Technician

Raieigh, North Carolina

Repairs disrupt fiscal balance

■ With the end of the fiscal year only three weeks away, the athletics department finds itself over budget.

By JOSEE DAOUST

News Eurose

Due to some unexpectedly high and urgent repair costs, the proverbial budgetary belt around the N.C. State athletics department's waist will be pretty tight until June 30.

Until the new budget year rolls around, the department is having to cut costs after some repairs requiring hundreds of thousands of dollars had to be made, said Todd Turner, NCSU athletics director.

Case Athletics Center's roof had to be replaced after it sprung a leak — at a cost of $250,000. While the roof was being replaced, asbestos left over from the original construction of the building has to be removed, Turner said.

"We had the money budgeted for from the criginal construction of the building has to be removed, Turner said.

"We had the money budgeted for these unexpected costs, but unfortunately it is costing more these unexpected for," Turner said. The expenses add up to almost $50,000.

Nearly $200,000 was spent on reposations made to Carte Finley.

5500,000.

Nearly $200,000 was spent on renovations made to Carter-Finley Stadium's press box to comply with safety codes, and electrical work was done in the A.E. Finley field house.

"We found out that we under-budgeted in these areas," Turner budgeted in these areas." Turner said.

The department has addressed the problem in two ways. Turner said.

Turner and the department are currently trying to contain costs by deferring equipment purchases until after June 30 and limiting trips ya athletics department officials. Other cuts include limiting summer school attendance to scholarship athletes who need it for eligibility reasons or to graduate on time.

"We have had to stop spending money for ongoing maintenance, meeting travel and anything that isn't essential for competition," Turner said.

Turner said.

But with this year's increases in revenue from NCAA distribution, men's basketball ticket sales and the football team's victory at the Peach Bowl, the department found tistelf with more money than it expected.

itself with more money man it expected.

The NCAA yielded $100,000 when it redistributed some money from the renegotiated basketball contract, Turner said.

contract, Turner said.

However, Turner said the financial windfall wasn't enough to cover the unexpected expenses.

But with the end of the fiscal year upcoming, Turner said the $14.5 million budget will be balanced.

A great new stadium, no Bull

The New Bull Pen

The tradition continues at the new Durham Bulls Athletic Park.

BY KEITH CRAWFORD

he Durham Bulls have a new home.
But no need to worry Bulls fans, the tradition of the famous Durham Athletic Park lives on.
The new Durham Bulls Athletic Park (DBAP), designed by HOK, the same architects who designed Baltimore's Oriole Park at Camden Yards and Denver's Coors Field, is head and shoulders above the old park.
"The new park is absolutely beautiful," pitcher

ANDERW DAVE TRUME/SPECIAL TO TECHNICAL WOOL E. Bull, the Durham Bulls mascot, strolls across the entrance courtyard at the new Durham Bulls Athletic Park. The architects used lots of brick and steel to make the ballpark, fit in with the rest of downtown Durham.

Maurice Christmas said. "I love playing here."

Players and fans alike have fallen in love with the new park. It's not just a field, but a cathedral. Pitcher Micah Bowie got married on the pitchers' mound at a recent game in the DBAP. While his reception was in a skybox, the netire wedding party kept the usual game tradition of adnacing to "YMCA" on the dugouts — groomsmen on the home dugout, bridesmaids on the visitors' side.

"I really like the new stadium because it gives the fans everything they need," team mascot Wool E. Bull said. "Everyone has a great seat, and I can get access to every part of the stadium. There were parts of the old stadium that I just couldn't get to."

The DBAP features air-conditioned luxury boxes and local flavor concessions like the El Toro Grille.

Toro Grille.

The park is also a great place to bring the

See DBAP, Page 3

More time to cut down class load in fall

■ The extended drop period, which was passed last year, goes into effect this fall.

BY EMILY SUTTON

Students will now have six weeks to decide whether a class is worth hanging on to.

Although the resolution to extend the drop period from four to six weeks was passed last year, it goes into effect this fall.

Hugh Fuller, chair of Academic Policy of Faculty Senate, helped to lead the Senate to extend the date for students to be able to drop courses.

for students to be able to usup-ourses.

"The reason we extended the dro-date is because we felt the faculty needed more time to give students significant feedback on how they are doing in the class," said Fuller. Four weeks sometimes isn't enough time for students to decide whether or not they in are over their head, explained Fuller. "By extending the drop date, we will increase the likelihood of teachers giving students feedback, so that students can make a good decision about the class," Fuller said.

Ruffin Bailey, who was the chair of the Academics Committee the year before last, also helped lead the initiative to extend the drop date.

Bailey's biggest concern was that professors would give quizzes in the first four weeks that were not representative of the work load for the entire semester.

representative of ne work road for the entire senseter.

Some faculty members were concerned that too many students will be dropping too many classes, Fuller said.

Linda Holley, Associate Head and Director for the Undergraduate programs in the English department, doesn't agree with extending the drop date.

"I think it's a bad idea because I think students ought to commit themselves to the course and work hard to complete it," she said.

"The faculty should tell the students where they stand immediately by assigning and grading papers as early as possible, "Holley said," It hink it's a very bad idea."

However, some teachers agree that students need more time.

"I think it's a good idea to give students a chance to see where they stand," said D.E. Garoutte, Associate Head for Mathematics. "Typically there has only been one test in the first four weeks. With six weeks, there has been two. Students need to be able to take two tests to determine their standpoint."

The support for the extended drop period raises some other concerns, though.

"I voted for it because I would like students to have a major test before the drop date, but at the same time it delays the student from psychologically committing themselves to the course," said Mohan Sawhney, Associate Dean of Academic Affairs in the College of Humantites and Social Sciences.

The policy is likely to aid of Humanties and Social Sciences. The policy is likely to aid upperclassmen more than freshman, said John Gilligan, Associate Dean of Engineering and Academic Affairs.

"I think it will help the sophomores, juniors and seniors because they will know how to take advantage of it," said Gilligan. Freshmen, however, typically find out their troubles at the end of the semester, long after the six weeks is over with."

