

Student Government elections to be held

Student Government elections will be held Monday, April 7 and Tuesday, April 8. Runoff elections will be held one week after regular elections, on April 14 and 15.

14 and 15.
Students may vote at any of the following polling locations: Fountain Dining Hall, the Student Center, the Atrium, the Tunnel Inn C-Store, Syme C-Store, and Centennial C-Store. Voting booths at the above locations will, for the most part, be open throughout the day.

High Point family endows merit scholarship

High Point veterinarian E. Max Sink and his wife, Dorothy, have pledged $25,000 to endow the E. Max and Dot Sink Family Scholarship for studies in the College of Veterinary Medicine at N.C. State.

In 1995, Sink received the Distinguished Alumnus Award from the University of Georgia School of Veterinary Medicine. He is serving for his seventh year as North Carolina delegate to the American Veterinary Medicine. The income from the Sinks' endowment will provide annual scholarships to outstanding veterinary students who are North Carolina residents studying in the field of large and mall companion—animal medicine.

Chancellor Larry K. Monteith

small companion-animal medicine. Chancellor Larry K. Monteith said of Max and Dorothy Sink's gift, "This commitment by the Sinks is an investment in tomorrow's veterinary leaders. This scholarship will allow some of the brightest and most energetic students to attend NCSU and will strengthen the university's commitment to increasing scholarships that will attract top scholars."

Veterinary College to hold open house

The College of Veterinary Medicine will host its annual open house Saturday, April 5, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The open house will consist of "behindthe-scenes" tours and is free and open to the public.

Inside Technician

Sports: NCSU tennis great Roberto Bracone is featured Page 3 ▶

Opinion: It's tax time again?

Page 8

Tech Too: Radio Hour!!!

Page 5 ▶

Reach Us Internet Services

TOL: Technician OnLine http://www2.ncsu.edu/ncsu/ stud_pubs/Technician

Campus Forum: techforum-t@ncsu.edu Press Releases: techpress-t@ncsu.edu Information: techinfo@ncsu.edu

Address erspoon Student Ce 323 Witherspoon Student Centre Box 8608, NCSU Campus Paleigh, NC 27695-8608

Technicia

North Carolina State University's Student Newspaper Since 1920

April 4, 1997

Volume 77, Number 75

H 80 , 53 H 77 , 51

Candidates spar at bland debate

■ Student body president candidates met to debate important issues Wednesday night.

BY PHILLIP REESE

The term debate could only be loosely applied to the gath-ering of student body president candidates at the Witherspoon Student Center Wednesday night, as the candidates agreed to not disagree on most issues that arose.

that arose.

During a public debate sponsored by Student Government, each of the seven candidates running for student body president denounced the current plus/minus grading system, called for the implementation of new safety measures, agreed that tobacco products should be sold in campus convenience

a more efficient campus transportation system.
One of the few issues that ignited debate was the question of affirmative action.
Candidates Nelson Powell.
Chad Myers, Nick Dutka and Ricky Livingston all rose in support of the controversial policy.

support of the controversial policy.

"Affirmative action works on this campus very well and I think it should continue," Livingston said.

Candidates Jason Reischel and Justin Keener both denounced affirmative action.

"I think it's wrong." Keener said. "I don't think anyone should get special treatment." Each of the candidates was given an opportunity to present his platform during the course of the debate.

Livingston mentioned the

A student questions student body president candida plight of NCSU's Women's plight of NCSU's Women's. Center during his platform presentation. The Center is trying to relocate, and thringston suggested that the center be moved to a location where it can stay indefinitely. He also claimed that NCSU students should be the first priority of those constructing the arena that will eventually become the home of NCSU's men's basketball team.

kethall team.
"N.C. State students should have first bidding on the seating," Livingston said.
Jim Reinke promised to fight words, "is going to happen." Reinke also stressed the need for more student dining op-

"It would be good to have people use their All-Campus Cards on Hillsborough Street,"

Powell said more "blue lights," the alarms posted around campus which alert NCSU's Public Safety of an emergency, need to be in-stalled. He also called for the

See DEBATE, Page 2 >

BBQ delivery

Ryan Link, a Delta Sig pledge, delivers BBQ to customers in Sullivan Hall
Thursday. He is selling the barbeque in order to raise money for Delta Sig

Professor featured in National Geographic special

An NCSU professor and an thropologist recently explored the death rituals of a tribe in

By VICKI HOGLEN

Death rituals create a strange fascination

Death rituals create a strange fascination among the living.
That is the experience of Anne Schiller, an anthropologist and sociology professor at N.C. State who took a film crew from National Geographic on an expedition into Petak Putih, Borneo last summer.
Schiller travelled to Borneo because the local family that had adopted her during her previous three visits to the island nation was preparing for the death ritual known as tiwah, and they wanted to share the experience with her and the rest of the world.

The tiwah is important to the Ngaju

LAYAR peopre because it fulfills their faith and gives them a sense of cultural identity.

"We really do need to take care of each other," Schiller says, "and the death rituals are a way for the people to repay their parents for giving them life." In some sections of Borneo, the dead are believed to rest in peace only after the tiwah has been performed.

Ancient Death Ritual

The first quest of the tiwah is to offer food for the dead to eat in the afterlife by means of animal sacrifice. Mantikei, Schiller's adopted Ngaju brother, spent an entire year's wage on the water buffalo he sacrificed last summer.

As thousands of people watched, the blood from the beast was applied to the faces of family members, including Schiller. Blood, in the Ngaju tradition, protects the living from famine and evil, and strengthens the bonds of family.

The next step in the ritual is the exhumation of the bones of the dead. Schiller's adopted family was pleased to find a bee's nest in the coffin. This proved that a great deal of honey, which is expensive in Borneo, was placed on the body at the original burial. The family cleaned the bones and packed them up in bundles. The bones were carried to the family tomb as if they were sleeping babies. It was there that the final stage of the tiwah began.

All of the bones were covered in powder and placed into the tomb. There were happy tears and joyous celebrations as the spirit of the body became free at last in the prosperous village, a place of no hunger or evil, Schiller said.

A crowd of thousands gathered in Petak

New initiatives to ease parking problems

■ Summer transportation renovations promise to make NCSU parking more efficient.

By Shannon Umberger

Summer. Free, Better parking.
Three of any college student's favorite terms are going to work in conjunction for some major changes.
The best part? No new student fees to get the job done. We get to receive without giving.
This summer, N.C. State's Department of Transportation will begin expansion of the park-n-ride at the corner of Varsity Drive and Marcom Street and will start the addition of a Park-n-Ride on Centennial Campus. These projects will happen in conjunction with the seasonal renovation of other parking lots across main campus.

across main campus.

According to Cathy Reeve, Transportation's associate director for planning and facilities, the free parking service at Varsity Drive currently has 190 parking spaces.

The Varsity Park-n-Ride will be tripled to make 570 spaces. Reeve said. "It will include two bus stops and a couple of blue light phones."

Transportation is also going to build a new park and ride on Centennial Campus, right off of Centennial Parksays on what will be the Main Campus Drive excesses on what will be the Main Campus Drive excesses.

Parkway on what with come to the tension.

"We are going to provide 300 parking spaces there, with two bus stop areas." Reeve said.

Transportation has not decided on a Wolfline route configuration that will accommodate the new parking lost. Reeve said. But Jonathan Gelber. Transportation Planner, said the prints to add at least two buses to the Wolfling security.

Iransportation that will accommodate the new parking tools. Review and But Jonathan Gelber. Transportation Planner, such perpare to add at least two buses to the Worthme system.

"We will probably run two to three buses by the Centennial Park-n-Ride and two by the Varsity park and ride." Gelber said.

The two projects are being bid on within the next two weeks. Transportation has budgeted $55,000 for the expansion of the Varsity park and ride and $500,000 for the Centennial park and ride.

Revey said the parking lots should be ready by the middle of the fall semester.

Along with this construction. Transportation will "bring closure to a major summer renovation project" that starred in the summer of 1991, Revey said.

Many of NCSU's parking lots will be resurfaced and restructured over the summer break.

The parking lots south of Nelson Hall, north of Clark, Hall, and east of Gardner Hall will be resurfaced. NC-SU Facifities Department will also resurface Brooks Avenue this summer, Revey said.

Resurfacing will also be done on the parking lots. At the Schaub Food Science Building, Central Stores, and the Avent Ferry Complex.

According to Greg Cain, Transportation's assistant director for operations, some permit changes will happen along with the resurfacing of other parking lots.

The pay lot and B permit parking at Hilsborough Square (behind Darryl's) will be changed into a C permit parking at Hilsborough Square toethind Darryl's will be changed into a C permit parking at Hilsborough Square toethind Darryl's will be changed into a C permit parking to the summer of the parking and Hilsborough Square toethind Darryl's will be changed into a C permit parking at Hilsborough Square toethind Darryl's will be changed into a C permit parking of the Coliscum Deck a pay lot because of demand for short-term parking and the students which CC permits graduate in May" so the spaces can be vacated.

Cain did point out that, if this plan can work, a negative consequence would be that most students who are on the wait list f

NCSU Science House receives huge grant to expand education programs

■ The Science House is working to better the methods used to teach math and science throughout the state.

By Preston Moon

N.C. State is a dominant institu-tion in academic science research and education in North Carolina. One campus department, The Science House, is striving to make sure that domination continues well into the future by providing support and education to the NC-SU scientists of tomorrow with the help of some key donations to-day.

day.

Through their many programs.

The Science House is improving the way science and mathematics are taught in North Carolina. Its staff is working to help scores of science teachers from many of the state's secondary schools better prepare their lessons so they include new computer and calculator technology.

