Bell Tower Briefs

Harrison collapses during workout

Rising sophomore basketball player Marco Harrison collapsed during an early morning workout Thursday and was taken to the hospital. Harrison is in stable condition, but will remain at the hospital overnight for observation. New coach Herb Sendek had the team doing a conditioning workout at 5 a.m.

According to Mark Bockelman, sports Bockelman, sports information director, Harrison collapsed 20 minutes into the workout, just after a short rest period had taken place.

place.
"They haven't pinpointed a cause for it — that's why they're running the tests," he said.

said.

Bockelman said Harrison is OK, but he will remain in the hospital overnight as a precautionary massive.

N.C. State offers cable tutorial program

In collaboration with the Cooperating Raleigh Colleges (CRC) and the Wake County Public School System, N.C. State will offer a mathematics tutorial program via cable television to assist middle-grade students with their homework beginning Monday, April 22.

"Operation Homework

students with their homework beginning Monday, April 22.

"Operation Homework Hotline," a four-week pilot program, will be televised on Cable Channel 18. It will broadcast from 6 to 7 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays from the Distance Education Studio in Ricks Hall.

The tutorial program will focus primarily on providing assistance in mathematics to middle-grade Wake County students residing in channel IR's broadcast area, though all county students will be encouraged to call (1919) 515-9108 to get help from local teachers and college students. Teachers from the Wake County Public School System and the CRC will host the program. NCSU College of Education and Psychology students will also be available to answer telephone calls and assist the host in responding to questions.

The pilot program is to questions.

The pilot program is being funded by a $5,000 stipend from the Division of Research Outreach and Extension at NCSU.

Courtesy of NCSU News

Turkey producer donates funds to poultry scientists

In a move to strengthen the partnership between scientific research and private industry, Rocco Inc., a turkey producer in Saint Pauls, N.C., has donated $1,000 to the Department of Poultry Science is one of the 22 departments within the NCSU College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

The gift, which the department can use as it deems necessary, will be added to the department. North Carolina Poultry Endowment, which is under the umbrella of the North Carolina Agricultural Foundation.

ourtesy of NCSU News

Turner makes it official: Herb's our man

■ Athletics Director Todd Turner signs Herb Sendek to a contract that will make him the Pack's head coach until 2001.

By MICHAEL TODD

A new era has begun.
During a press conference at Reynolds Coliseum on Wednesday,
Herb Sendek became the 17th Head
Men's Basketball coach in N.C.
State history. Sendek will replace Les Robinson who resigned nearly a month ago after six years on the Sendek made it clear that his focus will be on the team and its players with one goal in mind — the reestablishment of NCSU men's basketball as a national power. "Our focus is on N.C. State — on ourselves," he said.

Sendek was offered the job on Monday and agreed to a five-year contract at $110,000 per year, but incentives boost the value to approximately $300,000.
Sendek comes to NCSU after three years as head coach at Miami of Ohio. He coached the Redskins to a 63-26 record and three post-season appearances, an NCAA bid in 1995 and two National Invitational Tournament bids in 1994 and 1996.
Unlike recent State teams, Sendek's offense does not involve relying on the three-point shot. The Redskins put up a little more than half the three-pointers than State did last year.

Sendek emphasizes the post players in order to open up the outside game. Last season, the Redskins shot 40 percent from meyond the three-point arc, compared to just under 36 percent for the Wolfpack last year.

Sendek will be looked upon to set right the Wolfpack ship that has been sinking steadily. State's basketball team has been below 500 each of the past five years, playing in the ACC Tournament play-in game since its inception in 1992.

But Sendek said be knows that it

"I know there's no quick fix," he said. "We're playing in the greatest baskethall conference in the world." Sendek said that in order to win in college, you must be able to recruit top-notch players. Fortunately, recruiting is one of the things Sendek says he does best.

During his stimt as an assistant coach at Kentucky, Sendek was responsible for recruiting the '96 seniors, including Tony Delk and Walter McCarty, who led the Wildeats to the NCAA Championship.

At Miami of Ohio, Sendek consistently pulled in the top-rated players from the Midwest.

See SENDEK, Page 5

Day focuses on environment

■ Earth Day festivities will be held on West Campus Saturday.

BY KELLEY DENNINGS

will gather to draw attention to the needs of the environment.

N.C. State's Earth Day celebration will take place on West Campus beside the Dining Hall and Bragaw Residence Hall from noon to 5 pm. The festivities are sponsored by the Lorax Environmental Club.

"We have invited everyone from campus and the community to some join us on Earth Day," said Steve Garrett, president of the Lorax Environmental Club.

Lorax club members recently went to local elementary schools to invite students to the celebration. Club members read Dr. Seuss' "The Lorax" to more than 400 kindergarten children at five local elementary schools, said Lorax member Kimberly Terry.

"We sponsored a coloring contest for the kids and invited them to come to the celebration to see their artwork on display," she said. Children's activities will include puppet shows, activities such as Mother Earth is asking for a little help from her children, and all over the world Saturday, people will gather to draw attention to the needs of the environment.

making recycled notepads and collages, and recycled notepads and collages, and face painting.

The club has also planned to take groups of students, children and parents to Rocky Branch Creek behind Carmichael Gymnasium to do a streamwatch, said Kara Sczesny, a senior in chemistry and natural resources.

natural resources.

"Streamwatch is where you use kick and dip nets to find small organisms in the water," she said.
"The amount and types of organisms that you find can tell you the quality of the water."

Scott Young, a member of the Air

nd Waste Management ssociation (AWMA), said the organization is sponsoring a bike raffle in coordination with the Association (AWMA), said the organization is sponsoring a bike raffle in coordination with the Lorax Environmental Club.

The group will draw a winner at Saturday's festivities, he said.

Information booths from the Endangered Species Coalition, Rainforest Action Network, Wake the Umsted Coalition will also be in attendance.

Another booth will be set up to recruit students for Community Recycling. Sierra Club and the Governor's Mansion to "Save Schenck Forest."

The march will be in protest to the Governor's Mansion to "Save Schenck Forest."

The march will be in protest to the Governor's Mansion to "Save Schenck Forest."

The march will be in protest to the Governor's Mansion to "Save Schenck See steaching tool and would be detremental to Schenck, Umstead State Park and the surrounding environment.

The club is also planning to repeat the "Pesti Challenge." a taste test from last year's Earth Day, said Lorax member Chris Bryant.

"We provide two apples for people to taste — one is organically grown without pesticides; the other is a commercial apple." Bryant said.

Last year, out of the 237 taste testers, 180 said they thought the organic apple tasted better.

Today's big scoop

Sociologist studies psychology of sports fanatics

One N.C. State sociologist has centered his research on sports fanatics.

By Jennifer Sorber

Sports teams and fans go hand in hand. Almost everyone would call themselves a fan of one sport or another.

But some fans take their interest a little to seriously and a little to far. When this occurs, they turn into a sports fanatic says N.C. State sociology professor Kay Michael Troost.

Troost has observed the behavior of sports fans at both college and professional level sporting events for the past 10 years. The difference between the sports

The difference between the sports fan and the fanatic, according to Troost, is the level of involvement a person has with the sport or the sports figure. Cheering for a team and getting excited is a normal reaction at games, but when a fan begins threatening or stalking a sports figure or team, they cross the line. Troost said fanatics' problem lies Troost said fanatics' problem lies within the "normalization of violence" in the United States. Fans display a lot of aggression at sporting events, Troost said.

The acceptance of violent behavior is due to an increased toleration, which makes it easier to move to the extreme. Fanaties can go as far as stalking a particular sports figure.

"I'm not sure why we make the said of the said sports figure.

"I'm not sure why we moved to a more trash-talking society." Troost said. "There is a lot more tolerance for the public display of aggression."

Some student of the control of the said of the sai aggression.

Some student athletes said that trash-talking from fans should be expected, especially if they are on the road.

Jeremy Hyatt, a junior on the basketball team, said he didn't consider fanatics to be overly consider fanatics to be overly obsessive.

