STATE LOSES HARD AND BITTER FOUGHT GAME TO MARYLAND

Battered Off Its Feet in First Half, Makes Strong Come-back; Great Playing by Individuals; Walkaway Cut Down to 26-to-12 Score in Second Half.

The Wolfpack, after being battered off its feet in the first half, came back with a forward passing game that completely bewildered Maryland and scored two touchdowns. At the end of the first half Maryland had made three touchdowns to one first down by State. At the end of the second half Maryland had made four touchdowns to the Wolfpack's two, accumulated fifteen first downs to the Wolfpack's thirteen. Twelve of Maryland's first downs came in the first half. The Wolfpack outclassed Maryland as much in the last half as she had been outclassed in the first half. Groves, star back for Maryland, made a brilliant forty-yard run for Maryland in the second half and scored their only touchdown. A fumble and two punts by Elms, each of which went only fifteen yards, paved the way for Maryland's touchdowns in the first half. The Wolfpack used a passing game entirely in the second half, and it was by this means that she scored her first touchdown. Her second touchdown was made possible by this same method.

Brilliant Individuals

Captain McQuade, 184-pound full-back for Maryland, was in every play of the entire game while being in there. His fine plunging, his passing, and his kicking was the best that has been seen all wrapped up in one man this year on Riddick Field.

Al Johnson, State's mighty back, stepped into the limelight in this game because of his wonderful ability to run back punts and to receive and throw forward passes.

Walter Shuford and "Red" Lassiter was a great pair, both plunging the line for gains whenever they were needed. Lassiter passed the ball with much accuracy and Shuford caught them with an equal amount. Sprague ran his team in fine style and gained ground on receiving forward passes and off-tackle plays.

The line must not be forgotten, because it was the line that held the Maryland forwards long enough to give their own men time enough to pass and catch the ball. Every man played a wonderful game.

First Quarter

State kicked off and held Maryland. They punted and State fumbled. Carrying the ball to the Wolfpack's ten-yard line, they were held

THANKSGIVING

By RUSSELL CLINE

On a rock-ribbed shore three hundred years ago,
The parents of our Nation knelt in thanks,
For Providence, good will, protection and care,
From snare and foe of the wild New England banks.

With seasoned faith, with tender hearts and hardened hands,
They reaped the golden harvest from the soil;
Though simple was their feast of fruits and grain,
A day of thanks forever stands in memory of their toil.

Far more than they we have today to render thanks,
In this our modern world of luxury and ease;
No greedy wolves howl at our cottage door,
No barbarous, hostile tribes our strength must now appease.

A harvest rich and bounteous is truly ours,
When Autumn says a day of thanks is near;
Our hearts with love and thanks to overflowing,
And kindly thoughts and deeds will crown the ripening year.

With humble hands we've sown thy seed in fertile soil,
And from our toil we gathered lovely fruits and flowers;
Then mid the splendor of this perfect Autumn day
We give up thanks and praise at this quiet hour.

THE NORTH CAROLINA COLLEGIATE PRESS ASSOCIATION ANNOUNCES STORY CONTEST

State College Men Should be Particularly Interested in This Movement

The North Carolina Collegiate Press Association, at a recent meeting, decided to publish a compilation of representative North Carolina short stories in the form of an anthology. The ten or twelve best short stories submitted will be published in the anthology. The requirements are as follows:

1. Any bona fide member of a North Carolina college may submit a story.
2. Any number of short stories may be submitted by the same author.
3. All stories, fulfilling the above conditions which have been written during the past two years are eligible, irrespective of whether they have been published.
4. It is suggested that the length of each story shall not exceed 6,000 words.
5. Two typewritten copies of each story must be submitted.
6. A short personal sketch (100 words) of the author must be turned in in a sealed envelope attached to each story.

7. All stories must be turned in before December 15 to the editors of the respective magazines and, in colleges where no magazines are published, to the editor of college publication.

8. The best stories will be selected for publication by a committee of literary educators in the State.

9. The $50 prize for the best story will be awarded on the decision of judges selected outside the State.

MR. C. O. EDDY GOES TO CLEMSON COLLEGE

Mr. C. O. Eddy, instructor in the Department of Zoology, leaves this week to take the position of Assistant Professor in the Department of Zoology at Clemson College.

Mr. Eddy has been at State College for three years and has made many friends while here, consequently it is with deep regret that we see him leave.

Inter-Society Oratorical Contest

The Annual Oratorical Contest will be held Tuesday evening, December 4th, at 7:00 o'clock, in the "Y" Auditorium. Unusual interest has been shown in preparation for the contest. This event promises to be the most interesting of any yet held between the two societies. Everyone is invited to attend.