Clare, Casey, sophomore in over with."

Clare Casey, sophomore in coololgy, agrees with the new policy.

"It's good because you can get a good feel for how you're going to be able to perform in the class before it's too late," Casey said.

Student Body President John O'Quinn was on the committee to extend the drop date, along with Academic Committee Chairman Andy Crocker.

"O'Quinn and Crocker were year."

"O'Quinn and Crocker were very persuasive and represented the student viewpoint very well," said Fuller.

Woman shocked on Hillsborough Street

A man was charged with indecent exposure after someone listening to a scanner called Public Safety.

By JOSEE DAOUST

Ona Jackson, a Packbackers employee, got an unexpected surprise on her way back to work May 31.

A man drove by in a burgundy

Ford Ranger and exposed himself to her while masturbating, she said. She later identified John Wayne Moore, who was arrested.

Moore, who was arrested.

Jackson said she was on her way back from her usual rounds on N.C. State's campus to pick up textbook orders from professors when the incident occured. She was waiting to cross the Hillsborough Street when she saw the truck pass by.

"I thought I recognized the truck as one of my friends', but when it

When the truck passed again, he almost came to a complete stop. She looked at him and then noticed he was only wearing a white jersey and had his penis exposed.

"He was masturbating," Jackson said. "I was so shocked that I threw my hands over my mouth and kept thinking 'What the hell was he doing?"."

Jackson said she wasn't scared.
"I must have been too shocked to be frightened by it. Nothing like this had ever happened to me before," she said.

she said.

Jackson then ran back to Packbackers and called Public Safety.

The next day a person who had been listening to a police scanner when the call came in recognized

See Exposure, Page 3

Look out for the....screech!

SALVADOR FARRAN/St.

Cars parked in the right lane of Hillsborough Street surprised some motorists. The extra spaces provided compensate for the parking ban that took effect June 8.

Inside Wednesday

Baseball:

Experience the new DBAP in pictures. Page 3 >

et cetera: Don't touch that dial. Bet you wish you could. Page 2 >

Sports: A soaking by a mascot highlights local minor league rivals. Page 3 > et cetera: An NCSU professor os pre Southern culture.

Page 2 >

How to Reach Us

et cetera page 2 Sports page 3

Opinion page 4

World Wide Web: http://www.2ncsu.edu/ncsu/ stud_pubs/Technician/ Campus Forum-TechForum-L@NCSU.Edu Press Releases: TechPress-L@NCSU.Edu Information: TechInfo@NCSU.Edu

Music for all people?

■ Hypothesis: Top 40 radio targets a diverse generation.

generation.

Ah, summer school — when a young engineer's fancy turns to dynamics problems and long hours at an uncomfortable desk. Being a young engineer, the only solace I find in these long working periods is my trusty radio, and more specifically our local paragon of auditory entertainment. WDCG.

For those of you who listen only in your cars or in the morning, you may not have gotten a large enough sample to notice that G105 has developed a certain pattern.

The station seems to own only five or six compact disc singles. This handful of songs are set to run in an interminable cycle. In a two-hour study session, I will have heard the Rembrandt's "I'll Be There for You" (a.k.a. the "Friends" theme song) enough times that those five little claps in the first verse have become a physical tic that I can't control when involved in daily activities. If I hear another song belied out by Hootie and the Blowfish. I'm not responsible for what I'll do after "Let her cry" plays once more.

If Dave Matthews asks me one more time "What would you say?" I'd say to dear ol' Dave that he would probably find more variety on the Fashion Cafe menu than on G105's play list. I'd probably also beg him to release another single so that the endless cycle of his current hit would finally grind to a halt.

It also seems that the "G" tries to play an exactly equal ratio of top 40 R&B (i.e. TLC) and pop (i.e. Sheryl Crow and the like). My roommate, Kurt, hypothesizes that you'll almost never hear two R&B ongs or pure pop songs in a row. We tested this hypothesis and found that it held for close to five hours. We couldn't stand to hear Pearl Jam's "Better Man" followed by a Boyz II Men single for a fifth time, so the experiment was prematurely aborted, and the CD player was put into action. The point was proved: G105 apparently tries to make up for lack of variety by varying music genres with every other song. At this point, you're probably thinking "Listen to this guy. Why doesn't he just turn the damn radio off?" The truth is. I kind of get a strange high by being able to predict the next song played on the radio. Seriously, the "G" does a good job of keeping me entertained. If it's not the actual music I like, it's the chuckle Jet when hearing the raucous opening strains of The tawdry but disgustingly catchylytics of "Red Light Special."

> Jason Piche

From this song I learned more slang sexual terms than you'd ever hear in a crowded locker room.

I guess there's also something to be said for the comfort of familiarity with the music played, which you'll never lack after itsening for an hour or more at a time. It's like one of those days where you can't get some song you heard out of your head, except it's more like a list of a few songs that were drilled into my head the night before.

To the folks at G105, all I can say is that you should expand your

To the folks at G105, all 1 can say is that you should expand your horizons just a little. I know your station has a format and demographics outline that dictates what music makes your ad time most attractive to sponsors, but in the name of mercy, throw in some old R.E.M. and lay off those "Strange Currencies" for a while. I know Hootie I loves his royalties, but you've made him a small fortune in the last week by my calculations. And why kill the appeal of a good band by small fortune in the last week by my calculations. And why kill the appeal of a good band by overplaying it? If it's bot, new music you seek then try a little Elastica, or maybe Seal or Jill Sobule's "I Kissed a Girl," which always tends to elicit a very entertaining and laughable complaint call to the station. There's good new music coming out every day that could fit the G105 format without making its listeners nauseous with an overdose of Stone Temple Pilots. In the meantime, I'll keep listening, I'm having too much fun to stop now.

Plus, I can sing along with every single song I hear. I must confess, I'm listening to G105 right now.

the kinds of places where southern folklore still thrives.

Story-telling carries on

■ Folklore will continue to be part of our culture — that is if we preserve it.

