

rechnician

the student newspaper of North Carolina State University at Raleigh, N. C. 27607 / P. O. Box 5698 / Phone 755-2411

Reprints of the "Student as Nigger" as appeared in the February 7 the Technician are available in the Technician offices in the basement of the King Building.

Volume LIII, Number 56

..

Monday, March 10, 1969

ØKØ Honors 141 Students

Robert W. Mohnal, CHE; David K, Monroe, PY.
Terry W Poole, ASZ; Robin
N. Reed, LAN; James M.
Rigsbee, MTE; James P. Roper,
TXT; Alan R. Rothwell, TC.

TXT; Alan R. Rothwell, TC.
William C. Savage, ASI,
Michael J. Sestric, ARC;
Robert Bong-Shyong Shen,
CH; James Howard Stanley,
EM; (Mrs.) Dianne Speer Steelman, MED.
Joe S. Sugg Jr., ABS;
Kenneth L. Teague, ASZ;
(Mrs.) Mary Powell Ware, LAM;
(Mrs.) Elizabeth T. White,
LAE; Virginia D. Wilder, LAN;
Alma W. Williams, LAN;
Howard L. Williams, LAN;
Howard L. Williams, LAN;
Clarance A. Dykes, PPT;
Charles Christian Goodno, CH;
Albert V. Hardy Jr., AMA;

Charles Christian Goodno, CH; Albert V. Hardy Jr., AMA; George R. Ritchie, EE; Marian L. Scott, ARC; Michael W. Stadelmaier, PY; Lo Kun Wai, TXT.

George A. Corbett, AE; Ray E. Harrison, PPT; Robert A. Lauridsen, IE.

Four Pages This Issue

Good Neighbor Council

Report:

The University Good Neignbor Council met Saturday morning, March 1, 1969, for four and one half hours in an effort to gain the facts relating to an incident that resulted in a peaceful demonstration at the Morris Building at noon on last Friday. Participants in the demonstration alleged that Mr. Eddie Davis was relieved of his duties in Sullivan Dormitory, where he was an assistant area foreman, and transferred to the window washing crew for Physical Plant employees.

foreman, and transferred to the window washing crew for Physical Plant employees.

Attending the meeting at the invitation of the Council were: Mr. Eddie Davis, Mrs. Hinton and Mrs. Coleman, members of the custodial staff; Mr. Luther Perry and Mr. Lancaster, Mr. Davis' Foreman and Area Foreman respectively; Mr. Cullom Arnold, Supervisor of all housekeeping employees, and Mr. George Lynch, Building Superintendent; Mr. Jim Lee, a graduate student, and Mr. Lee Hudson represented the newly formed student activist organization called "The Group" and Mr. William Moses representing the United Organization for Poor People of Raleigh. A representative of the Afro-American Society was invited and had expected to attend but was not present. Regular members of the Council present for the meeting were Dr. Ralph Greenlaw, Chairman, Cyrus King, Dr. George Smith, William Simpson and Stanley Thal.

Transfer Major Issue

The major issue seems to be why Mr. Davis was transferred from his position as an Assistant Area Foreman in Sullivan Dormitory to the window washing crew. Mr. Davis contends that the transfer represents a demotion in status even though no change in job classification or pay is involved, and that the transfer came as a direct result of his active participation in efforts to organize physical plant employees. He views the transfer as a punitive measure resulting from these activities.

Physical plant maintains that the transfer occurred when relations between Mr. Davis and his immediate supervisor, Mr. Lancaster, became so strained that efficient management made it necessary to reassign Mr. Davis to another area and to another supervisor. Mr. Davis was assigned temporarily to the window washing crew with the same job classification, janitor, and at the same wage level.

Paternalistic Relic

Paternalistic Relic

The Good Neighbor Council does not consider itself a judicial body possessed of either the expertise or the authority to determine the justness of the administrative decision that was made. In line with its stated purpose of, "Developing still further an environment of human understanding, relationships and accommodation fully compatible with a university community in a contemporary America," however, we do feel that our lengthy discussion with all of the parties involved has given us a better understanding of some basic problems that require your attention and the attention of the entire university community.

(1) We believe that Mr. Davis has focussed attention on the ineffectiveness of the existing employees association for physical plant staff. It appears to be the relic of a paternalistic era that may have served very effectively in the past but that is not appropriate to the needs of workers in the 1960's. An employees association should be responsive to the needs of its members and the members alone can determine what those needs are. The adoption of a constitution and by laws, the election of officers and directors, the management of funds and the planning of program should be entirely the responsibility of the membership. Whether real or imagined, the feeling seems to exist that efforts to bring a more effective organization into being might result in punitive action or even dismissal. Employees must continue to be assured that such is not the case. The new members at State are:

Mrs. Constance Hogan Ackert, LAS, Charles E. Alexander, LAP; Mrs. Nancy J. Binkley, LAS; Thomas C. Borden Jr., AMA; Randolph F. Bowling, PY; Larry L. Catlett, ASV; Jane Elane Chamblee, LAN; Wilborn B Coward III, LAN; Franklin C. Coyner Jr., LAN; David G. Frank, GYS. Mrs. Janel Caldwell Gooding, LAS; William L. Graham, ME; Ronald T. Gross, EE; Mrs. Paulette Lewis Hagar, LAN; Billy Ray Hall, LAE; John C. Harley, ASZ; John L. Hitch, ARC; Mrs. Elizabeth S. Hobbs, LAN.

Mrs. Gertrude G. Hooker, Mrs. Gertrude G. Hooker, Mrs. Gertrude G. Hooker, Mrs. Levis Langer Lan

Communications

(2) A definite procedure for communicating suggestions for

(2) A definite procedure for communicating suggestions for improving work performance and for communicating grievances must be established and made known to all employees. This should be done in orientation seessions for new employees and reconveyed periodically (semi-annually). The need for this is suggested by the fact that Mr. Davis followed improper procedures in taking the results of his survey to the Technician rather than through supervisory channels.

(3) The housekeeping and maintenance personnel are vital to the operation of the University, and the necessity of improving the wages of these workers cannot be overemphasized. An important step in accomplishing this will be a full scale review of job classifications for custodial employees. We therefore urge you to request the Director of the State Personnel Office to carry out such a review at the earliest possible date in the interest of assuring that wage compensation is commensurate with duties and responsibilities.

assuring that wage compensation is commensurate with duties and responsibilities.

(4) Employment and promotion without regard to race must be the standard practice for Physical Plant as well as for all departments and divisions of the University. For too long tradition has dictated that the black man is hired for the menial position. Tradition must give way to judgements based solely on individual worth, ability and performance.

(5) Finally, and perhaps most important, we must recognize that racism is latent in all of us, be we students, faculty, administrators or non-academic employees. This must not be allowed to become unconsciously infused in the established procedures and policies of this University. Instead, we must ever be aware of the fact that in each man and position there is an element of dignity that must be acknowledged and enhanced. Because the investigation of this Council reveals that there may be a lack of such an awareness existing in the Department of Physical Plant we desire to continue our study of prevailing attitudes existing between employer and employee.

Coleen Holden Selected

Coleen Holden a member of Angel Flight, an auxiliary organization to the Air Force ROTC, was selected as the Area B-2's Little Colonel. She will represent the Area in the Little General contest at the National Conclave.

