LEAZAR SOCIETY GRABS FIRST DEBATE

Junior Leazarites Win Unanimous Decision in Annual Clash; Seymour of Leazar Crowned as Best Speaker

Leazar Literary Society Tuesday night claimed as its own a unanimous decision in the annual Junior Inter-Society Debate, held with the Pullen Society in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. Having as its background a more or less discouraging string of defeats, the wonder team from Leazar sprang up nobly to the crisis and smashed through the Pullen defenses for its first victory since the days of Charlie Barber in the memorable Senior Debate of 1922.

The subject discussed was the much-mooted question of the Ruhr occupation, with Pullen defending the affirmative and Leazar the negative of the query: "Resolved, That the French were justified in occupying the Ruhr." The Pullen team was composed of Messrs. E. J. Whitaker and R. H. Raper, while the Leazarites were represented by Messrs. M. L. Snipes and G. F. Seymore. Mr. R. H. Scott, president of Leazar Society, acted as chairman, and Mr. R. W. Cline, former president of Pullen Society, acted as secretary. The judges were Dr. Harrison and Professor Clarke of the English Department and Professor Mayer of the Department of Vocational Education. At the request of the chairman, the judges, after rendering decision, retired for a consultation in order to choose the best speaker of the evening. At their return Dr. Harrison, speaking for the committee of judges, gave that honor to Mr. Seymore, of Leazar.

The victory was hailed with great joy by Leazar men all over the campus, as it marks the breaking of the hoodoo that has encircled them for the past season and held them in the snares of defeat.

After the debate the chairman called the attention of the students to the approaching inter-collegiate triangular debate to be held with V. P. I. and V. M. I. in May, and asked their hearty support in this contest. Dr. Harrison pledged the support of the faculty in this, the first inter-collegiate contest to be held on the State campus in several years.

NOTICE

All students interested in international questions and policies are requested to meet in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night at 7:00 o'clock. The purpose of this meeting is to organize an International Relations Club. The meeting will be held in Leazar Literary Society hall.

State's Basketball Season Summarized

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS HOLD CONFERENCE

Was Held at Queens College, Charlotte, March 7, 8, 9

On March 7, 8, and 9 the State Student Volunteers Conference was held at Queens College, Charlotte. The first session took place at 5:30 p. m., Friday. It was merely a short devotional meeting, but it admirably served its purpose, which was to get the delegates in the right attitude for the following sessions. The delegates had dinner at the college dining hall and then gathered for the evening meeting. After this session a general get-together was held in the main building. Refreshments and music by Queens' own orchestra, The Frisky Five, added to the enjoyment, while new acquaintances were made and old ones renewed.

Saturday was a busy day for the delegates. Two sessions, morning and afternoon, were held at the college, while the evening session took the form of a banquet at the Chamber of Commerce dining room. Here the conference was in session also, having several speakers for the evening.

Sunday, after morning meeting, the delegates attended church in Charlotte.

Two other sessions were held and the conference came to a close Sunday evening.

It was a conference full of pep and good feeling. The speakers were fine and Queens College and the people of Charlotte were found to be peerless when it came to playing host.

NOMINATIONS FOR NEXT YEAR'S STAFF OF THE TECHNICIAN

Due to the fact that there is some agitation on the campus concerning the manner in which the publications are financed and managed it has been thought wise to study the idea of a publication union that would have control of all the student publications on the campus. This plan is being investigated and reports from other colleges are being received pertaining to the above-mentioned plan.

The men that are to run the publications next year will, of course, be the ones who will have to put the proposition across. Since the movement has begun in such a fine manner the Junior Class thought it timely to elect the staff of The Agromeck, in order that the staff might work on the proposed change.

The Technician believes that this is also a very good idea and for that

Credited With Seven Victories Against Seventeen Defeats. Captain Johnson Outstanding Star

State College basketball quint ended the season with only 7 victories against 17 defeats. Starting the season with only four lettered men, three of whom were forward, State developed a well-balanced team until Captain Johnson was forced out of the game for two weeks and was never able to get around as he had done prior to his injury.

