"Tickling The Ivories"

By Jim Kear
Splinters flew Saturday as a determined Theta Chi wrecking crew tore into an old piano in order to get the upright grand through an eight-inch hole in record time.
The ivory-busting party was scheduled as a part of Theta Chi's rush weekend, but proved to be entertainment for around ninety people in all, including pedestrians, motorists, neighbors, brothers, pledges, and dates. The idea of the recent collegiate fad of piano wrecking is to dismantle a piano and pass all of the pieces through an eight-inch diameter hole in as short a time as possible, according to hammer-man John Turko.

The four-man sledgehammer crew got the proceedings off to a shattering start as keys flew everywhere and piano wires popped. A bucket-brigade of brothers and pledges kept a steady stream of debris flowing through the required hole in a piece of plywood. With the side and top gone, the hammer-men moved on to the sturdy back made of chunky six-by-sixes while brothers with axes reduced the larger pieces to kindling.

Apply For Scholarships Now At Peele

Upperclassmen! Now is the time to run for the money. Application forms are available from the Financial Aid Office, 205 Peele Hall for upperclassmen who qualify to hold a competitive scholarship in 1964-65.

The forms, which should be filed before March 20, gain consideration for all available scholarships, grants, and National Defense Student loans. Most scholarships require a "B" average or better, good citizenship, leadership potential, and financial need. More information about qualifications and the scholarships offered, is available at the Financial Aid Office.

Grants and loans require new applications each year. All students with high academic averages are urged to make application for grants, loans, and scholarships now.

Although the world record reputedly held by Rutgers University is five minutes, fifty-eight seconds, the Theta Chi's took six minutes, fifty-five seconds. But according to a fraternity spokesman, it may constitute a new classification record since the 3/4-inch cast iron interior frame was broken up and went through the hole too. Previous groups removed the metal parts first.
When it was all over and done, one of the exhausted hammer-men suggested, "Come back next week—we're gonna put it back together again!"

Bynum's Speech

Student Government President John Bynum presented Thursday night his report on the "State of the Student Government."

The speech, a clarification of SG's present position in relation to its achievements and setbacks during the past year, was made to the Legislature.

The Technician will reprint the text of the speech in Wednesday's paper.

Student Government Has Busy Meeting At Thursday Session

Action Is Taken On NSA Laws

By Bill Fishburne

The Student Legislature met Thursday and passed a resolution controlling the selection of NSA committee members and the election of delegates to the NSA national and regional conferences.

The NSA coordinator shall be appointed by the president of the Student Government, with the approval of the Legislature. The delegates to the conventions shall consist of the coordinator, the president of SG, and sufficient elected delegates to complete the delegation of six. The elected delegates will be chosen by plurality vote by the student body in the spring elections. Anyone who has attended either the national meeting or a regional meeting will be eligible for the office of coordinator.

The NSA coordinator is eligible for any other campus office for which he (or she) wishes to run. He is required to attend all meetings of the SG Legislature, and report to the Legislature on current NSA activities.

The NSA committee shall consist of the NSA coordinator, the president of SG, and any persons the president of SG with the approval of the Legislature shall appoint to the committee. A section of the bill included the right to disassociate with NSA by

- 1) Majority vote of the Legislature.
- 2) Upon petition of 15% of the student body a campus wide referendum shall be conducted. If more than 50% of the voting student body vote for withdrawal, disassociation from NSA shall take place on the day following the referendum.

A Lounge For Coeds

Coeds now have a lounge all to themselves at the Erdahl-Cloyd Union.

The lounge has one stipulation, according to Helen Wigg, president of the Women's Association, and that is "No boys are allowed."

Obtaining a coed lounge was one of the main objectives of the Women's Association last semester. The group's dream was realized when the Union agreed to convert an old office area on the second floor into a lounge.

The lounge overlooks the entrance to the Union. One wall is entirely glass. The lounge has been colorfully furnished with couches, chairs, tables, rugs, and lamps.

Carr Resigns From Office Of Secretary

John W. Carr, named Student Government Secretary in October when Brian Little resigned the post, has himself resigned.

Carr, in his fourth year of Student Government work, announced his resignation at the Legislature meeting Thursday night.

