WOLFPACK DEVOURS GOBBLERS

Tar Heel Teams Did Their Stuff Saturday

Carolina, Davidson, and State Turn Back Invasion From North and South

GUILFORD AND LENOIR LOSE THEIR CONTESTS

While Trinity and Wake Forest rested on their arms and waited for Tuesday, Carolina, Davidson and State bore the brunt of the defense of North Carolina's football honor last Saturday. And valiantly did they defend the glory of the Old North State.

Down at Charlotte the Davidson Wildcats turned back the horde of the Clemson Tigers who came up from the southland to devastate our fair countryside while they knew North Carolina was torn by internal strife. The Tigers returned to their South Carolina fastnesses with a 7-0 defeat ringing in their ears. Hendrix in the backfield and Baker in the line were the best in the almost perfect Davidson machine.

At the same hour the combined forces of V. P. I. and V. M. I. descended from the northern country intent upon massacre and spoils. Valiantly the Wolfpack and the Tar Heels rose to the occasion and sent the bedraggled Gobblers and Cadets cowering back to their wilderness homes.

Over at Chapel Hill the contest was unusually hard fought, the final score being 3-0. The nimble toe of Hackney accounted for the total score of the game, and Merritt with his long-distance punting was largely responsible for Carolina's brilliant defense.

The character of the games is expressed largely in the scores, which at the same time show that the three teams that came into the Old North State were indeed good ones. North Carolina teams truly smeared the dope Saturday. All three were expected to lose.

Lenoir and Guilford went up into Virginia on a little invasion of their own Saturday, but returned smarting under defeat. Emory and Henry beat Lenoir 10-6, while Hampden-Sydney defeated Guilford 6-0.

Wake Forest Downs Trinity Armistice Day

Deacons Take Advantage of the Breaks and Win in Listless Game—32-0

In a slow game, marred by penalties and frequent bad breaks for the Methodists, the Wake Forest Demon Deacons defeated the Trinity Blue Devils Tuesday at Durham, 32-0. A crowd of about seven thousand came away disappointed.

The speedy work of Rackley, of Wake Forest, and his running mate, Greason, together with Riley's perfection in receiving Rackley's passes, were the only redeeming features of the game. Trinity's stubborn defense in the first quarter and strong offense in the second quarter added interest.

Wake Forest did nothing exceptional from scrimmage but rather seemed to await the breaks, which, on account of poor generalship on the part of the Devils, were quite frequent. All of the Deacons' scoring resulted from intercepted passes, blocked punts, and such like.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Annual Declaimers' Contest between the two literary societies will be held Friday evening, November 14th, at 6:45 o'clock in the "Y" auditorium.

State Meets Maryland Next At Baltimore, Md.

Team Left Last Night; Game Will be Put on Gridgraph at Pullen Hall at 4 P. M.

Maryland, at Baltimore, is a hard team to beat. At least, the Wolfpack has found it so. In '21 the score was 6-6. That was the year Runt Faucette was here. In '22 the score was 7-6 for Maryland.

Last year the Marylanders came down to Raleigh and Riddick Field. The first half was a walkover for Maryland, the score at the rest period being 22-0 for them. But State came back strong and scored two touchdowns while Maryland made one more. Al Johnston did his stuff. The final score was 28-12.

This year the game is to be played at College Park again. But the Tech-men are expected to bring home the bacon this time. After the Wolfpack's performance against V. P. I. last Saturday, and considering Maryland's record for this year, Tech supporters are expecting another win.

The game will be played on the gridgraph in Pullen Hall, beginning at 4:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Freshmen play Wake Forest Freshmen on Riddick Field for the only home game Saturday. Between the halves the Cross Country Team goes against Wake Forest here.

Teachers' Meeting Is Held On Campus

State College Campus, For One Time, Looks Like a Co-ed College

Last Friday and Saturday the students of this College witnessed the first meeting of the North Central District Teachers' North Carolina Education Association that has been held on our campus for many years. Teachers from many of the adjoining counties of Wake and those of Wake County attended the meeting. There were also several Meredith and State seniors who attended many of the meetings to ascertain some of the details of the teaching profession.

Meetings were held in Pullen Hall, the Y. M. C. A., and Pullen Memorial Baptist Church for various educational talks along different subjects that pertained to the education of grammar grade and high school students. In the old Mechanical building were many varieties of books on display for the teachers to examine. Among the list of books were three different ones that were written by Dr. E. C. Brooks, our president. One of them was the latest book he has written and is to be used in all the high schools of the State for the purpose of teaching the students more about our government.

There were many prominent speakers on the program, among whom was the noted Dr. Thomas Alexander of New York Teachers' College.

Friday afternoon there was held a spelling contest that was very interesting to the children who took part and to the spectators.

AG. CLUB'S RECEPTION SATURDAY EVENING

At the regular meeting of the Agricultural Club Tuesday evening, it was decided to change the time of the reception from Friday evening to Saturday evening, November fifteenth.

All agricultural students are entitled to attend the reception provided they pay their dues and this automatically admits them as regular members to the Agricultural Club. Tickets may be secured from the treasurer, T. T. Browne, or R. B. Winchester.

Committees were appointed to plan for giving everybody a good time.

Wright Finishes First In Cross-Country Meet

Sherman Shows Up Well But Score Thrown Out; Freshmen Lose to Carolina Freshmen

UNRULY CROWD BREAKS UP CROSS COUNTRY RACE

Wright finished an easy first over a three-mile course Saturday at Chapel Hill in a dual meet with the Carolina Cross Country Team. Several Carolina men came in and then a bunch of State and Carolina men mixed up and led by Sherman of State. At this time the Tar Heel bleachers were emptied of their crowds which surged out upon the field for the between-the-halves celebration, over ran the track, the race, the officials, and in fact swept all before it.

State adherents claim that the Cinder Pack would have won if the crowd hadn't overrun the field. Tar Heels and officials frankly say they don't know. The time-keeper lost his head and his time. Carolina officials expressed regret at the conduct of the crowd. Fourteen runners who entered the race expressed themselves, even unto blasphemy! A hard three miles for nothing. There was no definite comparison of the two teams possible. They get another chance at each other at the State meet to be held at Wake Forest in December, though.

The Freshman met. The Freshmen had a little better luck with their meet. Nothing interrupted the race and despite the fact that they lost, Coach Saville is well pleased with them. The Junior Tar Heels took the meet by the score of 20-35.

Brimley, of State, took first place by about six inches in a very spirited race. Carolina placed the next five men, followed closely by four State men. Brimley looks good for State's track team next year and 'tis rumored the score would have been different had not one or two of State's men got mixed up on the course.

If those desiring to attend will call telephone 1909 and leave their name they will be met at College Court Pharmacy by automobiles at 7:30 o'clock.