State opened the season just before the Christmas holidays with a game with the soldiers at Fort Bragg. This was a tight game from the start to finish, the soldiers winning by a few points, which they gained in the last few minutes of the game.

State's next game was with the smooth-working quint of the Durham Elks. State was unable to withstand the fast pace set by them and had to be contented with the small end of a large score.

Coming back from the holidays, and with three days of training, State fell before the South Atlantic champions, namely, Mercer University of Georgia. After a week of tense training State opened up and swamped the soldiers from Fort Bragg. Every man showed that he could play basketball if given the chance. The smooth-working quint from Durham came to Raleigh next and again defeated State. State was badly off on their shooting that night.

Southern Trip

State opened its Southern trip with a defeat at the hands of Trinity College, at Durham. This was one of the hardest fought games that Trinity witnessed during the whole season. Captain Johnson and Jimmie Simpson, although playing against each

E. E. SOCIETY PLANS BIG ELECTRICAL SHOW

The E. E. Society held its regular meeting Tuesday night, March 11, 1924. The meeting was called by the President, Mr. A. C. Bangs. The chief business of the meeting was to discuss the plans for combining all the departments in the engineering school and giving an engineering show one day this spring. The society decided to put on its annual show at a date set as engineering day to co-operate with the other departments in boosting the engineering school. President Bangs was selected to represent the society at a meeting of the representatives from all the departments which will discuss and adopt the final plans for the engineering shows.

THE BAND GIVES A PLEASING CONCERT

State College Band Consists of Fifty Pieces, Valued at $6,000—Concert Preliminary to Trip to Western Part of State

The State College band, one of the most valuable assets of the college, has struggled for existence like all other worth-while organizations. Starting quite a number of years ago, with only a few men, it is now composed of fifty members, with instruments valued around $6,000. It has rendered an enviable service to State College as an advertising agent, having visited for the last four or five years nearly every educational institution in the State.

Capt. Percy W. Price, Associate Professor of Textile Engineering, Chief Patriarch of Capital Encampment, I. O. O. F., Noble Grand of Seaton Gales Lodge, I. O. O. F., Junior Deacon of William G. Hill Lodge, No. 218, A. F. and A. M., and Director of the Shriner's Band, is functioning as director of one of the greatest musical organizations of the South, namely, the N. C. State Band.

As a preliminary to the work which the band has planned for the spring semester it rendered a program in Pullen Hall March 6. It was enjoyed by the student body, some Meredith College students, and a large number of Raleigh residents.

During the intermission the

DR. W. L. POTEAT AT PULLEN MEMORIAL SUNDAY MORNING

Sermon Will be of Special Interest to State College Faculty and Student Body

Dr. J. A. Ellis is conducting revival services at Buie's Creek and has arranged for Dr. W. L. Poteat, president of Wake Forest College, to fill his pulpit Sunday morning. He could not have made better provision or secured anyone who will be more gladly received than Dr. Poteat. Though not a preacher by profession Dr. Poteat can fill a pulpit with all the spiritual uplift of a preacher and back it with all the background and knowledge of an experienced teacher. The subject on which Dr. Poteat will speak is not known at this time, but the words of the subject is of little importance when we can rest assured that the thoughts and information which he will bring to his audience will give us greater vision, firmer convictions and clearer insight into future adjustments of present day diverging opinions. The writer would not encourage anyone to miss the service at his own church, but certainly all who do not go elsewhere should hear Dr. Poteat Sunday morning at Pullen Memorial church.

Who said anything about Spring?

Do you know when Easter comes? Can you figure it out? We get a chance to go HOME then, do we not?

THE TECHNICIAN staff has been nominated and the election will take place in the near future. Look over the men and size them up and be ready to vote intelligently when the election takes place. The Student Forum is yours to express your opinion of the candidates. Shoot!

Dr. Poteat will speak at Pullen Memorial Church this Sunday, and every student that can possibly arrange to hear him should take advantage of the opportunity. Dr. Poteat is president of Wake Forest College and has a message for college men that is not soon forgotten. Set that alarm clock Sunday and go over to hear Dr. Poteat.

