A. S. M. E. PLANNING FOR ENGINEERING SHOW

Mr. W. T. Harding Talks to the Society on the Importance of Good Letter Writing

April 15th—the day for the Engineering Show! With this in mind, the M. E. Society is getting in readiness now, assigning its members to specific duties, so that on the 15th everything may move along with the smoothness of a well adjusted machine.

The question whether to take into the society as members Sophomores and Freshmen was discussed and voted upon. The vote ruled that Sophomores and Freshmen should not be taken in.

The society was fortunate in securing Mr. W. T. Harding, president of the Raleigh Iron Works, who accentuated to the students the importance of good letter writing, particularly in regard to business letters. The letter, he stated, is simply a tool of the writer, and may or may not be effective according to the skill with which it is used.

DR. TAYLOR ADDRESSES AGRICULTURAL CLUB

Dr. C. C. Taylor made a very interesting talk to the members of the Agricultural Club last Tuesday evening, in which he stressed the need of public speaking. He believes that public speaking in the clubs is of more value than of any other single thing on the campus. "The Ag. Club," said Dr. Taylor, "is doing more to advertise the college and to promote education than any other organization on the campus: the Ag. Fair and the N. C. State Agriculturist is of great value to the State. The N. C. State Agriculturist is read by a large number of people of the State because of the value of its contents, and also because of the sons and friends who write for the paper."

Dr. Taylor mentioned the course in journalism to be given here next year, and urged that every student that possibly could should take the course; because it will help to teach a person how to put his ideas across, and this is a very important thing.

In conclusion he mentioned three great points that every student should bear in mind: first, that every student should learn to speak in public; second, to practice journalism or writing articles to be published; third, because of the value of the Ag. Club in developing speakers and contributing by advertising the college.

Dr. Taylor's talk was short and to the point, and we hope to have him and other members of the faculty to visit the club.

After the talk by Dr. Taylor the club had a business meeting, which consisted of electing the staff for the

SENIOR DEBATE COMES BACK HOME

Leazarite Upperclassmen Win Unanimous Decision and Take First and Second Places as Individual Speakers in Annual Clash

(By ZIPPY MACK)

The Prodigal has returned. Broken and penitent, after having spent a year in strange lands among unfamiliar faces, the Senior Debate last Friday night rushed back to the Leazar Literary Society in a wave that brought with it a unanimous decision, and both first and second places among individual speeches. Defending for their society the negative side of the question, "Resolved, That the present inflow of immigrants into North Carolina is detrimental to the welfare of the State," the mighty Carl Bridges and his able co-worker, Ralph H. Scott, were by their combined efforts able to solve the intricate forensic enigmas given them by Pullen's sturdy team, Leslie Andrews and Dewey W. Thompson, and to emerge victorious in one of the most spectacular of the inter-society contests in several years. Behind the great speeches of the night, though with their rejoinders they required scarcely an hour, there could be seen many days of earnest preparation, interspersed with the sleepless hours of the midnight oil, the numerous rehearsals and the wearisome rendezvous with coaches of rhetorical argument. The very nature of the meeting required, essentially, that only one team could be hailed as the victor at the close of the contest, but aside from the petty enthusiasms of the rival society members, the debate struck the audience as a demonstration of a real service, a monument to the labors of the Pullen Literary Society and of the Leazar Literary Society. The Senior Debate marked, as it has in the past, the ultimate attempt of State students to cultivate in themselves a real forceful mode of expression, without which they cannot become effective leaders of men.

Presiding over the contest was Mr. Russel W. Cline, president-emeritus of Pullen Literary Society, while the secretarial duties were performed by Mr. Clyde R. Wright, who is now secretary of Leazar Literary Society. The committee of judges was composed of Prof. Cook and Dr. Forster of the Agricultural Department and Dr. Blair of Guilford County.

PORTRAIT OF PAGE GIFT TO THE COLLEGE

Dr. E. C. Brooks, President of State College, Receives Gift in Talk to Assembly of Students

State College on Monday received from Mrs. Walter Hines Page a copy of the London portrait of her distinguished husband. The picture will be hung in Page Hall, the Mechanical Engineering Building, which was named in honor of Mr. Page, one of the founders of the Watauga Club, an organization that played an important part in the establishment of the college.

In accepting the picture for the college Dr. E. C. Brooks, addressing faculty and students at the college assembly, paid high tribute to the idealism of Walter Hines Page, whom he characterized as one of the great men of the world in an era when great beings only could achieve success.

"It is our purpose," said Dr. Brooks, "to pause from time to time

ORGANIZATION OF THE CHEER LEADERS' CLUB

It has doubtless been known by many on the campus that there has been a move on foot for some time to organize a Cheer Leaders' Club. This move terminated on last Friday afternoon in the organization of a real Cheer Leaders' Club.

The purpose of this club is to bring about a better spirit on the campus as a whole and at our games in particular, and also to get more men out for the cheer leader's job.

