STATE HOLDS V. P. I. SCORELESS IN FIRST TWO PERIODS, BUT LOSE

Wolfpack Defense Slips in Second Half; Slated to Lose by Large Score, Wolfpack Holds and Outplays V.P.I. in First Half, But Yields Two Touchdowns in Second; V.P.I. Failed to Make First Down in First Half.

Slated to lose to V. P. I. by a large margin, State sprung a surprise and held the powerful V. P. I. eleven to a score of 16 to 0. For two periods the Wolfpack clearly outplayed the V. P. I. team, and at the beginning of the last half neither team had been able to score. Play during these periods was largely in V. P. I.'s territory, but the V. P. I. club came back strong in the second period and by calling upon its reserve strength was able to score two touchdowns and a field goal.

In the first quarter State was able to make two first downs, but not only that, kept V. P. I. from scoring a single one. This quarter, as the next, belonged to the Wolfpack. It was in

THE A. S. C. E. HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Messrs. Batchelor and Morris Deliver Interesting Speeches on the Occasion

On Thursday night the Student Branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers met in Winston Hall, at which time Mr. W. P. Batchelor told about "Uncle Sam's Valuable Interest in Our State Highways," and Mr. W. S. Morris gave his report of the convention of the A. S. C. E.

Before the program began, the following men were appointed on the Publicity Committee by the President, W. L. Trevathan: F. S. Trantham, chairman; W. S. Morris, and P. H. Barnes. This committee was urged to begin operations immediately. The Program Committee announced that at the next meeting Dr. Riddick would speak to the society on "The Value of Our Eastern Swamp Lands."

Mr. W. P. Batchelor gave an interesting talk, bringing to our attention the interest of the National Government in the State highways. He had the material well in hand, and followed a logical outline in the development of his assigned topic.

At this meeting W. S. Morris gave an account of his trip to the Fall Convention of the National Society, which was held in Richmond, Va., and Washington, D. C., October 17-20. Morris gave a pleasing report of the business sessions of the Convention, and told in detail the trip to Jamestown, William and Mary College, U. S. Army Base, Navy Yard, Aviation Station, Fortress Monroe, Yorktown, and Washington. For those particularly interested in highway work, the road tests at Arlington Farms, Va., were explained and illustrated by photographs. A copy of the summary of the detailed tests were filed with the secretary for reference by the members.

A CORRECTION

In the November 2d issue of The Technician and in the article headed "The Room Situation," there appeared an error, due either to carelessness in copying the original draft or to the printer. The error has made the statements false and caused some criticism. The article should have read University of South Carolina, instead of University of North Carolina. The author was aware that such conditions did not exist at the University of North Carolina, and the article as it appeared was very different from the original draft.

WOLFPACK WINS FROM WILDCATS IN BITTER, BUT CLEAN CONTEST

WORK STARTED ON THE THOMPSON GYM.

It Will Be Practically Fireproof and Will Rival Any in the South

By the opening of the next fall term the College will have a long-felt want satisfied. The contract has been let and work is now well under way on the excavation for the Frank Thompson Gymnasium. The contractor is under bond to have the building completed by September 10, 1924. The total cost of the building, including architects' fees, but exclusive of equipment, is $215,700, and it will be an equal to the finest gymnasium in the South.

The architect for the building is Hobart Upjohn, of New York. Mr. Upjohn has been engaged by the College to draw up plans for several new buildings, one of which is the new dormitory now under construction across the railroad. The contractor is the Gaskill Construction Company of Wilson. Mr. Gaskill, the president of the company, is an alumnus of State, having graduated in 1916. He has achieved marked success in the past few years, as many buildings built by him will testify.

The gymnasium is named in honor of Frank Thompson of Raleigh, a graduate of the Class of 1910, who was killed in action during the World War. Thompson, a first lieutenant, was at the head of his men as they went over the top on September 13, 1918, and he was killed during the encounter.

Situated across the railroad from Riddick Field, the gym will be connected with the new athletic field which was built last summer. It will be accessible to both fields by means of a pass under the railroad which separates the two.