THE TECHNICIAN staff for next year has been nominated and in the men that are nominated we feel that we have a capable lot of men that will work for the betterment of the college newspaper and strive to advertise the college through the columns of this paper. We trust that you will give the nominees the thought that they deserve and go into the election with the idea of selecting the best man for the position. A college paper has a great opportunity to render a service to the institution, and if the right men are at the head of the publication, they can do wonders. So bear this in mind when you vote and let's put the men in power that have the best interests at heart.

GEORGE FITCH OF SHANGHAI TO SPEAK AT STATE COLLEGE

Mr. George Fitch, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Shanghai, China, has been invited to speak at a college assembly on next Tuesday, March 18th.

Mr. Fitch is a graduate of Columbia University and of Union Theological Seminary, and has worked in

GEORGE FITCH

China since 1909. He is said to be one of the hardest working men in the great cosmopolitan city of Shanghai. Besides being secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association there, he serves on the board of directors of the following organizations: Institute for the Chinese Blind, International Anti-Opium Association, Hwai Valley Conservancy Board, and the Shanghai Rotary Club.

He received the decoration of "Chia Ho" from the Chinese Government for service in famine relief work in 1923. In writing to Mr. Herbert Hoover the Prime Minister of China said of Mr. Fitch: "He is a man whose record of work and service in this land on behalf of my people is too well known to need many words from me. He has been foremost in all good works and many successes are to his credit."

Just before his departure for America an article appeared in "The Pagoda," the organ of the Shanghai Rotary Club, from which the following is taken: "The Rotary Club will attend divine service in a body to hear 'George,' one of the hardest working men in the Shanghai Rotary and a man whose life so aptly typifies the Rotary idea of service. He will be sadly missed by the Rotary Club here, but he will do much for our club in America."

As General Secretary of the Shanghai Association the following are a few of the things that claim his attention:

1. The "Y" for men of western countries and the Navy Y. M. C. A.
2. The educational department of the Shanghai Chinese Y. M. C. A.
3. Educational lectures reaching 112,000 people (1923).
4. Employment for laborers returned from the battle fields of France.
5. Attention to the needs of hundreds of students passing through the city to colleges in America and Europe.
6. Guiding the activities of the 1,679 volunteer Y. M. C. A. workers.
7. Providing teachers for the hosts of young men who apply for Bible classes and lectures.

Asked about his work in Shanghai, Mr. Fitch replied: "If you are looking for a profitable investment there is no place where you will get surer or better returns."

The subject of his address has not yet been announced, but he will probably speak on "The Place of the Association in the Life of the Nation."

It is hoped that he can also give his address on "The Industrial Revolution in China," and also his lecture (illustrated—slides and movies) on "The Deluge of the Hwai River" during his stay at the college.

THE STANDARD OF OUR LIVING CONDITIONS

Early in September President Brooks stated that it was his purpose, as rapidly as possible, to raise the standard of our living conditions at State College. He outlined his plans to the "House" of Student Government and they were indorsed by that body.

The first step was the institution of the Proctor System. In short, this is simply an inspection of the dormitories as to their sanitary condition. Students are asked to sweep their rooms daily, make up their beds, and arrange their clothing neatly in the closets or on hooks provided for that purpose.

Mrs. Mason reports that there has been considerable improvement this year over previous years.

Mr. Wellons reports that the breakage this year has been much lower than last year.

These reports show we are making progress, and I wish to commend the student body for their co-operation.

From the reports which come to my office, however, it looks as though there has been a slight slump in the care of our rooms since Christmas, and I am taking this means of calling this matter to the attention of the student body.

There are still a few of us who ask, "Why should we clean up our rooms?" "What difference does it make?"

In answer to that I would point to the great expenditures which all reputable industrial organizations are making in order to improve the living conditions of their employees. It has long since become accepted as a fact that employees will do a higher grade of work when their homes and surroundings are clean and pleasing in their appearance. Walter Dill Scott, in his book, "Personal Management," says: "Lack of order, lack of cleanliness, gloominess, unwholesome sanitary conditions—these inevitably exert a depressing influence of which the individual is sometimes conscious and of which he is sometimes unaware."

