Senate approves cheating policy; swears in officers

A resolution changing the academic misconduct policy was passed by the Student Senate Wednesday night. The revised policy, introduced by newly-elected Student Senate President Ron Spivey on behalf of Attorney General Mark Calloway, calls for automatic probation of a student found guilty of academic misconduct (cheating) for the remainder of his or her academic career.

(cheating) for the remainder of his or her academic career.

"If a student is found guilty again, he will be suspended for at least one semester," Calloway said. "The policy also will place on probation students guilty of academic misconduct on placement tests, and no credit will be given for the tests."

Officers begin terms

Student Government officers for the 1980-1981 year were sworn in by 1979-80 Student Senate President Robb Lee. Dee Gordon, student body president; Spivey, Student Senate president; and Steve Rea, student body treasurer, officially began their terms April 1. Spivey swore in newly-elected and reelected student senators.

Senate action was delayed for 45 injuries until a concurr was reached at nd reelected student senators.

Senate action was delayed for 45 inutes, until a quorum was reached at

1979-80 Student Senate President Robb Lee swears in next year's student body president, Joe Gordon, at Wednesday's Student Senate meeting. While all officials and senators were sworn in Wednesday night, their terms officially began April 1. (Staff photo by Linda Brafford)

Confusion marks CAT fare hike

by Steve Watson Staff Writer

Confusion arose this week among Capital Area Transit (CAT) bus riders and drivers concerning the recent CAT rate increase and the discount tickets used by riders to and from State's cam-used by Fluers of the state of use the discount tickets put an extra dime in the meter.

"This is wrong, and we called CAT general manager Bob Deaton and got it straightened out, so drivers shouldn't be asking people to drop in the extra dime now."

dime now."
Pipes said there is no expiration date on the discount tickets. She said the tickets are valid for use on the buses at any time, even with the regular fare ining block tickets are the seminary partial last year. An emergency legislative bill requesting $480 for State's Livestock Judging and Evaluation Team was amended by a vote of 20-19 because it had not been screened by the Finance Committee. The team had requested money to cover contest expenses at the Seminary Judging and Nelson computer equipment stolen; money to cover contest expenses at the Southeastern Spring Judging and Evaluation Contest in Murfreesboro Tenn. Phil Segal, vice chairman of the Finance Committee, proposed that the bill be reduced by $150 to $330. After debate, the amended bill was passed. $5100 theft prompts greater security and Terry Moore

Staff Writer

of Public Safety James W. Cunningham.

The theft was discovered at approximately 3 p.m. on March 30, Cunningham said.

"There were no signs of forcible entry," he said.

None of the equipment had been recovered as of Tuesday afternoon.

The equipment included one

2001-16B Pet Computer, one Dual Disc Drive CPM Pet Computer, one ADM 42 Terminal Ser 2159 computer, and two Bell Dataphones. "The equipment added up to a self-contained unit," Cunningham said.

Problems before

"We have had problems in Nelson," he said. "Part of the problem seems to he said. "Part of the problem seems to be the location.

"Since the breaks, we have periodic cheeks. These are random checks in which we rattle the doors. When the building is occupied, we walk through periodically. Student officers check the perimeter of the building," he said.

"The main usage of the building is the library," he said.

Cunningham said his department had met with textiles representatives. Limiting keys and more frequent patrols were discussed.

"Graduate students are in the building until late at night. Staff and graduate students have keys," he said.

"I wouldn't be the least bit surprised if somebody in that building saw someone involved in the theft taking equipment out of the building." Cuningham said.

"If anything looks funny, let us determine whether it's funny," he said.

"Even if it looks like a professor walking out with a terminal, give us a call." Cunningham said.

"The main thing we need is the cooperation of people. They don't have to give a name," he said.

Cunningham said Public Safety was doing an investigative follow-up on the computer theft.

"The follow-up includes fingerprints for identification, interviewing people, checking times, and checking people who use the building frequently," he said.

Security increased

Cunningham said security was being increased in some areas to the point that secretaries were being asked to require identification of some visitors. "It's very hard to say who belongs and who doesn't," he said.

Incoming freshman students excluded

Parking decal preregistration underway

by Steve Watson Staff Writer

Staff Writer

Returning resident students can save themselves the hassle of waiting in line next fall for an "R" parking decal by applying for one now through May 8 at the traffic records office in Reynolds Coliseum, room 100.

The decals will be distributed at the beginning of the fall semester, traffic records supervisor Anne Thornton, said.

Students began preregistering for the decals Tuesday, and by Wednesday afternoon about 150 applications had been received, according to Thornton.

"We have about 1,400 R' decals available for next year," Thornton said. "We're going to give them out on a seniority basis, with graduate students and seniors getting top priority."

New incoming freshmen resident students are not allowed to get an "R" permit under the current rules and regulations of the Transportation Division.

Good reaction

Students so far seem to be receiving the new decal distribution system favorably, according to Thornton. "So far everything has gone very smoothly, and the students who've come in to preregister for a permit are happy with our new system," Thornton said. "As long as they bring in everything they need, there's no pro-blem."

Permit requirements

In order to preregister for a permit, students need to be on the fall housing list, they need to bring their student registration card and their vehicle registration card, and they must currently have a car owned by themselves, or a parent, guardian or spouse, according to Thornton.

Thornton stressed that preregister.

Thornton stressed that preregister-ng for an "R" decal does not automatically mean the student will get one, since she expects more than 1,400 to preregister for them.

Plan may expand

Although this year's parking preregistration is for returning resident students only. Transportation Director Molly Pipes said the plan may expand in future years to include commuting students.

"We're testing out this plan on resident students, and if it works well we'll see about enlarging the program," Pipes said. "We expect it to cut down on the number of people waiting in line for permits every fall."

inside

Heroes

-Here it is! That long awaited final exam schedule. Page 2.

-Men netters still rolling. Page 4. -New basketball coach signs first recruit. Page 5.

-For those who made it-a pat on the back. Page 6.

Detailed instructions explaining the responsibilities of the student receiving a degree during graduation exercises on May 10 have been sent to the office of the deam of each school. These will be requested by the various departments for distribution to their students. Copoes are also available at the Student Center information desk and at 205 Peele Hall.

Non-students banned from publication staffs

Remember the baseball heroes of your childhood, like Frank Robinson and Reggie Jackson? This young fan turned out to watch State's baseball team play one afternoon. Perhaps he has spotted a future professional star that the scouts haven't. (Staff photo by Linda Brafford)

An amended addition to the Publications Authority Board documents of policy was passed unanimously by board members Monday. The addition, as amended, bans non-students from working on any of the publication staffs.

Introduced by Pub Board Chairman John Gough, the addition titled "Seven Qualifications for Publications Staff Members" had originally stated that only full-time students (carrying 12 or more hours a semester) would be allowed to work except "in dire circumstances."

ed to work except "in dire cir-cumstances."

Opposed by Technician Editor-elect An-drea Cole and Agromeck Editor-elect Lucy Proeter, the addition would have banned part-time students from the publications.

According to Cole and Procter, since part-time students are paying prorated fees, they should be entitled to the same benefits as full-time students.