Under the rules of the club the cheer leader's job will be put on a competitive basis, just as the manager's job in all our major sports, and the fellow who goes out and works the hardest and shows the most ability will get the job.

One of the main things that the club hopes to do is to establish some new yells and a college song.

Mr. Trice, of the Chemistry Department, who was head cheer leader at this college in 1917, has kindly consented to give his services in training the new men. With the help of Mr. Trice and others on the campus who have had a great deal of experience in cheer leading, the club hopes to turn out some real live cheer leaders who will be able to lead the student body and keep the old spirit going at our games and other places where we need most to show our spirit.

So far twenty-eight men have signed up, and at the meeting Friday afternoon the following officers were elected: Red Clifford, president; Ed Ruffy, vice president; Ed Griffith,

Who said that we could not play baseball? Ask Elon.

Remember, fellows, that the Student Government election comes off Saturday. Be sure to vote; you owe it to the college and to the men that are eligible for the offices to express your choice.

The Y. M. C. A. officers were elected Wednesday night, but too late to receive the comment that should accompany such an election. We also promise to give you our opinions on that issue next week.

The P. D. Gold Medal was again announced by Dr. Brooks at the assembly period Tuesday. Surely you are interested in this recognition of scholarship, athletics, and good citizenship. Look up the rules governing the award and get to work.

The Senior Textiles are roving over the country having a great time this week. Nevertheless, they are learning a great deal by this inspection trip, and we wish them a great time and we are sure that they will be greatly profited by this experience.

The athlete that will receive the Norris Athletic Trophy will also be voted upon at the Saturday election. This award is the highest honor that can be given to any athlete, and it is hoped that every student will think the matter over carefully before he votes for his choice.

The Beauty Contest is over. Hurrah for the winners! Perhaps there is not a person in Raleigh who has not heard of this contest, and we are very glad to have the pleasure of announcing the winners in this issue. The Contest Editor will not let the news out, so therefore we will have to save our comment until a later time.

THE NORRIS ATHLETIC TROPHY

On Saturday, April 5, at the same time when the officers of Student Government for next year are elected, the student body will select the winner of the first Norris Athletic Trophy. Candidates for this handsome cup were named during the first week of December in a primary election, and these three men and these only are eligible for the cup this year. The three candidates are:

Rochelle "Red" Johnson
G. C. "Red" Lassiter
P. C. "Fighting Cleve" Beatty

On the day of the election tickets will be provided carrying the names of the three candidates. Vote for your choice by placing a cross mark after the name. The cup will be awarded at commencement. Contrary to the general impression, the trophy becomes the property of the winner and a new cup will be given next year.

The Rules of Award follow:

The Norris Athletic Trophy for 1923 will be awarded at Commencement, 1924, under the following regulations, to the student who most distinguishes himself in athletics during the calendar year 1923.

1. The Norris Athletic Trophy Committee, made up of the Director of Athletics, the Chairman of the Faculty Athletic Committee, the Graduate Manager of Athletics, the President of the Student Body, and the Alumni Secretary, with Mr. Frank E. Lowenstein, of Atlanta, Georgia, as ex officio chairman, shall have charge of the details of awarding the trophy. In the absence of the ex officio chairman the Director of Athletics shall preside at all meetings of the committee. The Alumni Secretary shall act as secretary to the committee, and shall keep a record of all proceedings.

2. To be eligible for the trophy the prospective recipient must have attained a passing grade on at least seventy per cent of his scholastic work carried during the year.

3. The winner shall be determined by a popular vote of the student body in a primary election to be held annually during the first week in December, and in a final election to be held annually at the same time and place that balloting occurs for the election of officers of the student government.

4. The three men receiving the highest number of votes in the primary election shall be considered as candidates for the trophy, and shall enter the final election to be held simultaneously with the election of officers of the student government as above provided.

5. Each regularly enrolled student of the college may vote once for the candidate of his choice in the primary by writing the said candidate's name on the ballot prepared for that purpose and depositing same in the ballot box; but after the field of candidates has been narrowed to three by the primary only the three men receiving the highest number of votes shall be considered in the final election.

6. Ballots for the final election shall carry the names of each of the three candidates, and the voter shall indicate his choice by a cross mark (X) after the name of the candidate for whom he elects to vote.

7. Balloting in both the primary and final election shall be conducted by representatives of the Norris Trophy Committee. Immediately after the primary the committee shall determine from a count the three candidates to enter the final election. Their names shall be published in the students' newspaper, The Technician, and also be posted on all college bulletin boards.

8. If the three men receiving the highest number of votes in the primary are below the scholarship standard adopted, the committee may substitute the names of the next highest men whose scholastic work meets the requirement. In determining the scholastic standing of a student the committee shall be guided by the records on file in the Registrar's office.

9. All expenses incurred in holding both the primary and the final election, such as the cost of printing the ballots, etc., shall be borne by the State College Athletic Association.

