DR. SNYDER ASKED TO TALK BEFORE EUROPEAN GROUP

Asked by Royal Dutch Academy to Speak at Eugenics Meet at Amsterdam

WILL ATTEND BERLIN MEET

Dr. Snyder Will Speak on "Human Blood Groups and Their Relation to Eugenics"

Dr. L. H. Snyder, of the Department of Zoology and Entomology, has been honored with an invitation to address the International Eugenics Congress which meets in Amsterdam, Holland, in September. This congress meets only once in five years, and all addresses delivered before it are given strictly upon invitation of the congress. Only outstanding men in their field from various parts of the world are accorded the honor of addressing this body.

Dr. Snyder will address the congress on September 20, and will have as his subject "Human Blood Groups and Their Relation to Eugenics." In addition to his connection with the college here, Dr. Snyder is a member of the National Research Council on the Committee of Blood Groups. He will officially represent this body at the meeting in Amsterdam. Dr. Snyder has distinguished himself in his field, and this invitation to address such an august body comes as a fitting recognition of his ability and his work in this field. Dr. Snyder goes to Amsterdam as the result of a personal invitation, extended to him by the Royal Dutch Academy of Science, which organization is entertaining the Eugenics Congress.

Dr. Snyder will sail for Europe the latter part of August in order that he may attend the World's Genetics Conference which meets in Berlin early in September. He will probably present a paper before this conference, also. Following this conference he will spend some time visiting the best genetics laboratories of Europe before going to Amsterdam to deliver his address. —Continued on page 2.

LEAZAR SOCIETY EVENS COUNT VERSUS PULLEN

Superior Work in Oratory Represents Margin of Victory; Will Get Trophy

The second year-round contest between Leazar and Pullen literary societies has resulted in a victory for the former, according to figures announced by Professor Cunningham, the faculty supervisor, last Friday night, when the time of the contest expired. The final score stood: Leazar, 838 points; Pullen, 788 points—a margin of exactly 50 points for the victors.

This result evens the score for the two years during which the contest has been in existence, for Pullen won last year by the same margin.

The winning society will be presented a trophy awarded by The Raleigh Times, similar to the one which decorates the walls of Pullen Society as a result of last year's triumph. The trophy will consist of a framed picture suggesting some phase of literary or oratorical activity. The picture awarded to Pullen last year was a copy of Alma Tedema's "A Reading from Homer."

An analysis of the figures for the contest this year shows that Leazar won by reason of the superior work of her representatives in oratory and declamation. The points scored for debates were practically the same, Pullen winning the Junior and Freshman contests, and Leazar the Senior and Sophomore events. In the oratorical contest, however, Oberholzer of Leazar took first place, and Britton of Leazar second place. Moreover, Oberholzer was also the winner in declamation, and the other Leazar speaker, Springer, was the runner-up. The points scored by the lanky South African for his society represent just about the margin of victory in the year's activities.

The score shows that Pullen excelled in the number of members present at society meetings from week to week, and in the number of members participating in the programs.

C. A. RIDENHOUR

President Senior Class Next Year

RIDENHOUR TO HEAD THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1928

Leary, Brimley, Bailey and Shaw Also Fill Offices; Blazers Chosen

C. A. Ridenhour was elected president of the next year's Senior Class at a meeting of the Junior Class last Wednesday evening in Pullen Hall. Maroon-and-black colored blazer was adopted to be worn by the class next year.

One of the most enthusiastic elections ever held by the Class of '28 marked the high degree of interest manifested by its members. Ten men received nominations for the presidency, all of whom are outstanding members of the class. However, C. A. Ridenhour, better known as "Peanut," was considered by a majority to be the best fitted for the presidency of the class.

Bids on the senior blazer for next year were opened before the class by C. Z. Bailey, chairman of the blazer committee, and the contract awarded the Athletic Supply Company. The official blazer adopted by the class is solid maroon in color, trimmed in black, with the letters N.C.S. and the numeral '28 on the breast pocket. The blazer will be peculiar to the —Continued on page 2.