Parade and Serenade Celebrate VPI Victory

Whole Student Body Should Celebrate Next Victory Here With Bonfire on Capitol Square

Celebrating the winning of a great football game and the upsetting of all available dope by winning it, part of the student body participated in a parade and serenade last Saturday night, under the leadership of the editor of The Technician, who had played the satire game.

The serenaders went first to St. Mary's, where they had to stay for a while before the inhabitants of that abode could come out. The reception that was given was well worth the waiting.

Meredith and Peace were next serenaded and pleasant visits were made at both places; but on account of the serenaders being late, the absence of a number of the girls who seem to be the spirit of these institutions was clearly noticed.

After leaving Peace the boys seemed not to care whether the people of Raleigh heard from them or not. Only a small part of the student body participated in the snake dance. The business people knew that the ones who did snake dance were there, however.

The Grand gave us the usual show Thursday night. About half of the student body was at the show. The students did not rush the Grand, although one of the city newspapers said that they did.

It seems that the winning of a game, such as Saturday's game, should be celebrated by every student at State College who has any spirit at all. Not in a rowdy way; but in a way that will show the people of Raleigh that we are proud of winning, and that we can serenade in a gentlemanly manner.

If we win the next football game that we play here, the whole student body should celebrate by having a bonfire on the Capitol Square. A number of the faculty members have expressed their desire to see us serenade the people of Raleigh in this manner, and have stated that they will take part in such a celebration. Why not do this? We can get an unlimited number of packing boxes from the merchants by asking for them beforehand, and sending the Freshmen after them when we get ready to build the fire. Why not show the people of Raleigh how a real College can celebrate.

Lawrence's Condition Good

Johnnie Lawrence, a Senior, who was hit by a Ford coupe on the 4th of September and was carried home, is reported in a better condition. He has regained complete mental control and is suffering only from nervous exhaustion. He is able to write letters, and has written to several of his friends. He expects to be back in school this year.

Numerous friends are glad to learn of the improvement, and are looking forward to an early, complete recovery.

Tacking a brilliant finish to a creditable start, the Wolfpack last Saturday furnished the biggest upset of the season by registering a well earned 6-to-3 victory over the far-famed V. P. I. team. Before this game V. P. I. had not suffered a single defeat this season.

The Pack had been defeated in the Southern Conference by Carolina, V. M. I. and South Carolina was dopted to lose by two or three touchdowns to the Gobblers, who had played scoreless ties with Washington and Lee and Auburn and won the remainder of their games.

Beginning the game with a drive that was stopped under the shadow of the V. P. I. goal post by a 15-yard penalty the Wolfpack outplayed the visitors for the first quarter. The Gobblers came back strong in the second and third quarters and outplayed the Wolfpack. However, they never seriously threatened to score a touchdown. The fourth quarter was a walkaway for State.

In the first quarter State had the best of it but did not seriously threaten to score, the forward passing attack falling dismally in the Gobblers' territory. Only the fact that the Gobblers could catch State's forward passes kept the Wolfpack from scoring.

The second quarter was like the first except it was in the Gobblers' favor instead of the Wolfpack's. It was during this quarter that Rutherford, V. P. I.'s champion drop-kicker, failed to do his stuff. He had two good chances for field goals from the thirty-five-yard line and missed both.

The third quarter was the second all over as far as the possession of the ball was concerned. However, Rutherford made his one chance for a field goal good, kicking a goal from the twenty-three-yard line. That field goal, according to the dope sheets, ought to have put the Wolfpack to rout and the Gobblers should have been able to go marching to a touchdown or so, and victory. However, it had just the opposite effect. Instead of serving to dishearten the Wolfpack it served to infuriate them and raise them to greater heights.

Taking the ball in the first of the fourth quarter the Wolfpack marched down the field for their touchdown. The rest of the game the Wolfpack proceeded to play the Gobblers off their collective feet.

The Gobblers were forced to adopt desperate measures during the last part of the game. Time after time they tried passes from under the goal posts and time after time they were intercepted by the Wolfpack on about the thirty-yard line. However, no other score was needed, nor did it matter that Lassiter failed to kick the extra point.

V. P. I. registered fourteen first downs during the game and State nine. However, State's gains were bunched.

State was penalized for a total of 50 yards while V. P. I. was penalized only once for offside for 5 yards.

Editorials

They said "it couldn't be done." Big team, but we did it.

The Wolfpack had their "Gobbler Day" about three weeks early.

It is unfortunate that the whole school didn't hear Dr. Brooks' talk in chapel last week. It could well be said that the men that most needed the talk were not there. We appreciate Dr. Brooks' attitude towards dances in the new Gym. at this time.

We were indeed glad to have the teachers of North Carolina meet at State College last week-end. Many of the boys attended some of the meetings, why, we don't know exactly. It might be because they are interested in teaching next year, or again it might be otherwise.

We are thankful to the Grand authorities for the free show they gave us Thursday night in celebration of the victory over V. P. I. We find the Grand always ready to cooperate with us when we win games and for this reason let's always remember to cooperate with them and forget such things as "Rushing the Grand."

Enough has been written about the Point System, etc. It is time some action was taken. Any fair-minded student should realize, and we believe they do, that the point system is fair and just to the students, the only hitch being in the taking off of points for absences when caused by things not in our power to prevent.

The conduct of the student body in regard to the spirit towards the officials of the game Saturday was very commendable. Remember whenever the student body "rags" the officials, the officials take it out on the players. Therefore we are hurting our chance of winning and not staying behind our team whenever we jeer the officials.

The serenade in many respect last Saturday was unsuccessful, due to various and sundry reasons, such as no official leader, lots of the girls had gone home or else were having some kind of a meeting. But State College men, you showed the right spirit when you waited on St. Mary's girls. We have been down on the St. Mary's girls for not coming out to our serenades, but when we stop to consider we realize that it is not the girls fault.

Our readers will find in this week's TECHNICIAN a column that is set aside for the purpose of acquainting our student body and other readers with our faculty and their accomplishments, which is gotten up by E. G. Moore. This column is called "Faculty Fax," a unique name, and we hope that it will show the fellows what a good faculty State College has.

Last Sunday's News and Observer carried an article which no State College man should fail to read. The article referred to is the one concerning the early history of our school. It tells some interesting facts of which most of us are ignorant and which all of us should want to know. It is headed "How State College Evolved From Philanthropic Dream," was written by Mr. J. Stanhope Wynne, and may be found on page one of the Editorial Section.

Ever since school started every student on the campus has been receiving the Raleigh Times free of charge. Each night we notice a small slip of paper pasted on the corner of the paper reading, "Compliments of such and such a place." Upon investigation we find that the merchants of Raleigh, the most interested in State College, are making a gift of the paper to all State College men. We are indeed grateful to the merchants of Raleigh for the Raleigh Times.

