TRINITY SWAMPED BY STATE, 6 TO 2

Tech Men Fight Their Way to Victory
Through Wind and Rain
Over Trinity

HILL PITCHES BRILLIANT GAME

The Wolfpack, piloted by Johnny Hill, easily walked away with the laurels in the game with Trinity yesterday. In the first inning, State's batters opened up an attack which blasted all of Trinity's hopes for the championship. In the second inning Red Lassiter started things off with a two-base hit. Hits by Gilbert, Hill, Correll, and Shuford netted State four runs. Trinity substituted Dempster for Sanderson in an effort to stop this furious onslaught by State's batters. In the third inning, Holland walked, Lassiter hit and stole second. A bad peg from the catcher and a wild throw back to home let Dutch cross the plate for another run. In the sixth, Al Johnston patted the pill for a three-bagger. A timely hit by Hill brought him in for the sixth run. Trinity scored one run in the fourth and one in the fifth. The outstanding features of the game were Johnny Hill's wicked twirling and the all-around good work by State's team.

At 7 p. m. a parade was formed in front of Pullen Hall to celebrate the victory. The parade was headed by a coffin, bedecked with flowers and bearing the name "Trinity." After serenading St. Mary's, Peace, and Meredith, it marched to Capitol Square and deposited Trinity's remains. After "taps" was sounded by the bugler and a word was spoken by the minister, kerosene was applied and the remains were cremated. Last, but not least, was a free show at the "Grand."

The winning of this game gives State a flying chance for the Southern championship.

MY FRIEND!

By HARRY H. MOORE in The Crimson and White

There is only one friend true in life,
And I can't say it's a brother,
But the friend that bore me to this earth
Is the only friend—My Mother.

When I have troubles on my mind,
Some small thing or another,
There's only one friend to go to,
That one friend is—My Mother.

Sometimes she scolds, I will admit,
When I think she could go no further;
But if she fusses, scolds or whips,
She's my only friend—My Mother.

When she is dead and leaves this earth,
And there will be no other,
My love for her still lingers on,
She was my friend—My Mother.

CAROLINA WINS THE TRACK CHAMPIONSHIP

State's Track Team Covers Itself With Glory But Takes Only an Easy Second Place

Taking six first places out of a possible fourteen, breaking three State records, and placing all but three of the men entered in the State Track Meet, held on Riddick Field May 2 and 3, State easily took second place for the intercollegiate track championship.

With the first event, the hundred-yard dash, State took the lead. This lead soon gave way to Carolina, who, by means of her seven first places and numerous seconds, thirds, fourths, and fifths, sprang into the lead and never relinquished it again. The first score was:

Carolina	107 1/4
State	57 1/4
Davidson	21 1/4
Wake Forest	14 1/4
Trinity	9 1/2

The heroes of the meet were: "Buck" Bynum, "Red" Hamrick, and Joe Ripple, all of State, and Moore, of Carolina, "Buck" won all three of his races, the fastest ones there are, decisively, and broke a State Record in one of them. In the hundred he came from behind (on account of a bad get-away) and won an easy first place in ten seconds flat. In the two-twenty he got away to a good start and by the time they entered the straight-away was leading the field. He crossed the tape about seven yards ahead of the second man for his second first place and a new State record.

JUNIOR CLASS ELECTS 1925-'26 OFFICERS

Rochelle Johnson Selected to Head
Seniors of Next Year; A. R.
Winslow Vice-President

At a very interesting meeting last Monday evening the Junior Class elected its officers for the coming year. The members of the class found it hard to decide upon the right men, because all the men put up for the offices were of such high character and standing. However, after much deliberation and discussion, the following men were selected to guide the destinies of the glorious class of 1925, as it sets sail for its final eight months of stormy weather before it finds its rest in the harbor of "no more exams."

President—Rochelle Johnson, Chalybeate Springs.
Vice President—A. R. Winslow, Jr., Winfall.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. R. Deal, Lenoir.
Poet—J. R. Brown, Democrat.
Historian—H. M. Bremer, Jr., Wilmington.
Prophet—Ira J. Tucker, Monroe.