By TIFFANY A. McLEOD

Maybe you've heard some of Person County's superstitions before. "If you kill a cricket, there will be a thunderstorm; "Sleeping on your back will cause bad dreams;" or "If your eye jumps, someone is talking about you." Superstitions are only a fraction of what Person County history has to offer.

of what Person County history has to offer.

Are memories such as these in danger of disappearing forever?

Not if Dr. Jim Clark, English professor and director of N.C. State's Humanities Extension/Publications Program, can help it.

Clark wants to keep the art of storytelling alive in North Carolina by gathering, compiling and publishing Tolklore about North Carolina's 100 counties for distribution to county cooperative extension offices, local libraries and public schools.

In October 1993, individual county extension agents conducted a survey of all 100 counties to find a subject for the booklets, Architecture, slavery, the Civil War and literature were among the topics suggested through the survey, but folklore was the most popular.

A bost of stories recipes, food lins.

opular.

A host of stories, recipes, food tips,
mmunity histories, names, perstitions, proverbs, photos and ustrations make up "The Rock and e Nail." the Person County folklore pooklet that was published this past rear.

It is amazing how many different ways there are to make cakes, pies and outp when browsing through "The kock and the Nail."
"The variation of one apple pie eceipe among different areas is astounding." Clark said.

SALES MERCHANDISER

This is a part-time position. The job requires the pricing of merchandise, putting up of stock assisting other sales persons, product knowledge, telephone skills, and other realted duties. Apply at Agri-Supply, 409 Hwy 70 East, Garner. No Phone Calls

The folklore project gathers historical material directly from citizens within North Carolina's citizens within North Carolina's counties.

"Emphasis is on gathering material that the public believes is true folklore. Rather than telling people what their folklore is, we invite people to tell the elements of folklore as they know them." Clark said. "We will honor their interest in themselves."

Clark and the College of Humanities and Social Sciences staff organized a seminar in Person County for interested citizens. Mostly teachers and librarians attended the four-session seminar where Clark lectured on the folklore project.

Participants collected historical material for the Person County booklet. A committee of seminar participants organized, revised and channed. The material. The participants organized, revised and shaped the material. The Humanities Extension office at NCSU reproduced the material into a booklet.

a booklet.

Clark took enough booklets back to Person County for every participant, public school and public library and branch within the county and for the Person County Cooperative Extension Service.

"We can see e-mail and other applications of computers and telephones will facilitate our daily lives but leave no record of how we live them." Clark said. "Possible efforts to celebrate and archive local culture are still very worthwile." So far, Lee and Person counties have had folklore booklets published by the N.C. State tumanities Extension/Publication Program, which is funded by the state. Each booklet is between 50 and 60 pages long. "The Rock and the Nail" features a note from faculty and staff of the Humanities Extension/Publication Program granting special permission to readers to reproduce any or all of the booklet, which can be obtained at the local county extension office.

Answers

Crossword Puzzle

be obtained at the local county extension office. The Person County booklet ends with an afterword from Clark suggesting other North Carolina folklore references that may be equally enjoyable to readers, including the Brown Collection of North Carolina folklore, which was published 20 years ago by Duke University Press.

The "Gateway to North Carolina Folklore," the Brown Collection's multi-volume folklore series, has a strong academic appearance to it. But the series of booklets that will result from Clark's decade-long project will "have more of a look of the people."

COST CUTTERS"

FAMILY HAIR CARE

We're your style:

went Ferry Shopping Cent

M-F 10-8

Sun 12-5

Tarro

Thursday is College Night

99¢ House Drinks 99¢ Shooters 99¢ Draft Beer

$3.00 Cover - Students with ID $5.00 Cover - All Others

Main Room DJ Plays Alternative/High Energy

Back Room D] Plays Disco

912 W Hodges Raleigh, NC Raleigh, NO 834-5797

Saturday June 17th

Lords Of Acid Thrill Kill Kult

The Ritz

$15 advance $17 night of the show Tickets Available through Ticket Master

WANT FREE, LEGAL, ENTERTAINMENT? DO YOU LIKE TO WRITE? or online via our Web page. Experience is not neccesary, but you must be willing to learn.

era needs staff writers for the 1995 - 1996 Academic Year. Apply at 323 Witherspoon Student your Student Health Service would say that very surely an astronaut is a whirled traveler.

open 8am-11 pm Mon-Friday, 8am-4pm Sat-Sunday (Fall semester, except breaks/holidays) (Summer hours 8-5, M-F) 515-2563

On-campus convenience (near Quad residence halls; corner of Pullen Rd. & Cates Ave.

Center for Health Directions

7 full-time physicians (8:30am-4:15pm, Mon.-Fri.)

233-0058

Walk-Ins Welcome

Medical appointments - 515-7107

Student Pharmacy (8:00am-5:00pm, Mon.-Fri.)

Gynecology clinic (appointments - 515-7762)

Self care center, Lab & x-ray

Confidentiality of medical records

Nominal charge for certain services

"quality resources and programs for health promotion"
Four professional educators on staff 515-WELL (9355)

A night at the Bullpark

(Right) Young autograph hounds have a field day efore a game. The stands te anyl two inches above e field. (Below right) Bulls pitcher Micah Bowle (middle, apparently looking for divine intervention) imitates art by getting married on the pitcher's mound before st Saturday night's game against Frederick.

new ballbark to fit in with the azure of downtown Durham and its old tobacco factories. (Right) Sandy Simpkins and her son grab a bite to eat on level one of the three-level party patio in right field. In the lower level you can enjoy the cuisine of the world (amous Plying Burrito and steal a home run ball away from the right fielder.

Minor league baseball strike leaves writer all wet

DBAP

Continued from Page 1
family. An arcade and playground provide enough entertainment to keep the younger Bulls fans occupied.

The three-level picnic grounds in the rightfield bleachers are a far cry from the grassy knoll at the old park. Many of the new park's design elements are derived from the DAP to keep a familiar feeling.

"They had a lot of tradition there," pitcher Jeff Bock said. "But time does go on."