"I look at them as one hell of a fan," he said.

The release of aggression at games is a normal occurrence, but it can be taken too far. Troost said.

"Sometimes people get overly involved in the team or a player," Troost said. And that, he added, is when they turn into fanatics.

One student said he believes that fanatics may have an addiction.

"When people are obsessed, they

Parker, a sophomore in textile material science.
Troost says that fanaticism has something to do with a person's psychological make-up.
"There is a shift from normal psychology to a darker phenomenon," Troost said. "They put a lot of psychological investment into a figure."
Blake Zimmet, a freshman on the wrestling team, said that he could understand an increased involvement in a particular game or team if someone has placed a bet on

Inside Friday

X-tra: Take a big vacation for a little money. Page 2 ▶

Sports: Here's what we think about Herb. Page 3 ▶

Opinion: Don't say Frost didn't warn you Tarheels. Page 4 ▶

How to Reach Us

Editorial Advertising

Internet Services:

Internet Service
Compus Forum:
techforum-L@ncsu.edu
Press Releases:
techpress-L@ncsu.edu
Information:
techinfo-L@ncsu.edu

Address
323 Witherspoon Suctor Center
Box 8608, NCSU Campus
Roleigh, NC 27695-8608
Information:
technifo-t@ncsu.edu
Web Page:
http://www2.ncsu.edu/ncsu /stud_pubs/Technician/

are limiting students' access to the Internet.

BY HEATHER RATCLIFFE

Oklahoma University (OU) administrators are not alone in their quest to keep students from using their university-provided Internet access for non-educational purposes.

Universities across the country are restricting student access to the Internet and passing computer use policies to stop the distribution of pornography.

The OU administration blocked access to more than 100 newsgroups under the title alt.sex last month after a state legislator notified OU President David Boren that

OU is violating state obscenity

Universities nix Internet porn

iaws.

"Other schools don't schools don't was a problem they have until they look into it," said Brent Harker, director of public communications at Brigham Young University (BYU) in Provo, Utah.
BYU administration addressed the Internet pornography about a year ago. More than 10 students have been expelled, and more than 150 have been referred to the honor-code office for accessing pornography, Harker said. Students at BYU piedge an honor code when they enroll. Accessing pornography on the Internet violates that code.

Harker said the BYU computer systems department posted warning pages on every site the administration considered

He said BYU students that repeatedly

He said BYU students that repeatedly accessed these sites were expelled. People who come here are aware from the beginning of the honor code," he said. Ann Beeson, an American Civil Liberties Union attorney, said university policies will only change if faculty members and students lobby the administration. Beeson represents civil-rights cases nationwide.

She said universities are responding to pornography on their servers in two different ways — blocking access to newsgroups or passing appropriate computer usage policies.

Carnegie Mellon in Pittsburgh, Pa. is another university blocking student access

See INTERNET, Page 5

X-tra page 2

Sports page 3

Classifieds page 6 Technician is printed on 60% recycled paper. Please recycle.

Summer vacations can be cheap

■ Looking to get away during the summer? Follow the advice of travel expert Bruce Northam and travel agencies.

By JEFF FOXX

What is your greatest ambition? If 's to travel the world, you're not alone.

It seems that in the face of growing technology and a faster-paced world, more and more people are trying to get away from it all by traveling.

Often, it's difficult to take a good vacation and travel the world because of lack of time or lack of

But if you decide to travel abroad or cross-country this summer, or if you're planning in advance for next spring break, there are ways to save

If funds are running a little low spots.

Off-beat traveling, according to Bruce Northam who spoke Wednesday night in Caldwell, is one of the many ways to lower aveling costs. Northam, 35 of New York City, is free-lance writer for "Details" Northam, 35 of New York City, is a free-lance writer for "Details" magazine and renowned author. He has traveled around the world five times, each on a very small budget, and now gives seminars on traveling for little money. Northam gives tips like traveling traveling for little money.

Northam gives tips like traveling as a courier to save money on airfare. Courier companies often pay airfare or provide discounted airfare for couriers to escort baggage through airports. Once at the destination, couriers can often stay for up to 14 days.

Another inexpensive way to fly, according to Northam, is to arrange flights through around-the-world ticket consolidators.

Consolidators buy up blocks of surplus seats from major international commercial carriers and sell them at extremely low prices. You can choose the cities you want to visit.

According to Air Brokers International, a ticket consolidators, you can fly from New York to Hong Kong to Bangkok to Cairo to Hong Kong to Bangkok to Rev York for $1399, but prices vary.

"These extended trips are obviously not for the weekend warrior," said Northam, "The best time to embrace a mega-adventure is before college, during a year off from college, after graduation, gaps in employment (induced or voluntary) or between geographic relocations."

Another tip on cheap travel by Another tip on cheap travel by Northam is staying in hostels. Hostels are cheap housing for international travelers. They are set up like barracks in that everyone shares a bedroom, kitchen and bathroom. Average cost to stay in a hostel is around $10 a night. Northam's book, "The Frugal Globetrotter," contains much more information and tips on low-budget travel. The book costs $16.95 at the NCSU campus bookstore. But aside from travel gurus like Northam, travel agencies can be very helpful in arranging a trip with everything from finding the cheapest arritines to catering to your specific wants.

"We try to block space for spring with the cheapest arritines to catering to your specific wants. Another tip on cheap travel by specific wants.

"We try to block space for spring breakers every year," said Beth

Collins of Crossroads Travel and Cruise Centre of Cary. "Each year it seems we get more and more students who want to travel."

According to Collins, there are two companies — Travel Impressions and Vacation Express, both of Atlanta — that charter aircraft specifically for students to travel on their breaks. Departure times are very rigid, so the dates are not flexible, but they work in conjunction with university breaks. Trips with these companies have to be arranged through a travel agency.

gency.
AESU and Contiki are two travel nd tour companies that cater to AESU and Contiki are two travel and tour companies that cater to ages 18-35.

"The [AESU and Contiki] tours are fast-paced, like a big party, and they hit a lot of different cities," said Collins.

Summer is a popular time for vacationing so summer prices are much higher than winter or fall. Contiki has packages for all different price ranges.

One package, for summer, is an eight-day tour of four countries, including France and England, for $1,154 artifare included. The most expensive package advertised by Contiki is an eight-day futury cruise for $3,145.

Of course, a large portion of the cost to travel on these trips is airfare. Many companies, including Contiki, offer the same packages without airfare so that vacationers might be able to find a better deal. For instance, the eight-day tour of four countries is only $559 without airfare.

airfare.

The best way to find a reasonable airfare is to call an airline agency. There is no additional charge for using the agency, and they can give you the best information on ticket prices.

According to the Real Yellow Pages Consumer Information service, there can be up to 100 different fares on one particular flight. The trick is finding the one that fits your budget.

There are other money-saving tips to remember when buying an airline ticket. Try to be flexible on departure time. Midweek departures are usually cheaper. Buy in advance. The best fares go quickly and "the early bird catches the worm." Also, don't insist on non-stop. Flights with stop-overs may be time-consuming, but they save money.

A great deal of preparation goes.

he time-consuming, but they save money.

A great deal of preparation goes into taking a trip of this magnitude, so don't forget to read and research available information on your trip.

Don't get so caught up in budgeting that you forget the legalities like getting a passport. A 10-year U.S. passport costs $65 and can be obtained at the State Department office, or most any other government office, to take two to three weeks to get a passport, so start now for summer.

The country you're visiting may require that you have a visa, so contact the comptroller service of that country to find out.

Traveling can be a memorable and valuable experience to students. However, it shouldn't cause a lot of headaches to prepare or wallet-arches to find.

However, it shouldn't cause a lot of headaches to prepare or wallet-aches to fund.

Northam, who believes that spontaneity is a good thing when traveling, quoted an Indian philosopher as saying. "Birth and death are only parentheses in eternix".

"My philosophy is keep it fun, iid Northam. "Life is too shor

Bruce Northam speaks on cheap travel

Plain Jane reigns supreme on screen

■ The grandmother of all trashy romance novels, Charlotte Bronte's "Jane Eyre" makes another successful transition to the screen.

