

Monday, January 16, 1978

North Carolina State University's Student Newspaper Since 1920

Volume LVIII, Number 46

Hot to trot

Jogging, it's a tough, grueling sport, but once you're hooked nothing can keep you off the road. These joggers on Enterprise St. were hitting the pavement despite the recent sub-freezing temperatures.

Ordinance could hamper concerts Director of Student Development Jeff Mann stated that he is more worried about noise on campus than noise on Hillsborough Street. He feels that "the ordinance certainly has great potential to affect our student body, especially in the case of outdoor concerts." Student Body President Blas Arroyo agreed, stating, "The ordinance could possibly hinder plans for the annual The bound somewhat by paying a great deal of atrangement of the speakers." Residents across Hillsborough Street and in the Cameron Village area resented past State-sponsored concerts held on the Conlina Courtyard and the concerts still precipitated complaints sonce moved to Larris Field, Arroyo said. tires, car horns and even loud voices from the street as well. According to Stakeman, once on the scene, Raleigh police measure the noise in decibels and if it exceeds 55 decibels from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. and 45 decibels from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m., a judge can impose a $50 fine or 30 days in juit to the perpetrator as punishment.

by George Lawrence Staff Writer

A new city ordinance restricting "offensive and obnoxious noise" went into effect on Jan. 1, 1978. While City Ordi-nance 580 applies to Raleigh as a whole, State stylents will probably feel its effects Gifunch as anyone, according to Univers 14 officials. Actually, the ordinance does not limit effects Opplaten as anyone, meaning the effects opplatent as anyone meaning of the effect of the ending of noise at all, but rather its transmission. Kurt Stakeman, an attorney with the Raleigh Police Department, stated that "within a soundproof structure, people can, theoretically, make as much noise as they want." However, most of the bars on Hillsborough Street are not soundproof and often residents in that area complain not only about loud music, but squealing

Rush week begins

by Terry Martin Staff Writer

Derby Day is one of many fraternal actin

"There's been a rather significant change in the way fraternities obtain new members over the past 20 years," said Jeff Mann, director of Student Development.

"In the '50's and '60's there was a more or less formal rush," Mann said. "The rushee had to sign a register, indicating to the Inter-Fraternity Council a sincere interest in joining a fraternity. He would then visit every fraternity before making a decision."

a decision." But now there is an "open rush" period with virtually no IFC involvement, according to Mann. It's up to each fraternity to get its own members. And Mann is quick to point out that fraternities are a "self-supporting operation--there are no government or university alloca-tions flowing in."

ernity locations

State has 19 nationally sanctioned, char-tered fraternities available to interested students. Twelve are located on Fratern-ity Court across Western Boulevard. Five others are distributed elsewhere off campus, while two have yet to establish a formal fraternity house. ampus, wh ormal frate

At the Farmhouse fraternity, Bob aylor said, "We're a bit different. We have a special function to get es over. We like to think rush goes

Recruitment events commence Taylor said the fraternity extended a standing invitation to interested individ-uals "to come over, have supper with us and meet the brothers." Taylor added that a large party will probably be scheduled in late January or early February to official-ly welcome this semester's pledges. Aside from Sigma Alpha Mu, whose activities are restricted to only those with invitations, a full slate of activities are scheduled this week for potential rushees and those of the hedonistic persuasion. Monday:

Disliked task

Losinced task Normal conversation is usually carried on from about 35 to 45 decibels, according to Stakeman. A business, such as a bar or nightclub, can be closed by a court order after at least two complaints are filed. Stakeman said that insisting on the temporary or permanent closing of a place full of people having a good time is one of a policeman's most disliked jobs.

day:

Monday: A keg party at Kappy Sigma; supper and a slide show at Pi Kappa Alpha; mixers at Pi Kappa Phi and Sigma Alpha peilon; a mixer with Meredith at Sigma Nu; a cookout at Sigma Phi Epsilon; a Green Goddam party at Tau Kappa Epsilon; a dinner invitation at Sigma Phi; "The Cold Cuts"-14 giris from St. Mary's who offer a lively song-and-dance routine are on tap at Lambda Chi Alpha; and in the Pack House Delta Upsilon will be holding an evaluation meeting. Tuesday:

Tuesday: "The Great American Pastime" band will be featured at Sigma Phi Epsilon; "The Back Stabbers" are at Theta Chi; P.J. parties at Phi Kappa Tau and Sigma Alpha Epsilon; "The Dynamic Upsetters" band is at Sigma Nu; a night with Bud-weiser at Pi Kappa Phi; a mixed-drink party at Kappa Sigma; "The Dale Van Horn Disco Show" at Sigma Chi; a juke box party at Alpha Gamma Rho; a dinner invitation at the Sigma Pi house; dinner and a casino party at Tau Kappa Epsilon; and "Doug Clark and the Hot Nuts" at Pi Kappa Alpha. Wednesday: Beer and popcorn, with a six foot screen to watch the State-Carolina basketball to watch the State-Carolina basketball game at Kappa Sigma: a cookout with beer and an eye on the game at Sigma Chi; watching the game with a keg at Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Pi Kappa Phi; a keg party and game-watching at Delta Sigma Phi and Sigma Pi; supper, game films, the game and beer at Pi Kappa Tau; Sigma Nu extends an invitation to watch the game; a diamer invitation to all rushees at Alpha Gamma Rho; a party atter the came at extends an invitation to watch the game; a figure invitation to all rushees at Alpha Gamma Rho; a party after the game at the Alpha Gamma Rho; and a key of beer in a using of the Student Center. Turusday:

Thursday:
Things and a juke box party are on hand at Alpha Gamma Rho; "The Great American Pastime" band at Delta Sigma Phi; a thopeful plans for a mixer with Less Caroling and the Alpha Gamma Rho; "The Great American Pastime" band at Delta Sigma Phi; a thopeful plans for a mixer with Less Caroling Alpha; a supper party at Sigma; supper park at Sigma Chi; "The Great Sigma Alpha; a supper party at Sigma Chi; "The The Dynamic Upsetters" band at Great Sigma Alpha; The Dynamic Upsetters" band at Great Sigma Alpha; a Supper party at Sigma Phi; the "Grige" band at Tau Kappa Epsilon; "The Eventh of May" band and supper Signa; "Bustime," inde soft with dates at Fi Kappa Fu; and a possibly a coach to part at game films in the Pack House: teature by Delta Upsilon.

Friday: A bar party at Pi Kappa Phi; a juke box party and supper at Sigma Phi Epsilon; a Rock "n Roll party at Tau Kappa Epsilon; a cocktail party at Sigma Nu; a liquor party at Sigma Pi; "Disco with Chuck Atkinson" at Orchard Apartments with Delta Upsilon; a supper invitation at Alpha Gamma Rho; Kappa Alphas from all over the state will be in to greet rushees at the Kappa Alpha house; a Budweiser promotion-party at Kappa Sigma; a champagne party at Pi Kappa Alpha; rush functions at Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Sur "Treack." page 2 Friday:

See "Greeks," page 2

Lighting studies continue; committee tours campus

by Debbe Hill Staff Writer

The ery for better campus lighting at State has been heard, and plans to attack the problem are underway. William A. Jenkins, assistant vice chancellor for Business, selected a com-mittee to study campus lighting, accord-ing to Susan Train, assistant director of Student Development. Committee members are Jenkins, Train and Robert B. Pitce, Physical Plant director of Engineering. Jenkins indicated to the committee that the concern for improved lighting was Jenkins indicated to the committee that the concern for improved lighting was magnified by the October stabbing of a student on campus. Jenkins said the purpose of the committee was to investigate campus lighting in areas which students fre-quently walk and congregate, as well as in isolated areas. Other factors to be considered, accord-ing to Jenkins, are traffic flow, energy conservation and landscaping.

nservation and landscaping. Train reported that the committee bured the campus with these criteria in ind. She said they also reviewed studies cannot find a suitable concert location on campus, outdoor concerts may be held off campus as they are in Chapel Hill. School officials feel that in tramural-field programs may yield numerous complaints and therefore see Carter Stadium as a possible future location for future concerts, according to Arroyo.

by Dan Dawes Staff Write

Students applying for financial aid should be pleased about this year's simpli-ficaton of financial aid application forms, according to Financial Aid Counselor Pat Smith.

according to Financial Aid Counselor La Smith. Now, only one application, the Financial Aid Form (FAF), is used in place of three forms used before. According to Smith, the use of only one financial statement "has been needed for years." Until this year, most State students who have applied for federally sponsored funds usually have had to complete three applications. One was sent to State's Financial Aid Office to be con-sidered for grants, scholarships, National Direct Student Loans and Work-Study arrangements:

of the lighting situation done by Circle K Club, Security and the Physical Plant. Club. Security and the Physical Plant. "There was a lot of agreement as to what is needed to be done right away." Train said. "Most of the lighting problems result from excessive vegetation and insufficient lights." An interim report, including areas which need immediate lighting improve-ments, will be sent to lenkins this week. Train said, and a final report will be sent the end of January. Train estimated the total cost of lighting improvements to be $200,000. According to Train, each large tower light costs about $5,000.