Spectators from all over the Triangle are catching Bulls fever.
The Bulls are not your typical minor league baseball team. After Kewin Costner put the team on the map in "Bull Durham," the Bulls are considered the zenith of the minor league experience.

The new stadium is not a place to bury old traditions, but to continue the old ones and start new ones.
Just like the old ballpark, the DBAP has a mechanical bull that blows smoke and wags its tail when a Bulls player makes a home run.
And players still win the steak dinner for hitting the ball on the fly.

The park has also added its own version of Fenway Park's "Green Monster."

"I ove the walls," Christmas said.
"I'm from Boston, and the

The park has also added its own version of Penway Park's "Green Monster."

"Il ove the walls," Christmas said.
"I'm from Boston, and the scoreboard reminds me of home."

The stadium is not appreciated only by the home team and the fans.
"I've always wanted to play here." Christmas said. "Players from other teams always tell me how great it is to play in Durham."

This is due partly to the Bull's loyal fans. From the ubiquitous seventh- inning stretch singing of "Take me out to the ballgame" to Wool E. Bull, the entire stadium joins in the schick.
"They 're just crazy, I've neves even anything like it." Wool E. Bull said. "They love it."

Attendance at the DBAP is consistently in the top 10 for all of minor legage baseball. The crowded grandstand influences the action on the field.
"It's a greage baseball. The crowded grandstand influences the action on the field."
"It's a great training atmosphere for a player," said Bill Slack, a pitching coach for II seasons in the Braves organization. "You're playing to a capacity or near capacity crowd every time."

The Union Activities Board is sponsoring a trip to the the new

The Union Activities Board is sponsoring a trip to the the new Durham Bulk Athletic Park tonight. Transportation and admission are provided, but seats are lumited. Peregistration is required. Departure time is 6 pm. from the Student Center. Call 515-2451 to see if space is still available.

Convenient locations to serve you

PUBLIC COPIER LOCATIONS

Brooks Design Library Broughton 3231 Copy Center/Laundry Lobby Ordan Natural Resources Library

Copy Center Latuny Loosy
Jordan Natural Resources Library
Mann 415
McKimmot Center Annex Lobby
McKimmot Center Annex Lobby
Active Library
Pullen 2106
Schaub Lounge
Student Center Lobby First Floor
Student Center Lobby Second Floor
Textiles Copy Center
Textiles Library
Textiles Student Lounge
Veterinary Medicine Library
Weaver Lounge
Weaver Lounge

VALUE ADDER LOCATIONS FOR PURCHASING CARDS AND ADDING VALUE

Brooks 203 (School of Design) Copy Center/Laundry Lobby Jordan Natural Resources Library Poe Learning Resources Library Student Center (handicap accessible/open weekends) Textiles Student Lounge (adding value only) Veterinary Medicine Library

WolfCopy is a service of University Graphics. Box 7226, Sullivan Drive Raleigh, NC 27695-7226 515-2131

EGG DONORS AND SURROGATES WANTED

Special Need For Donors of Asian, Jewish, and Hispanic Descent. Please help our infertile couples. Will pay $1,500 for completed

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL 1-919-233-1680

NCCRM IN RALEIGH/CARY- 204 ASHVILLE AVE, SUITE 60

W OPEN: Commons at University Place behind South Square Mall in Du

GUARANTEED DELICIOUS T

Our bagels have to make the grade before they make the basket.

the resnest ingredients, kettle-boiled, and baked to a golden finish on a real stone hearth. And every single one has to be perfect. Because they're guaranteed. If you don't like them, we eat them ourselves. Not that we mind.

BRUEGGER'S BAGEL BAKERY
The Best Thing Round

RALEGIE 1.201 Hildsorough Soner * Sonah Hills Male Pleasant Valley Prosentaler Sonan Square, Falls of the Neur Rel. 2 Minutes Carlo Stage Stage

Attention Faculty and Staff Copy Center Free Stapling & Collating with the purchase of e standard printing job. 515-3460 3 Convenient Locations to Serve You

WE DELIVER QUALITY

You Can Be Proud Of

Exposure

we declared to include this column about a writer's trip last August to Five County Stadium. The column originally appeared in Technician last August.

Beware of land-lubbing

catfish packin' watergung and balloons.

In a baseous.

I have been a minor league baseball fan for most of my life. Growing up in Kinston and attending a lot of Class A Carolina League Kinston Eagles, Blue lays, Eagles (again) and, since 1987, Indians games has given me an appreciation of the minor league version of the game. So when a friend came up with four free box seat tickets for the Carolina Mudcats, I immediately canceled all my Saturday night plans and made the 20 mile trip down U.S. 64 to Five County Stadium.

Stadium. It was Elvis night at the ballpark Elvis and his look-a-likes had free admission.

"Have a-hunka-hunk of a good time," the usher said as he tore our tickets at the gate.
As we climbed the steps to reach our seats, I saw Muddy, the Mudcats' mascot, dancing on the need help. Jackson shares this sentiment.

Continued from Page 1 the truck on campus. They called Public Safety and an officer was dispatched.

The man

"This is a sickness, and I am just glad they caught him before he did something worse," Jackson said.

"I would advise anyone to whom this happens to call the police immediately." This is the kind of hing that could lead to him raping another woman instead of just exposing himself, Jackson said.
"It really is a matter of control." Jackson said. "He just did it to get a reaction out of me."

Moore was arrested, positively identified and taken to Wake County Publis Safety Center.
"Indecent exposure is a misdemeanor, and is punishable by up to six months in jail or a $500 fine," Ellis said. dispatched.

The man was arrested after Officer
J.D. Szymeczek searched his car.

The arrest report says that when the officer approached the car from behind he could see that Moore appeared to be pulling up his pants.
Jackson positively identified the truck before she identified him as the suspect at Public Safety Headquarters.

Crime Prevention Officer Larry Ellis said people who commit crimes such as these are sick and visitor's dugout dressed as Elvis. The comeback Elvis from the early '70s. Sideburns, cape and bell-bottoms. He spun around and stared straight at me. I gave him a nod and headed up the stairs to my seat. The next minute seemed like an eternity.

