DICKENS TO PILOT BASKETBALL TEAM

"Buck" Jones Lands Manager's Job for Next Year After Keen Competition

On last Wednesday evening Coach Tebell invited the letter men of this year's basketball team down to the new tea-room for dinner, at which time the captain for next year's basketball team was elected.

After everyone's appetite was thoroughly satisfied, ballots were cast for captain. Dickens drew the majority of the votes and was declared pilot for the coming year.

At this time Coach Tebell made a short talk on the success of the past season. He complimented the team on the co-operation and good spirit they manifested during the season. He praised Captain Johnson for his leadership, saying that "Red" could play on any man's team. He expressed his belief that we would have a winning team next year, as the boys would be more familiar with the new system.

Ex-Captain "Red" followed with a short talk in which he expressed how he had enjoyed being captain the past season, and spoke of Coach Tebell's coaching ability and wonderful personality.

Captain-elect Dickens was asked for a speech and responded with encouraging prophecy that he would bring back a victorious team from Atlanta next year.

Coach Tebell then called on ex-Manager Slate for some fatherly advice, and, finding he was "sleepy," he suggested that the party disband and let Hiram Watkins fill his date.

Everyone enjoyed themselves and declared they had never ate a better meal. Thus everyone went away feeling that Coach Tebell was the best all-around fellow living.

Just a few days previous to this time the basketball squad met at the Y. M. C. A. and elected "Buck" Jones for next year's Manager. There was close competition for Manager and it required three ballots to decide whether Jones, Hughes, or Picklesimeran would land the coveted position. All of them made good assistants, and the squad is thankful to each one of them, and sorry that the team doesn't require three managers. Thanks to Picklesimeran and Hughes, and luck to Jones!

Report Of Tobacco Co-op Committee

Two State College Men, Messrs. Schaub and Taylor, on Committee

I. O. Schaub, Director of Extension Work in North Carolina, and Dr. C. C. Taylor were members of the Committee of Investigation of the Tobacco Co-ops along with men from Clemson College in South Carolina, V. P. I. in Virginia, and various other business men.

It seems that the committee found that the greatest need of the Co-ops is publicity, but that there are also many other needs, and that steps have already been taken to check the extravagance and inefficiency of the organization.

Other great needs of the Co-ops are: reduction in some of the salaries that are entirely too high; too many warehouses taken over at beginning and inadequate field service department; a campaign for the education of the members urged by the committee; too many lawsuits; too much extravagance; the lack of publicity about the re-drying plants are blamed for much of the dissatisfaction among the members.

We Don't Bet

But we would be willing to wager any amount that anybody would be willing to put up that the Texas Preacher who wanted to abolish the word DAM never walked about our campus after a good old-fashioned rain.

FLETCHER DICKENS, Captain of the 1926 Basketball Team.

TENNIS TEAM WINS ONE AND LOSES A BRACE

Defeats Guilford, But Loses at Greensboro and at Durham

TO MEET WAKE FOREST AND CAROLINA NEXT

State College's first Varsity Tennis Team opened the season at Greensboro last Saturday. The meet was with Greensboro Country Club. Greensboro was some stronger than the Collegians and won the meet 7 to 2. Monday the team met Duke University at Durham and again suffered defeat at the hands of the Methodists 9 to 0. Tuesday, at home, against Guilford, the team staged a comeback and displayed the best form of the year, winning easily by the score of 85 to 15.

In the first two meets the score was counted one point for each match, there being 6 singles and 3 doubles matches. With the Guilford team there were 2 doubles and four singles matches, the doubles counting 20 points each and the singles counting 15 points each.

The men entering the meets for State were Taylor and Chang, Campbell and Holloway, and Shelor and Harrin, in the doubles. All of these men entered the singles in the first two meets. In the Guilford meet the last combination did not enter the doubles and those entering the singles were Taylor, Chang, Shelor, and Holloway.

The next teams on State's schedule are Wake Forest and Carolina. Wake Forest comes to Raleigh Saturday, while the Tech team journeys over to Chapel Hill for the Tar Heel meet next Wednesday. Each of these teams is strong, and Coach Parker's Racquetters are not expecting easy wins. However, they are expecting to display their wares against these ancient rivals of their Alma Mater and good tennis should result.

Dr. Allyn K. Foster To Lecture At State

His Schedule Will be Announced in Next Weeks Issue of The Technician

Dr. Allyn K. Foster, who visited N. C. State College in September, 1923, is coming for a return visit May 3-5. Dr. Foster made many friends among the faculty during his former visit, and many members of the present Senior Class remember him very pleasantly.

His Career

Being asked for a statement concerning himself which might be used for publicity, Dr. Foster sent the following:

"The only recent cut of me is owned by Rev. H. S. Chapman, Baptist student pastor at Ann Arbor. I have no cuts 'on hand.' My career: Born Baltimore; when, nobody's business! Undergraduate work at Johns Hopkins. Caught on baseball team all through—credits mostly in sports. Graduated the M. Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky.; Yale, M.A. in English; Brown University, D.D.; Headmaster of Foster School for Boys, Connecticut, seven years; pastor at Worcester, Mass., First Church and Washington Avenue Church, Brooklyn, N. Y. Entered War Service Y. M. C. A. November, 1917, continuing till late 1919. Year and half overseas in France and Germany."

Distinguished Service in France

Soon after entering war work Dr. Foster was sought by the anti-aircraft chief in France for that branch of the service and became chaplain for six battalions, with two of which he saw service at the front for many months. His crowning honor in war service was his being chosen at the Great Fest hall in Coblenz.

In College Work Five Years

After his return to America he was requested to return to Germany for further work with the Army of Occupation, but could not accept on account of the urgent call to the college work he is now doing. For over five years Dr. Foster has been visiting the colleges and universities all over America in the effort to help college students to think their way through to vital Christian faith. He is talking about religion with the same approach and in the same terms as reality everywhere is being studied. He seeks to show that a sympathetic understanding of the form and findings of science immensely deepen our conception of religion.

Talks Informally

Dr. Foster's great service lies in his exceptional ability to connect college work and play with the outside world. He does this by going into regular classes, taking the place of the professor, by previous arrangement, and showing how the subject being studied is vitally related to life as a whole.

A warm welcome awaits Dr. Foster at N. C. State. His schedule will be announced in next week's Technician.