By CLARENCE MOYE

Director Franco Zeffirelli made a huge splash in America in 1968 with the classic film version of "Romeo and Juliet." And then, years later, he made the terrible "Endless Love" with Brooke Shields but bounced back in the '90s by suprising the masses with Mel Gibson in "Hamlet." Quite a track record, huh?

Now, Zeffirelli has delivered what is definitely his finest His adaptation of Charlotte Bronte' easily one of the most powerful pictures so far this year. The film begins with Jane as a small child, orphaned by her parents and sent to live with an uncaring and cruel aunt who has her hands full with her own demon children.

hands tull with her own demon children.

After spending years in an orphanage for girls and enduring a childhood that makes Oliver seem too well-adjusted, Jane takes a position as governess in the home of the mysterious Mr. Rochester, played by William Hurt.

And the rest of the story, as they say, is history. Anyone who has read the novel will immediately recognize.

picks up on the highlights of Bronte's novel extremely well. Little-known actress Charlotte Gainsbourg marvelously plays the adult Jane Eyre. She tones down her beauty to be true to the novel's depiction of Jane's plainness. But what she lacks in conventional beauty she doubles in acting talent.

Gainsbourg takes her cue from Oscar-winner Anna Paquin, who beautifully plays Jane as a young girl, and endears Jane to our hearts with her wispy voice and stoic manner. She's so convincing that she works the character of Jane as if she has lived the part.

part.

But William Hurt matches her every step of the way as the tormented Mr. Rochester. Hurt is talented enough to convey pages of emotion with his eyes alone. He fits into the role of Rochester so well because he is able to make the audience feel Rochester's anguish and inner struggle due to his secret tire.

High Whitemore and ZeffireIII Charlotte Gainsbourg and William Hurt share a tragic love highlights of Zeffirelli directs the film as a throw-ba to the Gothic Hollywood romances of t '40s and '50s. He plays with light and da contrasts to accentuate the happiness an contrasts to accentu sadness in Jane's life

But as dark and lifeless as Rochester's castle is, Zeffirelli manages to make it look stunningly beautiful. If you don't enjoy the tragic romance of the story or the suspense dealing with the strange noises in the attic, you can just sit back and marvel at how you can just sit be beautiful the film is

The success of this version of "Jane Eyre" is a surprise considering how often the story has been filmed. But Zeffirelli, Cainsbourg and Hurt manage to hit all the right emotional notes, creating a stunning

This film opens Friday. April 26, at the Peach is nothing but fuzz

James and the Giant Peach

BY ELIZABETH BOOKOUT

BY ELIZABETH BOOKOUT

ABSORDET NOW EDITOR

"James and the Giant Peach" is nothing but a giant disappointment.

It's based on Roald Dahl's book of the same title — easily one of the best children's stories ever written. You'd think director Henry Selick would have the ability to churn out a top-rate film from this story (especially considering that Tim Burton was one of the producers).

But unfortunately,

"James and the Giant Peach" can be added to the ever-growing list of books that Hollywood has made a mockery of.

James' idyllic life with his parents ends when they are eaten by a rhinoceros, and he is sent to live with his slavedriving aunts. He spends what little free time he has dreaming of his former life and wishing he had some friends.

Just when James is about to lose hope. Peter Postlethwaite appears from nowhere and promises James that his dreams will come true if he eats one of the magical green things and gives him a bagful.

James trips and the green things crawl into the roots of a peach tree. Almost instantaneously a peach appears on the tree, restoring James' faith in the power of magic.

The previews for "James" feature stop-nation animation, which is misleading.

Once in the theater, you'll see that only about two-thirds, if that much, is animated. The remainder of the movie is live-action, and in some parts, the filmmakers integrate live-action with stop-motion.

live-action, and in some parts, the filmmakers integrate live-action with stopmotion. The result is not only sloppy, but it breaks the continuity of the entire film. This technique tries the attention span of the audience, adults and children alike. This film has the potential to be great, but somewhere. Something goes dreadfully wong. Some of the animated parts are really well-done. Supposedly, the stop-action portion is meant to sharply contrast James reality. But his reality (the live-action scenes) look just as surreal as his fantasy world. "James and the Giant Peach" looks as if it were thrown together in a matter of weeks, as if the filmmakers didn't really care about the story. Several scenes in this movie sorely need to be edited, so that at least the audience would be able to stay awake during the entire film. If you can't help but not off during this one, try to schedule your nap during the musical numbers by Randy Newman. The songs lack both spirit and originality and are just plain boring.

The previews tout "James and the Giant Peach" as the next "The Nightmare Before Christmas," and Jack Skelington even makes a cameo appearance in this film. But needless to say, "James" just doesn't cut it.

cut it.

If you watch this movie expecting it to improve, you will be severely improve, you disappointed. Grade: C-

What's appening

Today MOVIE — "Waiting to Exhale" will be shown today and Saturday at the Campus Cinema of the Witherspoon Student Center at 6:30, 8:45 and 11 p.m. Ticket prices are $1.50 for students and $2.00 for non-students.

Saturday

EARTH DAY - Celebrate Earth Day '96 with N.C. State's Lorax Environmental Club Saturday, April 20, from 12-5 p.m. on Lee Field. There will be great music, food, information booths, activities for children and more, all free of charge. For additional information, call Steve Garrett at 512-7963.

BALL - The Beaux Arts Ball will be held at 8 p.m. until midnight at Artspace in Raleigh. Price for students is $10. Tickets can be purchased Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. in the School of Design's Courtvard, For further information, call Vinny Petrarca at 829-9464.

Sunday

MOVIE - The original "Father of the Bride," starring Elizabeth Taylor and Spencer Tracy, will be shown at the Campus Cinema in the Witherspoon Student Center at 7 p.m. Admission is free.

Monday

MEETING — A meeting will be held to begin planning for a student chapter of ACLU on our campus on Monday, April 22, at 6:30 p.m. in Poe Hall. Room 500. For more information, call Mark Wilson at 515-

Wednesday

ALUMNI - Seniors must reserve a spot at the table for this year's final feast at Reynolds Coliseum on April 24! The speaker will be Kay Yow. Cost is $3 for your meal and the deadline is today. For further information, call 515-8393.

CLUB 20 - The Political Science Club invites students to come and hear David Price speak about "The Challenge of 1996" from 2:30 to 3:30 in Caldwell, Room 212, For more information, call Jacqueline Hills at 512-7740.

Men's and women's tennis teams move to quarterfinals

Lewandowski clinches with a 6-3,6-0 win

GREENWOOD SC - Tennis

Jay Lewandowski was in the Jay Lewandowski was in the tennis mood yesterday when he won the clinching match for the Wolfpack to help them advance to the ACC quarterlinals where they'll face No. 17 North Carolina. Lewandowski won the No. 6 singles match 6-3, 6-0 over Maryland's Jeff Wang which pushed State's record to 8-13 on the season.

State's No. 1 singles player Roberto Bracone opened the singles with a 6-3, 6-2 win over Mike Lipitz and the Pack's No. 2 singles player David Bolick did likewise.
He at Terry Schultz in three sets 6-7 (1), 6-4, 7-5.

Haves Calvert, No. 3 singles, gave he double-bageled Karim Emrara 6-, 6-0. But the Terps battled back, taking the No. 4 and No. 5 singles matches. T.J. Klier defeated Matt Yelverton 6-3, 6-2 and Jay Kimmel took care of Jason Hill with a 6-0. 6-4 win. Lewandowski's win at No. 6 telectron of Jason Hill with a 6-0, 6-4 win.

Lewandowski's win at No. 6 scaled the deal for State and secured them a date with he No. 1 seed North Carolina.

In doubles, State broke out the brooms and recorded the sweep.

The team of Bracone and Bolick hammered Emara and Klier 8-2, Hill and Yelverton supplied much of the same firepower in an 8-4 win over Lipitz and Schultz. Lewandowski and Claver rubbed the salt in the proverbial wound with another 8-4 win, this coming at the expense of Wang and Kimmel.