STATE COLLEGE TO OFFER FELLOWSHIPS

30 Fellowships and Scholarships Offered by Graduate School
for Coming Academic Year

North Carolina State College is going to be recognized in the near future as the most outstanding college in the South for graduate work. Already we are drawing students from all over the world, Japan, China, India, South Africa, Europe, and many parts of America have contributed students to our school during the last two years. Most of these students were and are in graduate work.

These fellowships will likely be taken up very quickly. If you, Mr. Graduate of the Class of '24, or any alumnus, is planning to do graduate work here next year, you should avail yourselves of this opportunity and apply at once to the Dean of the Graduate School. There is always greater need for men who are expert and capable to lead, and graduate training will add a thousandfold to the knowledge and ability already gained is serving to further develop them and put you in trim shape.

Our Graduate School is offering for next year thirty graduate scholarships and fellowships as listed below:

Ten Teaching and Research Fellowships
These fellowships carry a stipend of $750 each and free tuition. The recipients are permitted to carry one-half time graduate work. The remainder of their time is required in teaching, laboratory assistance or research.

STATE'S BALL TEAM
RETURNS WITH CLEAN
COLLEGIATE RECORD

Coach Doak, Sam Redfearn, Jim
Allen and His Team Had a Pleasant Trip

The team went north Sunday, April 27, and returned Sunday, May 4. Sam Redfearn beat Washington and Lee Tuesday, 12 to 2. Johnny Hill went up to pitch the second Washington and Lee game. He was rained out, however, and returned the next day to his college duties. Jim Allen and Pete Dellinger whipped Maryland University Thursday, 17 to 3. Friday they lost to the Quantico Marines, 7 to 1. Saturday Sam Redfearn beat William and Mary, 19 to 0.

A very successful trip, to say the least. This leaves the team with one Southern collegiate game lost and only three games the whole season. They've "Fight 'em, team," we're backing you.

The student body is proud of our new shot put and discus records.

As a social gathering the N. C. C. P. A., held at Elon the past week, was unquestionably a great success.

We are indeed glad to welcome intercollegiate debating on our campus again. This is the first intercollegiate debate since 1914.

It was a hart hitting ball team that invaded Virginia and Maryland this past week. Nearly every member of the team brought up his batting average several points.

Our new wooden bleachers look much better painted than unpainted. We are expecting some member of the Wolfpack to smear up a ball in fresh paint next Monday during the Carolina game.

These Palm Beach and seersucker suits along with straw hats make one think that summer is near at hand. But we welcome them as we do all other necessary changes in our wearing apparel.

'Tis a fast, enduring man who can win the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes in the State track meet. We all hold in high esteem a man who can do this and we are proud of the man who did it.

The Junior Class is to be congratulated on their selection of officers at the election held last Monday. Rochelle Johnson is a man that not only the Junior Class, but the whole student body, is proud of. All the other officers are well qualified for their respective offices.

MOTHER'S DAY

The idea of Mother's Day was originated by Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia, in 1906. Woodrow Wilson, during his first term, set apart the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day. Ever since then the second Sunday in May has been observed by the people of this country as Mother's Day.

Every man living owes a debt to his mother that he can never repay. Although all men know this, still at times they are a little apt to forget their mother, she who risked her life for him. It is for this reason that a day was set aside when all men were supposed to write to their mother and in every way possible show her that he really thinks of her and loves her.

From the time when we first lay in our mother's tender arms to this day we have been taken care of by her; we have gone to her with our troubles; it was she who nursed us through sickness; it was she who fed us; it was she who taught us our prayers; it was she who did all these many little things for us. What have we done for her to repay in part for these many things? No one is more ready to sympathize with us in our sadness, no one is more proud of us when we get honor and glory, and no one is hurt more when we bring shame and disgrace upon ourselves than our mother.

Especially do we college men tend to forget Mother. We forget her as she is laboring to keep us here. We do not think of the sacrifices she has made that her son might get an education. So, Sunday, let's every man in school here write Mother a fine, long letter, telling her of his love and his appreciation for her everlasting love and care. Let's go somewhere to church as she taught us to do, and if she is living let's wear a red rose or carnation, and if our mother is dead let's wear a white one.

And fellows, while we are thinking of Mother and keeping the day that has been set aside for her, let's think of dear old Dad, too. And when we write that letter to Mother, let's send a line or two to Dad.