Ceramic Society Granted Charter

Organization Meeting to be Held Soon; Prof. Greaves-Walker Is Former National President

State College has been granted a charter of the American Society of Ceramic Engineers and soon a meeting will be called for the purpose of organizing the branch chapter, at which time officers of the new campus organization will be elected. This society is national in its scope. It is the largest and most prominent ceramic society in the world. Professor Greaves-Walker, head of the department of Ceramic at State, was last year president of the national organization and is now a member of the board of trustees.

Membership in the society is open to any student who is interested in ceramic engineering as well as those who are registered in that department.

Prof. Greaves-Walker Will Write Text-Book

He Was Recommended for the Work by the Mellon Institute

Professor Greaves-Walker, head of the department of Ceramic Engineering at State College has recently signed a contract with the McGraw Hill Book Company of New York, to write for them a text book on the subject, "Refractories and Metallurgical Furnaces." Professor Greaves-Walker was recommended for this work by the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, which is the largest research institute in America.

The publishers have also requested that he write a book on Ceramic Engineering.

E. E. Men Are Offered Fellowship By Rutgers

Teaching Fellowship in Electrical Engineering Pays $800 Yearly

There is available at Rutgers University a Teaching Fellowship in Electrical Engineering, paying $800 per annum for the college year extending approximately from September 15 to July 1.

The appointee will be expected to devote one-half his time to advanced study in electrical engineering, and the other half to assisting in instruction. The instruction work will be assisting in (1) the first term Junior laboratory course in Electrical Measurements; and (2) the elementary course in Dynamo Laboratory, of the second term; and (3) to give, under the direction of the department, the class-room instruction in the elementary course in Electrical Engineering, based upon Gray, "Principles and Practice of Electrical Engineering," for at least one of the sections of Civil or Mechanical Engineers.

On the satisfactory completion of two years' graduate work, the degree of Electrical Engineer will be awarded.

All applications should be accompanied by a snap-shot photograph, and should be supported by letters of recommendation addressed to the undersigned from the professors who are most familiar with the candidate's character, personality, industry, and scholastic ability; and an official transcript of his scholastic record.

All men interested should see Prof. Wm. H. Browne, Jr., at once.

Gigantic Eighth Inning Rally Swamps Dempster and Wins for Techs by 9 to 4

COME FROM BEHIND IN SENSATIONAL SLUGFEST

In the second game with Duke last Tuesday, State defeated the Methodists 9-4. Coming from behind in the eighth in a sensational slugfest in which Dempster's offerings were slammed to all corners of the lot, the Techmen scored eight tallies, with the line-up going all the way round at the plate.

"Lefty" Hill, veteran of many a Tech diamond battle, was on the mound for the locals. Hill kept the hits scattered and showed his old ability to tighten up when it was necessary. John Dempster, twirling for the Methodists was also in good shape, holding his opponents well in check until the seventh and eighth, when in the former he was hit for one score, and in the latter for eight tallies.

The game began with the Dukeites putting one marker away in the first and quickly retiring the Doakmen in their half of that inning. Then the game progressed evenly until the fourth when the visitors managed to push another man across the plate.

After the fourth the same steady playing continued until the seventh, when the Tech rooters went wild as their players found Dempster for one tally. This was swiftly quenched when Duke came to the bat and with a combination of hits and infield outs scored two runs. Coach Doak's men came back to the bench and proceeded to enjoy pasting Dempster's offerings away. Correll began with a two-bagger and with that the deluge began. If State rooters were wild the seventh, then pandemonium is too mild a word for what happened now. Dempster broke badly and the Techmen, with a series of base hits and home runs scored eight times before the visitors could put three away. In this inning Correll made what is probably a record by slamming out a double and a homer in his two trips to the bat in one frame. Shuford also punched the pill for four bases in this stanza.

Who knows? We may have a championship baseball team yet.

The lights have been a great addition to our campus. They have been needed for quite a time.

Something for the deans, faculty members, and extension workers to worry about: Governor McLean's questionnaire!

The newly elected staff of THE TECHNICIAN will have charge of the paper for the remainder of the year. We, the old staff, intend to be heard from some more, so we won't say good-bye yet.

In looking over exchanges received from the University of Kansas we find that institution is also blessed with the Point System. It seems that the elections are held there by parties, and one of the main planks in the platform of one of the parties is the "Abolition of the Point System." Our point system is working very nicely now. In fact, we believe the majority of the students here are extremely in favor of the point system.

Where are our sidewalks? We want sidewalks. We need sidewalks. Are we going to get any sidewalks? When it rains it is impossible to get out of any dormitory on the campus to the street without getting your feet muddy and in many instances your clothes. You can't blame a man from wearing old clothes around on the campus when he has to contend with so much mud. Grass has been planted on various parts of the campus and it is coming up and looks fine, but how long will it look that way when men start going over it and making any number of paths across it? They can't be blamed for it either, because there are no special paths to go on. After walking in one place for quite a while it becomes soft, and then it is time to make a new path; and don't think for one minute that they won't do it, for they will.

The future plans of the college should be well enough known by this time to allow the engineers to know where to put sidewalks. The campus will not look like anything until we have sidewalks. Our dormitory floors will not be what they should be until we have sidewalks. Our rooms will be full of dust all the time until we have sidewalks, so that we won't bring dirt into them every time we walk in.

Sidewalks are the most needed thing on our campus at the present time. Can't we have them?

The goat on the campus is getting the "goat" of many of the men. Ricks Hall was put up for the purpose of using it as an office and classroom building and not as a goat barn. Some of the professors in the south end of the building are about ready to move out and give the goat full possession. It is not so much the goat, but—well, you know how it is; a goat's a goat for all of that.

The past week holds the record for social activity. There was the Pi Kappa Alpha dance on Monday night, the German Club Easter dances on Thursday and Friday, the Junior-Senior affair at Meredith on Friday night, and the Student Government reception at Peace on Saturday night. Quite a full week for the socializing hounds of the campus.

It seems, however, that every spring the thoughts of young men are ever turned toward banquets, receptions, feeds, smokers and socials of all kinds. We imagine it is an outward sign of rejoicing that winter is gone and spring has really come.

It seems that it would be much more logical and sensible to put up a fence around Riddick Field than it is to have so much trouble at every game trying to keep people out. Always in every group of men there are some who try to get something for nothing, and for this reason there should be a fence around our athletic field in order to keep these men out. It looks as if it is "pennywise and pound foolish" to hire a number of men to guard every time there is an athletic event of some kind, and then there is that danger of some one getting hurt. Although the Athletic Department may be trying to save money, we feel as though they are going about it in a wrong way.