Area-B consists of squad-rons from Carolina, Duke, East and VPI.

Awards were presented to three squadrons for their work during 1968. Outstanding squadron was presented to State; Outstanding Angel Flight was awarded to Duke University; and Virginia Tech's Angel Flight was selected as outstanding in academics.

Bobby Holloway, non-academic employee was recently comoted to personnel and training officer by J. McCree Smith.

One hundred-and-forty-one students have been elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi the highest academic honor at State.

Phi Kappa Phi is a national honorary which emphasizes scholarship with character. All of the new members from State had averages above a 3.2. The new members at State

Grievance Committee To Release List

The Grievance Committee of the newly-formed NCSU Non-academic Employees Union held the first of two sessions to draft a list of grievances to be presented to Chancellor John Caldwell.

Drafting will be completed tomorrow, according to advisor Jim Lee, and the list will be presented for final approval

Holloway Promoted

J. McCree Smith, director of the State Physical Plant, recently announced the appointment of Bobby F. Holloway as personnel and training officer for the appearance of the physical plant.

ment of supersonnel and training of the physical plant.

An Air Force veteran, Holloway hasbeen employed by the buildings department for the last six years.

He was born in Seneca, S.C. on Aug. 4, 1936 and was educated at East End High School in Seneca and at Harbison Junior College in Columbia, S.C.

A resident of Washington Terrace, Holloway is married to the former Frances Tucker of Raleigh.

Representatives from nonvo academic functions across the v-campus attended the meeting of held at the home of Mrs. Willa Hinton in Garner. While no formal drafting of grievances was completed for release, many in attendance voiced complaints that will be incorporated.

Prom

Clarence Davis, a custodian in Sullivan: "I think custodians in Sullivan are dissatisfied with working hours, eating facilities, and pay. They ought to give assistant foremen a raise." "All foremen should have are afraid because their jobs have been threatened, but most back us 100%.

"It ought to be known that our organization appreciates NCSU's tokenism in the promotion of Bobby Holloway (see story this page) as supervisor. We know that after this first, their ought to be a second, and a third, and a fourth, and a fifth, and a sixth...," observed Tillage.

Writers' Forum Slated

The Writer in Today's World" will be the general subject for discussion at the 13th annual North Carolina Literary Forum at the Union on Friday.

R. Webster, FOR; Stephen C. Smeach, BMA; Guillermo Gomez, BCH; Andrew Klein, CRE; CHE; Bland A. Stein, CRE; CHB, CAIrlyle A. Clayton, EST; James R. Chromy, EST; Peter M.— B. u.r.r.o.w.s., EST.; Ghodratollah N. Haddad, EM; Wilbur B. Fichter, EM; Henry W. Blacke, EM.

"The Writer in Today's World" will be the general subject for discussion at the 13th annual North Carolina to the 13th annual North Carolina to the 13th annual North Carolina to Hill and Discussion at the 13th annual North Carolina to the dred Miles," "Tenants of the House," and "The Edge of the Woods." She lives at Singletary Lake with her husband and two children.

Guy Owen teaches English at State and is the author of the celebrated "The Ballad of the Flim-Flam Man." He has also written "Season of Fear," also written "Season of Fear," a novel and two books of poetry, "Cape Fear Country and other Poems," and "The Guilty and Other Poems."

He is editor of "Southern Poetry Review" and a contri-butor to many magazines and periodicals.

Boston Symphony Tonight

Frederick R. Jetter, CE;
William F Marcuson III, CE;
Malek R. A. Abdal, CE; Arthur H. Baiden III, CE; Stephen E.
Blevins, CE; Gene B Cobb, CE.
William B. Riddick Jr., CE;
Louis P. Rossi, CE; Robert L.
Barham, VIE; John F. Freeman
Jr., VIE; William A. Foster,
ZO; John C. Rogers Jr., ZO;
William R. Bonner, ZO; James
M. Kapetsky, ZO; John C.
Meshaw Jr., ZO.
Mildred W. Everette, ENG;
Janet L. Wester, ENG; Russell
M. Jonson, ENG; Fakrhruddin
Kurawadwala, IE; Michael D.
Laba, IE; Philip E. Taylor, IE.
(Mrs.) Sheila T. Long, PY;
Capt. John T. May, PY;
Wendell H. McKenzie, GN;
Molly T. Mooring, GN; Alan R.
Proctor, GN; Enos W. Rogester
Jr., ADE; Chester D. Black,
ADE.
Joseph C. Glass, ADE; Anita The Boston Symphony Orchestra with Erich Leinsdorf conducting will present two concerts, Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Coliseum.

Lilian Kallir, pianist, will perform as guest soloist.

Charles Munch began his 13-year tenure as music director in 1949. During his term the Orchestra made its first tours abroad, under the auspices of the United States Government.

Jesingbhai Shah, ME; Gary W. Bennet, ENT. Hugo J. Vale, PP; Charles Mr. Walters, AMA; Stephen K. Park, AMA; Lawrence E. May, AMA. In 1951, he restored to the public the privilege of hearing the Orchestra in open rehea-rsals, a practice which Major AMA.

George N. Wise, RS; Peter
A. Wish, SED; Bradley W.
Smith, EM; Dermot Harrington, EST; Juanita Matheson,
UN; Jo Anne Samson, PHY; Jorge K. Torres, NE. n had instituted in the early days. Munch retired in de Paris, a Friends of the College concert, just prior to his death in Richmond, Va.

Erich Leinsdorf, the present music director of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, began his current term in the fall of 1962.

"I am particularly happy about coming here not as a bricklayer. I don't have to a bricklayer. I don't have not coming here not as a bricklayer. I don't have not coming here not as a bricklayer. I don't have not coming here not as a bricklayer. I don't have not coming here not as a bricklayer. I don't have not coming here not as a bricklayer. I don't have not coming here not as a bricklayer. I don't have to coming

Lilian Kallir, solo pianist

Campus Crier

ASME will meet March 17 at 7 in 216 Broughton. WPAK/WKNC-FM will meet tomor ow at 7:30 in the Bar-Jonah. Dept. heads at 7:00.

The Education Council will meet today at 12 in 4 Tompkins Hall.

The Amateur Radio Club will meet today at 7 in 322 Daniels.

Liberal Arts Council will sponsor a coffee hour today at 3 in the Union Lobby.

The Fourdrinier Society will meet tomorrow at 7 in 108 Robertson will meet today at 7:30 in HA 173.

University Party will meet to-morrow at 7 in 100 Harrelson. SENIORS & Under presentatives of all n will be on campus Th

Animal Science Club will meet to-morrow at 7 in 110 Polk. NCSU Young Republicans will meet Wednesday, March 12 at 7:30

E. Harrison, Fet; Robert A.
Lauridsen, IE.
George T. Biersdorf, ASE;
Richard M. Casper, NE, Alice
Ann Cline; EE; Randall L.
Corn, EE; Robert A. Fjeld, NE;
Ellis F. Hammond, ARC; David
A. Helms, PY; (Mrs.) Kay
Allmon Hinson, MED; Steve M.
Hinson, TC.
John R. Lewis, CE; Adrian
K. Lunda, LAY; James A.
McQueen, ME; Charles O.
Midgette, AMA; Wendell A.
Strickland, EE; Stephen D.
Wall, PY.
Albert S. Daughtridge, CE; Linda L. Liles, LAS.
Edwin A. Listerman, FOR;
Henry H. Lowndes, AMA; Mrs.
Charlotte Ann Martin, LAN;
Mrs. Carol Collins McNeely,
LAS; Frank H. McNeeley,
TXT; Linda C. Midgett, LAH; Tactics Suited To Response

Hudson Explains Group's Role

Hobbs, LAN.
Mrs. Gertrude G. Hooker,
ASZ; Wayne Edward Jenkins,
CSC; Walter D. Johnson,
AMA; Mrs. Paula Ann Kendall

Judy, LAN; George W. King, AE; Joseph T. Lewis, PPT; Linda L. Liles, LAS.

by Pete Burkhimer
"As my name has come to be directly connected with The Group, it is my responsibility to act as spokesman for The Group, sensing as best, I can the attitudes and feelings of the organization."