The building will be about three hundred feet in length, facing the railroad on the north and the athletic field on the west. The main entrance will be on the northern end. Here will be a large trophy room, with adjoining offices for the directors of athletics. The main gym floor will be 130 feet by 110 feet. This is large enough for two basketball courts. There is to be a balcony around the gym floor, to be used as an indoor running track. This is provided with auxiliary seating accommodations. These seats and those on the main floor will accommodate 4,000 spectators at indoor sports, such as basketball, boxing and wrestling. In addition to this gym, an auxiliary gym-

Wolfpack Scores Two Touchdowns in Second Period and Threatens Several Other Times; Wildcats Score Touchdown in Last Quarter; Aerial Attack Used to Big Advantage by Both Elevens.

The Wolfpack clearly outclassed the Davidson Wild Cats and defeated them by the score of 12 to 6. The score does not show the class of football displayed by the Wolfpack. Both teams earned their scores, but State should have had two more. Unlucky breaks hurt at times.

Neither side was able to advance the ball for more than one consecutive first down, so the first quarter was more a kicking game than anything else, with Davidson gaining on every kick. The second quarter began and ended in a ash. State had the ball on Davidson's 46-yard line after Davidson had received a 15-yard penalty for holding. Johnson ripped through tackle for a first down. Davidson received another

Mr. Comstock, Grand Master of Tennessee, was also present and gave a few helpful remarks.

After the business was over, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. Among those present, other than students, were Prof. Nelson, Prof. Shunk, Prof. Shumaker, Mr. Jamison, Mr. Cullins, and Major George Cox.

OPPORTUNITY

In one of the old Greek cities there stood, long ago, a statue. Every trace of it has vanished now. But there is still in existence a conversation which gives us an excellent description of it, and as we read the words we can surely discover the lesson which those wise old Greeks meant that the statue should teach to every passer-by.

The interview is in the form of a conversation between a traveler and the statue: "What is thy name, O Statue?" "I am called Opportunity." "Who made thee?" "Lysippus." "Why art thou on thy toes?" "To show that I stay but a moment." "Why hast thou wings on thy feet?" "To show how quickly I can pass by." "But why is thy hair so long on thy forehead?" "That men may seize me when they meet me." "Why, then, is thy head so bald behind?" "To show that when I have once passed I cannot be caught."

J. STITT WILSON'S VISIT

State College men were very fortunate to have the opportunity of hearing the messages of Hon. J. Stitt Wilson during the past week. It is very evident that Mr. Wilson is a man of high calibre, and we feel sure that his visit to our College has helped us a great deal.

THE PARADE MONDAY

As the line of khaki-clad men marched down Fayetteville Street we were carried back to 1918, when the world was gladdened by the good news of the signing of the Armistice. State's line was the comment of the spectators.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO CONDUCT SUNDAY EVENING SERVICE

On Sunday evening, November 18, the evening service at Pullen Memorial Church will be in charge of the three main young peoples' organizations of the church, namely, the B. Y. P. U., State College Bible Class, and the Senior Girls' Sunday School Class. The church officials will be given a holiday, with the privilege of sitting in the pew and watching the young people carry out the program.

The church will be made attractive by the use of flowers and ferns. Special music will be given by the State College Quartette, and perhaps, Meredith Sextette. Short talks, given by three or four students or other young people, will set forth the work of the Church-Student Committee which has been serving as the Executive Board of Mr. R. M. Warren. More definite information as to the exact program will be announced later.

Such a program serves two distinct purposes. First, to give the young people training in such activities, and second, to acquaint the Baptist students and others with the plan and program of student activities in the State and local church. The program will be planned to be something that will interest and surprise all who come. The student members of the Church-Student Committee are: Carl Bridges, C. D. Faucette, Leslie Andrews, H. F. Curtis, and E. J. Whitaker. The committee desires to have 100 per cent Baptist students attend this meeting, and a very large per cent of the local members. Save Sunday evening, November 18, for this meeting, and listen for further plans. Everybody is cordially invited to attend this service, and will be given a hearty welcome.

CAN WE IMPROVE OUR BOARDING DEPARTMENT?

In the beginning let me say that I do not intend to discuss the physical equipment and method of handling our boarding department, because from the observations I have made I believe we have a boarding department which is, in physical equipment and method of handling, equal to or better than any with which I am acquainted.