Although it was quite a reduction in rank from captains, majors, and colonel to just a simple second-lieutenancy, still our R. O. T. C. Seniors seem very proud of their new rating in Uncle Sam's Army.

To have the Wake County Alumni entertain our Seniors, to have all the classes and organizations electing officers, to see the fellows studying the exam schedules in order to find out when they can go home, to hear the selling of trunk checks, and the relating of plans for the summer—all these and many others are evidences that school is nearing the end.

The Davidsonian and the Trinity Archive were voted the best North Carolina college paper and magazine at the recent meeting of the N. C. C. P. A. Since we do not exchange with the Archive and know very little about it, we cannot comment on the selection of the best magazine, but we can truthfully say we agree about the Davidsonian.

TOO FEW OUT

Many of the fellows seemed disappointed with the track meet Saturday. The team themselves are the only ones who have the right to be disappointed; the rest of us should not be disappointed in the team, but rather in ourselves. Not for any athletic team that is put at State College do we have enough men out. It has been said that "It is the scrubs that make the Varsity, and the Varsity is no stronger than the scrubs." This is true, and this is the reason that some of our teams have not been as successful as they might have been—because we have not had enough men out for them. Until we realize that we have to have men to take second and third places in a meet as well as first place we are not going to get very far in track. We took six first places, which would have been plenty provided we had had a large number of second, third, fourth, and fifth places—but we didn't have enough men out to take these places. Think about this seriously, and next fall when Coach Shaw calls out men for football go out, so we will have as good a scrub team as the varsity.

If any one asks you what is wrong with our teams, don't blame these defeats on them, but rather on the student body, for we have the quality of men out there. The trouble is we just don't have enough of them.

A TEST OF COLLEGE SPIRIT

To the Editor:

In your issue of May 2 you have an editorial eulogizing the splendid spirit that has been manifested in various ways on the campus recently. All of what you so eloquently say is quite true, but before we pat ourselves on the back too much it behooves us to examine ourselves closely.

I am not a pessimist. I believe heartily in State College and in State College students, but I wish to call attention to certain facts.

On Saturday evening, May 3, an intercollegiate debate was held in Pullen Hall. It had been so well advertised that every one on the campus must have known about it. Our representatives, Potter and Seymour, brought great credit to themselves and to the College. Their debate was an example of splendid organization and perfect team-work. It was heard by a mere handful of loyal, enthusiastic students. What had become of the college spirit of all the other hundreds?

Judged by the test of support of athletic teams, there seems to be no lack of spirit on our campus. But is that the only criterion or the best criterion by which to judge college spirit? A student attends athletic games, not primarily because it affords him pleasure. He attends intercollegiate debates, not primarily because it affords him pleasure, but because of his college spirit. It seems to me, therefore, that attendance on debates is a much better test of college spirit than attendance on athletic games.

T. L. WILSON,
May 5, 1924. English Department.

EDITOR'S COMMENT

We heartily agree with Professor Wilson that it looked as though our spirit was lacking last Saturday night when only a few students attended the debate between V. M. I. and State. But when we consider the matter further we see why there was not a better representation of the student body there. In the first place, Saturday night is the poorest night in the week to try to get a crowd together for anything. Every Saturday night there is always a large number of the fellows who have dates. This particular night there was at least one fraternity banquet, a dance downtown, and numerous other things that would draw the fellows away from the campus.

Furthermore, this debate was the first one we have had here in about ten years, and there is no interest in debating except within a small group of students who belong to the literary societies. The Editor feels free in saying that the majority of the students who did not attend the debate felt that it was more of a literary society affair than one of the student body. He further takes the right to say that if ever intercollegiate debating establishes itself on our campus as has intercollegiate athletics, then the student body will turn out and we will have a good attendance at the debates.

