WOLFPACK WINS OPENING BATTLE

Roanoke Loses Game by Fumbling Intercepted Pass

The Wolfpack nosed out a 6-to-0 victory from Roanoke in a listless game of football on Riddick Field. The touchdown came as a result of a fumble by Captain Caldwell of Roanoke, after he had intercepted a long pass by State in the third quarter and the recovery of the ball by Elms, who crossed the line for the only score of the game.

The game was marked by many fumbles and lack of sureness on the part of both teams. The Roanoke aggregation was somewhat of a surprise. They were equal to the Wolfpack in the whole of the play and gained as readily, particularly in the early part of the game, making three first downs while the Wolfpack made only two. Both teams made use of the aerial attack, most all of the gains being made by this method. Roanoke completed three out of eleven passes, while State succeeded with only one out of eight attempts.

State's Touchdown

State's only score came in the third quarter when the team attempted a long forward pass on Roanoke's forty-yard line. Captain Caldwell intercepted the pass and was tackled

FALL TENNIS TOURNAMENT BEGINS NEXT WEEK

Coach Williams to Select Ten Best Men for Tennis Squad

Considerable work has been done on the courts this year and they will soon be in good shape. There will be 25 yards of granite dust put on them in the next few days. Coach Williams is planning to pull off a fall tournament, beginning with next week, for the purpose of practice and selecting ten men to make up the tennis squad. Any student is eligible for this tournament. The only requirements are to sign up in the tournament list, which is posted in front of dining hall, and pay your dues of $1.00 to George Wray. George can be found at the Y. M. C. A. It is necessary to sign up and pay your dues not later than Tuesday, October 9th.

All men who are interested in tennis at all join the club and let's put out a winning team this year.

DELEGATES FROM N. C. STATE ATTEND Y. M. C. A. BANQUET AT UNIVERSITY

Interesting Talks Were Made by President Chase, Parson Moss, Prof. L. L. Vaughan, Harry Comer and Messrs. Tom Woodard and George Ragsdale of the Student Body.

A delegation from N. C. State, consisting of Prof. L. L. Vaughan, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A.; Prof. E. L. Cloyd, Dean of Students; E. S. King, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; P. T. Dixon, President of the Y. M. C. A.; Buck Morris, Editor of The Technician, and George Wray, representing the Student Council, attended a banquet at the University of North Carolina last Tuesday night which marked the beginning of the annual finance drive of the University Y. M. C. A.

Following the banquet, which was served in the Sunday school room of the First Baptist Church, there were short talks by President Chase, Parson Moss, Prof. L. L. Vaughan, Harry Comer, Secretary of the "Y," and

ANOTHER IMPROVEMENT

Military Department Constructing New Shooting Gallery

Excavating is now under way in the side of the hill just back of the College barns, which the Military Department hopes to turn into a gallery for training in rifle, pistol, and machine-gun marksmanship. In previous years almost all such instruction has been given indoors, consequently the regular army weapons could not be used. In making the excavation the dirt removed has been used to build up a place for the firing line. On the top of the bank a barricade will be erected from timbers and dirt so as to furnish a better stop for the bullets. Here the regular army weapons can be employed and war-time ammunition fired in safety. The gallery will be provided with targets for rifle, pistol, and machine gun.

The need of such a range as this was clearly evident at Camp McClellan during the past R. O. T. C. Camp. Practically none of the men of the State College delegation had ever had target practice. While they showed up well for inexperienced shots, the truth

AGRICULTURAL FAIR STAGES PICTURE SHOW

Plans Laid for Making This Year's Fair a Big Success; Dr. Taylor and Mr. Sayville Speakers

After a real moving picture of last year's Agricultural Fair, at the regular meeting of the Club Tuesday evening, Dr. Taylor was on hand with a score of valuable suggestions for the improvement of the coming event. The members of the Agricultural Club are very fortunate in having the assistance of Dr. Taylor and Mr. Saville, who are both familiar with the details of making the fair a success.