It was my privilege to inspect the boarding departments of the North Carolina College for Women, the University of North Carolina, and more recently Emory University in Atlanta, and to have correspondence with those in charge of the boarding departments in many other colleges in the South, and I do not believe any of them excel us.

But in the matter of students' conduct in the dining halls I believe we might learn something from each of those I have visited.

I always welcome an opportunity to take a meal in our dining hall, but every time I have this opportunity it is impressed upon me more forcibly that we are all in too big a hurry about our meals.

Before the doors are open there is a rush to be among the first to get in, and once inside many of us cannot wait for those back of us to get in and at their places before we begin to eat. If there are any notices to be read out, many of us cannot stop eating long enough to stop the rattle of our knives and forks so that those who are interested may hear what is being said.

Let's look for a moment at our schedule and see if we could not spare a little more time for our eating without in any way interfering with our work. Breakfast is served at 7 and our first class is at 8. If we are all in the dining hall by 7:05, which is ample time, we could easily spend twenty to twenty-five minutes eating, take seven minutes to get back to our rooms, use fifteen minutes in sweeping out our rooms and making our beds, and still have twelve or thirteen minutes to spare before our first class.

The same is true at dinner. We have forty-five minutes in which to eat and get to our first class. And we could easily spend twenty minutes actually at the table at supper time.

The point I am trying to make is that we have time enough allotted to our meal hours to enable us to eat at a quiet, reasonable rate and still meet all our classes on time.

It is so easy for us to get into the habit of joining in this mad rush at meal time that we don't notice it, and in a short time we lose all the pleasant fellowship and certainly a great deal of real value there is in a meal eaten slower and more quietly.

This is the one difference that has impressed itself upon me as I have eaten at the dining halls in two or three other colleges, and as I have eaten occasionally in our own. There is no doubt in my own mind but that we can improve on our own conduct of our meals.

I hope these few suggestions of mine will be taken in the spirit which prompted the writing of them, namely, that of constructive criticism. I boarded in our dining hall three years, and I waited on the table two years, so that I know something of the problems connected with such an enterprise, but I am convinced that we as a student body can add much to the real enjoyment of the meal hours and much more to the

To a priest came a young woman one day who had an exaggerated idea of her charms, and who confessed she feared she had a besetting sin.

"And what is it?" asked the priest, kindly.

"It is this," she replied, her eyes cast down. "Every time I pass a mirror I think of my beauty."

"Faith, daughter," said the priest, "that's no sin; no sin at all. Just a slight mistake, daughter; just a trifling error in judgment."

How Parker Prevents Leaking

In Ways Other Pens Cannot Follow

Read this—then try the new Parker D.Q. made for Students only, $3

GEO. S. PARKER entered the fountain pen business 31 years ago because he was able to discover the two vital remedies for leaking. They are:

1. The Parker "Lucky Curve" feed, created and patented by Mr. Parker, which induces capillary attraction, thus making a steady flow while you're writing, and draining back the unused ink when you're through.
2. The Parker "Duo-Sleeve" Cap which forms an ink-tight seal with the barrel when kept tightly screwed on.

These two engineering achievements are built in all Parker pens regardless of price. The new Parker D. Q.—the special pen made for students only—has, in addition, an extra large ring to link to your note-book, or a pocket-clip—either one included free. Also a metal girdle that reinforces the cap.

It's produced by Parker Duofold craftsmen. Its point is 14k gold, tipped with Native Iridium, polished to jewel-like smoothness. Measured by all standards, it's far the finest pen value ever produced under $5. You'll miss the newest thing out if you fail to ask for it.

NORRIS ATHLETIC TROPHY ELECTION IS SCHEDULED

A Matter of Interest to All State College Men, It Should Receive Serious Consideration

The primary election, which will nominate three candidates for the Norris Athletic Trophy, will be held during the first week of December, the exact date and voting places to be announced later.

Every student of the College should begin to give serious consideration to the approaching primary, as each regularly enrolled student is eligible for voting, and will be expected to cast a ballot for the candidate of his choice.

As set forth in the "Rules of Award" printed herewith, the trophy will be awarded at the 1924 commencement to the student who most distinguishes himself in athletics during the calendar year, 1923. The three men receiving the highest number of votes in the primary will become candidates for the trophy, and from the three nominated in the primary, the winner will be chosen in the general election, held next April, when the officers of Student Government are elected.

