friday and Monday and Wednesday afternoons, although they are required to live at the Nursing School, said Mrs. Barnes.

The new program was set up to give the girls college credit for the courses they have formerly taken at Rex. Their only course at Rex this year will be an introduction to nursing.

By Grant Blair

Student organizations have had their first contact with the gag law.

The office of Student Affairs has mailed copies of the anti-communist speaker bill, and an interpretation by the Consolidated University's Board of Trustees to all student organizations on campus. An explanation of both statements has also been attached.

The organizations have been informed, according to administration officials, so that any incidents arising from a failure to determine whether a speaker is a communist or has pleaded the fifth amendment will be the responsibility of the organization.

The liability of the organization for any incident is one of the interpretations of the gag rule which is declared in the policy statement.

The Trustees also stated that the law applies only to planned on-campus speakers and not touring groups or visitors; and includes only known members of Communist Parties or persons who have taken the fifth amendment on the question.

Organizations Get Money From SG

As the Student Government begins a new year, its budget contains a reserve of $521.80.

This year's total estimated income from student fees is $11,055. The total estimated expenses is $10,083.20 leaving a balance in reserve of $571.80.

The individual requests from Student Government branches were all met in full with the Executive Branch receiving $2,155.00; the Judicial Branch received $530.00; and $1,677.00 was approved for the Legislative Branch. Miscellaneous funds total $55.00.

Almost all of the budget requests from individual clubs and organizations were approved. The following amounts were granted: Golden Chain, $300.00; Blue Key, $282.50; Thirty and Three, $161.00; Climate of Learning, $200.00; McKimmon Village Council, $200.00; Glee Club $1,109.50; Band, $1,126.80; and Marching Cadets, $360.00.

Three groups had to take a cut in their requests. The Amateur Radio Club was approved for only $770.00 while the Drum and Bugle Corps was cut to $901.40 and the Pershing Rifles to $825.00.

Financial Aid Applications Show Increase

Financial aid applications have increased markedly over previous years, according to Dr. Kingston Johns, University financial aid director.

"More applications from continuing undergraduates were received by the financial aid office this spring and summer than ever before," stated Dr. Johns.

"We handled quite a large number of aid applications from entering freshmen this summer," he added.

According to Johns, all applications receive serious consideration, but in all fairness, naturally, all available scholarships and loans are first made available to those students "who display good scholastic records, solid campus citizenship records, and definite need for aid to continue or enroll in school." Students who lack the definite financial need usually do not receive scholarship assistance.

New Music Man

By Marshall Wills

The newest Assistant Director of Music at State is Milton C. Bliss of Greensboro.

Bliss has ten years experience as a music director with several appearances in professional theatre, consequently being well-qualified for his work as the director of the Collegiate Men's Glee Club, the Fanfare Band, and instructor for the new Mubic 200 course.

Folk singing, humor, satire and some stinging nightclub takeoffs will be on campus Friday night when the Hootenanny USA Shows hits town.

The three-hour performance at Reynolds Coliseum stars the professional groups of Brown and Dana (pictured above) and the Ivy League Trio. The Migrants of Chapel Hill and the Villagers of Raleigh are also scheduled to appear.

Jimmy Capps, a Raleigh disk jockey and originator of the Our Best To You night-time radio program, will serve as master of ceremonies.

The show is sponsored by the Capital City Kiwanis Club with proceeds earmarked for a camp for underprivileged boys. Tickets will be on sale at the Coliseum Box Office at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. The show begins at 8 p.m.

SU Ailments Are Target For Swede

By Steve Johnston

A former Swedish virologist will attempt to diagnose and cure certain social programming ills currently bugging the Erdahl-Cloyd Union Social Activities Office.

Mrs. Brita Tate has been selected as the new Erdahl-Cloyd Union assistant social director to replace Peggy Barnes, now studying for her master's degree at East Carolina College.

Mrs. Tate has studied viriology and served as a research assistant in viriology in Sweden, at the San Francisco branch of the University of California, at Columbia University, and at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Her work here will include serving as staff advisor to the Union's International Committee and coordinating Union programming benefitting the coeds and married students.

"I have never done anything in this field before; I have always been a research assistant. The only qualifications I have is that I have been an international student and a married student wife, although I have never been a coed," Mrs. Tate explained.

She added that the last six years of her total of thirteen years in America have been spent in Raleigh. Her husband is presently the head of the English Department at St. Mary's Junior College.

Baptist Student Union Slates New Program

Three forums will be held simultaneously for three consecutive Fridays. On the fourth Friday, a guest speaker will address the group.

