Voluntary ROTC Earns Endorsement From SG

By JIM ROBINSON

In an hour-long meeting Wednesday night, the Student Government legislature passed two resolutions and heard full reports from three committees.

A resolution expressing Student Government's approval of a voluntary ROTC program at State passed with only one dissenting vote. One coed senator voted against it.

The second resolution concerned the recommendation of a new student parking plan introduced by the Promotions Committee. The new parking plan is intended to relieve some of the congestion in student parking by issuing color-coded "D" parking stickers to students.

Occupants of Lee and Bragg would be issued green stickers with assigned parking space on Cates Drive from the street hump at the southwest corner of Tucker to Dan Allen Drive, in lots on north, south, east and west sides of Bragg, and in lots south of Lee.

Occupants of Alexander, Turrlington, Owen and Tucker would receive blue "D" stickers with parking given them on Dunn Avenue, Cates Avenue from the street hump at southwest corner of Tucker to the intersection of Avert Ferry Road and Cates, in available spaces around the old Naval Armory, and in the last two bays of the Western Coliseum parking lot.

Residents in Syme, Watauga, Gold, Welch, Bagwell, Becton, Berry Stadium, YMCA, and Alumni Building would be issued gray "D" stickers with assigned parking east of Doak Field on the south and north sides of the railroad tracks.

Those living in fraternity court, McKimmon Village, and offcampus housing would get red "D" stickers with places allotted in the center bay west of the Coliseum, in all unreserved bays on the east side of the Coliseum, on Cates Avenue east of the intersection of Avert Ferry Road and Cates, and in the Brooks Avenue student parking lot.

Any color sticker would authorize parking in Fraternity Court, on Doak Field, and in the gymnasium lot. The program also calls for the establishment of loading zones in McKimmon Village lots, and for making it an Honor Code violation to falsify records for registration of a student motor vehicle.

Freshman vice-presidential candidate Chris Christy was charged with a violation of the election rules. Christy, the loser in the freshman election to Tim Scofield, was charged with failing to remove his campaign posters in the allowed time after elections, according to the Elections Committee. The committee's findings have been turned over to the Rules Committee for action.

AS Cadet Finishes Flight Program

Cadet Col. Buster C. Glosson has set a new State ROTC record in the Air Force ROTC flight training program.

Glosson took only 29 days to earn his private pilot's license. He made his first solo after seven hours and 15 minutes of dual flight training, five days after starting the program. He was taught by a civilian instructor.

State has 37 cadets participating in the Air Force Flight Training Program, which calls for 36½ hours of flying time, 20 hours dual and 15 hours solo, to be completed in about two months. The program provides interested cadets who are physically qualified the necessary flight training required by the Federal Aviation Agency to receive their private pilot's license.

Upon completion in the Flight Instruction Program and commissioning, the cadets then go to one of eight USAF Undergraduate Pilot Training Schools to fly current sub-sonic and supersonic jets as student officers.

'Thousands' Get Flunk Slips

Almost one-third of all State students received "academic difficulty reports" at mid-term.

A total of 3,773 reports, commonly called "flunk slips," were sent to 2,645 students. There were 1,799 students who received one report, 634 who received two, 177 who received three, 34 who received four, and one who received five.

The reports indicate that a student is either failing or in danger of failing a course. A copy of each report is sent to the student, his parents, his academic advisor, and the Counseling Department.

This year 1,062 freshmen received flunk slips compared with 878 last fall semester. However, because of the increased enrollment, the percentage of freshmen receiving the reports decreased from 60 to 40 per cent.

Class Gift Ideas Asked Of Seniors

Suggestions for the senior class gift are still being requested from prospective graduates.

Ideas may be submitted at the Erdahl-Cloyd Union Main Desk. The deadline is December 1.

The class officers will review the suggestions and compile a list of those which are economically feasible, according to Carlos Williams, secretary of the Senior Class.

These suggestions will be voted upon by the class on a special ballot to be printed in The Technician.

Chancellor Apologizes For Raid On St. Mary's

Chancellor John Caldwell yesterday sent a letter to Dr. Richard G. Stone, president of St. Mary's Junior College, apologizing for the conduct of State students who participated in the party raid Monday night.

The letter stated in part, "It is one thing to 'explain' how such a situation could develop—adolescent youth, surplus energy, immaturity, mob psychology, unseasonable 'spring' weather, all of which conspire to make such an incident possible. But we, of course, regard none of this 'explanation' as an excuse. For, understandable as any normal adolescent escapade may be, there were elements in the Monday evening affair which were unacceptable and unpardonable.

"Abuse of property by forcible entry in mob spirit offends our sense of an orderly society and exhibits a spirit which must be condemned. We do.

