Music Department Established at State

All Men Who Play Musical Instruments or Sing Should See Captain Price

In establishing a music department at State College the college has taken a step in the right direction to encourage in her young men a liking for one of the oldest cultural subjects.

Music means a lot to mankind, and is used by mankind to display all his emotions. Our church life, our home life, and our school life would lose a lot of their attractiveness if music were left out.

During the last few years State College has developed a concert and R. O. T. C. band that is second to none in the South. All men in the band must have a sincere liking for music and must have a high standing in their scholastic work. Trips are arranged to different parts of the State. The band takes part in all athletic events at the college.

The orchestra and glee club will be organized and worked up to the high efficiency enjoyed by the band. New men in college who can play any instrument or sing are urgently requested to see the Director of Music as soon as they can make it convenient. For the present, he will be found in Primrose Hall.

First call for band rehearsal will be on September 19 at 3 p. m. in the band room.

First call for orchestra will be on September 20 at 7 p. m. in Pullen Hall.

First call for try-outs for the Glee Club will be on September 29 at 7 p. m. in Pullen Hall.

The new music department will be carried on under the able leadership of "Captain" P. W. Price. For the past year Captain Price has had charge of the band and all the fellows playing in the band have learned to like him very much because he always has a kind word and smile for every one. Captain Price is a man who is truly behind State College in athletics because every chance he gets he takes his band on trips with the Wolfpack and also plays at all our games.

If you play a musical instrument, sing or make a noise in any respect to get harmony out of it, call around and see Captain. Make his acquaintance. He's worth knowing, anyway.

Chemistry Dept. Reorganized

The Chemistry Division of the College will this year work under an entirely new system, and to this end has been reorganized lately. Succeeding Dr. Withers, whose death is keenly felt by all, is Dr. L. F. Williams, who has been with the department since 1908, and who is well fitted by experience to take charge of the reorganization of the division.

Besides the changing of system the division also announces that it has been strengthened by the acquisition of two able instructors, Dr. A. J. Wilson and Dr. F. E. Rice. These men, with Dr. Williams and Dr. Randolph, already here, will head the four big divisions of the Chemistry Department which are outlined in the new system as presented by Dean Brown of the School of Science and Business. With the addition of these new men and the new system in effect, the Department of Chemistry at this College now ranks among the best in the South.

"RED" HAMRICK WINS CITIZENSHIP MEDAL

Norris Athletic Trophy Awarded "Red" Johnson; Other Honors at 1924 Commencement

The P. D. Gold Citizenship Medal was won by Hamrick. This medal was offered by Charles W. Gold in honor of his late father, Elder P. D. Gold, to the Senior graduating at State College who made the greatest achievement in scholarship, leadership, athletics and public speaking all combined. Red Hamrick, to whom this medal went, qualified in all of these requirements. He was the first man wearing the college monogram to be elected into the Pine Burr Society. He made his monogram in track and last year was captain of track team. He was also a leader on the campus, being his last year a member of the Student Council. Whenever "Red" was called upon to speak in public he was perfectly at ease so that in all the requirements he was well qualified for citizenship. He has a history of being a member of the Pine Burr Society since its founding. In 1899 Dr. Withers became professor of chemistry and held that position up to the time of his death. From 1917 to 1923 he served as vice-president of the college and director of the Summer School.

Dr. Withers was very active in the religious and civic life of Raleigh. He devoted much time to the chamber of commerce and at the time of his death was president of that body. He was also a member of the Rotary Club of Raleigh and a former president.

His religious activities included deep interest in church and Sunday school work, the Y. M. C. A. and State Sunday school organization.

In losing Dr. Withers we lose a man who has really helped State College to go forward.

The Inter-Society Oratorical and the Inter-Society Declaimer's medals were both won by J. E. Webber, last year a junior Textile student.

Alpha Zeta, the National Agricultural Honorary Fraternity, every year offers a medal to the Freshman making the best scholastic record for his Freshman year. This medal was won by H. W. Taylor.

The Highway Engineering essay prizes of $50 and $25 were won by H. L. Medford and B. M. Jones, Jr.

Publication Fee

Every student who has registered this year and paid their registration fee know they paid $2 publication fee. This fee of $2 is to be paid at each registration, making a total of $6 for the year. For this $6 each student is to receive the Technician for one school year and one copy of the Agromeck.

By having this fee, which requires every student to take the Technician and Agromeck, it has enabled the staff to offer the Technician at a lower price and the Agromeck staff to lower their price not only for the book itself, but also the space in the book, so that the students now get both publications for what one did cost and, besides, their space in the Annual has been considerably reduced.

THE LATE DR. W. A. WITHERS

Dr. Withers' Death Great Loss to State

The death of Dr. W. A. Withers on June the 20th was a great loss not only to State College and the city of Raleigh but also to the State.

Dr. Withers had been a member of the Pine Burr Society since its founding. In 1899 Dr. Withers became professor of chemistry and held that position up to the time of his death. From 1917 to 1923 he served as vice-president of the college and director of the Summer School.

His religious activities included deep interest in church and Sunday school work, the Y. M. C. A. and State Sunday school organization.