"Church-State Controversies in American History" will be the topic of the Friday night forum. It will be led by John Farrell, a history professor here. He will be assisted by Don Shriver, Presbyterian chaplain to the campus.

Jack Porter of the English Department here will lead the forum "Religious Well Springs of Drama."

The third forum will discuss "Christian Thought." Bernie Cochran of Meredith College will be in charge.

The first guest speaker, scheduled for October 11, will be Ed Christman of Wake Forest College.

The Friday night meetings begin at 5:45 p.m. Supper is served and the programs are concluded around 8 p.m.

The BSU center is presently located in the YMCA under the direction of Leroy Richardson, Baptist chaplain.

Play Set

The Theater Workshop will produce "Waiting for Godot," a two-act play by Thomas Beckett, on November 19 in the Student Union Ballroom. Ira Allen, director of the Theater, announced that they have a number of open dates for Opera in November.

Opportunity To Serve

A resolution may be introduced in the Student Government Legislature this evening concerning the possibility of the University's having a voice on the Raleigh City Council.

The SG Legislature will likely be asked to refer the idea to a committee for investigation of the feasibility of allowing a State student to sit in on the city council, probably in a non-voting capacity.

This is a very interesting idea, one that could prove valuable to the city and University alike.

The annual 7,000 students here may not be considered a large bloc in a city of 100,000, but they are probably one of the most active segments of the city's population.

Consider the University's economic value to the city. The University's annual budget is about $25 million dollars, a large part of which is pumped into the Raleigh area in the form of salaries and construction and maintenance projects. Add to this approximately $300 dollars spent in Raleigh stores by each of the 7,000-odd students, and you have a sizeable contribution to the economic life of the city.

The University faculty and student body comprise probably one of the most intelligent and imaginative groups in the citizenry. To be sure the faculty members who live in Raleigh are represented, but the students' ideas have had in no way the proper representation and voice they deserve. Students who reside in Raleigh the better part of four or five years probably know more about the city and its administration than many of the citizens who are allowed a vote and representation after a much shorter residency.

Students here at State are definitely interested in Raleigh, as has been clearly indicated in the past. Students have participated in various areas of concern ranging from the social problems associated with the racial issue to the cultural programs such as the Little Theater and the Friends of the College.

The State students and the City of Raleigh have much to offer each other in the coming years. The student-on-the-city council proposal should receive the thorough investigation every good idea deserves.

Occasions For Scrutiny

The Division of Student Affairs is currently in the process of informing student leaders and organization advisors of their responsibilities under the new North Carolina speaker limitation law.

In short any individual who invites a speaker to speak on any subject for any occasion is responsible for investigating the speaker's background as carefully as possible to make sure he has not joined the Communist Party, advocated the overthrow of the state or federal Constitution, or exercised his constitutional right to take the Fifth Amendment in connection with Communist or subversive connections.

We urge students not to violate either the letter or the spirit of this law. However, if you do, please let us know.

NCS Design Publication Distribution Set Monday

The School of Design's latest publication, "The City, Form and Intent," will be distributed Monday.

Design students may obtain a copy free at the School of Design Office. The public may purchase copies for $4 each.

This year's publication for the first time deals entirely with student work.

The publication is a double issue consisting of plates of 50 cities and a booklet of supplemental drawings.

Sixty-two students did the work under the direction of Assistant Professor Richard S. Wurman. Wurman originally assigned the project on city planning to his second year students last spring. Three weeks of required work produced enough interest in students to continue the project three more weeks on their own time.

When the study was completed, co-editors, John Phillip Murray and Gordon Gietzen, wound up with models of the 50 cities built of white plasticene balsa wood and paint.

Copies of the publication put together early this summer already have a received acclaim from numerous architects and noted professional men, Wurman said.

Wurman has been selected to be the new faculty adviser by this year's co-editors, Reyhan Tansal and Keller Smith. Lewis Clark, professor of architecture, was this the adviser for the edition now out.

Miss Tansal was student coordinator of the publication last spring. She is the first coed to become editor. Both she and Smith are the first third-year students to be elected co-editors.

A graduate of Sweet Briar College, Miss Tansal is also on the faculty of the Math Department here. She is a native of Turkey.

Smith is a Knoxville, Tenn., resident. He attended the University of Tennessee for two years majoring in mechanical engineering prior to coming to State.

No plans have yet been announced concerning the next publication, Volume 14, issues number one and two. Wayland Plaster, fourth-year student and business manager of the publication. Jim Posey, a third-year student, is the circulation manager.