The "Rules of Award" follow:

The Norris Athletic Trophy for 1923 will be awarded at the commencement of 1924, under the following regulations, to the student who most distinguishes himself in athletics during the calendar year, 1923:

1. The Norris Athletic Trophy Committee, made up of the Director of Athletics, the chairman of the Faculty Athletic Committee, the Graduate Manager of Athletics, the President of the student body, and the Alumni Secretary, with Mr. Frank E. Lowenstein, of Atlanta, Ga., as ex officio chairman, shall have charge of the details of awarding the trophy. In the absence of the ex officio chairman, the Director of Athletics shall preside at all meetings of the committee. The Alumni Secretary shall preside at all meetings of the committee. The Alumni Secretary shall act as secretary to the committee, and shall keep a record of all proceedings.

2. To be eligible for the trophy the prospective recipient must have attained a passing grade on at least seventy per cent of his scholastic work carried during the year.

3. The winner shall be determined by a popular vote of the student body in a primary election to be held annually during the first week in December, and in a final election to be held annually at the same time and place that balloting occurs for the election of officers of the student government.

4. The three men receiving the highest number of votes in the primary election shall be considered as candidates for the trophy, and shall enter the final election to be held simultaneously with the election of officers of the student government, as above provided.

5. Each regularly enrolled student of the College may vote once for the candidate of his choice in the primary by writing the said candidate's name on the ballot prepared for that purpose and depositing same in the ballot box; but after the field of candidates has been narrowed to three by the primary only the three men receiving the highest number of votes shall be considered in the final election.

6. Ballots for the final election shall carry the names of each of the three candidates, and the voter shall indicate his choice by a cross-mark (X) after the name of the candidate for whom he elects to vote.

7. Balloting in both the primary and final election shall be conducted by representatives of the Norris Athletic Trophy Committee. Immediately after the primary, the committee shall determine from a count the three candidates to enter the final election. Their names shall be published in the students' newspaper, The Technician, and also be posted on all College bulletin boards.

8. If the three men receiving the highest number of votes in the primary are below the scholarship standard adopted, the committee may substitute the names of the next highest men whose scholastic work meets the requirement. In determining the scholastic standing of a student the committee shall be guided by the records on file in the Registrar's office.

9. All expenses incurred in holding both the primary and the final election, such as the cost of printing the ballots, shall be borne by the State College Athletic Association.

10. The name of the winner of the trophy shall be given to the commencement Program Committee, to be printed in the commencement program, and the trophy shall be awarded along with other awards, medals, etc., at commencement.

PULLEN TEAM WINS THE FIRST ANNUAL CONTEST

Using as his subject, "Vindication From Treason," J. E. Weber, of Pullen Literary Society, won first honor in the annual declamation contest last Tuesday evening. He was declared to be one of the best speakers the society has produced in many years. R. B. Winchester, the other member of Pullen's team, won second place by his excellent speaking, using the subject, "The Unknown Speaker."

As usual, Leazar was present with a strong team, composed of R. H. Scott and Frank Seymour, both of whom made a good showing. Unusual interest was shown this year in this contest, and more men than ever reported for the preliminaries. Another reason for the improvement is the fact that the men were trained more thoroughly than the teams heretofore have been. With this beginning, these men have set a new standard for the other contests to be held throughout the year.

nasium is to be provided. In here will be installed the regular gym equipment, such as bars, weights, rings and exercising apparatus. The swimming pool on the southern end of the building will be 75 by 35 feet, and nine feet at the deepest point. The entire room is to be in tile.

The armory for the military department will occupy half of the basement floor. The other half will be used for offices, showers, rooms for the home and visiting teams, and storage rooms. A large band room will also be located here.

The gymnasium will be practically fireproof, being built largely of concrete and steel, with an exterior of red brick and limestone.

Mr. C. H. Byrd is in charge of the work for the Gaskill Construction Company. Mr. Byrd has been doing large building construction for many years, having built the Seminole Hotel at Jacksonville and the high school at Rapids, North Carolina. Both buildings are excellent examples of construction work.