Since the point system is very rigidly enforced by the faculty on the students, it should likewise be equally enforced by the students on the faculty. News has come to THE TECHNICIAN office that there are some professors, one at least, who says he will not abide by the point system in grading his students. Are the students who have classes under this man going to stand for it without saying anything about it? We believe that the Faculty Council will not tolerate any violation of the point system, either from the students or the faculty. For the good of the point system and the good of yourselves, don't let any of your professors pull anything over on you that would be a violation of the point system.

MISS BROWN OF PEACE TALKS ON "FOLKWAYS"

Miss Esther Lucille Brown, professor of social psychology at Peace Institute, delivered one of the most instructive and enjoyable lectures of the present term before the class in Elementary Journalism on Friday morning, April 17th.

Miss Brown took as her subject the mores or customs of mankind, and traced many of our present customs from their beginning down to the present day.

"Anything which becomes a habit of the group or individual is a mos," said Miss Brown. "Society takes up little things learned by imitation, tradition, and inculcation and makes them permanent customs or mores. These mores, once adopted, do not change easily. Primitive man had no freedom—he was bound about completely by mores or folkways. His eating, drinking, dressing—all were bound by mores."

According to Miss Brown, it is these mores which evolve into our institutions. The first of these institutions—self-maintenance—controls capital and labor. The second—self-perpetuation—controls marriage and the family, and has come down from absolute promiscuity through polygamy and to the present, accepted monogamy. The third institution, religion, was formed by ghost-lore, worship of many gods, on into the worship of one God, and in some instances past this belief into agnosticism. The fourth institution, that of government, has been influenced or formed through the mores from the patriarchal chief down to the present monarchies and republics.

Miss Brown is a woman of magnetic personality and is extremely well versed in her chosen field of sociology. She has almost completed her work

Beautifulizing State's Campus

Now that most of the ditches have been covered up, that the long turn-up campus is being leveled, and that the trees and grounds are taking on a coat of green, we can truthfully say that our campus is beginning to look beautiful.

All through the past winter, we have longed for the day when we could cross the campus or go from one building to another without having to jump an innumerable number of ditches. Well, that day is almost here. Now that the underground work is nearing completion, the laborers putting their time on leveling off the unsmooth places and clearing away the debris that has so long been an eyesore to every State College man.

But we cannot stop by saying that the campus is being cleared off. With the arrival of spring, mother nature has been lending her aid to help beautify our campus. All the trees have taken on their annual coating of green, the grounds that have not been torn up right recently are covered with grass, and some of the buildings are covered with green vines. Everything seems to have an air of spring.

Though our campus is becoming more beautiful every day, we cannot expect to have as beautiful a campus this spring as we will have next spring. By that time all the new shrubbery will be putting out and we will have one of the most beautiful campuses ever seen at State College.

J. A. KING.

Let's Have a Blanket Fee

Men, did you notice in last week's Technician a summary of what the Y. M. C. A. accomplished during 1924-25. They were quite a powerful force on our campus, and did a good deal for us in many ways, didn't they? Did you notice the small amount of student contributions they had to finance their program with? More than one thousand five hundred dollars was pledged, but only seven hundred and ninety-one dollars of the pledges paid.

During the year 1923-24 we had the blanket fee. Everybody paid two dollars a term at registration or four dollars all together and never missed the money. Every one bore the expense and responsibility of maintaining the Y. M. C. A., which I believe everybody will admit is a vital and necessary factor on our campus.

This year the Y. M. C. A. was supported by student subscriptions. As a canvasser last fall in asking the men for subscriptions or pledges, they would say, "I thought I paid when I registered," or "Why didn't they take it out when I registered, I had money then but I haven't now," or "I am broke now and I don't like to sign a pledge, but I will give you something later."

Men, most of us believe we couldn't do without the Y. M. C. A. on our campus. Is it fair for one man to pay five dollars to support the Y while another man who uses the Y fully as much as the other man, to pay nothing? The foreign students contributed to its support while some of us American students paid nothing. By a recent ruling every one registered at the college has the right to vote for the Y officers; so why not everybody help support it.

Let's have the blanket fee where we pay one dollar a term at registration, and everybody helps to support the Y. M. C. A. When the Y knows how much money it is going to have to run on, it will be able to put on a far larger program than it did this year and will be better fitted to help our moral and spiritual development while at college. Again, I say let's have the blanket fee. What do you say?

Miss Brown is a rare type of womanhood in that she has the unusual ability to put aside the natural womanly emotional perspective and look at subjects from a purely objective standpoint, and to seek for facts regardless of personal likes or dislikes.

Her address made a profound impression upon the large class that heard her.

D'jever sit on the stands down on the field and see some other team get a lead on ours so far that it looked as though there was no chance for us and then ole Cholly Shuford and Bobbie Correll both lean against the ball and slam it so far that we loose sight of it, and everybody runs around the bases. Ain't that grand and glorious feeling?

"The New Architecture"

A DISTINCTLY new tendency is apparent in architectural thought and design today. Architects are designing in masses—the great silhouette, the profile of the building has become of far greater importance than its detail.

There is a new vigor and ruggedness even in buildings which are conventionally classic in their detail. Masses mount upward, supporting the tower, accentuating its height. The new architecture is tending toward great structures rather than multiplicity of detail.

Certainly modern invention—modern engineering skill and organization, will prove more than equal to the demands of the architecture of the future.

Captain Byrum Makes Wonderful Showing by Taking Three Firsts; Score 74-52

Last Saturday the Tech track team was beaten in a dual meet with Washington and Lee, held at Lexington. The score was 74-52. The victory was not such a decisive one as might be imagined from the score, for until the last three events the scores were not over three points difference.

Two local records were broken in the meet. The first was smashed when Norman, of the Generals, vaulted 11 ft. 10 in. to take first in the pole vault. The second was cracked when Lewis, of the same team, hurled the spear 171 ft. for a track record. The latter, however, was second to Ripple, of State, whose throw of 175 feet took first in that event.

The other feature of the meet was the work of Captain Byrum of the Tech team, who grabbed firsts in three events, running to victory the century, the two-twenty, and the quarter.