"This should be left up to the discretion of the editor," Cole said. "Many of those working on the Technician, for instance, take part-time hours because working on this publication is a full-time job."

According to Student Body President J.D. Hayworth, a non-voting member of the board, Pub Board members should seriously consider the policy addition before acting on it.
"You need to reconsider this since so

(See "Non-students," page 2)

State student dies in wreck

Michael Bayne, State honor student and a brother in Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity, was killed Sunday evening when the car he was driving was struck head-on on U.S. Highway 1 south of Apex, AGR brother Randy Killebrew said.

Bayne was a senior in agricultural education and horticulture from Zirconia, N.C. He was 21 years old.

The fraternity has named its 44 scholarship for Bayne, Killebrew said, and in Bayne's home county, a scholarship to send children to summer camp is being set up in his name.

name.
Bayne was very active in 4 H all of his life, Killebrew said. He held district and city offices, won the National Horticulture Demonstration as a member of the 4 H Club, and was a member of the 4-H Honor Club, Killebrew said. Bayne was all-conference on his high school football team, Killebrew said.

Bayne, who joined AGR in 1977,

Bayne, who joined AGR in 1977, was alumni secretary for the fraternity last year, Killebrew said.

"He was the kind of guy you couldn't help but like, Killebrew said. "He didn't sit by and let life go by. He enjoyed it."

"He was very confident of himself—that's what got him so far," AGR brother Don Smith said.

"He had a lot of contacts through 4-H and the fraternity, but he made it mostly on his own." AGR brother Eddie Spence said.
"You look at his life; you can't help but smile," Killebrew said.

SPRING 1980 FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

EXAMINATION TIMES	EXA	MINATION D Monday April 28	AYS Tuesday, April 29	Wednesday, April 30	Thursday, May 1	Friday, May 2	Saturday, May 3	Monday, May 5	Tuesday, May 6	Wednesday, May 7
8:00- 11:00	Hours class ac	10:00-10:50 MWF	9:35-10:50 TH (including 10- 10:50 TH)	8:55-9:45 MWF	11:05-12:20 TH	11:05-11:55 MWF	15: 25-16: 15 MWF	13:15-14:05 MWF	7:50-9:05 TH	Arranged Exam
12:00- 15:00	ctually meets di	17:35-18:25 MWF	16:05-17:20 TH	16:30-17:20 MWF	14:20-15:35 TH	7:50-8:40 MWF	14:20-15:10 MWF	12:10-13:00 MWF	12:50-14:05 TH (including 13:15-14:05 TH)	Arranged Exam
16:00- 19:00	during semester	MAT 200, 201 FL-, GRK, LAT 101, 102, 105, 201, 202 Common Ex. Arr. Exam	CH 101, 103, 107 Com. Ex. EE 201, 202 Common Ex. Arr. Exam	GN 301 Common Ex. Py 205, 208 Common Ex. Arr. Exam	BS 100 Common Ex. CH 105 Common Ex. Arr. Exam	ACC 260 GN 411 PSY 200 Common Ex. Arr. Exam	Arranged Exam	Arranged Exam	Arranged Exam	Arranged Exam

Non-student charged in theft

by Terry Moore Staff Writer

Thomas Jackson, 27, a non-student, was arrested by Public Safety officers J.R. Holtz and LaDell Parker on April 2 and charged with larceny of personal ed with larceny of personal property.

According to Public Safety Director James Cunningham, Jackson is charged with the theft of a pair of wire cutters and one bicycle from a location near Harrelson Hall. Jackson is being held in Wake County Jail under $200 bond, according to Cunningham.
A motorcycle was stolen from the campus parking

Layout artist needed deck on the afternoon of March 29 and found later that day on Ligon Street near E.S. King Village. The mater E.S. King Village. The motorcycle was returned to its owner. Public Safety says it has no suspects. While patrolling in the west lot on March 28, Public Safety officers discovered

Other reports and crimes which occurred during the period of March 26 - April 1 included:

ciuded: esix assists to motorists

•52 maintenance calls •one talk to an officer •one traffic accident •five requests for service •three disturbances •four fire alarms •two thefts in academic ildings

ildings
•four trespassing reports
•39 instances of van dalism

•four parking tickets
•three citations

Weather forecast

Weather

Friday Saturday Sunday Showers early Fair, cooler Fair Low 40s Upper 30s Low 60s Mid 60s

Showers and thunderstorms ending this morning, then clearing, breezy and mild for this afternoon. Easter weekend should be ideal, with lots of sunshine and seasonable temperatures on both Saturday and Sunday. Perhaps the good weather will hold through Monday to round out the holiday.

holiday. Weather forecast provided by Kathy Brehme, Mark Shipham and Russ Bullock of the University Forecasting Service.

 three citations  to other of our false our false of our false our false our false of our false our false of our false of our false of our false our false our false of our false our many people are going the non-traditional route to col-lege (part-time)," Hayworth said.

Gough disagreed with till its "B" budget is approv-Hayworth, saying that if ed. part-time students were allowed to work on the David Turner, interim publications they would allow their other interests to influence their jobs on the publications. In other business, the Agromeck was given $200 in emergency funds to last un-til its "B" budget is approv-ed.

editor for the Agromeck, said the yearbook should be back on April 18. Both Flesher and WKNC-FM Manager Jim Pickett reported normal operations. Windhover Editor Kathryn Markle said the literary magazine should be back—from the printer around April 10.

Contact Cara, 737-9411

OF THE CRIMES

Wanta Get Paid While You Study?

assists to other

Why not become a plasma donor and earn up to $90 per month

Call Hyland Plasma Center at 828-1590

TWO LOCATIONS 1WO LOCATIONS 609 East Chatham St., Cary Kurt Benrud, Manager 1600 Wake Forest Rd., Raleigh Edna Denton, Manager -OPEN-

Weekdays and Saturday 11:00 am to 10:00 pm Noon to 10;00 pm

WEEKEND SPECIAL

$4.00 PER DOZEN THIS SATURDAY AND SUNDAY ONLY!

NEED IMMEDIATE CASH? Gold

Crabtree Valley Mail • 782-1140 Cary Village Mail • 467-4129 South Square Mail • 493-2418

Class Rings

Large - $47.00 and up Medium - $35.00 and up Small - $22.00 and up

Any condition accepted. Cash for wedding and engagement rings. Anything in 10-14-18 karat gold. We also buy diamonds. We will pick up within 24 hours. Immediate Cash Payment!

Call 782-8330

SIZZLER'S SUPER STUDENT SPECIAL Friday through Sunday Only

NOW $3.29 With this (reg. $3.98) INCLUDES ALL-YOU-CAN-EAT SALAD BAR

601 West Peace Street Last Day: Sunday April 6, 1980

There will be a picture of a beer keg hidden on NCSU's campus beginning today. When you find it, immediately call Carey Wholesale and tell us where it is located. If you are correct, you'll win a free keg! The number is 851-0123.

GOOD LUCK AND HAPPY HUNTING!

Dorm view

She knows that he knows

Pausa Brafford.

Peatures Writer

For centuries now men have been the ones to make the first move, woo the girl and control everything in personal relationships—or so the history books indicate. But this situation is not as prevalent in society as it once was.