The premium list is out and contains many prizes that would compare favorably with the best of county fairs. The business people of Raleigh have been very liberal in helping the fair by offering various prizes for exhibits and judging contests.

It is the purpose of the Club to develop every phase of the fair this year to the extent that the parade has been in the past. The entire Club is organized into various working units, each of which has a definite function in the machinery of the fair corporation. Although the fair is about a month distant the Ag. men are already working with the "pep" and spirit that means you will hear from them later.

WITH OUR ALUMNI

J. D. Henry, Z. M. Henry, E. A. Jones, and W. C. John, of North Carolina State College, Class of '23, and E. E. Inscoc, and R. F. Matthews, '22, are engaged in the Students' Training Course of the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ALL LET'S SHOW SOME SPIRIT

Our football team has left for their Northern trip, and while away they will play Penn State. The team will return Sunday afternoon, and whether they win or lose, let's all be down to the station to meet them when they return. Everybody out—Seniors and all. Listen for the announcement of definite plans at dinner Sunday.

EDITORIAL

THE EXCHANGE DEPARTMENT

In view of the fact that our College paper is a member of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association, we have on our mailing list all of the colleges in this State and many outside of North Carolina. If you are interested in the news of other colleges, come down to the office and we will be glad to allow you to see the college papers that we have on our files.

THE STUDENT FORUM AGAIN

Last week the column entitled "Students' Forum" was omitted, due to the lack of articles for that phase of the paper. That column is back again this week, and let's put it back to stay. You have opinions that should be expressed; you owe it to your College to give your ideas for the upbuilding of a Greater State College.

The laundry question has not been settled. How about discarding our system of whistles and substituting electric bells in each building, controlled from a central station? What do you think of that? Tell us about it.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO OUR FLAT-RATE LAUNDRY PROPOSITION?

Several weeks ago there appeared in this column a suggested plan for our flat-rate system of laundry. Since that time, however, little has been said and less has been done towards the formulation of a definite plan whereby the flat-rate system could become effective. It seems that we have forgotten the issue; perhaps it is best that we should—and yet it may mean that we are about to lose an opportunity to help ourselves and to help our College.

There is a committee appointed by the chairman of the House of Student Government to look into this matter and make a report to the House. This committee will no doubt function very soon and some decision will be reached, from which we can proceed further with the proposition. Nevertheless, we should be ready for the issue when the time comes for our decision. What is your attitude towards the proposition?

If this article happens to be read by alumni of the College or faculty members, we wish you would write us your ideas about it, in order that we may profit by your mature judgment and your experience. We all want to see a bigger and better State College, and the best way to do this is to put your effort into the game and help whenever and wherever you can.

NOTICE FROM CENTRE COLLEGE

In the opening number of "The Technician" this year we printed an article by Dr. J. A. Ellis of the Pullen Memorial Church, entitled, "Things I'd Consider If I Were a Freshman." This article not only proved its worth on our campus, but also cast its influence on the students of other colleges. Centre College published the entire article in their weekly publication and commented on it in detail. Several other college papers have carried extracts of Dr. Ellis's advice to new students. We are glad that Dr. Ellis wrote this valuable composition for "The Technician," and we are also glad to know that it has found its way to other campuses to help the new men in those places.

THE EMPLOYMENT DEPARTMENT AT THE Y. M. C. A.

The employment department of our local Y. M. C. A. is to be highly congratulated upon the efficiency with which it functions. During the past week many men have found jobs that have turned their spare time into profit. Mrs. Moores, the lady secretary at the "Y," is taking a keen interest in this particular phase of the "Y" work, and the fellows who seek jobs through that department find it a simple matter to find employment.

COMPLIMENTS FOR "THE 1923 AGROMECK"

It has been learned with great pleasure that our College annual, "The Agromeck," won second place for excellence of content and appearance in competition with all the other annuals printed by the colleges in America. Our hat comes off to the "Lucky Bag" from the United States Naval Academy for winning first honors in this competition.