Thus, Lee Hudson, a senior in philosophy, prefaced his first public remarks as chairman of The Group in an interview with the Technician yesterday.

Why have a spokesman?
"To prevent splinter groups from using our name without reflecting the feelings of the main body of students,"

The Group, a student activist organization still in the embryonic stages, has, Hudson feels, been misconceived and misinterpreted by many. Clarifying these misunderstandings, Hudson explained The Group's nature and ojectives:

"It's a combination of persons ranging from the moderately left-minded to the militant radicals. I feel the major-erately left-minded to the mili-tant radicals. I feel the major-ity who signed our membership list consider themselves mid-way between these extremes. We have around 250 names on way between these extremes. We have around 250 names on our list.

"The Group, I hope will have a varied structure at the top, no one person having an inordinate amount of say-so. Hopefully in the next week or so I as chairman can sense the interests of individuals and get an idea on how to set up working committees."

But isn't it odd for an activist group to function through committees? Hudson thinks not; he sees looser committee structure as a device to focus individuals' specific interests and abilities on specific problems.

Committees of such concerned individuals will research a situation, formulate directions, and suggest through The Group what actions should be taken. Having loose committee structure also prevents The Group from having to "start from scratch" when it directs its attention to a specific problem, as there will be an existing committee well versed on the general topic.

ADE.
Joseph C. Glass, ADE; Anita
R. McCormick, ADE; Hulon E.
Webster, CS; Karen R. Wilkinson, PSY; Richard Schargel, SSC; Warren H. Young, ME;
Jack N. Boone, ME; Nitin
Jesingbhai Shah, ME; Gary W.
Bennet, ENT.

when The Group determines that action need be taken, Hudson feels that existing channels will be followed as long as they are productive. Suggestions will be made to the affected parties. When action is not forth-coming, or is slow or sluggish, "what may be called gentle persuasion will be used, through which we make the public aware of our stand. If there is no action then, we escalate to demonstrations-small at first, and extremely peaceful."

If response is still withheld, then action will become more militant although Hudson notes that "militancy need not be violence, or occupying a building, though if all else fails these methods are a last resort. For example, it is militant to cause a person consternation by exposing to the public something he wishes to hide..this can be as potent as any form of violence.

Hudson agreed there is some risks that once an incident is carried to the demonstration stage The Group could tend to skip to this stage in other, unrelated matters. One of the jobs of myself and (Group co-chairman) Ned Stewart will be a encourage members to perto encourage members to per-severe in the research and re-

"I would urge any individual who is thinking along milcual who is thinking along militant lines before non-militant action is attempted to restrain themselves; their complaints and causes will be overshadowed by the means they employ."

Chancellor John Caldwell's convocation address draw a convocation address draw and the convocation address draw an convocation address drew a critical analysis from Hudson.

"Basically, Chancellor Cald-(Continued on Page 3).

theTechnician

Monday

March 10, 1969

,

Editorial Opinion

We've Seen The Light

Employment policies... round three. Yes, your ever-flexible-maybe even wishy-washy-Technician editor has done

After two weeks of contemplation, discussion, argument, persuasion, and after being lampooned, harpooned and festooned with all manner of labels and charges we have seen the light.

Our original policy, that one may not be a member of our staff and of any political group simultaneously, has been attacked as violating student rights and as incapable of being fairly enforced.

The former is obvious, and we admitted it from the start. It has just now become obvious that no matter what any organization's stated purpose might be, it influences its members' objectivity some degree. We realize that to strictly enforce the policy requires us to ban not only "Group" members and YAF'ers, but persons in SG, YRC, ROTC, any church, the black race, and on ad infinitu

And yet, the policy was borne of a very real, sincere desire to keep the paper objective and to avoid any charges that we might be acting as anyone's puppet... certainly desirable goals.

Primary credit goes to Dr. Tom Regan, well as some members of the Voices staff for the alternative proposal which we are now instituting as our policy.

activities external to the Technician impair his functioning as an objective unbiased reporter will be removed from the assignment in question. Continued lack of objectivity, or any attempt to use the Technician to advance the interests of any group in which a staffer may hold membership, iate dismissal. pership, will be grounds for immed-

It states "Any staff member whose

- READER OPINION

What Other Side?

To the Editor:

In the letter of the March 7 Technician Mr.

Weinhold said, "Why should the rules thru which I and the majority of students at State had to struggle, be changed so that the minority can 'make it'?" If a rule adds an extra burden to the learning process without adding to what is learned, why shouldn't it be abolished? If "making it" means making it easier to learn something, I see nothing wrong with it. I'm sorry you had to struggle with the rules, but I fail to see how this justifies putting anyone else through the same struggle with the rules, but I fail to see now this justifies putting anyone else through the same

Later Mr. Weinhold referred to "an activis minority who obviously could care less wrat-happens to our University or its society or apparently to themselves." If the members of this minority don't care, why are they activists? Are they motivated by apathy? Still later he asked, "Why doesn't the majority speak out or generate more unity for a change." What majority? There are several minorities on campus, but I haven't seen a group large enough to call a majority.

What majority? There are several minorities on campus, but I haven't seen a group large enough to call a majority.

Finally he asked, "Aren't you tired of hearing the minority's side of University destruction?" First I'm not familiar with the University's destruction and would appreciate someone telling me about it. Second I don't believe you've been hearing the minority's side. The commercial news media certainly hasn't presented the minority's side. The Technician has tried to be impartial. Granted Vocices presents their side, but Voices doesn't have the audience of which Jesse Helms's daily editorials are capable.

If I have read anything into these statements that was not intended to be there, I apologize to Mr. Weinhold. Don Jones Soph., L.A.

Union Weak

To the Editor:

To the Editor:

The International Fair at the Union was for the purpose of allowing students from all countries to display what they chose about their own country. The inability of the Union Board of Directors to enforce this simple policy was a disgrace, not the fact that some students chose to take advantage of the situation.

Glenn Smith

Students are nomads. When you get that straight, our Housing Department begins to make sense.

Within one year that department has closed three residence halls, opened three others, and then played checkers with two.
Apparently many of Metcalf's nomads, myself included, will transfer to Alexander next fall. But we mustn't let ourselves become very settled there, because Alexander has twice undergone the "sex switch" in the past 2 years, and one never knows when the areat time will come.

Move on, tribe.

Steven Plotz, Soph., E.E.