Today's woman may decline the role of the naive female who allows the male partner to conduct and control dating games, and instead she may find herself organizing and participating in dating schemes even Julia Child couldn't cook up.

Girl meets guy, or to be more specific, female freshman meets male resident adviser. For further clarification, average-looking, young, witty, slightly domineering female spots male RA.

Not just any run-of-the-looking, young, witty, slighly dominering female spots male RA.

Not just any run-of-the-mill RA, but a handsome, polite, clever, interesting, older male with piercing blue eyes that would stop most girls dead in their tracks.

older male with piercing blue eyes that would stop most girls dead in their tracks.

Her first move is a wise one; she carefully asks around to find out if hes already spoken for by another of the opposite sex—or the same sex, for that matter. She finds he is unattached and challenging—he's a ladies' man. With needless encouragement from her friends, she decides to bait her hook.

Like any other ambitious woman in this type of situation, she carefully plans her attack. She decides she must start slowly. She visits her older brother, conveniently living next door to Mr.

WRITING

Right, and hastens to familiarize herself with his schedule. She cunningly convinces her brother that "he seems like a pretty good seems like a pretty good guy."

After about four weeks of this inadvertent contact, she deems it appropriate to advance to stage two of her atack plan. She makes only occasional visits to her brother's room and starts bringing brownies. She cleverly encourages him to share with his neighbors—especially his neighbors—especially his dependable RA. After a while, Mr. Right's stomach becomes aware of her motive.

becomes aware of her motive.

She knows that he knows. So, she activates the jealousy move. Her visits to the dorm room are just as frequent, but she no longer has long talks with him – she becomes intrigued by the other gents on the hall.

He plays hard to get, but finds he's playing by himself. He becomes confused and frustrated, desperate to make conversation with her. She realizes this and delights in her success. She chooses not to dwell on the jealousy move for fear she'll make him untouchable.

She moves on to phase three—pay more attention to him. He thinks he has things under control, and she allows him to believe so. She has reached her goal. She has him wrapped around her little finger.

Their garden of love grows and grows—so to speak. Dating games are purely psychological.

He thinks he got her. She knows she got him.

CYCLE SENSE

by Tom Campbell Features Writer

Features Writer
As spring's buds burst
open, fair-weather
cyclists will be taking to the road again to enjoy the sounds, smells and fresh air of the season from atop two wheels. It must be remembered, however, that thehighways are shared with four-wheelers, and things may become crowded on narrow-curbed streets.
Learn little skills and habits which make riding in the close company of heavy traffic easier and safer.
Riding close to the safer. Riding close to the curbside can present the bicyclist with an obstacle course for testing close quarter steering ability. Everything from potholes to broken bot tles may be encountered without warning. Keep alert for these hazards and remember the locations of the more permanent ones (such as sewer grates). Motorists should be wary too when approaching a bicycling a b grates). Motorists should be wary too when ap-proaching a bicyclist from behind, leaving ex-tra room for emergency maneuvering as they monly one motorist will pull close to the curb to steer one wheel around the traffic hump. The cyclist, approaching in the driver's blind spot, will never even be noticed as he's pinned to the curb.

If you're a novice rider, practice riding in straight, unswerving lines with one-handed steering and at slow speeds before entering traffic. A good way to learn this is by riding the painted lines in an empty parking lot.

Learn also the art of looking over the left-hand shoulder without swaying out into traffic. A han-rear view mirror which may be worn strapped to the knuckles of the left hand. The best "See-backs" are a flat mirror. The fish-eye mirror types tend to distort distances.

A final note about riding at the curbside. Curbs are not to be ridden over, especially on a good 10-speed bicycle. Shock from riding off curbs can damage spokes and wheel rims so wheels won't spin smoothly and brakes won't grab uniformly. Leave curb-jumping to the kids on pedal dirt bikes!

classifieds

One obstacle faced is the curb itself. Curbs have a not-so-cute way of grabbing a 'dangling pedal suddenly and testing a cyclist's sense of balance at the most inconvenient moments. Make it a habit to coast with the curbside pedal held high, except when making turns where the inside pedal should be held high.

When crossing traffic humps it's best to ride slowly and keep the pedals at about equal height. Never try to pass autos lined up at traffic humps by squeezing by on their right. Very com-

Classifieds cost 105 per word with a mammum charge of 3150 per insertion. Mal check and ad to Technician Classifieds, Box 5698. Raleuth, N.C. 27850. Deadline is 5 pm on day of publication from rest issue tablely for metales in ad limited to refund or regioning and must be reprote to our offices within two days after first publication on all.

EVERGREEN: MCAT DAT Review (Take the course individually in Atlanta 5 days P.O. Box 77034, Atlanta, Ga Phone (404) 874 2454

ROCKSIDE TIRE SALES & SERVICE. Old Stage Rd. 772-5101. New-recapps and used irres. All sizes regular and radials. Open 7 days, 7.11. Saturday and Sunday all day. Discount to all students

HAVE TRUCK, WILL TRAVEL move anything from aardvarks to zebras for peanuts. Call from aardvarks Mark 851 4146

$500 1969 Buick Electra Excellent condition 63,000 miles. All power, electric windows, radio, AC, 834,8618

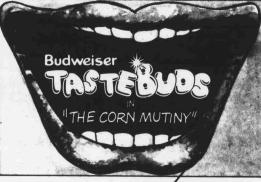

AKC BLACK LAB puppies (1 male, 1 female) $125 male and $100 female (negotiable) 828.8165

REWARD LOS1 RED WALLET Hillsborough Sentimental enclosures Pl rall Holls, 834 9181

RIDER NEEDED to share expenses. Leaving for NE New Mexico in mid May. Return early August. Call 752 8288 (Greenville) after 6 p.m.

HELP WANTED Looking for part time in-dividual to work Saturdays and Sundays. App by in person Downtown Blvd Moving Center. 716 Downtown Blvd.

GREAT HAIRCUTS UNLTD 50 percent off flauroti and style. Reg. $14.50 gals: $7.25 Reg. $12.50 guys: $6.25 10. a.m.9-p.m. Monday Friday: 10. a.m. 65 p.m. Sai: Crabtree, 782.0441 Downtown Belk, 834 1019 store hours: Good April 7.12.

ce, who is undefeated at No. 3, returns a forehand. (Staff photo by Simon Griffiths)

Track teams set to run at USC

Assistant Sports Editor
Ask State's men's tennis coach J.W. Isenhour which ACC team gives the Wolfpack the most trouble and it won't be the expected reply of nationally 11thranked Clemson or rival North Carolina, but Duke.
State defeated the Blue Devils, for the first time in three years, with a 63 decision Tuesday on Lee Courts.
Sunday's match with Clemson was canceled because of rain.

son was canceled occasional rain.

"It was the first time in three years," Isenhour said. "It seems like they've always gotten up for us, but we needed this one more than they did. I figured we could beat them and thought the score could be anywhere.

— 9.1 to 5-4. the score could from 8-1 to 5-4.