Hunter Morris

The next minute seemed like an eternity.

Suddenly, water was flying everywhere. My friend just in front of me was the first casualty. His reaction to Muddy's ambush was tost opedau in his tracks, leaving me with no place to go and no cover. It was like fish shooting people in a barrel. I covered up the camera I was carrying and braced for my turn. He sprayed my friend for about a second, then turned the gun on me.

on me.

They call it SuperSoaker for a darn good reason. Muddy unloaded the rest of an almost full tank on my shirt and pants. Confused and in shock, I stumbled and collapsed

"Bless his heart. That boy is soaked to the bone," the woman behind me said to her husband. "I need help. Jackson shares this wonder why Muddy did that."

I wondered, too. In fact, I wondered, too. In fact, I wondered aloud several times what would possess a man dressed as a catfish impersonating Elvis to pull a cheap shot that would make the Washington Capitals' Dale Hunter proud. I swore I'd get revenge.

Was it the clook in my eyes?
Was it the clook in my eyes?
It suddenly hit me why the normally annoying but peaceful Muddy ambushed me — I was wearing a Durham Bulls T-shirt.
I was the latest victim in what has to be one of the most unusual rivalries in professional baseball. The Bulls and the Mudcats compete in attendance figures, merchandising sales, public funding for stadiums, sports coverage and the hearts of Triangle fans.
The only place they don't compete is against each other on the field.
The teams are natural rivals. The Bulls are a Class A farm club for the Allanta Braves, the Mudcats a Pirates AA affiliate.

that.
People have seen them as rivals ever since Mudcat owner Steve Bryant picked out a tobacco field just over 35 miles from Durham as the Mudcats' home.
He had to go just that far to avoid violating a proximity rule for minor league baseball teams — a rule created by former Durham Bulls owner Miles Wolfe well before Bryant looked to bring the Mudcats to Raleigh.

On page 58 of their 1993 On page 58 of their 1993 Commemorative Edition Bulls Illustrated, the Bulls recognized only nine of the 10 professional baseball teams in North Carolina.

"The Durham Bulls proudly support North Carolina's Professional Baseball Teams" is all that is written in the space reserved for Carolina.

Tor Carolina.

Players seem to be caught in the middle. Players you cheered in Durham become Greenville (S.C.)

Braves scum, while no-name stiffs on the Salem (Va.) Buccaneers become household heroes in Zebulon.

Zebulon.

But this "rivalry" — the exciting baseball both teams play and stadium atmospheres — is a big reason why you should make the 20 mile voyages to see both teams. And why I will keep going back to their games.

The Carolina Mudcats play their home games at Five County Stadium, located off of US 264 near Zebulon, N.C.

Call 269-CATS (2287) for ticket nformation and better directions.

Dissatisfied with your opportunities? Unafraid of hard work? Vant to be rewarded for your own performance? We have care opportunities for competitive self-starters who seek challenge, have commitment and a need to win. We will train the right individuals for a demanding, professional, rewarding career selling Buick, Mazda, and Dodge vehicles. $2,000 per month guarantee while training. If you can pass extensive screening including drug test, call

2511 Wake Forest Rd. Raleigh, NC 27609

RECENT GRADS

Max Perry at 839-7481 or apply in person at Al Smith Buick Showroom.

Opinion

lune 14 1995

A paper that is entirely the product of the student body becomes at once the official organ through which the thoughts, the activity and in fact the very life of the campus are registered. College life without its

Technician, vol. 1, no. 1, February 1, 1920

Ban poses more problems

The new ban on parking near campus is already proving to be an ill-conceived hanks to the City of Raleigh's answer to complaints from a few residents in the neighborhood north of campus, an annoyance for homeowners has become a potentially dangerous situation.

Last week a new ordinance went into effect that bans parking in the area bounded by Clark Road, Daisy Street, Hillsborough Street and Oberlin Road. New signs were posted along the neighborhood streets warning drivers that cars parked there between the hours of 11 p.m. and 7 a.m. without "U" stickers on their cars will receive $15 tickets.

But city planners knew that — signs

But city planners knew that — signs or no signs — restaurant, bar and coffee shop patrons would keep coming to Hillsborough Street at night and would need a place to park. So they arranged for parking

Now, on the south side of Hillsborough Street — the side that borders campus — in the right-hand lane, late-night revelers can park their There are even signs in place:

cars. There are even signs in place: "Parked cars in right lane." Problem solved: The neighborhood residents will no longer be bothered by loud drunks who park on their streets, urinate in their bushes and throw empties on their lawns. And those late-night Hillsborough Street patrons still have a place to leave their cars without fear of receiving a ticker.

But solving one problem has led to the creation of a new one.

Last Saturday night, cars lined this outside eastbound lane of Hillsborough Street, leaving only one lane open for traffic going toward downtown. Pedestrians had difficulty crossing the street, and traffic was

If the first weekend night of the parking ban hinted at such obvious trouble, just think of the havoc that will break loose when the campus population swells to more than 27,000 again in the fall. Hillsborough Street will become a snarl of traffic at night, especially on weekend nights when more students from N.C. State and other campuses flock to the strip.

The fact that a new club recently opened on Hillsborough Street, and a new one is on the way will only compound the problem.

There needs to be more parking, but not on Hillsborough Street. Several area businesses have lots that remain empty at night. If they weren't held responsible for maintenance and liability, possibly the owners of these businesses could work with other business owners on Hillsborough Street to find a viable solution to the parking problem

It would also help if the City of Raleigh would work with Hillsborough Street business owners to seek out parking spaces that already exist, rather than try to create new ones on a busy thoroughfare.

But until business owners, patrons and the city come to an understanding and find parking that satisfies everyone, there's always the Dan

OJ JURY THE

ROBERT MEBRIDE

Commentary

Right wing trying to control culture, masses

Talk radio, the NRA, Senator Bob Dole and William Bennett have found a new crusade, and it's a doozy. It lies at the root of all the fears every parent, every "solid citizen" and every Republican has — a fear that "other" people control public thought.

control public thought.