Summary:
100-yard dash—Won by Byrum (State); second, Milbank (W. & L.); third, Hill (W. & L.). Time: 53 2-5 10 2-5 seconds.
220-yard dash—Won by Byrum (State); second, Summerson (W. & L.); third, Milbank (W. & L.). Time: 22 4-5 seconds.

Howszatt?

Who was it last year who sent didn't have no spirit at all? Was he word out here that State College right? Yes, and no. If he was going to one of the girls schools he would think that there was plenty of spirit, but being down town where the parade never passes he was right. Next time we beat the stuffings out of some body lets parade through the business side of town, show them who we are and after then go to the girls schools. It would do the old City of Raleigh good for us, to come through with Daddy Prices band heading the parade. It would let them know where we are, whereas now 88 per cent of the people in Raleigh cannot tell you where State College is.

FRESHMEN LOSE TO WAKE FOREST 5 TO 3

Wake Forest's Freshman team defeated the Tech youngsters here last Saturday afternoon in a tight game, 5 to 3. This is the first of a two-game series between the two teams, and the next one, to be played some time later in the season, is looked forward to with much interest. Errors on State's part and good fielding on the Baptists' part proved the margin of the game. Wake Forest made one lone error while State chalked up eight.

The game was a pitcher's battle all the way through. Three pitchers, Biggers, State, and James and Joyner, Wake Forest, allowed but nine hits during the whole game. The Baptists got five of these, State's four coming during the reign of James on the Wake Forest mound; Joyner kept his slate clean.

State lost on errors, two wild throws by Biggers, one home and one to second, let in the winning runs.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Wake Forest .....010 000 121—5 5 1
State .....003 000 000—3 4 8

Batteries: James, Joyner and Phelps; Biggers and Brantley.

Spectacular Boxing Displayed In Gym

Kellum Scored Technical Knock-out Over Robinson; Spray and Fountain Won

At the close of a rather mediocre set of preliminary bouts, Coach Parker put on a real boxing display in the championship bouts in the Frank Thompson Gym Monday night. Kellum, Spray and Fountain, in winning the campus championships in their respective weights, showed real ability as boxers and proved to the campus that it will be worth while to have a boxing team here next year.

Kellum furnished the real thrill of the whole intramural boxing tournament when he knocked Robinson down in the first exchange of blows. Robinson rose at the count of nine and waded back in, only to be floored again. After taking the count of nine three times and being floored again, he was attempting to get on his feet again, though it was easily seen he was groggy. The first round being yet young, the referee stopped the bout, giving Ketchum the victory, and the campus championship of the 145-pound class, on a technical knockout.

Fountain defeated Stanford by a decision for the 175-pound class championship, and Spray gained a decision over Hales in the 135-pound class for that championship. This ended the intramural tournament, the first of its kind to be held on the campus. Despite the fact that there were no entries in any weight other than these three, Mr. Parker expressed pleasure in the success of the venture. There was a goodly number of spectators present for the championship bouts, and right much interest has been shown throughout.

"The Best Medicine Is SUNSHINE."

DEAR FOLKS:

Remember when we were kids back in the old home—and Springtime came around? It was all mighty fine—with one exception. That was the sulphur and molasses Spring tonic.

It's different today, for doctors now recognize the fact that sunshine, fresh air, and OUTDOOR exercise form the greatest Spring tonic possible to take. Here's the modern prescription. Take a street car to Bloomsbury. Get off and walk for about two hours. Repeat at every opportunity.

You'll feel like a new person, believe me.

I thank you.

Yours for health,

TECH'S BASEBALL TEAM PRACTICES BASE RUNNING

Elon Furnishes Men to Toss 'Em Over the Plate and Chase Fly-balls

THE FINAL SCORE WAS N. C. STATE 17, ELON 0

Last Thursday afternoon State's 1924 champion baseball team drubbed Elon 17 to 0 on Riddick Field. The Christians showed none of the stuff they must have used against Wake Forest and the Doakmen enjoyed a little batting practice and base-running. Before the game was over nearly every man on the Tech bench had a hand in the piling up of 22 hits and 17 runs, and the only men who stayed through the whole game were Catcher "Red" Johnson and Third Baseman "Dutch" Holland; both were playing in the outer garden.

The 22 hits included Lassiter's homer, Correll's three-bagger, three doubles, and 17 singles. Fowler, the Christian who gave the Baptists so much trouble, was knocked out of the box in the sixth with 13 hits marked up for the Techmen. McIver and Wade allowed the Christians only two hits, one apiece, both credited to Gilliam, Elon first-sacker. Six Elon errors added to the State score, while State played bang-up ball with only one miscue marked up.

Elon's only threat was made in the first. McIver walked Slaughter, Elon lead-off man; he was sacrificed to second, took third on a passed ball, with one down. But McIver fanned Crutchfield and Gilliam was thrown out at first. In State's half of the first Shuford was on third with two out when the slaughter began. Six successive hits, including Lassiter's homer under the bleacher steps, counted six times.

Neither side scored or threatened in the next two innings, but after that State scored in each. In the fifth six blows, topped by Correll's three-bagger, counted four times. Every State College man who faced the pitcher in this inning was safe on first; all three outs were the result of careless and reckless base-running. Four were scored in the seventh on two hits, walks, hit batter, and errors.

SPORT COMMENT

We are endeavoring in this column to give the gist of Campus opinion about sports. Because of man's inherent narrowmindedness and conceit it is most probably our own personal opinion that we're actually giving. We hope not.
THE SPORT EDITOR.

THE "TYPICAL TECH RALLY" that happened down there on Riddick Field last Tuesday kinda reminded us of an eleventh-hour rally that happened down there about this time last year.

"BOBBY" CORRELL HOLDS the distinction of having started that rally and then finishing it. He made a double and a homer all in the same inning. Not bad at all, "Bobby." It seems that "Bobby" has Mr. Dempster's number.

STATE'S RALLY AGAINST ELON that started in the first lasted eight innings. It was a bit funny to see "Dutch" playing in the outfield, wasn't it?

AND THOUGH WE HATE to contradict anybody's word, it's our humble opinion that State College is not "virtually out of the championship race." In fact, we rather think we are virtually in the championship race.

NOW, AS THE TEAM GOES NORTH Monday we'll get a chance to see what we can do with the Conference teams.

