FRESHMEN HEAR NOTED LECTURER IN PULLEN HALL

James Speed, Well Known Speaker, Makes Great Impression on Student Body

"KEEP EYES WIDE OPEN"

Stresses Use of Eyes as Only Means of Casting Vivid Mental Images

Wednesday, October 20, at the regular assembly hour in Pullen Hall, Mr. James Speed, representative of the "Southern Agriculturist," a high ranking agricultural publication, spoke to the student-body and members of the faculty upon the subject of "Keep Eyes Wide Open."

A warm applause greeted Mr. Speed as he rose to speak, after being introduced to the audience by Professor I. O. Schaub, Dean of the School of Agriculture. After a few words of introduction, the speaker launched into the subject of his speech in a vigorous but amiable manner, holding his audience in the palm of his hand from then on until the end of his speech.

"When a boy in the third grade, I had a teacher who asked us various questions at the end of the lesson. My method was to figure out the night before the question the teacher was apt to ask me, and be prepared with the correct answer. Upon a certain occasion, feeling certain that she would ask me how many legs a fly had, I hammered the fact that a fly was the possessor of six legs upon my wish-bone. However, the next day in class when the teacher asked me how many legs a fly had, I found myself in doubt as to whether a fly had six legs or four legs. 'Going home very much worried, I caught a fly and counted its legs. It had six. From that time on I have never been in doubt as to how many legs a fly possessed. Those cameras on the front of my face had—Continued on page 2.

ENGINEERING COUNCIL EFFECTS ORGANIZATION

One of Purposes Will Be That of Promoting the Annual Engineering Fair

The Engineering Council, composed of student representatives of each of the departments of the School of Engineering, completed its organization by electing officers for 1926-27 at a meeting held in the Ceramics Building last Thursday evening.

The officers of the Council are: President, J. A. Anthony; Vice-President, C. O. Butler; Secretary, K. V. Wainwright; Treasurer, W. N. Denton.

The following members were present: C. O. Butler, C. B. Denson, Chemical Engineering; L. M. Stuart, J. A. Anthony, Mechanical Engineering; P. E. Trevathan, A. Mac. Greaves-Walker, Ceramic Engineering; J. W. Fagan, W. E. Wilson, Electrical Engineering; K. V. Wainwright, Sam Rowe, Civil Engineering; W. N. Denton, G. P. Hall, Architectural Engineering.

The Council at N. C. State is patterned after similar organizations at technical schools in the North and West, and is expected to be a valuable asset to the engineering students. Among the primary objects of the organization are the following: (1) To bind together as a unit the students of the various departments of the School of Engineering and to promote their welfare; (2) To promote combined meetings of the various technical societies; (3) To promote an annual Engineers' Fair; (4) To provide for an annual Engineers' Day; (5) To publish an Engineers' Magazine.

At the meeting to be held during the present week, President Anthony will appoint the committees which will have charge of these activities. The members of the organization will be elected annually by the technical societies representing each department, and each society has determined to establish a tradition that only outstanding engineers shall be given the honor of membership.

WIN HIGH HONORS AT NATIONAL STOCK SHOW

The State College Stock and Dairy Products Judging Team stood high in the recent judging contest which was staged at Detroit, taking sixth place in competition with the great stock raising and dairying states, and the provinces of Canada. Left to right, the names of the team are as follows: Top row—B. A. Sides, Professors Haig and Clevenger; bottom row—R. W. Zimmerman, D. C. Worth, and H. M. Adams.

E. L. CLOYD TO ATTEND NATIONAL "Y" COUNCIL

Dean of Students is Delegate to Legislative Convention in Chicago, 26-30

Dean E. L. Cloyd will leave Sunday night to attend the meeting of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., which meets in Chicago, October 26-30. The National Council is the legislative body of the Y. M. C. A. in the United States. The students of North Carolina are entitled to three representatives in the body. The other two representatives are Harry Carver, of the University of North Carolina, and B. B. Church, of Livingston College, who represents the college students of the state. The meeting will be held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago. There will be about five hundred delegates in all, representing all the States in the Union.

The Dean is expecting to have a great trip. He will ride the Broadway Limited from Washington, and it has been predicted that he will indulge in smoking a few fifty-cent cigars on the trip.