In losing Dr. Withers we lose a man who has really helped State College to go forward.

SEVERAL CHANGES IN N. C. STATE FACULTY

Many Old Instructors Will Not Be Back; New Ones to Take Their Places

Several changes have been made in the faculty for next year. Among those of the faculty who will not return are: C. R. Bohanon, Instructor in Agricultural Engineering; F. W. Edsall, Instructor in English; R. B. Etheridge, Instructor in Soils, and Dr. W. C. Reeder, Professor of Veterinary Science and Philosophy. There are several others whose names were not obtainable.

The new men who will be in places of those leaving are: W. B. Cobb, Associate Professor of Soils; L. H. McKay, Associate Professor of Swine Production; Dr. A. J. Wilson, Professor of Analytical Chemistry; Dr. Frank Rice, Agricultural Chemistry; Howard Satterfield, Instructor of Chemistry; Dr. L. F. Koonce, to take Dr. Reeder's place of Veterinary Science, and A. F. Greaves-Walker, Professor of Ceramics.

Besides these new professors and instructors there are a number of men who have teaching fellowships and working for their master's degree.

Physical Education Department Aims

STATE COLLEGE BOY HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

John A. Lawrence, of Baxley, Ga., a Senior Chemical Student, Seriously Injured in Automobile Accident

John A. Lawrence, affectionately known to his friends as "Robust," was hit by a passing Ford coupe, as he was fixing to board an inward bound Hillsboro Street car, opposite the Textile building. He was rushed to Rex Hospital by a Mr. Stuart, of Charlotte, who then reported to the police headquarters. Mr. Stuart was driving slow, passing another car at the point where the car tracks double, in order to permit passing. Blinded by light and the rain on the windshield, he could not see Mr. Lawrence, who was standing on the extreme edge of the pavement, looking at the approaching car, which he intended boarding.

Johnnie had just arrived in town from his summer's visit to his home in South Georgia. He had had a good rest at home and was in the best physical condition since his prime factor in his probable recovery. An X-ray photograph shows that his skull was fractured from the center, on top, to the right base of the head. He is making a brave fight for recovery, and with the courage that his friends have too often seen him display, a complete recovery is looked forward to with a great deal of interest by the whole student body at the College. —Tom McGrea.

RECORD-BREAKING ENROLLMENT THIS YEAR

The number of students who have registered at the college this year is reported to be the largest in the college history.

The thirty-sixth session opened with three men assigned to a large number of rooms and a larger number than ever before rooming outside.

Dean Cloyd says he expects at least 1,500 or more.

Freshmen and Sophomores Will Be Required to Schedule the Physical Training

State College is beginning on a new era in the recreation and physical education of her student-body. One of the most complete gymnasiums in the South is almost completed, ready to serve as a student union for all activities of a physical nature. A staff of men have been secured who are to give their entire time the year round in the supervision, direction and instruction of all work which falls under the Department of Physical Education. These men have had a technical training and experience in athletics and physical training in some of the most recognized schools of the entire country. They wish to bring the best that they have found in their experience to State College and model our work along similar lines. These men have chosen to cast their lot with State College, to live among you and strive toward the highest attainable standard of living. State College one of if not the leading institution in the South. Nothing can be gained however without the full co-operation of the boys who make up State College. Unity is the passport of success and progress. Your support and enthusiasm is necessary in putting on a program of work in physical education which should make State College distinctive in the South.

So often intercollegiate athletics is the main interest, and in most cases the only interest of the college physical department. Without a doubt, intercollegiate is vital in promoting intercollege relationships, in promoting college spirit and loyalty to your own college, and in financing the work to be carried on in the department. Splendid traits of character are derived from intercollegiate sports, that are conducted properly, which are an ideal training toward future citizenship. But why confine these benefits to the few men

THE PHILOSOPHY OF A COLLEGE MAN

By E. C. BROOKS

I shall make friends, and especially with those who have a high purpose to serve and a determination to equip themselves for service, and I shall strive always to increase my capacity for friendship and widen my circle of friends, realizing that my helpfulness to others may not exceed the extent of my good will.

I shall acquire manners from gentlemen who possess the Christian virtues in order that I may be able to present myself acceptably to the world, or to that part of it in which I am to serve, that the difficulties in the way of my intellectual growth and material success may not be increased by crudeness of manner and coarseness of conduct.

I shall cultivate a respect for law and order and shall support an orderly government based on right and justice, realizing that the safety of organized society depends upon a generous co-operation of all its parts, and that the widest individual freedom is possible only when protected by just laws. Wherever defects in government offend I shall seek legitimate ways of correcting them, but shall denounce mob law as the enemy to social welfare.

I shall give myself up with generous enthusiasm, at properly selected intervals, to wholesome recreation and legitimate amusements, believing that the spirit within can be refreshed and the joy of working can be increased thereby.

I shall form proper habits of work that I may apply myself with the least possible danger to my nervous system, for I believe the physical and the intellectual parts may be so disciplined as to become the ready and willing servants of my worthy desires; and that my capacity for work may be greatly enlarged through properly acquired habits without danger to myself and with increasing joy in the largest service that I may render.