Other factors

Other factors "Our campus is well lighted with only a few areas in which darkness creates potential danger," Train said. The com-mittee decided the following were the most poorly lighted areas needing imme-diate attention: Clark Infirmary, Lee, Bragaw and Sullivan lots. Train said energy conservation as well as attractiveness of the campus should be considered when implementing improve-ment of present lighting systems and installing new lights. For instance, she said, perhaps sodium vapor lights twhich give twice the amount of light for the same amount of money as introduced on Cates Avenue and Morrill Drive. She also said nedextal large goald be introduced on Cates Avenue and Morrill Drive. She also said pedestal lamps could be used to blend into the environment around Lee, Bragaw and Clark. Pedestal lamps are the short, white lamps found outside the Student Supply Store and in the courtyard of the University Student Center.

Edwin F. Harris Jr., Facilities Planning director, urged the committee to use thoughtful selection to the type of lighting used, so that it will be both effective and attractive. He said "people lighting, not street lighting" is what is needed. Student Body President Blas Arroyo said he and other members of Student Government are also reviewing studies of campus lighting and plan to discuss the problem at the Feb. 1 Student Senate meeting. After the meeting, Arroyo said he will make a recommendation concern-ing problems to the Chancellor. Train said that every morning the Security staff report lights which are not operating. She also said students could call and tell Security if lights are not operating.

William Jenkins

Call and tell security if lights are not operating. After the final report is presented to Jenkins, proposed final costs will have tr be determined, Train said. Also, a decision will have to be made as to which lights will be installed and which University budgets will pay for the various installations.

Financial aid request process easier

FAF. It is mailed to the College Scholar ship Service, an affiliate of the College Board which is based in Princeton, N.J. The service analyzes the application qualifications and needs and then mails the information to any financial ai doff. Chance of receiving aid." Smith said, "99 students the application is basically a "financial is students stuil have to fill out two sup-

Nationwide push

The new financial statement is part of a "nationwide push to simplify the educa-tion process," according to Smith. "It's all taken care of in one step, and has been needed for years," she said. Now that applying for aid is simpler, Smith said she thinks more students will do so, since the new form will "save them time and trouble." In addition, it can also save time if information has been left out and the form is returned to the applicant. The student said. Students still have to fill out two sup-plemental forms for the N.C. Financial Aid Office, Smith explained. Although the Financial Aid Office's main job is to allocate federal aid funds, Smith said, the counselors can help students with a wide range of financial problems.

Students where the set of the set

Rainy-day people

The foul weather that gripped the Raleigh area during the past week left students with little to do except study or play pinball. Quite obviously, not everyone chose to spend the time enriching the mind.

Commentary

Students caught in middle of bookstore price war

by Jay DeLancy Staff Writer

As we all return relaxed from a three-week break, odds are good that dad slipped in a twenty before departure. So did ma and so did.... Let's face it. If ever a poor studen has money, it is at the beginning of a semester. So with cash for a stash we must once again beware of the greedhead. He's the pimp selling used text books for $10, complete storeo systems "perfect for dorm rooms" at only $400 or a "great bag of 'lumbo'" for $40. Actually, this creature only sees of 'lumbo' for $40. Actually, this creature only sees students as walking, talking checkbooks-open game for all greedheads. Until we erase our assets, we are potential buyers for almost anything sellable. An interesting position to be in considering the fact that during the first two weeks of school, some 18,000 students from State will buy textbooks. It's no wonder the merchants smile when the students come back to town. But agricular you folks this in't a wonder the merchants smile when the students come back to town. But seriously now folks, this isn't a piece on greedheads, money mongers or their relentiess attack on the student checkbook. It's a lesson in dealing with the aforementioned book vendors. We have money and they want it in exchange for their back to the student of the state of t their backson To buy from DJ's, we are putting food on an employee's table or gas in the owner's car. When we support the Student Supply Store, the profit goes to buy programs for the orbical

When we utilize the student book Coop, our money goes back to the student. That's right, the common person. It isn't in the form of scholarships, either. Just

crier

PAMS COUNCIL meeting to Dab 120 at 6:00 p.m. All me

cash, green, legal tender for all debts, public and private. Of course, there is some red tape

Of course, there is some red tape involved. At DJ's and the Student Supply Store, one enters with books under the arm and exits with cash in the hand. Sounds good, but I've never met anyone who didn't feel somewhat swindled at the same time. DJ's is glad to buy used texts, but on a supply-demand basis. So, since they are overstocked in Masterpicees In Drama. their take-it-or-leave-it price is $2, now. An American Democracy is bought from an improverished student for $4 and sold $5. At the Co-op bookstore, one doesn't exit promptly with cash in hand, he returns later to pick it up. But the yield is much greater than the competitors offer. Instead of a quick nickel, time turns a slow dime. To ioin the Co-on Bookstore, the

Instead of a quick nickel, time turns a slow dime. To join the Co-op Bookstore, the student turns over his books to Alpha Zeta (the human labor force involved) and fills out a "book-exchange request" contract, on which vital information such as the name of the seller and price requested is recorded. The seller prices his own books and the Co-op adds 10 per cent for their trouble. They only operate for the first two weeks of the semerate and all books or mergy stread

They only operate for the first two weeks picked up by the seller on Jan. 20. The key to pricing in this book scheme is to play it from the middle. Sell for more than DJ's or Student Stupply Store will offer, but for less than they will take. What DJ's pays $12 for is being offered to the Co-op for $21. The Co-op will market, these books for $23 while DJ's will move them for $25.87 plus tax. Then, if the Co-op can't sell the books, one can always fall back on the other buyers. Sure, it's unethical, but it's cleaner than their concept of competition—both DJ's and Student Supply Store offer The Human Bond for $12.95. It is an imaginary price war with the students caught in the DMZ. For the made who has gotten this for

DMZ. For the reader who has gotten this far there is a bonus. It's in the form of some handy information related to me by source not for attribution. Every five years, Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, Inc., puts out an English book books, one can always fall back on the other buyers. The text stays the same, only the cover Sure, it's unethical, but it's cleaner than and tilte page are changed to protect the their concernent of competition—both DJ's bookstores.

and the page are changed to protect the bookstores. The only problem is that a bookstore is stuck with the seventh edition now that everyone buys the eighth. My source tells me that the only difference between the two editions is a few dollars. The seventh editions go for a considerable amount less than the used oind't vareine.

teaching English, who shall remain anonymous, was my source. I tall seems so treacherous, but it's only part of that big game called living. Our teaching English, who shall remain anonymous, was my source. It all seems so treacherous, but it's only part of that big game called living. Our older friends from the 1960's saw rebellion as the answer. It worked for them, but not for us. Everyone learned their tricks. In retaliation, the students got the shaft. We have been stepped on for quite a while. Our new role is that of the low rent—the victim of vicious landlords and smiling tow-truck owners. At one time we had our rights, but exchanged them for the right to protest.

Their primary concern is our money, not our wants. Nothing is given to us until we have earned it. That includes a good deal on textbooks.

deal on textbooks. So, when the book salesman smiles and say "Welcome back, students," the proper response is a grin (bigger than his) and an utterance, "It's good to be back." And, please be frugal.