PLAN EARLY DATES FOR COMMENCEMENT DANCES

The State College final dances will probably be held before commencement this year. There is ample time between examinations and commencement for them, and it is thought that they will come at that time.

Heretofore it has been a general assumption among the students that after commencement was over they were no longer under the jurisdiction of the College, and that they were free to do as they wished. This is altogether a mistaken idea. The final dances are and always have been a part of the College year. To have unusually good dances in the Gym during the College and then drop somewhat from law and order at the finals is not at all in keeping with the spirit at State College or ideas of the social function committee. It is thought, therefore, that the giving of the finals before commencement would make them still better than they have ever been before.

THEY'RE HERE

Boys, they are here at last! That means the Freshmen Handbooks. All the freshmen who were at the assembly Friday were at last given their copy of this book. All other freshmen and upper-classmen who have not yet received their Freshman Bible, be sure to call by the "Y" desk and get theirs.

The delay in the delivery of these books was due to the fact that the printers had more work of this type to do than they had anticipated and could handle on schedule time.

Student Body Meeting Be Held Friday Night

There will be a student-body meeting held on Friday night, October 29, in Pullen Hall just after supper. The purpose of this meeting is to elect a representative from the student-body at large to serve as a member of the N. C. State Publication Association Board.

J. F. MATHESON, President Student-Body.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

J. R. Anderson Will Be Chairman of Group for Governing Student Publications

The Student Publications Association Board held its first meeting of the year Wednesday, October 20. J. R. Anderson was elected chairman, and A. S. Brower, financial advisor, was elected secretary.

The Publications Association officers, or board, consists of one member from the staff of each of the student publications, one member elected by the student-body, and two faculty members, an editorial and a financial adviser. F. S. McCoy represents The Technician, J. R. Anderson The Agromek, and H. K. Platt The Watauga. The student-body member has not yet been elected. Stewart Robertson, Professor of Journalism, is editorial adviser, and A. S. Brower, college business head, is financial adviser.

The total membership of the association is the enrolled membership of the student-body. Each student pays a publications fee of $2.25 at each term registration. This entitles him to a subscription to the college newspaper and magazine, and to a copy of the annual.

The association was established in the spring of 1924. The student-body almost solidly signing a petition in favor of this step toward stabilizing the student publications. The present arrangement assures the student all three publications for less than what was once charged for The Agromek. This is made possible by a larger paid-in circulation and better advertising rates.

NEW CAR TRACKS READY: BEGIN SERVICE SUNDAY

The new car line between the College Court Pharmacy and the old fair ground site will be ready for use Sunday, October 24th.

According to a report from Superintendent Ben Tongue, the car line will not be extended to Meredith Colleges, as was thought by some, but will end at the old fair ground site. The same bus service will be maintained as before the street was torn up. Mr. Tongue stated that the work on the line would be finished this week, and that the cars would be ready to bring the Meredith girls through Sunday.

"THE HOWLER" EXPECTS TO HOWL THANKSGIVING

Debut of New Humorous Magazine Rumored to Be at Time of Big Game

Say! Look what is in store for State College now! Sure, it's a surprise, and the best one we've had in many a day. There's a rumor around the campus that a new publication is going to press—"The Howler"—and will be turned loose at the big game Thanksgiving.

Watch out for him! Carolina harbors "The Buccaneer"; Texas University "The Texas Ranger"; Georgia Tech turns loose a bunch of "Yellow Jackets" each month, and now State College is going to turn "The Howler" out to lead the pack!

The publication is to be of a humorous nature, and all contributions of such a type will be appreciated. Cartoons will probably be the outstanding feature, so all "artists" and "would-be artists," please send in your material at once to be looked over, no matter what it may be. Don't be bashful! Remember King Solomon—he never would have gotten what he did if HE had been!

Here is the staff: Allen H. Watkins, Editor-in-Chief; A. N. Greene, Business Manager; F. W. Mangum, Exchange Editor, and the whole darn staff as circulation manager.

All inquiries and contributions should be mailed to P. O. Box 232-A, State College Station, or dropped in the door to room 107, Watauga.

"The Howler" is gathering "fury" every day, so look out for him at the State-Wake Forest game Thanksgiving Day.