I shall maintain a strong and positive purpose as a guide to conduct, for I believe that spiritual or psychological defects may be overcome and that success in life may be attained just to the extent that my purpose, supported by sincere desires and an unflinching determination, is worked out through some vocation which is the best expression of my ideals. To this end I shall seek knowledge, character and skill that my power may be adequate to the tasks of life.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:
TWO DOLLARS PER COLLEGE YEAR

Our advertisers were solicited with the purpose of putting before you dependable shopping points. Remember this, and feel perfectly safe in guiding your shopping by THE TECHNICIAN.

Editorials

Fellows, let's begin just where we left off last spring with the old State College spirit. Keep it going right along.

We hope that every member of the student body will read THE TECHNICIAN; but especially do we ask the new men to read everything in the paper. It will not only help to occupy part of their time, but also give them valuable information about our college.

THE TECHNICIAN staff asks the cooperation of every member of the faculty this year. We want you, the faculty, to feel free to write for the paper, expressing your opinion on the paper, expressing your opinion on the school, or on the student body. Also, if there are any announcements you wish made, anything you don't like or do like, tell us about it—because we intend to set aside space each week for the faculty, provided you will come across and fill it.

Dutch Holland and Red Johnson will not be able to play football this fall. There is a ruling saying that any college athlete playing over three scheduled games of baseball a week will be classed as a professional and not allowed to participate in any form of college athletics. In losing Dutch and Red we lose two fine men from our squad. There is much hope that this ruling will be changed by the time basketball and baseball season starts.

The Freshmen class is to be envied more than any other class. It is not an uncommon thing to hear among the Seniors: "I wish I were a Freshman." There is no doubt concerning the future of State College; at the rate it is growing it can't help from being one of the finest institutions in the South within the next few years. The new gymnasium, the new library, the new dormitory, and new power house are all drawing cards for State. "Just watch us grow."

Fellow students, THE TECHNICIAN is at last your paper. Since it has become necessary for every member of the student body to take the paper, we feel as though every student should have a very personal interest in its welfare. Heretofore a few men have been doing all the writing for the paper; consequently just a few phases of college life have been covered and as a result students have knocked the paper, saying it was one-sided and not representative of the school. This year we wish to cover every phase of college life and we invite and wish every student to write articles for us. If you can't write, and know of something that should get into the paper, let us know about it and we will appreciate it and see that it gets into THE TECHNICIAN.

PRESIDENT HOEY GREET'S BOTH NEW AND OLD MEN

The Student Body President Asks That All Students Support Student Council

The Student Council takes this opportunity to extend a hearty welcome to all students, both old and new. But especially do we wish to welcome the Freshmen, the men who must assume more and more of the responsibilities of college life as we older men graduate. It won't be long until you are in the positions of leadership on State College campus.

The first day you are here is not too soon to begin training for the important places you will have to fill. This period may at times seem irksome; but every upper classman on this campus has passed through it and is no worse off for it. Just remember that no one is fit to lead who has not followed for a time.

Of the upper classmen the Student Council asks that you will ask the Freshmen to do nothing unreasonable, and that you will help them in every way possible to get the same feeling for State College that all of us have.

To the Freshmen we again extend a welcome. If anyone asks you to do something, do it, if it is not unreasonable, in the same spirit of friendliness in which it is asked, and it won't be long before State College will be your "other home."

STUDENT COUNCIL,

By C. R. Hoey, Jr., Pres.

MEN WANTED

Not for the navy or army, but for the Wolfpack. Coach Shaw wants more men out for grid practice. Out of a student body of 1,500 or more we should have at least 125 men out for the team. Football practice is not the easiest occupation to be found in college, but there are very few other things to do in college that you can get as much out of as you can football.

Probably the greatest compensation of football is the physical training; but following closely are: learning to think quickly, learning to take punishment, learning to be aggressive, learning to obey, and to cooperate. All of these characteristics one learns in football practice, he can use in later life.

Fellows, the coaches need more men and it is up to you to furnish them with men. Come out and help yourself and at the same time help your team, which in turn helps your dear old college.

The following letter was received from Captain Wysor and we believe it is advocating a good cause. Our band is one of the best in the South, and we need to dress it up. THE TECHNICIAN will back up any campaign that is for anything that will help State College, and we feel that getting dress uniforms for our band would help advertise our college; therefore we are for it. Think about it, fellows, read Captain Wysor's letter, then, when you are asked to help, act:

Sept. 17, 1924.

The Editor Technician:

Everyone knows that the State College R.O.T.C. Band is the best of its kind in the State; in fact, it is so good as to be in constant demand during the school year. Their ability to play good music is undoubted. But there is one thing lacking, which, in my humble opinion, is essential to a first-class band, and that is a full-dress uniform—one that will give our Band the appearance they deserve. It's true they are furnished uniforms (Army Reg.) by the Military Department, but at best they are only uniforms and lack that dash and flashy appearance desirable in a college band, and one that travels over the State as our Band does. The men themselves are not able financially to purchase their own uniforms, and there are not other funds available for this purpose.