WOLFPACK DEFEATED BY DEMON DEACONS FOR THE FIRST TIME

First Wake Forest Victory in History of Two Colleges; Baptists Have Easy Time With Wolfpack; Wolfpack Falls Below What Was Expected of Them.

The 14-to-0 defeat handed to the Wolfpack on Saturday, November 24, was the first regular defeat ever handed to them by Wake Forest. It came as a big surprise to the entire State, but it was a victory well earned. The Wolfpack did not play the same brand of ball that they put up against the strong Maryland team just one week ago. Wake Forest clearly outplayed State from the kickoff and well deserved the game which they won.

The passing game was used by both teams to great advantage. All of State's gains were made by the aerial route, while both of Wake Forest's touchdowns came directly from passes. Once, after being penalized fifteen yards, Rackley hurled a pass to gain back this lost ground. Again he hurled a pass to Armstrong, who crossed State's goal line for their second touchdown. When State was unable to gain ground through the line, she fell back on her forward passes. These proved her greatest ground gainer as well as the beginning of her defeat.

State kicked off to Wake Forest. Neither team was able to gain consistently during this quarter, so they battled back and forth down the field. Johnson fumbled a Wake Forest punt on his thirty-yard line. Wake Forest recovered and marched to State's fifteen-yard line, where the ball was grounded behind State's goal line. The period ended with the ball in State's possession on her own thirty-five-yard line.

Elms punted to Greason, but Wake Forest being unable to gain punted to State. State failed to gain, so punted back. Still another exchange of punts gave Wake Forest the ball on State's thirty-five yard line. Sykes gained twenty yards around the end. Greason and Rackley made another first down. Wake Forest was penalized fifteen yards, but Rackley threw a forward pass to Armstrong, who gained back the yardage lost on account of the penalty. Rackley gained fourteen yards on a sweeping end run and put the ball in play on State's one-yard line. He carried the ball over on one line plunge. Ellerbe kicked goal.

Wake Forest kicked off to Elms, who put the ball in play on the Wolfpack's thirty-five yard line. "Big" Shuford made five yards off-tackle, but then a pass was intercepted by

Editorials

It has been well said that our most famous American hunters are chorus girls.

Boston boy of 13 enters college, but we bet that he is far behind with his enjoyment of life.

It is reported that they have begun playing golf in South Africa. This is real golf, not African golf as we know it.

Chicago couple eloped in an aeroplane. That is the way these days; they fly high at first, but sooner or later come down.

In the New York rodeo we read that the cowboys wrestled wild cows. We wrestled a wild steak in the mess hall once.

Headlines read as follows: "New York Woman Voted Twice in One Election." Who said that women could not learn politics?"

Is this a compliment? A California professor claims that college girls are cave women. He may be judging by the clothes that they wear.

The future German race—a race of giants. The low value of the German mark is building a strong race; it takes about two men to carry a dollar.

Some of our recent graduates are teaching school, and we learn from them some of the hardships of the high school teacher. One of our alumni is teaching in a girls' school, and he says that the only answers that he can get to his questions are "Because."

THANKSGIVING DAY

At least once a year there is set aside a day of thanksgiving, a day when we should reflect and give thanks to God for the blessings that have been ours during the past year. It is fitting that the college should give a whole day from its valuable time to commemorate this day. It is hoped that the student body will catch the spirit of the day and enter into that spirit.

OUR MOVIES

We are very much pleased with the movies the Y. M. C. A. has been putting on this year. Not only have they been giving us a high class of pictures, but they are giving them to us at an almost nominal price. Things like this are a great addition to the amusements afforded the students here, and the Y. M. C. A. deserves great credit for what it has done. Mr. "Shorty" Walton is chairman of the Movie Committee. Keep up the good work, Mr. "Shorty."

THE STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONVENTION

State College is entitled to ten delegates to the Quadrennial Convention meeting in Indianapolis, December 28th to January 1st. The whole student body should be interested in seeing that every man selected goes. For surely we are as much interested in this, the greatest gathering of students in history, as our sister institution of Virginia, V. P. I.

We quote from an editorial in The Virginia Tech: "The greatest student congress in history will convene at Indianapolis from December 28th to January 1st. Every great college in the United States, and those of other nations as well, have been sent formal invitations to send student representation to this international convention. We are allowed a quota of twelve men, just a small part of the eight thousand who have been allotted representation, and yet we feel that our twelve Tech men will create a mighty wave of Tech spirit and Tech ideals, the ripple of which will be conveyed to every part of the world when this gathering is over."

Again we wish to quote from an authority on the meaning of the Student Volunteer Movement: "This movement, one of the most effective forces in student life, aims to draw closer together the thoughts and actions of all students, to present the claims of Christ on a man's life, to show the foreign field as a challenge to greater life service, and to offer association to those who have chosen this work. The conference is one of the most vital phases of the work, it is international in its thought, Christ-like in spirit. Here men come face to face with world problems, study under the greatest authorities, and find solutions for critical international needs, and finally consider Christ and His way of life as the hope of the world. It is aimed to give the students a world outlook and bring about a great international fraternal consciousness."