On the other hand, a room which is well lighted with the floor swept clean, beds straightened up and clothes neatly arranged will contribute directly toward the orderly arrangement of the man's thoughts when he tries to concentrate on any work, as well as contributing to his self-respect.

Throughout the year many of our parents visit us and many friends from other colleges and the general appearance and atmosphere in and around our dormitories has a great deal to do with their impression of us as individuals and of the college as a whole.

These then are some of the reasons why we believe we should improve our living conditions:

First, because industry recognizes that a man can't do his best work when surrounded by unwholesome sanitary conditions. If this is true in industry it is certainly equally true where we are training our minds.

Second, because our dress, our rooms and our conversation are the measure, to a large extent, of the college of which we are a part.

It is always unpleasant for those in charge of these matters to be forced to call in certain individuals and reprimand them because of the unsanitary condition of their rooms, and I don't believe the men of State College want it done that way. Let us all work together to improve every phase of our college life.

FAULT OF STUDENT BODY—?

In order to arouse interest in their subject some speakers who lack convincing argument resort to unsupported statements. This student body has for a long time submitted to an injustice in the form of such a statement—that it lacks college spirit and the failure of our teams to turn in a large number of victories can be partially attributed to this deplorable shortcoming. This haranguing has been a custom handed down from one set of officials to the other. Our men in charge of athletics have told this thing so much that they appear to believe it. Probably this is why Coach Homewood at lunch Saturday attributed the disastrous (in his imagination) season in athletics to the lack of support by the students. I do not believe that such a conclusion could have been drawn through any logical system of reasoning. No, Coach Homewood, with all due respect to your position here, some of us believe that your statement cannot be supported—the facts are against you. Your statement is resented because—

1. It is untrue. If it is true (a) how can you explain the exhibition of spirit last fall, during the football games, when we supported our team because we believed in them and realized that they were fighting an enemy far more powerful than any opposing team—an outgrown and inadequate system of athletics? (b) How do you explain the "send-offs" given to our team? Coach Hartman declared that the demonstration preceding the Washington and Lee game was the finest tribute that he had ever seen accorded to any team, much less a losing team. If your memory has not failed you will recall that participation in this was 100 per cent by faculty and students alike. (c) How explain the total lack of criticism of our men by the student body? We believe in State College and your statement is unjust.

2. It is poor psychology. Such an argument may be occasionally used if later corrected. This particular one is allowed to go on until it undermines the morale of the students to such extent that exhibition of college spirit is hurt by the thing intended to help it. The first thing that a Freshman hears at State is that the spirit here is rotten, and the shame of the matter is that our officials are the ones that tell him. Our spirit may need leadership, but it is not lacking.

3. It places the student body in an unfavorable light with the alumni and the general public. If we do not believe in ourselves how can we ever expect outsiders to believe in us? It is said that our own alumni lack faith in the school. And small wonder, too, if the last particle of college spirit is weakened before graduation by such a lack of faith on the part of our officials. You who are addicted to such a poisonous doctrine would do well to remember what Lincoln had to say about fooling all the people. You can't fool all of the students all of the time!

As for the past athletic seasons being disastrous, that, too, can stand a little discussion. Our men have done their best under the inadequate system and if by fighting to the last ditch only to lose because of things out of their control, they have demonstrated the futility of building on a poor foundation and made greater contribution to their Alma Mater than any paid team has ever done heretofore. The 1923 football squad was a bona fide organization and we all can tell the world that things were on the level. A period of depression is on us because of a drastic change in policy. We understand this and are not complaining, having implicit confidence in the present ad-

MIDNIGHT OIL BURNED
BY J. B. CRATER

Our husky javelin thrower, J. B. Crater, is showing signs of studious application of some theme evidently interesting to him. Noticing for two weeks the dark lines under Crater's eyes and realizing that these lines were a sure sign of midnight oil, ye reporter investigated and found our athlete pouring far into the night over a much-worn book on etiquette. Upon further investigation it was found that the section of the book being studied bore the title, "How to Keep From Appearing Green at College Dinners." His room mate reports that this new phenomenon—studying—is a direct result of an invitation to a banquet at North Carolina College for Women. We hope that Crater will conduct himself with credit to the college and sufficiently camouflage this greenness, but wish to remind him that he should keep regular hours.