"Three years they beat us in Durham in a close match. Then two years ago we were 19-0 and it was the last match of the year. They beat us 5-4 in a tiebreaker in the very slast set of the final match. Duke was the only team to beat us that year. Then last year we lost 6-3, and if we would've won that match we probably would've

The Wolfpack, 13-2 overall and 3-0 in the conference, needs to win all of its remaining matches to have a shot at the NCAA Tournament according to Isenhour. State hosts Wake Forest today at 2:15 p.m. and Hampton Institute Monday at 2:15 p.m. on Lec Courts.

State's famed singles tro for Andy Andrews at No. 1. Matt McDonald at No. 2 and John Joyce at No. 3 gave the Wolfpack a commanding 3-0 lead against the Devils.

Andrews dropped John Stauffer in straight sets 6-4. 6-2. Duke's Will White gave McDonald a time of it before succumbing 6-2, 3-6, 6-1. Joyce ripped Joe Meir 6-1, 6-1.

"Our top three players

"Our top three players again were our strong point," Isenhour said. "They also showed some great leadership out there on the courts.

"For McDonald and Joyce, it was their first win over Duke as a team, and it was good for them to get this one under their belts. Andrews had never beaten Duke, either."

At the No. 5 singles slot, Mark Dillon gave State its only other singles win with a 64, 63 mark over David Boissevain.

"Mark's been doing really well as of late and he's been giving us some real fine performances." Isenhour said. "He got off to a slow start, with all his losses being real close."

Andrews and McDonald teamed up to give the Wolfpack the win as they outlasted the team of Jim Latham and White 7-5, 6-2. Joyce and Dillon were the other winners by defeating.

Andrews and McDonaid teamed up to give the Wolfpack the win as they outlasted the team of Jim Latham and White 7-5, 6-2. Joyce and Dillon were the other winners by defeating Meir and Boissevain 6-4, 6-3.

Meir and Boissevain 6-4, 6-3.

Duke notched its two singles wins when Marc Flur defeated Scott Fleming 7-5, 6-1 at No. 4 and Russell Gache nipped Andy Wilkison 6-4, 6-4 at No. 6.

"Andy had what he probably thought was ope of those off matches." Isenhour said. "I think he pressed a little too much and was trying to do too much with the ball.

"Scott also had one of those days. He needs to bounce back; hopefully it will be against Wake Forest, because we need a real team effort. Everybody on the team is behind him and rain-out.

Men netters get Duke, 6-3

"We went down there on Saturday night and the forecast was for rain Sunday, which it did." Isenhour said. "On Sunday, I told tClemson! coach 'Chuck' Kirese that we would stay and play them on Monday it they could move the time up from 2 p.m. to 11 a.m. so we could get back to Raleigh before midnight, and he wouldn't do it because his players would have to miss two hours of class. But to be logical, we would have missed two days of classes. So they wouldn't move it up three hours and that's why we didn't play them.

"I think it's important to bably get an automatic berth into the NCAAs. I don't think the match will be made up."

Another team that might made up."

Another team that might be more troublesome to State than Duke is Wake Forest.

"They're probably better than Duke and Carolina." Isenhour said. "They're real solid throughout the lineup. I can't think of a major weakness for them, so it should be a great match."

Isenhour noted that it would be McDonald's and Joyce's last home ACC match.

"We've had good crowds for the Carolina and Duke matches and this match is just as important. The crowd has meant so much to us this year; they've been real supportive, and the players and I realize it," he said.

The Hampton Institute marks the swan song said.

The Hampton Institute match marks the swan song for McDonald and Joyce.

"This will be a very emotional match for those two," Isenhour said. "They are both undefeated and have very good shots of making it to the nationals, which would really top off their careers here at State."

Lacrosse team faces hot and cold Baltimore

After facing three nationally-ranked teams in the first four games of the season, State's lacrosse team will get what could be called a breather against Baltimore Saturday in Baltimore.

"They're a good team." State coach Larry Gross said. "They're a hot and cold team. They're beaten a very good Princeton team and they've lost to Pennsylvania. If they're in the

Golf team meets Duke

Rifler Conger invited to NCAA right frame of mind, which I think they are, they'll be tough to beat."

State's attackers will have to penetrate one of the nation's best goalies in Ed Novak.
"It's going to take more goals to beat them," Gross said. "We're going to have to have a good offensive effort and they good goalie. If he's on, it will be difficult to score on him."

Despite the team's 0-4 start, Gross feels his squad is ready to snap out of the Wolfpack defense against Baltimore's attackmen. "Baltimore is mainly at tack oriented, which fits us just fine, because we feel that we have a strong and solid defense," Gross said.

Women netters host Skidmore

by Terry Kelley Sports Writer

Sports Writer
State's women's tennis team hosts Skidmore Saturday at 1 p.m. on Lee Courts.
The Wolfpack will be looking to continue a threematch wining streak which has brought its record to 3-2.
"I really don't know anything about their (Skidmore's) personnel."
State coach J.W. Isenhour aid. "This will be the first time we've played them.
The women have been hanging in their erael well in their later matches."

State's golf team goes against Duke today and Tuesday at MacGregor Downs in Cary. "They're a competitive squad, just like us, but a little bit worse." State coach Richard Sykes said. "We should do well against tem. "Our team right now is a fringe team. We're finishing in the top six to nine in most tournaments, and when it comes to picking the one state of the nesses event place. Freshman Roy Hunter is the member, has been invited to participate in the NCAA Championships at East Tennessee State Thursday through Sturday. He was invited because of his exerctional six rifle, nessel is rifle, nessel in the state of the cone State has dependent of the cone State Thursday through State Agent of the cone State Thursday the cone of the cone State Thursday through State Thursday thro Sports Writer Bob Conger, a rifle team member, has been invited to participate in the NCAA Championships at East Tennessee State Thursday through Saturday. He was invited because of his exceptional air rifle performance during State's match with Navy, in which he shot a qualifying score of 369 fout of a possible 4001. State's men's and women's track teams will be participating in the State Record Relays Saturday in Columbia, S.C. The Wolfpack will be looking for more outstanding in dividual performances like it

What made his score exceptional was not only the total points, but the fact that it was only the second time he had ever fired an air rifle. His first encounter with that facet of shooting occurred a week before the match when he shot 10 rounds of practice.

John Reynolds said, "and I expect him to do much better than his qualifying score." He has had some coaching from me and from Bill Thomas, who was our No. 1 shooter last year and one of the country's best in air rifle today."

Conger is up against some stiff opposition—39 of the nation's best collegiate shooters, some of who have been shooting air rifle for 10 years. Most of these shooters are from schools ranked in the top 10, among them Navy, West Virginia, East Tennessee and Tennessee Tech.

"I'm excited about going." Conger said, "aad I expect to do well. I we been able to practice some more, and I think that will help. I would hate to predict an outcome because I'm not very think that will help. I would hate increased," State coach because I'm not ver familiar with the other shooters, but I'm going to do my best, have a good time and see what happens."

Conger's participation will be limited to one relay, in which he will shoot 40 rounds from the standing position.

This marks the first time any State shooter has participated in such a national collegiate event.

ABORTION

The decision may well be difficult...but the abortion itself doesn't have to be. We do our best to make it. easy for you.