Greeks plan numerous activities for rush week

(Continued from page 1)

Alpha Epsilon are as yet unannounced (give them a call).

igive them a call. Saturday: A Hairy Bush (P.J.) party at Pi Kappa Alpha; "The Larry Crockett Disco Show" at Pi Kappa Phi; a Whiskey Sours party at Kappa Sigma; a "Charlie Fallons" party (featuring peanuts and beer) at Sigma Chi; a banquet featuring chapters from all over the state will be held for rushees at Varea Alphae, a suppose invitation at Delta Sigma Phi; catch the game and party at Sigma Phi; catch the game and party at Sigma Pi; a "Last Hours" switch to sobri-ety (?) with champagne featured by Delta Upsilon; and, once again, give Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Alpha Epsilon a call for specifics. at Dolta spe

A pajama party and plans for kegs ("everybody stays up late 'n' has a blast" says Kevin White) at Sigma Alpha Epsilon. And more activities next week include: Monday: A supper invitation at Sigma Pi, Alpha Gamma Rho, and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Gamma Rho, and Sigma Phi Epsilon. Tuesday: Casino night at Pi Kappa Phi; a rush supper at Delta Sigma Phi; a disco party at Tau Kappa Epsilon; a keg at Sigma Pi; and supper invitations at Sigma Phi Epsilon, Alpha Gamma Rho, and Delta Sigma Phi ma Phi

Wednesday. Watch the game with a keg at Tau Kappa Epsilon and Pi Kappa Phi: more beer featured with the game at Sigma Phi supper invitations at Alpha Gamma Rho. Delta Sigma Phi and Sigma Phi Epsilon. Thursday:

Thursday: Supper invitations at Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Gamma Rho; supper, a mixer with Meredith and disco at Delta Sigma Phi; disco at Sigma Pi; and a mixer at Pi

Kappa Phi. Friday: Supper invitations at Sigma Phi Epsilon, Delta Sigma Phi and Alpha Gamma Rho: a "Gong Show" at Pi Kappa Phi; and Halley Heglar says, "We'll have some kind of party at Sigma Pi." Saturday:

Some kind of party at Sigma Pl. Saturday: Rush festivities conclude with 25 cent beer and a mixer at Delta Sigma Ph and an after-the-game party at Sigma Pi. Mann emphasized that the fraternities

Mann emphasized that the traternities also perform community and university, services with far-reaching benefits to a great many people. "Let's face it," Mann said, "the frater-nities provide the university with a housing alternative as well as an alterna-tive social arrangement. Their operations contribute significantly. "There are educational values afforded those involved in the management of their own affairs, as the brothers do—somemes managing a budget upwards of times managing a budget upwards of. $80,000 ayear. "The fraternal type relations and close friendships developed in fraternities are a special variety. There is a common bond, a continuity that can last far beyond a student's stay at State," Mann remarked. "Furthermore," he continued, "they're consistently involved in campus and com-munity activities. Every one I'm familiar with is involved in at least one major philanthropy."

with is involved in at least one major philanthropy." Mane eited Sigma Alpha Epsilon's recent dance for muscular dystrophy that raised over $5,000 as well as an IFC project that collected over 13,000 pounds of food in a food drive. So, whatever they may be, your inter-ests might well be served at one of State's many fraternities. The invitations stand extended—particularly in the next two weeks. At any rate, let the bacchanal begin!

ARTIST SERIES CONCERT: James Milne, musician-in-residence and jazz pianist al NCSU in Stewart Theatre, 8:00 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 20. The concert will feature Steve Houghton and Bob Bowman (drums musicians from Texas. No admissin sion charge. BOWLING CLUB: Anyone inter-ested in joining the Club League that bowls on Tuesdays at 3:45, please call Dennis at 851-4807 for more information. League will begin on Jan. 24 and run about 8 weeks. THE ANIMAL SCIENCE CLUB will meet on Tuesday, Jan. 17 in 110 Polk at 7:00 p.m. All interested persons are encouraged to attend. FINANCIAL AID meeting will be held Tuesday in Stewart Theatre for all interested financial aid applicants regarding the 1978-79 application procedures. Sessions will be held at 2:30 and 4 p.m. CO OP BOOKSTORE is now open through the first two weeks of classes. Room 2104 Student Center. Beat Supply Store prices! ANY INDIVIDUAL interested in presenting a statement to the Board of Review in reference to the consti-tutionality of limiting the appointive power of the Student Body President should present that statement in writhen form to the Attorney Gen-eral by Jan. 18, 1978. GUITAR CLASSES: Start today. Fee $40.00, $50.00 for non-students. Call 781-6911 for times and informa-tion. INTERESTED IN STARTING A chapter of Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE)?Come to a meet-ing in Broughton Lounge Monday, Jan. 16 al 7 p.m. SPORTS CAR CLUB Wednesday, Jan. 18 a Daniels. All members for elections. Refrest tors welcome. Call 833 ALL INTERESTED students and faculty are invited to attend the NCSU Judo Club meeting Wednes-day 6:30 p.m. in 111 Carmichael Gym. classifieds CONTACT LENS WEARERS: Save TUXEDO, DRESS and tie for sale. on brand name hard and soft lens Excellent condition. Size 42, 5100 0r supplies. Send for free Illustrated best offer. 333.0840. catalog. Contact Lens Supplies. Box 7453, Phoenix. Arizona 85011. TYPING FOR STUDENTS done in my home. New SCM electric. Ree sonable rates. Call 834.3747, any Ime. PARKING FOR RENT: ½ block from campus. Guarnteed space. Call 834-5180 or stop by off e 16 Horne St. (next to NCSU Post (fice). FAMILY STYLE SUPPER: Tues-day at 6:30 p.m. Baptist Student Center across from Library on Hillsborough St. Call 834-1875 before 5:00 p.m. today. DORM SIZE REFRIGERATORS for rent. $25 for spring semester. Delivered. TYPING, TERM PAPERS. Theses Resumes. Experienced in technical statistical material. Have typec numerous manuscripts for publica tion. 782-0035. ADDRESSERS WANTED immedi-ately. Work at home. No experience necessary. Excellent pay. Write American Service, 830 Park Lane, Suite 269, Dallas, TX 75231. CASH PAID for used records. Call 851 7298 anytime. HAVE TRUCK, WILL TRAVEL. Move anything from aardvarks to zebras for peanuts. Call Dick. 834-8173. FOOD SERVICE JOBS available at Student Center for spring semester. Call 737-2498. DIAMONDS THE SKILLET AT LOWEST PRICES Welcomes You Back Open 24 Hours a day Breakfast & Hamburgers ŗ. OUR SPECIALTY Avent Ferry Rd. & Western Blvd 1/4 Carat... 250.00 1/3 Carat... 339.00 SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE AND 1/2 Carat... 485.00 DESIGN STUDENTS Phone 834-1555 stic sheets, rods, tubes, films
Accessories Benjamy l ofcu COMMERCIAL PLASTICS & SUPPLY CORP. Lobby-Center Plaza Bldg 411 Fay Fayetteville St. ne: 834-4329 731 W. Hargett St. 828-4100 10% Discount with this ad. DUKE UNIVERSITY MAJOR ATTRACTIONS COMMITTEE PRESENTS Atlanta Rhythm Section and Sea Level This Saturday, Jan. 21 at 8:00pm in Cameron Indoor Stadiun TICKETS $5 and $6 SIZZLËR

On sale at Duke's Page Box Office

and School Kid's Records in Raleigh and Chapel Hill

BRING THIS COUPON AND YOUR STUDENT LD. 1/216.GROUND BEEF PLATTER PLUS Beverage And All-You-Can-Eat SALAD BAR $2.49 save 85°

CLIP THIS COUPON and come to our Sizzler for an excellent value. More than one student may use this coupon. 3100 Old Wake Forest Rd. 601 W. Peace St.

LAST DAY: Thursday, January 19th

A GROUP OF STUDENTS AND professors interested in speaking German will meet each Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the Rathskeller. Every-one interested in this informal gethering is invited.