I want to suggest that THE TECHNICIAN, beginning with the first number, start a campaign among the students and faculty for contributions to a Band Uniform Fund. About $1,500 will be necessary for a band the size of ours, and one dollar per student would be sufficient. The Military Department can be counted on to assist very materially in making a campaign for this purpose. I believe the civic organizations of Raleigh would help—they seem to think a lot of Price and his cohorts. Contribution boxes might be placed at convenient places.

State College has a Band to be proud of. Let's dress them up on a par with their musical ability. Start the ball a-rolling right now!

R. E. WYSOR, JR.,
Captain D.O.C.

The football squad has been back for two weeks and a half, working twice a day. Fellow students, they are working for you and me and our college. Let's fight with them. Show them again this year that we are for them; that we are proud of them. Know every man on the squad and make them feel we are proud of them. We all can't go out and fight on the field for the glory of old State College, but there isn't a man here who can't do something to help the Wolfpack bring honor and glory to our campus. Let's do it from the start to the finish of the season.

Only a work in which to teach the new men "WAT GAU RAC." "We are happy when we yell," etc., but fellows they must know them by next Saturday, and it is up to the upper-classmen to teach them the yells. In every dormitory get a bunch of new men for five minutes every night next week and drill them in the yells. We've got to send the Blue Devils back to their campus next Saturday night a great deal bluer than their name.

Freshmen, cooperate, and learn these yells; they're yours and you must know them to urge the Wolfpack on to victory. Turn out 100 per cent for pep meetings whenever you are asked.

Probably the two words, Do Something, are the best words of advice that can be given to the Freshmen.

Do Something cannot be emphasized too much. From the very first minute you land on the campus get busy and stay busy. The most of you new men are here to spend the greater part of four years, so you may as well forget home in as much that you don't want to become homesick, and the best preventive for homesickness is doing something and keeping busy every minute. Learn the names of all the buildings on the campus, find out where your classes are to be, learn the professor whom you have this and that course under, go around and find out who your neighbors are, write home and tell the folks back home State College is the best place outside of home you have ever seen (you may not think so at first, but you soon will, and "eventually, why not now?").

After you have gotten settled down somewhat, don't forget to "Do Something." Coach Homewood will soon be asking for candidates for Freshmen football team. If you weigh over 150 pounds go out, and if you have ever had any experience and weigh less or have the grit, go out—go out, anyway. Those who are not athletically inclined, get into a literary society, see Mr. King and get some "Y" work to do; come to THE TECHNICIAN office and get in on that kind of work; but whatever you do, Do Something.

Do something for your school, your class, yourself, and in so doing you will make the folks back home proud of you. Begin early to get into the swing of college life, so that when you leave State College folks will think of you and say, "Now there is a man who did something while he was at State College."

SPIRIT IN RALEIGH

While working among the advertisers this year we were struck with how much the attitude toward State students had changed in the last four years.

Mr. Aronson, of Aronson & Brown, owner of the Grand and Almo, put it this way:

"I am willing to back State College to the limit! Last year the boys treated us right. When the 'Wolfpack' won a game and they wanted a show they sent a committee and they got their show. They came and their conduct was as good as could be expected under the circumstances. Any time the college boys meet us 'half way' we will come more than 'half way.'"

Fellows, this is the kind of spirit we want in Raleigh. Let's keep up our good name, which we have now, and make it a better one by the right kind of conduct.

When all Raleigh is backing State College we will have the greatest advertisement in the world.

"Bill, who's that red-faced guy over there?"

"Oh, that's Walter Slats. He didn't always look that way, but his garter broke at the Junior Prom, and now he has a permanent blush."—Utah Humbug.

Well?

"Hello, sweetness, will you dance with me?"

"Sir, I'm the Dean of Women."—Oregon Orange Owl.

Spied

"Picture me," he cried, "in your arms!"

And then she framed him.—Washington Columnus.

"Working Your Way" Made Feasible

Writing life insurance has enabled many a man to pay his way through college. It is a dignified calling and a true social service.

To induce your fellows to form habits of thrift—to obligate them to put by a little of the income—to safeguard them against future loss of earning power—is a form of effort that brings keen satisfaction as well as profit.

That is only one of the reasons why the insurance business today is attracting some of the very best brains of America.

Write for the full particulars of a plan whereby you can assist yourself through college and at the same time prepare for a profitable and satisfactory business career.

"GUS" TEBELL

G. K. Tebell is assistant football coach and a good one.

Coach Tebell played football, basketball and baseball at the University of Wisconsin. He was picked as an All-Western Conference end in football and also made the mythical conference team as a guard in basketball. As a third baseman on the baseball team they say he was unexcelled.

Coach Tebell hasn't had very much experience coaching, but he goes at it like a veteran. Wherever you see him you will see a smile. Get acquainted with him; you never will regret it. But you will if you don't.

Play the game, fight like men,
We're behind you, lose or win—
State College, keep fighting along!
Scrap 'em, men; hold 'em fast;
You'll reach victory at last—
State College, keep fighting along!
Rise, men, to the fray and let your banners wave,
Shout out our chorus loud and strong;
And where'er we go we'll let the wide world know
Old State College keeps fighting along!