WHICH REMINDS US that "Red" and "Dutch" are not going along. Read what Dr. Taylor has to say about them so you can tell anybody who asks what State College's policy is.

OUR ATHLETIC SCHEDULE seems to be quite full these days, and varied too. Take a look at it.

OUR OLD TRACK TEAM didn't do so bad up at Lexington the other day, either. If we had only had 'em down here! But, as the News and Observer said 'other morning, "That's a different colored cow."

AFTER THE PUNCHING exhibition the other night in the gym, we are convinced that State College should put a boxing team in the "sumo ring" next year. What about it, you boxers? Let's turn idle rumor into established fact. You know how we got a good wrestling team, don't you? And a good tennis team?

BY THE WAY, THE old Tennis Team seems to have got started now. Watch the schedule, boys, and go over on "Ag Hill" and give 'em a yell when they play.

WELL, WELL, DUKE'S got another fifty—we mean, good coach. We wonder how long they'll manage to keep him.

WE COMMEND MR. James B. Duke on his great sports stadium idea. We wish his memory had slipped him and he'd ordered two of 'em, one for State College. But such is not for us poor lil' orphan Anns, we guess.

WE ARE GLAD TO NOTE that "Shorty" Lawrence has taken another step up the ladder of success. State College is proud of you, "Shorty." Rockingham mourns her loss and Blue Ridge rejoices in her gain.

NOW THAT RUMOR GIVES way before actual fact, we rejoice in the fact that Gus Tebell is to coach our Wolfpack next fall. We extend a hearty welcome to Dr. Sermon also. With this combination of mentors we predict the sky as the limit next fall.

STATE COLLEGE TENNIS TEAM BEATS GUILFORD

State College defeated Guilford College here yesterday in a tennis match by a score of 85 to 15. This is the first ever held at the Tech institution under the direction of the Department of Athletics. One other match was held recently when Duke, in their own territory, defeated the State team.

Fifteen points were allowed for each single match and twenty for each doubles match. State won three out of four singles matches and both of the doubles.

In the first match, Taylor of State defeated Brown, of Guilford, 6-4, 6-3. Guilford took the second when Joice won for Shelor 6-2, 6-3. Chang of State defeated Parker of Guilford, 5-7, 8-6, 6-3, for the third match. State took the last singles match when Halway won from Barney, 11-9, 6-0. In doubles, Taylor and Chang, of State, defeated Brown and Joice, of Guilford, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1. Campbell and Hal-

Why Johnson and Holland Are Playing

Dr. Taylor Makes Statement as to Policy of Institution in Regard to These Players

Because many friends and alumni of State College were wondering and inquiring why Holland and Johnson, State College athletes who were declared ineligible by the Southern Conference of which State College is a member, are playing, Dr. Taylor deemed it wise to declare publicly the policy of the institution in regard to this. Therefore, Dr. Carl C. Taylor, chairman of the State College Athletic Committee, issued the following statement as to why they are playing in non-Conference games. They are not and will not play in Conference games.

"Johnson and Holland were declared ineligible by the executive committee of the Southern Conference for having played in a league in South Carolina which the executive committee classified as a professional league. State College has accepted this ruling without any question and will not play these men in any Conference games or against any teams that will agree to play under Conference rules. We have a number of games on our schedule with institutions — Duke, Wake Forest, Guilford, Elon, Lenoir-Rhyne, and Hampden-Sidney—who do not play under Conference rules. Some of these institutions are not listed to play under Conference rules and others have stated that they would not play under anything but the State Conference rules. Under such circumstances we have but two alternatives to follow (1) to cancel the games, or (2) to play under the State Conference rules. I am sure that the general public would not sanction the cancellation of the games, and we have, therefore, played, and planned to play, these institutions under the State Conference rules. Under the State Conference rules both Johnson and Holland are eligible."

loway took the final match for State from Barney and Parker, 6-3, 7-5.

Annual Drill Trophy Awarded At College

Company "C," First Battalion, Commanded by Melton, Wins Cup

Company C First Battalion, commanded by Cadet Captain R. L. Melton, of Cherryville, Monday won the silver loving cup awarded annually to the best drilled company in the R. O. T. C. regiment at State College. The cup will be presented with appropriate ceremonies on May 25th.

The contest Monday, which was in the nature of a final competitive drill between the picked units of the regiment companies A, C, and F, was unusually close, according to the officers who acted as judges, and created much enthusiasm.

Cadet Lieutenant R. F. Berry, of Newport News, Va., commanded the first platoon of the winning company, and Cadet Lieutenant R. E. Black, of Piney Creek, was in charge of the second platoon.

General orders published Tuesday by the Professor of Military Science and Tactics commended the excellence of the winning company.

Faculty Challenge Military Department To Ball Game

Date of Encounter to be Announced Later

The Faculty has issued a challenge to the Military Department to meet them on Riddick Field in a game of baseball. The game will be played under the rules of the Southern Intercollegiate Humaine Society, and consequently no professionals will be allowed to take part. The admission to the encounter will be free, and all are assured that the game will be well worth the price of entrance. The date has not been set, but will be announced later.

Come one, come all!

Trustees Make Tebell Head Football Coach

Dr. Sermon to be Assistant in Football and Trainer of All Tech Athletic Squads

Recent favorable action, by the executive committee of the Board of Trustees, upon the recommendations of the Faculty Athletic Committee of ficially promotes assistant coach G. K. Tebell to head coach in football, and bringing Dr. R. R. Sermon to State College as assistant in football and trainer for all Tech athletic squads, J. F. Miller, directors of athletics, announced Saturday.

Coach Tebell will continue to handle the varsity basketball team and he will also carry his share of the instruction in the general program of physical training for all students. Dr. Sermon, in addition to his duties as assistant football coach and trainer, will have other coaching duties, according to Director Miller, and will assist with the work of the department of Physical Education.

Tebell's Preparation

A thorough knowledge of the grid game, the ability to pass on to the squad his theories, plus that rare but essential characteristics of a good coach, namely, the ability to handle men, were the qualifications it is said, that caused the committee to turn at once to Tebell when Coach Shaw resigned to return, next fall to the University of Nevada, as head coach.

Under the direction of Tebell the Tech basketball team turned in by far the best record of recent years, and threw a mighty scare into other conference contenders by decisively beating the University of Maryland, in the Southern Conference tournament at Atlanta, after Maryland had swept back the Crimson Tide of Alabama.