Carr cited lack of time as one of the primary reasons for his resignation, stating that his other responsibilities would demand more of his time in the future and force him to neglect some of his obligations if he did not leave the SG post.

Upon announcement of Carr's resignation by Vice president Lynn Spruill, the Legislature immediately voted to make Carr an ex officio senator in recognition of his experience in SG affairs.

After the announcement, Spruill called an unscheduled meeting of the Legislature for Wednesday evening to elect a new secretary.

Carr's resignation will become effective February 19. Carr, a senior in PSAM, is currently serving as chairman of the NCS State Student Legislature Committee.

New Election Rules Pass; SG To Arbitrate Posters

By Curtiss Moore

A three-page set of rules for candidates for office was passed by the Student Government Legislature Thursday night.

The rules, most comprehensive to come out of the Legislature in the past two years, has included in it a phrase stating that all decisions concerning locations of posters on dorms will be made by Student Government.

This phrase, which could conceivably evoke a reaction on the part of the Interdormitory Council, was inserted because of inconsistency in dorm poster regulations during freshman elections.

Also included in the rules was a requirement that a political party must present a petition signed by 100 members of the student body, before it can be placed on the ballot.

The petition, containing the name of the party, and each student's name and school, would have to be in the hands of the Rules Committee chairman prior to the opening of election books.

Big Weekend Will Keep State Busy

The State campus will be bubbling over with entertainment toward the end of the week.

Beginning Thursday the campus will be host to three nationally known singing groups, an orchestra, and the annual Valentine's Day dance.

Leading off the entertainment list will be the Chad Mitchell Trio. The Trio will appear at the Coliseum Thursday at 8 p.m. They will present the fourth in a series of six programs sponsored by the New Arts Inc. Admission is by season ticket only.

On Friday three big events will be occurring almost simultaneously. That afternoon the Four Freshmen will play at a combo party. At 8 p.m. Peter, Paul and Mary will sing at the Coliseum and the annual Queen of Hearts Dance will be getting underway at the Erdahl-Cloyd Union.

The Four Freshmen will be at the new cafeteria from 2 until 4 o'clock. The group is part of the Class Mid-Winters, a two-day entertainment affair replacing the annual class banquets. Dress will be coats and ties for boys and school clothes for girls.

Tickets to the Peter, Paul and Mary performance may be purchased at the Coliseum Box Office.

The Emanuel-Kovach School of Dance will be a special intermission feature of the Queen of Hearts Dance. The group will present a modern dance program. Admission is free and for couples only. Dress is semi-formal. The dance is being sponsored by the Union Social Activities Committee.

The week's entertainment will be climaxed by the second phase of the Mid-Winters Saturday night. The Billy Kansuff Orchestra will play for a formal dance in the Coliseum from 8 p.m. until midnight. Any class member may pick up bids for the dance and combo party in the Union between 11:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. everyday until Thursday. Freshmen and sophomores must pay their $2 class dues and juniors and seniors must pay $4 class dues before picking up bids.

Slater Officials Not Worried Over Petition

By Grant Blair

Slater isn't worried about leaving campus.

According to Al H. Clark, manager of the campus Slater operation, student discontent isn't unusual in any cafeteria operation. "Anywhere people eat in a cafeteria operation, they get tired of eating the same food. It's true in the army and at schools. . . . It's one of the reasons a man takes his wife out to dinner," Clark commented.

Clark stated that he had received praise from alumnus on the quality of food and service here." Students had also praised the cafeteria and assured him they had not signed the petition, according to Clark.

A petition urging the college to drop Slater's contract was passed around during registration. Spokesmen for the petition claim over 1,000 signatures. Clark expressed the hope that "these students behind the petition are responsible persons."

The petition will be presented to the Cafeteria Advisory Committee March 16.

Oversleeping Is Fine- If You Can Afford It

By Phil Gietzen

Would you pay $4.33 an hour to sleep longer in the morning? According to Dean of Student Affairs, J. J. Stewart, and the Financial Aid office, that is the cost of every hours class you cut to log some extra sack time.

According to Dean Stewart, the typical freshman at this university spends about 750 hours in class during each two-semester academic year. For each of those 750 hours he pays $4.33 an hour. If he is a nonresident student he pays more. If he is an upperclassman he pays about the same price per hour as do freshmen.