STATE COLLEGE DEBATERS DEFEAT V. M. I. SPEAKERS

Potter and Seymore Come Through to Victory in Our Corner of First Triangular Debate

While V. P. I. was winning at home and abroad, and V. M. I. was losing consistently, the forensic warriors of North Carolina State College who remained at home to defend their own territory were overcoming the Virginia militarists, Saturday night in State's corner of the first intercollegiate triangular debate held here in almost a decade. Defending the negative side of the question, "Resolved, That the French were justified in their occupation of the Ruhr," J. M. Potter, of Pullen Literary Society, and G. F. Seymore, of Leazar Literary Society, came through to victory over Messrs. Meade and Waring, of Virginia Military Institute, who defended the affirmative.

The timeliness of the question discussed, as well as the fact that this was the first intercollegiate contest of its kind held here in several years, caused the debate to be well attended. Those who were present were given a real treat in the way of organized platform warfare, as both teams showed real knowledge of their subject and a thorough preparation. Although the decision of the judges was not unanimous, it was the general opinion of those present that the local collegians had, on the whole, the better argument.

Dr. C. C. Taylor, Dean of the Graduate School, presided, while the committee of judges was composed of Mr. A. T. Allen, Superintendent of Public Instruction of North Carolina; Mr. Holland Holton, Professor of Education at Trinity College, and Dr. Charles E. Brewer, President of Meredith College. Dr. Thomas P. Harrison, Professor of English at State College, acted as time-keeper.

AG. CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Agricultural Club met Tuesday night and after a brief discussion of the purposes of the N. C. State Agriculturist by T. B. Lee and a discussion of the circulation of the paper by H. W. Taylor, the club elected the officers for the coming year. The officers elected were: President, M. L. Snipes; vice president, W. J. Weaver; secretary, J. P. Strider; assistant secretary, F. D. Gooch; treasurer, T. T. Brown; assistant treasurer, R. B. Winchester; corresponding secretary, T. B. Lee; press reporter, A. B. Hunter; critic, J. R. Brown.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY TAKEN INTO CAMP BY TECH TEAM

Feature of the Game Were McIver's Pitching and Correll's Homer; Score 8 to 1

Tuesday, May 6th, on Riddick Field, State's baseball team staged a home demonstration on "How It's Done." The "It" meaning the winning of a baseball game from any and every old team that gets in the way. The game was fast and pleasant but rather unexciting. The final score was 8 to 1 in favor of State. The visitors' one run came late in the game after Johnny Gilbert missed a back-handed running try at a high fly. McIver pitched a pretty game and was well backed, both in the field and at the plate. Correll's long homer, Red Johnson's heavy hitting, and that of Charlie Shuford and Gladstone helped considerably in making it easy for "Mac."

played eighteen games. Percentage is .8325. Pretty good, eh! In the State we've .875 per cent. Who deserves the credit for all this? It would be hard to say. Coach Doak deserves a lot. On the trip Bobby Correll did the heaviest of the heavy hitting. "Sambo" Redfearn came to the front and pitched two fine games. In the two of them he allowed seven hits. He allowed two runs while his teammates made thirty-one for him.

"ON TO BLUE RIDGE—WILL YOU BE THERE?"

When you climb off the train at Black Mountain, already you'll be glad you came. And when you see Lee Hall among the hills you'll be gladder yet. And each new sight will increase your joy. The swimming pool, the dining hall, and our own little cottage among the trees will all add to your delight. That pool—just the thing for an early morning plunge or an afternoon swim.

CAPTAIN "RED" HAMRICK

"Red," with His Muscled Arm, Broke the State Discus Record Last Week.

"BUCK" BYRUM

Best Track Man in the State. "Buck" Won The 100, 220, and 440 Dashes Last Saturday.

JOE RIPPLE

Not Only Is Joe a Football Player, But Also a State Record Breaker in Putting the Shot.

The dining hall—such swell meals—wait till you try them—and those college yells will make you feel at home. Our cottage—off in the trees—and the brook running near it! It's all fine. Fellows, Blue Ridge just CAN'T be beat.

But perhaps the best part of all is the association with the people you'll meet. The best men of every student body in the South will be there and you'll enjoy being with them—at meals—at discussions—in all sorts of athletic contests.

And then you'll enjoy those speakers—the best in the land will be there and you'll want to hear them. A surprise—Dr. C. C. Taylor will be there as a speaker—will you be there to hear him for N. C. State?