10. The name of the winner of the trophy shall be given to the Commencement Program Committee to be printed in the Commencement program, and the trophy shall be awarded along with other awards, medals, etc., at Commencement.

BE A NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENT

Would you like to earn money evenings and in other spare time corresponding for newspapers?

With a definite plan that enabled me to earn more than $2,000 a year when I was a very young newspaper man, I will show you how to do the work, and you may begin at once. This will involve no canvassing—no waiting on customers—no drudgery. Subjects will be suggested, if desired; and you may earn while you learn.

With the plan I mentioned I have made more than $300 in a single week, and I should like to tell you more about it.

V. D. Ringwald, one of my boys in Texas, writes. "I made $30 the very first day. I am twenty-two years of age and earning about $400 a month.

Arthur H. Steward, Illinois, writes: "I have made more money in spare time than I have been able to earn in my regular position, and I am now going to devote all my time to this work."

There is money in newspaper corresponding if one knows what the big newspapers want.

An interesting free booklet, "A Straight Talk to Prospective Newspaper Correspondents," will be mailed to you immediately upon request. Ask for booklet No. 22.

Write me today, and send your letter in this evening's mail. It will receive prompt attention and may lead to an important turning point in your life.

Journeys to the Empty Grail at an End, and Knights of the Loug Table Reassemble

The portals of the College Court Emporium resounded again and again with the noise of the incoming Shriners, and though there was not a cent in the crowd all smiled as if there was a free meal coming. For forty days and forty nights there was not a square meal in the realm, and the effects had begun to make this fact evident by the reversed convexity of every Solar Plexis. As our old friend and boon companion, Shakespeare, would have remarked, "You, Cassius, hath a lean and hungry look. He thinks too much. Such men are dangerous." He would stand re-proved in this case, for they were not dangerous, although each bore a long and hungry look and thought a great deal as to where their next meal was coming from.

FACULTY MEMBERS ARE CAUGHT SHOOTING CRAPS

Lolland and Hogan Raid "Y" Basement, Making Several Arrests

Following up a tip from Dr. Karrison, Student Councilmen Lolland and Hogan staged a raid on a faculty crap game in the "Y" basement, arrested several men and summoned them to appear before the Student Council for trial.

Nothing definite is known about the reason for Dr. Karrison's "double-crossing" action. It is believed that he became disgruntled because Dr. Crooks and Dr. Teelor were using loaded dice. Dan Kloyd, who saw the game, stated that Ed. Fling, Dr. Funny Weather and Dr. Karrison had formed a combine to break the Crooks-Teelor syndicate, and that Dr. Karrison saw Dr. Crooks switching dice when it was time to shoot.

After arrest the gamblers were searched. On Dr. Crooks were found two plugs of Dr. Funny Weather's tobacco, a pair of loaded dice, nineteen cents, and a razor. A search of Dr. Teelor revealed Ed. Fling's pocket flash full of his favorite likker, Dr. Karrison's much-thumbed copy of the winter annual of Captain Billy's Whiz-Bang, thirteen cents, and a pair of brass knucks.

To predict the outcome of this deplorable incident would be dealing in futures, but the student body has reason to believe that Lolland and Hogan will push their case to the limit.

Cockle Burr Society Initiates New Men

Important Change in Requirements For Admission Adopted at Last Meeting

At the last meeting of the Cockle Burr Society there was a most interesting program rendered. A very inspirational talk was made by the president, Mr. Sammie Toldher, who called to the attention of members the need of new methods for passing work. Mr. Toldher emphasized the fact that riding was being outlawed and that the Cockle Burr Society must find new methods of passing work. At this point Mr. Pall Bearer Little, a new member, told of his three methods of passing work. "Bulling," "Legging," and "Riding" were his three standbys and of the three he stressed "legging." Long and eloquently did he rave on the correct method of legging, of how he had legged Colonel Greggs, and how he had attained the heights of the senior class without doing more work than was necessary.

Karl Bridges next gave a lengthy dissertation on his favorite method—"Bulling." He told of his honest attempt to work in his freshman year, of how he had barely passed his work, how Gillie Smith had kept him in a bind in chemistry and how at last he adopted the only method of passing work.

After explaining to the faculty members that their bids were official recognition of their membership in the mythical "All American Society," President Toldher pointed out that member Little's three methods should receive official recognition in the entrance requirements for the fraternity. This was thought to be a good suggestion and after much discussion the rules were amended to read as follows: "Passing course by legging, ninety units; passing course by bulling, eighty units; average number of Flunk Slips per month, forty units each; failures on a subject for the whole term, seventy-five units; number of times over one that a conditional examination must be taken in order to remove the subject, sixty; changing to textile or B.A., one hundred units; number of days required for registration, one hundred units each; half term student is out of school on account of bad eyes, eighty units each; number of years to graduate, over four, ninety units each; number of times brought up before Student Council for riding, ninety-five if not proven guilty, nothing if you can't fool them up; shipped away for riding, and re-entering, eighty-five units; shipped away for demerits and re-entering, thirty-five units." The following conditions are to be observed: "No credit is given for failure on physics, calculus, organic chemistry, or soils." Anybody can fail on them. A ninety or a flunk on military science count the same. Athletes are not admitted under any condition, as they have an alibi. A total of five hundred units is required for membership.