The new Wolfpack mentor played football, basketball and baseball at Wisconsin. He was picked as an All-Western Conference end in football and also made the Mythical Conference team as a guard in basketball. He played third base on the baseball team. Tebell received his basketball training under Dr. W. E. Meanwell, one of the greatest basketball coaches in the country.

Sermon's Record

After spending four years in all branches of athletics in the high school of his home town, Independence, Missouri, "Ug" Sermon entered the Missouri State Teachers' College. While there, under the direction of Dr. Forrest C. Allen, now Director of Athletics at the University of Kansas, he was the outstanding figure in athletics and his work was largely responsible for the three successive championships in football, baseball, and basketball won by his school.

For a year after graduating at the Teachers' College, Dr. Sermon coached at Wentworth Military Academy and played professional baseball in the Western League. He then entered Springfield College.

Three-Sport Man

While at Springfield Dr. Sermon played football, baseball and basketball. During his second year he was captain of the football team that defeated Colgate University which in turn licked Brown and Yale. Walter Camp made a special trip to Springfield to give Sermon honorable mention for his brilliant work in the backfield.

Upon the completion of his course in physical education at Springfield, Dr. Sermon coached for the next three years at Central College and at the Rolla School of Mines. Not yet satisfied with the preparation for his life work, he entered the Kirksville (Missouri) School of Osteopathy, where he coached and played with all teams. He received his degree last year, and since then he has acted as coach.

Intramural Baseball To Start Next Week

Inter-Company and Inter-Dormitory Teams Grooming for League Openers

Inter-Dormitory Baseball League opens next week and Inter-Company League will begin the following week. Teams representing the dormitories have been practicing all the week. The company athletes have been busy this week with track activities, but will begin practice next week. Their league will open the following week.

The P. E. Department will furnish balls, bats, and catcher's outfit. The games will be played on Riddick Field when the field can be obtained. Both the Freshman Field and Red Field will be used at other times. Mr. Parker is working on schedules now, and they will be furnished the team managers when finished. The games will be played after supper and on Saturdays.

Professor L. E. Hinkle

Lawrence Earle Hinkle was born in Webster County, Missouri. He attended the local schools and the Junior College of Marsville from which he was graduated in 1909. He then entered the University of Colorado and in 1911 received the A. B. degree. He did graduate work at the University of Chicago, Harvard, Princeton and Columbia University. He received the M. A. degree in 1918 from the latter institution. Besides this he traveled and studied Spanish in Mexico and Central America.

His first teaching was done at Marsville College. From there he went to the Northwestern State Normal school, where for two years he was Professor of Foreign Languages. In 1915 Professor Hinkle came to State College as Professor of Modern Languages. Since 1918 he has been chairman of the Schedule Committee, and in this capacity he has shown an unusual ability to unravel the twisted skein of schedules.

Professor Hinkle is the author of a number of papers dealing with modern languages. Among these are: Languages in Technical Education; Review Course in Spanish; Modern Languages and Literature in Relation to Citizenship; Some Things We Owe to Spain. The last named paper has been the subject of much favorable comment throughout the country. It is now being distributed to the schools and colleges of the country by Columbia University.

He is a member of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish; The Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education; North Carolina Literary and Historical Society, and the Modern Language Association of North Carolina. He is a member of the Episcopal Church and teaches the State College Bible Class at Christ Church.

ALL-YEAR RECIPES

By Mizer.

Take 1 rough, hard-boiled, State College Senior.

1 quart Raleigh's best caustic beverage.

1 high speed motor car in perfect running condition.

Place the Senior in a bunch of wild flappers, pour corn in slowly until only about two or three swallows are left, add a few taunts from the flappers about what a slow boat he has, flavor with a bet on how quick he can go to Durham and back. After due search, remove remains from tangled wreckage at Highway Commission Grade Crossing, placed in silk-lined case and garnish with appropriate flowers and lay to rest under the following granite sign board: "Here lies the body of William Glass. He wouldn't hesitate to let the train pass."

“THE SHOOTING OF DAN MCGREW”

Telling the whole story connected with what is perhaps the best-known poem in America, the Sawyer-Lubin production of “The Shooting of Dan McGrew,” a Metro picture, will play at Y. M. C. A. show soon. As the result of a popular vote, Barbara La Marr, Lew Cody and Percy Marmont were chosen to play the famous roles of The Lady Known as Lou, Dangerous Dan McGrew, and The Stranger. These players are supplemented by a cast that includes Mae Busch, George Stegmann, Max Ascher, Philippe de Lacy, and many others.

Robert W. Service's story of the Yukon has been brought to the screen with life-like vividness by Winifred Dunn, who wrote the film version, and Director Clarence Badger, who has to his credit such productions as “Quincy Adams Sawyer” and “Potash and Perlmutter.”

Not only has the splendid climax been faithfully reproduced, but the events leading up to it have been worked out in full. Service wrote his poem from an actual incident of the gold rush in the Yukon, and the Metro picturization has gone a step further and told the whole story of this tragic encounter between two men.

The early married life of Lou and Jim is shown—their happiness and contentment while appearing as dancer and musician in South Sea Island ports, and the first rumblings of disaster at the introduction of Dan McGrew. Later the story shifts to New York, and finally to the Yukon.

According to advance reports, “The Shooting of Dan McGrew” is crammed with fiery action and variety of scene, and is sure to arouse unusual interest because it reveals the heretofore unknown details at which Mr. Service hinted in his poem.

The picture was personally supervised by Arthur H. Sawyer.

“SCARAMOUCHE” AT THE Y.M.C.A. PICTURE SHOW

“Scaramouche,” Rex Ingram's long-awaited Metro production from the famous Sabatini novel, opened a week's engagement at the “Y” show yesterday, and held audiences spellbound, through the wizardry of Ingram and the extraordinary talent of Ramon Novarro, Alice Terry and Lewis Stone. The enraptured attention of the audience, the spontaneous outbursts of applause, the nervous thrills that seemed to pass over the spectators like an electric spark, backed up this reviewer's opinion that “Scaramouche” will be one of the greatest photoplays of all time. Its total effects is gargantuan. One is overwhelmed by the magnificent panorama of the French revolution, as Ingram has visioned it, that catches up the leading characters like puny obstacles and sweeps them onward through harrowing experiences, through episodes of singular intensity, through dramatic scenes that strike to the core of emotional excitement.