A kiss is a very peculiar proposition: Of no use to one, yet perfect bliss to two. The small boy gets it for nothing, the young man has to steal it, and the old man has to buy it. To a young girl: Faith. To a married woman: Hope. And to the old maid: Charity.

Colonel Boyden Speaks To Engineers About Concrete

On Monday evening, March 3d, at the College Y. M. C. A., Col. H. C. Boyden, representative of the Portland Cement Association, addressed a group of Engineering students and Raleigh engineers on the subject of Field Control of Concrete. Colonel Boyden proved to be an able speaker and to have a subject which was of much interest to engineers.

The speaker stressed the tremendous growth of the cement industry in the past forty years, as shown by the increase in production from forty thousand barrels a year to one hundred and thirty-seven million barrels last year. He stated that now one plant which is a member of the association produces forty thousand barrels a day.

After his talk the speaker explained the uses of several machines for working with concrete. As he spoke slides giving views of the machines were shown.

The Portland Cement Association is an organization which is trying to carry out to the letter proper methods of mixing and pouring of concrete. The association offers its aid to concerns which are carrying on construction work. It seeks to help in any way it may toward the economical and proper use of concrete.

It also offers to construction companies the benefit of the experience of its engineers, and the results of the experiments carried on in the laboratory of the association.

famous State College quartet, which are members of the band, rendered a number of selections.

The future prospects for the remainder of the spring semester looks very encouraging, having arranged a week's tour throughout the western part of the State, which will be made the last week of this month or the first week in April. The towns in which concerts will be given are: Asheville, Hickory, Statesville, Shelby, Charlotte and Greensboro. A number of trips will be made throughout the eastern part of the State, but as yet the date hasn't been definitely arranged.

"Y" Cabinet Goes to Peace

Sunday evening, at seven o'clock, marked the beginning of what is hoped will be a new era in the relationship between Peace Institute and N. C. State College. Our Y. M. C. A. cabinet, in response to an invitation from the Peace Y. W. C. A. cabinet, conducted the vesper services in the Peace auditorium Sunday evening.

In the absence of "Dick," "Jazz" Britt presided and made the principal address of the evening. He spoke about "Our Source of Power." Mr. Britt made an appealing plea for a closer contact, through prayer and the study of the Bible, with God, our Source of Power. He likened life to a chemical experiment.

Henry Brewer gave a concise outline of our Bible Study Program. He stated that N. C. State College has led the South in the number of men enrolled and the number of 100 per cent men in Bible study for the past two years, George Wray and Ed. Griffith led the devotional exercises. The State College Quartet, together with the Peace girls, added the charming music to the program. After the regular service a goodly length of time was allowed for "personal work" in the parlors.

An invitation was extended the Peace Y. W. Cabinet to come over and conduct one of our Sunday afternoon meetings. It is a mutual hope of both institutions that these exchanges may be made again and frequently.

The Y. M. C. A. Cabinet recently conducted a similar service at Meredith, and it is expected that the Meredith girls will come over here soon also.

"THE NEGRO: FROM AFRICA TO AMERICA"

Southern Educator Produces Notable Book on Race Question

Nashville, Tenn., March 13—(Special)—Dr. W. D. Weatherford, of this city, president of Southern College of Y. M. C. A., is soon to bring out what is believed to be the most thorough-going and comprehensive book on race relations ever published. The title, "The Negro: From Africa to America," indicates the general scope of the work. It gives no suggestion, however, of the vast amount of historical research which the volume embodies, relating to the Negro in his native home, the slave regime, both in the Americas and in the adjacent islands, and the history and progress of the race since emancipation. To the great historical value of the book is added wealth of popular human interest, through the inclusion of many intimate glimpses of ante-bellum conditions that have heretofore been inaccessible to most readers. The book is said to combine in a rare degree both the scientific and the popular approach.

In summing up, the author offers no final solution of the race problem, but emphasizes the conviction that if the two races will only exercise good will and helpfulness toward each other from day to day, the future may be safely trusted to take care of itself. The whole philosophy of the book is simply that of "doing the next thing" in a Christian spirit.