Demonstration Coffee Hour

To the Editor:

For the past three weeks the Liberal Arts Council has sponsored a Student-Faculty Coffee Hour in the Union Lobby. This gathering was designed to stimulate informal discussion among students and faculty members in an atmosphere other than five minutes before and after class meetings and to improve rapport between students and faculty members of the School of Liberal Arts. In light of recent events on campus, I have noted that there has been an increased interest in the problems of our institution, as evidenced by the turnout for Chancellor Caldwell's convocation last Wednesday. I feel that there is a definite need for open discussion of both the general and specific issues we are now so obviously faced with; among these the fact of student activism on the campus, the "new" editorial policy of the Technician, and the Administration's dealing with the immediate problems confronting it.

This afternoon at 3:00 the Liberal Arts Council

This afternoon at 3:00 the Liberal Arts Council sponsor another Coffee Hour at which styles will sponsor another Coffee Hour at which styles of demonstration will be discussed. A faculty member and a student will present their own views and will be open to questions from the audience. An informal discussion will then follow.

Obviously, the demonstration is a tactic openly considered by a number of students a cause of great concern for members of the Establishment (witness, Governor Scott's memorandum and Chancellor Caldwell's address). Today's program will necessarily be informative on the manr which future demonstrations will take place.

All students and faculty members who might be interested are again urged to attend. As of the moment, the Coffee Hour is the only situation in which this issue can be openly and freely discussed with a chance for all present to participate. Since everyone will eventually be involved in some way in the near future, I do hope everyone will feel free to come and see for themselves what the existing feelings on this matter are.

Michael Ramee

L.A. Council Member

L.A. Council Member

Poll Pan

To the Editor:

The front page refracting on the opinion "poll" concerning Chancellor Caldwell's recent speech was so obviously a biased misstatement of the results of the poll that I half believe it was a put on. Was it ?

From the comments of the respondents I score it this way: The Chancellor's speech was:

	A-O.K.	not necessarily A-O.K.
udents	5	8
cufty	5	0
on-academic staff	1	0 *
sition not indicated	0	1

Even allowing leeway for subjective interpre-tation of the comments these results contradict your headline: "Majority of students polled— Chancellor's speech A-OK."

Since the students, if not thy faculty, are so obviously perceptive I expect you will receive dozens if not hundreds of student letters questioning your interpretation of the results of the poll. In the interest of reversing the "Mickey Mouse" image that your uncritical analysis lends to the Technician you would be well advised to publish one or two of them, and comment further on your own.

Stephen B. Mathews Post-doctoral fellow

Other Side of Chancellor's Convocation Statement

Guest Columnist

In the aftermath of recent disturbances of neighboring campuses, and with the promise increasing activism on this one, rather serio questions have been raised about the appropriarole of students in determining the destiny of t

Chancellor Caldwell, in his recent convocation, has carefully outlined his position and what he considers to be the appropriate postures of the various elements of the campus community, including the student body. It is not my purpose here to review his remarks, but rather to pose another view, that of at least one student with activist tendencies.

I suppose that, like the Chancellor, I should present my credentials, so that the reader may judge for himself whether or not I know whereof I

I spent my undergraduate years at the University of California, Berkeley campus, where I contributed in my own small way to the disturbances known as the Free Speech Movement. Although I feel compelled to make no apologies for that affair or my part in it, I have had ample opportunity to reflect on that difficult period from a less threatened and more objective vantage point. It is clear, in retrospect, that the considerable gains of that confrontation must be weighed against the cost of continuing unrest on that campus.

In the not too distant future I expect to become a faculty member of some such institution. Inasmuch as my bread will then be buttered on the other side, and since I may still lay claim to being liberal and less than thirty years of age, I think it not inappropriate that I speak as a student while I still may. It is hoped that the thoughts of a veteran of the campus wars may be of some interest in the present situation, at least as a goad to further, much needed discussion.

theTechnician

P. O. Box 5698 | Raleigh, N. C. 27607

Pete Burkhii Assistant Editor News Editor Sports Editor Features Editor Photo Editor Business Manage Pete Burkhimer George Panton Lee Plummer Joe Lewis David Burney Joe Hankins Dale Readling Rick Roberson Carlyle Gravely

Chris Chapman, Jim Uhl, Kemper Covington

Richard Curt

d Compositor

Lepresented by National Eduational Advertisers
Lexington Avenue, New York, New York;
gent for national advertising. Second Class Postage aid at Raleigh, North Carolina, 27602. Published Gonday, Wednesday, and Friday by the students of Verth Carolina State University except during Level Carolina State University Level University
Level University Carolina State University Carolina Carolina Carolina State University Carolina Caro

Rather than try to define an 'appropriate' role Kather than try to define an 'appropriate' role for the student from some utopian view of what the university, on the one hand, and the student, on the other, ought to be, I would prefer to use a more-realistic view of what they really are as a point of departure. My own outlook obviously reflects my own background, but for this I make point or departure. My own outlook obviously reflects my own background, but for this I make no apology.

A major university, especially a state university, is an integral part of the political and economic community which it serves. In recent years, it has fallen to the university to serve both as a major source of new knowledge and technology and as the producer of the trained personnel necessary to implement that information.

The university may be viewed as a rather special type of corporation which produces knowledge and graduates by mass production technology, administered by highly trained managers. The products are highly salable in the market, which insures appropriate profits (measured in economic and political support for the university), which allows expansion of the physical plant and greater profits. In the present context, the society as a whole must be viewed as the consumer.

The value of the student product is closely tied to how well it fits the specifications required by that consumer. This requires constant quality to how well it fits the specifications required by that consumer. This requires constant quality control (grades), which entails a certain amount of waste. However regrettable this may be, it is considered necessary to maintain the reputation of the institution. It is fairly clear that the university will not voluntarily place the personal needs and aspirations of students above the priorities imposed by the necessities of production efficiency and product merchantability.

The reader may judge for himself whether this is as it should be, or indeed, whether any other role is possible for the university in the modern world. Without passing moral judgement, I will pass on to a description of students.

Students are a very diverse lot, and generalization is more difficult, but the following comments seem to be in order. The individual student is not particularly interested in being manufac-ments seem to be in order. In individual student is not particularly interested in being manufactured. At the very most, he tolerates it in order to obtain his diploma. The necessity of continually passing through quality control inspection stations, otherwise known as exams, sorves as a constant source of considerable frustration and

Students do not feel the least bit expendable in the cause of the greater good of the university. There are even those who think that the university should be more than a factory, and who desire more of a university education than a magic union card, a transcript of record, and a G.P.A. The fact that many of them fail to realize their educational aspirations results in considerable disillusionment in the university.

The most important characteristic of modern students, however, is the features of the university. Students do not feel the least bit expendable in

The most important characteristic of modern dents, however, is the fact that they often have students, however, is the fact that they often have highly developed social consciences which have not had a chance to atrophy through long continued conflict with their own interests. They are commonly much more embittered by the university's apparent lack of social conscience and social leadership than by their own plight, and consequently social activism is a growing phenomenon on most campuses.

consequently social activism is a growing phenomenon on most campuses.

It may have occurred to some that the best interests of students and society, as conceived by the students, and the best interests of the university and society, as conceived by the university administration, might not be totally reconcilable. It seems to me that the current strife on college campuses is ample proof that they are not. The problem, of course, is what to do about it.