UPPER-CLASSMEN FAIL TO SPEAK TO FRESHMEN

After Fraternity Bids Are Sent Out, All Speaking Ceases Until Pledge Buttons Are Presented

Did you notice the changing of the freshman's associates after twelve o'clock, Monday, October 18th? He was no longer seen talking or walking around with his best upper-classman friend. No doubt you know why this change came about. According to the ruling of the Pan-Hellenic Council, Monday, October 18th, was set aside as Fraternity Bid Day. The bids were sent out sometime after noon Monday, October 18. From Monday at noon until Wednesday morning no fraternity man was allowed to speak to a freshman or to be seen in his company.

This ruling casts a feeling of loneliness over the freshmen, but this feeling is soon overcome by the thought of the new shining pledge buttons that will soon appear on the lapels of many freshmen coats.

College Changes Nationality As Freshmen Become Grecians

STATE COLLEGE AGAIN IN DEBATORS' ANNUAL

Open Forum Debate With Duke is First in List; Tiddy and Wilson Speakers

For two consecutive years North Carolina State College has been represented in the University Debaters' Annual, a handbook of the most representative intercollegiate debates of the country. The volume for 1925-1926 has been received by Professor C. C. Cunningham, of the Public Speaking Department, and has the State College debate featured as the first of the list.

The debate used in the annual was held with Duke University at Cary last January. The subject discussed was the revision of the Senate rules, according to the plans of Vice-President Dawes. The Oxford-plan open forum type of discussion was used, each college having a speaker on either side. R. R. Fountain, of State College, presided, and the audience of some four hundred people participated freely in the discussion. Professor Cunningham feels highly gratified in having the college represented again this year, since the State-Carolina debate on birth control was published last year. Speakers for State were J. Edwin Tiddy, of Red Springs, and W. Edwin Wilcox, of Asheville. The Duke representatives were George B. Johnson and Hanselle L. Hester. Other colleges and universities selected for representation in the annual are: Duke, Southern Methodist, Emory, Swarthmore, Ohio Wesleyan, Pyrdue, Western Reserve, Yale, Princeton, Vanderbilt, University of California, Iowa State College, and University of Southern California.

COLLEGE BAND GOING STRONG

The State College Band is hitting on all four cylinders again, true to its accustomed form. Wednesday evening the musicians gave a concert at the Oxford Orphanage, this being the first of the regular semi-annual programs for the orphans. The Masons of Raleigh carried them over, and they were royally entertained by the orphanage.

Thursday evening a concert was given at the Eastern Wake Fair, at Zebulon.

"BARN WARMING" TO BE HELD SOON

Knowing that full-moon time is the best time for country fall festivals, the Ag. Club decided Tuesday night to have their annual "barn warming" some time during the next harvest moon.

The "barn warming" is the climax of the fall social functions of the Ag. boys, and holds special interest this year, as there is promise of it being a greater success than ever before.

At the club meeting B. A. Sides, secretary of the Students' Fair, read the names of the prize-winners for the various exhibits in the fair.

C. A. Leonard, president of the Students' Fair, expressed his appreciation to those who co-operated with him in making the fair a great success, and congratulated those who had charge of the various departments and exhibits in making the fair the best one ever put on by the students.

The club gave Mr. Leonard and Mr. Sides a rising vote of thanks and appreciation for the success of the fair.

A. H. FREEMAN TO HEAD GLEE CLUB THIS YEAR

At the regular meeting of the Glee Club Friday night, October 15th, A. H. Freeman was elected president. C. W. Overman, secretary, and G. M. Britt, reporter.

At the same meeting, delegates were appointed to meet the representatives from other glee clubs throughout the State to make plans for the state-wide meet. It was decided that the officers of the club should represent the group at all state conventions and in other matters of business.

Close of "Razzing Season" Finds One Hundred and Thirteen Bids Accepted

NUMBER SHOWS INCREASE

Fraternities Steadily Gain in Strength and Popularity on the Campus

At the end of the short but furious tapping or rushing season Monday night, October 18, a count of the pledges to Greek letter fraternities showed the largest number ever pledged at State College. The nineteen fraternities pledged one hundred and thirteen men.

Fraternity life has been steadily growing in popularity at this college for several years. Where there was once only a few loose and disjointed organizations known as fraternities, there are now compact and strong organizations, each having a chapter room, or a fraternity home off the campus.

The list of pledges follows:

Kappa Alpha: John B. Boyd, Mooreville; R. A. Grimes, Hickory; Charles and N. S. Calhoun, Jr., Raleigh; Stanly B. Allen, Portsmouth, Va.