Providing support for those who teach science and math is one way to reach students. Another way is to expose the students themselves to what research on the university level is really like.

to what research on the university level is really like. According to David Haase, di-rector of The Science House, re-cent grants from the National Science Foundation and the Burroughs Wellcome Foundation will go to fund the beginnings of two additional programs on The Science House's agenda.

The National Science Foundation's grant of $662,813 will be used for EMPOWER, a program to train 120 middle school teachers over a three-year-period on how to integrate computer-based equipment into math and science lessons, said Haase. The project is a joint mission with co-directors from the chemistry and the math and science education departments.

tion departments.

The Burroughs Wellcome
Foundation put up $163,425 for
The Science House to use to bring high school students from the local area to NCSU to do their own control invariations. scientific investigations.
"High school students seldom get a chance to do science like it is done in a university setting," said Haase.

The students will not only get a chance to work a real problem of their own creation in the laboratory; they will also be able to learn how to write a grant proposal, how to present their findings in a conference-style environment, and how to work in teams.

Hasse said that these are things students do not really learn in a students do not really learn in a high school science class.

"We wanted a program where students would be doing the prob-lems that real scientists do," he said.

The Science House recently moved to new facilities in Research Building IV on Centennial Campus, providing them with modern lab space and computer facilities, said Haase. The House is organized under the College of Physical and Mathematical Sciences, but is a collaborative effort with other colleges.

loges.

The Science House reaches 20,000 middle and high school students a year with over a hundred school visits. It currently is involved in the training of over 600 North Carolina teachers per year.

Haase said educators on the na-tional level have consulted with The Science House about its pro-

See House, Page 2

Sports page 3

Tech Too page 5

National news page 4

World news page 7

Opinion page 6

Classifieds page 8

NCSU anthropologist travels to Borneo, observes death rituals

Continued from page 1

Putih for the ritual. For the first Putih for the ritual. For the first time in years, there were street vendors to buy from and traveling doctors to visit. The tiwah encourages the Nagiu Dayaks to look at death differently than most Westerners do. It is a celebration of a way of life. A way of life that Schiller believes is changing at a rapid pace. National Geographic realized the opportunity Schiller had in participating in the tiwah. She is the only Westerner to ever do so. The crew came along at the request of the Ngaju Dayaks and was treated graciously, Schiller said, The people placed a special blessing on the equipment and wished National Geographic a successful produc-

Behind The Ritual

Borneo is the third largest island in the world. Its colonization by the Dutch in the 19th century gave outsiders their first impressions of a land untouched by modern civilization, Schiller said.

The Dutch were repelled by the head-hunting and human sacrifice occasionally performed in the rituals of the Ngaju Dayaks, Thus, the legends of the "Wild Men of Borneo" were born.

The Dutch outlawed head-hunting and human sacrifice in 1894 and launched a mission to convert the native people to Christianity, Yet, the myths remained long after the practice ceased, Schiller said, One hundred years later, the Ngaju Dayaks are making progress toward cleaning up their image.

They are now part of the

They are now part of the Indonesian province of Central Kalimanton and their religion, Kaharingan, has been approved as a sect of Hinduism. The Ngaju Dayaks are eager to dispel their old image, and Schiller's research is granting them the means to show this to the world.

An Outsider Amid Ancient Practices

Schiller became interested in the death rituals of Borneo in 1982, when her concentration in anthropology became comparative religion. At that time, Borneo was just a place to conduct research.

Over the next 15 years, however, Schiller would make four trips to Borneo. She overcame the suspi-cions of the people and was eventu-ally adopted by family in the rain any acopacity of corest. Schiller says her next trip to Borneo will include her enrollment in Tampung Penjang Religious University. She intends to study the training of the local priests and continue her study of the impact of religious change on society and politics in the region.

With the publicity from the National Geographic Explorer episode, which aired on Sunday, March 30, and Schiller's new book, "Small Sacrifices: Religious Change and Cultural Identity Among the Ngaju of Indonesia," the Nagju Dayaks are hopeful that their "Wild Men of Borneo" image will dissipate. Schiller agrees and hopes that the impact of her work will hit close to home.

"I hope the publicity will make students more aware of and interested in the study of anthropology, she said." Perhaps their interest will then contribute to an anthropology major here at State."

Debate

Continued from Page 1 implementation of a 24-hour visita-tion policy at all NCSU residence halls.

halls.
"If you are old enough to come to college, you are old enough to assume responsibility for the actions you take," Powell said.
Myers said more interaction between various student organizations is needed. He went on to suggest that a comprehensive community service program be created at NC-STI

"I would like to see a NCSU Service Day each semester," he

Keener said NCSU's Wolfline transportation system should run on Friday and Saturday nights in order to curb drunk-driving on campus. He also said a new dining hall should be constructed on the east should be constructed on the east side of campus. Reischel said NCSU's Women's Center should be moved to a location in the middle of campus in order to make it more accessible. He also stood up for the new security measures being taken in the CHASS complex, but he said such measures should be established throughout NCSU. "Why can't these happen at every building. There are students and professors at other buildings on campus," Reischel said. Dutka said the faculty advising system should be improved. He also said a new financial aid distribution system that would not require students to wait in line for hours at a time should be implemented. Elections for Student Body President and other Student Government positions will be held on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Technical Support Assistants

Interpath, North Carolina's premiere internet service

Interpath, North Carolina's premiere interiest extruction provider, has openings for part-time technical support assistants, to staff the help desk in various shifts around the clock. Must have well-developed computer and people skills, experience with Macintosh, DOS and Windows, Experience in assisting others with and windows. Experience in assisting outers with computers preferred. Great benefits and opportunity for growth. Apply with Interpath/Capitol Broadcasting Company Human Resources, 711 Hillsborough Street Raleigh, NC 27605. Visit our jobs site on the world wide web at www.cbc-raleigh.com

Parking

Continued from Page 1
"It's not that we are not meeting the need," Cain said. "We just don't want them to sit vacant."

Cain said "the ADA addresses comparable" treatment. So instead of charging one fee for any handicapped parking space, handicapped students are going to pay the amount for the permit of the zone in which they are parking. "We wanted to give our handicapped students are close to the control of the permits, too," Reeve said.

To achieve this, Reeve said the G parking lot on West Campus, off Sullivan Drive, will be redesigned to add 17 handicapped parking spaces right beside a new major bus stop, complete with a covered shelter and blue lights.

Reeve said $500,000 has been budgeted to fulfill all of the summer renovations.

According to Reeve, also starting this summer will be a 12 to 18 month, $680,000 project to make structural repairs to the Centennial ABB, Dan Allen, and Coliseum parking decks. parking decks.

parking decks.

As far as parking for the summer goes,
Reeve said she will probably send notices to Technician in order to keep students and faculty updated as to which parking lots will be closed each week for renovation.

House

Continued from Page 1
Some of The Science House's current programs include IMHOTEP, a program providing African-American middle and high school students with math and science enrichment opportunities; Physics on the Road, a traveling demonstration program for area schools; and EarthCycle, a traveling interactive and hands-on presentation about topics in marine biology, oceanography, geology, and meteorology. Haase said The Science House is always looking for NCSU students to be assistants with the department. Hired student assistants help drive the vans of equipment for the traveling programs and help with the on-campus demonstrations.

Buy recycled. It would mean the world to them.

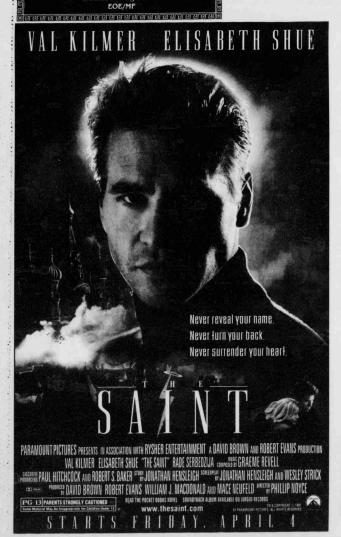

Forum Policy

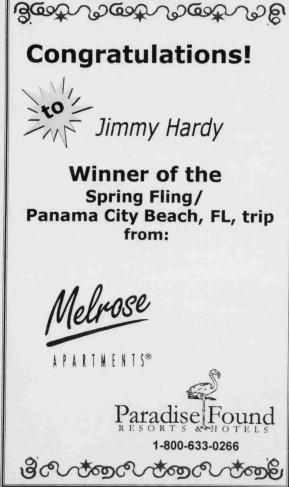

Technician welcomes Cam orum letters. They are likely to be printed if they:

- deal with significant issues, breaking news or public interest
- are limited to approximately 350 words
- are typed, signed with the writer's name, telephone number and, if the writer is a student, his/her major

Technician will consider all submissions, but does not guarantee they will be published. All letters are subject to editing and become the property of Technician. Letters should be brought by Suite 323 of the Witherspoon Student Center or mailed to Technician. Campus Forum, P.O. Box 8608, N.C. State University, Raleigh, North Carolina 27695-8608.
Forum letters may also be

Forum letters may also be submitted via e-mail. The forum's TechForum

Women's Tennis:

Current Pack coach Jenny Garrity is State's all-time winningest player.

keep the ball rolling this weekend in

By James Curle

Kentucky.

Sports

Got a problem?

Sweet dreams are made of these? Who am I to disagree: Call us at 515-2411 or write to us at sports@sma.sca.ncsu.edu

Surging 'The Machine' rolls on

Hick To SMMLY "THE MACHINE"....State No. 1 tennis seed Roberto Bracone has been a consistent winner on a team lacking success. Bracone crept into the naitonal rankings earlier this week despite not having the minimum number of wins normally need for the honor.