About Fifty Men Are Out Now, and All of Them Are in Fine Condition

The Wolfpack has been back since September 2 working hard twice a day, trying to get into shape to meet the Blue Devils on the 27th. About twenty some odd men reported for first practice and they have steadily been coming in since then until there are something like forty-five men out now.

The prospects this year are fine. Every member on the squad likes the new coaches because "they know their stuff" and they are giving it to the men. Some of the fellows have been heard to say they have learned more football in the past two weeks than they ever thought they could know.

The spirit of the squad is fine. Every man is fighting for a place on the team, for there isn't a single place clinched, even Captain Cleve Beatty is having to put out for a position. There are eleven places and the best men shall have them, because the new coaches do not know men from their previous records and it is believed there is not a grain of partiality in them.

The squad has had everything in football from setting-up exercise to scrimmaging. The first scrimmage was held last Saturday and the coaches were far from satisfied, still

Wolfpack and Wildcats at the Sandhill Fair

Arrangements have been made for the transfer of the annual State-Davidson varsity game, which has heretofore been played on alternate years at Charlotte and Raleigh, to the Sandhill Fair, on Friday, October 31.

The Sandhill Fair has undoubtedly the best football field in the State, especially from the players' standpoint, being a wonderful Bermuda turf which is not affected by either dry or wet weather, and a snappy game is assured.

Both colleges are coming to the game with a full quota of rooters determined to cheer their team to victory.

As the seats are limited in number, they should be reserved in advance by mail, and those desiring seats may procure them by writing to the secretary of the Sandhill Fair at Pinehurst, stating whether they desire them on the State or Davidson side. Reserved seats are $1.

"BUCK" SHAW

Head Coach of Football

L. T. Shaw, known as Buck Shaw, is head coach for football and track. Coach Shaw played tackle on Notre Dame's football team for three seasons and was picked for an all-American tackle. While in college he held the Western Conference record in the shotput and also played basketball.

For the past two years Coach Shaw has been assistant football coach at the University of Nevada. It has been said that much of the credit for Nevada's scoreless tie game last fall with the great California teams was due to Shaw's coaching.

Speaking of Shaw, Knute Rockre says: "He is the kind of man I can recommend without any reservation. He has no bad habits, he is a loyal and enthusiastic worker, and he is one of the best linemen we have ever turned out."

The squad likes him fine. Ask any of them.

CAPT. CLEVE BEATTY

Better Known as Fighting Cleve

Beatty is beginning his third year of varsity football, having played as a scrub on the Wolfpack one year before and on freshman team the year before that. Cleve is a fighter, and well deserves the leadership of the Wolfpack.

Last year Cleve was without a doubt the best known and liked man on the campus as he served as President of Student Government. We are indeed fortunate to have him back with us again this year.

He has always played guard, but he felt since Capt. Bostian of last year's squad played center, and Cleve is taking his place as captain, he should also take Big Dick's place as center. Beatty has a fine reputation to uphold, because Bostian's equal was hard to find; but Cleve has the goods and he can come across with it. Watch him.

POULTRY DEPARTMENT A BUSY PLACE DURING VACATION TIME

One of the places on the campus that kept things humming during the vacation months was the Poultry Science Department.

First, during the summer quarter many of the vocational graduates came in to take production courses and courses in poultry disease and disease control. In addition, there were several poultry specialists of the undergraduates as well as graduate students, and then came a whole "covey" of Home Agents who were intensely interested in poultry diseases.

Following the summer classes there was the farmers' week, and next year was represented in that. Next year there has been promised a whole section on the program that is to be poultry.

National Poultry Convention Meets at Old State

Then in August the sixteenth annual meeting of the American Association of Instructors and Investigators in Poultry Husbandry met at the Poultry Department with State College as host. There were delegates from all the States and from most of the provinces in Canada. It was the largest meeting of this association ever held. The association is made up of members who are college graduates and are devoting their whole time to teaching poultry, or in extension poultry work, or poultry research. In all there are close to 500 members.

The members had a great time, working hard and playing just as hard as they worked. A barbecue was served the convention at Doctor's Lake or, as it is now called, Myra's Lake. A ball game was played between the North and the South in which the South came out victorious with a score of 19 to 13.

The delegates were housed in the South Dormitory and were served meals at the dining hall. A banquet was given one night at which Dr. E. C. Brooks acted as toastmaster. Lucious watermelons and darkey singing delighted the guests.

The meetings were held in the Poultry Department classrooms. The rooms were decorated with flags, two of which were Canadian in honor of our Canadian friends in attendance. National Meeting of the Ancient Order of the Yellow Cur Meets

The National Chapter, No. 606, of the Ancient Order of the Yellow Cur of which Poultry Science has a local chapter, 999, met and initiated many candidates. In fact they had such a good time that it was the wee hours of the morning before the party separated and each wended his way home.