Pi Kappa Alpha: Morris E. Trotter, Jr., Charlotte; T. S. Simpson, Charlotte; J. H. Hatcher, Hickory; A. P. Baggett, Dunn; C. H. McCall, Hickory; P. F. Eagles, Charlotte; A. T. Quantz, Jr., Rock Hill, S. C.; R. W. Nisson, Winston; C. D. Lucas, Charlotte; J. H. Mitchell, Mooreville.

Sigma Nu: R. D. Dunn, Henderson; J. J. Gentry, Jr., Winston; Robert Fennell, Wilmington; Robert S. Warren, Madison, Wis.; Fred C. Lattimer, Kansas City, Mo.; Fred Forbes, Greenville.

Kappa Sigma: W. H. Ricks, Greenville; C. E. Gilkey, Marion; R. H. Alford, Dublin, Va.; R. J. Fletcher, Hartsville, S. C.

STUDENTS WIN VALUABLE PRIZES AT ANNUAL FAIR

Prize List of $1,000 Divided Between a Comparatively Few Students

The Students' Agricultural Fair is over and will be forgotten by many, but for some that took part there will be reminders that jog their memories for a long time to come. For instance, a number of students labored day and night, for days and even weeks, to make the venture a success. It was a success, and every mother's son that helped make it so is proud.

There are other mothers' sons who are proud and happy over their achievements of winning the various prizes; and they should be proud, because competition was keen in almost every department of the fair.

The students who won anywhere from $10 to $100 worth of prizes should be justly proud, because the distinguishing marks are more than one. In the first place, every man that won in a judging contest, where from 12 to 45 were competing, showed a superiority in judging ability. Also, the remunerative value they received should make them feel a little "swelled in the head."

These men won the following valued prizes:

J. W. Edwards, $75—sweepstakes and other prizes in judging livestock.

J. L. Fort, $81—first sweepstakes in poultry and second sweepstakes in judging stock.

M. O. Pleasant, $106 and a Silver Loving Cup. The $106 was won by getting a number of prizes and sweepstakes in judging in Agroonomy and in putting on exhibits, while the silver cup was won as sweepstakes in having on the most exhibits of prize-winning corn.

R. S. Gaston, $31.50 for being the best judge of fruits and vegetables.

M. E. Evans, $15.75 for winning first in Farm Engineering.

COLLEGE MAGAZINE WILL SPONSOR DRAMATIC CLUB

Staff Believes That a Course in Playmaking Should Be Given Here

The Wataugan, official magazine of the College Publications Board, in the issue of October 20 is sponsoring a movement to establish at North Carolina State College a playmaking organization equal or superior to the "Carolina Playmakers," which has been in existence for several years at the University of North Carolina. It has been a valuable asset to the institution, both from a literary point of view and also from the fact that the school obtained a great deal of advertising of the best type in the tours made all over the State and the eastern section of the country by the members of the organization in presenting to the public plays which they themselves have written and produced. The study of playwriting, production, and general dramatics is a regular course offered at the University.

Such an institution here and a like course available to the students would be of great benefit to State College, according to an editorial in The Wataugan. Part of the argument in favor of such a move is, that the technical training necessary in successful playwriting could be very well worked into the curriculum of State College, and many who might wish to make play production their life work could gain some insight into the technicalities of the stage game before going out into the world to put into practice what they have learned on the theoretical side of the subject, combining it much better with the practical side, as the budding engineers, farmers, and business men hope to be able to do when they have received their degrees.

From a literary standpoint, The Wataugan holds that the interest of the students here would be increased greatly along the lines of plays and dramatic writing, as well as in general ways, and give to them appreciation and ability of criticism that is present in some of the most highly cultured people of the world. An increase in the recognition of the beauty of the ancient Greek writers would necessarily follow, and thus build into the education of a State College man the love of the beautiful and artistic writing and literature.

The October issue is the first issue of The Wataugan since school began this year. The magazine was founded last year, when the sentiment among the students was of such a high degree towards anything favoring literary work and efforts. The first number appeared in March, 1926, with W. E. Wilson as editor-in-chief. Two other numbers followed before the close of the spring term, and each was very well received by the students. With Wilson back as pilot of the magazine this year, it was originally planned to put before the students eight issues, but it was found necessary to cut the number down to six because of a large increase of the printing and production cost. The minimum number of issues under the ruling of the College Publications Board is six, and each of these will be in the hands of the students in due time. The issue of October 20 is the first, and another will follow later in the quarter. In all, two issues will go to press each quarter of the regular school year.