The editor and members of the staff of "The 1924 Agromeck" have a big task ahead of them to keep up this enviable record, but they readily accept the challenge and intend to put out a yearbook in 1924 that will be second to none in America. They need the assistance and co-operation of every State College man to do this, so let's help them in every possible manner that we can.

The Editor of "The 1924 Agromeck" is F. S. Trantham, the Business Manager is A. W. Green, and the Managing Editor is C. R. Hall. J. L. McNamara has been chosen for Art Editor. These are good men, but they cannot make the winning annual without help. Let's all pledge our support.

STUDENT-LED BIBLE CLASS AT STATE

"What! you have Bible classes led by students in the dormitories at State College?"

"Gee! I did not know that; you fellows are fine."

Such were the remarks of a student from a college in another State close by. Yes, we have Bible Study Classes in our dormitories, and all of them are led by regular students of the College. We are justly proud of the fact, and more so since we led the entire South in Bible Study attendance.

These classes began their regular work Wednesday night, the preliminaries of organization having been perfected during the past weeks. The record that the Bible Study system of the Young Men's Christian Association has attained is a source of great pride to every State College student. It is a matter of comment and amazement among the colleges of the Southland.

The system is the outgrowth of several years' study and observation, coupled with a lot of hard work on the part of our Y. M. C. A. Secretary. The growth of Bible Study at State College is a sure sign that we are growing into that type of men who will be assets to the communities in which they choose to live.

If you have not signed up in a Bible Study Class, do so Wednesday night. You will very probably find a class meeting in your section of the dormitory; just forty-five minutes of live discussion pertaining to problems on our campus. Surely you cannot afford to miss the opportunity.

DO PEOPLE REALLY THINK?

Are people really like sheep, all of them, or most of them, following some bell-wether? Are they so concerned about sports and prize fights and pleasures and their own concerns that they take their opinions ready-made from a few, often the men paid to carry on propaganda work?

Not a few thinkers maintain that only a very limited number of people think for themselves, obtaining their opinions like they buy their ready-made clothes? If this is true of the average man, who makes no pretension to scholarship, how is it of the collegians who are supposed to go to college to learn to think? Mr. Dooley once paraphrased the saying, "You may take a horse to water but you cannot make him drink," by saying, "You may send a boy to college but you cannot make him think."

Dr. Henry T. Baker, writing in The Outlook, deplors the fact that few students are taught to think. His estimate is that in college groups composed of selected and superior minds, only about one-fifth do any real thinking. The others merely absorb. And he adds:

"The only real estate is the mind; the other unreal estates are merely the mirage of the property owning complex. When I am assured by some radical friend that, in so and so college, students—all students—are taught to think for themselves, I smile at his delusion. What he really means is that all the students are taught to subscribe to their dear teacher's idea that the world is all wrong and that it could be set right in twenty minutes if civilization would put into operation his enlightened formulae—which are all ready in neatly typewritten lectures or in oral inspirational cubes guaranteed to melt on the tongue of the hearer as readily as on that of the professor."

Too many people want predigested scholarship. They do not wish the exertion of mastication. This is not only true of collegians. It is a disease that is found too frequently everywhere.—News and Observer.

ALPHA SIGMA EPSILON INITIATES NEW MEN

Nine Seniors Taken Into the Secret Realms of Engineering

The Alpha Sigma Epsilon Engineering Fraternity, composed of engineering students in the Junior and Senior Engineering Classes, held an initiation Monday night in the Paige Hall Mechanical Building, at which time nine Seniors were led through the dark passageways, and into the secret realms of the engineering profession.

Alpha Sigma Epsilon Engineering Fraternity was organized in 1917 at N. C. State College, and since that time it has grown in influence and usefulness in the Engineering School of this College. The membership in the organization is elective.

The following is a list of the members other than those initiated:

C. L. Barnhardt, C.E., J. D. Brinkley, E.E., C. D. Faucette, M.E., W. S. Morris, H.E., and H. C. Pritchard, E.E. The faculty members include: Col. Harrelson, Prof. Mann, Prof. Cox, Dr. Williams, and Mr. Trice.