In the four-forty he jumped into the lead and didn't slow up until he broke the tape and fell exhausted into the arms of waiting friends. "Buck" equaled Johnny Hill's iron-man stunt of the week before, only his legs are iron while it's Johnny's arm.

Captain "Red" Hamrick broke the State record for the discus throw. Joe Ripple broke the shot-put record by more than a foot. Moore, of Carolina, broke the low hurdle record Friday and equaled his new record again Saturday. This little spectacled runner also took first in the high hurdles and beat the State record by half a second. Since he had the misfortune to knock over two of his hurdles on this race the record was thrown out.

The new state records set in the meet are:

220-yard dash—Byrum, State 22 2-5 seconds.

Low hurdles—Moore, Carolina, 22 4-5 seconds.

Discus throw—Hamrick, State, 126 feet 9 1/2 inches.

Shot-put—Ripple, State, 41 feet 3 1/4 inches.

SUMMARY

Alumni Notes

Observations and Communications of Zippy Mack

Our wanderings last Sunday carried us over to the Carolina campus, where we were considerably inflated by the naturally gaseous atmosphere. Among the interesting things we saw were the banners on the wall of the cafeteria telling of the results of the State and Virginia football games. It was noticeable that only a few of the games were summarized thereon. Possibly there was not room enough for all of them. The new dormitories, we were told, would be used by Freshmen, since they are located in the tall timber, where the new men can be close to nature. The "Tin Can" and new tennis courts are interesting parts of the intramural scheme of athletics now being developed, while the famous Davie poplar and the ancient buildings tell of ages long past.

The Wake County Chapter of the General Alumni Association was host to the members of the Senior Class Monday night at a dinner in the Sunday School room of the Edenton Street Methodist Church. John S. McDonald, president of the Wake County Chapter, acted as toastmaster. The entire Senior Class was present. Dean E. L. Cloyd made the address of welcome, and W. J. Matthews, of Goldsboro, who has the honor of being the first personal applicant for admission as a student to State College, spoke briefly. The response was given by C. R. Hall, president of the Senior Class. Other Seniors who spoke were P. T. Dixon, R. H. Scott, F. S. Trantham, and H. D. Hamrick.

Mr. G. L. Booker, of the Poultry Class of '22, was seen by our debating team when it went to V. P. I. last week-end. Booker told them to tell old State that he was putting V. P. I. on the map in the poultry world.

Mr. C. M. ("Cicero") White, of last year's Civils, was around town about the first of the week. He will soon report to the Tennessee State Highway Commission, with whom he has recently accepted a responsible position.

Mr. J. L. ("Joe") Greenlee, another '23 Civil man, was about the campus last week. He has been with the Appalachian and Carolina Railway folks until his particular work was finished. Just now he is doing what he terms as loafing, but will be located in Greensboro soon.

Mr. J. F. ("Jule") Baum, a '23 Chemical man, who was president of the Senior Class last year, was in town the first of the week. He holds the position of chief chemist for the Virginia State Highway Commission.

RESULTS OF TENNIS MEETS

At the State tournament for the State championship in Tennis, held in Greensboro last week, Carolina and Davidson tied for the singles championship while Carolina won the doubles championship with ease. State's team was eliminated early in the tournament.

State Loses Meet to Wake Forest
In a dual tennis tournament with Wake Forest, held at Wake Forest Monday, May 5, Wake Forest won over the State team in both the doubles and in three out of four of the singles. The men representing State were: Matheson, Shelar, Warren, Lynch, and Stewart. Matheson won his match.

V. P. I. WINS IN THE TRIANGULAR DEBATE

V. P. I. Wins at Home and at V. M. I., While N. C. State Wins at Home

Friday afternoon the affirmative team of the Triangular Debate left for V. P. I., accompanied by Mr. Johnston, of the English Department. The trip was made by way of Lynchburg and the return trip by Winston-Salem.

The team arrived at Blacksburg Saturday morning about 11:45 o'clock. From the time they set foot on the campus they were given a cordial welcome. They were met by Mr. Newton, chairman of the debating council, and taken to dinner. After dinner they were carried to the auditorium where the debate was to be held that night, and then they were shown over the campus.