Simply put, Bracone leads by example

■ State tennis player Roberto. Bracone is the essence of a student-athlete.

By K. GAFFNEY

The epitome of what N.C. State athletics should be is rarely seen by Wolfpack fans. N.C. State's No. I tennis player Roberto Bracone broke into the national collegiate tennis rankings at No. 85 on Tuesday.

The State sophomore is also 13-4 on the season in singles matches, and has been the program's most consistent force for the past season.

But what is remarkable about Bracone isn't the fact that his success this season has come after rebounding from ehow and shoulder surgery this summer, or that he was ranked despite failing to meet the minimum qualifications to be ranked nationally.

What is remarkable about Bracone is his seldom-seen love and respect not only for his game, but for athletics in general, and his awareness and confidence that, no matter how good or bad things on the court may get, life isn't about tennis. Though originally from Argentina, to talk with Bracone, you would assume that he grew up in Raleigh. He is a bigger Wolfpack fan than most college students who have lived their entire lives on Tobacco Road. He is a student of the game, and knows its history, both around the world and here at State.

history, both around the world and here at State.

"I started playing in Argentina when I was about seven years old," Bracone said. "We had tennis rackets under our television set in Argentina and I just picked one up one and started playing."

Like many of his fellow countrymen, Bracone also played soccer, but the sport which is to Argentinians what baseball has traditionally been to Americans never caught on with Bracone.

Bracone came to America when he

Americans never caught Bracone.
Bracone came to America when he was 11, and remained in Florida until two years ago, Following current NCSU coach Eric Hayes from St.
Petersburg Fla., Bracone gave up the warmer weather and his professional career to join the Wolfpack squad.
"When (Coach Hayes) got the job

People don't understand understand how hard it is to play a sport and do well in school." - Roberto Bracone, N.C. State's No. 1 tennis seed

here,
I was kind of looking to go to school, so
I came up here with him." Bracone said.
Like Hayes, Bracone came to State with the idea in mind to revamp the Wolfpack tennis program.
In his first year at State, despite struggling through the season bothered by his shoulder and elbow, Bracone was named to the All-ACC team, the first Wolfpack player in three years to earn the bonor.

Wonpace Police

Coach Hayes played a large roll in bringing Bracone to North Carolina, but Bracone isn't here just to play tennis.

"I never thought I'd be going to school," Bracone said. "That was the scared."

Bracone says that he quickly overcame his fears, with the help of the academic support staff at State.
"They really made me work," Bracone said. "People don't understand how hard it is to play a sport and do well in school, and I really respect people who can do that, people like Todd Fuller. You just don't realize how much work it is."

it is."

He credits his success to the support that he has received both off of the court, and on, even his national ranking.

Bracone is recovering from an operation this summer on his shoulder and elbow surgery which sidelined him for this past fall season. The need for the surgery came from an on-going nerve problem which has bother Bracone for years, but only really started to pose a problem last spring.

While Bracone is well enough to play,

Wolfpack Notes

Duke drops State in men's tennis

The No. 12 ranked Duke Blue Devils defeated the N.C. State men's tennis team, 6-1 on Wednesday, as State freshman Shaun Thomas pulled out the Wolfpack's only win of the match.

In the No. 3 singles match, Thomas dropped the first set, 6-7, to Duke's Schastien Gobbi, but came back to win the second and third sets, 6-1, 6-3.

State's No. 1 singles player Roberto Bracone, who came into the match ranked No. 38 in the nation lost to Blue Devil Alberto Brause, 7-5, 6-3. Brause, ranked No. 31 in the nation, is the first of three nationally ranked opponents that Bracone will face in the upcoming week.

Thomas and Bracone paired up to give the No. 7 ranked duo of Jordan Wiles and Doug Root a scare in the No. 1 doubles match, but the Blue Devils prevailed, 9-8.

In the No. 4 singles spot, State's Devane Desai was 9-8.

In the No. 4 singles spot, State's Devang Desai was able to take the first set, 6-2, but Porter Jones came back to win the game with a score of 6-3 in the second and third sets and Gusky defeated State freshman Keith Salmon, 6-4, 6-1. Hayes Calvert and Jeff Smith were defeated in straight sets by Ramin Pejan and Jordan Wile in the. No. 3 and No. 6 singles matches. The Blue Devils also swept the doubles matches, taking the No. 2 match, 8-2, and No. 3, 8-0. State travels north to take on the No. 14 ranked Virginia Commonwealth team today 2 pm.

Pack tops Bucs; readies for Heels State wins five in a row; 16th home win ■ Blackmon's lead propels Pack.

By A. S. MARTIN

The East Carolina University

The East Carolina University Pirates were unprepared for the Wolfpack when the two teams faced off Wednesday night at Doak Field. The Wolfpack, 23-11 (4-5 ACC) defeated the Pirates, 9-7. ECU's record dropped to 19-16. Wolfpack starter Kurt Blackmon (W, 3-2) pitched five scoreless innings, striking out eight and allowing just one hit. By the third inning the Pirates already wanted to go home—a base runner headed for the dugout with only two men out, and he became the third. The Pirates scored two runs in the

and he became the third.

The Pirates scored two runs in the sixth, on a single and back-to-back doubles, before Blackmon gave way to the bullpen.

Blackmon last pitched Mar. 28 against the Seminoles, when he went the distance and gave up just six hits.

"Against Florida State I threw 133 pitches. That's something I'd never done in my life," he said. With an ERA of 6.06, Blackmon is the probable starter for this Sunday's game against Carolina. Middle reliever Scott Dobson took a walk on the wild side, giving up an earned run in just one third of an inning. Errors scored the Pirates twice more in the seventh. Dustin Baker moved from shortstop to the mound for an inning and two thirds, striking out two and giving up a single. Left-fielder Chris Combs closed it out and earned his second save on the season.

the season.

"I like having the game in my hands," Combs said. "You're in control of every pitch. You've gotta like that."

Combs, whose fastball has been clocked at 92 miles per hour, allowed his first run of the season—a surprise solo homer. Ther run gives Combs an ERA of 1.50 in six

See Bucs, Page 4

I THINK I'M GONNA HIK.... Wolfpack pitcher Brett Black and the rest of the State squad will battle archival North Carolina this weekend at Dook Field. The two learns have split the last two serie meetings, with the Tar Heels sweeping the Pack last season at Basharner Stadium.

■ State looks to regain bragging rights in baseball

By A. S. MARTIN

In a baseball rivalry dating back to 1895, the UNC-Chapel Hill Tar Heels hold the upper hand, with a record of 128-99-1. The series has been a fairly even match-up in the 1990s, however, with the Pack winning 12 games and losing 13 to the Tar Heels in regular and post-season play. Last year the Tar Heels swept the Pack at Boshamer Stadium, while the year before the Pack took three from the Tar Heels at home.

at home.
After playing Duke, The University of Virginia and Florida State this season, the Pack have a conference record of 4-5.

See HEELS, Page 4 >

Bracone

Heels

his daily routine has changed considerably. Before taking the court for practice, Bracone has to warm up for at least 45 minutes. along with daily trips to the training room. For Bracone, it is a hassle, but he wouldn't have it any other way.

"In finally healed," Bracone said, giving most of the credit to the State trainers. "If it wasn't for them. I wouldn't be playing right now."

Bracone is not likely to accept credit for much of anything, athletically or academically.

"I think that State really wants to change the perception of what a

Carolina's ACC record is 3-6 gainst Clemson, Maryland and against Clemson, Maryana Duke.

Things look good for the Wolfpack this time around. After winning the last two in this past weekend's ACC series against then-second ranked Florida State. The Pack pounded The Citadel twice in a double header Tuesday, then defeated East Carolina Wednesday.

In the last three games, Wolfpack hiters batted, 396 (42-for-.06) and four players hit a total of six home runs.

cutive plate appearances

Bracone said. "I think that it speaks highly that we are all striving to work hard and succeed in the classroom and the playing field." State couldn't ask for a better example of that than Bracone. Bracone takes on two of the top 13 players in the nation in the next four days, as the Wolfpack men's tennis team travels to Virginia Commonwealth today and to Clemson on Monday. Wins in these upcoming matches could significantly change Bracone's rankings in the national polls. Regardless of where Bracone is ranked after this next stretch, or where he ends up after this season, he will remain, dare the words be used, a role model.

Matt Postell went 4-for-4 with a home run and a double in game one against The Citadel and is 6-for-9 (.667) on the week. Also this week, Scott Lawler is 4-for-9 (.444) with three runs, seven RBI and two home runs, including agrand slam

RBI and two home runs, including a grand slam.

Stephen Wolff is 3-for-7 (.429) with two doubles.

The Wolfpack slugging attack has advanced in spite of miscellaneous bumps and bruies to many of the starters. Sergio is getting over a badly twisted ankle which has bothered him since last Friday. Lawler, who has battled injuries all season, bruised his right heel in Saturday's game. Brad Piercy, an ACC leader who currently bats 406, was out of the lineup Tuesday and Wednesday due to a strained leg muscle.

and Wednesday due to a strained leg muscle. Going into the weekend series against the Tar Heels, State coach Elliott Avent said the team is "hopefully getting healthy and (preparing to) do the things we've been doing."

four players hit a total of six home runs.

In his last three games, lead-off hiter Tom Sergio is 7-for-9 (778) with seven runs and seven RBI. Including a grand slam Tuesday against The Citadel.