Dr. Weatherford has been a pioneer in the study of race relations in the South, having previously written several books on this topic. The appearance of his new volume is awaited with interest by the very large number of southern people who are earnestly pursuing the subject.

DOINGS OF THE HOUSE

At the last meeting of the House of Student Government the following business was transacted:

The chairman of the House was authorized to appoint a committee for the purpose of working out the details of the new system which it has been proposed to use in financing the student publications—The Technician and the Agromeck.

The following motion was presented and carried:

The members of the Student Council and the House of Student Government shall be elected during the second week in March.

The primary election of the officers of the Student Council shall be held on the last Saturday in March and the general election shall be held on the first Saturday in April.

THE Y. M. C. A. WILL FURNISH PARLOR

Some time ago there appeared an article in the "Student's Forum" pointing out the need for a parlor, where students can receive their parents and lady friends.

Plans have already been made for furnishing one of the rooms in the north end of the Y. M. C. A. to serve this purpose. With the help of the college Woman's Club the dining room will be attractively furnished and the room next to it will be furnished as a parlor. Plans call for the investment of $1,500 in equipping these two rooms.

Besides having a parlor where students may receive their friends, there will then be a well-equipped dining room, which will be at the disposal of all college organizations, fraternities, the faculty and the college Woman's Club.

Leap Year Proposal

My dear _____:

I write these words tonight at nine, hoping soon you will be mine. If you say your love is true, my heart and hand I'll give to you. I'll mend your clothes and darn your socks—even the cradle I'm willing to rock, for Mrs. _____ I'd like to be. Accept this proposal and come to me. But if you think I won't do, just tell me you are through; and if there is no hope, send me six yards of rope.

With love and kisses,
Your leap year girl,

Acceptance

In answer to your thoughts at nine, My heart echoes with love divine. None are to me so dear as you, Who in my dreams and waking, too, Inspire me on to nobler deeds—Something tells me 'tis you I need.

Your hand to me you say you'll give,

That we for both each one may live,
I accept your heart, your hand, and you,
And in delight I'll come to you.
Your loving husband I will be,
A happy home I'll make for thee.

The wedding bells will ring so sweet
When at the altar we shall meet.
The parson's voice, so firm and low,
As he on us his blessings bestow.
On those sweet lips I'll place a kiss,
While standing there in perfect bliss.

When you are mine and I am thine,
Our love shall never cease to chime;
Harmonious as the murmuring brook
Our lives will be in every nook.
I love you now, I'll love you then,
I'll always love you to the end.
—W. J. F., '26.

Farmers of Lincoln County are now marketing those spring chickens for which they prepared during mid-winter. Two hundred and fifty recently went on the market, weighing from one and one-half to two pounds and brought 60 cents per pound. SECOND ELECTRICAL METERMAN'S SCHOOL

The second school for electrical metermen will be conducted by the Department of Electrical Engineering during the week beginning March 17. The course will consist of lectures on the principles of meters, the installation, care, testing and adjusting of meters of all types, roundtable discussion on metering problems and difficulties, and daily practice with meters. The course will include elementary exercise for men who have had but little experience and advanced work for the more experienced men. The College has secured the assistance of the meter superintendents of the power companies in the State, of the National Electric Light Association, and the experts of the various meter and instrument manufacturing companies.

Those taking this course will have the opportunity to hear such men as Mr. W. S. Davis, General Meter Inspector of the Public Service Electric Company, Newark, N. J.; Mr. Bedford J. Brown, Meter Superintendent, Southern Power Company; Mr. Elwood Doudna, Meter Superintendent Carolina Power and Light Company; Mr. Wm. A. Folger, Superintendent of Testing Laboratories, Philadelphia Electric Company; Mr. Claude H. McAllister of the Tidewater Power Company; Mr. Erle Dameron of the Durham Traction Company, and Mr. N. E. Canady, State Electrical Inspector. Representatives of the various companies who will assist in the meter courses are: Mr. L. O. Heath, of the Leeds & Northrup Company; Mr. L. Arnold, General Electrical Company, Philadelphia, Pa.; Mr. H. W. Richardson, General Electrical Company, Philadelphia, Pa.; Mr. W. A. Gentry, Westinghouse Electrical and Manufacturing Company; Mr. Duus, Sangamo Electric Company, Philadelphia, Pa., and Mr. L. F. Pavey, Duncan Electric Manufacturing Company, Lafayette, Ind.

other, were easily the stars of the game.