DANIELS REVIEWS PARADE OF MILITARY ON THURSDAY

Dr. Brooks Will Be Guest of Maj. Early Next Week for Annual President's Parade

Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy, reviewed the weekly parade of the R.O.T.C. unit held on Red Field Thursday noon.

Accompanying Mr. Daniels were Dr. E. C. Brooks and Capt. J. Y. Newgardener of the State College military department. Immediately following the parade all the cadet officers were introduced to Mr. Daniels.

In a short talk to the officers Mr. Daniels told how the parade brought back the memories of the days of 1918, when the sons of America were called from military training schools to enter the service for the protection of their country.

He also stressed the value and necessity of military training for the protection of our nation. He congratulated and complimented the student officers for electing the military training, and congratulated them upon the skillful and creditable showing which they and the entire unit made.

Dr. Brooks will review the regiment Tuesday, May 24, for the annual president's parade. This will be the last of a series of parades that have been held weekly during the third term of the school year.

There is only a short time left in which to order class rings before you leave. Place your order now and save being disappointed next fall when you return. Every member of the class should have a ring the beginning of the year.

SOUTHERN REGION ORATORICAL MEET HELD THIS WEEK

Oberholzer to Represent State; Leaves With Professor Cunningham for Asheville

ORATIONS WILL BE ON AMERICAN CONSTITUTION

National Contest for Purpose of Stimulating Interest in the Constitution

Professor Cunningham and H. J. Oberholzer left Raleigh Thursday night to take part in the third annual intercollegiate contest on the Constitution, for the southern region, which will be held in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church, Asheville, at 8:30 p. m. on Friday, May 20.

This event is part of a nation-wide competition sponsored by the Better American Federation of California, for the purpose of stimulating interest in and respect for the American Federal Constitution and the form of government which grows out of that document. Following the policy of awarding the southern contest to a number of cities in turn, the contest management held the 1925 contest in Nashville, Tennessee, and the 1926 contest in Raleigh. The 1927 contest was scheduled at Asheville at the suggestion of Professor Cunningham, who for two years has been supervisor of the southern regional work.

The 1927 contest will be unique in two respects: For the first time in the South women speakers have entered the competition and have advanced to the stage of the interstate contest. The Tennessee representative is Miss Jean Pettit, of the University of Chattanooga, and the Alabama speaker is Miss Mary Frances McDearman, of the Women's College of Alabama. Moreover, for the first time the contest is being held in a city which has no college or university to act as host or sponsor of the event. It is felt, however, that the people of Asheville as a whole will be sufficiently interested in this noteworthy forensic endeavor to turn out —Continued on page 3.

E. E. AND M. E. SENIORS ARE GIVEN POSITIONS

More Men in Telephone Field From State Than From Any Other Southern College

Twenty-three electrical and four mechanical seniors have been placed by Prof. William Hand Browne with various companies scattered over the United States.

In the telephone field, State College has been particularly fortunate in placing four men out of a possible nineteen that were selected from nine southern colleges. Ed Davis, electrical, accompanied by W. C. Williamson, mechanical, will go with the Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. Another senior electrical, J. D. Humphrey, accompanied by W. C. Wray, civil, will go with the Southern Bell Telephone Company of Atlanta. This group of four men makes up the largest representation of any college in the south in this field.

Those going to the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y., are C. G. Montgomery, L. M. Rockefeller, W. E. Mathews, and H. C. Hurley. The men going to Westinghouse Electric Company at Pittsburgh, Pa., are J. L. Campbell and J. S. Wood; accompanying them are two mechanical seniors, J. D. Conrad and J. A. Anthony. M. K. Stewart, C. A. Phillips, and L. R. Humbert are going to the Virginia Railway and Power Company at Richmond.