Chris Combs, who this week went 7-for-13 (.538) with a double and two home runs, cites defense as the area the Pack needs to concentrate on this weekend.

"We're trying not to make any errors. (Against East Carolina) we had a couple that hurt us a little bit, but this past weekend we caught and threw the ball well. We're going to try to stay strong and play together." Combs said.

Jakweber is on a 13-game hitting streak with 10 doubles, two triuss and six homers on the season. This week he went 5-for-14 (.357) with two home runs in two consecutive plate appearances. (preparing to) do the things we've been doing."

Avent said he expects to see the Wolfpack "cut down on the mistakes, play solid defense, and give our offense a chance to win."

On the mound Pack fans can expect to see Bubba Scarce (4-0) start tonight. Brett Black (3-4) tomorrow night and Kut Blackmon (3-2) Sunday.

Scarce, an 11th-round draft pick by the Oakland Athletics in 1994, has a 3.17 ERA and is among the top 10 pitchers in the ACC.

Game time is 7 p.m. tonight.

Bucs

innings pitched.
"It threw a slider and I don't really have one," Combs said. "That was the first time I had ever thrown it at all. That's kind of why I don't throw it, right there."

Combs was helped out by right fielder Jake Weber, whose glove took away two base hits from the Pirates in the ninth.
Wolfpack lead-off man Tom Sergio got on base five times in the game and scored three times.

The Pack got its nine runs on IO hits, all singles. Pack runners advanced five times on Pirate errors, three times on wild pitches and once on a balk. Freshman Jason Smith started at second base for an injured Sergio, who played center field while injured outfielder Brad Pirery sat one out. Smith has shown promise, going 2-for-9 (.222) and turning two outbe plays in as many days.
"We're a little banged up right now," Sergio said. "We needed to win this game to gain some confidence going into this weekend, but we feel pretty good about the way we're playing right now. We're starting to hit the ball more than we've been doing, and I hink we're ready for Carolina. We're in our park, and I feel pretty confident." he said.

Technician Sports: Dear Daily Tar Heel: We've got your balls.

Technician Sports'
Find the Liz Bernstein:
thldotibussifgitizilizbernsteinsoapadoh farfankimisthedallyshowkicksassplease sendmemormoneytothecurtyfryfundok?

We've been Technician Sports, you've been great! Good night!

Future of our military: noncombat missions

■ A report from the Pentagon states the United States will be an unrivaled superpower until at least 2010, and that it should focus on military training and peacetime missions.

BY PAUL RICHTER

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon's strategic blueprint for the next decade will increasingly emphasize the military's expanding — and controversial — noncombat roles, from peacekeeping and drug interdiction to humanitarian aid, officials said Wednesday. Though such missions have critics on Capitol Hill and in the military itself, a Pentagon draft report says the armed forces should be equipped to take on many more of the two dozen such deployments the United States has mounted since the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989.

Such assignments are "just reality," said Lt. Col. Tim Muchmore, an Army staff officer who has been closely involved in the Pentagon's study. "They're out there for us."

The report, due for completion in mid-May, predicts that the Cold War's end has brought a strategic "pause" that will leave the United States an unrivaled superpower until at least 2010. None-theless, it calls for the armed forces to master a full range of military roles—what one official called "NATIONAL" in the perturn dominance."

As in earlier studies of the military's mission, the Pentagon report calls for the armed forces to master a full range of military roles—what one official called "NEWS" they also view them as an effective way to pack the prepared to handle two major regional conflicts—such as those that could explode in such international hot spots as Iraq and Korea—in "close succession."

Tension in U.S.-Mexico relations

expressed his concern over the new immigration law that takes effect this week.

BY STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON — Mexican Ambassador Jesus Silva-Herzog said Thursday that U.S.-Mexican relations had reached a historic high point of good feelings two months ago but have since deteriorated so much that they must be repaired before President Clinton visits Mexico in early May.

The ambassador insisted that the Mexico in early May.

The ambassador insisted that the president is still considered a friend of Mexico and will be welcomed there. But he will face a wave of nationalistic feelings, Silva-Herzog that we haven't had in a number of years."

Blaming the tension on the new years."

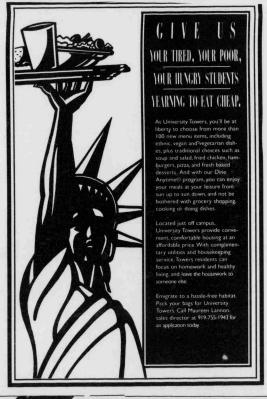

U.S. immigration law that took effect this week and the American anti-drug certification process, the ambassador said both governments "have a very deep responsibility cool down this atmosphere before Clinton arrives."

Once he is there, Mexican officials will ask Clinton for a "rational, adequate approach to immigration and drugs," Silva-therzog said. Speaking to Latin American specialists here at a luncheon sponsored by the Brookings Institution and the Inter-American Dialogue, the ambassador did not divulge any details of these impending demands.

Silva-Herzog said the immigration law, which took effect Tuesday. "has sent a message that has caused the Mexican society deep concern." There is apprehension that there will be mass deportation of illegal immigrants from the United States, suppression of human rights and harm to the stability of families that may have to separate under the new law, the ambassador said.

Although the White House decided to certify Mexico at the end of March as fully cooperative in the war against drugs, the incessant criticism of that decision by members of Congress hurt the relationship between the two countries, he said: "The overall impression was that we were exposed to a very unjust process."

Do you have great communication skills? Do you enjoy meeting people? If so, you are cordially invited to attend the 1997 Stately Lady meeting:

DATE: April 10, 1997 TIME: 5:30p.m. PLACE: Weisiger-Brown Football Facility

PLEASE BRING A RECENT PHOTO OF YOURSELF

N.C. STATE WOLFPACK

NCSU Bookstore

"Official NCSU Ring Dealer"

New movie gives 'That Old Feeling'

■ New romantic comedy opens in theaters today.

BY KRISTEN SPRUILL

Molly (Paula Marshall) should have known her wedding was doomed when she choked on the diamond engagement ring her boyfriend hid in the chocolate mousse. Her second clue to the upcoming fiasco should have been the way her fiance insisted that they have a large wedding and invite both err purents, despite her objections that they hate each other "with nuclear capacity."

parents, despite her objections that they hate each other "with nuclear capacity." That Old Feeling showcases Bette Midler, in another of her fabulously outrageous divaroles, as Lilly Leonard, famous movie starlet working on her second marriage.

Lilly's ex-husband, Dan DeMauro (Dennis Farina), is a stereotypical literary type, as successful New York author who writes murder mysteries in which the victim is always an actress.

Their daughter Molly is so afraid of reuniting her parents that she begs her flance, JFK, Ir. clone Keith (Jamie Denton), to elope so she won't have to face them together. Alas, conservative congressional candidate Keith refuses to give up his large political wedding.

Before a backdron of a pastel up his large political wedding. Before a backdrop of a pastel flowers and stately gardens, the newlyweds strive to keep Molly's parents separate. But no Long Island mansion is big enough to keep the two hotheaded ex-spouses apart.

Once the inevitable happens, a heated argument erupts. A horrified Molly escorts her parents to the parking lot and admonishes them not to come back until they can behave civilly. Once alone, their parents and the service of t romantic love.

While Hollywood is perennially obsessed with young, pretty people falling in love, or at lea! into bed, this movie does an admirable job of portraying middle-aged, not-so-cute-anymore people as capable of irreverence, lust and impulsiveness. One scene shows Farina dipping Midler on his knee, and her non-liposuctioned legs show, attractively and prominently. Promotional literature quotes attractively and prominently.

Promotional literature quotes Midler as saying. "Teenagers hink when you reach a certain age everything just dries up and falls off, but it doesn't.
Sex keeps you going and it just gets better."
Certainly, this movie proves that point.
While Midler and Farina carry the movie like the seasoned pros they are, the real scene-stealer of the movie is Danny Nucci, playing a pesky paparrazo who has assigned himself as Lilly's personal photographer. Nucci, a.k.a. "the Cockroach," is the only character who manages to retain his sanity throughout the movie together.

As a romantic interest, the Cockroach is sleazy enough to be interesting, but, as Lilly says, he "cleans up nice."

Nucci is portrayal of a hounding paparrazo is so convincing that, during filming, a production assistant asked him to leave the set.

"Having wocked I.d. years in the business, all'we run into lots of these in-your-face guys."

Nucci is quoted as saying in a promotional piece. "I based my character on three of them using bits of each."

my character on three of them, using hits of each."

Nucci's Cockroach describes himself as Lilly's biggest fan and sees his work as essential publicity that helps keep her in the limelight. His street-smart urban attitude is laced with just enough naivete to make him an able foil to Molly's uptight. Hyy-League, conservative character.

For me, movies boil down to three categories: the kind you want to see at the theater, the kind you want to see at the theater, the kind you can see them over and orbe again. This one is definitely one to take home and savor. But don't wait until That Old Feeling hits your local Blockbuster — go to the theater and see it in all its glory.

STRESS RELIEVERS

Stewart Theater
Friday, April 4 The Grains of Time "Spring Concert" 8 p.m.
Sunday, April 6 The New Horizons Choir "20th Anniversary Concert" 4 p.m.
Tickets can be obtained through Ticket Central, Call $15-1100.
Steven Curtis Chapman Steven Curtis Chapman Steven Curtis Chapman Frings the Signs of Life tour to Chapel Hill on April 25 at 7:30 p.m. Also scheduled to appear are Audio Adrenaline and Carofon Arends. Tickets are available at the Smith Center Box Office, all Ticketmaster locations or by calling (919) 834-4000.