So that all Crier announcements may be run, items submitted should be leas than 25 words. No Crier item will be run more than three times and no more than three announce-ments for a single organization will be run in a lissue. The deadline for submitting all Crier entries is M-W-F at 5 p.m. APPLICATIONS ARE NOW being accepted for the National Student Exchange Program for the acade-mic year 1978-79. Applications are available in the Office of Student Development, 214 Harris Hall.

EXECUTIVE MEETING of Agri-cultural Extension Club on Wed-nesday, Jan. 18th at 7:00 p.m. The meeting will take place in the Agri-cultural Education Department on Sh fioor, Poe Hali. All new officers and Fall '77 officers please attend. If You cannot attend, please call Rick Gardin at 834-9993. Gemering is invited. RUGBY PACTICE for the spring season will start foday at 5 p.m. upper intramural Field. Old and new players needed. N.C. STATE HILLEL: Back fo school get-together to discuss plans for the spring semester on Thurs day, Jan. 19, 5:00 p.m. in the Brown Room, Student Center.

ATTENTION LIBERAL ARTS senators and Council of Humanifies and Social Science club presidents: This semester's first meeting will be held Thursday, Jan. 19 at 7:00 p.m. In the Board Room, 4th floor of the New Union. We have a lot to do so characterid

DRINKS ON THE HOUSE

FOR ALL LADIES

(while it lasts)

RALEIGH CITY LIMITS

TAVERN

Dance To The Sound Of

DISCO

By Wick Smith

8:00 Tuesday Night

50 cents cover.

50° DISCOUNT WITH THIS AD!

Upstairs beside Blimpies

SPECIAL 11PM

MONDAY LATE SHOW!

24061/2 Hillsborough St.

STUDIO

A long time

agoina galaxy far,

for away

ONE SHOW

JUST FOR

THE PACK!

TO HILLSBOROUGH ST.

And Social Science Lub presidents: Room, Student Center. This semester's first meeting will be that Thursday, Jan. 19 at 730 pm register ation continues 2-10 pm. New Union. We have a lot to to be please attend. WAKE COUNTY PUBLIC School WAKE COUNTY PUBLIC School weak. Y Journeers Interested In art music, and reading with school. Caset, Total School, School School School, School School, School Schoo

"INDIA NIGHT" will be celebrated on Sat. Jan. 28, 4:00 p.m. in the UCSLI Student Center. Students can pick up their lickets for the food (dinner) by paying $2,50 from the 3rd floor of Student Center on wednesday, Jan. 28 between 12:00 and 4:00 p.m. Also between 12:00 and 2:00 p.m. Da. 19 between 12:00 and 2:00 p.m. Entertainment is free to everybody FORESTRY CLUB will meet Tues-day, Jan. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in 2010 Biltmore.

FREE FILM: Tonight at 8 p.m. in the Library see the premiere of the Historic Cinema series with "When Dinosaurs Ruled the Earth." NCSU COLLEGIATE 4-H meeting Tuesday at 8:00 p.m., Jan. 17 in 308 Ricks Hall. Attendance of member-ship is important. New members welcomed.

A GROUP OF STUDENTS are needed to carry out a project for Cystic Fibrosis. Contact Volunteer Services 3115-E Student Center, 737-3193.

JANUARY 31, 1978, Is the deadline for enrolling in the student group health and accident insurance plan underwritten by North American Assurance Society of Virginia. Ap-plications available in 201-A Clark Hall Infirmary.

APPLICATIONS ARE NOW being accepted for freshman orientation counselor positions. Employment freshman applications in ACC the treshman, applications in ACC the treshman, applications in an inform with 2.5 GPA's or befter are eligible. Pick up applications from Jann Seawil. 214 Harris Hall. The application deadline is 5:00 p.m., Jan. 30, 1978. A MEETING OF THE SBE AND TBE Clubs will be held at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 17 at Weaver Labs.

AIME MEETING: Tonight at 7:00 p.m. in 110-A Withers Hall. The speaker will be Steven D. Mitchell on "The Department of Energy"s National Uranium Resource Evalu-ation: What, Why, and How."

ATTENTION ALL PSI CHI mem-bers. There will be a general meeting Thursday, Jan. 19 from 12:30-130. It will be held in the Brown Room on the 4th floor of the Student Center. Come hungry or bring your lunch. THE.SOCIETY OF Women Engi-neers meeting and dinner on Tues-day, Jan. 17 at 6:00 p.m. in Brown Room. Student Center. All inter-ested people invited. CIRCLE K: Meeting at 6:00 p.m. Blue Room of Student Center. ALWAYS WANTED TO PLAY the piano? Enroll in beginning piano piano? Enroll in beginning piano classes by coming by the music office in Price Music Center during the first week of classes. Classes meet one hour per week and earn one hour credit. Fee $45.00.

RESIDENT ADVISOR applications are now available at the Residence Life Office in Harris Hall. The deadline for completing the applica-tion process is Thursday, Jan. 26 at 12 noon.

PRE-MED, PRE-DENT CLUB and AED will meet Tues., Jan. 17, 7:30 p.m. 3533 GA. Speakers on Roles of New Health Practitioners. New members welcome.

Drop 74-68 decision

Cavs' defense stifles Pack

by David Carrol

After a mere 10 minutes, the 11,900 howling Wolfpackers in Reynolds Coliseum Saturday afternoon were in a state of ecstacy. The subjects of their devotion—State's young bas-ketball team—were leading Virginia 23-13 and a rout seemed imminent.

Suddenly, quicker than you can say "timeout," Cavalier coach Terry Holland decided to employ a seldom-used 3-2 zone defense because the Pack had been slicing up his team's man-to-man. And the results of Holland's decision were as-bounding. State faltered, to say the least. The Wolfpack's precision offense stifled. The Cavs were able to cut off the passing lanes and easy shots were almost nonexistent. State seemed to lose its touch—a cohesion that had carried it to eight straight wins, a 2-0 Atlantic Coast

by Tom Reimers Staff Writer

Four / Technician

Conference mark and a No. 16 national ranking—and in the process lost the game 74-68. The Pack didn't score for The Fack duant score for 7:04, going down the floor 11 times without a point. While State went scoreless, Virginia made up its deficit and surged ahead 25-23.

Cold spell hurt

Cold spell hurt State coach Norm Sloan thought this dry spell was the deciding factor in the outcome. "Our biggest problem is that we went seven to-10 minutes without an offense," reflected Sloan. "And you can't do that and have a chance to win. "Their zone was active and different from any we had faced. It was a wide 3-2 and we advantage of the Wolfpack's overzealousness on defense, sinking 15 of its last 18 free throws to seal the verdict. Despite all its blunders, the Wolfpack made a determined run at the finish, cutting the Cavs' advantage to three with hadn't done anything against it. We didn't make anything hap-pen. So they caught up, and after that happened, we strug-gled."

atter that happened, we strug-gled." The Wolfpack struggled in-deed, but nonetheless it did have a chance to win. Virginia only led 29-27 at the half and with 9:35 to play in the game, State was ahead 47-45. Too many mistakes run at the finish, cutting the Cavs' advantage to three with 64 seconds left. "One thing our players proved was that they aren't quitters," said Sloan. "The sur-prising thing to me is that we went seven-to-10 minutes with-out an offense." Acutally, State went longer than that During a damaging 100 many mistakes However, State made too many. mistakes to win. The Wolfpack was plagued by poor ball-handling, poor shooting and too many fouls. In fact, four Pack players-Glenn Sudhop, Hawkeye Whitney, Tony War-ren and Kenny Matthews-fouled out. And Virginia took Acutally, State went longer than that. During a damaging four minute period after it held a 47-45 edge, the Pack went scoreless. Meanwhile, Virginia

Men win easily 89-24

third place.

gained nine points, surging to a seven point bulge.

Umbdenstock in the 100 free, and joined Umbdenstock, Al Stevens, and freshman David Benjamin on the victorious 400 free relay. "Benjamin is beginning to make some moves," according to bis coach Acide from taking benjamin is beginning to make some moves," according to his coach. Aside from taking part in the aforementioned 400 free relay, the sprinter had a 22.11 performance in the 50 free which was good enough for third place.