But each scene stands out like a cameo, clear-cut, beautiful. That is the touch of Ingram, the artist. In portraying the French revolution better, more intelligently than it has been done by anyone before, he has however, sacrificed none of the heart-havoc and soul-stirring emotional appeal. The Danton of George Stegmann is an inspiring portrayal, and the vast motley of types that fill the terror scenes of the revolution make you shudder at its stark, brutal reality. You want to wring your hands in fright when the heroine is trapped by the mob, you want to jump out of your seat and yell for joy when she is rescued by the hero. “Scaramouche” is so human in its characterizations, so exciting in its movement, that it carries you with it, swaying your feelings with every new mood. And there are the mobs and the marvelous massive settings, and the picturesque beauty of French villages. Such settings as they are! The French Assembly, where smoulders the fire that will fan into a fierce flame of war to the death between aristocrats and the people, the Tuilleries Palace, the vast public squares where patriots' eloquence inflames the populace, the walls of Paris, score upon score of other impressive settings.

Rafael Sabatini's novel is too well known to require more than the briefest resume. Andre-Louis Moreau, played spiritedly by handsome, dashing Novarro, renounces nobility and devotes his life to the cause of the people, after his boyhood sweetheart, Aline, beautifully played by Alice Terry, accepts the attentions of the Marquis de la Tour d'Azyr, who killed Moreau's friend. Lewis Stone gives the finest performance of his career as the Marquis. Andre-Louis wins popularity with a traveling troupe of actors as Scaramouche, the clown. Engaged to Climene, the leading lady, he breaks with her when he learns La Tour is here lover. He denounces nobility and the Marquis from the stage one day, when La Tour occupies a box. Obligated to flee from persecution, Andre Louis becomes a fencing master in Paris, and as his rapier speaks as eloquently as his tongue the patriot Danton makes him a deputy of the Assembly. The new deputy gives the aristocrats their own “medicine,” and kills them off in duels, until he crosses swords with the expert La Tour. He wounds La Tour, but another misunderstanding again estranges him from Aline.

Then the storm of the revolution breaks, and when Aline falls a prey to the mob-lust of the maddened rabble. Andre-Louis saves her, in one of the most gripping scenes in any motion picture.

Willis Goldbeck is credited with the adaptation and John F. Seitz with the excellent photography, while Curt Rehfeld was production manager and Grant Whytock editor, and the costumes designed by O'Kane Cornwell and Evamay Roth, were executed by Van Horn. Whatever you do, don't miss “Scaramouche.” It's the picture treat of the year.

S. O. S.

The new officers of the Y. M. C. A. and the Finance Committee will begin this week collecting outstanding student pledges. It is due each subscriber that he know for just what purposes his money will be spent. For the information of each donor the following statement is made.

Alumni Notes

Observations & Communications of Zippy Mack

That Duke game was plenty exciting, wasn't it? Rather an enjoyable type of excitement, we should say. We cannot but believe that the enthusiasm which Ed. Ruffy pumped into the students, and Daddy Price pumped into his band, was about as responsible as any weakening of Dempster, or any strengthening of our batsmen. But there is no time for an argument as to who won the war. Suffice it to say that it was won.

Mr. J. B. “Shorty” Lawrence, '21, who has made enviable name for himself as Director of Athletics at Rockingham High School, has resigned that position to take up his work as coach for the Blue Ridge School for Boys. Shorty will take training this summer, and report for his new duties September 1.

In his editorial correspondence the other day, Josephus Daniels made mention of several old State men whom he had found on the faculty of Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College, which he visited in the course of his travels. Among them were: J. M. Beal, '11, Professor of Botany; H. Montague, '07, Chemist; G. R. Sype, '21, Poultry Extension, and L. A. Higgins, '10, Dairy Extension. Mr. Daniels says that all these men are making a name for themselves in the Mississippi institution. He also spoke of having seen alumni in Pittsburgh and Memphis.

Messrs. T. O. Evans, Jr., of Maxton, and J. M. McGougan, of Lumber Bridge, both of the class of '24, were on the campus last week-end, visiting friends.

Mr. J. W. Johnson of the '23 textiles, was here Tuesday to witness the downfall of Duke University.

Mr. Julian Byrd Stepp and Miss Doris Eaton were married in Pittsburgh, Pa., April 9, 1925. Mr. Stepp is a member of the electrical class of '23, and following his graduation was employed by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, but later taught school in Pittsburgh.

Away back when we were Sophomores together, we used to be room-mates. Cruel Fate!

Scabbard and Blade Receives Four New Honorary Members

Twenty-one Juniors Admitted as Active Members of the So- ciety Monday Night

At the meeting of the State College chapter of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military society, held Tuesday night in the college Y. M. C. A., General Albert Cox, Colonel A. A. Parker, Major George C. Cox and Lieutenant H. M. Ray, all of Raleigh, were given honorary membership in the organization.

The college chapter of this national organization is known as G Company, Third Regiment. Its membership numbers twenty-nine active members and eleven honorary members. All of the army officers stationed at the college are honorary members. The officers of the organization are: B. L. Cotten, Captain; R. L. Melton, First Lieutenant; T. C. Albright, Second Lieutenant; G. M. Ripple, First Sergeant. Twenty-one of the active members are juniors at the college, and were admitted to the society on Monday night.

Due to the disturbance at Carthage, Colonel Metts, Colonel Don Scott and Major Gordon Smith, who has also received bids to the organization as honorary members, were unable to attend.

Colonels Parker and Harrelson were the principle speakers of the evening but short talks were made by most of those present at the informal banquet.

PULLEN SOCIETY WINS SOPHOMORE DEBATE

The Sophomore debate between Pullen and Leazar Literary Societies which was held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium Friday night, April 17, proved to be one of the best of the year.

Pullen came through triumphant, being represented by Mr. J. E. Tiddy and Mr. J. D. Conrad who showed their worth by the results of their efforts. The debate, however, was so closely contested that the audience was very much in doubt as to the winners until the decision of the judges was announced.

The question for debate was: Resolved, That the United States should Enter the League of Nations."

The affirmative was supported by Mr. W. E. Wilson and Mr. D. R. Pace and opposing them and upholding the negative were: Mr. J. E. Tiddy and J. D. Conrad. Mr. L. A. Whitford, president of Pullen Literary Society acted as chairman and Professors Clark, Anderson and Ladu were the judges.