Campus Cinema Shows are $1.50 for students and $2.00 for p.m. FREE Monday, April 7 Southern Culture Film Series "Daniel Reeves" 7 p.m. FREE Riato Theater April 4-10 "The Delicate Art of the Rifle' Sunday, April 6 Lecture and Celebration : Gallery A at 2:30 p.m.

Arabian Night Friday, April 4 the IAC hosts Arabian Night in the University Student Center Ballroom, starting at 6 p.m. starting at 6 p.m. Pan African Festival Thursday, April 10 "Dance Visions" Stewart Theatre, 8 p.m. Friday, April 11 "Stepshow" Stewart Theatre

Theatre
"Pan-African Dance" USC Ballroom, 10
p.m. FREE
Saturday, April 12 "Pan-African Dance"
USC Ballroom, 11 p.m. FREE
"Pan-African Blackout" North Plaza, 12 noon-4
p.m. FREE

Performances

Thompson Theatre
"The 1940's Radio Hour" showing Friday-

Saturday, April 4 and 5 at 8 p.m. Sunday, April 6 at 3 p.m. Wednesday-Saturday, April 9-12, 8 p.m. Sunday, April 13, 3 p.m. Tickets can be purchased through Ticket Central, Call 515-1100. Meredith College April 77, 18, 19 at 8 p.m. and April 20, 2 p.m. Meredith Performs: "Quilters" at Studio Theater April 25 at 8 p.m. and April 26, 3 p.m. National Opera Company: "The Barber of Seville" at Jones Auditorium

Opportunities

Volunteers UNC-TV is seeking volunteers to answer phone calls, sign up new donors, and help send out promotional materials during the "Festival" 97" telethon. For more inform-ation, call Debra Beller at (919) 549-7173.

ation, call Debra Beller at (919) 549-7173. Scholarship Theatre in the Park will award a $1,000 scholarship to an area student for higher education. Applicants must be a recent graduate of a Triangle accretified high school, must be planning a degree in theater or performing aris, and must be accepted into an accredited institution. Deadline for entires is June 1. Contact Theatre in the Parl at $13-1085 for information.

Workshops

Workshops

Native American Literary Conference
A 3-day Native American Literary Heritage Conference will be held at Guilford College on April 4-6. There will be workshops, speakers, panel discussions and an evening with the Southern Sun Singers. The conference is open to the public For information, contact the N.C. Writers'
Network at (919) 967-9540.
State Farmers Market
Friday-Sunday, April 4-6 "Lawn and Garden Equipment Show." The latest lawn and garden equipment on the market today,
presented by area power equipment dealers.
Friday-Saturday, April 18-19 "Spring Herb Days." Workshops and products using heats will be available throughout the weekend from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day. Programs include herbal centerpieces, growing and using basil, herbal vinegars, herbal marinades and more.

Photogram Collage Workshop

marinades and more.

Photogram Collage Workshop

Wednesday and Thursday, April 23, 10 a.m.

APRIL 5 Parade at 11am (Cates Avenue/NCSU Campus)

"Jewel of the Nile" Jazz Mixer from 9-12ar (University Student Center Ballroom)

APRIL 6

Worship Service with United Student Fellowship at 11am (USC Ballroom)

New Horizons Choir 20th Anniversary

APRIL 7

Art Exhibit, African Storytelling, Health Fair, Hair Show from 12-4pm (USC Ballroom, 2nd Floor)

Black Finesse Modeling Troupe at 8pm (Stewart Theatre, tickets available at door)

APRIL 8

Quiz Bowl at 12 noon (University Student Center, 1st Floor)

Black Repertory Theatre at 8pm (Stewart Theatre)

APRIL 9 Financial Investments (USC Ballroom, 2nd Floor)

APRIL 10 Talk Show at 12 noon (University Student Center, 1st Floor)

DanceVisions 20th Anniversary Spring Recital at 8pm (Stewart Theatre)*

APRIL 11

Comedy Show at 8pm (Stewart Theatre)*

After Party from 11pm-3am (USC Ballroom, 2nd Floor)

APRIL 12 BLACKOUT from 12 noon-7pm (North Plaza, University Student Center)

CELEBRATING OUR 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Black Students Board presents DAN-ALDIGAN DESINAL '91:

RINGING

OMETHING

KETTER!!!

APRIL 5-12, 1997 NC State University

*Tickets available at Ticket Central call 515-1100 for more information

■ NCSU comes to life with the swinging sounds of the '40s.

By Salvador Farfan III

While our boys were off to war, it was up to the MTV of the 1940s, the theater of the mind, to keep up the morale both at home and abroad. Thompson Theatre thespians do an excellent job of showing how the whole country pull together in their portrayal of the musical "The 1940's Radio Hour."

audience are a bit too young to remember when the music was en vogue, it is just as easy to recognize timeless classics as it is to laugh along with the advertising styles of the time. The cast, assisted by very appropriate props, does a wonderful job of immersing the audience in the play, making it a truly interactive experience.

This year's musical production

This year's musical production brings together the largest cast of the year, and showcases their versatility both as actors and musical performers. At times the singing falters a bit, but since the performance is a portrayal of what could happen in a live broadcast for

The musical opened last night at Thompson Theatre and runs through next weekend with shows at 8 pm. this Friday and Saturday and next Wednesday through Friday and at 3 pm. both Sundays. Tickets are $10 for adults, $9 for faculty, senior citizens, and students, and $5 for N.C. State students. Reservations can be made through Ticket Central by calling $15-1100. Wait list begins one hour before the show. With its rollicking revival of those glorious bygone days, "The 1940's Radio Hour" is

Opinion

April 4, 1997

A paper that is entirely the product of the student body becomes at once the official organ through which the thoughts, the activity and in fact the very life of the campus are registered ... College life without its journal is a blank.

Technician, vol. 1, no. 1, February 1, 1920

Get out and vote

■ Students should take the opportunity to vote for their representatives in the N.C. State administration.

tudent Government elections will be held Monday and Tuesday, and you should vote.

But not because one particular candidate stands out among the seven running for student body president. And not because one particular candidate supports the issues that matter to students.

You should vote because all the candidates this year are qualified to represent the student body and, strangely enough, most of them support different versions of the same agenda.

Each candidate in the SBP race wants a better transportation system. They all want improved campus safety, tobacco products in campus convenience stores and the abolishment of the plus/minus grading system And they all have similar ideas about how to implement the above

So; pick a candidate, any campus ontime easier.

The plan proposed by the N.C. State Division of Transportation could not be more apropos. It is obvious that this campus has a severe lack of suitable spaces for parking. This

Proposed improvements will make getting to candidate. Pick the person with the best smile or handshake. Pick the one who is best-dressed or, if you like, wearing the tackiest suit. But most importantly, pick somebody, because the winner will be representing you.

The new SBP will be representing you at the Student Media Authority, Chancellor's Liaison meetings and Board of Trustees meetings. He or she will have control over how student fees, the money you're spending to go here, is spent.

If you don't vote, you're basically saying that you don't care how your money is being spent, and you don't care whether the administrators hear your concerns.
While you're at it, cast a few votes for the various student senators running for office. Most of them are dedicated representatives who want to continue who want to continue serving you. Polling locations will be set up at Fountain Dining Hall, the University Student Center, the Atrium, the Tunnel Inn C-Store, Syme Store and the Centennial C-Store.

Resurfacing of parking lots will not only add aesthetic value, it will fill the cracks and the potholes that affect our automobiles throughout the year. Finishing a large part of the project during the summer

n-Ride program will give a greater number of students more affordable and easier access to our campus. As long as new buses are added to meet the increased demand, students will obtain safe, efficient and punctual transportation to and from campus.

The NCSU DOT should be commended on recognizing the needs of students with will allevaite traffic congestion normally associated with road work. Expanded spaces at Kmart along with its existing Park-

See you there.

More parking great

It's the time of year to pay your taxes

Taxes are the topic of many conversations around this time of year, because April 16 is the due date for tax returns. The federal government has imposed a tax system on Americans that involves self assessment and voluntary compliance.

Therefore, each of us, as an American taxaver, is responsible.

compliance.
Therefore, each of us, as an American taxpayer, is responsible for two things. First, we have to determine how much tax we owe to the government (or how much we overpaid) and second, we have to file a tax return showing this information to the government. You can extend the time for filing a return from April 15 to August 15.
It's not always a simple task to determine how much you owe the government or vice versa. Tax rules are complex because Congress has tried to achieve many different objectives with the rules. Besides the fact that income taxes produce the bulk of federal revenues, which are used to run the federal government. Congress has also used for activities.

tax rules to stitutions of activities.

Think, for example, of programs at the workplace to fund an employee's retirement or provide employees with insurance and other types of fringe benefits. To list a few other objectives, Congress has designed rules to encourage companies to perform research and development activities, to influence individuals to make contributions of cash and property to charities, and to motivate families to shift wealth across members tax-free. All of these objectives are, in effect, built into your tax determination. Your tax bill also depends on your own individual circumstances—for example, whether you are married or single, whether you are married or single, whether you are any dependents or are claimed as a dependent on someone else's tax return, whether you are working for someone else or self-employed, whether you sold any assets this year, and so on. Your tax circumstances combine with the amount of your gross income to dictate whether you are required to file a tax return. If you are single and supporting yourself, you care up to 56.550 in income without owing any taxes or having to file a tax return. However, that income level decreases to $505 if you have no earned income and are claimed as a dependent on another person's tax return. If you are married, supporting yourselves, and filinging, the star return is not required until your income exceeds $11.800 in your should file one if you are going to receive a refund because taxes were withheld from your paycheck.