The debate started Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock and about one hour later the decision of the judges was rendered. The V. P. I. team, defending the negative side of the question, won by a two to one count. The auditorium was about two-thirds filled and every one seemed to be well pleased with the program. The students backed their representatives by coming out to hear the discussion, and during the entire evening they continually supported their men by frequently applauding. The speakers for the evening were: Affirmative, R. H. Raper and M. L. Snipes, of N. C. State; negative, S. E. Moore and J. L. Maxton, for V. P. I.

A dinner was given after the debate at which time plans for a contest next year were discussed. There were no definite plans made at this time, but it was thought advisable to do so before school closes this spring. This debate was a decided success, although it was the first intercollegiate debate that N. C. State has entered since 1914, and despite the fact that only one of the teams were victorious. Let's all get behind our two societies and put out two winning teams next year. It can be done if we start in time and work with that end in view.

THEFTS IN DORMITORIES

It is becoming a very common occurrence for clothes and other articles to be stolen from the rooms of the dormitories. Especially during baseball games and other athletic contests. These thefts have always been on the campus to some extent, but not so common as in the past five months. There has been several hundred dollars worth of articles stolen from our dormitories within the last month, consisting of suits, shoes, suitcases, kodaks and various other articles.

Some of this is due to carelessness on the part of the students who leave their rooms insufficiently closed against these thieves. The rest is due to strange negroes and probably some that work on the campus who invariably ramble in and around the dormitories, waiting and watching for a chance to take these things. We hope there are no students here that would do a thing like this and don't believe there are. Certainly it should not be compulsory for one to lock his room every time he leaves it for a few minutes. The rooms should be left unlocked to friends and visitors unless they are such visitors as a good many have had in the last month.

There should be some decisive step taken toward stopping these thefts, because they are causing a great deal of disturbance on the campus. Besides, the loss to the victims of these cases. The best thing to do at present is to keep our rooms locked and watch closely these strange characters before some one walks off with the campus.

COLLEGIATE PRESS ASSOCIATION MEETS

Representatives of Fifteen College and Magazines Gather at Elon For Annual Conference

The seventh semi-annual meeting of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association was held at Elon May 1, 2, and 3. The sessions, which were held in the society hall in Alamance Building, were presided over by President L. D. Elkins, editor of the Davidsonian for the past year.

The first session, held Thursday night, May 1, was the formal opening of the meeting. The "Welcome to the College" and the "Welcome Address" were given by Dean Louise Savage. After the formal opening the session was turned over to Walt Fillians, of Greensboro, who first gave a most interesting talk on "Points of Advertising," after which he held an open forum discussion. We are very fortunate to have had our advertising manager at this meeting, for many interesting points were given by Mr. Fillians on advertising. The points given were practical and not theoretical, and ones that we can use in the advertising policy of our paper.

The session held Friday morning was opened by the president's address. S. M. Lyman, editor of The Maroon and Gold for the past year, took charge of the meeting and talked on "Editorial Writing." After his talk he led a general discussion on types of editorials, length of editorials, and various other subjects that are of interest and importance to the editors of college papers.

Prof. H. Babcock spoke on "The Magazines of Today." During this discussion of magazines there were numerous points brought out which were of interest to the college magazine editors present.

The regular business meeting was held Saturday morning. The reports of the various committees were heard at this time. A vote was taken on the three best papers in North Carolina colleges. They were The Davidsonian, The Tar Heel, and The Trinity Chronicle. There seemed to be an opinion that The Davidsonian was the best paper. Then the best college magazine was voted on. The three voted on were The Wake Forest Student, The Davidson Magazine, and The Trinity Archive. The Trinity Archive was voted the best magazine.

Bids for the Association next fall were given by Miss Ruth Hoyle, of Greensboro College, Mr. J. H. Saunders, of Carolina, and Mr. R. G. Fortune, of State. The Association voted to go to Greensboro College for the fall meeting.

The officers elected for the coming year were: J. B. Saunders, of Carolina, president; W. B. Terrell, of Elon, first vice president, and S. R. Wallis, second vice president; Miss Ruth Hoyle, of Greensboro College, secretary, and Miss Agnes Efrid, of Queens College, treasurer.

Dr. W. A. Harper, president of Elon College, gave an address on "The College Press Fostering Better Intercollegiate Relations." The address was informal, and by so doing much more was gotten out of it.