"Obscenities flaunted at ladies mark the offender as lacking in rearing, sensitivity and culture. We condemn such behavior."

The Chancellor concluded: "Let me say for us all that we value greatly the presence of St. Mary's in our social and educational community and cherish the hope for a continued wholesome and mutually happy relationship."

National Honor Society Picks 52 New Members

Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society, has tapped 52 new members.

Phi Kappa Phi is the highest scholastic honor a State student may receive and is comparable to Phi Beta Kappa. The society is dedicated to the unity and democracy of education, and the society's ultimate objectives are to emphasize scholarship and character.

The new initiates and their averages are as follows:

Students Open Coffee House

Two enterprising State students will see their idea become reality Saturday night when Raleigh's first coffee house opens its doors to the public.

The Sidetrack coffee house, located at the corner of Hargett and West Streets, is the project of Phil Smith and John Peden, both of Raleigh. Saturday's presentation is an opening preview featuring a concert beginning at 8 p.m. in which many State students will perform.

A portion of the concert will be carried on WRAL radio from 9 to 10 p.m. in a special live broadcast, "Sounds from the Sidetrack."

The regular opening of The Sidetrack is slated for December 1. "The emphasis here will be placed on creativity," according to Smith. "Otherwise we see no further restriction regarding our format. We hope to offer all kinds of music, folk, jazz, classical, and so forth; anything that might provide a mutually satisfying experience for both the audience and the performer."

In addition to musical entertainment, the Sidetrack will offer a place for writers to publicly read their works and will exhibit the paintings and sculpture of local artists.

EARN GOLD!

The Leopold Wildlife Club is sponsoring a contest to find an emblem representative of the organization's interest in wildlife and fisheries conservation and management.

All entries must be no more than five inches in their broadest dimension and must be turned in to the Department of Zoology Office by December 4. A $5 prize is offered.

'Who's Afraid Of Virginia Woolf?'

Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?, Edward Albee's Broadway hit of last season, will be presented by the National Company December 1 at the Frank Thompson Theatre.

Tickets for the performance will go on sale for students for $1 at the Erdahl-Cloyd Union Main Desk today at 1 p.m.

Vicki Cummings and Kendall Clark will star in the dramatic probe into the frustrated lives of two faculty members of a small college and their wives.

Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? has been hailed by the critics as a brilliant work and accoladed with numerous honors including five Antoinette Perry Awards.

Two one-act plays by Albee, The Zoo Story and The American Dream, will be the next presentation of the Frank Thompson Theatre group, tentatively scheduled for February. Both were off-Broadway hits.

Also Sunday at 2 and 3 p.m., a company from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro will present The Beauty and the Beast. Reservations may be made at the main desk of the Union.

The theater will present its final performances of Antigone tonight and Saturday night at 8 p.m. Reservations may be made at the Union main desk. Student tickets are 50 cents each.

So What Are You Going To Do?

Did you know that fraternities control almost every phase of student activities?

If you go down a list of elective and appointed positions on this campus you will find virtually all of them filled with fraternity brothers or pledges, or sorority women.

Student Government, The Agromeck, and other organizations are dominated by fraternity men. In the freshman class elections, Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and the Kappa Sigs contested virtually every possible position with pledges.

Why?

Obviously it is advantageous for a group to control campus life. It builds the character of the people involved, and adds to a fraternity's prestige. The alumni, for example, will contribute more readily to an active fraternity.

But more importantly, an extracurricular activity gives a person interests outside of the everyday studying strait jacket.

So what is the gripe against fraternities having an interest in outside activities?

Nothing. The positions that open year after year in various organizations are filled by the people who are interested enough to work. The fraternity system allows a continuance of this interest year to year, and the independents have no continuing foundations from which to work. Therefore, the fraternities have a slight advantage.

This advantage, however, applies only to groups. Individuals may still influence other individuals from year to year, so there is actually no reason that a minority can dominate the majority. It all comes back to the fact that the people who work the hardest and do the best job will come to the top in any organization. On this basis, the positions gained have been earned, and there is no cause for criticism, just because the people at the top happen to have another outside interest called a fraternity.

So what are you going to do? Will you work for an organization? Will you run for a Student Government office? Do you think you might like to join a sports car club, or a wildlife club, or even a professional organization such as the ASChE or AIIE? Campus Crier is full of notices of meetings being held by various groups. Why not go to an Ag Council picnic, or the Design School's Beaux Arts Ball?

Perhaps you are against organizations, and think of yourself as a free thinker and an Independent. If so, name one thing you have done to better the life of your fellow student that has not helped you at the same time in some way, if you can name anything at all.