Free Pregnancy Test Very Early Pregnancy Te Call 781-5580 anytime

Friendly . . . Personal . . . Professional Care at a reasonable cost

Alumni Trophy awarded to All-America grappler championships last month in Corvallis, Ore. In winning five of six matches in the tournament, Zenz lost only to eventual champion Joe Gonzales, while leading the Wolfpack to an eighth-place team finish—the highest ever by an ACC school. A two-time ACC wrestling champion, Zenz recorded a 54-61 individual mark over his final two years of competition, including a 34-21 record this past season. He also became the first ACC wrestler ever to be invited

Of all the people to have won State's prestigious Alumni Trophy, the 1980 recipient, wrestling All-America Jim Zenz, is undoubtedly the smallest. But what the 5-2, 118-pounder lacks in physical stature, he more than makes up for with his performance on the mat and in the classroom. State's first wrestling All-America, Zenz also became the initial Wolfpack grapher to earn the honor twice with a third-place finish in the 1980 NCAA wrestling

Buy one pizza,

Coupon good anytime Offer good al week Call for faster service

Mission Valley 833-2825

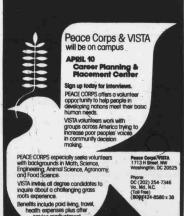

or smaller FREE!

get one of equal value

Our customers know the difference.

for the price of

for gold class rings We will pick up Top Dollar Call 833-1071

We pay CASH

005

Raieigh Women's Health Organization 917 West Morgan St. Raieigh, N.C. 27603

Reduced rates for NCSU students Office adjacent to campus

Raleigh's Complete Resume Service

Specialist in career counseling will:

-recommend content
-design, write and edit RESUMES
-typesetting and printing provided with individualized cover letters provided.

tional Training and Development, Inc. 2008 Hillsborough Street Call 834-4134 for appointment Not a placement service

Heels find Pack 9's number again

It might be a long-distance call, but North Carolina's baseball team has State's number. The Wolfpack fell victim to the Tar Heels for the second Tar Heels for the second time this season, the latest being a 5-3 loss Monday at Carolina's Cary Boshamer Stadium. State's clash with Campbell Monday was canceled because of rain.

ter that first inning, pitcher (Mark Ochal)

New State basketball coach Jim Valvano didn't waste any time in signing his first recruit. Valvano netted 6-5, 200-pound Harold Thompson, an all-eastern North Carolina performer from Raeford's Hoke High School.

held us at bay," said State-coach Sam Esposito, whose team travels to Georgia. Tech Saturday and Clemson' Sunday before hosting Davidson Monday at 3 p.m. on Dock Field. "They kept us off the bases, and when we did get on, we left a few stranded."

Valvano signs star,

Yow inks 5 recruits

munity High in her senior year. In addition, 6-2, 155-pound Karen Thompson from Pflugerville, Texas will join the Pack next season. Thompson hit for 24 points, while grabbing 18 rebounds a game during her recent high school regional tourna-down a sacrifice bunt, but Ochal threw the ball into right field, allowing Bass and Sears to score and Meadows to go to third. Chuckie Canady finished State's scoring when he singled in Meadows.

we did get on, we left a few stranded."

The Wolfpack opened up with a three-run first inaimg on a leadoff single by Danny Bass. Kenny Sears singled moving Bass to second. Louie Meadows then laid when, with one out, Scott Bradley and Lloyd Brewer both singled. Pete Kumiega followed with a single to score Bradley, who beat the throw home to catcher Par Sheehy.

On the throw, Kumiega headed toward second, and Sheehy's throw sailed into center field. Brewer headed home from third on the error. When the dust had cleared, Sheehy was charged with two errors, Carolina had scored two runs and Kumiega was standing on third. P.J. Gay singled with two outs, scoring Kumiega with the third run.

The Tar Heels later scored in the sixth when Brewer was walked, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a passed ball. In the seventh Greg Schuler singled, but was thrown out at second on Mitch McCleney's sacrifice bunt. Chris Pit' aro and Shawn Dean rapped out back-to-back singles, scoring McCleney with the final run. State's Mark Roberts picked up the loss, his first against one win, while Ochal upped his mark to a remarkable 6-2.

also. Both pitchers had things going pretty tight until the sixth. It's a shame that our pitchers had to lose this game, pitching the way they did."

State will try to get

they did."

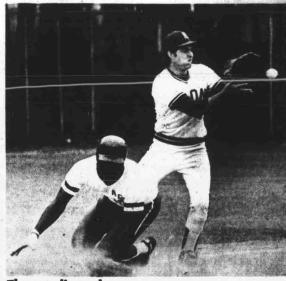

State will try to get back into the conference race with two encounters against ACC foes.

"Just now we want to get out of this losing streak," Esposito said. "We keep on having good games until we have one bad inning that seems to make everything seems to make everything.

have one bad inning that seems to make everything fall apart. It's not just one department that's messing up, it's just everybody taking part.

"I've never seen Georgia Tech, so I don't know anything about them. Clemson, though, will be as good as last year or even better. They're in the thick of things with Carolina and the rest of us. They've gotten off to a slow start, but believe me, they'll be heard from in the end."

State holds a 2-4 conference mark going into the weekend.

Elon eclipsed

Chuckie Canady bounces up after sliding into third during the fifth inning of State's 5-3 win over Elon Thursday at Doak Field. The Wolfpack is now 12-8 on the season. (Staff photo by Linda Brafford) ment. The State coach got another over six-feet in 6-1, 150-pound Mary Jane Wild, who halis from St. Louis, Mo. Yow's fifth and final recruit is 5-9 Tammy Laster of Weaverville's North Buncombe High School. Snook pitches women's softball team to wins over N.C. A & T

Sports, Writer

Diane Snook made her pitching debut with State's women's softball team Wednesday and was an instant success.

She pitched a shutout in her first game and was the winning pitcher in both games of a doubleheader in which the Wolfpack beat defending state champion defending state champion North Carolina A&T 9-0 and

Sec.

In the first game, Gwen Mosely, Susan Rizzo and Donna Tanner were each two for three to lead the Wolfpack's 11-hit attack. Although Gina Miller's run in the first inning was the winning run, it was a fiveral second inning that abut the door on the Aggies.

After Dawn McLaurin reached on an error, Rizzo singled. Then McLaurin came home when Jan Willis reached on an error. Sharon Ayscue then singled home Rizzo and Tanner knocked in Willis. After Julie Stander lined out, Miller and Mosely banged out back to back RBI singles to score Ayscue and Tanner.

singles to score Ayscue and Tanner.
Rizzo scored on Willis' triple in the third inning after she had singled, and Tanner then singled home Willis to make the score 8-0 after just three innings. The final run came in the fourth on a Mosely triple and Snook's sacrifice fly.
"It was a good win." State coach Nora Lynn Finch said. "This is the team we lost to last year in the playoffs. It was a big win to win tyo from them. A&T has a good team. They are real strong offensively: they've got speed.

"This was Diane Snook's first regular pitching assignment. She's pitched in the past. I'm very pleased with her performance."

The second game was not as much of a rout, but it was all Gwen Mosely as she was four for four. collecting a double and three RBI.