Tuesday at Trinity several sections of bleachers fell during the Trinity-Wake Forest football game. Occurrences like this are dangerous. We have some bleachers on our field that are likely to fall whenever there is a very heavy weight on them. The ones we have reference to are at the upper end of the field. Something should be done about these bleachers, because they are really dangerous and we don't want any of our students hurt, no more than we want anyone else hurt.

The News and Observer seems always ready to say some cutting thing about our student body and often they say things that are untrue. Sunday morning there appeared an article in The News and Observer stating that after the State College men had serenaded the female institutions and had their snake dance down Fayetteville street they followed their usual custom of "rushing the Grand." This last statement is untrue and unjust because State College is getting away from this mob spirit of "rushing shows."

Attendance at the College Assemblies have gradually been declining. Why? We are at a loss to understand why, but fellow students it is up to each one of us to see that we attend these College Assemblies. The Faculty has cooperated with us in doing away with compulsory chapel, therefore it is only right that we cooperate with them and attend the meetings they call. Whenever we miss one of those call meetings we always miss something that is for our benefit and for this reason let us urge every man to be present at every College Assembly.

Last Saturday our team won a game. It was a hard, clean game, and our team fought for our school in a way to make us proud of old N. C. State. And it seems a shame that after such a contest our student body cannot carry out the work started by the team and show the world that State College men are gentlemen. Fellows, why did it happen? If every victory is to have the same effect on us, making us forget our high standards and turn into beasts, then the fewer victories we have, the better. After the game some of us did a sorry thing. Drunkenness is a state in which no man is proud to be seen—yet some of our leading men on the campus fell before strong liquor last Saturday. Fellows, we should not stand for this. Let's show the world that State College men are gentlemen clear through—both on the team and in the student body—on the field and off.

There is one question we would like to ask every State College man in order to have them think on the subject, for we feel there is not a single man here who, after thinking about the matter, would think that the conduct of some of our students was disgraceful. The question is, "How do you want the other fellows to act when you bring a lady on the campus, or when a lady friend of yours comes on the campus?" The answer to this question is obvious, but yet there are some men here who have not yet thought and who, when ladies do come on the campus, act as though they had never seen one, or else like they were some one to be yelled and jeered at. We can't afford to let this sort of thing go on. Last week some St. Mary's girls were on or near the campus and the conduct of some of the men was disgraceful. As loyal State men, are you going to put up with this sort of thing?

There is a mistaken idea among some members of the student body that the Student Forum is just a place for some of our perpetual kickers to kick. This, however, is far from being the case. While the articles appearing in The Forum are of a kicking nature, still those writing for the Forum usually have very good reasons for writing the articles and have grounds for their argument and the opinion and sympathy of the student body. If at any time you think an article in the Forum is unjust, wrong, or not in line with the State spirit, then reply to it. That is what we are after and unless you cooperate with us we can't get the desired results.

"WHERE'D THE BAND GO?"

We were all wondering where the band was going the other afternoon when it "strutted" out in its characteristic splendor, heading for town—or somewhere in that direction, but we were, in part consoled when the amiable and affable "Daddy" Price disclosed the fact that the band has turned out to drill every Monday afternoon in order to make it so proficient in its military aspect, that Colonel Gregory will have cause to protrude his chest and feel proud.

"Ditty" Ray took the crew out for an "airing" and paraded over the hill to Saint Mary's and back. While on the little girls' campus they were royally welcomed by the whole school. "Ditty" says that he had a time trying to get the freshmen to play the music while they were on the campus, and "Cap" says that the next time he lets the boys out he is going to take them over on the other hill and let them parade before the Institute for the Blind, and, maybe he will get more first-class drilling out of them.

It does give us all a deep sense of pride to see our band come out, for in the band we have an organization that has no equal in this old North State, and one in which we should manifest praise.

AT LAST!

Quoting the News and Observer for Thursday:

"Says Students Have Never Rushed Grand

"State College boys did not rush the Grand Theater Saturday night after the V. P. I. football game, according to a statement made yesterday by Arthur Pakula, manager of the theater, in contradicting a statement of this nature appearing in The News and Observer. Mr. Pakula explained that the Grand always offers the State College boys a free show after each important victory. This show will be tonight, according to Mr. Pakula.

"State students have never gained admission to the Grand without the consent of the management of the theater," said Mr. Pakula.

Well, at last we have the truth! Despite the fact that The News and Observer has repeatedly accused us of this ungentlemanly and ungrateful act, we have at last been exonerated. "The truth will out."

Mr. Pakula is our friend. We appreciate his kindness in giving us the free shows. But most of all we appreciate this simple statement of the truth. And we thank The News and Observer for playing square with us, admitting they were wrong, and printing the truth!

J. MARVIN CULBRETH SPEAKS AT N. C. STATE

The Friendship Council did not have a regular meeting last Sunday afternoon, but it had a program well worth the time of any person who enjoys good music and good speaking. The members of the two Friendship Councils were not the only ones to enjoy this meeting, as everyone was invited to attend.

The State College Hawaiian Club furnished good music, which was enjoyed very much by everyone present. Following this good music, Mr. J. Marvin Culbreth, of Nashville, Tennessee, addressed the gathering. The subject of Mr. Culbreth's address was, "How a Young Man Can Serve God." He has been visiting several of the other colleges in this State, and his meetings seem to have been greatly enjoyed by all. The fellows who were at Blue Ridge last summer enjoyed hearing him, as he was one of the principal speakers at the Blue Ridge Conference.

Mr. Culbreth in his talk pointed out very clearly how every person could best serve God. He said that for a man to serve God did not necessarily mean to be a preacher. He also said, "Anything that is constructive is serving God. If a man does his task to the best of his ability he is serving God to the best of his ability." He condemned most college students by saying that they did not take their college work seriously enough.

Angry professor: "How dare you swear before me?"

Student: "How did I know that you wanted to swear first?"

THE co-ordination of commercial strength, architectural vision and engineering skill which created this titanic quadruple office building represents the motive and creative force which has turned the eyes of the world toward this type of American architecture.

This, the largest office building in the world, possesses fundamentally magnificent largeness in its conception, and a clean-cut directness in its execution which place it among the most significant of American buildings.

With such existing structural achievements no architectural future is impossible, no project too vast or too complex to come readily to our imagination.

Certainly modern invention—modern engineering skill and organization, will prove more than equal to the demands of the architecture of the future.

CHEER LEADERS

As the entire student-body knows, one of the pressing needs of State College is cheer leaders. The problem is, how are we going to get them?