Kathy Krawczyk

As students, most of you lead lives with rather simple tax results. Your tax returns may only include wages from the part-time job you hold and interest from the bank' accounts where you keep any savings. With these circumstances, you should be eligible to file a Form 1040EZ or Form 1040A. These two forms are designed to be easier to complete and they can be used for a large percentage of uncomplicated tax returns. More complicated tax returns, i.e., those with sales of assets, rental property, self-employment income, etc., must use Form 1040 instead. Regardless of whether your tax circumstances are simple or complex, if you are filing a tax return, it has to be completed and filed with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) by the April 15 candinous choose to audit any return that is filed, and audits are the main way that it enforces compliance with the rules and ensures correct returns. The mere possibility of audit is enough incentive for most individuals to accurately report income, which has lead to a taxpayer compliance rate exceeding 80 percent. However, the IRS still pays out between $1 and $5 billion annually in fraudulent refunds, so it continuously examines ways to increase the compliance rate.

tax return and does owe the government taxes (i.e., he or she hasn't paid in enough taxes) may be considered a tax evader. Tax evasion occurs when a taxpayer undertakes some act to willfully underpay the taxes that are owed. It is illegal and can subject the evader to criminal and civil penalities and prosecution. Additionally, the statue of limitations never ends for returns that are not filed, so at any point in time, the IRS can audit a tax evader's return and assess taxes. Tax evasion can be distinguished from tax avoidance, which is legal and allows every taxpayer the right to carefully plan his or her tax circumstances to pay no more taxes than is required by law. If the prospect of preparing and filing your own tax return makes you nervous, you can always take your information to a tax prepare to have them prepare your return. Many advertise heavily at this time of year, and you can always consult a local telephone book to find one. In addition, there is an IRS office at 4405 Bland Rd. in Raleigh where forms are available and personnel can help you in answering questions.

For Web surfers, on-line

questions.
For Web surfers, on-line assistance is available at several websites, including the IRS site (http://www.irs.ustreas.gov) where

See KRAWCZYK, Page 8

spaces for parking. This problem will be lightened by the DOT proposal. The Park-n-Ride expansion steps in the right direction. In addition to increasing the number of spaces, extra buses need to be added to compensate for the growing demands on Transportation. Adding extra buses to the routes will decrease unnecessary waiting on behalf of the students.

an appropiate response.

Technician

EDITOR IN CHIEF Terry H. Bennet terry@sma.sca.ncsu.e

News Editor/Phillip Reese
Opinion Editor/Christine Oldham
Sports Editor/K. Gaffney
Features Editor/Kelly Marks
Wire Editor/Brett Hacklernan Wife Editor/Biet Heideman Photography Editor/Hide Terada Graphic Editor/Kristy Duckworth Copy Desk Chief/Stephanie Bullock Design Editor/Farrah Cooley Sales Manager/Steven Hodges Advertising Manager/Robert Sadler Classifieds Manager/Alexis Barchuk Personnel Director/Julie Cohen

Opinions expressed in the colu cartoons, photo illustrations and letters that appear on Technician's pages are the

that appear on Technician's pages are the views of the individual witers and cartoonists. The unsigned editionals that appear on the left side of the editorial page are the opinion of the paper and aire the responsibility of the editor in chief. Technician (USPS 455-050) is the official student-tun newspaper of N.C. State University and is published every Monday, Wednesday and Friday throughout the academic year from August through May except during holidays and examination periods. Copyright e 1997 by the Student Media Authority, All rights reserved. To receive permission for reproduction, please write the editor in helf. Malling address is Box 8608, Raleigh, NC 27695-8608.

Last time I checked it was 1997. If you were seated in the N.C. legislature to hear Representative Russell Cappa argue for his "new" bill, you might have thought it was 1925. According to the News & Observer, Cappa proposal seeks to place a sticker in sticker would alert students that the evolution theory is a questionable hypothesis and, by no means, established fact that the capture of the control of the c off the irresponsional people. More than 70 years ago, Tennessee high school teacher John Thomas Scopes was brought to trial for teaching science, or more specifically, the theory of evolution. After a trial that captured the attention of the nation, the massive efforts of religious fundamentalists resulted in a conviction. Scopes was soundly convicted of this horrible crime and subsequently ordered to pay a fine of $1. Yep, $1.

But let us ignore modern history for one moment. Maybe Capps is right. Hell, maybe if high school biology teachers taught the Christian creation story as if it were an acceptable scientific explanation, things would change for the better. Perhaps students would find self-worth and confidence in the fact that they were created in God's image. If this mentality soaks in farenough, perhaps school prayer could be reesstablished as a daily routine. What could help. North Carolina's faltering school system more than making Muslim and Jewish children feel uncomfortable by reading sections of the New Testament in class?

This reemergence of Protestant values into a diversified school-age population would be much more helpful than higher teacher salaries and better educational equipment. When the poor, morally deprived youth of this state realize that in God's eyes they are all equal, maybe they would voluntarily share textbooks with others to reduce shortages. In the future, instead of spending more money to build schools, local churches could be used as school houses and ministers as teachers during the week. These examples of public school "reformation" probably would find support with Capps and some of his peers. This senseless bill is simply an attempt to direct voter attention away from assembly shortcomings. It is a well-devised scheme to make the N.C. public education dilemma seem like a problem with relatively the N.C. public education dilemma seem like a problem with relatively easy solutions.

This bill also aids Capps' reelection bid. Not many opponents would accuse an incumbent representative of resting on his laurels if he had battled fiercely for the Christian faith. However, for a real change to occur in public education, monetary assistance needs to be delivered. Besides, if Bible stories find their needs to be delivered.

Besides, if Bible stories find their way into science — the epitome of laborious research and impeccable ethics — what's next? Maybe freshmen history classes could cover the Old Testament. World literature courses could easily be converted into biblical studies. The whole school system could be revamped and morals forcibly implanted through diligent religious devotion. Of course students wouldn't learn anything that could be used in the average career, but who cares? I mean, what's school anyway?

These are obviously exaggerations. However, they are intended to convey an often overlooked fact of life. Religion has evolved into a personal way of life. America is no longer dominated by nor religious sect and can't be governed or influenced by a religious tenant, be it Christianity or Satanism. Funny how things change over time.

France's protective labor laws hamper economy

■ Some laws in France, designed to protect workers and prevent layoffs, may actually be hurting the economy and raising unemployment rates.

BY ANNE SWARDSON

Duthuille has been given another chance. Laid off three years ago from his job in middle management at a Paris department store, Duthuille was one of 108 union members who challenged the mass layoff in court, as was his legal right in France.

In February, the French supreme court not only threw out the layoff plan, but also ordered the department store, La Samaritaine, to give a job to any of the laid-off employees who want it, plus back pay.

employees who want it, plus back pay.

Duthuille, who in the interim had started a small newspaper shop that went bankrupt, feels his life has been saved. "I lost everything. This gives me hope," he said. "France is special: Workers have protection." The overturning of the layoff plan could not be better for Duthuille. But is it good for France?

A myriad of laws, regulations, contracts and collective agreements makes downsizing in France difficult or impossible. Closing a factory requires lengthy legal negotiations, and sometimes simply cannot be done. Reducing salaries takes major coercion, and workers cannot be fired for refusing to acquiesce. Use of part-timers, freelancers or consultants, which makes the American labor force more flexible for management, is severely restricted here.

severely restricted here.

When times were good, as they were for much of the postwar period, workers were protected by these rules. They still are, in large part, but in these difficult and competitive times, the French government and the private section of the economy are beginning to fear that the price for protecting those already employed and keeping them at their current level of compensation and job security is fewer jobs for the nonworking.

And there are more and more of fewer jobs for the nonworking.

And there are more and more of the nonworking. Unemployment here is a record 12.8 percent; about 3 million people are secking jobs.
In all of Europe, where about 18 million people are looking for work, unemployment is the economic concern.

"The problem of unemployments,"
French Prime Minister Alain Juppe said in a recent radio interview,
"and it is my personal obsession."
In a recent poll by the U.N.

"and it is my personal obsession."

I a recent poll by the U.N. Population Fund, 78 percent of French people surveyed said unemployment is the most serious problem faced by their country. Only Swedes and Finns agreed by so large a margin or more; the European average was 58.8 percent. Their fears are well-founded. Europe is embarking on what is expected to be a tumultuous series of industrial restructurings and layoffs. Its auto industries and steel makers, among others, have far too much capacity to produce for the projected demand. Full airline deregulation beginning this week will allow all European airlines to serve any market they choose, and they will face more pressure to cut their work forces to lower costs.

Many other companies, recently privatized or about to be, also are expected to put their payrolls on the chopping block. In the past, personnel reductions on this side of the Atlantic were accomplished largely through early retirement and artition. Now, companies say they must lay people off, where they can responding with mass protests. In Germany, steelwokers, miners and building workers have proposed to the process of the protest of the protes and Greece in recent months.

It is not at all clear that France, and other nations in Europe, are prepared to unleash executives to hire and fire at will even if they say the result is lower unemployment.
The tradition of government protection and lifetime employment is strong.

Schedule

Continued from Page 5
p.m. and April 24, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at The N.C. Museum of Art.
Instructor Dona Dowling guides
students through processes demonstrating how to make and color photograms, with the focus on composition and collage work.
Mounting and presentation methods will also be demonstrated. Cost is $34 or $30 for Museum members.