Though it may be the impression of some that the Volunteer Movement concerns itself only with foreign work, the facts are quite to the contrary. As an interesting example, the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association is a direct result of the Convention of 1919.

Let us see that State College sends its full quota and gets its full benefit from this convention.

A STATEMENT FROM THE COLLEGE LAUNDRY

Raleigh, N. C.,
November 27, 1923.

To the Editor of THE TECHNICIAN:

If you will be so kind as to allow me space in your publication, I would like to make a few statements in regard to the College Laundry, its growth, its present position, and the standpoint of the College Laundry on the proposed flat-rate system. I appreciate fully the fact that you have been kind enough to say the things that you have with reference to the laundry situation.

In 1919, when the present management took over the College Laundry, the laundry system at this institution was far from being up-to-date. A number of the faculty who were here in 1919 and also alumni who were here at that time will bear us out in these statements. The laundry now is a modern plant and compares favorably with a $25,000 plant today. The quality of our work speaks for itself; we use the best supplies that can be bought on the American markets and invite comparison with any city laundry with regard to quality of work done.

WHY THE FLAT-RATE SYSTEM WAS OFFERED

The laundry management has been approached by hundreds of alumni as well as students here on the campus today, including some members of the Board of Trustees, to offer some system whereby every student could have his laundry done at a nominal charge. Growing out of this situation the present plan was offered.

With this system in operation, expert laundrymen say that no great profits can be made by the operator. This statement was made in the presence of officials of this college by a well-known laundryman in this section. Therefore, we offer the flat-rate system because it will put the laundry on a business basis, being then able to render uniform and better service because of added facilities made possible by a definite idea of the amount of work to be done.

There was no selfish motive behind this offer, and if the students refuse to accept it no harm will result—except to the individual student who will have to pay the usual rate for his laundry.

Consequently, if this offer is not accepted within the next week or so, the present management will not make an offer again. The college owns and operates the laundry plant at cost for the students. Do not take our word for these things; investigate for yourself.

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) J. B. CULLINS.

SHORT STORY CONTEST

Appearing elsewhere in this issue is the statement of the rules for the short story contest fostered by the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association. We want every man in State College to consider writing a story to enter in this contest. Read the rules and the whole article. The staff urges you to take part in this contest. See any member of the staff for further information.

OUR NEXT ISSUE

The next issue of THE TECHNICIAN will be the Football Issue. If you have some material that should be in this issue, please get it into the office as soon as possible. Your co-operation in the success of this issue is most earnestly solicited. We owe it to our athletes to give them the credit that is due them for their service to our noble institution.

STATE COLLEGE SPIRIT

If the spirit of a student body is responsible for the winning of a grid contest, State College would surely be at the big end of the score in the game with Washington and Lee on Turkey Day. The student body meeting which was held in Pullen Hall on Tuesday night showed that the spirit of the campus was far from dead. At this meeting plans were discussed for a parade to escort the team to the station for their trip to Norfolk.

Classes were suspended on Wednesday from 10:00 to 12:00. The student body assembled by classes, one hundred per cent strong for the parade. In it the Senior Class led, being followed by the Junior Class. Next came the automobiles bearing the team. Behind this came the Sophomore and Freshman classes. The Band joined in the parade at the capital and proceeded from there down Fayetteville Street to the station.

Although forced to accept third honors in the State, the students of State College have not lost faith in their team, and by the parade proved to the citizens of Raleigh that the Wolfpack had their hearty co-operation.

- WINFIELD SCOTT MORRIS, Wilmington, N. C. Civil Engineering.
- THOMAS OWEN EVANS, Jr., Maxton, N. C. Agricultural Administration.
- ADOLPH JENKINS HONEYCUTT, Durham, N. C. Agricultural Administration.
- WM. LAWRENCE TREVATHAN, Rocky Mount, N. C. Civil Engineering.

The above men were elected from the Senior Class to membership in The Pine Burr Society during the first part of the present school term and were recently initiated into full membership.

Each one of these is a man who has proven his ability in student activities, and whose scholastic record has shown his eligibility to membership in the society.

The society believes that it has added men who have its purposes at heart, and who will be a great aid in the furthering of its purposes in the building of a Greater State College.

THANKSGIVING

Thankful for the glory of the old
Red, White and Blue,
For the spirit of America that still is staunch and true;
For the laughter of our children and the sunlight in their eyes, And the joy of radiant mothers and their evening lullabies;
And thankful that our harvests wear
no taint of blood today,
But were sown and reaped by toilers who were light of heart and gay.