The NRA tells us that the government wants to control us with Nazi-like raids on our property by "jack-booted thugs."

Talk radio says the government wants to take all our money and give it to the poor and Israel, leaving us high and dry. Yeah, and we wonder why government buildings get bombed. And it's the "amen" corner of the GOP, who is bending over backwards to show bending over backwards to show its piety to the Christian Coalition by telling us that Hollywood is stealing the morals of America like a cat with baby's breath.

All these groups, while saying that they alone know the way to nirvana, have their own little agenda. The NRA wants to be the savior of the Bill of Rights; not just standing up for the rights of gun-owners everywhere, but for all those who enjoy the rights given to us by the Constitution. They've already alienated the cops by working to keep cop-killing weapons and bullets on the street. They've abandoned that political base in order to be the conservative ACLU. It gives me the heebie-

James Ellis

Talk radio wants to be the voice of rebellion and the underground. However, what it doesn't tell you is that a number of the that a number of the "commentators" are filthy rich and love the idea of less government because they can afford it. Ollie North spends most of his three hours touting his new video, book, exercise machine or whatever it is this week. Chuck Colson is selling watches. He couldn't find an American manufacturer, so he contracted the next best thing: the Swiss. As the makers of better an more accurate watches, the Japanese should feel only a little Japanese should feel only a little slighted. No racism here, folks. Dole and Bennett, the Bert and Ernie of the political moral right, want you to know that Nine Inch Nails, Beavis and Butthead, Quentin Tarrentino and Ice-T have destroyed America's moral backbone such that our kids have no morals. Guns don't kill people, kids who watch too much television do? Give me a break.

The GOP and the religious right want to create a cultural hegemony a single overriding principle that a single overtning principle that controls all of America's culture. Because most of us never were big museum goers or art-house movie nuts, the most important cultural artifacts in America are the popular ones. Pop, rock, hip-hop and country music are our musical preferences. Action flicks, dramas and comedies are what we watch on the big screen. That is our Sociologists say that what the average American sees and hears average American sees and hears around him or her reflects the culture in which he or she lives. What these people want is to control the culture. They want to help decide what you see and hear because if they influence that, they can influence you. can influence you.

We cannot allow self-proclaimed judges and juries to influence who we are and what we do. Don't let them tell you that they know best, because they are rarely any better than you. And you alone should have these choices.

Longer drop period helps all

Students can take a longer test drive on professors thanks to a new policy that will take effect this fall.

tudents at N.C. State did not used to have a whole lot of time to make decisions about courses when the semester started — one week to add courses and only four weeks to drop them without special permission or lots of forms to fill out. But with a new policy coming into effect in the fall of 1995, students will have a little extra time on their side.

The new policy, which was passed tudents at N.C. State did not have a little extra time on their side. The new policy, which was passed by the Faculty Senate last year, extends the drop period to six weeks after classes start. The Senate felt that the extension was needed to help faculty give students better feedback on their classroom performance. This was a smart move by the Faculty Senate and will certainly be appreciated by students this fall.

racinity Senate and will certainly be appreciated by students this fall. Students don't have a whole lot to go on when selecting which instructors they would like to have for a particular course: friends provide a limited network of opinions, grade distribution reports provide meaningful data on only a fraction of the total sections offered, and TRACS booklets only provide last names, unless you sign up for a class with Dr. Staff, who doesn't even have a last

In the midst of this windfall, Student Body President John O'Quinn is Body President John O'Quinn is trying to get the new policy to benefit him. By claiming that since the issue was a plank in his platform, it was all his doing, therefore he deserves all of the credit. But the new policy had been approved long before O'Quinn took office thus making this campaign promise empty and worthless. Nice try, but no cigar. Even Falstaff's "victory" over Hotspur in Shakespeare's I Henry IV was more convincing.

The extra two weeks will be beneficial to all parties involved — students will get a better idea of how a particular instructor teaches and tests, and faculty can provide better feedback to the students and keep from being stuck with borderline students who stay and later become dead weight for the class.

Technician

EDITORS IN CHIEF Ron Batuno

Jean Lorscheide

Managing Editor	Bruce Myles
Associate Managing Ed	itorAngela Gupta
News Editor	Josee Daoust
Editorial Page Editor	Alex Storey
Sports Editor	Joe Giglio
et cetera Editor	Clarence Moye
Copy Desk Chief
Di ataunaha Editar	Malinea Payer

Design Editor	Hunter Morris
Graphics Editor	Danny Wilson
Business Manager	Robert Sadler
Advertising Manager	Jennifer Zimmerman
Ads Production Manag
Archives Manager	Susan Russell
Personnel Director	Denise Johnson
WWW Administrator	Brian Watson

Opinions expressed in the columns, cartoons and letters that appear on Technician's pages are the office of the individual writers and cardoonists. The unsigned editorials that appear on the left side of the page are the opinion of the pager and are the responsibility of the editors in chief.

Technician (USPS 455-050) is the official student-no messpaper of N.C. State University and is prevery Monday, Wednesday and Friday throughout the academic year from August through May during holidays and examination periods. Copyright of 1995 by the Student Media Authority. A reserved. To receive permission for reproduction, please write the editors in chief. Mailing address 6908, Raleigh, N.C. 27695-8608, Maleigh, N.C. 27695-8608. Mahean, N.C. POSTMASTER: Send any address changes to Technician, Box 8608, Raleigh, N.C. 27695-8608.

Gay and lesbian civil rights in jeopardy

This weekend, hundreds of members and supporters of North Carolina's gay community converged on Durham for the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Pride 1995. The Transgender Pride 1995. The turnout was quite impressive, but despite the large numbers of people and the community support, the situation is beginning to look grim for gays, both in North Carolina and nationally. The current political climate and recent actions indicate that the civil rights progress of recent years may be for nothing recent years may be for nothing. The delegates to the N.C. Republican Party recently demonstrated that they are firmly opposed to homosexuality. At their annual convention in May, delegates debated a campaign plank to make sodomy, among other crimes, a capital offense. Fortunately, the sodomy measure was stricken, and the entire resolution later failed. The old moderate-conservative adage "hate the sin, love the sinner" obviously means nothing to these guys.