Once it is clear that a conflict of interest is almost inherent between the university and its students, certain basic principles become evident.

Let it first be noted that the university is quite capable of looking after its own interests, and that the administration has every intention of doing just that, even if a few students must be sacrificed just that, even if a few students must be sacrificed along the way.

It has been suggested that the needs, aspirations, and desires of the students be channeled upwards to the administration through established channels, particularly student government. There are two major flaws in the argument. The first is that these channels, particularly student government, owe their very existence to the sufferance of the university administration, and are therefore ultimately responsible not to the governed, but rather to he who governs, and I don't mean the Student Body President. The second flaw is the idea that the administration is the most appropriate source of concern for the welfare of the student. I think that it should be clear from the foregoing that any human interest in the student, on the part of the administration, is considerably outweighed by other, less humane concerns.

It can be seen then, that an effective voice for the students must, of necessity, be independent of outweighed by other, less humane concerns.

It can be seen then, that an effective voice for the students must, of necessity, be independent of administrative control. Clearly, student government, as commonly constituted, does not fill the bill. In addition, while it may be argued that the collective wisdom available to students is less than that available to the administration, and while one might even entertain the contention that the administration knows what the students need and want better than the students themselves, it is nonetheless evident that only the students themselves have their aspirations and needs immediately in view, and unadulterated by any side considerations of production expediency.

One question that has yet to be answered is whether students, as people, are entitled to any consideration at all. The fact that Chancellor Caldwell felt compelled to express an abiding interest in and concern for students suggest to me that they are so entitled. Once their right to consideration is granted, it seems not unnatural that they will express an active, immediate, and very personal concern for their own welfare.

In order to act effectively in their own behalf, students must maintain the flexibility of an independent group, responsible to themselves, which group may either work with er against the administration, as circumstances dictate, but definitely not from beneath it. Once it is conceded that an independent student posture is appropriate, the following two questions arise:

(1) What areas of university policy or procedure come under the legitimate purview of such a group?

group?

(2) What methods are available and appropriate for insuring the adoption of policy more in line with student desires?

The first question is the easier to answer. Any policy or procedure which is relevant to the educational, human, and social needs or aspirations of students at large is fair game.

The second question is more difficult to answer. Although I do not claim to have a pat answer, I would like to pose a few possibilities for general consideration. I care not whether these suggestions are considered to be too militant or not militant enough; I suggest that in view of the foregoing, it is appropriate that they be discussed.

Before discussing tactics, however, it is necessary to point out that a clear understanding of the ultimate objective is the first order of business. The next step is to consider as many moves and countermoves as can reasonably be handled. The crucial stage is a careful evaluation of the costs and probable gains that can reasonably be expected from each of the alternatives. The name of the game is strategy. While such an approach is a good deal more taxing than shooting from the hip, the probability of success is enormously enhanced. The object of the game is to win.

From the standpoint of the students, it is unfortunately the case that they have little economic or political power with which to bargain. As a matter of sheer necessity, other forms of pressure are required. The basic thesis underlying most such pressure is that if the students refuse to be manufactured, the production line comes to a halt. The concept of planned and insistent noncooperation is a tried and true means of social action for those who have no other effective recourse.

recourse.

Probably the mildest form of non-cooperation is picketing, generally a useful method of gaining public support. A more stringent form is the classical strike. A more modern form, which involves an additional nuisance element, is the sit-in. A number of variations are available for this last form, some of them grading into violence. It is not my purpose here either to endorse or eschew any or all of these possibilities, or to exclude any not mentioned, but merely to pose some of the alternatives. Suffice it to say that the cost rises geometrically with the 'militancy' of the method, and that similarly increasing gains are necessary for the more militant approaches to be profitable. It must constantly be borne in mind that the rationale is to rock the boat, not to sink it.

The most important consideration I have saved for last. It is always preferable to use the minimum pressure sufficient to obtain the desired objective; pressure may always be escalated as needed, but de-escalation, after initially jumping the gun, is seldom possible. Every effort should be made to allow the opposition the opportunity to act in good faith, and in this regard-I would suggest that every effort be made to work in center with the administration whenever and wherever possible. The other methods should be reserved for those situations where they are really needed, and then used with restraint. Probably the mildest form of non-cooperation

On Reflection

Editor's Note: The poll-presented Friday comprised the results of two staffers' efforts. Many more students were asked than responses printed, because of space limitations. Many of the "pros" were simply "I liked it," or "It was okay." After printing several of these, we decided to include more would be redundant, and summarized the results in the headling.

redundant, and sur the headline.

"Concrete Jungle"
The beasties are here, and will forever remain.

"Concrete Jungle"

The beasties are here, and will forever remain.

The horrible fact is they never left. You know them—the white collar, the blue collar and you and I. Of course, you and I may not be as good at eating people as our peers, but it won't take long to become experts!

It began some time ago in the true jungles with the laws of "survival of the fittest," and the first law—self-preservation. This is when killing began for the sake of continued self-existence. Only it did not stop here. The killer found that the prey offered some very delightful dishes. So, devouring became "the thing," and killing a game to test the most artful—that is, to see if the killer could take out the bowels of the prey without making a mess of things.

Thus, happens the weaker class of animals suffered almost extinction. If it were not for the young of the classes remaining, the lions would probably tell you that we would have a friction free jungle today.

However, the young of the classes did remain. Only they are no longer young. They are old, experienced, and as hungry as their ancestors, and a little bit stronger. They have come to avenge the death of their ancestors, which makes their hunger more monstrous.

But they find that the battlegrounds are drasmore monstrous.

But they find that the battlegrounds are drastically changed—that is it is the no longer the jungle warfare of swamps and marshes. The snakes are squirming on the sidewalks, the lions have taken over the skyscrapers.

So today, we fight the press, the animals at the typewriters, and the others we cannot see because the disguise is too good. Thus, such keeps the fighting going. We have to seek out the enemy. In fact, everything looks so smooth, we forget the war is going on, until we see the blood on the sidewalks.

In any case, I am, too, an expert killer, I know.

lewanss.
In any case, I am, too, an expert killer. I know many techniques, I forget how the killing tually occurred, but I know now that I am a

-Mary Porterfield

Band, Glee Club Offer Students Good Combined Performances

by Dennis Osborne
In Charlotte the team played. In Raleigh, the band played.
The occasion was a combined concert of the Symphonic Band and the Varsity Men's Glee Club. About 400 people listened as the music department presented a program of light classical! music in the Coliseum Friday night.
Donald Adoock conducted

ment presented a program of "light classical" music-in the Coliseum Friday night.

Donald Adcock conducted the Symphonic Band in three-numbers to lead off the program. The first composition was Williams' "Symphonic Suite." It showed a complete range of symphony music, utilizing all instruments available, especially the brass.

W.A. Mozart wrote the next piece, "Rhondo" from "Clarinet Concerto." Charles Goodno performed a clarinet solo described in the program as a "supreme example of depth and sublimity conceived in a mood of utmost simpliin a mood of utmost simpli-city." Poetic sounding, and so was the clarinet playing.