The game started much like the first one, with State scoring two runs in the first inning and four in the second. Mosely singled home Miller and then scored on an error in the first for the initial runs.

Then in the second, Karen Brabson reached on an error and scored on Willis RBII single. Tanner then singled home Willis. Stander singled and Mosely brought home Tanner with another single. Tanner then scored to make the score 6-0.

The Aggies edged back into the game with two runs in the third and one run in both the fifth and sixth innings. But Mosely answered back in the bottom of the sixth with a double to drive in Miller and Stander.

Miller and Stander.

Finch contrasted this doubleheader with the Pack's 1.2 performance in last weekend's Catamount Classic.

"We didn't hit well at Western Carolina: we hit well today," Finch said. "Our offense was more aggressive. We had a good defensive game. We had a couple of plays in each game—pickoff plays or getting runners taking extra bases."

Finch feels having lost for the first time last weekend had a positive effect on the team.

"It made us want to redeem ourselves," she said.

"We were aware of some of the errors we made. We debeen rained out of didn't give up. We were practice and rained out of very much up for these games.
"We hit a lot of balls

Pack wrestler Reiss shoots for Olympics

Still basking in the glow of his NCAA national championship at Corvallis, Ore., State's Mati Reiss tackles another "impossible dream"

State's Matt Reiss tackles another "impossible dream" this weekend.
Reiss, a freshman from Bethleham, Pa., will participate in the U.S. Olympic tryouts in freestyle wrestling at Hofstra, Friday and Saturday. The top four grapplers in each weight class will go to a special Olympic training camp, where the will go to a special Olympic training camp, where the final team will be formed. "When I was a little kid," Reiss said, "one of my dreams was to become a na-tional champion, the other was to be in the Olympics. It's hard for me to believe that I might achieve both in the same vear."

crier

So that all Criers may be run, all items must be less than 30 words. No lost items will be be seen than 50 words. No lost items will be run. Only one item from a snigle organization will be run in an issue, and no item will appear more than three times. The deadline for all Criera is 5 p.m. the previous day of publication for the previous cay. They may be submitted in Suite 3120, Student Center Criera are run on a space available

SMOKING CESSATION CLINIC planned for the week of April 14-18 meeting daily 4:00-5:00 p.m. A pre-clinic session will be held, April 9, 4:00-5:00 p.m. Preregistration necessary. Dr. Turnbull, 237-2563.

WINDSURFERS - EXPERIENCED? Join competition at St. Mary's College of Marland April 19.20. Into: leave name and phone number addressed to commodore in sailing club mailbox, intramural office 55 fee.

SPACE AND THE LIMITS TO GROWTH a presentation by the L.S. society, also, William Shatner narrates the film 'universe' Tuesday, 7 p.m., 124 Dabney.

BLOOD DRIVE sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity Wednesday, April 9, 11-6 p.m. in the Student Center Ballroom

GRADUATE DAMES planning meeting. April 8, 7:30 p.m. in the Blue Room of the Student Center. Following our meeting, ice cream dutch treat downstairs!

ALS HOTDOG SUPPER. Thursday, April 10, 5:30 7:30. Free to ALS students. Pick up tickets through dept. secretary thru April 4.

SMOKING CESSATION CLINIC planned for the week of April 14.18 meeting daily 4.00.5.30 p.m. A pre-clinic session will be held, April 9, 4.00.5.00 p.m. Preregistration necessary, Dr. Turnbull, 737.7563.

are available at the Student Development of fice. See Mae Jernigan Rm 214 Harris Hall call Rick Lisk at 737 5712. Deadline Frida April 11.

LEARN TO USE TIME effectively. Come to the time management workshop, Friday, April 4, 1980 4 00. Counseling Center, 200 Harris Hall.

SPACE AND THE LIMITS TO GROWTH B
LAST CHANCE AN CH. CSC, MA. PY. ST. MY, presentation by the LS sincely, also, William and GY majors, facility and staff must pur. Statener narrates the limit "universe" Tuesday, chase inckes tuday in departmental utilices to a trace PAMS pince. April 10, 430 until ALS HOTOOG SUPPER Thursday, April 10, ETT REVIEW SESSION Wednesday April 9 530 730. Free to ALS students Pick up "Electrical Engineering" and Thursday April 10 tickets through dept. secretary thru April 4. "Materials" 6 p.m. Mann 218.

LEOPOLO WILDLIFE CLUB convenes Tuesday, April 8, 7 p.m., 3533 Ga. Dr. Richard Lancia

GRADUATE DAMES planning meeting. April 8, 7:90 pm in the Blue Bluam if the Student:
Brothers arrevork uniqual cel paintings. April Center. Following our meeting, see 98 from 10, 7:00 Lobby, first floor Student Cream duch treat downstains?
Center 7:37:3303

CHANCELLOR'S AIDE applications are due to day, April 4. Return to 214 Harris Hall. Call 737,7441, but more information.

Don't

HIRTY & THREE is SMM according at tions from current suphumores through April 9 Pink up and return applications 1714 Har ris Hall Any questions, call Gayle Cook 787 9787.

SOUTHERN ENGINEER MAGAZINE organiza tiinal meeting Wednesday, April 9, 8 p.m. in 227 Daniels. All interested persons please at GERMAN CLUB MEETING Wednesday, April 9, 430 p.m. 112, 1911 Building German scrabble and municipally tournament with prives Election of officers.

ItE LUNCHEON MEETING April 9, noon, Daniels 429 "The Future of Communications Technologies Franc Noel, IBM Optional Junch $125 All interested persons invited get pregnant. Use Contra-Foam.

SOCIETY OF WOMEN ENGINEERS Tuesday April 8, 6 p.m. Bring Union Carbide nomina-tion form and money for spring banquet. Plans for convention to be discussed.

INTRODUCTORY LECTURE on the transcendental meditation program, Tuesday, April 8, 8 p.m. Harrelson Room, D.H. Hill Library, NCSU Please call 834 2183 for info.

ALTERNATIVE ENERGY fair sponsored by "Earth" on April 10 in the Brickyard, Exhibits, speekers, slide shows, natural food, baked goods, music and much more from 9:00 to sundown.

"The Sendenting Gamp of the Sender's Construction Sender's Construction Sender's Construction of Construct

NEXT WEEK'S SPECIAL

Chili Dog

Large Fries

Large Coke

Come and steal yours from the Celerity Line next week. Ground floor of the Student Union

University Food Service

NCSU UNION ACTIVITIES BOARD

Art Competition 1st Prize $75. 2nd Prize $50. 3rd Prize $25.

Subject

Famous People or Places in Black History

amous reopie or riaces in black filetory

2 division: Faculty-staff / Students

No photographs or sculptures
Entries must be submitted on April 8, 1980 at Rm 3114 Student Center.

Entries displayed April 9-12 on the 2nd floor of the Student Center.

Judging to take place on April 11.

Winning entries become the property of the UAB.