We have only two men, with any cheer-leading ability, at present on the campus, and they are Seniors. A member of the present Senior class organized last year what is known as "The Cheer Leaders Club." We have often wondered what has become of this club. Its purpose is good and State College is in need of it, but it seems to lack the punch to accomplish anything.

While every one is interested in creating a greater State College spirit, it would be appropriate if they would get interested in some one to lead this spirit. We boast here that the University has nothing on us. We like to say we have as good a college, as good athletic teams and more spirit, but no one has the nerve to say that we have as numerous and efficient cheer leaders as Carolina.

The sad part of it is that the only cause is a lack of interest; and the cheerful part is that we can overcome this. Fellows, why not take a little interest in the leadership of our great State College spirit?

P. H. BARNES.

CONDUCT AT MOVIES

Have you been attending the movies at the Y. M. C. A.? If so, no doubt you have taken notice of the reminder which is being continually run on the screen, requesting gentlemen not to smoke. Upon consideration, you will agree that such a stratagem is humiliating, I am sure, because of the necessity of it.

College men should know how to act, and for those who are unthoughtful a mere hint ought to be sufficient. A gentleman should so conduct himself as to deprive any one of a second opportunity for rebuke. State College is not a place for gentlemen after a modified or magnified manner, but for those who are gentlemen in every sense of the word. We cannot afford to have our friends and visitors form bad opinions of us. Then why not try to merit their commendation? If we were only children such playful conduct might be overlooked, but we are at least supposed to be men, and the knowledge that it is worse to commit an offense knowingly than through ignorance should be an assurance that such conduct as that which sometimes prevails at the shows is without doubt very repulsive to those who have passed that stage of childish ideas.

It is bad enough to remain in a crowded closed room near two hours at best. And where is the student, who if he desired to bring his mother, sister or best girl to the movies, that would not want conditions to be as favorable as possible.

Do something toward making conditions more favorable. If you are not so inclined, then for the sake of others, if not for yourselves, don't do something to make things worse.

Seniors should be more thoughtful, Juniors more dignified, Sophomores should set a better example, and Freshmen should do as they are bidden.

Fellows, the Y. M. C. A. is doing its best to serve the student-body, and it is the duty of each student to help make the work a pleasure rather than a task.

The shows are of course primarily for the benefit and convenience of the students who desire amusements or diversions of this nature. Yet we extend a cordial welcome to those who care to enjoy this phase of college life with us, and assure them that each and every student deems it a great privilege and pleasure to have our friends mingle with us in this manner. It is this spirit of good fellowship and sportsmanlike association that is giving State College an ever-increasing value in the estimation of public opinion.

Let's try to make our conduct while in the shows more gentlemanly. There is no advantage, pleasure, or comedy in the unearthly and ridiculous noises which sometimes ascend from the audience. It is a nuisance and nonsensical, or, more correctly speaking, ignorance on the part of its promoters. Why not try to impress those who associate with us that they are mingling with human beings rather than animals and other creatures which should have been left at home or confined in captivity as a measure of safety for the public. W. J. FERGUSON.

Point System Should Be Altered

Many articles have been written about the Point System of grading in the past few weeks. Some of them contained logical reasoning from the standpoint of the student. Some of the articles have been somewhat one-sided and did not face the subject squarely.

The question, in the writer's opinion, that the students of this College are asking is this: "Is it fair to have a system of grading that allows a student to make an average of 70 on all his subjects, miss three classes during the four years of his college career, and then not be able to receive his degree?" The writer and students who have ventured to express their thoughts have condemned this method of grading—it is based on 100 per cent health to the student, his relatives, and absolutely no leave of absence from College for any purpose whatsoever.

Any man who stops to think will realize that the thing for the authorities and students of State College to do is get together and come to some mutual understanding about this Point System. We don't want any such thing as a walk-out tried around this place! And we don't want men transferring their credits to other colleges after the third quarter of their Senior year and obtaining their degrees from them. Besides, very few colleges will give a degree unless the student has spent a year at the college where he is to receive his degree. What we want is, to settle this problem by making a few alterations in the Point System. If the authorities of the College don't think the students have any rights in governing the way they should be graded, all right. But as long as there are young, acute, active minds on the campus of State College, and these reasoning minds tell the students that they are unjustly graded, there will be a constant boiling spirit of resentment among the students toward the authorities that impose unjust ways of grading on them.

The writer suggests that there be selected the presidents of the classes, a senior from each school, and three men from the Student Council, to meet with the authorities of the College and place before them the students' side of the Point System, and thresh out all the unjustness, if there is any. But as long as there is a lot of writing, talking and cursing about the present grading there will be no ultimate good until some definite plan of settlement is agreed upon by the students and the authorities.

The writer is sure that the authorities of this College have in heart the well-being of the student body and would not do them an injustice for a thousand lickings of Carolina. However, the students think they are not being treated exactly right in assigning points to them for missing classes when ill or some other reasonable excuse. The thing for the authorities to do is prove to the students, beyond a reasonable doubt, that the Point System is right. If this can't be done, then there should be some alterations or the ultimate abolishment of it. As it stands, though, it seems, from personal experience, that the system is too radical in some respects. JOE W. JOHNSON.

SPIRITS

Yes, we won the victory last Saturday in the game with V. P. I. Did we lack any spirit? No, we had plenty of it in the bleachers and elsewhere after the game. We have heretofore, and still pride ourselves on our college spirit. Win or lose, we show our fine spirit by staying in the bleachers until every player has left the field.

Saturday our spirit was fired to a white heat when the game closed with a final score of 6-3. College spirit "will place the welfare of the college above all selfish considerations; . . . lastly, he will at all times conduct himself as a gentleman should, knowing that his conduct influences in a large measure the opinion of outsiders in regard to the college." There were a few Saturday night, if not many, who didn't give the above "Handbook" statement the least consideration, due to the fact that their conduct was guided by "spirits" rather than college spirit. Is it no wonder then that a portion of the student-body failed to follow such leadership as that possessed of "spirits" instead of college spirit as on Saturday night?

What has been done about this "spirits" affair? Nothing. Will anything be done? Will it be smothered and die a natural death or will action be taken by the student authorities under whose eyes this took place? Will Student Government live up to the standard it has followed in the past or will it cease to function at "certain" times and let individuality rule? We, as a student-body, do not think that the Student Government will permit this to go by unnoticed, but it appears as though it were the case at present. Maybe we need another "Walsh." N. P. WELLS.

The CASE Engineering Code

A Scientific System of Development

ALL true progress comes through gradual development. Compare the automobiles, telephones or threshing machines of twenty-five years ago with the highly efficient product of today. Better work and longer life for each machine has resulted in every case from intelligent, consistent development.