Thankful for the riches that are ours to claim and keep,
The joy of honest labor and the boon
of happy sleep;
For each little family circle where there is no empty chair,
Save where God has sent the sorrow for the loving hearts to bear;
And thankful for the loyal souls and brave hearts of the past Who builded that contentment should be with us to the last.

Thankful for the plenty that our peaceful land has blessed,
For the rising sun that beckons every man to do his best,
For the flaming torch of justice, symbolizing as 't burns:
Here none may rob the toiler of the prize he fairly earns.

Today our thanks we're giving for the riches that are ours,
For the red fruits of the orchards and the perfume of the flowers,
For our homes with laughter ringing and our hearthfires blazing bright,
For our land of peace and plenty and our land of truth and right;
And we're thankful for the glory of the old Red, White and Blue, For the spirit of our fathers and the manhood that is true.

STATE COLLEGE BIBLE
CLASS STARTS NEW WORK

The State College Bible Class, taught by Mr. Gilbert T. Stephenson in connection with Pullen Memorial Sunday School, will start a new series of lessons on next Sunday.

Everybody who has attended seemed to enjoy the lessons taken from "The Meaning of Prayer." The next series will be taken from "The Meaning of Faith." Mr. Stephenson's engagements with the State Mission Board have been filled and he expects to be present practically every Sunday during the coming period.
Every student not attending other classes on Sunday morning will get valuable thoughts and viewpoints from the lessons as taught by Mr.
Stephenson, and no student should lose the opportunity.

The class has met with almost phenomenal success, under the leadership of Mr. Leslie Andrews as president. The attendance has reached as high as ninety-one, which exceeded the seating capacity of the room.
The rolling door has been raised and thirty more seats have been made available. Mr. Carl Bridges, who is conducting a membership contest, expects those who now come to bring enough others to fill the newly acquired room. The campus has been divided into five sections, counting all outside of dormitories as a sixth section. Every Baptist student not attending elsewhere is expected to do his part to make his section furnish its quota of members to the class.

The class will be asked to co-op-

FRESHMEN PERFECT
THEIR ORGANIZATION

Within the past few weeks the Freshmen of State College, some three hundred and seventy-odd strong, feeling it was their duty to make their class one of the best in the history of old N. C. State, met and perfected their organization. The officers elected were: R. R. Fountain, president; A. E. Huggins, vice president; B. W. Nash, secretary, and W. H. Beatty, treasurer.

Familiar Names

These names are not all new to N. C. State. Fountain, who is the brother of the famous "Zippy Mack," who was the editor of The Technician and who carried off second honors in his class last year, is a man worthy of leading the freshmen, and the yearlings made a wise choice when they elected him as their leader.

The vice president, Huggins, is a person of no mean ability, and although there has been no famous Huggins preceding him, it will be a safe guess that the name will go down in the history of State College before his four years are up.

The secretary, B. H. Nash, is one of Coach Homewood's most consistent players, and is as good a secretary as an athlete.

Then there is Beatty, brother of our own "Fighting Cleve," who needs no introduction. He will have a hard task to better the record of his brother, who is at present the president of the student body.

With their own officers and feeling the responsibility upon them, the Freshman Class is trying to co-operate with the other classes in making this an institution of recognized standing in the South. R. M. F.

THOUSAND-DOLLAR PRIZE

A thousand-dollar prize will be given by Cosmopolis Press, publishers of "Crucibles of Crime," by Jos.
F. Fishman, for the best play, motion picture scenario, or short story adaptable into a play or scenario, on the American jail as a force in the creation of criminals and the fostering of crime.

The judges of the contest include Ludwig Lewisohn, author and an editor of The Nation; Minnie Maddern Fiske, well known actress; Carl Van Doren, literary editor of the Century Magazine; Dean George W. Kirkwey, formerly of Columbia University; and Ida Clyde Clarke, associate editor of Pictorial Review. There also will be a theatrical producer and a motion picture producer on the board, whose names will be announced later.

The thousand-dollar prize will go to the best manuscript, but the five "next best" will be marketed, if possible, by Cosmopolis Press, and the entire remuneration given to the author. The contest is open to residents of all countries, provided the manuscript is written in English.

It is likely that "Crucibles of Crime" will appear in serial form during the period of the contest, the termination date of which has not yet been decided upon. Manuscripts should be sent to "Contest Department, Cosmopolis Press, 257 West 71st St., New York." The publishers advise that contestants keep a copy of their manuscripts, and require that return postage accompany manuscripts when the authors wish them returned.

for downs. A weak punt by Elms and the ball was Maryland's on State's fifteen-yard line. With McQuade as the battering ram, Maryland scored her first touchdown. McQuade kicked goal. The period ended with the ball in Maryland's possession on State's twenty-five-yard line.