Transportation Museum in N.C. Transportation Museum in Spencer resumes its regular hours and daily train rides. Museum is open Monday thru Saurday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m. ad Sundays, 1-5 p.m. Admission is free. Train rides depart Monday thru Saurday at 11 a.m., 1, 2, and 3 p.m. and Sundays

1-5 p.m. Admission to the diesel train ride is $3.50 for adults and

Artomatic
Judy Keene "Landscape into Abstraction" and Judith Snyderman
"Works on Paper" Exhibit runs from April 2-25. Gallery hours are Thursday-Saturday, 11 a.m.-5 p.m.
Open House: Sunday, April 13, 2-5 p.m. Artomatic is located at 305 E.
Chapel Hill St., Durham, For more information, call 682-6996.

information, call 682-6996.

North Carolina Museum of Art

"I, Claudia: Women in Ancient Rome" opens Sunday, April 6.
Runs through June 15.

"Sepphoris in Galidie: Crosscurrents of Culture" through July 6.

"Praise the Frame" through Sept. 7.

Daily tours of the collection are at

Daily tours of the collection are at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday- Sunday. For information, call 839-6262, ext. 2145

ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS! WE WANT

2031 Walnut St., Cary, NC 27512 919-851-5554 4901 Capital Blvd., Raleigh, NC 27604 919-878-8771 3701 Mt. Moriah Rd., Durham, NC 27707 919-419-0208

Continued from Page 6
tax forms and instructions can be downloaded. In summary, take the responsibility to file your 1996 return, if necessary, by April 15.
return are the taxpayer and only you are accountable for any taxes due on your income.

Krawczyk

Editor's note: Kathy Krawczyk is an assistant professor in the Department of Accounting. Her column is part of a semester-long series written by N.C. State faculty and staff.

CAMPUS CINEMA

FILM CHANGES New Dates and Times

EVITA

Nominated for 5 Academy Awards and 3 Golden Globe Awards 6:45 & 9:05 pm Wed., April 9 Thurs., April 10

THE ENGLISH PATIENT

7 pm, Wed., April 23 7 & 10 pm, Fri., April 25 7 & 10 pm, Sat., April 26

☆☆☆☆☆ NC State Students $1.50 Others $2.00

Answers

Crossword Puzzle

SORRY, THERE WASN'T ANY SPACE FOR THE PUZZLE TODAY

Cryptoquip

DO ALL BAD WITCHES STORE THEIR WEIRD POTION RECIPIES IN SPELL BINDERS?

If you would like to report for Technician News, please contact Phillip at 515-2411 or 512-3755

75% Space Savings

Alternative CD Storage System

Inexpensive & efficient way to access your Compact Discs or CD ROMs.

LIFETIME GUARANTEE

Safe & Easy, you'll love your music all over P.O. Box 547824, Orlando,FL 32854-7824

Call for information 800/350-7156

Ask for Fax Back order form or check our website @ http://users.aol.com/cdpockits

EARN $3,500 - $7,500 THIS SUMMER!!!

•40 HRS/WK GUARANTEED
WORK OUTDOORS WITH OTHER STUDENTS
•MORT. A SALES POSITIONS AVAILABLE
•GREAT ADVANCEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

CALL 460-6061 TODAY FOR AN INVERVIEW.

THIS IS NOT A FRANCHISE

ASHE PLACE

Efficiency apartmentnow available for rent! $315 / mo. (water incl.) WILSON PROPERTY MANAGEMENT 755-0864

FREE Large Pepsi FREE

with purchase of any sandwich with this coupon, not valid when combined with any other coupons or special offers. Expires 4/514/97

Leon's

"Best in Deli Food & Catering Since 1972"

Cameron Village 413 Woodurn Rd 832-80

WANTED

CHEERLEADER-MASCOT

MALES and FEMALES

Clinic Dates:

April 7-11 7-9 pm Gymnastics Room Carmichael Gym

Final Cuts:

Sunday, April 13 Reynolds Coliseum 10AM

*Must have completed physical form to tryout!

Pick up physical forms at the Training room at Reynolds Coliseum between 8 am and 12 noon.

TAKING RESERVATIONS NOW

FOR SUMMER AND FALL MOVE-IN DATES

Everything You Want in Your New Home Is Right Here 1, 2, 3 Bedroom Apts

Kenzington

Off Avent Ferry Rd. Approx. one Mile From NCSU On Wolfline

851-7831

1-800-K82-PARK

Sports Medicine

·Are you a student interested in Sporte Medicine or a health related field?

•Would you like to work in a Sporte environment?

•Does the opportunity for tuition assistance Intrest you?

he Department of Athletics at NC State has a few openings for student trainers to assist in the care, prevention, and rehabilitation of athletic injuries.

if Interested, please contact Jamey Coll in the Sports Medicine Office at 515-3960 to set up an interview.

No experience necessary.

Recycle Technician

SOU GRAND OPENING REBATE $300 MAIL-IN

REBATE

Valvoline® Oil Change $ 19.95 Mail-In Rebate - 3.00

$ 16.95

2) When filling out the form, be specific about the event type, inclusive time (am/pm), equipment, furniture set-up, catering needs, and your complete address.

3) We will not accept the requests before the specified date

4) Stewart Theatre requests must be submitted to their office on the first floor. If you nee to be in the line for Student Center reservations, you will be able to obtain and submit a Stewart Theatre request to us. We will deliver applications to Stewart Theatre on April 7,

^^^

5) No phone requests for "97-'98 until July 11, 1997 (subject to change)

Classifieds

Technician

Deadlines

Line Ads

Display Ads

Line Ad Rates

For up to 25 words. Add 15¢ for each word over 25 per day

Private Party	Businesses
1 day $3.50	1 day $6.50
2 days $5.25	2 days $12.00
3 days $6.50	3 days $17.50
4 days $8.00	4 days $21.00
5 days $9.00	5 days $25.00
6+ $.75 /day	6+ $1.50 /c

Call 515-2029

Fax 515-5133 between 9am-5pm to place an ad with your Visa or Mastercard

FOUND ADS

Help Wanted

ATTENTION Lifeguards- living in the Raleigh area this summer? Now hiring certified lifeguards for summer positions Silver Lake Waterpark 851-1683

BARTENDERS needed! Earn $15-$30 per hour. Have fun and make great $$$. Job placement 676-0774 Raleigh Bartending School. Call now for class schedules!!!

BUFFALO'S Cafe now hiring cooks Competitive wages, flexible hours. We will train. Apply at 7504 Creedmoor Rd. or call for into. 676-0332 ask for Tim.

wanted for data entry position. Make your own hours. 20-25 hours/weel freat pay, fun job. Call B-or Heather at Brothers Cleaners. 876-5142

CAMP Wayne Northeastern Pennsylvania 6/22-8/20/97. Directors for Fine Arts, Sports, Camping/Nature. Counselors: Tenns. Golf. Gymastics, Society Ropes. Batik. Calligraphy. Sculpture. Drawnip/Painting. Photography. Swimming, Salling, Photography. Swimming, Salling, Photography. Swimming, Salling, Drama. Other staff. Drawer/Useo/Head Cheff and Assistant Cheff. Skward, Office. Assistant Cheff. Skward, Office. Watcherson. On Campus Interviews April 22nd. Call 1-800-279-3019 for information.

CLEANING SERVICE needs responsible persons for cleaning and quality control positions. Call 467-7213.

COCKTAIL/Door girls needed for Raleigh's newest Nightclub. Must be outgoing and energetic and be able to work weekends. Call Have A Nice Day Cafe at 831-2555

EARN $3,500 - $7,500 this Summer! Hiring Crew Painters and Managers 40 hrs/wk guaranteed working outdoors with other students. Fun job. Great EARN $3000-$4000 painting houses in Raleigh 30-40 hrs./week. Work with other college students. Call 1-800-477-1001 and refer to 27609 zip code.

ENTRY Level Programmer needed for permanent opply. In RTP area. Must have solid CC+ skills in Windows environment with strong desire to learn in a highly technical industry. Co-op or project experience is required. Masters degree is a plus. Please forward scannable resume to Manpower Technical, 919-755-5828 (fax) or contact Kristen 919-755-5817.

GERMAN native speaker neede to teach 10 yr. old. Call 779-4406.

GET paid to play! Youth Counselors needed for Early Arrivals, 7-9am. and after school, 3-6pm, programs. Must be a positive role model. Flexible work schedules. Call the Cary Family YMCA, 469-9622, for application.

GINGISS Formal wear, tuxedo rental/sales seeks self-molivated individuals to work with our professional team. Flex. hours. Denise 783-8911.

These positions will provide on experience for any hands on experience for i individual seeking to learn phases of the green indus Permanent full time positic also available. Call turflend at 878-4441 or Fax resume 556-5164

HEALTH & FITNESS

INTERN 8 hours per week Tuesdays and Thursdays, 3 hours per day, at Financial Services Industry, Must know word and exel. Call Phil at 829-2099 or 362-5630.

LAND SURVEYING help needed only for summer. Experienced only, 467-3545.

LANDSCAPE Dept. 40 hrs/week during Summer; flexible hours during class months. Carolina Country Club 787-3621.

LIFEGUARDS, Pool Managers and Assistant managers needed Competative wages and great facilities. Room for advancement. Cary, Apex area pools. Aqua Kleer Pool Management Company. Call 851-3022.

LINE up your summer Job early this year! North Raleigh Clothing has Warehouse Positions available (now or summer) Full-time or Partime Flexible Schedules, read partial pay raises, dependable transportation and ability to libs are requirements. Call 1-800-889-9849 leavy our phone # and best time to call.