An Instructive Program

A very instructive program was carried out, the papers being arranged in groups. Dr. E. C. Brooks gave the address of welcome, which was responded to by Prof. Harry R. Lewis, of Rhode Island, and formerly in charge of the work at New Jersey. Mr. F. C. Elford, of Ottawa, Canada, and at the head of the Dominion Poultry Department, was present. The forenoon of the first day was devoted to papers and discussions on egg-laying competitions and certifications. The registration of fowls according to their powers of production is now claiming quite a lot of attention from the poultrymen all over the world. The afternoon was devoted to a poultry clinic put on by the Poultry Department, assisted by other poultry pathologists from different parts of the United States and Canada. Fowls sick of the disease under discussion were brought before the convention. One interesting demonstration was made by Dr. Stubbs, of Pennsylvania, in which tuberculin, a product of the tubercle germs isolated from tuberculosis of a fowl, was injected into the wattle. In 48 hours there was a large doughy swelling which indicated that the bird had tuberculosis. The bird was killed and opened before the audience and a demonstration of the small pearly tubercles which studded the liver, spleen and over the lining of the abdominal cavity was made. Dr. Weaver, of the Dominion Government, demonstrated swollen eye caused by a germ he had isolated from cases of roup. Dr. Dearstyne, of State College, gave an interesting discussion on Fowl Typhoid and Fowl Cholera in which he told that it was shown by the work at State College during the past three years that fowl typhoid of America is the same as Klein's disease so prevalent in Europe.

State Gives a Disease Exhibit

The Poultry Department workers staged a disease exhibit which was favorably commented on by all the delegates. This exhibit is still intact and all students interested in poultry diseases should see it. Large charts of the life cycle of parasites of poultry as well as preserved specimens of parasites and of disease were shown in an artistic manner. The balance of the program dealt with papers and discussions of research and teaching, nutrition and nutritional diseases, newer thoughts in housing and management and extension and affiliation with State organizations.

The next meeting will be held in the Middle West, and the officers elected were as follows:

Dr. B. F. Kaupp, President, N. C. State College.

R. S. Jones, Second Vice-President, Conn. Agr. Col.

L. E. Card, Second Vice-President, University of Illinois.

L. F. Payne, Secretary-Treasurer, Kansas Agricultural College.

You Have An Old Man In Your Care

—He is with you all the time, though you have never seen him. But not so many years from now you will look into your mirror and meet him face to face. He is—you!

There is great satisfaction in looking after this old man—a sense of mental comfort in knowing that his declining years are provided for. And it is so easily done; sums laid aside at regular intervals to accumulate at interest will pay him an income when he needs it most—that is, when he can no longer earn for himself. If death intervenes before the date which he has set for this income to start, payments are made at once to his—to your dependents.

Provident Mutual old age endowment policies are bringing comfort to thousand of elderly people, and it is gratifying to see how popular this excellent form of Life Insurance is becoming. Consult your nearest Provident Agent concerning a plan of old age endowment insurance for you today. If you do not know his address write to the company itself.

The men who represent Provident Mutual are of the type that see in the day's work something more than monetary return. They are equipped to give good counsel and advice. You can depend upon them.

WOLFPACK BEGINNING TO GROWL

they had to admit the teams showed up well.

For the first week the fellows' muscles were made rather sore, but the two practices a day soon took all of that away. From the very first practice the full equipment has been used, pants, shoes, all pads, including shoulder pads and head gears. It was rather hot for a few days, but it was really good for the fellows, especially men like "Mary" Eller, Tubby Logan, Donnell and others of their build—it took off some of the extra weight.

The dummy and bucking machine have caught rather hard usage during the past week. The boys hit them like they were Blue Devils.

Dick Elms is the only letter man expected back who has not returned, but by the time this is printed we hope Dick will be back in uniform. Dick played left end last year and did all the punting.

"Tubby" Cox, it has been rumored, might be back in school this year. Tubby plays a mean tackle and would be a hard man to beat out of a place in the line. We hope he can see his way clear to be with us again this year.

There are fifteen letter men back working hard, for it is impossible for them all to play and it looks as if the line-up would have in it several who are not letter men.

Captain Beatty will probably play center this year. He has a hard position to fill, but although he is about the smallest in the line, still he lacks a lot of being smallest in action. Others working for center are Black, Beal and Crisp. Black made the last year's squad and is showing up quite well. Beal and Crisp came up from the Freshman team and are making Beatty and Black live hard.

It is hard to distinguish between the guards and tackles yet because the same men are being tried out for both positions, but the letter men back for both positions are: "Soots" Beasley, "Slim" Logan, "Mug" Seawell, Bill White, Phil Hendricks and "Mary" Eller. These men are all good, but they are being hard pushed and having to lead a dog's life by fellows like Lambe, Nicholson, and Anthony of last year's freshman team and by Fred Logan, Donnell, and Harper who played on freshman team two years ago.

The tackles and guard, no matter who is selected, will be young giants, because all out for those positions are pretty good size and it is hoped will form a regular stone wall.

There is much fighting and competition for the end positions. Joe Ripple and Sam Wallis are the only letter ends back so far, and they are going to have a hard scrap to play end. Bill Studert, who played on the 1920 freshman team, is back in school again after an absence of three years and he is going fine. Dock Cook is looking well as an end.

Rat Austin, the flashing quarterback from the freshman team, Bill Beatty, and Jordan are also working hard and they are not going to let any one play end without first putting up a good fight.