From Durham State invaded South Carolina and won three straight games and did not suffer defeat in South Carolina. Wofford, Furman, and Clemson fell in a row. Each game was hard fought but State was far superior to any one of these teams. With three victories to their credit State entered Georgia, but the strain had been too much and State fell before both Georgia and Mercer University. They were given a real battle but deserved to win.

State arrived back in Raleigh after completing one of the most successful trips that any State quint has done in several seasons.

With several days rest State opened up again and won two games from quints from Florida. The University of Florida fell first by a large score. Closely following this Stetson University fell before the now fast-going State College basketball team.

Captain Johnson Injured

proved the turning point in the season for State College, because it was in this game that our captain, Red Johnson, sustained a badly sprained ankle, from which he never fully recovered. After Captain Johnson was taken out the team lost its pep and felt the loss of its leader and high scorer. Wake Forest won this game after a hard fight.

State Trip

State College basketball quint left for a three-day trip through western North Carolina, without the services of their Captain. Beatty, who substituted for him, gave State College his best, but Captain Johnson was badly missed. Davidson, Guilford, and Elon won from State by close scores. Two of the games went into extra periods, but State just could not win with their high scorer sitting on the bench.

The University of South Carolina defeated State on their own court, after a hard struggle, which was carried into an extra period to determine the winner.

State now journeyed to Chapel Hill to take on what proved to be the Southern champions. Carolina clearly outclassed State in every department of the game and deserved the victory they obtained.

Davidson was defeated on the auditorium court when Captain Johnson entered the game at the middle of the second half and Davidson was in the lead. For the first time in two weeks State College five regained their fighting spirit and overcame a lead and defeated Davidson. Captain Johnson was hobbling badly, but showed form in shooting and guarding.

The University of North Carolina again defeated State here in Raleigh. The game was clean and hard fought. There was too much Carmichael and McDonald for State. Johnson held Cobb well in hand.

Guilford defeated State, due mostly to the wonderful playing of J. F. Frazier, who shot baskets from every angle and distance possible from the floor.

Trinity made it two in a row by defeating State the following night. The passing of Simpson and the shooting of Captain Spikes defeated State this time.

State closed the season with a defeat at the hands of Wake Forest at Wake Forest. State was unable to locate the basket during the first half, but outplayed them during the second half. Wake Forest's lead was too great for State to overcome, so the curtain went down with a defeat.

State College does not lose a man, except Beattl, perhaps. Monograms were given to five men, all of whom will be back next season. Four stars were given, but none of the men obtaining these will graduate. Johnson was re-elected captain for next year. He is one of the best guards in the State, if not in the South. He is of double value to the team because of his close guarding and his ability to get points at the same time.

State will have four lettered forwards, two centers, and three guards back for next season, not counting the material that is coming up from Coach Gibson's championship Freshman team. The scoring for the season was led by Captain Johnson, followed by Wray, Correll, Dickens, Duls, McGowan, Long, Beatty, and Wallis.

The season was not, from one point of view, a failure. The team was composed of men of the highest type and had developed wonderfully until the injury that took from us our captain. Much, if not all, of the credit that goes with the team belongs to Dr. Crozier, our coach. Dr. Crozier, men of your team, athletics at State College, and State College thanks you for what you have done.

STATE COLLEGE MEN STAGE SNOW BATTLE

Chimney Rock Scene of the Conflict; Students and Faculty Take Active Part in Warfare

Last Saturday afternoon witnessed one of the most unusual battles that has been staged this season. Prof. Anderson persuaded Buck Morris to sign up with his forces, and Prof. Journey was successful in securing Toe Evans as his partner. With mad fury in their hearts the party set out for the battleground, Chimney Rock, in the western part of the State.