The third and final piece by the band was perhaps the best. It was "Trittico" by Nelhybel. The program completely des-cribes the score: "The first and third movements are brilliantly forward-moving and energetic; the main theme of the first the main theme of the lifst movement reappears in the culmination point of the third. The second movement is a strongly contrasting dramatic scene with turbulent recitatives and expressive woodwind solos, punctuated by low brass and

by George Panton
Which way should the races advance, together or separately, was the topic of a panel discussion Sunday at Pullen Memorial Church which included Dr. Prezell Robinson, president of Saint Augustine College, Heslip Lee connected with Urban Affairs at State; and Clay Stalnaker, social studies instructor.

and Clay Stalnaker, social studies instructor.

Lee, who works as a consultant, said from his work with mayors and community leaders, he found "how very little these other groups even know what is going on, ther is no way to get together, unless there is understanding and communication."

"We are in a new day in know what is going on, there is have had this since the tounding of the country, there is no such thing as race relations, we such thing as race relations, we cannot have it without black

Franco Zeffirelli

ROMEO & JULIET

Award

including-

Best Picture &

This piece was completely different form anything this writer has heard the band play before. The second movement was strongly reminiscent of music from the opening of Kubric's "2001: A Space Odessey." It flowed from light piano to heavy bass drum with woodwinds paying the path woodwinds paving the path

Where the Symphony ended, the Glee Club began. ended, the Glee Club began.
Milton Bliss directed the singers through Bruckner's
"Ave Maria," Faure's "Libera Me (What is Man)?" Ives'
"Serenity," and Schubert's
"The Omnipotence."
"Libera Me," featured a baritone solo by junior Bill Williams.

The other soloist for the evening was Tenor Tom Shaw. This senior led the light voices, the tenors and sopranos, in a show of the male chorus as a foil to the tenor voice.

The Symphonic Band and the Varsity Men's Glee Club combined to give the finale. Bliss conducted the combined performance of Thompson's "Testament of Freedom." The text of this stirring presentation was written by Thomas Jefferson to explain why the Jefferson to explain why the colonies would not fail in their fight for freedom. This work Together, Or Separately?

gration. Since the Supreme Court school decision, we have more separtism today then when the ruling was made in 1954. We "go as slow as is possible but as fast as is neces-possible but as fast as is neces-sary."

"We will continue to have separtism until the system (the white system) corrects itself," he said.

Dr. Robinson said, there must be a system in which the "people meet as equals, each person for his own worth." In human relations there must be this coming together as equals. However he said there has not been this equal situation in human relations. There is not effective communications

He says the young Blacks have made a stragetic with-drawal in which to find time to people."

COLUNY

He added that even when develop their own culture and the highest voice in our system, the Supreme Court said separtism was wrong in 1954, we will refused to accept and I deplore covert violence. It is a en one group tells the other oup what to do.

WEDNESDAY!

was like listening to your church choir sing "The Lord's Prayer." It was done with the same dedication and speed.

If you were one of the 400 there, you know why even Carolina respects the accom-

Student Art On Display

The Seventh Annual Stu-dent Art Competition, spon-sored by the Erdahl-Cloyd Union Gallery Committee and the Presbyterian Campus Min-istry, will be on display until March 30 in the Union Gallery, following yesterday's reception stry, will be on display until State; Class IV-Drawingsfollowing yesterday's reception and awards presentation.

The exhibit represents the works of 120 students from seventeen North Carolina colleges and universities. All cull-time students were eligible to enter the competition which covered sculptures, paintings, drawings in several media, and prints.

The judges, Ralph M. Gray, Director and owner of the Eric Schindler Gallery in Richmond, Virginia, and James McLean, Associate Professor of the Works on display the works on little more subtle." Covert vio-lence is a situation where there is discrimination in hirping be-cause of race, where slum land-lords charge high rents for poor housing and where ghetto merchants charge higher prices for the same good sold outside of the slum. "I would suggest that covert violence is just as bad."

Stalnaker studied the

Stalnaker studied the

Stanaker studied the psychological reasons many people are willing to help the Negro. He said we need to act responsibly in a responsible way. We are only making artificial attempts to redress the balance, to entertain the Blacks.

He concluded that there are

$50.00, Dean Leary, ECU; $35.00, Dempsey R. Calhoun, ECU; Class III-Prints-$30.00, Artie Markatos Dixon, UNC-CH; $15.00, John B. Carroll, State; Class IV-Drawings— $30.00, Suze Thomas, Mere-dith; $15.00, Martha R. Tar-

McLean, Associate 1.

Art att Georgia State College in Atlanta, awarded prizes in four areas: Class 1-painting—
$50.00, Doug Gilchrist, UNCCH; $15.00, Phil Davis, UNC-CH; Class Il-Sculptur—

UNC-CH; Class Il-Sculptur—

in a university which as been primarily technically orientated, participating in or just observing exploration of the finer arts is of much significance as an opportunity for expression, and a stimulus for imagination, the significance— complimentary awareness of complimentary awareness of the student's complimentary awareness of realms other than the student's specific field of study.

Nina Simone, whose show was such a big hit in State's Jazz Festival last fall, will entertain Tuesday night on Channel 4 at 9

(Continued from Page †)
well's address can be divided into two large sections. The first half was an academic pacifier with a challenge to 'go ye forth and do good.' It was directed to the academic community in general and the activist student in particular.

"The second half was a constant reference to and quoting of law...by reading the 'Riot Act' to people who might constitute a threat, he can appease the public and the Assembly. The tone in the second part was more authoritarian—a tone that many times infuriates an activist.

"For this reason I think the last half tended to cancel the first," Hudson concluded.

Observing Governor Scott's

Founder's Day address, Hudson finds a paradox. "He implies that many student pro-tests lack 'coherent reasons for the transpartner of the control of t

UPTIGHT about the DRAFT?

CALL US! (no charge 833-8712 772-6601 834-7215 782-1917 832-9484 (ask for J.B.)

TV's. Like new & fully guarented.

> Price $49.50 T.V. Sales Co. U.S. 401 South PL 772-4387

Scott Contradictory

He concluded that there are answers to the present problems but that they are blowing in the wind. "It is a fleeting answer and the question is, is anybody going to hear the answer."

Varsity Men's Wear

HILLSBOROUGH ST. AT N. C. STATE

Ballet Coming

On March 13 the Raleigh Civic Ballet will present their second annual production at the Memoral Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. Four one-act ballets will make up the program, two from the company's repertoire, Les Sylphides, and Pas de Cinq, and two new ballets, Aurora's Wedding and Dance of the Hours.

Hours.
Tickets for this performance are on sale in Raleigh at Thiem's Record Shop. The Record Bar, The Raleigh Arts. Council, College Union on the State campus. General admission to the performance is $2.00 and student admission is $1.00.

Membership is also contact the same contact and the same contact admission is $1.00.

$1.00.

Membership is also open and all patrons of the arts purchasing memberships, tax-deductible since this is a non-profit organization, will be assured of reserved seats.

General Members pay $3,00
for reservations and Patron Members $25.00 are awarded two reserved seats and recognition on the program for each performance. Membership cards and/or tickets will be mailed promptly. Write P.O.
Box 11257, Raleigh for further information.

information.

This ballet company organized two years ago is well on its way to statewide recognition. On February 22 they will perform in Rockingham, N.C. by invitation, from the Fine Arts Society of that city.

Performing members are auditioned by Walter Stroud, Artistic Director and the Board of Directors. Interested dancers can obtain further information can obtain further information by writing to the above address.

theTechnician

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

What happens... After you've met the challenge?