WITH CONTRA FOAM S PATENTED SINGLE STEP ATTACHED APPLICATOR THERES • NO WAITING • NO FUMBLING • NO MESS IT'S THAT SIMPLE TO PREVENT PREGNANCY. CONTRA FOAM CONTAINS APPROXIMATELY 30 APPLICATIONS BUT ITS SMALL ENOUGH TO FIT INTO YOUR POCKET OR PURSE CONTRA-FOAM IS AVAILABLE WITHOUT PRESCRIPTION A 00 OFF

Technician Opinion

Glad you could make it

this:
"When are you leaving?"
"Wednesday at noon."
"You mean you're skipping all your classes on Thursday and Friday?"
"Well, I only have a couple."
"Hey, that sounds pretty good. I don't have anything I really have to do on Thursday and Friday. I think I'll leave Wednesday too."
And then there's this scenario:
Professor shows up for class on Friday and sees a lone student twiddling his thumbs in the back row—he lives in Raleigh, and he has to

In case you missed it . .

Calls concerning the Jack and Jill Rent-A-Body advertisement in the entertainment section of our April Fools' paper were entertaining, to say the least. We do appreciate the response we received, but we do not have a sufficient number of bodies to accommodate the approximately 100 calls to the Technician office starting about 8 a.m. and ending about 2:30 a.m. For those whose Jack's and Jill's did not show up, well, we're sorry. We have a limited staff. Due to the discontent expressed to us Thursday because many Rent-A-Body requests were not fulfilled, we have decided to discontinue this service as we, at this time, cannot provide enough bodies. Thank you.

BILLY'S GLUED TO THE TV. ASAIN

Can we remain unmoved?

Larry Bliss

be at work that afternoon at 3:30 so he thought he might as well come to class. The professor decides to get even with all the students who have left early, so he gives the lone student four pages of notes which "will definitely be on the test next Wednesday." But this student will probably flunk anyway because all he can think about are his friends who are at the heach picking up seachells.

who are at the beach picking up seashells or whatever. Oh, well.

Getting students to attend class immediate Nother's Day or Lincoln's, Washington's or Hoover's Dirthdays is like trying to get a piece of melted Bazooka off the bottom of your ten-

Hoover's birthdays is like trying to get a piece of melted Bazooka off the bottom of your tennis shoe—you just can't do it.

Attendance decreases by thirds as holidays approach. Wednesday, two-thirds of the class is present; Thursday, one-third makes it to class; Friday, nobody's there. Some professors make it easy. A history professor says: "100 years ago this coming Friday yam fritters were declared an important food item, and due to their important contribution to our society, it is my opinion that we should take a day in observance of the sweet potato. Those concurring with this feeling, raise your hand." Class is canceled, of course.

But skipping class before breaks is not to be commended ... exactly. Those reading this observation of the lack of class participation, shall we say, would probably argue that they are the ones deserving a pat on the back for dragging out of bed, picking up this Technician to read before class starts (ha, ha) and somehow making it to their 7:50. We agree. So here it is.

forum

Miffed about myths

The article in Friday's Technician about sex myths was well-written and contained some important information. It was also amusing to find a blatant example, later in the paper, of one of the many ways these myths get started. The advertisement for Contra-Foam, a birth control foam, implies that use of the of the product will absolutely prevent pregnancy. Foam is certainly better than nothing and can be very effective if used in conjunction with another method, but by itself it is a poor choice for a woman who really does not want to become pregnant.

mant.

these are the facts from the current literature, the possibility exists that it is a revolutionary product which will outdate all existing s-but I doubt it. Better read the fine print.

Leland S. Greenler SR MAE

Lazy voters

I feel as though we are all taking the election of our nation's next leader much too lightly. Throughout the country the number of people voting is far less than those able to vote. It seems as if no one is satisfied with the way our government is being operated.

Yet, now that we have a chance to do Yet, now that we have a chance to do take time to vote. The votes of the young adults are crucial, foi it is we who will be most affected by the man elected. I think it is about time that we stop complaining and do something to get the affairs of our country in line. I hope that we people of North Carolina can show the rest of our nation how much we want to lead our country back to the prominence we once had.

'A new, vibrant leader such as Republican John B. Anderson is the man to lead us back to such a stature.

such a stature.

I urge everyone to register by April 8, vote on May 6, and let's show the rest of the people in our nation that we in North Carolina greatly care what is to be the fate of our country.

Robert D. Repass Jr. FR CSC

Administration cares

On behalf of Bowen Hall, we would like to express our appreciation to the following men for their prompt response to our request for help concerning security problems in our dormitory: Banks Talley, Charles Haywood, Chuck Oglesby, Lanny Cross, Eli Panee, Jim Collins and Jim Cunningham.

and Jim Cunningham.

All of these men worked together to increase ecurity around the dorm; thereby making our formitory safer for the residents. We would like here men to know that their efforts were not inrecognized and their cooperation was appreciated by the entire dorm.

This prowade to the their cooperation was appreciated by the entire dorm.

Mary's the mother

Mary's the mother

The reason that God is called a "he" is not for "linguistic convenience", as you stated, but because Jesus Christ is a he, or rather a "He."

Jesus Christ is spoken of as a god and he is expressly called God, and rightly so.

He was a divine person who possessed the nature of God. Jesus Christ is also spoken of as real man and called a man.

The nature of God did not become man, nor did the nature of man become divine. They are and will remain distinct.

In him they were united into one, and were possessed by the same person, Jesus Christ.

Saint Paul spoke of Jesus Christ as one "Who though ... he was by nature God, did not consider being equal to, but emptied himself, taking the nature of a slave. And being made like unto man, and appearing in the form of man he humbled himself ... even to the death of the cross" (Phil. 2:6-8).

He who was God by reason of his divine nature became man by taking unto himself human nature.

This explanation brings me to my next objection to your article. You speak freely of Mary as the mother of Jesus, but you fail to mention the fact that at the same time she is the mother of God.

God.

I reason that you hesitate to call her the mother of God because you do not fully understand the total meaning of incarnation. The maner in which Mary conceived Christ is one thing.

The fact that she really conceived him is another. Mary did not exist before God took human form in her womb. She was not merely the mother of a son, but the mother of a divine son.

配

Mary became the mother of God when the embryonic body of Christ was enlivened by his soul. At that instant, God began his human life in her womb. This took place because she consented to the message of Gabriel (after all, we possess free will).

Therefore, she has every right to be called the mother of God. That in itself shows the significance of women's role in the Bible.

Larry M. Hajnos SO IE

Outrage unwarranted

Certain aspects of the reported polling ir-gularities in last week's student body elections e much in need of more explanation and/or smissal.

Carson Cato reported to the Technician and the Metcalf house council that approximately copositions had been taken by Student overtiment from students wishing to complain yout the politing procedures.

six depositions had been taken by Student Government from students wishing to complain about the polling procedures.

I examined five of the complaints. One complained about the location of one of the polls. One was, at best, an insult to its author, and two were filed by Student Government residence hall government officials requesting an investigation of the complaints and/or rumors they had heard.

On Tuesday, March 18, Student Government placed the colliseum poll under the shelter at the front of the colliseum. The poll operators reported that a vote was cast about once every 20 minutes. Since the sun had come out, the poll operators moved the poll into the sunshine (to warm themselves), and incidentally, to a more visible location. The number of voters rose considerably, as was attested by the well-filled ballot box.