About 4:00 o'clock the warriors arrived at the scene. Evans and Morris engaged in a preliminary contest, the like of which has never been known to man, or at least it has not been published. Morris claims the victory, but Evans contends that he stepped over the line and gained a peculiar advantage over him.

Journey and Evans found a shack well protected on top of the mountain, and there they made their fort and piled snowballs ready for the affray. Anderson and Morris were not to be outdone, so they ascended the mountain for several feet and when the signal for battle was sounded the two armies sent forth their missiles of ice and snow. Being on a higher level the Anderson-Morris aggregation sent forth a volley of balls that registered on the fort and persons of the defenders. The battle continued, and the two forces never waned in their endeavors to subdue the opposition. Finally, the ammunition of Evans gave out and he cried for mercy—he got it, a big ball of snow found its way down his collar. Journey sent up the white flag and the conflict ended. The two armies then retired to the Mountain Inn for dinner at the expense of the losers.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL COLUMN

JOE W. JOHNSON, Editor

All social or personal news deposited in The Technician News Box will be appreciated by the editor.

Archie Green, business manager of The Agromeck, was confined to the college hospital on account of a light attack of the "flu," but we are glad that he is able to be out again.

"Big Dick" Bostian, captain of last year's football team, is visiting his fraternity brothers and other friends on the campus.

We are glad to see our friend, Pauline Horton back on the job in Mr. Cullins' Clothes Manicuring Parlor. For the past two weeks Miss Horton has been at the Mary Elizabeth Hospital, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. We have missed you, Pauline, and we welcome you back to the fold.

R. G. Cadieu left Wednesday afternoon to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Cadieu, at Monroe. During his visit home he will have his tonsils removed.

J. E. Britt attended the Student Volunteer Conference at Charlotte as a representative from State College.

Alfred H. Bremer, and other members of the Wilmington basketball team, visited Henry Bremer of State College last week-end.

Friends of W. O. Huneycutt will be sorry to hear that he is sick at the Mary Elizabeth Hospital, with pneumonia.

"Shorty" Walton spent the week-end at Richlands.

Buck Morris, editor of The Technician, spent a few days the latter part of last week visiting relatives in Wilmington.

Bill Shearin visited his parents at Castle Hayne last week.

Marion S. Gravely, of the Junior Class, enjoyed the week-end visiting friends in Hamlet.

Bob Sloan spent last week-end with his parents in Dunn.

L. L. Browning will spend the latter part of the coming week with friends in Monroe.

T. C. Evans, Jr., visited his parents in Maxton the first of the week.

G. T. Bostic, Class of '23, visited his fraternity brothers of Sigma Nu last Sunday. He is now working with the P. H. Hanes Knitting Company, of Winston-Salem.

L. J. Worthington spent last week in Greenville, N. C. During his visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Worthington, he attended the Senior Normal dance, given by the Seniors of East North Carolina Teachers Training College.

BULL HALL-Y-CAUSEWAY SCANDAL

Stirs State College Campus; Usurps Teapot Dome Scandal; Flays Morris; Howls of Bribery and Corruption of High Officials; Threatens Reprisals

State College Station, Monday, February 25.—The Pete Barber Construction Company, of Reidsville, N. C., was today awarded a contract for the rebuilding of the Bull Hall Y Causeway. Our readers will recall that last month a contract was let to the "Flop" Morris Construction Company for the construction of their causeway, and in an interview today Mr. Morris expressed great indignation that the contract had been taken from him. He claimed that bribery and corruption of high officials was responsible. He also claimed that by using Freshmen Mr. Barber was resorting to espionage, that the work of Mr. Barber was poor and would need constant maintenance, and that Mr. Barber had infringed on his patents.

Mr. Barber is a prominent member of the Gymnastic Club and the club is prepared to back him to the limit. Messrs. Summeril and Gentry engaged in a heated altercation with Mr. Morris and only the intervention of cooler weather prevented a fiasco. Mr. Morris is noted for his high temper. Doubtless many of our readers will recall the famous Flop Morris-Buzz Brackett dispute of last year.

Further details will appear in the next edition.