January 16, 1978

One of State's lone bright spots was the superb play of point guard Clyde Austin, who scored 26. Austin scored most of his points on jumpers, with some coming from the proxim-ity of the Bell Tower. Wignia relied on a balanced attack to overcome Austin's performance. The Cavaliers 'ad five double figure scorers 'ad five double figure scorers and dominated the boards. The Cavs were paced by Dave Koesters, an improbable hero who came off the bench to pump in 16. Mike Owens added 13 points and grabbed 10 rebounds. Freshman whis Jeff Lam padded 12, Stev. Castel-lan 11 and Bobby Stokes 11. Obviously, Holland was satis-fied. "We'll take a win any time when we can get one down

The Wolfgack at North Carolina Was also and the second sec

by Jimmy Carroll Staff Writer

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. -State's women's basketball team came to this snow-covered college community in the edge

Hawkeye Whitney tries to avoid crash

Sloppy Wolfpack women defeat smaller Cavaliers

Only 134 fanatics turned out for the debacle. Yow and Finch would like to have made it 132.

of the Appalachians Saturday billed as the probable successor to Wayland Baptist as the country's No. 1-ranked cagers. The Wolfpack, which had de-feated Wayland 98-86 on Thursday, left here Saturday night smelling like the fish market down the street. To nut it midly, they reeked. Yow and Finch refused to accept that a mental letdown following a rugged week was an excuse. "There's gotta be something down deep in every athlete," said Yow. "There's gotta be pride. We seemed to let the lack of a crowd and the officiating get to us mentally. "I don't want to downgrade the team much. At halftime they wanted tog ob back out and look good. They wanted to show people that we look like a top team. "I'm not saying the effort. wasn't good. But in terms of outcome of that effort, we didn't get much." To put it mildly, they reeked. Coaches Kay Yow and Nova Coaches Kay Yow and Nora-Lynn Finch seemed to want to forget the Wolfpack's ridicu-lously sloppy 77.62 victory over Virginia's pathetically short and outmanned Cavaliers. They would also like to forget the Titanic, Watergate and the Son of Sam.

"There's gotta be something

Yow, Finch disappointed

State swimmers split Women lose 67-64? second in the 200 free, and also swam on the winning 400 free relay. In the 100 fly she was When is a loss really a win? State's women swimmers

When is a loss really a win? State's women swimmers found out the answer to this question Saturday afternoon, when what should have been a 66-65 victory turned out to be a 67-64 loss to South Carolina

67-64 loss to South Carolina because of a technicality. The problem occurred in the women's tenth event, the 200 Individual Medley. At the end of the race, it appeared as if USC's Nancy Nitardy had beaten out the Pack's Beth Harrell for first place, but the timing machine showed exactly the opposite. When it was announced that Harrell haw on the race. South winner, but since a decision had already been made it could not be reversed. The two point difference between first and second place would have given State the one point decision.

swam on the winning 400 free relay. In the 100 flyshe was even with the Gamecock's Kathy Walton after three laps. but pulled away for almost a one second victory. The sociology major lost out by only .23 seconds in the 200 free (1:53.96 to 1:54.19.) Eas-terling pointed out that Harrell had the flu for three days, and he feit that if she was healthy she would have won. Holliday finished only .03 behind Harrell in that same race. She added a first in the 100 free, and was on the 400 free relay awell. The Raleigh native has already qualified for the AIAW nationals in several events.

Also receiving special notice from their coach were walk ons Alison Knowlton, Stephanie Foley, and Pam Wolters. Easterling felt the three "gave it a good effort," bringing the Pack valuable points and add-ing good depth. The divers once again proved to be too much for the oppo-sition.

State the one point decision. Didn't touch Easterling elaborated on the incident. "The South Carolina girl did not touch the pad. We had a referee who was not familiar with der ule...the pad decides the time that...the had decides touched. They got a gift." "No dual meet means as much as the nationals. I'd rather lose on a technicality much as the nationals. I'd rather lose on a technicality than have them go out of here thinking that we cheated them. Wow." For the Pack, Harrell, Jane Harrell excels Along with the 200 IM, Harrell had a first in the 100 fty, 7:30 home contest with Duke.

CHRIS KELLEB

and TONYA HART ADCOX

are presenting a

2 Piano Concert

in.

STEWART THEATRE

8:00 pm January 18 FREE ADMISSION

by Tom Reimers Staff Writer While the women were fighting a tough battle with the lady Gamecocks, the Pack men lady Gamecocks, the Pack men were mopping up their oppo-nents by winning twelve out of thirteen events en route to an 89-24 victory. State also brought down several times so that it leads the Atlantic Coast Conference in every event with the exception of the 100 freestyle. The Wolfpack will no doubt be trying to get the lead in that event tomorrow night when State hosts Duke at 7:30.

trying to get the lead in that event tomorrow night when State hosts Duke at 7:30. Pack coach Don Easterling felt hat the men swam well. "The hard work put in on the Florida trip is now beginning to pay off," said Easterling. Dan Harrigan had his usually strong outing for State. The 1976 Olympic bronze medalist won both of his events, the 200 IM and the 200 backstroke.

Harrigan's best

The IM clocking of 1:55.89 was a career best and the top unshaved time for Harrigan. His backstroke victory was again not even close. In that event he defeated Greg Mid-winter of USC by well over three seconds. Joe Rhyne had what Easterl-ing termed "a good triple for a freshman." The math major won the 200 fly and added seconds in the 500 and 1.000 freestyle. Easterling said that

BOB'S ARMY SURPLUS 2600 block of South Saunders St.

Phone 833-8223

The reigning queen of jazz piano Marian McPartland & Trio in STEWART THEATRE handled with intelligence d inventiveness..." Playboy and inventiveness..." Playboy Please call 737-3105 for reservations

Thursday-Women's basketball, Duke at State, 7:30 aturday-Men's basketball. Iona at State, 7:30 Women's Basket ball, South Carolina at State, 5:00 Indoor track, State at VMI (VMI, Virginia Tech)

nday-Fencing, William & Mary at State, 1:00 Men's swimming, State at Maryland, 1:00

Gulf WEST RALEIGH GULF SERVICE RALEIGH, N.C. 27607 PHONE 834-0263 AUTO REPAIR & W We don't tow for Campus Security BILL HEATH RON HEATH BRIDGES TO HOPE needs YOU as a Big Brother or Big Sister Volunteer

For more information call 834-6484

Dinner & Entertainn Student Center Ballre 12-4pm Program O

would like to have made it 132. "No, I certainly didn't expect it," said Yow of her team's lethargic performance which came on the heels of victories over UCLA, North Carolina and Wayland. "I'm not even in the mood to think about why we played the way we did. We had a tremendous height ad-vantage, and we didn't score inside. It makes you wonder." The Wolfpack's starting frontline stood 6:2, 5:11 and 5:9. The Cavaliers started 5:10, 5:10 and 5:7. State's frontcourt starters managed four points Yow, Finch disappointed Both coaches were disap-pointed that State seemed to take the Cavaliers lightly after tacing stiff competition since the early season. "You have to have respect for the game, the opponent and yourself," said Finch. "When we can practice as consistently as we practice, we don't under-stand how games can fluctuate to much." "You exceed your average ability when you're sky high," said Yow. "We know you can't do that every time, but there is a range you don't want to drop below." Toy usingled out Rouse, Kaye Young, Joy Ussery and Sherry Watthews for their play but as said no combination seemed to get the job done. "You really couldn't tell the sid II din't matter who was out get it doubd't seem starters managed four points between them.

Sophomore Genia Beasley, who entered the game with a 20.5 average, scored two points. Cristy Earnhardt (10.2 ppg) scored two, and Faye Young (5.1 ppg) didn't score.

Virginians Ginger Rouse (Fairfax) and Trudi Lacey

(Fairfax) and Trudi Lacey (Clifton Forge) were two of the few bright spots for thw Wolfpack, which upped its record to 12-1. Rouse hit seven of 10 from the floor for 16 points, and Lacey added 10. Forward Ronnie Laughlin also had 10 for State, which shot an outstanding 51 per cent for the game. omerence in monotonia, said. It dia't matter who was out there, we just couldn't seem to get it done. We were always a step behind." State plays at Wake Forest Tuesday night at 7:30 and hosts rank right down there wils rank anong malnourished cases of women's athletic pro-grams. "I certainly hope we don't play this way against Wake Forest and Duke," said Yow. "We need to move into a normal range. We'll be pleased if we play within that range."

game. While shooting was not the problem for the Pack, other stats reflected what the head-aches were. "Those are the key statistics," said Finch, pointing out State's 26 turnovers and six assists. "We have to have more than six assists."