Women break tie with sweep in doubles

GREENWOOD, S.C. — After falling behind early, the N.C. State women's tennis team fought back to dake a 6-3 victory over Georgia Tech on Thursday in the first round of the ACC Tennis Championships. No. 2 singles player Mina Scinicariello was blown away by Tech's Xenia Uy 6-0, 6-0. Chasity Chandler lost the No. 3 singles match to Sybi Parker 6-4, 6-1, while No. 4 seed Nena Bonacic lost a first set tiebreaker to Autumn Richards. who then smoked Bonacic in the second set, winning it 7-6, 6-0.

Causeway handled Tiffany Schwartz 6-3, 6-3, State's Laura Cowman was the only player left to keep State close.

Cowman lost the first set in the No. 6 singles match to Tech's Brandy Kircher, but came back to win a tight second set before winning 3-6, 7-5, 6-2.

With the singles matches split 3-3, the Wolfpack entered the doubles matches and put the Yellow Jackets away.

The No. 1 doubles squad of Sutton and Chandler easily handled Wimberley and Uy 6-1, 6-1 to put State up 4-3.

Steps cliniched the match with the State up 4-3. State up 4-3. State up 4-3. State clinched the match with the win of Cowman and Bonacic in the No. 3 doubles match over Schwartz and Parker 6-1,6-4. State's No. 2 doubles team of Scinicariello and Dana Allen completed the Pack's sweep by defeating Richards and Lynne Borowsky 6-4, 6-3.

They would be the greatest cheering section in sports history

The hiring of Herb Sendek is a marketing dream for N.C. State.

The time we all fondly remember as the "Les Robinson Reign of Terror" is now officially over. When Herb Who?" Sendek took the podium and shook hands with Todd "Why?" Turner, a new chapter in the book that is N.C. State baskethall was opened. I was at the press conference Wednesday morning when a crowd of roughly 250 people hung on the 33-year-olds every word. The last time an N.C. State baskethall coach received as much applause as Sendek, Jim Valvano was roaming the sidelines.

He said all the right things.
He talked about walking into Reynolds Coliseum for the first time and told those in attendance that he got goosebumps. Right there with that one phrase — I was horked. hooked.

hooked.

I almost became the first officially licensed "Sendek Rednek" (except that I'm from New Jersey and the laws of nature won't permit such a thing).

Can you see the T-shirts rolling off the presses? We'd spell "redneck" without the "c" as our gimmick. Give one to everybody sitting on the sidelines at home

Michael Preston O M M

chanted, "Herb, Herb, Herb," Talk about freakin' out the Dookies. The Cameron What'stheir-names couldn't do anything to top such a masterful piece of coaching support.
Because, think about it, what in the name of all that is holy rhymes with Krzyzewski ... Nothing! It's a lot like orange. Nothing rhymes with orange.

lot like orange. Nothing rhymes with orange.

Oh man, it's a marketing dream, if nobody at sports information picks up on this, then somebody out there has to give this a go.

We could once again make Reynolds the most feared place in the nation to set foot. You want to talk about goosebumps, that'd be goosebumps.

Just as soon as he comes out and says, "I hate the University of North Carolina the way I hate the devil," I'll be about ready to christen him. So when I listened to what you had to say, after the part about the goosebumps, I have to admit — I'm cautiously optimistic about next season.

As every "Sendek Rednek" should be.

And I hate that. I've been optimistic about basketball seasons for three years now, and each season it just got worse. And worse. And last year it got so bad I looked back on the Florida Atlantic disaster as a highlight.

Hey. wouldn't "Orange Krzyzewskis" be a great nickname for a Major League Soccer team?

Getting back to the point, coach, please don't let us down. We aren't expecting much. Remember, we've had to deal with Les Robinson standards for the past six years.
The "Sednek Redneks" will be there all the way, Please, coach, I beg you on behalf of all the students, fans and alumni who feel they're above such measures—don't let us down. We'll take anything, If we make it to the NCAAs and lose in the first round by 34, we'll have a parade for the team. We'll all be at the airport with banners and signs.
Look for me coach. I'll be the first one with the T-shurt.

Marco Harrison collapses during sprints

Twenty minutes into a morning workout, rising sophomore center Marco Harrison collapsed white participating in drills. Harrison, a 6'9' center from Petersburg, Va., experienced dizziness and physical discomfort and subsequently was unable to complete the workout. He was taken to Rex Hospital where he is in stable condition and tests to determine the will undergo tests to determine the cause of his ilhess.

"Marco's situation is not life-threatening," attending physician Dr. John Rubino said, 'He's in stable condition and we're taking the precautionary measures of administering some standard tests."
The Wolfpack training staff was present at the workout and administered initial assistance to Harrison Present at the workout and administered initial assistance to Harrison and the state of the

Harrison. N.C. State coach Herb Sendek

accompanied Harrison to the accompanied Harrison to the hospital.

"We will keep him overnight at the hospital for further observation and we anticipate a speedy recovery," Rubino said.

Toward the end of last season, Harrison began to make quite an impression on the basketball floor with his play and is the current front-runner to succeed first-team All-ACC Todd Fuller at center.

Dollins Student Run and Locally Owned

WE BUY BACK ALL NC STATE TEXTBOOKS

500 FREE Parking Spaces FREE NC STATE Stadium cup - when you sell back your books.

Pick up a $5.00 Coupon for next semester

· Reserve your books for next semester while you are in the store

3950 Western Blvd. 832-2882 (phone), 832-2886 (fax) ddollins@intercenter.net (e-mail)

The Wolfpack roars into the ACC Championships with Whitted and Hall

BY DAVID HONEA

The N.C. State men enter this weekend's ACC Outdoor Track and Field Championships in College Park, Md. with outstanding depth.

After finishing one point behind North Carolina in the ACC indoor meet, the Wolfpack hopes its across-the-board strength will push it ahead of the Heels. "We will line up some truly years!

it ahead of the Heels.
"We will line up some truly great athletes who have a chance to win in multiple events," coach Rollie

Geiger said. "But the key to our success as a team is our depth."
State's hopes in the sprints rest primarily on the shoulders of Alvis Whitted, who set a new school record in the 100 meter with a 10.12 at Duke Saturday. Whitted should be favored in the 200, 400 and 1,600 meter relays. Senior Jose Gonzalez, who currently leads the NCAA in the 3000-meter steeplechase, will be joined in the longer races by Joe Wirgau, Mike Brooks and Jason Vigilante.

SWIII WILLIUM THE MINING THE MISTAGE AND THE MINING THE MISTAGE AND THE MISTAG

Sendek needs fan support

■ A new coach brings fresh expectations to N.C. State.

sixteen years ago, the N.C. State athletics department hired an unknown northerner to become head basketball coach. His claim to head basketball coach. His claim to fame was leading lona College and Jeff Ruland to the promised land. People were scratching their heads, wondering, "Jim who?" Next thing you know, he hung a national championship banner in Reynolds. Wednesday morning, Herb Sendek was hired as the 17th head coach in the storied history of Wolfpack basketball. Many people at the press conference were probably wondering, "Herb who?"

Although this week's scenerio Although this week's scenerio sounds similar to the one that unfolded in 1980, don't expect a title from this newcomer quite yet. Prior to being named to the position, Sendek, a 33-year-old Pennsylvania native, spent the last three years as head coach at Miami University in Ohio in the Mid-American Conference. He,'s studied American Conference. He's studied under the University of Kentucky's basketball coach Rick Pitino, who some consider a basketball guru, and has been called one of the best recruiters in the nation. Despite the accolades and impressive resume, fans must control their emotions.

After several disappointing years in erms of wins, fans should not expect

Address local environmental problems at Earth Day.

In the 1960s, Rachel Carson shocked readers with "Silent Spring," a call to arms about the dioxins that pervade the very air we breathe and water we drink. In the 1970s, people were flabbergasted by the toxins that consumed Love Canal. In the 1980s, the Chernobyl disaster annalled the world

Chernobyl disaster appalled the world

Chernobyl disaster appailed the world.