For a long time our basket ball team has been severely handicapped by the lack of a suitable place to practice. With the completion of the Thompson Gymnasium, the team should show a marked improvement. We will then be able to develop a swimming team, as the small "Y" pool has not been large enough for this purpose.

This gymnasium will be a building of which every State College man can be justly proud, and where every student can get that physical training which he desires.

A MORNING PRAYER

(By a College Man.)

My God and my Heavenly Father, I bow before Thy throne at this the beginning of a new day. Before looking on the face of men, I would look on Thee, who art my strength and my God. Give me the strength to withstand the temptations of this day. Grant that I may catch a vision of the Christ this day, and in catching this vision, may I press on with diligence toward the prize, which is Christ Jesus. As I obtain this prize, my God, grant that I may learn to abhor those sins that blight my life and destroy my soul.

I pray that I may be of some help to my fellowmen this day. If I can help some soul to see life, I will not count this day lost. God, give me strength to lead the kind of life that will make my fellowmen want to seek Thee.

Finally, Father, may my speech and my thoughts be acceptable in Thy sight, for I ask it in the name of the Christ. Amen.

penalty, this time five yards, for off-side. Two passes, Lassiter to Elms, netted 24 yards and put the ball in scoring position. Lassiter hit the line for a gain. Then "Dutch" Holland went the remaining distance for a touchdown. Lassiter failed to drop kick for the extra point.

Davidson received the kick-off, but was unable to gain, so Shepard punted. A long pass, Lassiter to Johnson, netted 45 yards and again put the ball in a scoring position. Two line bucks and Holland again carried the ball across the line. Lassiter again failed to add the extra point by drop kick, due largely to a low pass from the center. The half ended when Covington almost got away after receiving a long pass from Shepard.

In the third quarter neither team was able to score, but State threatened several times. The ball exchanged hands many times, since both teams were called upon again and again to punt. Shepard was getting off some fair punts, while Elms was unable to get his punts off with much distance left on the ground.

Davidson had the ball in midfield when the last quarter began. Davidson was unable to gain, so they punted. State also was unable to gain, but Elms was only able to punt 18 yards. A first down made through the line and a penalty for off-side put the ball on State's two-yard line. Four line bucks failed to gain anything for Davidson, and State took the ball on her two-yard line. A pass, Lassiter to Johnson, was grounded by inches. Elms then punted out. With five minutes to play, Davidson took to the aerial game, which proved successful to them. A 15-yard pass from Hendrix to "Flash" Covington, who raced 23 yards, netted Davidson a touchdown. An attempt to place-kick for the extra point failed, as State's line rushed through and broke it up. The Wolfpack was kept from scoring in the last few minutes of play only by the blowing of the whistle to announce that the game was over.

Black's line plunging, along with the spectacular run of Covington, were the featuring men for Davidson. Holland was the outstanding star in State's advance, but Johnson's run was one of the features of the game. Charlie Shuford, who substituted for Holland in the last quarter, was able to gain almost at will. Beatty, Seawell and Cox played the best game in the line. Captain Bostian was kept on the bench to recover from injuries received in the V. M. I. game.

State Holds V.P.I. Scoreless in First Two Periods, But Loses

these periods that she showed her greatest offensive and defensive strength. Too much credit cannot be given to the Wolfpack's line in this half. At every instance they were breaking through and getting their man, or else they were holding whenever a play came their way. While they held on the defensive, they were opening up holes for their backs on the offensive. If Virginia Tech had not had the reserve strength upon which to call, then there might have been a different story to tell; but they had it and used it, while the Wolfpack did not have any upon which to fall back. State put everything they had in the game and the strain and tear was too hard for them to withstand during the whole game.

Rutherford's Fatal Toe

The trusty toe of Dan Rutherford started the Wolfpack on the down hill trail shortly after the opening of the second half. State kicked off to Sutton, who returned the ball to State's 45-yard line. They then gained their first down of the game, but again the Wolfpack's line held and Rutherford kicked a field goal from the 35-yard line.