Goodhew romps Olympian Duncan Goodhew once more made a shambles of the 200 breaststroke. His time of 2:06.73 was over six seconds ahead of that of teammate Doug Shore. The All-America also teamed with Stevens, freshman John Grzeszczak, and sophomore Rick Mylin for the 400 medley relay win. Mylin, Shore, and Steve McCafferty were picked out by Easterling as having made good drops in their times. Mylin moved up into the top seven in the conference in the 200 back with a time of 2:00.17. Shore and McCafferty zer now third and fourth, respectively, was a career best and the top, unshaved time for Harrigan. Shore and McCafferty are now, third and fourth, respectively, in the ACC 200 breast. They wint there seconds.

Joe Rhyne had what Easterling termed "a good triple for a freshman." The math major won the 200 fly and added seconds in the 500 and 1,000 freestyle. Easterling said that bare were "menfolk events... which Joe handled very well."
Junior Jim Umbdenstock was a double winner for the Acc 200 the additional to the source of the top the source of the source of the source of the top the source of the ind grappler Lee Guzzo rides Carolina foe in last year's match

Host Heels Tuesday

by Denny Jacobs Asst. Sports Editor

When wrestling coach Bob Guzzo says that Tuesday night's Garolina match will be extremely competitive, he knows pre-cisely what he is talking about. State hosts the Tar Heels in Reynolds Coliseum at 7:30 and there are sure to be plenty of fireworks.

fireworks. State is fresh off a critical 27-12 win over nationally ranked Wilkes and the Heels come in with a 2-0 mark, including a Wednesday night victory over tough FCU

Heels come in with a 2-0 mark, including a Wednesday night victory over tough ECU. "Both teams have real good talent," analyzed Guzzo, "and people that come out to see this match will see some great wrestling—and I mean great." "It will be another classic State-Carolina match as it is in other sports. I know the wrestlers themselves are really looking forward to this match. When we play Carolina in any sport, it means a little more to everyone in the program." said Guzzo.

Top wrestling progra

State and Carolina have the top two wrestling programs in the state and boast national calibre teams. Each team has three individual 1977 ACC champs, and virtually every bout could be a key to the virtually every bout could be a key to the outcome. Neither team has its lineup set as it will be at season's end, and injuries have taken heir toll on both teams. But Guzzo sees his team being in good overall shape for this time of the year, and he doesn't plan any major changes for Carolina. "We should be fairly healthy." said Guzzo. "We still don't have everybody at the weights the y'll end up at but we should be in good shape. "We've been working pretty hard different to prepare for Carolina. We've been working on the same kind of tens year in system got the successful. "It is the supervised of Table. Tennis Tournament_ Thurs Jan 19, 1978 - 7pm 100 ae 1 Carmichael Gym PAINT and BCDY SHOP Sign-up at information desk Saunders St. / Raleigh, N. C. 27600 Telephone - 828-$100 of the University Student Center by 5pm Wed/Jan 18, 1978 Couron to vindhover Ol S. .... Accepting Submissions 2 FOR 1 BUY ONE PIZZA GET ONE FREE! Prose/Poetry /Photos/Artwork .... OD ANY DAY DURING JANUARY 1978 EAST SIX FORKS RD., PH. 833-1601 Deadline for entries: January 27th 3318 N. BOULEVARD, PH. 876-9420 Boxes located at: Library Main Desk Student Center Info Desk English Dept, Office Windhover Office/3132 Student Center HIGHWAY 421, DUNN, NC, PH. 892-1031 Priz $50 $25 $15 MISSION VALLEY, PH. 833-2825 CLIP AND SAVE OUR CUSTOMERS KNOW THE DIFFERENCE CLIP THIS COUPON RA RA RESIDENT ADVISOR APPLICATIONS for FALL semester 1978 AVAILABLE NOW: at the Residence Life Office in Harris Hall DEADLINE FOR APPLYING: Thursday, Jan. 26, 1978 at 12 noon IF YOU PLAN TO APPLY, PLEASE ATTEND ONE OF THE FOLLOWING CANDIDATE INFORMATION MEETINGS: Jan. 19, 1978 - 10p.m. Lee Hall Motivation Station (in the Lee Hall basement)

Jan. 23, 1978 - 10p.m. Berry Hall lounge Jan. 24, 1978 - 10p.m. Bowen Hall lounge

THE DEPARTMENT OF RESIDENCE LIFE IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

and sometimes you have to worry about doing things too much different. The kids know how important it is so they'll be ready

Matmen await Carolina

. Reese ready

118 critical

Reese figured every bout to be tough, but thought that at 118, where State counts on Jim Zenz, could be critical. Carolina coach Bill Lam said that he had to consider State the favorite at 118 but pro-jected that if his man could pull an upset it could get the Heels off to a fast start. Reese agreed that it could get either team

<text><text><text><text><text><text>

Seagreaves responds Seagreaves responds "I really think that the Wikes match did a lot for Jeff as an individual," continued Guzzo. Seagreaves fought back from a 5 3 second period deficit to win 11-6 in the closing seconds of the bout. Not only was it a big win for Seagreaves personally, but it shot the team with emotion. "It just goes to show that if you break your way. "Jeff worked really hard in that match and he deserved to win." When State and Carolina square off against each other anything can hapen, but one gets the impression that the grapplers are not going to be any too friendly to their arch-rivals from Chapel Hill. At least coach Guzzo certainly hopes not.

The second secon

Two remain The Wolfpack fencers may be two still remain. Rodney Irizar yang Steve Dickman form the uncleus for a strong foil weapon and Ray Blease shows signs of being ready to fill Gelnaw's wather and the strong strong strong wather and the strong strong that she ability to do a fine job fon y thing holding him back nonly thing holding him back nong the confidence he needs." Juniors Irizarry and Dick-man are both all ACC fencers and Minor expects them to arry a large part of the load if arry a large part of the load if arry and Steve have car-

CALL ME FOR

LIFE AND HOSPITAL SURGICAL INS.

-----

INSURANCE

North

Carolina

For tickets or information call 733-2750 Grant Johannesen will also appear with the Symphony Wednesday, January 25, in UNC's Memorial Hall at 8:15pm and on Thursday, January 26, in Duke's Page Auditorium at 8:15pm. Tickets will be available at the door for these # encers open season ried a load since they've been here and they will have to con-tinue if we are to do as well as I think we can. Both are exper-ienced fencers and I anticipate very good years for both of them," said Minor. "Irizarry is good enough to win the conference champion-ship and be an all-American.

Behind Big Star Store Cameron Village 1901 Smallwood Drive Raleigh, NC 27605

by Denny Jacobs Asst. Sports Editor

Meet Duke tonight

Asst. Sports Editor After losing three of his top men fencers before the season had even begun, one would think that coach Larry Minor either would have booked the first flight to friendly. Switzer-tand or at the very least be as downcast as a compulsive gambler who just lost more than he could afford to pay. But such is not the case. Wite the contrary. Minor has never looked forward to a season more than he does this one, which opens here tonight against Due. The the most excited about our program as I have ever been. Now we'll just have to you here a the season to the season tourth year coach. The form last year's team as a foil Bill Gelnaw and sabre feter Vallerio and freshman sabre David Vallerio who also decided not to return. What datantic Coast Conference unpredictable. So why is Minor

Sabre losses

edictable. So why is Minor

Defenseman Rick Weis scored State's fourth consecu-tive third period goal, assisted by Tom Wilhelm, with 6:21 left to play to lead the Wolfpuck to a season opening 5-4 hockey triumph over Wake Forest. Thursday night in Greensboro's Triad Arena. The game winner was Weis' second of the game, and it insured State of its first ce hockey victory in its brief ice hockey victory in its brief history.