If you're the kind of Civil Engineer we're looking for, you'll start searching for another one to conquer. Here at the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, we offer a host of challenges to the right man. But, to be that right man, you've got to be pretty special.

that right man, you've got to be pretty special.
You see, we search out and encourage Civil Engineers whom we consider capable of grasping a challenge; skilled men, comparable to the great Engineers who are "building Tomorrow today in Pennsylvania." If you can measure up to the standards necessary to fulfill Pennsylvania's $10 billion plan to lead the nation in highways, we'd consider it a challenge just to get to know you.

A Pennsylvania Department of Highways Career Representative will visit your campus. To arrange for an appointment, or if you desire additional information, contact the placement office.

INTERVIEW DATE:

March 18,1969

Pennsylvania Department of Highways

Bureau of Personnel Harrisburg, Pennsylvania 17120

Construction has started on State's new nine-lane TarTan running track. Hopefully the new track, which will be one of the finest facilities in the area, will be ready in time for the fast approaching outdoor season. (photo by Barker)

ACC Tourney Highlights Year

Tigers Here

Despite all that John Hummer, a junior forward, could do, the St. John's Redmen fought to a nine-point victory, 72-63, over Princeton in the second game of the NCAA Eastern Regional Quarter-Finals here Saturday afternoon.

The win sets up a rematch that most Davidson fans would probably rather avoid, since St.
John's is one of only two teams to defeat the Wildcats s year. This rematch will e place Thursday evening in first game of the finals of regional at College Park, Md. Hummer, who made first-team All-Ivy League this year, hit on 13 of 16 field goal attempts and two of five free throws to account for 28 of the Tigers 63 points.

In the opening stages of the second half, Princeton fought back and finally took the lead with 8:50 to play in the game. The person who gave them the lead was Hummer, who scored eight straight points while St. Lohn's measured two. The eight straight points while St.
John's managed two. The margin was 49-48, and the Tigers held the lead for only 22 seconds before St. John's 11 straight points to put the game out of reach. This burst of points gave the Redmen a ten point lead, at 59-49, with 6:06 left to play.

points gave the Redmen a ten point lead, at 59-49, with 6:06 left to play.

The high scorer for the winners were John Warren and Joe DePre with 18 points each. Regional Set-up Davidson will play St.
John's in the first game of the Eastern Regionals, starting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at College Park, Maryland. The second game will pit Carolina against Duquesne. The winners will play Saturday afternoon for the right to advance to the round of four, to be played this year at Louisville, Ken-tucky the next weekend.

—Carlyle Gravely

Just Received!

FLARES

For Spring

Flared Bottom Slacks. Call them Bell-Bottoms, trum-phet legs, or what have you. Be one of the first to own a

The Atlantic Coast Conference Basketball Tournament is making reservations for next the most important sports event held in the state of North Carolina.

No matter where the tournament is held, it is always a sellout two months in advance, especially when you how strong the conference will be in 1970.

But those 12,000 cigar.

Carolina's Olympic star, Charlie Scott, had a magnificent night in Saturday's finale as he set a new ACC scoring record of 40 points in the home strong the conference will be in 1970.

Retiring Duke coach, Vic Bubas, sent another one of his ament is held, it is always a sellout two months in advance.

You have to be an avid basketball fan to begin thinking

Redmen Top

Tigers Here

be in 1970.
But those 12,000 cigarsmoking, bourbon-drinking, people have gotten their money's worth in years past and they got quite a show again this year. Here is a recap of some of this year's highlights:

lights:
Carolina swept to its third straight ACC crown in both regular and tournament competition by defeating a stubborn Duke team 85-74 in the

Davidson Advances

by Carlyle Gravely
Four more games, that's all.
That's all it will take for the Davidson Wildcats to win their much-dreamed about National Championship. The Wildcats moved one step closer with a 75-61 win over another bunch of Wildcats, Villanova, here Saturday in the first game of the quarter-finals of the Eastern Regionals.
The Davidson Wildcats had to come from behind with a strong second half performance to win the game, after trailing at the half-time break, 37-35.
Theyoutscored Villanova 40-24 in the second half. Their victory matches them up with the Redmen from St. John's of New York, who won the second game of the doubleheader over Princeton by a score of 72-63.

Davidson's great Allmerica, Mike Malov was the

score of 72-63.
Davidson's great AllAmerica, Mike Maloy was the key to the win, as he hit for 31 points and pulled down 17 rebounds. He also helped hold Villanova's All-America,
Howard Porter, to 23 points

$2 per hr. Work evenings 5-8 Car needed No sales Call 834-3705 championship game.

Retiring Duke coach, Vic Bubas, sent another one of his teams into the championship game—the eighth time in ten game—the eighth time in ten-years.

The Virginia team was busy during the weekend: the players signed a petition re-questing the resignation of coach, Bill Gibson; five were charged with "scalping" (selling tickets for more than their printed value); and they did play one basketball game too, a 99-86 loss to Duke.

and 10 rebounds.

The first half of the game saw the Villanova Wildcats outplaying the Davidson brand, although they were able to get only a two-point lead at the intermission.

Davidson's Wildcats came back strong after the intermission, and finally tied the game with 12:14 left on a freethrow by Maloy.

In the final span, Maloy hit on nine of Davidson's 13 points, to puch his output to the game high of 31. Doug Cook hit for 16 and Dave Moser hit 10 for Davidson.

For Villanova, Porter had 23, Johnny Jones 15, and Franky O'Hanlon and McIntosh 10 each.

THE CROWD PLEASER

FRIED CHICKEN BUFFET

Monday and Tuesday nights—5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Includes a variety of SEVEN salads and vegetables--Hot bread--coffee or tea- Dessert

ALL FOR ONLY $1.50

SO LOAD UP STUDENTS AND COME TO THE

HICKORY HOUSE RESTAURANT

ON HIGHWAY 70 EAST BETWEEN RALEIGH AND GARNER

Aside from the buffet, We have a varied selection of

CHAR-BROILED STEAKS

ALSO YOUR FAVORITE BEVERAGES

State Fencers Win Gold

Ten inches of snow didn't chill the fight of the fencing team lastweekend as Coach Ron Weaver's charges decimated Virginia and V.M.I. to finish a most successful account.

The Keydets failed to even scratch, losing 27-0. This domination continued into the U.Va. meet with State winning all three weapons. Bob Mitunall three weapons. Bob Mitun-iewicz, Rick Cross, and Manuel Garcia each registered perfect 3-0 records for the sabre team's 9-0 rout.

Not to be denied an un-defeated season, the epper posted a 6-3 win with Mark Canavan leading the way with a 2-0 record; team captain Calvin Barnhardt went 2-1, and

by 10m canning

State wrapped up its '68-'69
basketball season with a disappointing 81-73 loss to Wake Forest in the last quarter-final game of the ACC tournament.
The Deacon's saviour was senior, guard, Jerry Montgomery, who directed the Wake Forest attack throughout the game and then clinched the see-saw battle with six straight foul shots in the closing moments.

Fouling was to proved costly to State as it lost its third straight game to the scrappy ball club from Winston-Salem.

Wake took the scoring init-

Wake took the scoring initiative from the opening tap and slowly built a six-point lead. With eight minutes remaining in the half, the Wolfpack began to cut into the Deacon lead. Dick Braucher's passes began to find their mark—a man breaking free under the basket.