The Allis-Chalmers Company selected J. L. Smathers and J. M. Williamson, a mechanical. They will begin training courses in August at Milwaukee. Wis. M. W. McCulloh, H. G. Lee, and W. F. Roberts will go —Continued on page 2.

NEW MEMBERS OF THE GOLDEN CHAIN CHOSEN TUESDAY

Hon. Josephus Daniels Was the Principal Speaker for Occasion

IMPORTANCE LEADERSHIP STRESSED IN HIS ADDRESS

Marks Third Annual Link Day of Society Formed in the Year Nineteen-Twenty-Five

"I would to God that every citizen of North Carolina had the courage of W. E. Wilson," said Hon. Josephus Daniels at the second annual Link Day held in front of the Memorial Tower Tuesday evening. He stated that he had much hope for the present college men, although they were accused of being jazz seekers and suicide clubs.

"Never has there been a time in the history of colleges when wise, courageous men were needed more," he said. He stated that two things which had happened in this state had shown him that the youth of today are no different from those fifty years ago, namely, the recent Student Council action at Carolina and W. E. Wilson's editorial, "Law and Order." Mr. Daniels said that the modern youth has more temptation than his grandparents who lived fifty years ago.

After Mr. Daniels finished his speech, the red-and-white robed members of the Golden Chain walked silently from Holladay Hall to the sundial, where the juniors were seated in a semi-circle. Mr. Platt acted as arch-regent in the absence of J. E. Tiddy. He gave a brief history of the society, and then the old members began to seek new ones. Twelve men were selected. One after the other, the following is a list of the new men: J. C. Davis, New Bern; W. L. Roberts, Asheville; Ralph Brimley, Raleigh; H. H. Rogers, Raleigh; F. C. Davis, Seven Springs; J. W. Shuford, Hickory; U. G. Hodgins, Greensboro; F. S. Sloan, Franklinton; C. S. Tucker, Raleigh; C. A. Ridenhour, Concord; J. R. Britt, Garner, and C. L. Straughan, Siler City.

PROMINENT ARCHITECT JOINS STATE FACULTY

Hobart Upjohn, Official Architect for the College, Accepts Position as Lecturer

Hobart Upjohn, of New York City, who for the past five years has been the official architect for State College, has accepted a position as lecturer here, according to an announcement made by Dr. E. C. Brooks.

Mr. Upjohn will continue to act as consultant to the Architectural Department, and will also have charge of the plans for all new buildings here on the campus.

The plans for the Liberal Arts building, which is to be erected on the present site of the Old Mechanical building, have been completed by Prof. Ross E. Shumaker, head of the Architectural Department, and confirmed by Mr. Upjohn.

The D. H. Hill Library, the parish house of Christ Church, Raleigh, the Chapel of the Cross, Chapel Hill, and the First Presbyterian Church at Fayetteville were all designed by Mr. Upjohn.

LIVESTOCK IS KILGORE'S SUBJECT IN LAST LECTURE

Quotes Figures Showing Drop in N. C. Animal Production in Five Years

The last lecture of the series arranged by the Animal Husbandry Department was given Tuesday night, May 17, by Dr. E. W. Kilgore, president of the North Carolina Cotton Growers' Exchange, who spoke on the subject, "The Place of Livestock in the Future Farm Program of North Carolina."

The lecturer quoted interesting figures showing that the total number of livestock in North Carolina had slumped nearly 33 per cent since five years ago. He attributed this to the slump in prices of all livestock and the good prices received for cotton and tobacco during that period.

It was his belief that tobacco and cotton would for a long time remain the staple crops of the State, as he showed that cotton may be produced as cheaply in North Carolina as in Texas, and that in any normal year it would be the most profitable crop.

He stated that the farmers should follow more closely the example of the business man and even out the curves of the business cycle, and for this he recommended that some sort of livestock production should be carried on which would have stability and would fit in with the general scheme of farming adopted in the community.