"The indicated cost is based upon estimates of expenses plus an estimated lost salary of $60 per week which is the minimum expected earnings of college age workers in this area. The contribution of the State of North Carolina makes toward each student's education is not included."

Semper-Maybe

NSA is here to stay.

Student Government's action Thursday night has apparently assured the National Student Association of continuing on this campus.

The action points out two important lessons which can be learned about our emerging campus.

There can be little doubt that the existence and actions of the Young Americans for Freedom has had a strong influence on the body and passage of this legislation. NSA has long been unopposed on this campus and at the same time relatively unsupported. Students sporadically opposed the organization, but were defeated. The concept of a national student organization was basically good. The existence of opposing force on campus has forced NSA to become a do-something organization.

Now, it has the opportunity to become truly representative of political feelings of this campus.

Now, NSA is performing a valuable service by enabling our campus to evaluate programs by studying their success on other campuses. Studies of a number of student programs on other campuses is available from the national office by placing a request with the campus coordinator.

More importantly, the showing of our elected NSA delegates at regional and national meetings can, by example, aid the national YAF organization in their drive for representative delegations from all schools affiliated with the Association.

This action by Student Government points out the strength which clubs and organizations are beginning to acquire on this campus. Efforts by YAF were feeble compared to what could have been done, and credit must also go to non-members of the organization who recognized NSA's weaknesses. But it becomes obvious that individual organizations, by acting in a responsible manner on responsible issues, can act as "pressure groups" on the legislature.

The real problem of NSA has not been solved, because it cannot be legislated. The association fell into disrepute because of student apathy. There are few real assurances that student apathy has been altered by this year's feud. No guarantees are built into the bill that students will not become apathetic to NSA in the future.

In other words, the problem of NSA, or of any campus organization, can be partially solved by legislation. But no organization can exist by anything other than inertia if the people do not support it and work with it to make it great.

This is NSA's only remaining challenge on campus.

It is its greatest challenge.

Letter Writer Defends Slater Food, Thinks Editor Don't Read Minutes

To the Co-Editors:

Having read the article and the editorial appearing in Wednesday's issue concerning Slater Food Service on campus, I wish to reply in part to the charges made. First, it was concluded in the editorial that Slater representatives had taken no action on the complaints made at the first of last semester. This is definitely not the case, as Slater has worked closely with the Chancellor's Cafeteria Advisory Committee in eliminating the source of complaints and improving the food situation on campus. The editors should have been aware of this as they are invited to our committee meetings; however, they nor their representative have been at the past two meetings and apparently haven't read the minutes of these meetings that were sent to them.

Second, to the thousand students who signed the petition and the others on campus, I wish to extend an invitation to you to get in touch with a member of the Cafeteria Advisory Committee and make known your complaints. They will be glad to hear from you and to bring any complaint that you have to the committee's attention. I say this because as the committee represents you on campus it is encouraging to hear your opinion occasionally. This is, after all, the only way you have of being personally represented. The next meeting of the Committee is on March 16 and any complaints received will be presented at that time or discussed with a Slater representative before that time.

We who have worked with Slater personnel acknowledge that they are not perfect, but have found them willing to listen and act on any idea or complaint brought before them. I feel Slater has improved its service to the students during this past semester and will continue to improve it. For this reason, I ask the students to consider carefully the result of rash action on this matter.

At Coliseum

Orchestra Well Received

By Marshall Wills

The Philharmonia Hungarica presented a wide range of composers in its repertoire. The gamut ran from Beethoven to Kodaly to Bartok, the latter two being countrymen of the talented performers.

The first half of the performance concentrated on the Hungarian composers with "Marszok Dances" by Kodaly and "Concerto No. 2 for Violin and Orchestra" by Bartok. The dances began with a folk melody from the heritage of Hungary followed by a set of dances in the same spirit. The entire piece seemed to progress from a smooth, lilting song to a wild, uninhibited dance and by the end of the selection the audience was on the edge of their seats with the excitement of the pace.

The special guest of the evening, violin soloist Spivakovsky, attacked Bartok's Concerto in a valiant effort to present an acceptable interpretation to an audience which both expected and wanted such smooth works as the Bach "Andante", Spivakovsky's personal encore. Switching to the formality of Bach's "Symphony No. 7" apparently presented no problem as the Hungarian Philharmonic rounded out a very successful concert.