ACROBATICS INTRODUCED AT STATE

Many of us are interested in the new form of athletics which has been introduced among us. An organization known as the Gymnacrobat Club was formed last week with "Ike" Summerell, president, and Gentry, secretary and treasurer. The Club hopes to put on some startling exhibitions along such lines as walking telephone lines, sky lines, power, and clothes lines. Flag- and tent-pole climbing will also be included. Anyone interested see "Ike" Summerell.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR LEAZAR

Leazar Literary Society held its first initiation on September 13th in the Leazar hall. At this initiation fifty-two new men were taken in.

On Friday night, the 21st, the Society held its first regular meeting. Mr. Carl Bridges, President of the Society, made a very interesting talk to the Society on "What the Society Expects of Its Members." This was followed by a few remarks from Mr. A. M. Fountain, an old member of the Society.

Immediately following the program the second initiation was held. There were twelve men taken in at this time, making a total of sixty-four men who have joined the Society this fall.

All of the new men, as well as the old members, are very enthusiastic over the prospects for the Society the coming year. Many of the new men are anxious to get started right away in the Society work. Some have had a little society work before, but there are others who have not had any society experience, but who are anxious to receive the benefits of the Society.

Delegates From N. C. State Attend Y. M. C. A. Banquet

Messrs. Tom Woodard and George Ragsdale of the student body.

President Chase said in substance that the University administration was 100 per cent back of the Y. M. C. A. program, that he considered it an indispensable organization, and that he had not hesitated to increase the appropriation from the University to the Y. M. C. A. from $3,500 to $6,000 annually. He said there had been no opposition to this from the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees, the Budget Commission, or the Legislature.

Mr. Comer presented a statement which showed that the employed staff of the "Y" has been increased from two to four, and that the increase in the program has been 75 per cent during the last year. He also presented a statement from Mr. Sage of the General Education Board, which reads as follows: "In scope and vision of program; in the number of students trained for leadership, and in general co-operation and response both from students and the University, the N. C. University Y. M. C. A. clearly leads the South, and suffers little by comparison with the best in the country."

After the banquet the teams went out to begin the two-day canvas to raise the budget of $5,775 from the students and faculty to carry on the "Y" program for this year, the salaries of the four employed officers being covered by the University appropriation.

We wish the University "Y" God-speed, and hope they will raise every cent of the budget. It was an inspiration to the delegation from here to attend. After seeing the great work being done there, we ought to be able to hit the line a little harder here at N. C. State.

MANY THINGS TO WORK FOR AT STATE COLLEGE

Every Man Should Strive for at Least One of the Valuable Medals or Trophies Offered

In every institution there are, besides the education which awaits the working man, a number of medals and trophies which are in reach of all. State College is no exception to this. The medals and such like offered to students here compares favorably with other schools of its kind.

Every man, especially new men, should bear this in mind. They have the whole race ahead, and by keeping fit can win, while the old men have already begun, and unless the record is up to the standard, has more difficulty in winning.

There are a number of medals offered by the different departments. Men who make scholarship records in Civil Engineering, or Textile, get recognition in one way or another. Either by a medal or some stipulated article, or amount of money.

Some of these medals are offered at graduation, others during some one year. The Agricultural Freshman who makes the best record wins a medal.

The P. D. Gold Citizen Record is offered to the man who is the best all-round student. Same medal to be given at graduation. Any student is eligible. No man would go wrong to strive for such an honor.

In Athletics there is honor—lots in the affection and admiration that the student body bestows on their hero, but a greater recognition of same in the Norris Athletic Trophy, a most beautiful cup, offered by the Norris Candy Company. This trophy is to be awarded to the student who must distinguish himself in Athletics.

In addition to the above, there are the medals offered to the winner in inter-society debating, declamation and oratorical contests. Among these are the Eliza Riddick and D. H. Hill medals.

This is only a short sketch of the many things a State College man can strive for.—Summer Technician.