Angker, one of the 50 cities featured in "The City, Form and Intent," was completed in the 12th century and abandoned in 1443. Five more plates of the city are included in the publication.

-Campus Crier-

Copies of the new Design School publication, "The City, Form and Intent," will be assembled at the school Saturday. Design students interested in getting a copy before the official distribution Monday will receive one Saturday by assisting the publication staff.

Students, staff, and faculty interested in acting or directing with the new State Theatre Group are invited to attend the first tryout sessions for plays to be presented in the near future. Tryouts will be Friday, 7 p.m. to 9:30; Saturday at 2 p.m. until 4 p.m.; and every night next week, Monday through Friday; 7:30 to 9:30 in Frank Thompson Gym.

Agriculture students due to receive B.S. degrees in the next academic year (January, May, July, and August) are requested to attend a meeting at 7 p.m., tonight in Room 251, Williams Hall. Placement services will be explained, and personnel records for inclusion in the placement booklet to be mailed to prospective employers will be distributed.

Agromeck pictures are still being taken. Friday is the last day senior pictures will be made. Senior fraternity pictures will be taken at the same time. Headquarters for this operation are at the Student Union.

All E. E. students and faculty may attend the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers meeting September 23 at 7 p.m. in Riddick 242. The program will be "Command Guidance Systems for Satellites" presented by Mr. E. G. Baldwin, assistant superintendent of Bell Telephone Laboratories at Burlington.

Publication Policy

Anyone interested in joining the editorial staff of this paper should come to our offices in the basement of the King Religious Center at 7 p.m. either Sunday, Tuesday, or Wednesday night.

All letters to the Co-editors should be typed on a 62 space line and double spaced. Please limit all letters to two typewritten pages.

Anyone wishing to have a news story placed in the paper should give it to the staff writer in charge of covering the area involved, or send it to the News Editors in our office.

A list of staff writers and the areas they cover will be placed in the paper in the near future.

Williams Named Physics Head

Dr. Dudley Williams, a physics professor from Ohio State, is now head of the Physics Department here.

He is co-author of the Physics 205 textbook presently being used.

Williams replaces Dr. Raymond Murray who recently returned from a one-year leave of absence. Murray has been appointed head of the Nuclear Reactor Engineering Department.

J. T. Lynn, acting head of the Physics Department during Murray's absence, is now a graduate administrator.

Aycock New Alumni Head

M. Edmund Aycock has been elected president of the North Carolina State Alumni Association for 1963-64.

A former member of the association's board of directors, Aycock assumed his duties July 1, succeeding Charles H. Reynolds who moved up as chairman of the board of directors.

The new Vice President is J. Roscoe West of Statesville. West and Aycock are both members of the Class of 1936.

In other Alumni contests, five new members were elected to the association's board of directors and two new members were named to the athletics council.

The new directors include J. F. Boney, Class of 1950; J. M. Council, Jr., Class of 1947; George T. Gardner, Class of 1934; and J. W. Pou, Class of 1938.

Named to the athletics council were G. W. Jones, Class of 1934, and W. F. Hargrove, Class of 1931.

"Why I Believe In Football"

By Dr. John M. Thomas, former president of Penn State University, Rutgers University, Middlebury College, and Norwich University.

"I believe in football because it fixes in every student the spirit of fight and the will to win. It is all a mistake to say that the men in the bleachers get no benefit. They receive incalculable benefits in the spirit that surges through them in the support of the team—the spirit of determination and irresistible attack.

"I believe in football because it fuses the college into a unity. Before the first big home game each year, the college is only a mass of individuals, but with the long yell that greets the team for its first big fight, a new and living entity comes into being. In the game the soul of the college is awakened anew, and he is no man at all into whose heart the thrills of the contest do not send currents of devotion and loyalty which will flow till his heart no longer beats.

"For these reasons, I believe in football—especially football led by big-hearted men, hard, clean, strictly by the rules, and with every ounce in the fight to the last whistle."

Wolfets Meet Tar Babies In Annual Shrine Contest

Like first year chemistry students, freshman football coaches Johnny Clements of North Carolina State and George Barclay of North Carolina will be putting together mixtures of unknowns in hopes of coming up with something explosive here Saturday night.

This laboratory will be North Carolina State's Riddick Stadium, where the freshman teams of the Consolidated University of North Carolina (State vs. Carolina) meet in the annual Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital Fund Game. Kickoff will be at 8:00 p.m.

Many of the players on both squads come with honored credentials from high school, but all that is past now. They have to prove themselves to their coaches, fans and most important to the man playing opposite them on the field.