FACULTY COUNTER BEAUTY CONTEST

Professor Charlie Byheck Awarded First Prize by the Committee

At a late hour last night a reporter who was passing Hollerday Hall heard a great commotion inside and, being of an inquisitive nature, decided to investigate. To his (and our) great astonishment, the conversation which he overheard uncovered a plot on the part of the faculty who were conducting a beauty contest among themselves. It seems that because they were not eligible to the beauty contest conducted by The Technician, they were having a beauty contest of their own.

At the meeting of the faculty last night a riot occurred. This naturally caused a great commotion and the secret purpose of this meeting was revealed to our wandering reporter. This riot was caused when the judging team, composed of members of the Animal Husbandry Department, awarded the first prize to Charlie Byheck. This did not meet the approval of Professor T. Foote Nilsson, who charged the committee with conspiracy and openly declared that he had been told by a member of the committee, whose name he would not divulge, that it was unanimously decided to award the first prize to him. Professor Byheck declared that, according to Newton's fourth law, Nilsson's claim was unfounded. In fact, mankind has been doing this thing for thousands and thousands of years and nothing had ever resulted from it.

Many of those present expressed

DAMP PHOOLISHNESS

The street was wet with morning dew
As down the street a "dago" flew,
And from his kilt a knife he drew
And cut a banana half in two.

The road was damp with springtime
dews,
As down the hall a doctor "oozed."
And from his hip he took some
"booze"
And brought his patients, too, in twos.

The night was dark, the sky was blue,
As from a window a Chinaman flew;
He drew a sword from his side
And stuck it in an oyster stew.

THE GYMNACROBATIC CLUB

We have on our campus,
A club of standing rare.
Its members are the bravest men—
They never seem to care.

They climb the textile tower
Just to have some fun,
And we'd not be at all surprised
If some day they'd reach the sun.

They hang upon the water tank
Like clothes hang on a line.
They climb the stack to dizzy heights
To see what they can find.

When they start at climbing,
You will never see them stop
Until they have ascended Completely to the top.

In this club, we understand,
Tom Gentry takes the lead,
And when he starts at climbing
He surely shows some speed.

He climbs the smoke stack to the top
Then yells to those below,
"Get a move, Gymnacrobat;
Gee Whiz! but you are slow."

Ike Summerill is a member
Of good standing, we are told.
Of all the members in the club
None are quite so bold.

He does things that require nerve,
For nerve he has a plenty,
And the records of his daring feats,
I'll promise you, are many.

Tune of Faust.

Father's long gray whiskers,
They're always in the way,
They're always in the way,
And when he goes to the barnyard
The cows chew them for hay.

(Second spasm, same fit.)

Father's long gray whiskers,
They're always in the way,
They're always in the way,
And when we sit at the table,
All in the family group
Father's long gray whiskers
They're always in the soup;
And when we go to bed at night
And everybody's asleep,
Mother chews them whiskers
And thinks they're shredded wheat.

HELL IN THE BULL HALL

The devil in hell we are told was chained,
For a thousand years he there remained;
He neither complained nor did he
groan,
But determined to start a hell of his own,
Where he could torment the souls of men
Without being chained in a prison pen.

So he asked the Lord if he had on hand Anything left when He made the land.

The Lord said, Yes, He had plenty on
hand;
That He had left it down in Mr. Harris's stand.
"But the fact is, old boy, the stuff's so poor
I don't think you can use it in hell any more."

In order to be always rid of the truck,
The Lord, He promised to throw in some chuck,
For He had some molasses, or rather
some dregs,
A regular cathartic that smelt like bad eggs.
So the trade was closed and the deed
was given,
And the Lord went back to His home
in heaven.

The devil, he set out and worked unimpeded
To make a good hell, and hence he succeeded.

He began by making stale all of the bread,
And mixed up the oatmeal with pellets of lead;
He boiled up some leather and Panco,
too,
To serve to the students as mulligan stew.

Their stomachs pain them, the pepper
stings,
The bread it strikes them as it flies on wings.
Callie and Ray the tables roam
around,
Trying to keep order where no order
is found.
Leather grown on the back of the bull
Is used in the mess hall to keep the students full.
Just dine in the Bull Hall, and then you will shout,
"I've got hell on the inside as well as the out!"

Not a ruble was in the crowd, not a shilling was in a jean, not a ducat in any robe, not a checkle in the hiding places of the garments, only an evisweet aroma from the coffee pot made them weep and wail and grit their ivories, the one against the other one, until Franklin looked on them in compassion, and since the ravens would not feed them he extended their credit and there was great rejoicing throughout the domain of every evacuated tripe.