MR. L. S. COTTRELL TO VISIT RALEIGH, OCT. 9 AND 10

Mr. L. S. Cottrell, traveling Secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, will visit Raleigh, October 9th and 10th, in the interest of the Sixth Quadrennial Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement, which will be held this year at Indianapolis, Ind., during the Christmas vacation. There will be delegates there from practically every college in North America and representatives from practically every nation of the earth. The colleges, both for men and women, will be represented.

The last convention was held in Des Moines, Iowa, in 1919. State was represented by a delegation of nine. We will be entitled to ten representatives this year, and it is hoped the full quota can be sent.

This is the greatest gathering of students that is held in the United States. The best speakers of the world will address the convention and the delegates will be the pick of the students of America.

DR. SWAN TO VISIT STATE COLLEGE

A telegram has been received from the American Social Hygiene Association, which reads as follows:

"Dr. Swan can deliver two addresses, State College, October twelfth."

Dr. Swan is a physician of note and an authority on Sex Education. He is on his way from New York to visit the colleges in the South. We are very fortunate in securing him to speak at N. C. State.

Dr. Swan will speak at Chapel on Friday, the 12th, and again at night. Following Dr. Swan's visit a class will be organized to study the text written by the distinguished biologist, Dr. T. W. Galloway, entitled "The Sex Factor in Human Life." This class will be taught by Prof. R. C. Journey, of the Department of Business Administration, and will meet in the Y. M. C. A., Wednesday nights at 6:30.

PARKER ANNOUNCES
A New One for Students
Parker D-Q—the Note-taker Pen, $3
 Strong metal girdle reinforces cap
 Large ring-end links to note-book
 —A pocket-clip if you prefer—
 No extra charge for either

WE asked about 1000 students at seventeen universities and colleges the kind of pen they wanted.
 The majority preferred the Parker, but not all could afford to pay the Parker Duofold price.
 So we set to work and produced this black beauty—the Parker D. Q.—formed on Duofold's classic lines and made by the same crafts-guild.
 We gave it a 14k gold point tipped with polished Iridium, and a good healthy ink capacity; then we added two things we could find on no other pen of this size below five dollars—a metal girdle to reinforce the cap; and an extra large ring link to fasten to the student's note-book. These features are included free, or a pocket-clip instead of ring-end.

The Parker D. Q. is an ink-tight pen. Ask to see it—note its shapeliness and balance. Try other pens too, and see how super-smooth the Parker is in comparison.

by Wallis in his tracks. He fumbled the ball, and Elms, left tackle for the Wolfpack, picked up the fumble and raced across the line for a touchdown. The Roanoke club thought to play over the fumble was made and didn't attempt to hinder Elms from crossing their line. Referee Foster decided the ball had been intercepted and the touchdown made by Elms was legal. The Roanoke team believed differently, and an argument followed. Like good sports, they abided by the referee's decision and finished the game. Lassiter failed to add the extra point.

At only one other time was either goal threatened. Roanoke gained more consistently but never seriously threatened the Wolfpack's goal. Roanoke received the kick-off but was unable to gain, so it was necessary to punt. The ball went into State's possession on Roanoke's thirty-five yard line. State made a first down and failed to make the necessary ten yards in her next four tries. Roanoke went into possession of the ball on her own ten-yard line. Roanoke gained very little on two line bucks. Then they fumbled and Holland of State recovered the ball on Roanoke's five-yard line. The Wolfpack found the Roanoke line impentable and on the fourth down Lassiter passed. The pass was grounded and the ball went to Roanoke on her twenty-yard line.

Game a Saw-Buck

The rest of the game was a saw-buck between the two machines, with neither having very much advantage over the other. The punting of Hurst of Roanoke and Elms of State was far below par. Johnston's fifty-yard return of the kick-off at the beginning of the second half was the longest and the only spectacular run of the game.

The State backfield showed much lack of team work. Several times their runners were thrown for losses because the backfield gave them no interference. C. Shuford, substituting for Holland, who was hurt, showed up best in the backfield. The Wolfpack's line was hard to get through. Captain Bostian, Cox, Beatty and White showed up best in the line. Captain Caldwell, Hurst and Auld showed up best for the Virginians.