The Association is indeed grateful for the hospitality shown by Elon and all the representatives have a warm feeling for it.

Play the game, fight like men,
We're behind you, lose or win—
State College, keep fighting along!
Scrap 'em, men; hold 'em fast;
You'll reach victory at last—
State College, keep fighting along!
Rise, men, to the fray and let your banners wage,
Shout out our chorus loud and strong;
And where'er we go, we'll let the wide world know Old State College keeps fighting along!

N. W., Washington, D. C. The books are arranged according to subject (strategy, tactics, military history, physical training, infantry, cavalry, etc.), only a limited number of standard works being listed under each heading. After every title are given the name of author, year of publication, number of pages, and a brief description of the book. Because of its arrangement, this catalogue, which is the first of its kind that has ever been published, is also a splendid, reliable guide to military literature. It will be of great help not only to military men, but also to civilian librarians, who will be especially interested in the complete and admirable manner in which the subject of military history is covered. Copies can be obtained gratuitously upon application to the Quartermaster Association.

CHI TAU FRATERNITY MEETS IN RALEIGH

Dinner-Dance for Members and Their Friends at the Sir Walter Hotel
Concludes the Convention

The local chapter of the Chi Tau Fraternity entertained the convention of the fraternity at the Sir Walter Hotel last Friday evening at a dinner-dance for the Chi Tau members and their friends.

The business sessions of the fraternity were held at the Sir Walter Hotel during the morning and afternoon.
The evening was devoted to business of a lighter nature. Preceding the dance, a dinner was served for the fraternity brothers and their lady friends, who came from all over Dixie to attend the occasion.

The ballroom of the hotel was attractively decorated with the colors of the fraternity and on each table was a vase of red and white carnations, the flowers of Chi Tau. Silver dorines mounted with the fraternity coat-of-arms were given as favors to the lad-dies, while the men received a watch charm with the fraternity shield mounted thereon.

The Chi Tau boys had as their guests a good many fraternity men from Carolina, Trinity, Wake Forest, N. C. State, and the Presbyterian College of South Carolina. People prominent in Raleigh society served as chaperones for the dance.

Beta Chapter of the fraternity at N.
C. State is composed of the following members: H. D. Hamrick, H. L. Medford, J. C. Richert, B. M. Jones, Jr., D. S. Jones, W. S. Morris, W. H. Overall, W. N. Hipp, J. C. Roberts, J. F.

T. R. Causey, J. E. Davis, J. J. Wright,
G. L. Uzzell, W. W. Gluyas, B. G. Morgan, J. P. Hughes, and H. G. Lee.

GENERAL A. J. BOWLEY PRESENTS COMMISSIONS TO THE R.O.T.C. SENIORS

The assembly was called Monday at 11 o'clock in order that the student body might attend the graduation exercises of the R. O. T. C. Present for the occasion were General A. J. Bow-ley, Field Artillery, Commander of Fort Bragg; General Albert L. Cox

and Major General E. F. Glenn. General Cox introduced General Bowley, the principal speaker of the day. General Bowley spoke on preparedness, throwing some sidelights upon the mistakes and costly blunders caused by our past military policy. Following the address, he delivered commissions to forty-nine members of the Senior Class as second Lieutenants in the Officers' Reserve Corps.

Following this Colonel Gregory announced that Company C had won the distinction of being the best drilled company in the regiment. He called on Maj. Gen. Glenn to present to W. R.

Doar, captain of Company C, a silver loving cup.

At 8 o'clock Monday evening the R. O. T. C. Seniors were guests at a smoker in the College Y. M. C. A. given by the Reserve Officers' Association of Raleigh. General Bowley spoke on the role of the field artillery in the World War. Following the address, the party retired to the banquet room, where sandwiches and coffee were served by wives and friends of the officers. Smokes were passed and after several hours everybody went away conscious that the evening had been well spent.

PROFESSOR C. L. MANN ADDRESSES A. S. C. E.

On Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Professor C. L. Mann spoke before the N. C. State Chapter of the A. S. C. E. He outlined for the members of the society his recent trip to the national convention, held in Atlanta, Ga., not long ago. Professor Mann brought to the society some very interesting facts concerning the forward steps now taking place in different phases of engineering. The speaker, from time to time, passed in his outline long enough to explain some concrete examples of the high type of engineering work now being done in Georgia.