Four score days and ten since their fathers conceived the idea of providing three squares per diem for them, but when they felt that they had become of age they obtained what little of the family goods that were theirs and set out for State College, where they wasted their money in having a big time. Yea! they even pawned their watches until they fain would eat what the Bull-Hall did serve.
And when all was gone they fain did borrow five dollars, and when the proprietors saw them coming in the distance they ran and fell on their necks and sold them a meal ticket.

A short time elapsed until the lone ticket had assumed the general appearance of a stationary target and the draft that could pass through the numerous holes would make even the

In fact, it resembled a hobnail shoe

(With apologies to "Shorty.")

The shades of night had long since fed,
As through a little village sped
A youth who wore, 'mid snow and ice,
Those clothes that bore that strange device—

"B. V. D."

His thoughts were cold, his knees
were froze,
Because he wore no other clothes;
And like the silver clarion rung
The accents of unpublished tongue—

"B. V. D."

A tourist found him, almost froze,
Buried 'neath the snow and ice,
Because he wore no other clothes
than those
That bore that strange device—

"B. V. D."

A. S. C. E. MEETS

The regular meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers was held Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. Quite a discussion was raised over the reason for cutting short the previous meeting of the society. Some claimed that it was because Mr. Pete Barber had a date and was anxious to get there before someone else beat him to it. This Mr. Barber did not deny, but he did say that such was not the reason. To settle the question the president appointed Mr. Barnhardt and Mr. Davis to fully investigate the affair and report at the next meeting of the society.

Business then occupied the attention of those present. The fact that the Engineering Show was to come off shortly was brought out in a short talk by the president. Several amendments to the constitution of the society were adopted and put on the books.

Mr. Dillard addressed the society on the subject of a recent disaster in Italy, caused by the failure of a large dam. Mr. Dillard brought out that the failure was due to poor construction, and that the failure of this dam opened the eyes of engineers all over the world to the value of good work.

Mr. Brothers then came on the floor for a few minutes of humor. His jokes were up-to-date and very amusing. After hearing from Mr. Brothers, the society adjourned.

Field Trip to Baden Made By Electro-Chemistry Class

Last Saturday T. C. Chang, who is enrolled in the graduate school, and the following: Pridgen, Hedgepeth, Weir, Urquhart, Lawrence and McCrea, members of Dr. E. E. Randolph's Electro-Chemistry Class, went to Baden via flivvers and inspected the aluminum reduction plant of the Aluminum Company of America. Mr. L. D. Daniel, acting superintendent, and Mr. W. G. Dotson, chief chemist, who were acquainted with Dr. Randolph, conducted the class through the plant and laboratory and explained in detail all the processes and machinery used in the production of aluminum. The class was impressed with the size and efficiency of the plant, about 98,000 pounds of 99.25 per cent pure aluminum being produced in one day. The plant operates day and night, 365 days to the year. After inspecting the plant the class went over to the dam and power plant, which are situated about two miles away on the Narrows of the Yadkin River. The height of the dam is 212 feet, the maximum water-head is 187 feet, 16 feet higher than Niagara Falls. Through the kindness of Mr. McNeely DuBose, assistant electrical superintendent and a State College graduate, the class was conducted through the power plant. The turbines at the time of their installation were the largest in the world. At the present time three turbines of a maximum capacity of 32,000 horsepower each are in operation. A fourth turbine is being installed.

Mr. F. A. Lilly, assistant chemist, is another State College graduate employed by the company.

If you knew what ageing in wood does for pipe tobacco

Even the finest Kentucky Burley Tobacco (and that's the kind we use) is green and raw when it's pulled. You could hardly smoke one pipe load of it.

And here's where Velvet is different: Our ageing takes out that rawness and harshness, and makes the tobacco mild and mellow and gives it fine flavor. Ageing in wood does what no artificial treatment can do.

Remember—Velvet Tobacco aged in wood.

Alumni Notes

Observations and Communications of Zippy Mack

The other day while we were wondering just what we should put in here this week, what should slip to us through the mails but a nice long letter from Mike Breen? Mike, a former Technician staff man, and a poet of no mean ability, was formerly a member of the Class of '24, but he disappeared suddenly and we now find him on the advertising staff of the Atlanta Constitution. He said he left on account of domestic troubles, but asked us not to mention that. He wants to talk to you folks a little, so we are going to give him the floor. Mr. Breen (applause).

Hi, Gang! — Station NNFG (News notes from Georgia) broadcasting, E. O. Breen, better known as Mike, doing the announcing.

Mike, an old stand-by on The Technician staff just a few issues back, is now trying to conquer new fields in Atlanta, Ga., on The Constitution. How he got there or why he went is a mystery to the staff, but it seems that a certain young Raleigh damsel announced her engagement all too soon for Mike and since then North Carolina has lost all its charm for him.

(Editor's note: Mike still talking, not us. Wonder why he uses the third person?)