The development of any machine depends: first, upon the ideals and ability of the designers and builders and, second, upon the data available and the method of its use. This Company is exceptionally fortunate in both these respects. Our engineers are admittedly competent and resourceful. They have devised a system for securing accurate, definite information about the operation of Case machines under the infinite variety of conditions met in extensive field work.

As it comes in, this information is classified, tabulated and charted every month. It is studied carefully for any indication of desirable improvements in design, material or construction. This is the scientific system of development incorporated in the Case Engineering Code that has carried Case products forward to leadership in usefulness and economy.

Wolflets Fight To Seven-Seven Tie

State and Carolina Freshmen Evenly Matched in Game at Chapel Hill

Friday afternoon, November 7, Sammie Homewood's Freshmen team was held to a 7-7 tie by the first-year team of Carolina on the Carolina field. The game started with State Freshmen receiving. The ball was carried well up the field and a pass, McDowell to Watkins, netted the State Freshmen 16 yards. Carolina was penalized 15 yards, end runs and line bucks carried the ball near the goal line, from which Honeysuckle carried it across for State's lone touchdown, Frazier kicking goal.

State played a defensive game till the last period, holding Carolina for downs nearly all of the time till the third period, when Carolina gained punch enough to advance the ball to State's three-yard line. Then things began to look dangerous but the Wolflets rallied to the need and held Carolina for downs on the three-yard line. State took the ball and punted, Carolina fumbled, State recovering. On the next play State fumbled and gave Carolina the ball. This is what hurt, for from this Carolina rapidly gained by end runs and line plays. The ball was on State's 15-yard line. In three downs they advanced it nine yards and if looked as if State again might hold, but Simpson carried the ball through State's line for a first down. Izar carried the ball across and Shepard kicked goal, tying the score in the beginning of the fourth period. State again received and rapidly took the ball to Carolina's three-yard line by end runs and passes. One end run by McDowell gained twenty yards and a pass, McDowell to Watkins, gained 25 yards. On the three-yard line Carolina held and on the fourth down a pass failed behind the goal line, giving the ball to Carolina on the 20-yard line. The game was then almost over, neither team gaining any more.

State tried seven forward passes, completing four for a net gain of 57 yards. Carolina attempted five, all failing. State made eight first downs; Carolina made twelve. The playing of McDowell and Honeysuckle in the backfield and Kilgore and Watkins in the line was noticeable for State while Izar was Carolina's outstanding player.

SPORT COMMENT

We are endeavoring in this column to give the gist of Campus opinion about sports. Because of man's inherent narrowmindedness and conceit it is most probably our own personal opinion that we're actually giving. We hope not.
THE SPORT EDITOR.

CONGRATULATIONS, CAROLINA AND DAVIDSON, we're as proud of you as we are of the Wolfpack!

Hard luck, V. P. I., but we're not a bit sorry.

Capt. Robinson and his cinder pack had hard luck over at Carolina Saturday. Never mind, though, boys, you'll get another crack at 'em at Wake Forest.

Last week's Virginia Tech, V. P. I. weekly, carried headlines like this: N. C. State to be Tech's Next Victim. We surely do like being Tech's victim.

The Wolfkins had a little hard luck Friday in their encounter with the Baby Tar Heels, too. Too bad you couldn't have pushed it across once or twice more.

The spirit in the State bleachers was fine—after Charlie Shuford loped across the last white line. In fact, we ourselves were picked up and tossed in the air, far above the bleachers, by a former member of the Wolfpack—then. But, fellows, after all our self-praise about our good spirit, do we feel exactly right about our spirit before that run?

The Wolfpack is waiting for Maryland with the same spirit as the mouse that staggered out on the floor and said, "Where is that d—n cat?"

Referee Gass, you're the stuff; without a doubt the most popular, and in our opinion the fairest and squarest, referee to officiate on Riddick Field in several years.

The great American game, Baseball, seems to be very popular (?) in Europe. The Giants and the White Sox, on their European tour, are drawing down great crowds—never less than twenty or thirty persons.

Columbia, we bow in grief with you at the loss of your great chieftain. Percy D. Haughton was the man who made coaching a profession of which one might be proud.

Wake Forest has a good team, as they have already demonstrated several times, but we are of the opinion that they will go up against a different team from the one they played against Tuesday when they come to Riddick Field next Saturday.

The scrubs won another moral victory Armistice Day when they defeated the Washington Athletic Club 0-0 at Washington.

Lumberton High seems to have eleven iron men on their football team. Armistice Day, after helping fight the hospital fire, they beat Red Springs 6-0 at Red Springs in the morning, returned home and defeated Hamlet 18-8 in the afternoon.

Wolfpack Uses Bright Lights For Practice

Will Soon Have Running Water of Variable Temperature in Its Bungalow

The Wolfpack has installed electric lights in its bungalow now and expects soon to have running water of variable temperature. The practice field is as bright as day now, even until seven or eight o'clock; it is lighted by strong arc lights fastened at the top of four forty-foot poles.

This became necessary as the days became shorter on account of the fact that the Technemen do not get off class until 4:15 in the afternoon. Without the lights, practice became well-nigh impossible shortly after five. However, with the new lights the old Pack stays right with the ball until well past supper-time.

Wolf Scrubs Fail To Score Again

Played to a Standstill by the Washington Athletic Club in a No-Score Game

State College Wolf Scrubs journeyed down to Washington to celebrate Armistice Day. But they failed to celebrate. After sixty minutes of play, before a very small crowd, the game came to a listless close with neither goal marred by scores.

The Washington team is one that is sponsored by the American Legion Post and is composed of former college and high school stars. However they showed lack of training and had no punch. The State team had pep and fight but lacked sadly in team-work and familiarity. Several times line bucks were ordered by Quarterback Thomas, only to have the ball carried around end.

State's goal was never threatened and the soldiers' goal was in danger no less than six times. But each time the defense stiffened and each time an attempt was made to kick a field goal. The backfield took turns at the attempts, but none were successful. Leech, of Washington, a former Trinity man and former member of the coaching staff of Lehigh, was the only outstanding man on the soldier team. Jennette, in the State line, stood out for State—the only man to play a good

SOUTH WINS IN INTER-DORMITORY LONG DISTANCE LOPE

On Saturday, November 1st, the first inter-dormitory contest of the year was held in the form of a cross-country race. Three men constituted a team, four dormitories having full teams entered. In the records below only the men on those teams are mentioned. Brimley, who actually finished third, did not score as he represented no dormitory, living off the campus. Vick and Hargrove finished fifth and sixth but could not count as they were the only two from Sixth Dormitory. In such a contest the team receiving the lowest number of points wins. Teams and standing follow:

Inter-Frat Basketball Is To Get Under Way

Fraternities Asked to Appoint Men to Work Out Plans for Practice Periods

At a meeting of representatives of fraternities called by Mr. Parker, the following fraternities were represented and expressed approval of the plans presented by the Internurmal Committee for inter-frat games soon to begin: Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Tau, Chi Tau, Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Delta Sigma Phi, Pi Kappa Phi, Tau Rho Alpha. Communications with the following fraternities have revealed that they also are behind the plan and anxious to take part: Sigma Nu, Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Pi, Kappa Iota Epsilon.