Yes, we have all kinds of back-field men. The quarter-backs are John Sprague, John Jennette and Thomas. Both Johns are letter men and both good. We are indeed glad to have John Jennette back and the school is expecting great things of him.

Have a trio of men like Al Johnson, Charlie Shuford and John Jennette and nothing could catch them. And it will take more than a thin blue line of Blue Devils to stop plunging men like Red Lassiter and Walter Shuford. Other backs who are to be reckoned with when it comes to choosing a back field are: George Studert, McAuley, Horne, Nash, Bragg, Littleton, Faulkner and Summerell.

Two new men reported Monday. They were Foulk of last year's squad and Seawell, Mug Seawell's brother of the freshman squad.

There are five sets of brothers on the squad: The Logans, the Shufords, the Seawells, the Beattys, and the Studerts.

Walt Shuford, Joe Ripple and Bragg are punting and all seem to be showing up well.

By the end of next week we will then begin to know who's who and see the Red and White Wolfpack in action.

Frosh: "Why is it you like these studies in the nude?"

Art Stude: "Oh! I guess it was just because I was born that way."—Ghost.

W. N. HICKS RETURNS TO STATE AS "Y" SECRETARY

W. N. Hicks, of the Class of 1922, returns to N. C. State this year as Associate Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association. "Red," as he was called, was one of the most popular men in his class and was interested in all forms of student activity. He took a special interest in literary society work, the Technician and the Y. M. C. A. During his junior year he served as treasurer of the "Y" and as president in his senior year. Under his leadership as president, the year 1921-22 was one of the best in Y. M. C. A. work since the organization of the association at State in 1890.

W. N. "RED" HICKS

Following his graduation, Hicks taught one year in the High School at Ellerbe, N. C. Last year he was an instructor in the department of physics in Trinity College and at the same time took enough work to secure an A.B. degree.

During his student days at State, Hicks stood high in the estimation of both faculty and students. All who know him welcome him "back home" and wish him the highest success in his new line of work. The officers and board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. consider themselves fortunate in securing his services and feel confident that they have chosen the right man.

Physical Education Department Aims

who are physically able to make the teams? State College desires to make intercollegiate athletics one item of a vast range of activities in her Department of Physical Education, giving opportunity to every student enrolled in college a chance to participate.

Physical training classes will be formed which are required of all freshmen and sophomores and elective for upper classmen. The work planned for these classes will be recreational as well as of an instructive nature. Physical examinations will be given all freshmen, so that those men showing defects which can be remedied by proper exercise can be placed in special corrective classes. Intra-mural leagues will be formed made up of teams from the dormitories and from the military organizations. Schedules will be played in different sports during the entire year. Suitable trophies will be awarded the team which scores the largest number of points during the year's participation in both leagues.

Intercollegiate schedules will be arranged in every major sport. A concentration will be made in all lines of work in the physical department to get those men out to the varsity coaches who can in any way help put out a team to represent State College in an intercollegiate way.

Just as soon as the Physical Education Department can be so organized that it will have a firm foundation, opportunity will be given those men who desire, to specialize in physical training and athletics. Professional courses will be given, planned to train men to go out in the State and take charge of the physical training and recreation of the public schools, factories and communities.

The aims in brief of the department are as follows:

1. General:
 - a. Every student to participate in some form of supervised work.
 - b. Every student to get a practical knowledge of hygiene.
2. Direct:
 - a. To make the work hygienic.
 - b. To make the work recreative.
 - c. To make the work corrective.
 - d. To develop a sense of neuromuscular control.
3. Indirect:
 - a. To create a permanent desire to participate in some sport.
 - b. To develop a sense of teamwork, co-operation, sociability.
 - c. To increase interest of student-body in intercollegiate.
 - d. To develop future material for varsity teams.

e. To teach every non-swimmer to swim.

The starting of class-work and intra-mural schedules will be delayed until the gymnasium can be completed and equipped. In the meantime every student can concentrate on the varsity football team. First, if you know of any man that should be out trying for that varsity or freshman team, get him out. Second, lend your moral support to the men on the varsity team. Realize that you must not in any way interfere with their training so that they can give 100 per cent or the best they can do, not just what they need to make the team. They have to sacrifice, they have to work, they have to sweat, they should expect and you should expect them to be considered slackers if they did not hold the success of the team above personal desires.

It is a mighty big proposition they are representing. State College means not only every one in college now, but every last person who has gone on before since State was founded, all friends of the college who will glory in State's successes and be disappointed in her defeats. That football team has a big responsibility, they are expected to not neglect that responsibility and you are expected to do nothing that will interfere, but do everything that will cause them to live up to their trust.

THE 1924 BLUE RIDGE CONFERENCE A SUCCESS

Boys, Blue Ridge is a wonderful place to go in the summer-time when the trees are green and the flowers are in bloom. It is off to one side of the world between two large mountain ranges where you leave the noisy world behind and find pleasure in being alive just to see the handiwork of God. And there are evidences of His handiwork in the majesty and quiet of the great hills. Merely the privilege of getting up in those hills for a few days of rest is worth all the trouble of the trip.