Second Quarter

With Osborne and McQuade carrying the ball, Maryland made another touchdown in the first few minutes of playing. McQuade failed to kick goal. State kicked off and Maryland started another march up the field. State held and recovered the ball on their own thirty-yard line. Here Beasley intercepted a forward pass and ran for a touchdown. McQuade kicked goal.

State chose to receive and Al Johnson put life into the team by running the ball back thirty yards. A pass, Lassiter to Johnson, netted a first down. On an exchange of punts State had the ball on Maryland's thirty-five-yard line, but soon lost it. The half ended with the ball being slowly advanced down the field to State's goal line.

Third Quarter

Maryland kicked off to State, who started a march up the field which ended on Maryland's six-inch line. Maryland punted, but the Wolfpack could not be denied another touchdown. Two passes and one line buck by Lassiter scored the Wolfpack's first touchdown. Lassiter missed goal. State received and started another march up the field which ended when Cromer intercepted a forward pass in midfield. On a fake play Groves ran forty-five yards to State's three-yard line. Here the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

Heinie carried the ball across for Maryland's fourth touchdown on the first play. Groves missed goal.

State kicked off to Maryland and the ball was put in play on Maryland's thirty-yard line. Two line bucks netted very little, then Groves punted to Johnson. Passes from Lassiter to Johnson, Elms and Shuford gave the Wolfpack the ball on Maryland's twenty-yard line. Maryland was penalized ten yards for tackling a receiver of a pass. Johnson made four yards around end, and then a pass, Lassiter to Johnson, netted a touchdown. Lassiter failed to kick goal.

State received and started another drive which ended in an intercepted forward pass on State's thirty-five-yard line. McQuade was rushed into the game once again and carried the ball to State's ten-yard line before he could be stopped. Here Maryland lost the ball on downs. Elms punted and McQuade tried a drop kick which fell short. State completed a forward pass from their twenty-yard line as the referee's whistle ended the game.

Discusses Possibilities of the Open Forum in Rural Church

The Homoletic Review, an outstanding religious journal, contains an article, in its October issue, by Professor W. A. Anderson, of the Department of Sociology, entitled, "The Community Forum: Its Possibilities in the Rural Church." The thesis of the article is that the community forum, if established in rural churches, would make possible the free and frank discussion of the outstanding problems of rural life and, as a result, the active thought and energy of rural folk in the solution of these problems.

Sixteen counties are holding planting bees at some rural school this fall. In Alamance County recently the folks set out 75 trees, 450 shrubs, and about 600 flowering plants on the grounds of the Whitney school. Plans for landscaping the grounds were made by F. E. McCall, landscape specialist for the State College and Department of Agriculture.

Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company

Of Philadelphia—Established 1865

(FORMERLY, THE PROVIDENT LIFE AND TRUST COMPANY)

The Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia is pleased to announce a material increase in policyholders' dividends for the year 1924, which will result in a considerably lowered net cost for life insurance in the Provident.

This Company has long been noted for its very low net costs, and during the past twelve months has made two material increases in its dividends, thus reducing its former very low net costs.

This announcement will be of interest and good news to the many policyholders of the Company in Raleigh and vicinity, and of like interest to future policy holders.

Before deciding on an Insurance Policy, investigate our Maturing Old Age Pension Policy.

Before buying any policy, get the Provident's rate quotations; you'll find it the Lowest in Cost.

This Company paid in cash to living policyholders of maturing policies $4,080,791.90, during the year 1922.

The pleased, well-satisfied policyholders of this Company are its highest endorsement; more than half century of honest and successful conduct of its affairs has demonstrated its excellence.

The Company's remarkable financial stability; its care and integrity in management; its low net cost for insurance, make it the Ideal Company for the careful, thrifty buyer of insurance.

WASHINGTON AND LEE WINS CROSS-COUNTRY

N. C. State Takes Second Honors;
Captain Howard of W. & L.
Wins First Place

Washington and Lee, led by their undefeated captain, won first place in the greatest cross-country meet ever held in North Carolina. N. C. State was second and Carolina third. Trinity and Wake Forest fought for fourth and fifth places with ..... winning out.

Howard set a fast pace and led the runners throughout the three and a half miles. The course was over roads covered with mud. The race began and ended on the Trinity Athletic Field. The race was close and very fast, considering the kind of weather. The race began with sixty men facing the starter and ended with twenty-five men within one hundred yards of each other. Captain Scott of State stuck to Howard just as close as was possible without pushing him out of first place. Lattimore, Wright, Shroeder, Robinson and McThuan of State ran a good race but the pace was a little too fast. The time was 15 minutes 45 seconds—very fast time considering the condition of the course.