Mr. Parker asked that each fraternity appoint an Internurmal manager to communicate with him concerning the working out of the plans and appointing of practice periods for each group. Practice is to take place during the rest of this month, and the series is to begin the first of December. The campus may expect to see some real stuff on the hardwood floor after that date as much interest is being shown by the members of the several fraternities.

Raleigh High Out Of Championship Contest

Durham Scores Twenty-five of the Total of Twenty-seven Points in First Half

Durham defeated Raleigh High at Wake Forest last Friday by a score of 27 to 0. Durham showed its superiority in the first half by scoring 25 points, but at the beginning of the second half Raleigh came back strong and allowed Durham to score only two points.

Both teams staged an aerial attack with much success. Durham's quarterback punted well and returned Raleigh's equally well. The touchdowns were made by Bok, Gesham, Hackney, and Allen.

Both teams fought on equal terms in the last half, the Hurricanes showing considerably more strength in defense than in the first half. Raleigh's team looked as if it had been rejuvenated when it held Durham down to two points in the last half.

MILITARY BAND PARADES

At the invitation of the Commander of the American Legion, the State College Band participated in the Armistice Day parade in Raleigh, November 11th. The entire regiment of the R.O.T.C. did not take part, as the day was a holiday and the regiment could not be asked to go.

The parade led from the First Baptist Church to Fayetteville Street and on to the City Auditorium, where speeches were made by the commander of the Raleigh Post and others. Preceding the speeches the Band rendered a program of marches and heavier selections.

It is to be considered an honor to be given first rank in a celebration of this nature. The Raleigh Times and The News and Observer were not slow to commend the Band's participation in the celebration, for which the College is deeply grateful.

TENNIS

One of Oldest Known Sports Becoming Popular at State

At many of the largest Universities and Colleges of the United States tennis is gradually taking the lead in minor sports. In the past tennis has not been very popular among the colleges of North Carolina, but in the last two years interest and competition has practically been doubled.

Last year forty-eight new courts were constructed at the University, ten or twelve new courts were constructed at Trinity, Wake Forest, Davidson, and many of the smaller colleges have had to construct new courts to satisfy the demand of the students.

Since tennis is a sport that can be made as hard or as easy as one likes and since it can be played from ten minutes to three or four hours at a time, it is unlike any other sport and will reach the great majority of students.

We have a promise from the Athletic Council that some new courts will be ready to play on in the spring. State is going to put out a regular tennis team. Several matches with other teams will be on the spring schedule and monograms may be awarded to members of the team at the end of the season, pending the decision of the Athletic Council.

SHIFTING ENGINE GETS TRUCK OUT OF TROUBLE

A freak accident occurred on the campus Tuesday afternoon when the large five-ton truck used for hauling dirt from the excavation back of South Dormitory became stalled and was assisted in moving by a passing locomotive.

The truck, heavily loaded, was trying to pass between the excavation and the railroad at the crossing when one of the rear wheels went into a trench. The truck was thus left with the front end across the railroad track and the rear end in the excavation. The yard locomotive at this time happened to be shifting cars on the campus, so it was called to the assistance of the truck. A chain was attached and, apparently without difficulty, the truck was removed from its undignified position.

ENGLISH CLUBS MEET

The first joint meeting of the college English clubs was held at Meredith College on Thursday evening, November 6th. Approximately one hundred students of literature from Meredith, St. Mary's and N. C. State were present at this joint meeting. It is the purpose of the English clubs to meet jointly at one of the colleges each month and to be addressed by men and women who have distinguished themselves in the field of literature. We are also planning a local meeting each month in which the students will more or less have charge of the program. In this way we hope to not only receive but to be able to give something that will increase our appreciation and broaden our knowledge of the worth-while things in literature.

Prof. C. C. Cunningham, of the State College faculty, addressed the clubs. This selection of verse was varied and met with the hearty approval of the audience. During the evening Professor Cunningham read the following poems:

1. "Jabberwocky"—Lewis Carroll.
2. "Courtin' Tam in de Woodlan'"—Lew Saret.
3. "Cuddle Doon"—Alexander Anderson.
4. "One, Two, Three"—H. C. Bunner.
5. "Ode to a Nightingale"—John Keats.
6. "Butterflies"—John Davidson.
7. "Soliloquy of the Spanish Cloister"—Robert Browning.
8. "Joseph and Mary"—James Elroy Flecker.
9. "For a' That and a' That"—Robert Burns.
10. "The Victory Ball"—Alfred Noyes.

DEBATE PRELIMINARIES

As the result of tryouts held Tuesday afternoon, the debate team which will represent State College in the contests with the University of North Carolina and Trinity College will consist of R. J. Peeler, a Junior in the School of Agriculture, and Henry Rogers, a Freshman in the School of Science and Business. The elimination contest consisted of five-minute constructive speeches and two-minute rebuttals, delivered on either side of the proposition: "Resolved, That the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution authorizing the regulation of child labor should be adopted." Peeler upheld the affirmative and Rogers the negative. The selection of these two men was made by Professor Cunningham, coach of the College debate teams, on the basis of all-round ability in finding and organizing evidence and in presenting it effectively in delivery. Peeler is vice president of Leazar Literary Society and Rogers is a member of Pullen.

Eight other men took part in the tryouts. They were: J. B. Britt, E. A. Davis and H. G. Moore, of the School of Agriculture; B. J. Kopp, J. W. Lewis, H. B. Keen and R. R. Treva- than, of the School of Engineering; and C. B. Brown, of the School of Science and Business.

Two open forum, Oxford style debates will be held on the child labor amendment before the end of the fall term, one with the University at Chapel Hill on Monday, December 8th, the other with Trinity in Raleigh on Tuesday, December 9th.

These debates will be the first of an enlarged program of forensic competition which State College will undertake this year.

Meredith College Starts Work On Its New Home

Hopes to Have it Ready for Use by Opening of the 1925-'26 Session

Meredith College has begun work on its new home a short distance beyond State College, on Hillsboro road, and hopes to be open for the 1925-'26 session at the new location. The accepted program requires an expenditure of about one million dollars at present, with elaborate plans for the future in both grounds and buildings.

Meredith College was first opened to students on September 27, 1899, with a total of two buildings for administration offices, dormitory space, class rooms, dining hall, assembly hall, and other necessities. Since that time there has been a steady growth both in number of buildings and number of students with the result that the college has taken in the entire block opposite the Governor's Mansion and spread its dormitories across the bounding streets. Having acquired all available space in the vicinity and yet becoming more and more cramped each year, a change of location became a supreme necessity.