YOU CAN'T COME IN, FELLAS!

Book Review
High On A Hill

By Cora Kemp

A skillful attempt to explore the character of inmates in a New York mental institution is undertaken by Raleigh native Lucy Daniels in her second novel, High on a Hill.

Miss Daniels' talent obviously lies in the development of personalities. In tackling the difficult task of presenting a true picture of what goes on in the minds of patients behind the locked doors of the Holly Springs Hospital, Miss Daniels describes the horror experienced by a Jewish clothes designer unable to acknowledge his secret fears, the depressing life of a young English nurse about to lose her capacity for love, the insatiable desires of an aging woman in her fifth marriage, and many more such cases.

The character sketches are tied together by the administration at Holly Springs headed by David Holliday, an elderly doctor who also has problems. It seems that everybody at the hospital has his own opinion about Holliday's capabilities.

Holliday is deeply concerned with the welfare of his patients but he somehow gets sidetracked by a nagging wife whom he thinks he no longer loves.

However, Miss Daniels fails to make a smooth transition from patient-to-doctor-to-patient. When viewed as a whole, the novel loses some of its intensity. Gaps appear between the character sketches, and the development of unity somehow fails to materialize. But other than that, High on a Hill is an interesting novel. It also includes factual accounts of patients undergoing treatments such as shock, wet baths and the use of thiorazine.

Miss Daniels lives in Raleigh with her husband, newspaperman Tom Inman, and two children. Her first novel was Caleb, My Son.

High on a Hill is on sale at the Students Supply Stores.

Tigers Kill Wolves With 2nd Half Rally

The Clemson Tigers brought "Death Valley" to Reynolds Coliseum Saturday night as they came from behind to defeat the Wolfpack, 66-52, in the last 10 minutes of the game.

much the same as it was in the Duke game Wednesday night with the Pack playing control tactics to keep the score low and any leading margin small. The control game worked for the first 30 minutes of play until 9:44 remained to be played.

At this point the Wolfpack held a 43-40 lead for its efforts. Famine hit at this point in the form of a cold spell for the Pack. Before recovery, the Tigers had taken the lead for good at 57-46.

Tommy Mattocks led the Pack with 15 points and was high for both teams. Blondeau was the only other double figure scorer for State with 12 markers. The Wolfpack is idle until this week end in Charlotte against Clemson and South Carolina.

Handball competition will begin in the fraternity league on Tuesday of this week with dormitories beginning Wednesday. A match will consist of two singles and one doubles, each being two out of three 21 point games.

Gabe Will Aid Wolfpack

Roy Clogston (left), athletic director at State, announces to the press that former State griddler Roman Gabriel will be helping to raise money for scholarships given to State athletes.

In an on-the-spot press conference in his office after Saturday night's game with Clemson, Clogston said Gabe will be working with Wolfpack Club Secretary Warren Carroll (right) while soliciting. Gabriel and his wife (center) have been living in Wilmington since the end of last year's pro football season.

Clogston said there is a chance Gabriel may also aid Coach Edwards in early practices before he returns to duty with the Los Angeles Rams, and that he may also help with football recruiting.

ONLY FORD-BUILT CARS MEET THE CHALLENGE WITH TOTAL PERFORMANCE!

Something wonderful's happened to Ford Motor Company cars! Under the freshest styling seen in years, there's a new kind of durability and vigor that more than meets the demands of today's and tomorrow's high-speed turnpike driving conditions.

What's the secret? Quality engineering for total performance. Quality engineering so outstanding that Ford Motor Company received the NASCAR Achievement Award for engineering excellence which "superbly combines the prime essentials of great automobiles—performance, reliability, durability, comfort and safety."

Total performance makes a world of difference. Bodies and frames are solid and quiet even on the roughest roads. The ride's so smooth, so even-keeled, it seems to straighten the curves and shorten the miles. And nothing matches the spirit, sparkle and stamina of advanced Ford-built V-8's and thrifty Sixes. Total performance is yours to enjoy in all our 1964 cars—from the frisky Falcon to the matchless Lincoln Continental.