The first complaint alleged that the poll was hidden from easy view by the two trees which it sat between (on the concrete walk in front of Reynolds). This location was, at worst, far better than where the poll had been. Proof lies in the increased turnout. Besides, I could see it, and I am legally blind.

The second complaint was filed by student bedu resident candidate. Mark Beed. When am legally blind.

The second complaint was filed by student body president candidate Mark Reed. When casting his vote at the Student Center poll, Reed first joined into a conversation with one of the poll operators, who incidentally knew him quite well. The conversation turned to a general ribbing of Reed. The other poll operator, fully aware of who Mark Reed was, after joining in the ribbing, offered him ballots and asked him if he wouldn't prefer to vote for one of his opponents.

The eyewitness account of the first poll operator, Reed's friend, leaves no doubt that anyone should have recognized the intended humor. Reed's complaint indicates either his inability to pay attention and understand or that was fishing for ways to win the election by default, since an outright win was impossible. The next two complaints, though perhaps valid, cannot be taken as complaints against the actual polling.

(How in

HECK DO

THEY EXPECT

ME TO-BURP-

CUT DOWN S

plaints may have been filed. I am not aware of the content of either. Of six or seven complaints, not more than three are credible.

If three complaints are what remains after careful examination of all the evidence, it seems fair to assume that only three-sevenths to a half of the reported complaints which were not registered with Student Government can be credited. Of the nearly 120 people who manned the polls, complaints against at most six, hardly warrants the mass outrage directed at the committee which manned the polls and against the Living-Learning program.

In all fairness, it is probably best that Metcalf was removed from operating the polls. Not only does it relieve a great deal of pressure on the workers' schedules, but it removes all question about the fairness of Joe Gordon's candidacy about the fairness of Joe Gordon's candidacy and vote fally. I cannot, however, accept the criticism which is sure to be-directed at the Metcalf program as a result of these unfortunate events. Similar events have been reported in previous elections. It seems to have been decided that the final solu-

I hope the average student is willing to realize that the actions of a half dozen people cannot be taken either as an indication of the value of the Metcalf program, or of its residents, 430 of them in all.

In closing, I wish to extend to the student body the apologies of the polling committee. We hope that the charges against us did not alter your decision to vote. Regardless of the actions of a few, it still remains that voting is our responsibility.

Dees blasted

In previous issues of the Technician, the "Forum" has been filled with letters attacking your blissfully ignorant columnist from room 27. I can understand the fire he has drawn, but what your blissfully ignorant columnist from room 27. I can understand the fire he has drawn, but what I don't understand is why no criticism is ever directed at the one egotistical pedant who is the major determent to Technician's success—Mr. G.A. "all rights reserved" Dees. It is my opinion that this insufferable excuse for a cartoonist has no business being a part of this or any other newspaper. The man has little if any drawing ability and his attempts at humor leave me drier than stale bread in the Sahara. Where did he get the idea that he was the greatest thing to happen to editorial cartoons since the late Thomas Nast? Really, Mr. Dees, copyrighting your cartoons?! You needn't worry, no one in his right mind would copy your scribblings and claim them to be his own. And as for your "Glory Warriors," have you ever considered writing commercials for Pepto Bismol?

Last year I submitted cartoons to the Technician on a more or less regular basis, but after seeing Mr. Dees' atroctous serious page layout earlier this sensers in which he carmmed Gartoons one page, I have decided I would rather burn my work than submit it and see it suffer at the hands of a child.

Karl A. Zorowski

Technician

Editor.....Andrea Cole Jeffrey Jobe
Margaret Britt
Bryan Black
Stu Hall
Mike Mahan
Lucy Procter
Lynn McNeill
Gene Dees Assistant Sports Editor Features Editor Entertainment Editor Photo Editor

Typesetters.......Duncan Brown,
Margaret Haney, Lori McElravy,
Donnie Robbins ProofreadersTucker Johnson
Martha Doss, Jeffery Hammond
Service EngineerJohn Craver

Circulation

Senior Editor.....John Flesher

man on the cross slumped, finally cried "Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord."

The Greek had learned much about this Messiah. He was a man of extraordinary influence; thousands left their homes to hear him preach the imminent coming of the kingdom of God. Indeed, this carpenter from Nazareth seemed more popular than priests and scribes of the temple.

The Greek shook his head in dismay. This Jesus could talk all he wanted, but in the long run nothing would be changed. The Romans would continue to occupy Judea. Hosannas and palm leaves were no match against the massed power of a Roman legion.

So he wasn't surprised when the people turned against their would-be redeemer. It was an old story, the Greek thought. To remain popular you must deliver on your promises. If you didn't, the public discarded you like burned-out coals.

The Greek remembered another teacher: Socrates He was also executed, and his great the stage of the processes. like burned-out coals.

The Greek remembered another teacher:
Socrates. He was also executed, and his great wisdom had done nothing to save Greece

Spark

The cross made a shadow on the ground. A drop of blood fell in that shadow and spattered the dust.

from the Roman armies.

The sky grew dark, Jesus cried out. The Greek had trouble understanding him, but it sounded as though Jesus was giving up his

To his amazement, a strange joy seized the Greek's heart. He felt a weight lift from him. His resigned acceptance of the inevitability of Jesus' death left him. Somehow the death of the Messiah had set him free. The Greek was bewildered. The philosophers never discovered how man could have freedom. How could they have been wrong, and this dead Nazarene right?

The shadow of the Cross lengthened across centuries. Crucifixion and Resurrection faded into history. And yet, they still exerted their hold on the hearts and minds of Man.

treed the dust.

A man hung on that cross. That morning the crowd before him had shouted down Pilate's protests that the man they wanted him to kill was innocent. Now they were content to heckle and laugh.

One man held his tongue. He was a Greek trader and no stranger to Jerusalem. He watched the scene with a cynical, detached gaze. "Save yourself, Messlah" jered an old man. The Greek recognized him—a week earlier the same man had hailed Jesus, had cried "Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord."

The Greek had learned much about this He couldn't breathe. He wanted to desperately, but he couldn't. He was dying. Fair enough, he thought. A lot of people had died because of him—when he made his bombs, they worked. And now a bomb had gotten him. Fair enough.

Just before he blacked out, he saw someone standing over him. He caught a glimpse of a red and white armband, a mouth descending over his. Then he went under.

A while later, he woke up. He was breathing. The terrorist feit a tightness around his chest. He opened his eyes and saw the Red Cross nurse wrapping a bandage around him. "Why?" he asked hoarsely

"You were dying. I got you breathing jain," the nurse said without pausing in her again, the furse said without pausing in he work.

"I've killed dozens of people. You've seen them. I don't deserve this."

"You were dying," she repeated: "I couldn't let you."

The sound of gunfire outside cut off his protest. "Get down!" he shouted.

There was an explosion of blood. The terrorist heard the nurse's body hit the floor. He didn't have to look.

"She's dead. She never hurt anyone," he mumbled. And then he found himself screaming, "It's not fair!" He was still screaming when the police picked him up.

For the crime of killing the son of God we deserved to die. And yet God brought him back to life. God forgave us for the murder of God, and he forgives us for the wounds we inflict on others. Given that, how can we remain unmanued?