"Some sources of irritation have been eliminated that kept us from being a cohesive unit last year." They may be young and rebuilding, but they're loose "Leadership is starting to emerge and people are begin-ning to take responsibility already," continued Minor. "We're young and rebuilding due to the holes we have to fill, but we're aiming to break into

State and Carolina: intense competition

by Denny Jacobs Asst. Sports Editor

The time will fast be upon them. A time of reckoning. A time when reason abruptly loses all significance. A time when ordinarily same people turn into driven beings possessed by a sincle computien.

when reason abruptly losses all significant to being possessed by a sordinarily same people turn into driven beings possessed by a single compulsion. What could possible cause this phenomenon? A close encounter of the third kind? Or, maybe it's the threat of impending doom? Or, might it be that someone has finally discovered the clusive "fountain of youth?" No, nothing as humdrum as all that. It's time for another in a long line of heated State-Carolina affairs. The scenario is set for 7.30 Tuesday night in Reynolds Collesum, and the proceedings being another typically intense confrontation between the two sister schools. As always, emotions promise to be at a peak level, and the oddsmakers are calling this one a tosup. They've been all through it with these two teams before, and they know that it is self destructive to try to pick a winner. On paper, they look so imilar that one can not be certain if even their hairdressers know for sure. Do they or don't they? It's wrestling State-Carolina style, and like any rivalry between the red and powder blue it will be a spectator's delight. Both can boast of three ACC Champions, and bath figure to battle it out for the top spot in the conference at uournament time.

deight. Both can boast of three ACC Champions, and both figure to battle it out for the top spot in the conference at tournament time. State and Carolina are the top two teams in the state and we offer national calibre wrestling to viewers who enjoy the excitment of head to head competition. Unfortunately, people sometimes confuse the sham of "championship" wrestling with the true sport but the resemblance is non-exitant. Collegiate wrestling combines quickness, quile, strength, and most of all desire into a one on one challenge that is inexcapably excited. There is no one who can help a wrestler while he's on the mat ocliective responsibility to the whole that can sometimes be a collective responsibility to the whole that can sometimes be a selling factor. There is competition between opposing teams, and at the same time, there is an underlying competition between fellow teammates that adds another dimension to this oldest sport known to me. More of the appealing aspects of wrestling from a spectarors point of view is that one need not know all the subtle intraacies to be able to appreciate the action. It is a challenge unlike most. Without pride, success is unstainable. And pride figures to play a leading role in Tuesday night's encounter of the FIRST kind.

free DOMINO S qt. of Coke With any small pizza 5.65 value One coupon per pizza Expires: 3/31/78 Tax included in price.

Free

Sabre losses Sabre is where the losses have hit the team the hardest, but Minor is very high on junior Mark Barrett who enters his second year on the strip. Barrett missed the finals of the Pen State Invitational, consid-ered by most the top collegiate torse the top collegiate to the top collegiate torse the top collegiate to the top c when all were in their first year of competition. "There's going to be a real dogfight in epee. Right now Bill Davison, Bill Galloway, and Danny Kim look like they will retain their spots from a year ago but there are three other fencers who are pushing them and are very close behind," said Minor.

The Wilmington 10 has completed its trek through the North Carolina court system and Gov. Jim Hunt has announced that he will deliver his decision on the matter very soon, just as he promised. The 10 were convicted on a 1971 fire-bombing charge and nine of them are still serving rather harsh sentences. They have received wide-spread national and international publicity, with many groups, such as Amnesty International, urging Gov. Hunt to pardon the 10 and save the reputation of North Basically. Hunt beaut

Carolina. Basically, Hunt has three choices. He can pardon them, commute their sentences, or simply do nothing at all. We do not feel that the reputation of North Carolina should be at stake here. Obviously, the possibility exists that justice was not carried out quite fairly in Wilmington during the 10's trial. Racial turnult did exist a few years ago when the 10 were tried and several questions have arisen concerning the handling of prosecution witnesses. One witness has changed his story at least three times since the trial.

ast three times since the that. But no conclusive signs indicate that the i/imington 10 were innocent. The fairness of rosecution methods certainly can be disputed, Wilm prosecution however.

Gov. Hunt cannot grant the 10 a pardon of inocence simply on the basis that the rosecution methods might have been unfair. ire-bombing is no insignificant offense, and it would be very questionable for Hunt to decide ney were innocent after the courts said they vere guilty. But at the same time, he cannot ignore the 10 since there is a good possibility that they were given harsh sontences because of the racial tumult and high-riding emotions at the time of their trial.

their trial. Unfortunately, regardless of what Gov-Hunt decides to do, some people are not going to be satisfied. And since various national and international groups have gotten involved in the issue and made it into a reflection of the state's reputation. Hunt must deal with maintaining the integrity of the state, in addition to considering any evidence showing that the 10 were unfairly triad tried

We suggest the Governor commute their sentences so that they will be eligible for parole. By doing this, he can let their behavior in prison determine whether or not they should go free

Well... yes ... I do to state ..... No, I'm not a freshman ... in fact, T've been here ahh ... love of my life ... where have You been hiding? we've got so little time ....

Friday, Jan. 13, 1978.

Friday, Jan. 13, 1978. You could have almost predicted it anyway. Anytime a Friday the 13th comes along, something is going to happen which just doesn't always fit the plans that the majority desire. As if Fate had stepped in, predictably as usual, and issued the supreme order, the weatherman's prediction of snow in this area in actuality uses a prediction of snow in this area in actuality was a disappointing rain and sleet covering the entire

Students, visibly shaken and mad that the snow didn't come, walked to class with their umbrellas and raincoats on, cursing the weather and all of the terrestrial elements of the universe. umbrellas and raincoats on, cursing the weather and all of the terrestrial elements of the universe. The people in the tunnels, particularly the Supply Store Tunnel, resembled cows being herded into the pasture for the big kill, as students trapsed toward the various academic buildings on campus. Most wished they had stayed in bed, and let their sleep remove them from the miserable and abrasive weather that had set in. "No snow," remarked one student. "I have to walk a mile from my apartment to campus every morning. I just don't like it." Even the sleeping mania caused by the foul weather spread as a severe epidemic to the professors of this proud University, as they allowed the great academic, tradition built upon for years to fall helplessly in the cold ground as their yawns indicated that academics and learning were the farthest things from their minds. "I had thought I would stay in hed this

"I had thought I would stay in bed this morning, also, when I first looked out," one "rofessor remarked. "I would like to think," he continued, "that in a perfect world, the best of all possible worlds, if the professor didn't show up for class, the students would sit there for the next 50 minutes and discuss what they had learned from reading in the book.

Friday the 13th Greg Rogers

"But unfortunately, I just didn't think that this ass would do that."

"But unfortunately, I just didn't think that this class would do that." The class quickly concurred. Later, as the morning grew and so did the people in terms of appearances around campus, for it was quite apparent that sleeping had taken the vote over attending class, the sounds of sneezing, coughing and moaning in general were to be heard frequently. But in a total evaluation of the situation, it wasn't the appearance of the rain and sleet that depressed everybody. It wasn't the absence of the much-awaited substance called snow, and thehours of pleasure involved in hitting the most bastardly professor on campus. "You don't think that the weather could have anything to do with today being Friday the 13th?" one girl questioned, not quite sure whether to believe the longtime superstition or whether to disregard this saying by people that bal luck always occurs on such a date. "Surely, it couldn't be." Shere-emphasized, as if to convince herself more than the University as a whole.

a whole. Could it be a cosmic law, a universal axiom, that Friday the 13th is a day that really brings bad luck? For those who longed for the snow and the sledding and snowball battles which it brings along with it, the old adage that Friday the 13th brings bad luck might possibly have the same realization as the fact that Billy Carter is actually Jimmy's brother. But for those who discount such rumors that it was Friday the 13th which caused all of this unwelcomed rain and sleet in the area, not to mention the callous unpleasantness of it all, you're in luck. Probably some low or high pressure system, whichever it is that is responsible for rainy conditions, was the culprit. As for me ... well, I don't believe in any such notions that Friday the 13th causes bad luck. But just in case, I sure am glad that the next one won't be until Oct. 13, 1978.

Revenge

letters

To the Editor "No Apology," Dec. 2, 1977.