Over the years, massive events of environmental degradation have occurred time and again, only to be forgotten after the big stories die down.
However, many of the problems the planet faces are more subtle than nuclear meltdowns and burning rivers.
Public interest in environmental and protecting the environment.

Saturday, April 20 is Earth Day.
Throughout the United States and all over the world, people will gather to celebrate the planet. At N.C. State, the Lorax Environmental Club will sponsor an Earth Day celebration on the Brickyard from noon to 5 p.m. Activities will enduced exhibition and Activities will educate children and adults about the environment, and Public interest in environmenta problems waxes and wanes with huge events, and it is frustrating that only one day a year is dedicated to preserving and protecting the environm too much too soon. The 1996-97 basketball team under Coach Sendek can achieve certain realistic goals. What if NCSU finished .500 in the conference? Would you consider conference? Would you consider jumping into the WRAL fountain on Western Boulevard? What if Sendek leads the team to four wins on the road? Would you paint the Brickyard red? What if Sendek sneaked the Pack into the NCAAs? Just how fast would you be rolling Hillsborough Street? Above all else, the new cooch pages to Above all else, the new coach needs to make his players' eligibility a top priority. He himself graduated with a near 4.0 GPA; we can assume he appreciates the importance of academics. Sendek's job, which is hard enough to begin with, would be impossible without players on the court. The backlash from former on the court. The backlash from former Robinson supporters would be intense if classroom performance declined. NCSU doesn't need five Todd Fullers, but the team needs Danny Strong, Marco Harrison, Jeremy Hyatt, C.C. Harrison and Ivan Wagner.

So far Sendek has said and done everything correctly. Some players were late for a meeting Wednesday, so he locked the doors and demanded wind sprints from the entire team Thursday at 5 a.m. He was on the Thursday at 5 a.m. He was on the phone with recruits three and a half hours before his press conference.

If Sendek can accomplish so much in two days, imagine what he could do in two years. Patient fan support will make Sendek's task easier.

concerned citizens can learn about one articular environmental issue that its close to home.

Students and community members will organize Saturday for the next day's march to the Governor's Mansion. The march will protest the needless destruction of Schenck

needless destruction of Schenck Forest. State and university policy makers will possibly take a stand because of a community's banding together. The forest is more important than a highway, and the march will be a powerful opportunity to make that statement.
The potential loss of Schenck

The potential loss of Schenck Forest is one of many local environmental issues that need and deserve public attention. Problems range from bureaucrats killing Schenck to muck filling the Neuse River to garbage lining the streets. Knowledge and action can make a difference.

Go out and celebrate the earth this weekend, but don't stop there. One day is not enough to educate the public and attempt to reverse the havoc humankind has wreaked on the world. Since delicate ecosystems and human habitats are being destroyed continuously the only answer is to make Earth Day

Saving Earth begins at home

Commentary

Oh, brother. Don't go to UNC

There's just no substitute for an ounce of good advice. Young folk like myself can find plenty of it out there. My maternal grandmother is fond of repeating cliches, and she is especially fond of reminding me that blood runs thicker than water. While that cliche is true enough, blood often doesn't run thick enough to lubricate the friction of a sibling rivalry.

My brother Shawn is the oldest of my three younger brothers. He is currently a senior in high school and is planning to attend college next year. The rouble is, although I'm proud of my brother and all that he has accomplished. I can't help questioning the judgment of whoever advised him to attend the higher-education institution he has chosen.

My brother has decided to attend UNC-questioning ine posquision of advised him to attend the higher-education institution he has chosen. My brother has decided to attend UNC-Chapel Hill, or just "Carolina" as it is more commonly known, and I don't like the idea of a Tarheel fan taking up residence in my family one but. I can't stand the thought that going home next year might mean having to dead with fishing Tarheel blue clothing out of the wash all the time. I can't help wondering how much our rivalry might have lessened if he had been as smart as his grades indicate and picked NCSU over Carolina. State was my best choice for college. I was pretty happy, since home is in Raleigh, and I was planning to become was planning to become an engineer anyway. I also hated Carolina and wanted to see its basketball team lose to State in person every year, rather than on TV. Upon learning about Shawn's decision. I wasn't really surprised. I always knew he was a sure bet to attend Carolina, especially when his first words outsy like the lyries to Carolina, especially when his first words sounded suspiciously like the lyries to "I'm a Tarheel Fan." My brother, although a gifted student of mathematics and good in the sciences, chose not to pursue a technical carer. Instead, he chose to pursue a business degree following my father's advice. Business' Someone who scores a perfect 800 on the math portion of the SAT should be hidden away in some dark building discovering the Grand Unified Theory, not studying business. So, in my sensitive older brother mode, I tried to force Shawn to see the error of his ways by telling him how stupid he was to be majoring in business and, on top of that, attending Carolina. Then, as luck would have it, my father reprimanded me and told me that he had suggested that Shawn major in business at Carolina. Excuse me? My father? After all, this same father had advised me to forget about majoring in the liberal arts and stick to what he thought I would do best at: engineering. So why was my father sanctioning this ... sacrilege of the highest order, this blasphemy of blasphemies, this absolute defamation of all that I have come to hold dear?

Mike Frost

all that I have come to hold dear?

It's a simple answer, remarkably enough
My father shared with me his vision for his four sons. Each of us would go to college, wherever we were smart enough to go and afford, and would major whatever we wanted to, with some fatherknows-best advice. What I was recommended to do would differ vasily from the recommendations given to Shawn or my other brothers, Patrick and Corey. Then my father told me to mind my own business and stick to improving my own business and stick to improving my grades or else I would end up in a degree program like business.

Besides, he pointed out, it's Shawn's life, and in the end, he's the one who has to live with it. If he can't bear to wake up in the morning and look in the mirror to see the next Sir Isaac Newton, then so be it. We can't begrudge him his decision.

So, ith much resignation but an upbeat attitude, I send best wishes to my brother as he prepares to move over to his new home in Chapel Hell. I know it's his call to make, so I'll keep my mouth shut, sit back and bide my time. Besides, if he comes to me later on and starts on about how he wished he had gotten a degree in math or science as opposed to business, I'll have the satisfaction of knowing that I offered good advice which he ignored.

Technician

A paper that is entirely the product of the student body becomes at once the fficial organ through which the thoughts, the activity and in fact the very life of the campus are registered. College life without its journal is blank ...

Technician, vol. 1, no. 1, February 1, 1920

EDITOR IN CHIEF Chris Baysden chrisb@sma.sca.ncsu.edu	Managing Editor Alex Storey alexs@sma,sca,ncsu,edu
News EditorJason King	Archives ManagerSusan Russell
Opinion EditorJean Lorscheider	Business ManagerRobert Sadler
Sports EditorsMike Preston, J.P. Giglio	Sales ManagerSteven Hodges
Editor at Large	Classified ManagerDawn Wotapka
Photography EditorSalvador Farfan III	Ads Production ManagerDerick Satterfield
Graphics EditorDanny Wilson	Personnel DirectorJulie Cohen
Design EditorWoody Wallace	WWW AdministratorChris Spencer

der Sorber, Assistant News Editor; Nicole Bowman, Assistant Opinion Editor; Farrah Cooley. Bant Design Editor; Hide Terada, Assistant Photography Editor; Elizabeth Bookout, Assistant X-Tra Ed

nonons expressed in the columns, cartoons, photo illustrations and letters that appear on Tectrician's pages are views of the individual writers and cartoonists. The urisigned editorials that appear on the left side of the editorial expression of the pager and are the responsibility of the Editor in Chief. chrinician (USPS 45509) is the official studention resospaper of N.C. State University and is published every day, Wednesday and Friday throughout the academic year from August through May except during holidays and initiation pendos. Congright 0 1999 by the Student Media Authority, All rights reserved. To receive permission for obuduction, please write the Editor in Chief. Mailing address is 8 lox 8608, Raleigh, N.C. 27695-8608. Subscription is $50 per year. Printed by Hinton Perss, Mebane, NC. ISTMASTER: Send any address changes to Technician, Box 8608, Raleigh, NC 27695-8608.

humans humanely There are many reasons to treat nimals kindly. The most

Treat animals and

anima's kindly. The most important reason is that we treat people like animals. Who can look back on their history, personal and ethnic, and not find an example of "animal" abuse? Cattle, beasts, sheep and vermin — these words have covered our histories.