That irresistible pair, known all over the campus as "Mike and Ike, they look alike," (they take away our appetite), has once more met on neutral territory. It will be remembered that Mike Breen and Ike Summerill were Captain Price's twins in the band two years ago. The only way Capt. could tell them apart was to make one come to practice without a tie.

"Ike" Summerill, or H. B. as his cognomen is signed on all international documents pertaining to Sigma Pi's uplifting, is in Atlanta this week doing his stuff out Emory University way, where the Beta Pi's of Emory have been granted a charter of Sigma Pi. Ike is one of the chief oil cans in the installation machinery which is taking place.

The Sigma Pi fraternity at Emory has a nice and cosy looking house just off the campus. Indications point to a successful chapter.

Tulane and State are the nearest chapters.

While we are broadcasting this gas attack we must not overlook Mr. E.

W. (Skin County) Constable, a famous alumnus of State College. Prof. Constable is here, also, for the installation of Sig's new chapter.

Atlanta must hold some unknown charms for these two, as they are overstaying their time. But then Agnes Scott has a beautiful campus.

It's a small world after all. I ran across J. W. Hodges of Georgia this afternoon. Bill has just returned from Colorado, where he fought a hard battle with Old Man Health. He is looking good now, and he wishes to be remembered to the gang. Bill was an Ag. student at State.

(Editor's note: Mr. Hodges was a member of the Class of '23, but was forced to leave school just before graduation on account of ill health. We are sure all of his friends here will be glad to hear of his recovery.)

THE LION TAMERS ARE HIGHLY ELATED

One of Their Number, Known as "The Pride of the Lion Tamers," Wins the Beauty Contest

The announcement that Mr. C. E. Vick had won the beauty contest was received with great joy in the lair of the Lion Tamers. The members of this rising organization took it upon themselves to run one of their number in the contest, and each pledged his loyal support. With President Wilder as the campaign manager, they all became boosters for Mr. Vick, perhaps better known as "The Pride of the Lion Tamers." Throughout a very strenuous campaign they backed him to a man, and, on the eve of the end of the contest, Manager Wilder and his colleagues were still at it with the life and vigor that surrounds every undertaking of the Lion Tamers. And when the end came the sweating tellers toiling over the countless votes found that Vick's backers had indeed wrought well and had put their man where every Lion Tamer stands in some field, at the top of the list.

Manager Wilder received news of the victory in that characteristic way of his, with only a twinkle in his eye and perhaps a low chuckle of gratification to show his inward feelings. One or two of the other Lion Tamers gave voice to the high-pitched chirp of the club. In the near future the Lion Tamers, at a social meeting, will render to Mr. Vick that adulation to which they have proved he has an inherent right.

Y. M. C. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

The election of the officers for next year for the Y. M. C. A. was held Wednesday night in the "Y" auditorium. The results were as follows:

President—L. A. Brothers.
Vice-President—S. R. Wallis.
Secretary—J. E. Griffith.
Treasurer—J. M. Potter.

These men have shown an active interest in the work of the Y. M. C.

A. since they have been in school, and the organization is lucky to get such men at its head for next year.

With the backing that is promised it next year, the Y. M. C. A. should make more progress than it has ever before. Since its organization at this school it has made progress, and the progress has become more rapid in the past few years.

These men deserve the support of the student body in this work, and everyone should get in behind them and make the new administration the most successful of all.

THE TWO-BIT CLASS ACQUIRES DIGNITY

The dignity of the Junior Class attained a phenomenal growth the other day when the Senior Ring Committee reported its work. Chairman R. L. Melton read the contract between the Junior Class and The Charles H. Elliot Company. The gist of the contract is as follows:

I. The Charles H. Elliot Company will execute the necessary steel dies without expense to the Junior Class.

II. The company agrees to submit for approval finished sample rings to the committee and, upon approval, to furnish rings to members of the Two-bit Class, made in ten-carat gold, average weight to be twelve penny weight, set with ruby, at cost of $18, the war tax of 5 per cent not included. Each ring to be engraved with man's name, town and State, without extra charge.

III. Members of the class will deposit $5 upon ordering ring. Ring design will be patented and reserved for sole use of the class and alumni.

IV. On completion and satisfactory performance on the part of the company the members of the class shall purchase rings from the company on the above terms. Orders will be completed four weeks after receipt. Transportation prepaid to Raleigh.

V. Miniatures, including stones, will be furnished by the company at $15 each.

The contract met with the approval of the class.

The following resolutions were also adopted:

I. No member of the class will be allowed to order a ring unless he can give satisfactory proof that he can graduate next year.

II. No member of the class will be allowed to wear a miniature ring, but if he so desires he may order a miniature for his (wife?).

These resolutions and the decision of the Senior Ring Committee as to the stone and design mark the beginning of a movement towards a standard ring for the graduating class at State College.