After investigating many sites, a strip of 135 acres west of State College was purchased at a cost of $60,000. Covering about thirty acres of land is a grove which will be preserved and improved by the addition of walks and the removal of undesirable growth. Of unusual value also is a natural amphitheater which will be developed by the school and when completed will provide seats for seven or eight thousand spectators; the stage is such that with very little effort it can be made to accommodate the most elaborate pageants and plays with a rustic setting. The community has long felt the need of such a place for outdoor presentations.

There will be nine buildings erected at the first step, but, of these, three will be only temporary structures. All permanent buildings (except the dining hall) will be three stories in height and will be made of brick, thoroughly modern in every respect and fireproof throughout. These buildings are: a library and administration building, dining hall, and four dormitories to accommodate five hundred girls. The heating plant will be operated in connection with the kitchen. The buildings which will be replaced at a later date are an auditorium with music studios and practice rooms, a building for the science departments containing laboratories and lecture rooms, and a building composed of class rooms for the liberal arts courses.

The total cost of the development and buildings for which contracts have already been signed will amount to $1,084,000. This will not include the cost of a private railroad siding and the removal by power company of a high voltage transmission line to adjacent property. It is hoped that the new quarters will be ready for occupancy by the opening of the 1925-'26 session.

Commenting upon the change, Dr. Chas. E. Brewer, president of Meredith College, was heard to remark, "I long for the day when we will be in our new home where there will be sufficient space for our girls to walk without crowding the public streets and being subjected to the remarks and attentions of the all too numerous passers-by—mainly boys."

DR. E. C. BROOKS
President of N. C. State College

Eugene Clyde Brooks was born in Greene County, North Carolina, December 3, 1871. He began his education in the public schools of Lenoir County and in 1890 entered Trinity College. He was graduated in 1894. The next three years were spent in Journalism and in the Treasury Department at Washington. Then he began his work in Education. First as a teacher, then principal, and later superintendent of the Monroe city schools. In May, 1903, he was made supervisor of rural schools in North Carolina. After serving in this capacity for a year he went to Goldsboro as superintendent of schools. About this time—1907—a Department of Education was established at Trinity College. Professor Brooks was selected to take charge of this department. Just prior to this he had begun the "N. C. Education," a magazine for the teachers of the State. For twelve years he served as Professor of Education at Trinity, but in the meantime maintained his interest in the public school system. In 1919 he was selected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. J. Y. Joyner as State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He served in this position until 1923, when he was called to the presidency of N. C. State College. Dr. Brooks is author of a number of books which are now used in the schools in this State.

NASH-EDGEcombe CLUB ORGANIZES FOR 1924-'25

On Thursday night the Nash-Edgecombe Club of State College met in the Y. M. C. A. to complete organization for the ensuing year.

At a former meeting Mr. C. E. Vick had been elected president. He took charge of the meeting and the other officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:

- T. B. Winstead, Vice President;
- R. R. Trevathan, Sec. and Treas.;
- A. L. Eagles, Reporter.

There were about twenty boys out for this meeting, which is only about one-half of the boys from these two counties. Some were absent on account of football—both Freshman and Varsity.

Plans were discussed for the year, and it was decided to meet every second and fourth Thursday night at 6:30.

WOLFPACK DEVOURS GOBLERS

During the second quarter in particular, and also the rest of the game, the fans were treated to some regular "Red" Grange stuff by Roberts of V. P. I. This speedy back showed some of the prettiest broken field running in returning punts and kick-offs that has been seen on Riddick Field for some time. During the second quarter a certain Mr. Esleeck began to get quite prominent. He received a great deal of attention from the Wolfpack during the rest of the game. He did the bulk of the work for V. P. I.

During the second quarter V. P. I. rushed the ball from their own 45-yard line to State's 30-yard line. Here State held, and an attempted drop-kick failed. Ripple's kick carried only to midfield, and Roberts returned the ball to State's 30-yard line where another drop-kick failed. Just before the end of the second half Al Johnston intercepted a forward pass on his own 15-yard line and raced 20 yards before he was downed. State did not make a single first down in this quarter.

In the third period State did not register a single first down but V. P. I. did not get anything for its strong offensive except a field goal. The Pack seemed to grow stronger and stronger the nearer they were pushed to their goal line.

In the fourth period the dirty work came. With Red Lassiter acting as a battering ram, State scored three first downs in succession. Then C. Shuford ran the final 15 yards around end for the touchdown.

For the rest of the fracas State was quite content to play a safe and conservative game. On the other hand, V. P. I. was forced to adopt desperate methods which resulted in a bunch of forward passes finding their way to State players' arms instead of the Virginia Techmen's willing hands.

It was a game between teams and not individual players. Every player on the State team deserves a great deal of credit. Every man who played, played a good game. It might be remarked that Jennette ran his team in a manner that takes second place to none. This boy used his head and showed that at last State has found a real quarterback again. The punting of State was also above par. It may be stated that Esleeck is one of the best plunging backs that has been seen in this district this year. However, as we have said before, each member of each team played a bang-up brand of football.

Mythical Elevens Picked For 1925

Word has lately been received from our rival college—Meredith—that their all-American eleven has been picked. Not to be outdone we have taken it upon ourselves to choose an eleven worthy of representing our school in the contests which may take place between the two schools! The statistics for the 1925 Meredith annual are as follows:

- Prettiest, Miss Bessie Lee Moss.
- Most charming, Misses Gladys and Paige Leonard.
- Most dramatic, Miss Dorothy McBrayer.
- Best all-round, Miss Winnie Rickett.
- Most musical, Miss Mary O'Kelly.
- Most original, Miss Leone Warwick.
- Most intellectual, Miss Raeford Hatcher.
- Most stylish, Miss Margaret Cone Tucker.
- Most executive, Miss Winnie Rickett.
- Most athletic, Miss Lois Stafford.
- N. C. State's Mythical Aggregation Prettiest, W. O. Hunnicutt.
- Most charming, Alton and Walter McIver.
- Most dramatic, Luther Dillard.
- Best all-round, G. W. Wray.
- Most musical, S. R. Wallis.
- Most original, Alvin Marcus Fountain.
- Most intellectual, R. E. Burroughs.
- Most stylish, J. C. Clifford.
- Most executive, Clyde R. Hoey.
- Most athletic, G. C. Lassiter.

The writer wishes to state that in picking these men due deliberation has been given before placing anyone on this list. The merits of the men named were considered and in several instances the writer was at a loss to know which of several men to give the honor. Mr. Hunnicutt for his outstanding looks, the McIver brothers for their natural charm and Mr. Lassiter for his great athletic ability all stood supreme in their several fields. For the others it was harder to decide. But finally the places were filled and the writer takes great pleasure in presenting these names to the general public.