On this campus, anyone can do anything if only he has the initiative to try. Fraternity and sorority people have demonstrated this initiative, and they are on top. Congratulations.

CONTENTION

To the Editor:

I noticed a letter in the Contention column of your Monday issue which was written by four ex-staff members of WKNC. As station manager, I feel it my duty to point out a number of errors contained in that letter.

"The station has over $35,000 worth of equipment. This was paid for with your money." This statement is acceptable only if "your" includes all State students since 1946 and a sizable number of Raleigh merchants. These merchants have, on the average, provided one-third of the cost of operating WKNC through advertising.

"... it is not operating under its constitution..." This is correct. However, the constitution was suspended in order to provide a testing period for a new organizational setup. This suspension took place with the full knowledge and cooperation of the Administration and the Board of Publications.

"... Ronald Pearson was appointed program director by the station manager, William Powell... without consideration of the Board of Appointments or the staff. This would be unconstitutional—if the constitution were in effect." The Board of Appointments is not mentioned in the constitution. As to the appointment—Constitution of the Student Broadcasting System: 1958-59 Revision: Article V, Section A: "His (the station manager's) duties shall be: ... 6. To appoint and recall the Program Director..."

"In further violation of the constitution... Mr. Pearson... appointed George Stockton to a position of control over...

the production staff." The title you are searching for, gentlemen, is Chief Announcer.

"... Ronald Pearson, who has seemingly acquired the status of a one-man censorship board."

Article VI, Section A: "His (the Program Director's) duties shall be:

- ... 3. To supervise all training of new production staff members.
- 4. To supervise the purchase and filing of records and transcriptions.
- ... 6. To appoint and recall, with the approval of the Station Manager, ... the Chief Announcer. ..."

"this act of discarding many records is just throwing your money into the trash can." The records were given to staff members, not discarded. They were not paid for—they were sent to us free of charge.

While the staff of WKNC has been reduced in recent months, those who are left are of the highest quality. They have worked day and night to turn this station into an asset of the campus community. More—and I might add, better—announcers are being trained. All students who are interested in what this fantastic crew has done are invited to hear a progress report before the next meeting of the Board of Publications. Time and place of the meeting will be announced in The Technician.

While reading the Dalhousie College Dalhousie Gazette our attention was immediately attracted by the full-page story which began:

COEDS REJECT SEX

A sex survey undertaken by the Dalhousie Gazette indicates that never have so many owed so much to so few coeds. Fifty-five per cent of the male populace indulge in sexual relations, while 80 per cent of the unmarried girls are still virgins.

We noticed this in the Daily Tar Heel: "What's blue and goes 'ding-dong'?" Why an Avon lady at the North Pole, of course.

The Clemson Tiger has this variation on a theme by Ann Landers:

Dear Bullwinkle:

All of my 11 wives have met with mysterious accidents, but now I have just married the loveliest one of them all. Should I tell her about the others?

Strange

Dear Strange:

Why unduly frighten her? Anyway, re-telling the story would probably only be a strain on you. Save your strength for her inquest.

Dear Bullwinkle:

Is it possible for me to clear up my rotten complexion by rubbing it with something?

Dear Bad Face:

Yes, thousands have found help by applying a blow torch to those unsightly blemishes. I know this because thousands have received this information from me, and no one has ever written back.

Bullwinkle

YES, IT'S TRUE. We have seen some unusual (and hopefully, timely!) advertisements, but this one that appeared in the Wake Forest College Old Gold and Black is about the most:

Syme Tops Alexander For Dormitory Crown

By RONNIE CAMPBELL

Syme edged previously undefeated Alexander, 14-12, Wednesday afternoon to take the dormitory intramural football crown. The winning margin came on points after touchdown for Syme in a come-from-behind victory.

Alexander took an early lead in the game, scoring in the second period on a 14-yard runback with an intercepted pass by Abbey Maurd. Maurd was also responsible for Alexander's second touchdown with a 40-yard pass to Fred Campbell in the third period. Both passes for the point-after-touchdown were incomplete, however, to provide the victory margin for Syme.

Syme, which stopped the winning ways of Becton last week in the semifinal round of action, was not so unfortunate in the PAT department. After the first touchdown, Gordon Jones scored the extra point and Terry Gaede made it 14-12 as he scored the point after the second touchdown.

Joe Stilwell's passing contributed to all 14 of Syme's points on four tosses. In the third quarter, Stilwell tossed 20 yards to Paul Lineberger for Syme's first score. The winning touchdown also came on a pass from Stilwell, connecting to Steven Linbeck on a 30-yard bomb. The two extra point passes from Stilwell were received by Jones and Gaede.