The proposal to change the office hours generally observed in the College from 9 until 5 to 8:30 until 4:30 has apparently met with very general approval.

Beginning Monday, May 16, and continuing through the summer until Saturday, September 10, all offices in the administrative, instructional, research, and extension divisions of the College will observe the hours indicated above.

TIDDY MADE NEW AID Y SECRETARY; SCHAUB ON BOARD

Professor L. L. Vaughan Resigns as Chairman of the Board of Directors

W. N. "RED" HICKS GETS A LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Dean I. O. Schaub Will Fill Vacancy Left by Professor Vaughan

At a meeting on May 10 J. E. Tiddy, of Red Springs, N. C., was appointed by the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. to fill the vacancy of W. N. "Red" Hicks, at present associate secretary of the "Y." Mr. Hicks was granted a leave of absence for the purpose of studying one year at Southern College. When "Red" returns to State College a Bible course will be added to the curriculum of undergraduates and he will be the "prof."

At the same meeting Prof. L. L. Vaughan resigned his position as chairman of the board and Dean I. O. Schaub was elected to fill the position.

Professor Vaughan has served as chairman of the board for several years and has always been a true friend of the "Y" and one of its most loyal supporters. The friends of the "Y" regret very much that he felt it necessary to give up this position, but everyone is delighted to know that the board was so fortunate as to secure Dean Schaub to take his place. Professor Vaughan will still be a member of the board and will render as much service as his health and other duties will permit.

Mr. Hicks will spend his year of leave at the Southern College of the Y. M. C. A. at Nashville, Tenn., where he will pursue special courses which will better fit him for his work. Mr. Hicks has already proven himself a capable worker, and has accomplished much good in his work with new students especially. With a year of specialized study at Southern College he will be able to return to State College and do even better work.

The "Y" and the College as a whole are to be congratulated on securing such an able person as Mr. Tiddy to take the place of Mr. Hicks while he is away. J. E. Tiddy is so well known around State College that it is not necessary to say anything about his qualifications; it is sufficient to say that he is one of the most prominent members of the Senior Class. He has been one of "Y's" most loyal supporters and one of its hardest workers ever since he came to State. The work which Mr. Hicks has been doing should continue to go forward to success in such capable hands.

Mr. Tiddy, Mr. J. B. Britt, president, and Mr. U. G. Hodgins, treasurer, will all attend the six-weeks officers' training conference at Blue Ridge, which runs from July 21 to August 31. This training will be very valuable to these leaders in their work next year.

QUILL CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS AND MEMBERS

R. R. Fountain Chosen Head of Club Composed of Members of Publications Staffs

At the meeting of the Quill Club in The Technician office, May 13, officers were elected from the present senior members, and new members from the Classes of '28 and '29 were elected.

The Quill Club was organized in the spring of 1925, during the editorship of E. G. Moore. At that time the club was sponsored by The Technician and its members were chosen from the staff of this publication. The club later extended its membership by including men from The Agromech, The Wataugan, and The Agriculturist.

The members each year are elected from the staff, and the new members are chosen for their ability and their contributions to the publications with which they are connected.

R. R. Fountain was elected president of the Quill Club last Friday. —Continued on page 2.

Gilkey, May, Roberts, McKenzie, Choplin Chosen to Aid in Management of Class Affairs

Louis Upchurch was chosen to head the Sophomore Class for next year at a meeting held Friday night, May 13. The men who were chosen to fill the other offices are well known, as all of them have taken part in one or more college activity. The officers are as follows:

Louis Upchurch, the fat, happy-go-lucky chap known as "Poney," was one of "Sammie's" stalwart guards who helped win the state championship in freshman football this year.

This young fellow is registered in the School of Science and Business and he hails from Raeford.

Carlton Gilkey, Marion, was elected to hold the office of vice-president. Carlton is also a student in the School of Science and Business and has shown his wares by his work on the freshman football squad and as historian for the Freshman Class.