On June 17, 1924, boys from all over the Southland began pouring out of the busses from Black Mountain and among them were the members of the N. C. State Delegation. Four boys left here the latter part of May and worked for the association about three weeks for the privilege of attending the conference. These boys were: W. L. Adams, W. D. Russell, F. E. Plummer, and J. V. Leonard. Ted Causey, Grand Sack Holder of the Gymnastic Club, was chief electrician for the conference all summer. Other members coming in later were R. R. "Railroad" Fountain, G. D. Humphrey, "Sammy" Homewood, "Parson" Warren, and "Pop" Taylor.

After registering, we found our cottage down by the brook and proceeded to make ourselves at home. The cottage is situated right in the center of things and is a delightful place to stay. During that first afternoon there were many things to do—mountain climbing, getting acquainted, etc., and after supper everybody assembled in the auditorium and the real conference was opened by Mr. Bergthold. After a short address by Mr. E. M. Poteat, we turned in for the night. At 6:15 reveille blew and breakfast was served at seven, during which there were no yells given, because the early hours were set aside for a period of quiet and reverence. At 8 a. m. devotional services were conducted by Dr. J. F. Culbreath, of St. Louis, Mo., and each day he had a fresh message that was real food for thought. 8:30 to 8:55 was one of the most important periods of the day—the quiet hour—when each man found a place alone under the trees to meditate and pray. At 9 a. m. classes were held on different subjects and at 10 a. m. there was a discussion of College Problems in the auditorium. 11 to 12 we had the privilege of hearing some well-informed man speak on a subject of vital importance to college students. Some of the men that spoke at these periods were: Dr. A. W. Taylor (brother of Dr. C. C. Taylor), who spoke on Industrial Relations; Dr. Allan K. Foster and Dr. Sherwood Eddy on Science and Religion; Dr. W. W. Alexander on the Race Question; Kirby Page on War, and Dr. S. C. Mitchell on Politics and Religion. At one of these periods Dr. George Carver (colored), the "Gopher Wizard," of Tuskegee Institute, showed and explained some of the wonderful discoveries that he has made in science.

The afternoons from 2:30 to 6:00 were given over to recreation and sports. The University won the baseball championship, University of Georgia basketball, and Georgia Tech won the swimming meet and probably some of the other contests. We entered everything and made everybody fight for the pennants. Next year we hope to win some of the banners, and we can do it for we have won some of them before. After supper there was a hillside meeting, at which time some prominent man talked on a subject that was interesting to all. 8 to 9 p. m. was given to the discussion of College Problems. At 10 p. m. taps was blown and everybody was ready to sleep.

Our delegation was small in numbers but when it came to giving a snappy Wau Gau Rac we were right there with the goods, and when we pooled forces with Georgia Tech (whose table was next to ours) we nearly raised the roof. The dining hall is a good place to eat, and furthermore, there are about fifty pretty college girls who wait on the tables. Better go up next year and try the dining hall.

Taken all in all, any one with an open mind can learn more about the important things of life at Blue Ridge, N. C., in ten days than he can under ordinary conditions in a lifetime. Everything is discussed pro and con, and when it is over you can form your own opinions. The best men in the Southern colleges are there and the best-informed men in the country are there to tell about the things that go to make up real life; and if you want to rub elbows with them and find out about THINGS, begin planning NOW to go to Blue Ridge next June and you will never regret it as long as you live. Up there you can find the good that is in men; and, furthermore, you can find God. I do not believe any man can hear Sherwood Eddy and not get a greater vision of what Christ means to humanity, for if ever I saw a man with faith in Jesus Christ he is the one. And if men like him believe in the Jesus way of life, it must be something worth investigating.

Fellows, the time for the next conference is a long time off but let's begin making plans to be there when it happens, because we cannot afford to miss it.

"POP" TAYLOR.

Leazer Literary Society Expects Prosperous Year

With the beginning of a new college year we are reminded that there are many things that we can do for the betterment of ourselves and the campus.

We have with us today the select young men of this State and other States. We are glad you are here.

OPPOSITE 1911 DORMITORY

JOHNNIE HILL, Proprietor

We welcome you to all the opportunities this society affords.

The two literary societies offer excellent opportunities for practice in declamation, debate, composition, and parliamentary law as well as opportunities for social pleasure and recreation.

Last year we had a very successful year and sent out several good speakers. We are expecting to have as good a year this time, and we want you to join us so that we will be stronger and you will be better fitted for life's work when you leave State College.

This year we will have an instructor from the English Department to work with us, and it is a rare opportunity for you to train yourself along the lines of literary work as stated above.

We will be represented in intramural and inter-collegiate speaking contests of different kinds and we want you to join with us so that we will be able to hold up Leazer Literary Society to the place it now holds among the different organizations on the campus.

The reason that we are so anxious that you join a literary society is because we realize that the college student has many ideals which he desires to see put across, and the most effective way to do this is to be able to get on your feet and put the proposition directly to the listener.

In the beginning, let us recognize the value of being a member of a literary society in our college life! And let us work together for the good of State College.

We would be glad to have you with us in this work.