Mr. Tiddy was voted best speaker, an honor not to be despised in such a close contest and having such a strong team to take it from.

All of the boys were well prepared and handled the speeches in a very efficient and praiseworthy manner.

PERSONAL and SOCIAL NEWS

(All social and personal news turned in The Technician office will be appreciated by the editor.)

Pridgen, Byrum, Bremmer and several other members of the track team were Greensboro visitors Sunday after their trip to Washington and Lee.

L. L. Hedgepeth who graduated the fall term of this year, visited fraternity brothers and friends on the campus Sunday.

—Gordon Heith of this year's Freshmen class failing to return to school after Christmas, visited friends on the campus Tuesday.

—H. Seawell and J. P. Nowell will spend the week-end in Tarboro and Bethel.

—Many State College men enjoyed the Junior-Senior banquet given by Meredith College and Peace Institute the past week.

—"Bob" Ormond and "Shorty" Mills spent the week-end in Greensboro.

—Albert Graham spent the week-end in Burlington.

—O. P. Shaw spent the week-end with friends at Gum Branch.

German Club Dances

—On account of various conflicts in the dates set for mid-winter dances they were postponed until April 16-17. These Easter dances were given by the State College German Club and were held in the Frank Thompson gymnasium. The decorations were beautifully arranged which gave a pleasing and colorful effect to the room. The first dance of the series was on Thursday night which passed off very nicely. The next was Friday afternoon from four until six and the last one Friday night which was partly a struggle for existence going from the gym to cars on account of the mud. The dances were led by the German Club officers, J. Heath Chatly and "A" Johnson. There were several special no-break dances during the "big" three for such orders as Saints, White Spades, etc. A good selection of dance music was furnished by Vic Myer's Orchestra.

C. E. SOCIETY HOLDS BUSINESS MEETING

The Civil Engineering Society held its regular meeting in the "Y" Tuesday evening.

Due to the hoarseness and excitement caused by the victory over Duke University and also due to the fact that a serenade was to be held at 7:30, it was decided to hold a short business meeting, and then adjourn, in order to take part in the serenade.

It was announced that May 1st had been definitely set as the day of the engineering exposition. It had been found impossible to hold the exposition on April 24th, as previously announced.

The question of a spring term initiation was brought up. There are a few Juniors and a number of Sophomores who are eligible for membership, that have not joined yet. These men will be given an opportunity to join the Society, in the near future. The date of this initiation will be set at the next meeting.

It was announced that Professor Harry Tucker of the Highway Engineering Department would speak to the society at the next meeting.

MR. T. S. JOHNSON SPEAKS AT THE "Y"

Mr. T. S. Johnson, a civil engineer, of Raleigh, gave a very interesting talk for college men at a meeting that was held in the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 1:30. Mr. Johnson said at the beginning of his talk that he is always ready and glad to do what he can to help deepen the spiritual conception of college men. In the message that he delivered his belief in the free outpouring of impulses that make men better was clearly emphasized. That men should obey good impulses only, and not all impulses is Mr. Johnson's conviction. He stated that because of the fact that people often fail to follow their good impulses, they often fail to give themselves up to business that is based on Christian ideals. In connection with this he stated that a Christian life should be a life of joy. Truth makes one free was another important point that he emphasized. Mr. Johnson also gave the new Y. M. C. A. officers hope and courage when he said that any body of men on this campus that would give themselves unreservedly to the task of making these Y. M. C. A. meetings more worth while could make them among the greatest meetings that are held on this campus. Besides the fine talk by Mr. Johnson, the program included special music by the college quartet. All of the students present participated in the singing of several songs.

INTEREST INCREASING IN BLUE RIDGE CONFERENCE

Interest in the Blue Ridge Conference is on the increase. The following men have decided to go so far: J. M. Currie, W. D. Russell, H. E. Springer and H. K. Platt. A number of others are considering it.

Dr. Denny, president of the University of Alabama, expressed his estimation of the value of Blue Ridge in the following words:

"I consider the privilege of attending a Blue Ridge Conference one of the greatest opportunities of a college career. Every student should strive to attend one during his college course. There are hundreds of others who hold an equally high opinion of the value of this conference. If you are interested in going, talk to Currie about it. If you want to go and don't have the money tell him about it. Perhaps he can help you get it."

MEREDITH NEWS

By LEONE WARRICK

The lecture by Mrs Gilbert at the joint meeting of the English Clubs brought out a number of ideas which are not familiar to the majority of people. As a rule literature and politics are considered as far apart as the poles, the poet being held as a lily-fingered, sad-eyed long-haired dreamer, while the politician is thought of as a red-necked, raucous voiced, aggressive sort of man. Mrs. Gilbert proved that poetry has a good deal to do with not only politics, but with every phase of human life. It is unfortunate that so many members of the clubs missed this excellent lecture.

The graduating recital given by Burvelle MacFarland Friday, April 17, at five o'clock, was of a quality that lifted it far above the usual level of student recitals. She sang with the greatest ease and clearness, interpreting the various numbers with a skill which showed great natural love for music as well as an unusually broad knowledge of it.

The Junior-Senior banquet went off in a manner that left nothing to be desired. The food was excellent, the music was wonderful—(Whether the music or embarrassment caused; so many feet to become restless must remain a matter of conjecture) and the company! There each must answer for himself, or herself, as the case may be. But not many long faces were seen at the banquet. The result of the evening was such that twenty-six is now living for next year when the incoming Junior class will, if tradition means anything, entertain them with a like affair.

Again we urge those State College men who are not Agriculture students to take advantage of Saturday night to see a good play and to spend a very pleasant evening. "Honor Bright," the Phil play, promises to be most entertaining.

On account of the illness of Miss Esther G. Lynn, instructor in the ancient languages department, Miss Ruth Livermon is now a member of the faculty. Miss Livermon is an alumna of Meredith.

Still in Service after 250 Years

A HUNDRED years before Napoleon was born, before his wars scourged Europe, before the French Revolution raged, this Cast Iron Pipe was laid, in the reign of Louis XIV, to supply water to the fountains of Versailles.

A report from the Director of the Water Service says: "From their actual state of preservation, which is excellent, excepting the assembly iron bolts, these conduits seem to be able to furnish service for a very considerable time longer."

The high resistance of this Cast Iron Pipe to corrosion may be judged from the clearness of the fine "parting line" produced by the old horizontal method of casting.