Even the police have been getting in on the action. The Charlotte Police Department has recently come under fire for entrapping and arresting gay men. It seems that the department, spurred by complaints of public sex in a local park, decided to send undercover cops to the park to engage in conversation with presumed gay men.

Matt Nash

The officers would turn the conversation to sex and eventually get the target to say that he might be interested in specific sex acts. Under North Carolina's "crimes against nature" laws, stating a desire to commit one of the crimes constitutes conspiracy. In this situation, however, the men were arguably entrapped. The crackdown was focused on gay men, and the Charlotte Police Department has admitted that it sent no female officers to the park in the operation.

On the not-so-distant horizon looms the specter of the Christian Action Network. This group has begun to put pressure on the new Republican Congress, suggesting, now that the "Contract With America" (I didn't sign it, did you?) has been more or less fulfilled that they confront issues you?) has been more or less fulfilled, that they confront issues supported by the Network. These issues, almost without question, include civil-rights-limiting measures. To back up this suggestion, the Network offers the threat of a third party in 1996.

In my opinion, a third party is the best thing that could happen for the Democrats. As we saw in the 1992 election, a second conservative candidate means a split Republican vote, which means a Democratic victory, which means good times for you and me.

In the meantime, however, in the meantime, nowever, oppression is happening everywhere, to almost everyone, and activism is the only way to stop it. Write your legislatures, boycott establishments, even throw paint if the spirit moves you. Civil disobedience is what this country was founded on, and it's high time. was founded on, and it's high time we saw more of it.

Classifieds

How to reach us ...

If you would like to place a classified ad, please call us at 515-2029. Deadlines are: Display Ads Line Items 2 issue dates in advance @ noon 1 issue date in advance @ noon ads lumi

s one one lecid ad it and er o priate

Open Kate	.39.00	Line
weekly contract	$8.00	five
monthly contract	$7.25	abbr
100 inch contract	$8.00	choc
500 inch contract	$7.50	wish
1000 inch contract	$6.75	the

Line Item Rates are based on	Rates	Dα five (5) words per line	Line I regardless of length of word or abbreviation. Simply figure the	Line 2 number of lines in your ad.	Line 3
choose the number of days you	Line 4
wish to run the ad, and use the	Line 5
chart at the right to calculate	Line 6
the price. All line items must	Over 6	7.

Rates	Day 1	Day 2	Day 3	Day 4	Day 5	Day 6	Add
Line I	2.73	5.15	7.26	9.08	10.59	11.80	.50
Line 2	3.03	5.85	7.99	10.26	12.34	14.23	.55
Line 3	4.55	6.97	9.26	11.76	13.98	15.90	.60
Line 4	4.75	9.11	12.14	15.38	18.22	19.75	.65
Line 5	5.57	10.63	14.23	17.96	29	22.87	.70
Line 6	6.23	11.84	15.94	20.04	23.53	25.27	.75
Over 6	7.17	12.73	16.76	20.80	25.49	27.05	1.00

Policy Statement

Vord Service, 1304 Hillsborough, it., 834-0000. RESUMES, COVER LETTERS.

SOLUTIONS Mission Valley, 8-7-152. Wordperfect writing and editing services. If you need help with your dissertation, thesis, article, and book, call 231-6779. PhD in English and 9 years experience in the field. Typing done. Call Jacke 847-9072 Help Wanted

p.m.
ATTENTION STUDENTS: Earn
ATTENTION STUDENTS: Earn
ATTENTION STUDENTS: Earn
Act Cash stuffing envelopes at

Box 10075, Olathe, KS 66051. Immediate response. Healthy males and females 18-35, no smoking history, no medications, no allergies needed to participate in EPA/UNC Air Pollution Studies. Flexble schedule needed. Attractive fees paid. Call 929-9993 for information

EPAUNC Air Pollution Studies, Flexible schedule meddal Attractive fees paid. Call '22-9993 Act and the Air Tale S. NON-SMOKING MALES OR FEMALES ASTHMATICS WITH ALL FRIEDER START AND AIR AND

Do you need flexible hours or part-time work?

door with a leading company in the Triangle area.

•Admin/Clerical

•Technical

•Electronics

Call Executive Staffing

Cary 481-0093 or Raleigh 783-6695

Do you have a Brother? We are cruiting sets of brothers to articipate in air pollution research moducted by UNC and EPA. You dyour brother must be healthy and wrently non-smoking and no more an 3 years apart in age (18-35), are $130.00 each plus travel prepriets (21) 929-993 for more formation. Collect calls will be crepted.

information. Collect calls with the accepted.
Do you have a Sister? We are continued to sisters to participate in air pollution research conducted by UNC and EPA. You and you sister must be healthy, currently non-smoking and no more than 3 years apart in age (18-35). Earn 313,000 each plus travel expenses! Call 929-9993 (collect) for more 'information.

S1750 weekly possible mailing our circulars. For info call 202-298-

Help Wanted

info. No ontigation:

5028, ext. 65.

DISTRIBUTORS NEEDED. Earn $1000's weekly working at home mailing our circulars. Free Details, send SASE: R&B Distributors, 20154, Greenville, NC 27858.

RESORT JOBS: to $121rp plus tips! Theme parks, hotels, spas, and more. Tropical and mountain destinations. Call (206)632-0150 ext.
DC 15092.

destinations, Call (200)052-0130 est. RS3592. STUDENTS NEEDED! National Parks are now hiring seasonal and full-time. Forestry workers, park rangers, firefighters, lifeguards, and more. Excellent benefits and bonuses! Call: 1-206-345-4804 ext.

more: Exercise 1-206-583-4804 ext. bonoses Call 1-206-583-4804 ext. bonoses Call 1-206-583-4804 ext. CRUISE SHIPS HIRING. Earn up to $2000-6700. World Travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experience necessary. For info Call (2006-38-0468 ext.CS1597). Socuts needed full-time employee needed in scout cotten in Sampson experience looks, good on resume. Call Kim Tart 910-533-3782. Summer Jobs. The Finley YMCA needs camp counselors for day camps and sports camps. Please call 348-YMCA1 ASAP!