Two players who were named the best football players in their respective states will be at quarterback when North Carolina State and North Carolina meet here Saturday night in the annual freshman Shrine Benefit Game.

Joe White, Prep Player of the Year in West Virginia while performing at Charleston Catholic, will quarterback the State Wolflets. Danny Talbott, selected as the top prep athlete in North Carolina last year while leading Rocky Mount High School to a fantastic sweep of the 4-A football, basketball and baseball titles, will direct the Carolina Tar Babies.

These two are many of the other high school all-state, and regional stars who'll battle for new collegiate honors, as well as for the Crippled Children's Hospital Fund in this colorful Shrine sponsored game.

Actually White and Talbott will have heated competition on their own squads for the top quarterbacking spot, with Jim Donnan of Burlington, and Bob McMahon of Pittsburgh, Pa. pushing White, and Charlotte's Jeff Beaver challenging Talbott as the Carolina frosh signal-caller.

"You just never know what to expect from a freshman team," said State's Clements. "You have so little time in getting ready for an opening game. Before the season is over you might be using a man who didn't figure early, or find that a starter in your first game just wasn't the player you thought he was," added the State coach.

State will be at somewhat of a handicap in that the Wolflets weren't brought into training camp until Sept. 6, or 10 practices less than the UNC frosh.

But after close scrutiny, Clements is expected to open with a lineup something like the following: ends Bill Gentry, Burlington, and Pete Sokalsky, Allentown, Pa.; tackles Harry Jenkins, Silver Spring, Md., and Leland Hughes, Seneca, S. C.; guards John Diviney, Goldsboro, and Charles Moore, Littleton; and center Terry Brookshire, Enka, in the line.

Joe White, Charleston, West Virginia, is scheduled to start at quarterback, while the halfbacks will be Hal Morgans, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Don Donaldson, Saxton, Pa., Tony Bar-chuck, Brooklyn, N. Y., will go at fullback.

Other Wolflets who will see extensive action include guard Mike Daniska, Collinsville; quarterback Jim Donnan, Burlington; tackle Staton Strother, Durham; wingback Roger Sweezy, Statesville; and Harold Deters, fullback from Kinston.

Carolina boasts about ends Bobby Knott, of Roxboro and Bob Powell, Greensboro Senior High, tackle Billy High of Raleigh and fullback Spencer Barrow of Ahsokie. However, somebody without the high pre-game billing might be the star of this opening 1963 freshman game.

The Carolina freshmen edged the Wolflets last year, 16-12, after State had taken the 1961 game, 7-6.

Another close one is expected this time.

Fraternity Intramural Football Schedule

Sixteen of State's 17 fraternities will meet in eight football contests Monday afternoon as a new year of intramurals gets under way. Game time is 4:15, a team not showing before 4:25 will forfeit the contest. The 17 teams are divided into four sections, with two games in each section being played every Monday. The September 23 schedule follows.

Section #1: Pi Kappa Alpha—Sigma Pi, field #1; Delta Sigma Phi—Pi Kappa Phi, field #2. Section #2: Sigma Phi Epsilon—Kappa Sigma, field #3; Alpha Gamma Rho—Theta Chi, field #4.

Section #3: Kappa Alpha—Lambda Chi Alpha, field #5; Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Tau Kappa Epsilon, field #6.

Section #4: Phi Kappa Tau—Sigma Alpha Mu, field #7; Sigma Nu—Sigma Chi, field #8.

Ag School Prof Receives Award For Rot Work

A State professor, Dr. C. B. Davey, has been named as co-winner of Campbell Soup Company's annual award for "outstanding research in vegetable crops."

Dr. Davey, an associate professor in Soil Science, shares the award with Dr. G. C. Papavizas of the United States Department of Agriculture. He will receive a gold medal and a $750 cash award.

His prize-winning research dealt with the relationship of certain soil components to problems of root rot in peas.

Dr. Davey has been on the State faculty since last June. He teaches, does research work and heads the department's forestry soils program.

Although the director denied knowledge of the note, he offered to give Cooper a free meal anyway.

The State Room director could not be reached to verify the incident.

Does a man really take unfair advantage of women when he uses Mennen Skin Bracer?

All depends on why he uses it.

Most men simply think Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the best after-shave lotion around. Because it cools rather than burns. Because it helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Because it helps prevent blemishes.

So who can blame them if Bracer's crisp, long-lasting aroma just happens to affect women so remarkably?

Of course, some men may use Mennen Skin Bracer because of this effect.

How intelligent!