Syme completed the regular season schedule in Section #3 with a 5-1 record to take first place. In the first round of the tournament, Syme downed Bragaw North #1. A win over Becton in the semi-final round brought the finalist position. Alexander finished in first place of Section #4 with a 6-1 mark. Alexander defeated Owen #1 and Tucker #2 on the way to the final game.

Football Comments

By COACH EDWARDS

Our game with Wake Forest this Friday night has become one of major importance to us. We have prepared for it as carefully as we can, and I think our squad will go all out to win it. We know that Wake Forest feels the same way about the game and perhaps has less to lose than we have.

The Wake Forest team has an impressive statistical record—leading the conference in rushing. They have two of the most outstanding individuals in the conference in fullback Brian Piccolo and quarterback John Mackovic. These two star performers are backed by a good solid football squad that have surprised everybody by their accomplishments this season.

We know the kind of challenge we face, and are most anxious to get the job done.

Newcomb Talks On Speaker Ban

By JAY STUART

Allen Newcomb, director of public affairs of Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Co. in Charlotte, gave the third in a series of seminars being held by Sigma Nu fraternity.

Newcomb, who spoke Wednesday night, talked on "Communism and the Speaker Ban Law."

Newcomb gave an analysis of the history, passage, and subsequent aftermath of the bill's passing. The main features of the law as Newcomb sees them are (1) the question of motive for the law, which he thinks is borne out by the method of passage; (2) It is a poorly drawn bill; (3) It is embarrassing to the University. The rumor Newcomb gave for the motivation to pass the law was that certain legislators in the General Assembly wanted to embarrass the University.

These legislators blamed the University for the pressure that had been brought to bear on them by civil rights demonstrations. They believed that the University had not acted properly by not curbing the activities of professors in civil rights demonstrations, Newcomb said.

As to the future of the law, Newcomb expressed the belief that the powerful political figures in the state will eventually bring about the repeal of the law.

Commenting on the theory of communism, Newcomb said that the two basic assumptions of communism (there is no God or man is a thinking animal, and human nature is determined by environment) are in direct opposition to American democratic beliefs (there is a God or man has intrinsic rights, and man's nature determines his environment.)

The next speaker in the series will be the Honorable S. Pretlow Winborne, judge, Raleigh Municipal Court, who will speak on "The Dilemma of the Courts."

'Marriage-Go-Round' Misses Mark

By THOM FRASER

The Tarheelian Playhouse is presenting its first production, The Marriage-Go-Round, running through Saturday night.

The play is the potentially hilarious tale of a college professor and Dean of Women into whose married life comes the daughter of a Swedish colleague whose sole purpose is having the professor father her child. Thus, the play is two hours of his efforts to resist her advances and his wife's efforts to get her out of the house.

This production, which features Eddie Albert as the professor, Elena Karam as his wife, and Diane Rousseau as the Swedish seducer, is unfortunately anything but hilarious. One N. C. State English professor flatly stated at the intermission, "The play stinks," and it must be admitted that he was not wholly inaccurate. The success of the performance is completely dependent on the skill of the actress portraying the Swedish blonde and Miss Rousseau, the "local North Carolina girl made good" (or not so good in this case), is totally inadequate for the part. Eddie Albert himself, although a well-known and capable performer, does not seem at home in this comedy. Miss Karam, on the other hand, seems to carry her part well, but with no backing, it is to no avail. Thus the play becomes interminable, broken only by a comparatively fascinating intermission.

The Tarheelian Playhouse, billed as North Carolina's only full-time professional theater, is presently housing in the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium. The choice of sites is an unfortunate one for 500 people in a hall seating 3,500 hardly provides a warm, congenial atmosphere. But in spite of the general lack of polish, we must admit the set was the best this reviewer has seen off Broadway.

It is to be hoped that the producer and backers of this theatrical effort are able to remedy the prevailing situation before the January production, for there is a real audience for good theater in the Raleigh area, as the Raleigh Little Theatre demonstrates; but as of now the latter is a much better investment of time and money.

The play will run today at 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. and Saturday at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Tickets may be reserved for $3.50 each by calling 832-5876.

Earns its name from a 400-cu.-in., 345-bhp V-8 . . . 4-barrel carb . . . and twin pipes. Red-line tires, heavy-duty suspension, three transmission availabilities liven up the package—no matter which F-85 V-8 coupe or convertible you pick for your 4-4-2 action! But the real clincher is price: 4-4-2 prices start lower than any other high-performance car in America designed for everyday driving! Vonda, by the way, is not included. But that's no problem for a tiger like you!

Watch for the 4-4-2 . . . coming to your Oldsmobile Quality Dealer's soon!