Jim Bostedo's first and second platitudinous letters to the Technician have all the insipid qualities of a flat beer. His inept accusations are totally inequitable, making him appear as "another one of those" who feels that it is his divine duty to bombast North Carolina State fraternal organizations. One can't help but feel that his boorish letters represent an insatiable desire for revenge which lies deeper than his initial lament of what he viewed as impropreity at the Penn State game. Bostedo begins his letter by harping on his "freedom of speech" rights as guaranteed by provision of the First Amendment. Funny, I don't recail anyone tampering with these inalienable Jim Bostedo's first and second platitudinous provision of the First Amendment. Funny, I don' recall anyone tampering with these inalienable rights in the letter of Nov. 18. By all means, speak your mind, and the minds of your "35 others." but research your facts and report them correctly.

However, I do feel that one statement in your However, I do feel that one statement in your letter is bona fide, that you do not know much about fraternities. Maybe I can provide you with some assistance in this area. You ask, "On what basis do you judge your three (SAE, Sigma Nu, KA) the best?" You blatantly misconstrue what was said What was actually reported was that the three fraternities aforementioned were "among State's best." This statement is substantiated by the College Survey Bureau. Inc. whose 1977 edition shows that all of the three fraternities rate in the top 15 nationally. SAE being number one. Sigma Nu number 9, and KA number 14. (Having com-pleted this survey myself, evidence is compiled by fraternities rating each other as "best"). The tam direct myself to your question, "Do we attend women's sports?" Answer: yes, some of us do. Eight of my Fraternity Brothers watched and enjoyed State defeat UNC-G. Were you there? I can't help but wonder, did you attend the Senn State game to watch football, or search for something to "blow off steam" about to the Technician?

Technician? Let me leave you with one thought by De Tocqueville. "Each man is forever thrown back on himself alone, and there is danger that he may be shut up in the solitude of his own heart." This revelation explains why hundreds of men and women each year join Greek organizations—to avoid the dangers of solitude. I sincerely sypathize with those in solitude.

Thanks

FURMS

To the Editor: Thank you Mr. Rogers for a good editorial. You had a lot of inconsistencies to pick from when talking about President Carter. Two that come to mind, are lack of good social program: and his very poor relations with the Congress.

Carter has done some good things, too. When I think of them I'll write you. As for Gerald Ford and Ronald Reagan, they are just fighting among themselves. The person you will likely see in 1980 is Senator Howard Baker of Tennessee. Again, I thank you, Greg Rogers, for telling it like it is.

Patrick Mulkey Jr. RPA

Letters to the Editor should be no longer tha words. Letters should be typed or written legibly must include the writer's address or phone number with his or her classification and curriculum. Li containing possibly libelous or obscene material w

Huey Newton and the myth of Staggerlee

by David Armstrong Contributing Writer

It begins like this: There is a falling out in a bar. Some say it's over money, but it might be over a Stetson hat. Staggerlee pulls a gun on Billy Lyons, who begs for his life, says, "I've got two little babies and a very sickly wife." Staggerlee is unmoved. He shoots Billy Lyons dead, slips the Stetson onto his own head and strolls cool as you please into the street and into strolls cool as you please into the street and into myth. The story of Staggerlee-or Stack-alee, or Staggolee-has been a part of black streetlore for so long it seems like it's always been there. Details change in the telling and retelling, but the central meaning remains constant. Staggerlee has been a hit record and he's been a movie. In Superfly, they stuck Stack in sevenites platforms, but everybody knew who he was. Staggerlee is the predator you halfway admire, the dealer in fratricide you don't dare mess with, and his legend has spilled over, perhaps inevitably, into black political life. Huey P. Newton is the political Staggerlee. At least that's what the popular press would have you believe. Newton's own early PR did a lot to further this impression. There was a time when a poster of the Black Panther Party leader - in black beret, black leather jacket, sitting in a big wicker chair, gripping a gun - was as much a part of the decor of college dorms as paisley indian bedspreads. The gun has since disappeared, but the after image of menace remains.

remains. Today, Huey Newton, still the Black Panther leader and recently returned to Oakland from Cuban exile, faces trial on charges that would do Stack proud. Newton is accused of shooting to death Kathleen Smith, a 17-year-old prostitute, and pistol-whipping a tailor in his $1,500-a-month penthouse apartment. Penthouse?

to it. Outside Newton's orbit, the atmosphere was less adoring. Convinced he couldn't get a fair trial, Newton fled to Cuba in August, 1974. When he returned voluntarily to stand trial last trial, Newton fied to Cuba in August, 1974. When he returned voluntarily to stand trial last July 3, he found an organization that had changed considerably during his absence. Under the leadershi, of Elaine Brown, programs started shortly before Newton's departure-a communi-ty school, an escort service for seniors, a sickle ty school cell aner ty school, an escon service to seniors, a sickle cell anemia testing program-came into their own. This was not hot copy, like the berets and rifles had been, but in the absence of lurid media coverage, the BPP sank roots in the black community they had lacked previously.

They also learned the ropes of electoral politics. In 1973, Bobby Seale showed strongly for mayor of Oakland but did not win. In 1977, the Panthers helped make Lionel Wilson, a moderate judge, the city's first black mayor, and Wilson seemed ready to pay his political debts handsomely. Brown was appointed to Oakland's powerful Port Commission and Wilson took a seat on the advisory board of the Panther school. Only months after Newton's return, this fragile coalition is falling apart. On Oct. 23, the day before Newton's preliminary hearing on the way prosecution witness was made. Newton and the BPP immediately disclaimed any knowledge of the attempt, but the damage was done. Wilson school's funding was ordered. Most importantly, Elaine Brown left the party on Nov. 16, citing "personal reasons." Many observers think her daparty is resources to his legal defense. The Panthers are news again.

party's resources to his legal defense. The Panthers are news again. For all this, there is yet no hard evidence that the Huey Newton behind the media image is the Staggerlee many believe him to be. In person, Newton is a handsome, low-key man, quick to smile, whose style seems in marked contrast to his reputation. Like many persons accused of serious crimes, Newton says he's been framed. More than most, his claim stands a chance of being validated. Documents released recently by the FBI under the Freedom of Information Act reveal a campaign to discredit Newton with phony letters about him, purportedly written by BPP members. They also show a concerted campaign of disruption, surveillance, assault, and possibly murder, against Newton and the Panthers' going back to the late sixties. Newton has filed suit for several million pages of government files, many dealing with the EBI's concert COINTEL BPO several million pages of government files, many dealing with the FBI's covert COINTELPRO efforts. The prosecution's case in the murder rap against Newton rests mainly on the testimony of Raphaelle Gary, an eyewitness to the death of Kathleen Smith, who swore that her killer was 5'2" and wore his hair in a "process." Newton is 5'10", with a prominent "natural." Gary also told a private investigator that police promised to ease up on her prostitution busts if she would help them "get" Newton. In court, Gary denied saying anything of the sort; but the defense has it on tape. Despite this, Newton will stand trial. On a rare rainy night in Berkeley recently, Newton was asked how he thought his case was going. "Legally, I think we're doing well," he replied, "but I believe we're losing in the court of nublic onition."

replied, but to elieve we're iosing in the Court of public opinion." He's right. Above a story in the San Francisco Chronicle telling how Kathleen Smith's killer first slapped her, then shot her and left in his car, laughing, was the headline "He Shot Hooker-Then Huey Newton Laughed." There were no qualifying quotation marks around Newton's name, and the visceral punch of that headline for readers already afraid of him must have been stagaering. have been staggering. The myth of Staggerlee, for those who aspire to it, is a hard act to live up to. For those who don't, it's a hard rap to live down.

Technician Editor . . . . . . . Lynne Griffin

Associate Editor	ncy Williams vid Pendered John Flesher David Carroll ncy Williams Chris Seward David Blythe anny Jacobs
Graphic Arts	odd Huvard
Advertising
Manager	nny Carson, Scarmazzo
Design Angela Mohr, Ju Circulation H	am Thrower
Manager Production
Typesetters Leigh Clark, Debora Rolf, Sall
Layout	r, Helen Tart Bill Blue