The first twelve men finishing were: Howard, W. & L.; Scott, State; Bailey, Wake Forest; Ransom, Carolina; Swope, W. & L.; Hawkins, W. & L.; Kiskell, W. & L.; Lattimore, State; Gannaway, W. & L.; Hoffner, Trinity; Wright, State, and Mary, Trinity. The other State men came out as follows: Shroeder, 1; Robinson, 17; McIhuean, 21.

State has a well balanced cross-country team, and much will be expected of it during the rest of the season.

Students in Dining Hall Have Set Standard For Giving to Student Relief

By giving up Sunday night supper for a period of three months the students who board in the Dining Hall have given up a sum to European Student Relief equal to do any one of the following things:

- Serve 25,000 meals;
- Buy 500 pairs of shoes;
- Buy 250 suits of clothes;
- Pay the tuition of 1,000 students for a year;
- Pay salaries of 45 professors for a year.

The following letter of thanks has been received from Mr. Conrad Hoffman, who is in charge of the work, and who is now visiting other colleges in the interest of this worthy cause:

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 18, 1923.

Dear Mr. King:

I certainly was happy to receive your good letter of November 9th, with the good news of the generous action taken by your students with reference to our student relief. Please tell your students that their action is meaning thousands of additional dollars from other schools where we report on what N. C. S. has done. It is serving to stimulate giving all over the country, and I want to thank you for all you did to make the above action possible.

I've been in 40 colleges since October 8th. They will yield some $60,000.00 for our work.

Gratefully yours,

(Signed) CONRAD HOFFMAN.

At a recent meeting of the faculty, Dean E. L. Cloyd reported the action that the students had taken in giving up Sunday night suppers, and suggested that the faculty give up the price of one meal a week for three months. Several members of the faculty have already sent in their contributions and others have indicated their intention to do so.

This is a free-will affair and no contributions are forced. The faculty and those who board in the Dining Hall have been given an opportunity to share in this good work. It is only right that those who board outside be given an opportunity. This is a most worthy cause. It is keeping the moral and intellectual fires burning in Europe. Europe is in a desperate plight. The food, clothing, the self-help enterprises and the friendship of the students of this and other nations, is inspiring hope and courage in the students of Europe; and the determination to "carry on" in spite of great difficulties, and build a new and better social order to replace the old one that has fallen.

The men who do not board in the Dining Hall who desire to share in this friendly work may bring or send their contributions to the Y. M. C. A. office. What better way could we find of celebrating "Thanksgiving" than by giving out of our comparative abundance to those who are hungry and cold. Five cents in American money gives a student a meal over there. Dr. C. C. Taylor endorses this work, and so does Hon. Stitt Wilson, Herbert Hoover, and hundreds of others. There is no doubt about the worthiness of the cause. Will you help? "Let your conscience be your guide."

MECKLENBURG CO. CLUB DEEMS ITSELF HONORED

The Mecklenburg County Club has the honor of having in its picture, for the College Annual this year, Governor Morrison and his daughter Angelia.

The Governor being a former Mecklenburg man, the members of the club were very anxious to have him in their picture, so they had the president of the club to invite him and Angelia out for the picture. Mr. Morrison gladly accepted the invitation. This is an honor that very few of the clubs can boast of.

Mr. Morrison seemed to be anxious to know of the welfare of the members of the club, and showed that he was interested in each of them.

Pegano and the ball was in Wake Forest's possession on State's thirty-yard line. Rackley shot a pass to Armstrong, who ran fifteen yards for Wake Forest's second and last touchdown. Ellerbe again kicked goal.

Wake Forest kicked off to State, but after starting down the field it was halted when Emerson intercepted the ball on Wake Forest's fifteen-yard line.

The second half was a passing game all the way. State completed a number of forward passes, but was unable to be consistent with them. She would gain a little and then be forced to punt. In the exchange of punts State was losing on every occasion.

The Wolfpack received the kick-off but was soon forced to punt. Wake Forest was playing a defensive game now, so when in doubt they punted. As a result the half was made up mostly of exchanging punts. Now and then both clubs were able to gain, but this half lacked the football that was displayed during the early part of the game. Back and forth up and down the field they battled, with neither team showing any great advantage and neither team being able to gain consistently. The game ended, as far as scoring was concerned, when Armstrong scored the second touchdown for Wake Forest at the end of the second quarter. The game ended with the ball in State's possession on her own forty-five-yard line.

Rackley and Greason were the outstanding ground gainers for the Baptist eleven, although Armstrong and Karleskint were able to gain whenever called upon. In the line Pegano and Moran stood out, but every man fought a battle and deserves part of the credit.

For State Lassiter, Johnson and Shuford were the best ground gainers. Captain Bostian, although injured in the first quarter, played a fine game. The man who stands out most in State's defense and offense is "Tubby" Cox, left tackle. He was in every play and was wide awake, always looking for the unexpected. Many times he broke through and threw his man for a loss when coming his way.