PLEASES AUDIENCE

Prizes of fifteen and ten dollars were offered last year for, respectively, the best and the second best articles to appear in the pages of the magazine during all issues that year. It is hoped that the prizes will be available again this year as an added incentive to the students in their literary efforts for The Wataugan. The editor cordially invites any and all who have or think they have a slight or a greater ability for writing to prepare copy and send it to him, or to some of the staff. They are always glad to receive contributions whether or not they are always suitable for publication.

permanently thrown the image of a fly upon the silver screen—my mind."

Stressing the fact that the use of one's eyes in throwing a mental picture upon the mind was the only sure way of recalling a fact, Mr. Speed showed how easy it was to recall incidents in detail, providing you had used your eyes in obtaining a clear mental picture. The audience was surprised at the marvelous accuracy and detail with which Mr. Speed could relate certain minor experiences. Much to the amusement of the audience, Mr. Speed most successfully imitated the language of several common animals.

At the conclusion of the speech, many of the students rushed forward to shake hands with the speaker.

Amusements and Entertainments

A buffalo hunt, in which some 3,000 of the animals from the Government game preserves and 1,500 Indians take part, is a big feature of "The Last Frontier," an epic western Metropolitan picture which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre next Monday and Tuesday nights.

William Boyd and Marguerite De LaMotte play the leading roles. Farrell Macdonald and Jack Hoxie appear in featured roles. Others in the cast are Mitchell Lewis, Frank Lackteen, and Gladys Brockwell.

The fastest motion picture Jack Holt has appeared in to date is "The Enchanted Hill." He says so himself.

In the evolution of this Peter B. Kyne story, the popular Paramount player is compelled to make several trips through the air in a speedy plane, hit up the desert roads in a high-powered car, at not less than eighty miles an hour, to say nothing of having to exhibit that rare ability of horsemanship of which only Jack Holt is capable.

The scene of the "Enchanted Hill" is laid in New Mexico, and is directed by the man who directed "North of 36." Nuff said. See it at the Capitol Theatre on Wednesday or Thursday.

Who doesn't like to see Ramon Navarro on the screen? He has a new one for you—the hand-shaker's salute—which he shows to the theatre-going public in "The Midshipman." See the picture; try the new hand-shake on your friends. They'll like the idea, for "Saluting" is more dignified, more respectful, and less wearying," says Navarro. It's at the Capitol next Friday night. Don't miss it.

See Buster Keaton bruise, battle, and BANG! his way to the championship and to the girl in "Battling Butler," shown at the State Theatre for the last showing tonight. After seeing "Battling Butler" you'll want to promote a fight between Buster and Gene.

"Stella Davis" is on the screen. You've read the book, now see the picture. It's the story of a mother and a daughter. You'll laugh—you'll cry—feel like dancing—do a lot of sighing, for "Stella Davis" on the screen is even better than in the book. See it at the State Theatre Monday, and avoid the crowds that will flock to see it later. Stella Davis is the picture of today. Forget your worries and really enjoy yourself again.

$40 worth of prizes for winning sweepstakes in putting on exhibits in Agronomy and Horticulture, also the individual prizes won on exhibits helped swell the amount to $40. W. J. Barden, by winning first in putting on the best general farm exhibit, won a $50 prize. B. F. Shelton took away $40 worth of prizes for his part of the exhibits. The $2, $5, and $10 prizes would take up too much space to tell about, but it all goes to show that by a little effort much can be gained from the Students' Fair.

DOWN THOSE FLYING CADETS!

Wolfpack Encounters Flying Cadets At Richmond To-day

Shifted Line-up Will Attempt to Stem Tide Which Last Year Swamped the 'Pack

Coach Tebell and his squad of twenty-three men left yesterday for Richmond, Va., where Captain Logan will lead the Wolfpack against the Flying Cadets, of V. M. I., on Mayo Island this afternoon.

The coaches have been driving the squad hard in preparation for the annual clash, which is expected to be a hard-fought contest. The Pack has been put through stiff work-outs and scrimmages with the freshman team every afternoon. Thursday the coaches gave the squad a light work-out in final preparation for today's game.