Norwood May, LaGrange, was chosen for secretary and treasurer. May is a business student and has taken part in college activities on the basketball squad and is a member of the House of Student Government.

Elbert Roberts, Asheville, was chosen historian. Roberts has served as a member of The Technician and Watauga staffs this year. He is also a business student.

The class elected the same poet they had this year, Melvin McKenzie.

McKenzie is a business student and is a member of the Brooks Literary Society.

For reporter the class chose Paul Choplin. He is a Poultry Science student and comes from Winston-Salem.

PROMINENT ENGLISHMAN TO LECTURE AT STATE

Sir John Russell, director of the Rothamstead Experiment Station, at Harpenden, England, will be here Wednesday and Thursday, May 25 and 26. He will give two lectures while here. The first will be the "Rothamstead Field Experiments for 83 Years," and the second will be, "The Rothamstead Scientific Investigations in Soil Fertility."

This English nobleman, knighted for his services to the farmers of England and of the British Empire, is a member of the International Congress of Soil Science and director of the oldest experiment station in the world. At this station experiments have been made on the same land and under the same conditions for 83 years. This noted man has made plans to visit ten colleges and universities while in this country, and North Carolina State College is the only college in the South that he will visit.

with the Carolina Power and Light Company. The former will be located in Asheville, while the last two men will locate with the Raleigh division. Those going with the Empire State Oil Company are M. T. Fairchild, W. J. Russell, and J. W. Pagan.

The following men are going to take a graduate course with the companies named: J. C. Mason with the Phoenix Utility Company, Miami, Fla.; B. W. Garvin with the Broad River Power Company, Columbia, S. C.; A. G. Huggins with the Atlantic Coast Line Railway.

B. J. Kopp will locate with the Curtis Lighting, Inc., of Chicago. Out of thirty-eight prominent colleges and universities of the United States that have been represented there, State College will be represented for the first time in making up their training group of ten men, which are selected from all the colleges and universities in the United States.

H. B. Armistead is going with the local Bell Telephone Company.

ANNUAL WETTING GIVEN TO FRESHMEN MONDAY MORNING

Sophomores Take Last Chance to Maul Lower Classmen Before Year Is Out

On Monday, shortly after the zero hour of midnight, the power plant whistle broke the silent death of the night with its shrill whistle. A freshman and a sophomore, sleeping in the same room, heard the blast. The sophomore jumped out of bed, knowing fully what it meant. The freshman turned over, rubbed his eyes, and wondered whether or not the campus was on fire.

To the sophomore it meant the last official time at which he could show his providence-given authority as "Ruler of the Campus." To the freshman it meant the best wetting he had received since the day he fell in the old swimming-hole without knowing how to swim.

The night was cold. The pitiless moon shone down on a campus of much activity and disorder—freshmen running about, scantily clothed, trying to keep warm; sophomores yelling and charging like the Spartans of old; while from an upper window the head of a junior would appear, cursing the sophs and all the devilish work. Little wonder the pale and waning moon sought to hide her face with the black clouds that were scattering across the heavens. Even the stars blinked and doubted the validity of such a venture.

But still it happened. The freshmen, ghostly things, were backed upon the "bull hall" steps. Eerie Moore and his band of merciless marauders cursed and shouted a little more. The freshmen shivered.

At last the water came. It doubled and rolled and basked itself in the hose, hesitating to take part in such a ghastly crime. But it came. Probably it was the cold, or probably it was the shouts of the crowd. The freshmen cuddled, some of them cried out, as the icy water hit them broadside. The moon spread additional clouds across her pallid face. All was quiet. Nothing could be heard save the sizzling water as it rushed from the nozzle onto its bunch of helpless victims.

At last the cry of "enough!" The freshmen made a dive for their respective places of lodging. One was heard to say, as he entered his room, dripping like a drowned rat, "Thank goodness it's over."