The Wolfpack was clearly outclassed by an eleven which has gradually worked its way to the front this year. State College has one more game this year, and that is with Washington and Lee at Norfolk, November 29th. Every effort is being made to win this game and then call the season a success.

LOYALTY

He may be six kinds of a liar,
He may be ten kinds of a fool,
He may be a wicked high-flyer,
Beyond any reason or rule.
There may be a shadow above him
Of perils and woes that impend;
And I may not respect, but I love him,
Because, well, because he's my friend.

I know he has faults by the billion;
But his faults are a portion of him;
I know that his record's vermilion
And he's far from a sweet seraphim;
But he's always been square with your truly,
Always ready to give or lend;
And though he is wild and unruly,
I love him because he's my friend.

I knock him I know; but I do it
The same to his face as away;
But, if other folks knock, they rue it,
And wish they'd had nothing to say.
I never make diagrams of him,
No map of his soul have I penned;
For I don't analyze, I just love him,
Because, well, because he's my friend.

The amount contributed by the students and faculty and the fund derived from giving up the Sunday night lunches for about two and one-half months during the college year 1922-1923 was $1,284.16. This amount has been remitted to the treasurer and the account audited.

During the college year 1922-1923 the students contributed $74.40 for the foreign work of the Y. M. C. A. The books of the International Committee show that the North Carolina State College Y. M. C. A. has been credited with this amount.

November 19, 1923.

To Whom It May Interest:

I have audited the books of the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering Young Men's Christian Association and the Student Friendship Fund (European Student Relief) for the year ending September 1, 1923, and have found them correct.

Very respectfully,
EDWIN E. STRETCHER.
Instructor in Accounting.

MOONSHINE

Oh, the mountains of Kentucky are lovely in the spring,
When the squirrels leave their shelters and the birds begin to sing,
When the sunshine fills the valleys and crowns the hills with light,
Filling mountain hearts with gladness and putting care to flight,
Folks may talk about the sunshine, and tell you how it thrills,
But there's nothing beats the moonshine in the old Kentucky hills.

You will never find such mountains in any other clime,
And you'll see them in their grandest in the good old summer-time,
When the trees are green with verdure, and the brooks run clear and cold;
It will make you think of Eden in the by-gone days of old,
And when the sky is black with clouds, that hide the sun from sight,
The old Kentucky moonshine fills the saddest heart with light.

And in the days of autumn, when the leaves begin to change,
You will think again of Eden when you cross the mountain range;
And the pure, sweet air will make you feel that you're again a boy;

'Twill rid your mind of all your cares and fill your heart with joy.
And when, at night, the mountaineer receives you as his guest,
He'll satisfy your hunger, and—moonshine will do the rest.

And when the winds of winter cap the mountain-tops with snow,
The mountaineer laughs cold to scorn, for he has cause to know
That, though the sun be hidden, there's one sight that's never stale,
And it's ever present with him in the still and silent vale,
So he's happy and contented, and he'll never, never roam,
From the everlasting moonshine in his well-loved mountain home.

THINGS WORTH WHILE

These are the things worth while:
The rainbow after rain,
The peace that follows pain;
The touch of little children's hands,
And sweet affection's subtle bands;
The blue sky up above;
The tender thrill of woman's love;

The sacrifices that are part
And parcel of a mother's heart;
The good, the beautiful, the true,
The melody that stirs anew
Strange yearnings after nobler things;
The simple song the robin sings;
The dew upon the garden rose;
The flower that by the wayside grows
To claim a homeless urchin's smile—
All these things are worth while.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF AMERICAN COUNTRY LIFE ASSOCIATION

C. C. Taylor, W. A. Anderson and Mrs. Jane McKimmon Represented
State College

The American Country Life Association held its sixth annual conference at St. Louis, Missouri, November 8th to 11th, to consider the general topic of the Farm Home. State College was represented by Dr. Carl C. Taylor, Prof. W. A. Anderson, and Mrs. Jane McKimmon. Mrs. McKimmon appeared on the program as the presiding officer at the Saturday morning session. Other North Carolinians present were Professors Odum and Hobbs of the University.

The conference considered every phase of Home Life in the country. Some particularly outstanding addresses were made. Dr. C. J. Galpin, in charge of Rural Life Studies for the United States Department of Agriculture, showed that the farm family can afford the modern facilities and institutions as well as the city family. He used as his criteria for this thesis farm incomes, taxable property, units of area available for modern institutions, and total producing population. Dr. Caroline Hedger of Chicago discussed the factors pertaining to the health of the farm family. She emphasized particularly the education of children in health matters and the necessity of eliminating much useless material from the curricula of our schools to make health training possible. Dr. Alva Taylor emphasized the necessity for a consolidation of the rural churches in order to promote moral conditions in rural families.