After hearing from Professor Mann, the society turned to business. All business pertaining to the annual feed was settled and then some astounding facts came to light which made the members of the society wonder if scandal was at work in their midst. Some time ago a committee was appointed to investigate certain questionable acts of the vice president. On being invited to report, the chairman of the committee asserted that the committee had functioned but that the facts brought to light were hardly fit for the public ear and therefore he would not disclose them except to those personally involved. On a motion from the floor, the president appointed a second committee to investigate the facts of the case in full. Much interest is being manifested by the members of the society, who await with eager ears the report of this second committee. This report will be given at the annual society banquet, which will be held next week.

IMPRESSIONS OF ELON

With co-eds on the campus, as they are at Elon, we believe that a park with a lake and outdoor swimming pool, such as Elon has, would be quite an asset to any campus.

Unlike us, the students at Elon sleep in double beds. Being used to single beds, we believe that an eight hours rest can be obtained much more successfully when the "old lady" sleeps by himself.

Foolish! foolish law—the city of Elon has about six or eight one-story structures and they are just across the street from the campus, yet the girls cannot even cross the street to them.

Elon is to be congratulated on their new buildings. Beautiful buildings go a long way toward making our four or more years at college happy years.

State is not the only college that can boast of red clay mud when it rains.

"Socializing," as it is known at Elon, is one course that we fear will never be included in State's campus curriculum.

STATE COLLEGE BAND ENTERTAINED AT OXFORD

Oxford Orphans Entertain, and Are in Turn Entertained by State Band and Quartette

On the afternoon of May 2 the State College Band made its annual trip to the Oxford Orphanage, where it and its companion organization, the State Male Quartette, were royally entertained by the students and teachers of the Masonic institution. Transportation for the entire party was furnished by the Masons of Raleigh, who delivered them on the Orphanage campus promptly at 5:30 in the afternoon, after which an hour was given over to a general tour of the campus, and the renewing of old acquaintances, as well as the making of new ones. One member of the band, "Frisco" Bailey, was a student at the Orphanage last year.

At 6:30 a sumptuous banquet was served to the visitors. At 8 o'clock came the feature of the evening, the band concert, which was held outdoors in the open air. The concert was attended not only by the teachers and students, but by a great many people from the surrounding community, several coming from adjoining counties. During the intermissions numbers were rendered by the quartette, which was assisted, to the great delight of the children, by "Diddy" Ray, who had a special costume and make-up for the occasion.

SENIORS ENTERTAINED

The Wake County Chapter of the Alumni Association of State College entertained the members of the Senior Class last Monday night at a dinner in the Sunday School room of the Edenton Street Methodist Church. Mr. John S. McDonald, president of the Wake County Chapter, acted as toastmaster. All the members of the Senior Class were present.

There was an informal program. Mr. E. L. Cloyd made the address of welcome. Mr. W. J. Matthews, of Goldsboro, a member of the first class graduated from State College, that of 1893, spoke briefly.

Between bites of food and spasms of laughter, the latter being created by John McDonald, who with his ready wit and humor kept the guests in a ludicrous frame of mind, selections were rendered by the State College Orchestra and Quartet.

Members of the Senior Class who spoke were Messrs. C. R. Hall, P. T.

State Freshmen Win and Lose

The Freshman team is not duplicating the feats of the varsity. They have lost three out of four of the last ones.

Thursday, May 1, Carolina Freshmen overcame a seven-run lead and beat 'em, 15 to 11. The game was slow, but exciting. Friday, May 2, Sorrell beat the Freshmen, 4 to 1. Wake Forest Freshmen claim the victory, but the Freshmen swear it was Sorrell who whipped them. Saturday, May 3, the Freshmen journeyed to Duke and beat the Duke College team, 6 to 5, in a fourteen-inning thriller. Tuesday, May 6, while the varsity was trouncing Hampden-Sidney, the Freshmen lost to Trinity Freshmen, 6 to 5. The Trinity Freshmen came from behind in the ninth and won. Better luck next time, Freshmen!