The moon brushed aside the clouds from her face. Even the cold seemed to let up. All that was left to testify to the spectacle was the water and mud on the "bull hall" steps.

HOLD INITIATION FOR FORENSIC FRATERNITY

The third annual initiation service of the North Carolina Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary public speaking fraternity, took place Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Room D, Pullen Hall.

The following forensic representatives of State College were initiated:

- H. J. Oberholzer, Order of Oratory, Degree of Honor.
- Robert H. Dunlap, Order of Debate, Degree of Fraternity.
- J. Boyd Britt, Order of Debate, Degree of Fraternity.
- H. M. Stott, Order of Debate, Degree of Fraternity.
- Wilson B. Kilgore, Order of Debate, Degree of Fraternity.

It was also announced that Henry H. Rogers, a member of the chapter, had qualified for the Degree of Special Distinction in the Order of Debate, having won five out of seven contests. This degree is the highest attainable. Rogers is the third member of the State College chapter to make this mark of distinction. Professor Cunningham holds the degree in three orders: Instruction, Debate, and Oratory. H. M. Ray, ex-'27, now a senior in the School of Speech of Northwestern University, holds it in two orders: Oratory and Debate. W. E. Wilson, president of the chapter this year, holds it in two orders: Oratory and Debate.

The following officers of the chapter were elected for next year: President, H. H. Rogers; vice-president, H. J. Oberholzer; secretary-treasurer, H. M. Stott; corresponding secretary, Prof. C. C. Cunningham.

Laid in the romantic setting of Spain, filled with the gaiety of ultra-modern society, "Lovers," starring Ramon Novarro, comes to the State Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

The story is about a family whose lives are wrecked and whose souls are all but swamped by a hidden enemy—gossip. Alice Terry plays the part of the woman, an innocent young wife who is the victim of slander caused by the gossiping city.

A green recruit in one of Uncle Sam's civilian training camps, and an army sergeant in love with the same girl, such is the setting of "Rookies," which is coming to the State Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. Karl Dane is the sergeant, George Arthur is the recruit, and Marcelline Day is the girl.

Monday and Tuesday Conway Tearle in "Shoulders of Men" is coming to the Capitol Theatre to show where and how men—real he-men—may be made.

What would heaven on earth be like? That is the question asked by nearly every one. Morieland's interpretation of the answer is told by "Heaven on Earth," with an all-star cast, at the Capitol Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

The savage romance of the Spanish and the equally savage wit of the Irish clash to give plenty of complications in "Don Mike," which shows at the Capitol Theatre Friday and Saturday of next week.

"We've had the 'June Bride,' 'The War Bride,' 'The Blushing Bride,' and now comes 'The Night Bride.'"

Marie Prevost is starred in "The Night Bride," a Metropolitan comedy which comes to the Superba Theatre Monday and Tuesday next. Her leading man is Harrison Ford, who remains adamant to her wiles until the last flickering reel.

Ford's secretary-valet is played by Franklin Pangborn, who scored a success in "Getting Gertie's Garter." Robert Edeson and Constance Howard have important parts.

"The Bachelor's Baby," which comes to the Superba Theatre Wednesday for a two days run, is an hilarious comedy which tells the troubles of a bachelor who needs a baby in a hurry to save a pretty girl from going to jail. The fact that he picks on a midwife, who makes the child an all-too-wise infant, adds to the general mix-ups of the masquerade. Harry Myers plays the bachelor, Helen Chadwick is the pretty girl, and to Midget Gustav fell the role of the baby.

The great amusement of the old West was the rodeo. More crowds flocked to witness an exhibition of riding skill and "bull-dogging" steers than any baseball or football game in those days. An old-fashioned rodeo is one of the big features of "Somewhere in Sonora," coming next Friday and Saturday to the Superba Theatre.