The Wolfpack came through the Davidson game in fine fashion, with the exception of Outen, who injured his shoulder, but he will probably be in today's line-up. McDowell will also be in today's game, after being out of the Davidson game on account of an injury to his shoulder which he received in the Clemson game. McDowell will very likely be shifted to right end. He was a flanker while in high school, but has been working in the backfield since he has been in college.

Last year the game was played in a sea of mud. Before the game was five minutes old the players were so covered with mud that they could hardly be recognized. V. M. I. scored a touchdown in the first quarter on a blocked punt. "Windy" White and Gfroerer were largely responsible for the large score which the Cadets piled up. When the final whistle blew, the Cadets had piled up twenty-six points while State had scored only one touchdown, but the Wolfpack left determined not to let history repeat itself this year.

Probable line-up for State:

Position	Player
Beatty	L. E.
Ford	L. G.
Logan	C. G.
Nicholson	R. G.
Vaughn	R. T.
McDowell	R. E.
Ridenhour	Q. B.

A grid-graph play by play reproduction of the State-V. M. I. football game will be given in the gymnasium Saturday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. As will be remembered by those who have seen a football game in this manner, the representation is very realistic. The admission charge is 25 cents.

SPORT COMMENT

The freshman football team will be seen in action on Riddick Field three times this season. Wake Forest, Carolina, and Davidson will be played here in November.

On to Richmond, Wolfpack. Keep up the same fighting spirit that you had in the Davidson game. Let's see you down those flying Cadets.

The Wolfpack had the fighting spirit, the student-body had the pep, and the result was that the Pack staged a good fight against the Davidson Wildcats.

Spurlock of Lenoir-Rhyne has the honor of being high scorer in the state football circle, having scored 49 points in four games.

Dick Gurley's Mountain Bears have high scoring honors in the State football circle, having scored four games this season.

The Purple Hurricane, of Furman, looks as if it is going to give some of the Southern teams trouble. Last Saturday Furman defeated the strong Georgia eleven 14-7.

The Demon Deacons and the Wildcats are the only two elevens of the Big Five to play in the State today. State plays V. M. I. at Richmond, Carolina meets Maryland at College Park, Duke will clash with Columbia.

Judging from the showing that Gus McPherson made in the Duke-Carolina game last Saturday, the Tar Heels should have more of their track stars out for football.

Coach Tebell has made the first call for varsity basketball. The Red Terrors will be in charge of "Flash" Dickens, who was captain of last year's championship team until the end of the football season, then Coach Tebell will take charge of his Terrors.

CAROLINA SPECIAL FOR TRIP TO HILL

There will be a special train from Raleigh to Chapel Hill Saturday, October 30, to take the band and student-body over to the game. Many friends from town will go on this train also, rather than be troubled with automobiles in the jam that is sure to occur after the game.

The special train will leave the Union Station at 11:30 a. m., and will back in on the college siding at the Power Plant at 11:45. The students will "load on," and the train will leave immediately for Chapel Hill, arriving there shortly before 2 o'clock.

The return journey will be made as soon after the game as the passengers can gather at the train.

Arrangements will be made for the students to get an early lunch at the Dining Hall Saturday morning, and probably a late lunch in the evening.

The price of the round-trip ticket will be $1.87.

HILL WOLVES WORK HARD

Due to the loss of several letter men, the State College Cross-country Team will be handicapped when they meet the Davidson long-distance men on the 29th of November.

J. J. Wright, captain of last year's team, probably will not run, and Nance and Kendrick will be the only letter men on the team. Hoyle, Hall, Freeman, Baker, Greaves-Walker, Rogers, and Grant will be fighting for a place on the team.

The first important try-out was held Thursday afternoon. The result was as follows: Baker, first; Nance, second; Loman, third, and Hoyle, fourth. The time for the three miles was 22 minutes.

CHARLOTTE AUTHORITIES ADVANCE GRID PLAYING

The public schools of Charlotte, N. C., have twenty-eight football teams this season. Mr. Gullickson, a graduate of Springfield College, has charge of athletics in the public schools. He, assisted by Jack Caldwell, a former Duke star, has organized these teams in order to create more interest in the sport. This means that Charlotte high school will have good material coming up every year from the public schools.