— these words have covered our histories. For some people this is obvious. For some people this is obvious. Women are still seen as bitches. Words like porch monkey, jungle bunny and coon are not dead yet. Most of us have been called pets at some time because that is how children are commonly viewed in this country. Speaking of children, how many people have heard the saying, "spare the rod and spoil the child?" I agree. However, like a good shepherd, I know that the biblical "tod" was a long stick with a hook at the top. It was used to guide sheep, not to beat them.

Speaking of the Bible Christians.

Speaking of the Bible, Christians Speaking of the Bible. Christians once were considered vermin and used as torches. This was before they in turn burned 'old bats' (witches), and 'savages,' Jews have been considered vermin by too many people to mention. Even some of the Christians they gave birth to have seen them as sub-human. As for my name, it is old and

As for my name, it is old and it is Irish. The Irish were the original "heathens" before the term was used for all other "savages." When the Irish first term was used for all other "savages." When the Irish first came to this country, they were considered to be the "missing link" and were treated accordingly. We all have history like that. So, the next time you see an animal, you might want to remember who has seen you as nothing more thou as a nigoral as nothing more thou as a nigoral.

The Campus FORUM

as nothing more than an animal.

Eddie Croom Sonhomore, Biology

NCSU needs a good TV station

The ingredient that keeps a car running is its fuel. The fuel of a college campus is its students. Without happy students, a college campus can quickly turn into a ghost town. This university supplies many beneficial ways for a young adult to learn the ways of the world. It gives us good academics, good athletic programs, good social life and numerous campus events. The one thing this university lacks is a quality campus television station.

This is my third year at N.C.
State and I'm tired of turning to the campus I'V station and seeing two intoxicated people playing loud music on their guitars and trying to make me believe that they're teaching me how to play a song. To me, these programs are neither entertaining nor educational, and frankly I'm embarrassed that someone other than a student will see this and label this university a mockery to education.
I may be wrong, but not only are these types of programs an embarrassement, they are also a waste of time. Why can't this time be used to promote campus events or give news reports on campus activities? What better way to showcase a quality education than to show how we as students can harness our resources to better our university?
I bet if asked a majority of our students would not know how to get something broadcast on our campus I'v station. This a shame for those who actually have talent to be recognized or for people trying to scratch the surface in the I'V industry.
Something needs to be done because what we are seeing now is a waste of resources.
There should be announcements in forming us as students to flow
we can utilize our I'V station.

There should be announcements informing us as students of how we can utilize our TV station. Maybe, in between Wayne and Garth's serenades, they can inform us of how to get something broadcast ourselves. A university without unity is like a car without gas: it cannot run. We have the means to improve our communication, but we are throwing it away. No one is enjoying what is being shown, and I assure you that no one is learning how to play the guitar.

Thomas Sergio Sophomore, Communication

Pathetic turnout for Pan-African Parade

Pan-African Parade

Let me tell you why I'm laughing so hysterically. I'm laughing at all of you so-called black, African-American.

colored, negroes or whatever you want to call yourselves, who attend this prestigious university but couldn't find the time to get your trilling, lazy, good-for-nothing butts out of bed Saturday morning to attend the Pan-African Festival Parade. You are always bitching about how you lack representation on this campus and how hard it is for black sto get ahead because of oppression, yet you can't find the time to attend such an event that can show the university community as well as outsiders that you do have a voice and you do matter. God forbid someone asks you to volunteer to put an metern like the parade together!

Forum

Continued from Page 4

I bet all you non-parade attendees will find the time to get that weave, fake nails, new outfit, hat kicks and shave, shower and shine for the rap concert on April 20.

Take a minute and think people ... can you imagine how it must feel to your brothers and sisters who spent their time, money and energy to put this grand parade together — and it was a grand parade — only to march through the streets of the university and see more cars than people? Mind you that the only thing those cars wanted to do was get by so they could be on their way? This parade is not a joke. It's not a group of two year olds aimlessly marching through the streets chanting Negro spirituals.

could be on their way? This parade is not a joke. It's not a group of two year olds aimlessly marching through the streets chanting Negro sprituals. It's several well-organized groups of African-American children, teenagers, young adults and adults who are committed to making a place in this society for me, you, themselves, their children as well as any other African Americans in this community. Words cannot describe the performance of all those who held their heads high as we marched through the campus, nor can they describe the pain in the hearts of all those who worked so hard only to have their own people disregard them as a waste of time. Wake up my people. If these are your true colors showing, you have shown you are rruly a disgrace.

To my new triend Sontina Shinete

To my new friend Sontina Shinette Spinks, The Black Students Board and all the others whose tireless efforts made this parade possible Keep Your Head Up — blacks cannot be this ignorant forever.

Steven R. Smith Public Safety/Fire Protection Inspector

Life won't be the same without Technician

I'm a senior in History and would like to thank the Technician staff for a very entertaining and informative five years at N.C. State. You all have done a fantastic job. On May 12th there will be several things about old NCSU that I will miss and the Technician is one of them. Keep up the good work.

Robert Coleman Senior, History

Educate society about gays, lesbians

It is very sad that we live in a society where hatred, discrimination and stereotypes exist. It is no surprise that people are afraid to speak out about their personal identities. Today, despite public sentiment becoming less stigmatizing toward homosexuals, there are still people who find it intolerable, especially with the onset of AIDS.

What is wrong with being gay?
What is wrong with being gay? which is wrong with being gay expensed by the male of female? Society either looks the other way in embarrassment or ndicules them just for being "themselves." Threats are made

Millbrook Mini-Storage
5212 Old Wake Forest Road Raleigh, NC 27609
(919) 876-4637
SUMMER BREAK SPECTAE
May1 Thru August 31
Pay 3 Months Advance
4th Month Free

May 1 Thru August 31
Pay 3 Months Advance
4th Month Free

Sales Career and Internships Information Session

April 24,1996

3;30-5:00 p.m. 4020 WestChase Boulevard Suite 275, Raleigh

Call or E-mail: Gail Machilek

SPONSORED BY: THE CONDREY AGENCY

Northwestern Mutual Life

against their lives and any propaganda supporting their cause or inviting people to listen to their views in an adult manner are torn down and met with criticism. People will not even associate with gays or lesbians because their friends might think they are homosexual.

We must take action as groups or as individuals to overcome these problems in our society. First, we need to educate our young. They should be told of the different relationships that can occur in our society, that they are human, and have the right to live the way they choose. Secoolly, there needs to be programs in schools that are initiated by the parents. Parents play a huge role in how their children acquire moral values. This is where it must start. Third, people who display this type of violent behavior probably need counseling to see what it is that makes them afraid of homosexuals. Although there is no specific counseling for this type of problem here at N.C. State, the Counseling Center does welcome anyone who wishes to discuss the issue of homosexuality.

In order to form a more tolerable

In order to form a more tolerable society, we as individuals need to make a conscious effort to strive for harmony.

Keith Anthony Sophomore, Psychology

Pan-African Week for people of all races

I am writing this letter because I would like to inform N.C. State students about Pan-African Week. There are many events being held this week ranging from parades to at exhibits to fashion shows and talk shows. These particular events are arranged so that everyone can have fun while relieving some tension before exams.

fun white retieving some teasons.
The Pan-African Festival was created for students by students. The Black Students Board (BSB) put forth a lot of time and energy to make the festival a success year after year.
The organization is put together so their students by the students because the sixty of the students of the the testival a success year after year. The organization is put together so that students may become more aware of African culture. Pan-African Week is also a very good opportunity to learn more about African culture and about the people who have made the festival a success. However, there is a problem. The Pan-African Festival was not created just for African-American students, but for everyone. All students are encouraged to participate so that everyone can have fun while having the opportunity to learn more about culture. I truly hope to see everyone of all ethnic groups at these functions held during the week, so that we, as a student body, can celebrate a wonderful, learning occasion.