Dream Job Big Money
Eacort Service Now
Hiring New Faces Earn
$1000-$2000 Weekly
Part Time Distinguished Clientele.
Confidentiality
Confidentiality
Big 886-0101
Doll
FS is currently seeking applicants

Doll

B86-0101

Doll

RFS is currently seeking applicants for package handler Times available 2 mm - 2 mm -

Cleaning bejn mended. Transportation, required approx. Shr. 467-7213. ATTENTION SUMMER STUDENTS! Flat-time job. Psych. SPECED Social Work Majeon needed ATTENTION SUMMER STUDENTS! Flat-time job. Psych. SPECED Social Work Majeon needed September of the section of

Help Wanted

to your own performance. College level training in business or finance requested. You must be open to relocation. Novement Financial has a competitive starting salary, regular benefits package. To learn more please contact: NORWEST PINANCIAL, Laurey Barbee, 1907–188-621, EOE.

COACHHOUSING. Apartment and COACHHOUSING. Apartment and provide encouragement. Call 836–932. Earn more post-particles and provide encouragement. Call 836–932. Earn more yearing books. High income potential. For details Scotter: Yumaha Riva 180, 36. 17 miles, exc. condition, perfect for campus, $370. 813, 1007.

Postal and Government John Salzihous Postal 1809-875-768

Pal Volunters Needle. Recutting healthy males and females age, 183–185 to participate in air pollution studies conducted by UNC & EPA. Schodule needles 1007 v 1 ravel costide Chapel Hill area if qualified. Call 986-6604 femore information. Great Summer John Part-Time; Suoche-609-215. Telephone latteriowers Needled No sales involved. Permenent part time evenings and weekends. Flexible schedulin, Nead Colbure Valley, $5,50 to start: Good verbal skills start year.

Attn: Graduate Students

Students
Efficiency apartments
convenient to NCSU
$310/mo.
Wilson Property Mgmt
755-0864
or 832-8506

information call 1-206-634-0468 ext. C53598 RESORT JOBS- Earn up to $12/hr plus tips. Theme Parks, Hotels, Spas. + more. Tropical and mountain destinations. Call 206-632-0150 ext. R53593 9772, b. msg.

Part lime temporary assistant grounds person/maintenace 30 hours a week $6/hr. Contact Oakhollow Apartiment 467-4244
HEAVY YARD WORK HELP WIEDED. 57/hr Call 782-6640Aerobic instructions needed at the club For Women Only on Six Forks. Certification preferred but not revoked. Call 870-883.

rorse Certification preferred out not needed. Call 870-8863. $500 COMMISSION selling automated teller machines. Leads provided, transportation required. Call 443-1613

Available

$6.00-8.50 per hour Great Meal Plan Flexible Hours 828-5932 Ask for Mandy

For Sale

Room-

mates

0

0

The Perfect Summer Job!

Conduct phone surveys to learn people's radio music preferences. Relaxed work environment in the Crabtree Valley area.

Flexible scheduling...Evenings and/or weekends

Remedy. 783-6300

Move It With Classifieds

For Rent

Lost &

Found Catering Position

etween 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. N.C. STATE COLLEGIATE DATELINE. CALL 1-900-945-252 EXT. 38. $2.49 MIN. MUST IE 18 OR OLDER.

Personals

Rides/

Riders

Want a rider? Find the eed in Technician Call 515-2029 between

p.m.
"ABORTION" Up to 20 weeks, weekday and Saturday appoinments available. Free pregnancy testing. Raleigh 800-540 5690.

SKYDIVE THIS WEEKEND Experience the thrill of free fall Carolina Sky Sports (919) 496 2224.

Technician

CKF RHBTM NLKN CBEGTF KCNEHVKBN UC RLUETGM NEKPGTGE

Today's Cryptoquip clue: T equals L

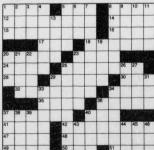

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error. © 1995 by King Feat

ACROSS 37 Labor 1 Triglav and Voljinac. Cesar 40 Blus Arrows 5.9. 1 Mary Strong CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer

25 Purplish red
28 — -relief
29 Zoo structures
30 False hood?
32 Boss
34 Hawaiian resort area
35 Autumnal birthstone
36 Runs the show

TODAY'S PUZZLES ARE FOUND
ELSEWHERE IN TODAY'S TECHNICIAN

cuspidor 43 Greek letters
44 Larry King's employee
45 Milleu fox
Lemieux
46 Ballbearing

UNIVERSITY TOWERS Now Leasing for Summer '95

755-1943 Take a dip in

oar cool pooll

to hand prepare mailing labels. You must have a computer or good handwriting. No experience required. Immediate Opening.

1-809-474-2803

Long distance toll

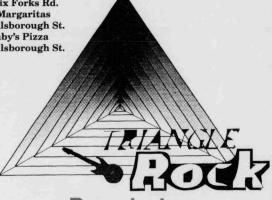

Party Zone

Premiering
Thursday, June 22
Shown on Fox 22
Late Night Thursday 1:30 am

Sponsored by...

EO Outlets
3015 Hillsborough St.
Las Margaritas
7341 Six Forks Rd.
Las Margaritas
2811 Hillsborough St.
Gumby's Pizza
3017 Hillsborough St.

Premiering Friday, June 23

Shown on WRDC/28 Late Night Friday After Friday Night Videos 2:00 am

Join Us At Players
Nightclub

7440 Six Forks Road
Across from Celebration Shopping Center

Every Tuesday Night $10.00 Cover

Open Bar!

It's College Night!

Sunday Beer Bust Keg Party $8.00 Cover All You Can Drink!!!