The equipment for all of these teams is bought with a percentage of the gate receipts of each game. A certain number of tickets are sent to each school in the city, to be sold by the members of the football team to the students. The price of the tickets is twenty-five cents, and each school gets forty per cent of the money which its students collect for tickets to the senior high school games.

Why can't other cities in North Carolina follow the example set by Charlotte, and create more interest in football among the high school students? It would mean that the material for college football would be better in North Carolina when these boys go to college.

GHOST IN DORMITORY FOUND BY NIGHT OWL

The nocturnal disturber who for the past few nights has threatened to drive Morpheus from the portals of Fifth Dormitory has at last been discovered.

One P. Perry, State's incomparable champion of the light fantastic, has been found to be the innocent cause of the trouble. Many theories as to the origin of this ghostly noise had been set forth by the boys. Some thought it was due to morning rafters as the building swayed in the wind, while others thought that it was due to a series of post-season thunder-storms. However, no definite proof had been established until the sleuth-like "Red" Enso, returning in the wee hours of the morn., sneaked into Perry's room and made the discovery that it was this youth's sonorous snoring that had been the cause of sleepless nights.

While conscious, Perry has a beautiful alto voice, and often enraptures the boys with his warble-like trill as he now and then shifts to a delightful falsetto. However, as he drifts to the Land of Nod his stentorian tones would make a bass horn sound like a piccolo.

Many suggestions have been pouring in as a solution to the problem. From the feeble intellect of a freshman came the thought that a fog-horn might drown him out, while another bright youth suggests that a Maxim silencer might prove effective.

TICKETS AT GYM. CAROLINA GAME

Tickets for the Carolina-State game will be on sale at the gymnasium until noon Wednesday, October 27. Price, $2.00. The Athletic Department would be glad to let the students in to the game on their regular tickets, but this is impossible. This is Carolina's game, and Carolina is making the seating arrangements. They have reserved a large section in the center of the bleachers for the State students, and no outsider will be allowed to buy a seat in this section until after the time limit set for selling student tickets at the gym.

WOLFPACK GUESTS OF CAPITOL MANAGEMENT

Red Grange, famed for his powers on the gridiron, galloped before the eyes of N. C. State's football team yesterday. All the frills of college life, bon-fires, co-eds, and pranks appeared in detail in the picture "One Minute to Play." The manager of the Capitol Theatre, Mr. W. J. Inloe, gave each member of N. C. State team a complimentary ticket.

WILKES COUNTY BOYS PERFECT ORGANIZATION

The students from Wilkes County met October 10 and organized a county club. The following officers were elected: W. A. Alexander, president; W. V. Eller, vice-president; M. C. Gorman, secretary, and R. V. Day, treasurer.

The other members of the club are as follows: T. H. McNeill, H. K. Gilbreath, B. C. Venable, F. A. Sales, B. M. Day.

This is the first time a Wilkes County Club has been organized at State.

TEBELL CALLS OUT 1927 RED TERRORS

The first meeting of the 1927 Red Terrors was held in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday, October 19th. Coach Tebell sent out the call to the members of the last year's varsity and freshman teams. At the meeting Coach Tebell lectured to the men on the fundamental principles of basketball. Dickens, of last year's championship team, is the only man who will not be back this year. With such a large squad to pick a team from, Tebell thinks that he can repeat last year's successful team.

The first practice was held in the gymnasium—Thursday night—with twenty men reporting for duty. Dickens will have charge of the squad until the end of the football season, when Tebell will take charge of his Terrors. The candidates are: Capt. Gresham, Watkins, Spence, Williams, Daily, Lawrence, Owens, Vinson, Davis, Laughlin, Taylor, Young, Mason, Trogen, Holden, Brown, Waters, Stafford, Zimmerman, and Rhyne. McDowell, Goodwin, Ridenhour, and Childers will report as soon as the football season is over.

"Red" Wood is manager, with Darden as an assistant.

Spring

I have heard that the spring thoughts of love a young man bring. But for girls it's thoughts of clothes, Dresses, hats, and furbelows; Things to make them, like the season, Fresh and gay. And the reason? So that love will be born— And flowers come of Eastern morn.

TENNIS MEETING HELD ON MONDAY

A meeting was called by Professor Leffer on Monday, October 18th, for all the students who were interested in tennis. There were thirty students present. The purpose of the meeting was to organize a team for fall play and to find out just how many were interested in tennis. Several of the colleges of this State have written Professor Leffer, asking for matches this fall. All the students present were willing to do their best under the prevailing conditions.