Here's the way it's done, Coach

It's not all about winning, Herb.
All I've heard the last few months is how much pressure there is to with at NCSU and that Les left because he could not win, and I hope our new coach doesn't buy into all this hype. I think it is much more vital for Herb to coach not to win, but to coach to get the best out of his players. Yes, I did want Les Robinson to resign. This was not because he wasn't winning, but because he wasn't getting the team to play to their potential. Hooked at this year's team and saw quite a lot of talent that just want 'harmessed or developed under Robinson. If we were 12-20 and I was convinced that Les had coached our team to its potential, I think he would still be here. So this message is for Herb Sendeck; Get good, talented, acaden them to their potential, and you'll be coaching the Wolfpack for a while, regardless of the numbers they put up.

Craig Gresham Graduate Student, Civil Engineering

Students responsible for voter apathy

A recent edition of Technici

A recent edition of Technician revealed some statistics from this campus that were disturbing. The run-off election results were decided by 1500 of the 27.000 students on N.C. State's campus. I was appalled that less than 10 percent of the students on our campus took the time to swipe their ID cards and mark their choice.

NCSU's Student Government has made every effort to make voting convenient to students on and off campus. Locating themselves in such major areas as the Brickyard and dining halls — spost the majority of students encounter every day. An AllCampus card and an opinion are the only equipment needed to cast a vote. Voter ignorance, which is often blamed for low turnout, should not be prevalent on the NCSU campus. In addition to several well-publicized debates, candidates for all offices posted flyers listing their platforms on bulletin boards in most classrooms and buildings.

Voting at NCSU is very important. The candidates placed in office in the most recent election will affect the direction of this campus and the life of every NCSU student. Our new student body president won the run-off election by fewer than 300 votes. Every vote counts in a race this close. I urge students on this campus to reclaim the right afforded them by our Student Government system. Next year, take the time to vote.

A. Kirsten Weeks

Read Technician

20% to 50% BELOW RETAIL PRICES EVERY BUSINESS DAY

YES! Complete Home Furnishings Choose from 100's
• Woods • Styles • Fab

Congratulations To The N.C. State Graduating

Seniors!
Drive a NEW
Bobby Murray
Chevrolet!

Car or Truck Get $400 +

NO PAYMENT FOR

90 DAYS!

571-6247

Monk's Warehouse Furniture Hwy, 64 E. Raleigh, at Knightdale • 366-3631 Hwy. 401 S. Raleigh, (1/2 mile So. Wake Tech) • 552-6553

.

Ī

OVECTINO

EGG DONORS AND SURROGATES WANTED

Special Need For Donors of Asian, Jewish, and Hispanic Descent.
Please help our infertile couples. Will pay $1,500 for completed donation.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL 1-919-233-1680 NCCRM IN RALEIGH/CARY- 204 ASHVILLE AVE, SUITE 60

http://www2.acs.ncsu.edu/health NC State Student Health 515-2563 Check us out!

Internet

Continued from Page 1
another university blocking student access to newsgroups.

Don Hale: vice president for Carnegie Mellon's public relations department, said officials blocked access to hundreds of sites such as alt.sex. more than a year ago.

The Carnegie Mellon administration also formed a policy task force to determine what material should be blocked.

He said students at Carnegie Mellon were unhappy about the administration's action and protested.

protested.

"We haven't made a definite decision on this," he said. "Clearly there are people with disagreeable perceptions about how we should handle this."

Beeson said a media scare about the abundance of Internet pornography has triggered actions from universities.

Administrators fear criminal charges for distributing pornography through their servers, she said.

pornography uncongs, she said. "It's ridiculous that universities

Sendek Fanatic

Continued from Page 1

"We only want to sign players that can help carry us to where we want to go." Sendek said. "If we cannot get the people who can do that, we are better to save the

Continued from Page 1

"Some of my friends get really into it if they have money on a big football game," he said. "That would make a lot more sense than if they would just be an obsessed fan."

Sports fanatics only make up a act.

OU and Oklahoma State University (OSU) are the only Oklahoma higher education institutions with servers that issue.

OSU blocked access to newsgroups it deemed obseene more than a year ago.

Nestor Gonzales, a spokesman for OSU, said the administration is continuing its efforts to look at this

He said OSU employees who want access to blocked sites can request to review them.

Gonzales said OSU supports freedom of speech but never attempted to facilitate access to all newsgroups through its server.

OSU has received no requests to unblock newsgroups that contain materials in violation of state or federal law. are afraid of liability." he said.

The problem intens led after the

The problem intens sed after the passage of the Communications Decency Act last year, which outlaws the distribution of obscene material via the Internet.

The American Civil Liberties Union is currently contesting the deteriate in the detail and the detail and the detail and the detail across the country. Become said universities are severely violating students' civil rights with these policies. Curt Guether, a University of Memphis spokesman, said a committee of university administrators is developing a policy for Internet pornography now.

now.

The committee was formed after two students at the university were charged with posting obscene materials on the school's bulletin-board server last March, Guether said. The charges against one student were eventually dropped and the other student was put on probation for improper use of school computer equipment. Beeson said the trend toward universities blocking material and making policies against pomography will continue until the courts rule on the issue. For now, students will have to speak out in defense of their First Amendment rights, she said.

small percentage of all fans, Troost said.

"Most of the people are moderately connected," he said.
Hyatt said that athletes should not take what fans say personally.
"On the road, of course they're going to be obnoxious," he said.
'Athletes shouldn't take it personally, they should know that the fans are going to say whatever they can to destroy their concentration."

Lower the numbers and raise your odds.

Controlling your blood pressure can reduce your chances of heart disease. Have your blood pressure checked.

And keep it in check for life.

American Heart Association

P.O. BOX 919, BREVARD, NC 28712

STICIAL
STATE STATE STATE
STATE & 5449
STATE & 549
STATE & 549
Extra Space Self Storage
950 Trinity Road
Raleigh/Cary STULENT ENCOUNT:

5XU @ 599

5XI5 @ 549

0XU @ 559

Exatra Space Self Storage
950 Trimity Road

Raleigh/Cary
(919) 233.0431

THIS YEAR A LOT OF COLLEGE SENIORS WILL BE GRADUATING INTO DEBT.

Under the Army's Loan Repayment pro-gram, you could get out from under with a three-year enlistment. Each year you serve on active duty reduces on active duty reduces your indebtedness by one-third or $1,500, whichever amount is greater, up to a $55,000 limit. The offer applies to Perkins Loans, Staf-ford Loans, and certain other federally insured loans, which are not in default. And debt relief is just one of the many benefits you'll earn from the Army. Ask your Army Recruiter.

467-2500

ARMY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE:

ALL YOU CAN EAT BUFFET ALL DAY EVERYDAY

11AM-9PM $3.99 EACH

3933 WESTERN BLVD. (ACROSS FROM BEST PRODUCTS) 851-6994

NOT VALID WITH ANY OTHER OFFER EXPIRES: 5/7/96

EXPANDED STORAGE F. WITH OVER 400 UNITS A GREAT SPECIAL SPECI NEWLY EXPANDED STORAGE FACILITY

2nd MONTH FREE

With this ad apolles to the With this ad apolles this ad apolles to the With this ad apolles the With this ad apolles the With this ad apolles *Perimeter Fenced For Security *Boxes And Packing Supplies Available *Surveillance Cameras

Located at intersection of US1 & 1010 RD. between Cary and Apex.

ALL major credit cards accepted 387.1323 HOURS: Mon.-Sat. 9 am-6 pm 24 hour access available.