ENGINEERING EXPOSITION

Technical Students to Exhibit Imported Electrical Machinery, Making of Liquid Air, Etc., on April 15—Everybody Invited

For the first time in its history State College is to have an Engineering Day. This day is to be set aside for the School of Engineering to exhibit to the public the work of its different departments. The four major groups, namely, the Civil, Electrical, Mechanical, and Textile, will have their shops, laboratories and designing rooms running full blast, with students in charge of them.

Never before has anything like this been attempted on such a large scale. Formerly each department had or did not have its open house or show. Now, under the new regime, the four major departments are having their shows on the same day at the same time under the auspices of the technical societies. This is in line with the new administration for putting State College second to none in the South.

Also on that day the Chemistry Department will have some very interesting exhibits. Among them will be the manufacture of liquid air, which in itself is of no little importance. Also, they will have many exhibits from the largest chemical companies. Their laboratories will be open to the public.

Fellows, don't miss the treat of your life! Come, look us over, and find out how engineers are trained. You will learn something that you never knew existed on State College campus.

The public is cordially invited to inspect the School of Engineering on April 15th, from 2 to 6 p.m. Students will be in their respective departments to explain processes and see that your time is well spent.

Miss Emily Jones Decisively Declared To Be the Most Beautiful Girl in Raleigh

Smiling "Bobby" Jones Received Over Two-thirds of the Total Number of Votes Cast

Twelve o'clock Sunday night, March 30th, the ballot box was forced shut and sealed by the combined efforts of three of State's heftiest football men. The tellers immediately set to work counting the votes and worked hard and steadily into the wee sma' hours of Monday morning. The totals showed Miss Emily Jones, the charming little girl who has smiled her way into the heart of every State College man through the bars of the General Delivery Window down at State College Station P. O., the winner by an overwhelming majority. Miss Jones' total was 14,545, almost three times as many votes as were cast for all the other entrants combined, during the entire contest. A great number of these were cast in the last few minutes of the contest.

Miss Jones entered the contest in the second week and at once took the lead. This lead was never overcome but once, when Miss Ruby Sadler, winner of second place, forged ahead by about two hundred votes. This lead was short-lived, however, and for the remainder of the contest Miss Jones' lead was not seriously threatened at any time. As the contest progressed and Miss Jones handled the greatly increased incoming Technician mail she little dreamed that she was handling hundreds and hundreds of her own votes, coming in from all over the South where State's loyal alumni, Miss Jones' loyal friends, were taking an active part in The Technician Beauty Contest. Toward the end of the contest the contest editor thought it was going to be necessary to set up another ballot box, besides the large one being used, to receive Miss Jones' votes.

Miss Jones, better known to the State College boys as "Bobby," "Smiles," or "Sunshine," is an attractive little blond, with a characteristic smile which makes a fellow glad he's living—which helps a fellow in his conception of heaven; and eyes to match—eyes of blue, deep, ocean-blue wells of sympathy and understanding. She is blessed with a very unusually great amount of good sense, a characteristic appreciated and admired in a woman by every real man. She is also blessed (or cursed, as you like it) with a great amount of sympathy and love for her fellow-human beings. Service is her motto. That's why "Bobby" gives a fellow a smile and says, "It'll be on the next mail. You know she won't forget you," when the expected letter from your girl doesn't come.

C. E. VICK "The Pride of the Lion Tamers"

Mr. C. E. Vick, a member of our Junior Class, is a native of Nashville, N. C. He is a man of rugged physique, and action and vim can be seen in his every motion. Since coming to N. C. State Mr. Vick has become much liked by his fellows and has been urged to join several organizations on the campus, chief among these being the Lion Tamers. He has risen so high in their estimation that he has been dubbed "The Pride of the Lion Tamers." However, Vick is liked by all, and his overwhelming personality, together with his rare manly beauty, makes him a winner not only in this contest, but in that of life.

Mr. Vick attributes his beauteous manhood to years in the open, in communion with Nature. Since he definitely took such a leading part in the contest he has repeatedly been beset with splendid offers for the use of his picture in connection with "ads" of facial beautifiers, but like the man that he is he has steadfastly turned them down and has given the credit to nature. He endorses the "back-to-nature" movement as being conducive to a more beautiful race in the future. He also says that the various places of recreation now provided in cities have already started this turn toward beauty, and that in a few generations every American will be a perfect specimen of real grace. His motto is, "Every girl a Venus, every boy a Vick."

could not overcome Virk's lead, although five minutes before the contest closed they had approached within less than a hundred votes of the coveted goal. At exactly two minutes before the contest ended and the ballot box was sealed, three hundred votes for Vick assured his victory.

Manager Morris and his efficient committee are to be congratulated upon the splendid showing their candidate made. Mr. Hodges receives one free subscription to the 1924-'25 Technician as the second prize. Congratulations to you, "Doll Baby."