By halftime State was down only three points, 32-29.

The second half saw the Deacon's lead melt like ice in a frying pan. The Pack was now hot and to prove it turned the halftime deficit of three points into a comfortable lead of nine—in only three minutes.

Dan Wells and Vann Willi-

PINCHED FOR TIME?

OVER 175 TITLES $1 EACH AT YOUR BOOKSELLER

Cliffs Notes

only

99¢

到了

MEN CHATCHES

Cecii Burt and Cecii

Four Wolfpack fencers were named to the All-Conference team, two of them repeating from last year's squad Sabreselection, and Cross gave the Pack the one and four spots; Pack the one and rout spots, Canavan in epee and Minor, who was the top foil man last year, completed State's sweep year, completed State's sweep of the top spots on the team. Canavan was undefeated in conference while Minor and

Pack Knocked Out

In Opening Round

This past Saturday in Durham, the Pack outclassed the rest of the conference in the Southeastern Division Individual Championships. Wolfpack fencers took five of the nine medals up for grabs. Gold medals were won by Minor in foil and Barnhardt in epee.

Cross captured the second place in sabre, and Canavan epee and Mituniewicz in sabre brought home bronze medals for the Pack.

The conference individual championships demonstrated the depth State enjoyed this year, since no other school could win more than one medal while the Wolfpack took five.

The fencers now turn their attention to the state championships on March 22, and to the NCAA National Championships on March 27, 28 and 29. State is the host team for this

Epecist and team captain Calvin Barnhardt gets in some practice against an unidentified teammate in Carmichael Gym. Barnhardt captured first place in the SED's held Saturday at Duke. (photo by Caram)

Donnan-Returned to Coach

by Larry Goldblatt

Jim Donnan, who quarterbacked State's 1967 Liberty Bowl Champions, has joined the coaching staff of Earle Edwards.

Coach Edwards has asked Donnan to handle general re-ford were Trojans under the boards, capturing 10 and 13 rebounds respectively. State's key rebounds, however, came on the offensive boards as Rick Anheuser added points on well-placed follows.

Wake kept its poise as Charlie Davis and Montgomery began to pick the State zone apart with a variety of outside jumpers and effective drives for all-too-frequent buckets.

It was State though who delivered the victory to a thankful Wake Forest Coach, Jack McCloskey as it began fouling Davis and Montgomery in the closing moments. Between them, they hit 16 of 19 charity tosses—six straight by Montgomery in the final two minutes.

State had 24 personal foulie

Coach Edwards has asked Donnan to handle general recruiting and also to coach the Wolfpack's freshman team.

Jim, who is married and has two daughters, is quite happy with his new position. "I was all set to enter industry," Donnan said, "when Coach Edwards offered me this position. It is rare to be offered a college job so soon after graduation, so of course, I took the job."

About the freshman job in particular, Jim said the most difficult parts will be, "watching from the sidelines, wanting to do something but not able to, and also coordinating the incoming players into a team."

Offsetting the problems, he thinks, will be watching his players develop through their years at State.

Coach Donnan does not plan any changes from current About the freshman job in minutes.
State had 24 personal fouls charged during the game, 18 of which occurred in the second half as Braucher, Wells, and Risinger fouled out.
The loss gave State a 15-10 record for the season and (sadly) a spectator's role for the remainder of post-season tournament activity. Maybe next year.

ELLIASON'S RESTAURANT

227 S.W. WILMINGTON STREET ACROSS FROM WACHOVIA BANK

Special Rate for STATE STUDENTS NIGHTLY

1/2 lb. Choice Ground Hamburger Steak, Choice of Two Vegetables, Coffee or Tea: $.95

Jumbo Spaghetti Plate with Meat Sauce, Salad, Coffee or Tea: $.95

Edwards' policy. What Donnan seeks to assure is the "acclimi-tization of the freshman to a new physical and social environment."

Jim 'elucidated on some points about existing State football policies, commenting.

"We keep the varsity and frosh apart as much as possible. The reason for this is the upsetting affect on the young athletes of dealing head-to-head with older, heavier, more experienced players.

"We do not support the atheletic dorm concept. Our athletes are students first, and a great deal of learning occurs in the open, mixed dorm. We think the student should learn how to deal with outside associations, since most of them won't be in football after grad-won't be in football after grad-uation.

"In an athletic dorm, the students development is cut down. And of course one of our main goals is to develop the winning attitude among

We feel that in the minor sports, there will be improvement because of the increased scholarships. More and more scholarships are becoming available, but we must remember that the quality of the individual is what wins games."

Along this line, Donnan felt that "The increasing student and faculity support over the

that "The increasing student and faculty support over the last five years has really been appreciated: We hope we can continue to deserve, and get, such support."

In his recruiting, Donnan has found that "State has the kind of coaches and faculty that parents want their children to be associated with."

Recalling his years in football, (he started at age seven in ball, (he started at age seven in Asheville), Donnan said that, "it is a tremendous game. Al-though I am interested in all sports, my life revolves around football.

football.
"In all my life, I have never been so disappointed as when we lost to Penn State. And yet, it was that same season that we beat Houston and then later won the Liberty Bowl, two overy satisfying victories. I am looking forward to coaching very much."

Tuesday, March 11, Wednesday, March 12, explore an engineering career on earth's last frontier.

Talk with Newport News On-Campus Career Con-sultant about engineering openings at world's largest shipbuilding company—where your future is as big as today's brand new ocean.

is as big as today's brand new ocean.

Our backlog of orders running for years ahead means competitive starting salaries, career security, with your way up wide open. It also means scope for all your abilities. We're involved with nuclear ship propulsion and refueling, nuclear aircraft carrier and submarine building, even automation. We're a major builder of giant water power and heavy industrial equipment. We're starting to apply our nautical nuclear know-how to the fast expanding field of nuclear electrical power generation on land.

Interested in an advanced degree or research? We're next door to Virginia Associated Research Center with one of the world's largest synchrocyclotrons, offering advanced study in high energy physics. We're close to Old Dominion College and University of Virginia Extension Division, where you can get credits for a master's degree, or take courses in Microwave Theory, Soils State Electronics, Nuclear Engineering and other advanced subjects. Ask about scholarships, tuttion grants, and special leaves to implement these study and research opportunities.

Ask, too, about the pleasant living and lower living costs, here in the heart of Virginia's historic seaside vacation land, with supers hearche and fishers.

Naval Architects Nuclear Engineers Civil Engineers Metallurgical Engineers

ee our representative L. A. Schwartzkopf ... Wadnesday, March 11, 12

He'll be at the Placement Office to answer questions, discuss qualifications, take applic ons for fast action.

SHIPBUILDING AND DRY DOCK COMPANY, NEWPORT NEWS, VIRGINIA
An Equal Opportunity Employer. U.S. Citizenship Required.

(TROUNI) SPECIAL EVERY

MONDAY

Sink your fork into this tender, juicy sirloin-fresh-ground and broiled to sizzling perfection. It's served with sauteed onions, plenty of French Fried Potatoes,

CRISP GREEN SALAD, FRESH HOT ROLLS AND BUTTER

LOOK FOR THE RESTAURANT WITH THE BRIGHT BLUE ROOF. The International House of Pancakes Restaurants