DO YOU WANT A JOB? — IF SO, APPLY AT THE "Y"

With the beginning of the fall semester, the State College Y. M. C. A. has put forth extra effort in order to help the students to defray their expenses by securing many jobs for them. At first there were very few jobs to be given to the students, there were also very few applications; but now there is a demand for both—students wanting jobs and employers wanting students to work.

There have been many transactions through the efforts of the "Y," of which the following will signify for the past week:

- Permanent jobs secured..... 10
- Odd jobs, Monday, 9/24/23..... 26
- Odd jobs, Tuesday, 9/25/23..... 23
- Odd jobs, Wednesday, 9/26/23..... 13
- Odd jobs, Thursday, 9/27/23..... 14
- Odd jobs, Friday, 9/28/23..... 20
- Odd jobs, Saturday, 9/29/23..... 62

The number of State College students employed for one week, through the efforts of the Y. M. C. A., reaches a grand total of one hundred and sixty-eight.

Calls are received daily by Mr. King, at the "Y," wanting students to do various jobs. If you want a job, go to the "Y" and fill out one of the Employment Cards, which states what you can do, after it has been filled out, and at what time you can do it. Then when a job of your specific want is called for, Mr. King knows where to get a student for the job.

Among the various jobs that are performed by the students are the following:

Mowing lawns, setting type, delivering papers, firing furnaces, working in grocery stores, milking cows, building bleachers, painting, soliciting work from the students, waiting on tables, unloading freight cars, washing dishes, picking cotton, clearing land, driving cars, and many more kinds of work.

If you want a job, don't hesitate to apply at the Y. M. C. A., and Mr. King will be almost certain to secure one for you.

Fast Work

A lady who had just received an interesting bit of news, said to her little daughter: "Marjorie, dear, auntie has a new baby, and now mamma is the baby's aunt, papa is the baby's uncle, and you are her little cousin."

"Well," said Marjorie, wonderingly, "wasn't that arranged quick?"—Boston Transcript.

Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company
Of Philadelphia—Established 1865

(FORMERLY, THE PROVIDENT LIFE AND TRUST COMPANY)

The Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia is pleased to announce a material increase in policyholders' dividends for the year 1924, which will result in a considerably lowered net cost for life insurance in the Provident.

This Company has long been noted for its very low net costs, and during the past twelve months has made two material increases in its dividends, thus reducing its former very low net costs.

This announcement will be of interest and good news to the many policyholders of the Company in Raleigh and vicinity, and of like interest to future policy holders.

Before deciding on an Insurance Policy, investigate our Maturing Old Age Pension Policy.

Before buying any policy, get the Provident's rate quotations; you'll find it the Lowest in Cost.

This Company paid in cash to living policyholders of maturing policies $4,080,791.90, during the year 1922.

The pleased, well-satisfied policyholders of this Company are its highest endorsement; more than half century of honest and successful conduct of its affairs has demonstrated its excellence.

The Company's remarkable financial stability; its care and integrity in management; its low net cost for insurance, make it the Ideal Company for the careful, thrifty buyer of insurance.

THE STUDENTS' FORUM

A column conducted for your personal opinion. Tell it through "THE TECHNICIAN."

WHY NOT GIVE OUR NEW DORMITORIES A NAME?

We Should Take Enough Pride in Our Buildings to Give Them More Than Just a "Title" or Number

We have seven dormitories on our campus which are designated by nothing more than a mere number or a cold, uninspiring "title." To the outsider one of two conclusions will naturally come: Either we are ashamed of the dormitories we have on the campus, or we are ashamed of all the men who have striven for, with, and in N. C. State College during its life. Now, we will admit neither of these. But this does not keep it from appearing as it does.

It is certain we take pride in our dormitories, especially the three that have been completed during the last three years, enough that we should like to give them real names. Also, it is equally sure that there are men who are or have been connected with this College who are worthy of their names being used to designate these new dormitories.