The rodeo gives Ken Maynard, the star, an opportunity to go through several hair-raising stunts as a rider, and shows why he was once hailed as "the unparalleled trick rider of the world" during his circus and wild west show days.

Southern Regional Oratorical Meet Held This Week

In good numbers and to lend their interest and support to the contest. There will be six student speakers, who will deliver original orations on various phases of American constitutional government, each oration being limited to ten minutes in speaking time. The young men and women who will address the audience that night will be the winners of their respective state contests in Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Virginia, North and South Carolina. This fact insures a high type of public speaking work.

In addition to the representatives of Alabama and Tennessee, mentioned above, the speaker from Virginia will be Mr. Ben Chapman, of Roanoke College, and the speaker from North Carolina will be Mr. H. J. Oberholzer, of the North Carolina State College. Oberholzer is a native of the Orange Free State in South Africa, and has been in the United States only a little over a year. His is an unusually interesting personality, and has quickly caught the significance of the American system of government. What such a man as Oberholzer will have to say regarding the American Constitution should be of interest to people who have lived all their lives in this country.

At the time this article went to the press the contest management had not been officially advised of the names of the speakers from South Carolina and Georgia. The judges of the contest will be: President C. H. ## Camel is the modern favorite MODERN smokers make known their preference. And they call for Camels. Never in any age was there a smoking favorite like Camel is today. Camels understand every mood of the modern smoker. Camel mildness and smoothness are supreme with the critical taste of present-day people.

A purchase of Camels brings you the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. Blended by skill into the world's most popular smoke, and the best. Quality unapproached, is the distinguishing mark of Camel.

No matter what the price, there is no better cigarette than Camels. Smoke them as frequently as you please. You will never be left with a cigarette after-taste. Camels aren't made that way. That is why modern smokers everywhere demand them. That is why this age has discovered the tobacco phrase, "Have a Camel!"

Bell and Spigot Joint

THE Bell and Spigot Joint for Cast Iron Pipe adopted over one hundred years ago, is the preferred joint today.

It is tight, flexible, easily made and non-corrodible—there are no bolts to rust out—it makes changes of alignment or insertion of special fittings a simple matter—it can be taken apart and the pipe used over again, without any injury—it is not subject to damage in transit—in fact, it embodies practically all of the desirable qualities in an underground joint.

their four years of college life, and anyone who saw the feed that was spread before these students will agree that such proclamations are justifiable.

During the banquet George Kohn, president of the Tompkins Textile Society, presented Dr. and Mrs. Nelson with a beautiful carving set, which was a gift from the Textile seniors. Kohn stated that this gift was simply a token of appreciation from the seniors of the Textile School for the wonderful entertainment and hospitality extended to them during the last four years by Dean Nelson and his family.

Short, witty talks by various members present made the banquet a jolly and lively affair. Professor Grimshaw, E. A. Feimster, and George Kohn were the outstanding speech-makers of the evening. "Senator" Kwia, from China, was called upon for a talk, but, because of his modesty and the fact that he was very busy with the banquet, he was unable to respond.

Glorifying the Nation's Press

UNDER the careful scrutiny of the Fine Arts Commission, the Board of Engineers, the Building Inspector, various civic organizations, the District Commissioners and Congress itself—the National Press Building is now being built in Washington, D.C., as a monument to the Press, and to serve as headquarters for the National Press and as an office building.

Congress set aside the height limitation of zoning laws by special act, so that the building could be of maximum usefulness and still conform with the symmetry of the adjacent sky line.

The financing of this undertaking has been very impressive—$6,000,000 worth of bonds were oversubscribed 300% by a mighty response from every section of the country.

The elevator installation consists of seven (7) Otis Gearless Traction Elevators with Unit Multi-Voltage Control and Car Switch operation at 450 feet per minute, six (6) of these elevators being used exclusively for passenger service and one (1) as a service elevator. There is also a small dressing room elevator and a sidewalk elevator