LOCAL moving company needs P/T help now and F/T help during summer Will work around school schedule. $7.50/hour to start. Call 362-3355.

MORNING WAREHOUSE clean-up help. Approximately 3 hours daily, 3-4 days/week. Call Greg @ 231-2124 between 10-2.

MUSIC INDUSTRY INTERSHIP ASYLM Marketing seeks field rec-MUSIC INDUSTRY IN A ASYLM Marketing seeks field re in Raleigh, soph +, 20-25 hrsh required. College credit a ply Knowledge of new music and y market a must. Work with int and major record labels. C Gioria 213-388-4738 or f resume 213-954-7622.

NATIONAL PARK
EMPLOYMENT-Want to work in America's National Parks, Forests, Wildlife Preserves with excellent benefits bonuses?
(Seasonal/Summer) Learn how from Outdoor Information Services, Call: 1-206-971-3624
ext. N53596

NEED carpenters, helpers, and laborers for residential construction company. F/T & P/T available. Some experience required. Call Duane # 604-6863 or 510-0680.

Y O

RYD CRYDL

IYOLRDW?

DRBYSRW

Today's Cryptoquip clue: S equals P

OFFICE Cleaning West
Raleigh/Cary areaSchedule, 2-3 hours nightly MonFri evenings, $6.25 hourlyExcellent opportunity for advancement 231-6067 ext. 23.

OLIVE Garden in Cary is in need of people for P/T and F/T. We will customize our schedule for you. ease come in and apply anytime 1809 Walnut St., Cary in front of rossroads Mall.

OUTBACK STEAKHOUSE 7500 Creedmoor Rd. Now hiring night-ime host, dishwasher, walistaff and line cooks. Apply Mon-Thurs 2:30-4:00pm. 846-3848

PART-time help wanted Keyston Bros. 218 S.Boylan Ave. Raleigh NC 27603. Warehouse shipping/receiving 8:30-12:30 or 12:30-5:00 M-F. Call Pete for interview 833-3036.

PART-time or full-time kennel/vet assistant needed, for small animal hospital. Is niles East of Railmen, Must be able to work full-time in summer: Ideal job for pre-vet student. Call 553-4601 between 1pm-3pm.

PERFECT BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY The timing is right. Call Now for Information. MLMer's encouraged. 233-5250. Ask for Marc

POSITION-telemarketing sociate. Interested in learning b brokerage/finance business? long and professional munications skills. Great pay s bonus. Flexible hours, great portunity with a regional kerage frm. Call Joe Friend At 1-1000.

PRODUCTION ASSISTANT gional sign company seeking pendable, quality oriented doubtion employees for partfull-se employment. Experience with wer tools, fabrication, vinyl sphios or painting desirable. Will in qualified individual. Morrisville ration. Call (919) 544-223, onday or Wednesday, to set pointment for an interview.

PRODUCTION assistant for publishing company. Detail olishing company. Detail inted, computer literate, recent ege graduate looking for entry all position. Salary 20K plus lefits. Fax resume to 919/489-

PRODUCTION MANAGER to

RALEIAH COUNTRY CLUB
is hiring Resturant Servers, urtenders, and Banquet Servers.
Full and part-time positions aliable. Very fexible schedule for students! Excellent ernefits, Golf-fennis privileges!!
YOU NEED A JOB!
UND Reporters I have near Wake

SEEKING smiling, friendly faces for P/T snackbar work at local golf course. Flexible hours, some weekends required. Golf privileges 851-0611 ask for Paula.

40+nrs. guaranteed. Contact Criss at 755-9735.

SUMMER work, $7/hour, plus bonuses, 40 hours/week. Colorworks Collegiate Painting, hiring painters, production manager, no experience necessary. Call Jon 272-2777.

TELEMARKETERS full

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

ATTENTION!

PAID VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

REGRUTING HEALTH!

Active males and females age
18-35 to paricipate in EPAUNC

Are Pollulons Studies. No current

Part Pollulons Studies. No current pollulon studies. No current pollul

ckenbacker 4001. Needs new rings. Excellent condition. i00.00. Negotiable Call Dr. Jack iller at 515-8284 or e-mail at in biller.

91 Motorcycle for sale- Suzuki GS 500. Includes two helmets and cover $1700. Also selling compact refrigerator $60. Call Tony at 832-TENNIS player needed to te six yr. old. Call 779-4406. ssy riod Call 779-4406.

MUVERSITY DIFFECTORIES, the nation's largest publisher of campus (alegal publisher of campus (alegal publisher) of campus (alegal publis 1996 Honda CBR600F3, 1800 miles, Red/White, Never raced/ wrecked, $5999. Two helmets, cover 260-0444 leave message.

85 Nissan Sentra- good condition, very dependable $2000 OBO

VOLUNTEERS needed for Ergonomics Experiment. Compensation rate is S9hr. Must be familiar with MSWord. Non-Touch typisis, male and fema, ages 18-38, no history of back or nack pain. 6 sessions lasting approximately 4 hours each. Call 515-7210 for further information and to determine eligibility.

FEMALE Roommate needed for 3 bedroom, 2 1/2 bath townhome washer/Dryer $290/mo+1/3 utilities. Call Stephanie 852-3777

NEED ROOMMATE for Summer. 2BDR/2BA. washer/dryer, dishwasher, fireplace. S300/month. NON-SMOKER. No PETS. On Wolfline. Walking distance to campus. Call 833-8442. Leave a message.

WANTED! People to ear

WORLD TREND MARKETING

NON-smoking female for the bedroom, 2.5 bath townhou $230/month + 1/3 utilitie Convenient location 420-0983.

WAREHOUSE help needed immediately Late afternoon hours. M.F. Will work with class schedule. Call Greg # 231-2124 between 10-2.

ATTENTIONII
PAID VOLUNTEERIS NEEDED
ATTENTIONII
PAID VOLUNTEERIS NEEDED
ATTENTIONII
The EPA set studying the effects of air pollution on astima. We need research apacicpants that are non smokes, ages 18-35. If you are eligible, you could earn compensation up to $1300. You will receive a free physical and Irvavel expense outside of the Chaptel Hill area
CALL 968-9084 for ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.

Need a roommate or have room for rent? Call 781-9925 t meet your match!

ATTENTION!

ATTENTION!

PAID VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

LUNG PROCEDURES

Males and females, 18-35 years of needed for ERAUNC studies procedure). If eligible you cold arin up to $200. No smoking natin up to $200. No smoking estimate outside of the Chappt Hell reseded. CALL, 166-9604 for ADDITIONAL INFORMATION. WANTED: undergrad who enjoys the pleasures of extra-curricular an apartment for you because "it's the LEASE we can do! 781-9925

APARTMENT near NCSU- private two bedroom, two bath with sleeping loft, W/D, dishwasher, disposal. Available May 15. Call 851-8681, 787-4434.

HUNTER'S Creek, non-smoking females. Bedroom- $300/mo + utilities. Loft-$225/mo + utilities. 1 year lease. Available May 1. Wendy 859-6653 or Pam 846-

Policy Statement

While Technician is not to be held responsible for damages or to prevent false or misleading advertising from appearing in our publication. If you find any ad questionable, please fet us know, as we wish to protect our readers from any possible

SUBLEASING apartment May July $360/month utility incl. no pets or

SUMMER SUBLEASE, 2 BDR APT Available May 1-Mid August $559/mo Washer/Dryer Close to school 854-9774.

Julie & 420-7794.

ROOMMATE needed to share three bedroom apt. in Parkwood Village starting in August. Rent $225 + 1/3 utilities + 1/3 phone. For more info. Call Mattle or Jami at 828-0655 after 5pm.

TRIANGLE ROOMMATES

TWO ROOMMATES wanted to

WANTED: Female roommate for Trinity Place 3BDR, 2BA apt. No smokers or heavy partiers. $285/mo + utilities. Available early June and for academic year. 512-4721.

APARTMENT FINDER

1590.

MELROSE Apartments off Gorman. Deposit required. 4 bedroom each with one full bath, washer/dryer, microwave, pool, fitness center, security gate. Available. May-August. Call Brandon 856-9631.

TWO rooms for rent in 4BDR house. Prefer student. Non-smaker. Washer/Dryer. 2 min. rom campus. $330/mo. Call Bridget. Amy or Megan. © 836-

TYPING/ WORD PROCESSING.
Term papers, theses,
dissertations, resumes, letters.
Open Monday-Saturday, VISA/
MC. ROGERS WORD SERVICE.
1405 Hillsborough St. (next to

SAT Preparation at C

Travel

Lost & Found

DATING - Free voice mailbox no 900 phone es, 1,100 members in greater Raleigh area, 24 hours every day, meet person you aclooking for - THE SINGLES EXCHANGE - 919-942-3035.

GUYS!! Can't figu PREG Termination. Gentle & Experienced Staff. Reduced Rates

FUNDRAISER, Motivated groups needed to earn $500- promoting AT&T, Discover, gas, and retail cards. Since 1969, we've helped thousands of groups raise the money they need, call Gina at 800-592-2121 ext.110. Free CD to

NHL-NFL-NBA Scores!!! Spreads 1-900-388-5900 Ext. 5221 $2.99/min. Must be 18 yrs. erv-U (619) 645-8434

LEARN TO SKYDIVEL

(919)496-2224

If everyone at NCSU spent just $1.00 a day on miscellaneous purchases, it over

would total

$1,000,000,00 a month!

CryptoClassics Book2, PC BOX 0411, INVENDED THE CRYPTOQUIP is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals 0, it will equal 0 throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error. Technician Classifieds Work!