Alumni Notes

Observations & Communications of Zippy Mack

It would be fine if Big Boss Wallis would let us devote this entire section this week to a discussion of the V. P. I. game, but he will not even consider such a thing, as he thinks the front page will be a better setting for that story. Well, let us tell just his one. Then we're through. "You say a plump Gobbler makes a pretty nice dish?" "No! no! Did you see Charlie Shuford? Swish! swish! swish!"

At the big game we saw several of the old fellows. The ones we remember were as follows: W. D. ("Pop") Hampton, an old '22 electrical man, who is now with the Hunter Brothers Electric Company, of Fayetteville; J. F. ("Jule") Baum, a '23 chemical fellow, who is with the Virginia State Highway Commission as their chief chemist, and G. L. ("Bookoo") Booker, a '22 poultry man, who is teaching in the poultry department at V. P. I. It is probable that the head of his department will have "Bookoo" to spend a large portion of his future time to the development of Gobblers.

Mr. A. W. Green, a civil engineer of the Class of '24, is now with Mr. I. W. Barber, engineer, of Mount Airy. Mr. Barber is also one of the alumni, as he finished with the Class of '99.

Mr. Moses Kiser, of the Class of '23, who has been with the Pine State Creamery here in Raleigh, has resigned the local position to take that of manager of the Lincolnton Cooperative Creamery.

Mr. T. F. ("Big Dick") Bostian, captain of the 1923 Wolfpack, is now coaching football at Oak Ridge, where his teams seem to be having a rather successful season.

Mr. T. N. Nissen, a '20 mechanical fellow, who is now in business with his father in Winston-Salem, was on the campus Monday in the interest of the coming of the quin-ennial reunion of his class at the time of the next commencement. Mr. Nissen believes that the success of such a venture depends on the use of the stitch-in-time theory.

PROF. CUNNINGHAM TO CONDUCT CLASS IN PARLIAMENTARY LAW

Beginning next week, November 18th, a class in Parliamentary Law will be conducted by Professor Cunningham, head of the Department of Public Speaking, at 4:30 o'clock every Tuesday afternoon, in Room 21, Holladay Hall.

It is expected that the drill received at this weekly period will materially aid State College men in their preparation for genuine leadership in community and State after they have left college. Work will be begun on the very simplest forms of parliamentary procedure, and the class will gradually be instructed in the technique of conducting the deliberative assembly. The method to be employed will not be that of memorizing a textbook by rote, but, instead, that of actual practice.

No official credit will be given for work in the class, as it is not a recognized course of study, and will not be conducted as such. Attendance will be purely voluntarily, and no roll will be called.

It is, however, hoped that a large number of men will avail themselves of this opportunity to prepare for effective, practical work of an important character.

DECIDES ON PROGRAM

On Wednesday night of last week the Student Branch A. I. E. E. met to decide what program would be put on by the society for the balance of the year.

The Program Committee put before the society the schedule that they had arranged for the society. This program consisted of a series of lecture meetings—the society to be spoken to about twice a month by leading engineers in a large number of the branches of engineering; each speaker to be assigned a special subject that would be of interest to the society.

It was decided that each member should be allowed to vote on Thursday for or against the program. At this election the society voted unanimously in favor of such a program.

Pullen Baptist Students Hold a Business Meeting

Outline Progressive Program for November and December; Officers Elected

The Executive Committee of the Baptist Student Activities of Pullen Memorial Baptist Church met last Thursday night at the home of Mrs. H. T. Davis, on Harris Street and outlined a progressive program for November and December.

At the first of the meeting reports were given by all the members of the different branches of the committee, which were very gratifying to all who were present. The committee also outlined the following four ideas to be put into action immediately:

1. To promote a series of home socials for young people of the church, including students of Meredith and State College.
2. To take charge of regular evening service Sunday evening, November 30th, giving special talks and Music.
3. To attend and participate in the Wake County Sunday School Association, to be held in Pullen Church, November 23d to 25th.
4. To award the agency of the Baptist Student Magazine to a single individual.

The new officers who were elected were J. C. Clifford and R. R. Fountain to fill the vacancies on the committee that were left open from last year.

Johnnie Moffitt is membership chairman of the B. Y. P. U., and it now has an enrollment of 45 student members. The Sunday School class has an attendance from 95 to 100 every Sunday morning.

FRUIT JUDGING TEAM OFF FOR ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

C. D. Matthews, chairman of the Department of Horticulture at State College, leaves tonight for Atlantic City with the team from State College which will compete in the Inter-collegiate Fruit Judging Contest conducted under the auspices of the American Pomological Society, to be held there Thursday, November 13th. The fruit judging team is composed of J. G. Weaver, M. W. Long and J. B. Black. These men have been selected from a squad of students who have been in training for some time. Selections were made after three trials held last week.

These contests were started by the American Pomological Society in 1913, and have been conducted each year since that time. They have done much to develop interest in horticulture at the leading agricultural schools of the country. This year nearly a dozen teams are expected to compete and stiff competition is expected by all teams.

This is the first time that North Carolina State College has been represented in the contest, and the outcome is being watched with much interest.

From Way Down In Old Alabam'

Listen, fellows, what comes from the plains of Alabama:

"A total of $1,100 has been raised by Auburn students to buy the band uniforms. They predict that they will have a good-looking band as well as one that can deliver the goods.

"To get an impression that a student body can raise a lot of (what Sherman said war was), think of the spirit, even in defeat after the Alabama game, when some of the Georgia Tech boys, in the heat of the excitement and celebration, set fire to one of their fraternity houses. They say that nearly all of the Atlanta fire department came out to witness the cremation of a total of three and three-quarters shingles. It is reported that in two minutes the firemen were on their way back to resume the heated checker argument."

PIPE BENDS GET AROUND MANY DANGER POINTS

Good pipe-line engineering employs pipe bends in many places in preference to elbow fittings and expansion joints.

In steam lines which feed reciprocating engines, for instance, the pulsating flow of steam makes the use of pipe bends at right angle turns almost imperative to avoid hammering. In straight runs of piping subject to temperature variations, pipe expansion bends are the most satisfactory means of taking up expansion and contraction.

Pipe bends of any form reduce the strains which are usually the cause of leaks at joints. They must be properly designed, however, and made to fit into place without forcing. Otherwise dangerous strains may be set up in them, completely offsetting the advantages derived through their use.

Investigations carried on by Crane Co. have uncovered much information of value about pipe bends. The results are summed up in complete data tables that form an interesting chapter of Crane catalog No. 51. If this book is not in your files, we will be glad to mail you a copy on request.