Miss Ruby Sadler Selected As Second Most Beautiful Girl

Threatened First Place for a Long Time at the Beginning of the Contest

Miss Ruby Sadler, who for quite a while at the beginning of the contest threatened to capture first place and even near the end at one time had received the largest number of votes, is the winner of the second place in the beauty contest.

S. C. HODGES WINS SECOND PLACE IN CLOSE CONTEST

Champion of 1911 Dormitory Makes Great Run and Loses First Place—By a Narrow Margin

After an exciting campaign that every moment threatened to make him the winner of The Technician Beauty Contest, Mr. S. C. Hodges was forced to accept second place by the untiring efforts of Mr. Wilder, campaign manager for C. E. Vick.

Mr. Hodges, the tall, handsome blond from the land of Washington and Lee, made a most sensational race for first place and was defeated by less than four hundred votes. Just a few hours before the contest closed "Doll Baby" was in the lead by a fairly wide margin, but that was before Manager Wilder came into action. Within a half hour Vick had a greater lead than Hodges had a few minutes before. The campaign committee "across the hill" seemed to sense the tenseness of the situation, and they, too, came into action for a short time, but their perseverance could not equal that of Wilder and Bremer, and the votes they sent in COPY-BOOKS have failed to impress on the minds of men the truth of that most quoted of all axioms—"Procrastination is the thief of time." Yet down through the centuries, the lesson is there for those who will but learn. That great word "if" is the epilogue to many of history's greatest tragedies.

Is some one going to say "if" after you are gone? Consider! There is always a "tomorrow," but only one "today".

SUNDAY THE BIG DAY FOR BAPTIST STUDENTS

"Going 4:30 P. M."

Sunday, April 6th, brings two important events for Baptist students and others who are participating, or interested, in Baptist student activities.

The first event is at Pullen Memorial Sunday School, beginning at 9:30 A.M. Instead of the regular lessons, a special program is being prepared by the school as a whole with Mrs. Walter Gilmore as director. The program is mainly musical, with a quartet from Meredith and a local duet as the main features. Readings and recitations are also a part of the program.

The purpose is to make the first Sunday in April a banner day in Sunday school attendance. Each class has been assigned a quota to be present. State College Class has been assigned 100. Ten more than usual will fill the quota, but listen, Mr. Baptist Student, if all of us leave it to the other fellow to go without ourselves, how many will be present?

At 4:30 P.M. the First Annual Convocation or Mass Meeting of Baptist Students of Raleigh is to be held at Pullen Memorial auditorium. This includes all Meredith girls, all Baptist students of State College, and all Baptist young people of Raleigh interested in Baptist student activities. Permission has been secured and at least 250 Baptist young people are expected to come together for a short, interesting and important program of music, information and business. Everybody "Going 4:00 P.M.," and those interested in going will receive further information at 4:30 Sunday.

Candidates for the offices of president and secretary of Baptist Student Activities are to be selected. Come prepared to nominate a candidate and to back your favorite girl and boy.

An invitation has been sent inviting a delegation with music from N. C. C. W. as guests of the convocation.

Portrait of Page Gift to College to present to this body, for its guidance and inspiration, character sketches of the outstanding men of the nation and of the world, great men who, by their ideals, have left an indelible imprint upon the times. It is fitting today, in accepting this likeness of a great friend of this institution in its early youth, that we begin this series with a brief consideration of the life and idealism of Walter Hines Page."

Mr. Brooks announced that on Monday, April 7, commemorating the anniversary of America's declaration of war against Germany, the "Ideals of Woodrow Wilson" would be presented to the college assembly.

Dr. Brooks briefly reviewed the early life of Mr. Page. He told how as a boy the ambassador to the Court of St. James watched Sherman's army pass through Cary in pursuit of General Johnston's command. Voicing the childish protest of a staunch Southern heart, the youngster vowed that he would die before he would sit down at the table with a Yankee.

"And yet," Dr. Brooks declared, "Walter Hines Page in later years probably did more to bring about a better feeling between the North and the South than any other Southern man."

EDMUND HALLEY
1656-1742

Son of a London soap-boiler who became Astronomer-Royal. At the age of 20 headed an expedition to chart the stars of the Southern hemisphere. Financed and handled the printing of Newton's immortal Principia.

The comet came back

The great comet that was seen by William of Normandy returned to our skies in 1910 on its eleventh visit since the Conquest. Astronomers knew when it would appear, and the exact spot in the sky where it would first be visible.

Edmund Halley's mathematical calculation of the great orbit of this 76-year visitor—his scientific proof that comets are part of our solar system—was a brilliant application of the then unpublished Principia of his friend Sir Isaac Newton.

The laws of motion that Newton and Halley proved to govern the movements of a comet are used by scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company to determine the orbit of electrons in vacuum tubes.

As spectacular as a comet has been the world's electrical development. By continuous scientific research the General Electric Company has accelerated this development and has become a leader in the industry.

¶ In the mind of every serious thinking college man there arises a question: "What am I going to do after graduation?" This question presents a serious crisis. It demands a definite decision.