After the score, State received the kick-off but failed to gain, and Elms punted out of bounds at midfield. The Virginia Techs made another first down, but were again checked and Rutherford tried another field goal, this time from the 45-yard line. It fell short by just a few inches. State was unable to gain, so Elms punted and V. P. I. had the ball on State's 40-yard line. A pass, Sutton to Moss, netted 25 yards. Three plays and Virginia Tech had another first down, this time with the ball on State's 3-yard line. Moss crashed through for a touchdown. Rutherford added the extra point with a field goal.

Much Punting

The Wolfpack again received. From his own 10-yard line Johnson circled the end for 15 yards and a first down. Three passes were grounded in succession and then Elms punted to V. P. I.'s 35-yard line. Virginia Tech was unable to gain, and Rutherford punted 60 yards to State's 10-yard line. Here the period ended.

It was this boot that gave V. P. I.

their second touchdown, for Elms was forced to punt and only made 30 yards. Rutherford scraped up his punt and raced 20 yards to the Wolfpack's 20-yard line. A pass, Rutherford to Sutton, netted 15 yards and three tries at State's line netted a touchdown. Captain Sutton carried the ball over and Rutherford missed a field goal for the extra point.

The third and fourth periods belonged to the Virginians, while the first and second were State's. With a fresh backfield and several line replacements, Virginia Tech was able to keep the ball in State's territory most of the last half. Several penalties might have prevented them from scoring again in the last period.

State played through the entire game without receiving a single penalty, but the Wolfpack suffered heavily in penalties. Captain Bostian was forced out in the third period, being replaced by Beatty at center, and Seawell and Cox were forced out just a little later.

Al Johnson was the best ground gainer for State, and Sam Wallis showed great ability at handling passes. Elms played a good defensive game until receiving a hard knock on the head. Seawell played a fine game at guard, breaking through several times and throwing men for losses.

COMMERCE CLUB TAKES IN NEW MEN

The Commerce Club held its regular meeting last Tuesday night in Ricks Hall. The principal feature of the evening was the initiation of new men. The event was fully enjoyed by all, both the new and old men, but especially by the old men. There were quite a few questionable remarks made by the victims, as they bravely went through the terrors and turmoils, seeking entrance into the club of knowledge, such as the following: "Oh! I feel so young"; "These are all the trousers I have"; "Boys, don't let me bleed to death," etc.

The men initiated into the club were: W. E. Laws, J. D. Jordan, D. M. McMillan, B. Q. Dixon, G. F. McBanager, V. W. Smith, J. A. Rowland, W. P. Shuford, R. G. Thomas, Fred Truxler, D. J. Pleasant, J. H. Pustell, J. H. Allen, T. C. Howell, J. W. Carrell, Jr., B. E. Hendricks, J. C. Beal, W. H. Bealy, E. S. Teddin, W. Q. Gravelly.

After the initiations, a business meeting was called. At this time the president outlined briefly to the new men, the plans of the Commerce Club for the year. Other business was transacted. And last but not least, the announcement of the smoker to be given the club by the faculty of the B. Q. Department at its next regular meeting.

CABARRUS COUNTY CLUB ORGANIZED

The Cabarrus County Club was organized on Thursday night, November 8th, with sixteen charter members.

The officers elected to guide the club for the following year are: W. E. Shinn, president; W. M. Lentz, vice-president; R. H. Webb, secretary and treasurer, and D. O. Price, reporter.

A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws and to prepare a program for the next meeting.

Cabarrus County has been without a club at State for several years, but is back now bigger and better than ever, and is going to push Cabarrus to the front in the activities about the campus. "Watch Cabarrus" is our motto.

CADETS TAKE PART IN ARMISTICE DAY PARADE

On Monday, November 12th, all class work was suspended from 10:00 to 12:00 in order that the R.O.T.C. regiment might participate in the Armistice Day parade, conducted under the auspices of the Raleigh Chapter of the American Legion. At 10:30 the unit left the College and marched down Hillsboro Street in column of squads. Leaving Hillsboro on McDowell Street, the unit reached Cabarrus Street, where it was halted until the time of the parade. When the parade started the regiment proceeded to Fayetteville Street, where it took its place in the column. In front was the State College Band. Following the band was the Cadet Lieutenant Colonel with his staff. The first and second battalions followed in column of sections. The parade was one of the best ever exhibited by State College students. Numerous complimentary remarks and continued cheering from the spectators were indeed gratifying to those who took part in it.