Deadlines

Line Ads

Display Ads nce @ 2pm

Ask Us About

Line Ad Rates

For up to 25 words. Add 15c for each word over 25 per day

Private Party

1 day $3.50 2 days.... $5.25 3 days.... $6.50 4 days $8.00 5 days.... . $9.00 $1.25 /day Businesses

Call for rates

Personals

15c/word per day over 20

Call 515-2029

or

Fax 515-5133

between 9am-5pm to place an ad with your Visa or Mastercard

FOUND ADS

Policy Statement

While Technician is not to be held responsible for damages or loss due to fraudulent advertisements, we make every effort to prevent false or misleading advertising from appearing in our publication. If you find any ad questionable, please let us know, as we wish to protect our readers from any possible inconvenience.

DAIRY QUEEN positions

P/T vet assistant/kennel attendant positions available, 851-8387. CRUISE JOBS

Help Wanted Help Wanted

ENTHUSIASTIC Sale Associates 20-40 hrs/wi

Sof-seot-side:
FULL or Part time. Must be 18 or older. Drivers: make $8-$15 per hour. Must have reliable care winsurance and a good driver winsurance and a good driver ecord. Phone help-able to use computer key board. Apply in person-Domino's Pizza 2630 S. Saunders 821-2330.

GOODBERRY'S CREAMERY Is now hiring full & part time positions for all locations. Drug free Environment. 56:00 - 58:00 starting pay. Call for an appointment. Raleigh Cary Garner 878-8159 467:2386 772-0205

TAKING RESERVATIONS NOW

FOR SPRING AND FALL MOVE-IN DATES

Everything You Want in Your

Off Avent Ferry Rd. Approx. one Mile From NCSU On Wolfline 851-7831 1-800-K82-PARK

(206) 971-3550 ext. C53597

EASTERN

Help Wanted Help Wanted

LONE STAR STEAKHOUSE AND

DUMBER YARD WORKERS: 2-3 part-time positions available. Pulling & loading customer lumber orders, racking & tagging lumber, picket cutting, yard maintenance. $7.50/hr. Call Jim at 467-9176. M-F 8am-5pm.

MECHANICALLY inclined shop-help for equipment rental yard F/Tor P/T must work Saturdays. Top pay. Capital Rental 250-0225.

NOW hiring full and part time sales cashiers-Apply in person at Priscillia's -3919 Western Bivd (Next to Pizza Hut.) 233-7588

OFFICE ASSISTANT- 2 positions available P/T or F/T Flexible atmosphere

Box 17102, Paleigh, N. C. 2781s.
PAID Volunters Needed Healthy
Mains and Females, 18-35 with no smoking history. needed to participate in EPA/UNC Air Pollution Studies, Lung Procedures(Bronchoscopy) and Asthma studes, Fjextble schedule
Asthma studies, Fjextble schedule guainted. Free Physical. Travel
joil of the Paleigh of the Paleigh

PAINTERS WANTED.

790-7294

RECEPTIONIST needed for cleaning service P/T-permanent. Will work around your schedule. Please call 467-7213 for an interview.

STEAK ESCAPE-Crabtree Valley Mall is now hiring all positions. Start $5.25-$6/hr. Free meal on shift: Call Tim at $71-0331.

SUMMER JOBS Love working outdoors? Are you responsible and reliable? First-Aid painting is seeking service orientated men and women for full-time seasonal employment. Will train, $7-9/hr. plus bonuses. $10-0810

SWIM Coaches, managers, instructors, life guards needed for North Raleigh pools. May-September, Contact David at 280-0552 for application or mal resume to RPPM, PD 80x 12251 Rateigh 27605-Deadline April 22.

SWIM TEAM COACHES Immediate need. Experience

TWO pit recep professional environment. Rotating schedules. Call Deana Byrd at 876-5398.

Sales - Fitness
Join our International Sales and Marketing Team in conducting membership sales drives for Health Clubs, Immediate U.S. openings. Entry level positions available with all training paid. Once trained, managers are earning $3.5,000/month with a guaranteed base plus commission. Looking for highly motivated sales and/or fitness oriented people. You must be free to travel throughout the U.S.A. own dependable transportation, and have a strong drive to succeed. For immediate consideration, fax resume to. 1919 1889-0102. Creative Fitness Marketing.

Work this Summer... and Beyond!

OOI IN IHE DOOR! Full and Part-TimeCustomer Service Reps

*Banking/Office Clerks

*Reception/Switchboard

*Accounting Professionals

*Administrative Assistants

*Data Entry/Processing

(704) 510-1644

Call or today

Charlotte 4600 Park Rd. Suite 100

Help Wanted For Sale

Autos For Sale

Roommates

WANTED: Artist's Model. $10/hour 836-8652

Childcare

Personnel Service Inc. temporary & permanent

We have short and long term positions available: •clerks •receptionists wordprocessors •secretaries

JOBFORCE

Loading/Unloading Warehouse Workers Banquet Servers Requirements: must be dependable, 18 years or older, have 2 forms of 1D

CALL TODAY 881-9000 #1 choice in the light industrial market

For Rent

Students

Avery Close 2 bedroom, 2 bath apartments for rent Available now and preleasing. Call 832-8506 for Efficiency apartmen $310-$340.

Typing

TYPING/WORD PROCESSING: Student paper and thesis preparation since 1982. Write/Edit resumes/letters. Open Mon-Sat Rogers Word Service, 1304 Hillsborough St, 834-0000

Call 755-0864 for more info

FEMALE roommate needed. Share 3 br/ba apt at Kensington Park off Avent Ferry Rd. On Wolfline. Starting August. $236/mo + 1/3 utilities. Call 512-1868 ASAP. Attention Students Ashe Place For rent.

NEEDED: Two non-smokers from mid May to early August. 2 Br., 2 bath, w/d, dishwasher. Walking distance to campus, on Wolfline. $287.50/ea. Call 833-8442.

ROOMMATE needed by May Parkwood Village. Bedroom, laundry, pool, busline. 831-0766. Leave message.

OMMATE needed. Female, ck from D.H. Hill library. A/ ile, W/D, $270/mo. Everythir uded. Call Erika 831-9544. ROOMMATE Wanted: To share 3bdr Brent Road duplex. Master bedroom, private bath $280/mo + 1/3 utils. Call Dave or Scott 233-9940.

SHARE my beautiful house in Cary. W/D, cable. Own batter and bath. 44

For Rent

2 Br/2 bath apartment convenien to NCSU. Fireplace, w/d hookups $500 month. Take over lease 832-7431.

DUPLEX for Rent, W. Raleigh. Carolina Avenue, 2BR, 1.5BA, WID connec, heat pump, central air, deck, NO PETS, $575/mo. B/R 821-2222

SUBLEASE 25/2 5 bath apr

RTP. RALEIGH POSITIONS

Get the Mazda!

A special finance program through Mazda American Credit for recent college graduates can help you get a new car loan as well as establish a credit history!! And get a $300 bonus from Mazda American Credit for all of your college efforts!!

Travel

PREG Termination Gentle & Expenenced Staff Reduced Rates for qualified patients. FREE Preg Test Rateigh (800)540-5590.

Miscellaneous

CYCLE Logic: We buy and sell used bikes. Free use of tools with instruction when you purchase any new bike. Tool rentals, and instruction. We have the lowest prices in Paleigh, Now carrying Litespeed Tranum, Fuji, Univege, and Jamis. Tune ups $19.8 and Jamis.

833-4588

MORGAN horse for lease energetic, beautiful mover, intermediate rider with some dressage experience preferred 919-556-9669.

WORK PERFECT Writing and

SUMMER JOBS

Leave time for fun, sun, and relaxation. TEMP!

*Earn extra $1, *Gain valuable expenence!

*Make key contacts with NIS top companies!,

*Build a strong resume.

*Earling Solutions has part and full-time positions area er enthusastic. dependable students this summer!

work with your schedule! No fee.

S. Draintotte (704) 559.3 140.

N. Charlotte (704) 559.4 6058.

Greenshoro [910] 82.0 011.

Raleigh [919] 783.7575.

| 1 Line of | 2 Journal | 3 Jo

Aftention Students: Aftention Students: Altention Students: Raleigh Rolling Rol New Home Is Right Here... 1, 2, 3 Bedroom Apts. Kensington