The American Country Life Association is a national organization. Its purpose is to facilitate discussion of the problems and objectives in country life and the means of their solution and attainment; to further the efforts and increase the efficiency of persons, agencies and institutions engaged in this field; to disseminate information calculated to promote a better understanding of country life, and to aid in rural improvement. Membership is open to all persons actively interested in promoting rural well-being.

The Missionary: "I hope, Mrs. Baldowsky, that you and your husband are living together in harmony."

Mrs. Baldowsky: "Ach, nein. Ve are lifing in de Gheddo."

Fashion: I hear the Prince of Wales leads a pretty hard life.

Plate: Yes, he has to keep changing clothes all day in order to set the styles for Finchley.

(Apologies to Purple Cow)

THANKSGIVING

By VIOLET ALLEYN STOREY

As we have gathered in rich harvest from Thy fields,
As we have taken lovely fruits from bending trees,
So gather Thou, O God, Thanksgiving from our hearts,
So take Thou gratitude from those on bended knees.

We sowed Thy ground with humble seeds, but Thou hast sown
Our minds with wisdom and our hearts with faith and love;
And if, from such a source, our harvest was so fair,
Oh, how much fairer should Thy harvest be above!

We've seen our tiny seeds yield flower and fruit and grain—
A myriad of blossoms in each garden bed;
Frail petals formed into the apple, pear, and plum;
And sun-filled wheat from which we'll bake our winter's bread.

So mayst Thou see Thy seeds have borne Thee beauty, too—
Delightful songs and poems, pictures like glad flowers;
And kindly thoughts become great deeds, like ripened fruit;
And thankfulness to give Thee cheer in quiet hours.

As we have gathered in rich harvest from Thy fields,
As we have taken lovely fruits from bending trees,
So gather Thou, O God, Thanksgiving from our hearts;
So take Thou gratitude from those on bended knees!

—Good Housekeeping (New York).

Alumni Notes

Observations and Communications of Zippy Mack

We had a nice, long, friendly letter from David B. "Red" Van Sant the other day. "Red," who was president of the Student Council last year, is down at Davidson College, where he hangs a "B.E." on to the end of his name and styles himself as a "College Engineer," and adds that he is Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, which of course can mean anything from janitor on up. But honestly, "Red" is making good down among the Presbyterians and is gaining friends there much as he did here when we knew him for his sterling work on the Wolfpack and for his mastery guidance of Student Government.

Mr. J. C. Harwell, of the Class of '23, was around town at the first of the week, doing what he styled as "bumming around." Harwell has been with the Public Service Company of Greensboro since his graduation last June, but just now is considering a position with the Carolina Power & Light Company at its main office here in Raleigh. "Czar" is full of his old-time pep and vigor.

Mr. C. H. Warren, of the Class of '23, was on the campus last Saturday afternoon, and condescended to talk to us for a few moments. "Charlie" holds the responsible position of Superintendent of the I. O. O. F. Orphans' Home at Goldsboro. He says that there is some football material down there that begins to look wolfish already.

Mr. C. E. Dedmon, of the Class of '23, is with the Frick Company at Waynesboro, Pennsylvania. He spent the summer installing refrigerators in Maryland and Virginia, and is now at the plant in Waynesboro. He may be addressed in care of the Y. M. C. A.

From among the Senior Mechanicals last year the General Electric Company got three men. E. F. "Yank" Graham and Jack "Calculus" Barber are at the Lynn, Massachusetts, plant, while W. C. "Big" John made his way as far as the main plant at Schenectady, N. Y.

Bonnie Norris and Roy Smith, who also last year were among the Mechanical men, have done the wise thing, as well as the safe thing, and have gone into business with their respective fathers in their own home towns. "Smitty" is in the lumber business with the elder Smith in Benson, while Bonnie is junior member in the firm of B. F. Norris & Son, foundry and machine shop, Gastonia.

Some has meat but canna eat,
And some could eat that want it;
But we hae meat and we can eat,
And so the Lord be thankit.

IT'S YOU

If you want to live in the kind of a college
Like the kind of a college you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
You'll only find what you left behind,
For there's nothing that's really new.
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your college;
It isn't your college—IT'S YOU!

Real colleges are not made of men afraid
Lest somebody else get ahead.
When everybody works and nobody shirks,
You can raise a college from the dead.
And if, while you make your personal stake,
Your neighbor can make his, too,
Your college will be what you want to see.
No, it isn't your college—IT'S YOU!

It takes good colleges to educate fools,
And nothing comes from the knocker.
Stop the attacks of him with his axe!
Send him to Davy Jones' locker!
Think, when you pay what bills you may,
And your friends are getting their due,
And your college with pride has taken its stride—
That it isn't your college—IT'S YOU!