Another thing to consider is that naming the dormitories will relieve the confusion. A stranger on the campus will become very much confused when he asks where Fifth Dormitory is and you tell him it is the sixth one in the row beginning at Watauga. He can't see why the sixth dormitory in the row should be titled Fifth. The same applies to the others in that row.

"South" is becoming a misnomer for that dormitory. Soon it will be almost in the center of the campus. And then its title will be as inappropriate as some of the others.

We would like to see names suggested through this column for our misnamed dormitories. There are plenty of worthy and honorable names to select from. Why not give at least our new dormitories real names?

A SEATING ARRANGEMENT FOR OUR FOOTBALL GAMES

Mr. Editor:—Allow me to suggest, through the medium of the "Students' Forum," a plan of arrangement for the seating at our College football games. You remember last Saturday when we played Roanoke how weak and disconnected our yelling was on the athletic field. Did we sing our College song? Why not?

Here's one reason: The State men were not together. So why not put them together? By reserving a particular section of the bleachers for State College men and their girls, whom they bring to the games, we can be sure that we will be en masse. I suggest that the section nearest the center of the field be reserved for State men in the future, and that we sing our College songs and give our College yells as they should be.

WHAT POSITION DO YOU PLAY?

A Question For Every State College Man

"Big Dick" plays center, "Red" Lassiter plays fullback, "Dutch" plays halfback. Where do you play—humpback, jumpback, or wayback? If you can't play any of these positions, there's still another open. It's one that all of us can and must play! This part is the part of the "rooter."

We are going to have an excellent team this year; we haven't that to worry about. We're going to "beat" Carolina, too, and that's just a starter. We are going to contend for even more than State honors. But a large part of this premeditated success lies in the "pep," "ginger" and spirit from the bleachers.

Many games have been won from this exhibition of spirit. It makes a man play just a little better than his best, makes him fight with that "stick-to-it-iveness" that has always been characteristic of State men.

Those who saw our team fight last year in the State-Carolina game and saw how "tight" we played the game—every man doing his very best—know just how much they need the old pep to back them up. "The spirit of the bleachers" plays a prominent part in the old game, and it's a part every man can play. So let's yell! Yell!! Yell!!! and help our team to bring home the bacon. H.

THE GROUCH

What makes a fellow play the part of the grouch all the time? Some fellows always get up on the wrong side of the bed and stay on the wrong side all day. The psychology of the matter is this: we can bring about this sort of disposition by merely allowing ourselves to drift and allow it to become habitual. A man never gains anything by displaying a grouchy look; he never wins a friend by a grouchy word; he never enjoys the good fellowship that he would otherwise be a partner in. Let's turn the thing around. What does a cheerful disposition mean to us? Well, at least, it keeps the place sunshiny. We hear pleasant words and life is made more pleasant for our neighbors by the fellow who perpetuates the cheerful attitude. I wonder how far Washington could have gone at Valley Forge bearing out a grouchy, stubborn disposition among his men. This is a far-reaching example, but the same applies to us as students on a smaller scale. If we have a "thorn in our side," let's pull it out and don't tell it to the world by a doleful expression and a cross word.

Smile! Smile! Smile!

JOSEPH HENRY
1797-1878

Born at Albany, N. Y., where he became teacher of mathematics and physics in Albany Academy. Leading American physicist of his time. First director of the Smithsonian Institution.

When Henry rang the bell

If any bell was ever heard around the world, Joseph Henry rang it in his famous experiment at the Albany Academy. The amazing development of the electrical industry traces back to this schoolmaster's coil of insulated wire and his electro-magnet that lifted a ton of iron.

Four years later when Morse used Henry's electro-magnet to invent the telegraph, Henry congratulated him warmly and unselfishly.

The principle of Henry's coil of wire is utilized by the General Electric Company in motors and generators that light cities, drive railroad trains, do away with household drudgery and perform the work of millions of men.

The work that was begun by pioneers like Joseph Henry is being carried on by the scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company. They are constantly searching for fundamental principles in order that electricity may be of greater service to mankind.