A committee was appointed, headed by Professor Leffer, to go and talk the situation over with Dr. Brooks and see just what could be done about the idle condition of the twelve courts. These courts were supposed to have been finished by the opening of the College this fall.

From the interest shown by the students, it looks as though the College will take the matter into its hands and give the students what they want in the way of tennis courts.

The most welcome call to smoke ever sounded

NEVER was there a smoke invitation that could compare with "Have a Camel!"

On swirling city streets. In the roadster as it bounds over the hills. In the study or by the fireside, no other smoking phrase is so provocative of enjoyment and friendship. In its realization comes a boundless sense of gratitude and contentment.

That is because Camels are the favored smoke of millions of experienced and successful men. To ever-increasing millions who have tried them all, who could well afford to pay more, Camels are the first and only choice. Since the dawn of smoking, there has never been a success like Camel's.

Camel preference is the inevitable expression of Camel quality. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No other smoke was ever so smooth and mellow mild. For your own high pleasure, we invite you to rise to the world's most celebrated smoke call. Have a Camel!

Paragraphs

The Queen is receiving a royal welcome.

But watch the cold shoulder when she asks for a loan.

We take the dust of no college. Meredith will begin using the street cars once more.

The Ags have done with their Fair. Now they are talking nothing but "barn warming."

Many freshmen were surprised to find that there was absolutely no "catch" in the free entertainment last night.

Several men who are not athletes now have the athletic limp. Probably because of the many recent initiations.

Much credit is due to the officers and faculty advisers for the successful completion of the sixth Students' Fair.

Thank goodness, the editor got tired of listening to our yapping and donated some four or five erasers for the use of the staff.

One nice thing about being editor of this sheet is the fact that we get letters from many of our old friends in the distant corners of the world.

Fraternity pledges and flunk slips came out almost simultaneously. We wonder if there is any marked similarity in the two lists of names.

The boys in the band are the envy of their fellow students because of the many trips they get. But two trips in as many days is "rubbing it in."

Some of our caustic critics concerning co-education would do well to bear in mind the fact that we take no responsibility for the views expressed in signed articles in the Student Forum.

It is rumored that H. L. Meucken sometimes requires a stimulant to aid him in clear thinking. We wonder if he was "stimulated" when he nominated a man for president in each Southern state?

It is rumored that the "Carolina Special" will fit its schedule to the circumstances, stopping at Method on the return trip for a serenade of Meredith, at State for supper, and at the station for a serenade of Raleigh.

Professors like to get out of work, too. They made full use of the opportunity to pass the "buck" to Lecturer Taylor. One student was compelled to listen to the same lecture three times for three different professors.

SOMEBODY HAS SLIPPED

When a group of students organizes themselves into a society or club, with definite aims and purposes stated in a regularly drawn-up constitution and by-laws, and when the ultimate end of that organization is to place that group and its successors in a position to petition a national fraternity for a local chapter, it is usually conceded that that group are miserably lacking in fidelity.

But when that group allows itself to disintegrate without having chosen another group to carry on the work thus nobly started, the world is prone to believe that the purposes for which the group was organized were unworthy, or else the individuals composing that group are miserably lacking in fidelity to the work started.

The combined staffs of the 1924-25 and the 1925-26 TECHNICIAN formed themselves into an organization which they were pleased to call "The Technician Quill Club." All the usual details of organizing clubs of its kind were performed. A key with suitable symbols was adopted as the official badge of honor. The avowed purpose of the club was to stimulate interest in journalism at this institution, and to create a desire for and a possibility of obtaining a national journalistic fraternity. So far, so good.

But at the end of the last school year the outgoing staff failed utterly to elect any successors, and at present there is no journalistic club at all on the campus. Who is to blame? Why was the chance to secure national recognition allowed to die a neglected death?

We are not taking a selfish view of this situation. We belong to enough organizations and have an abundance of keys already. But the rising generations of State College students desire some goal toward which to work in their campus activities. Membership in a national honorary journalistic fraternity is a worthy goal for any student.

Nor are we narrow enough to believe that such an organization should be restricted to the staffs of this publication alone. The staffs of the annual and the literary magazine, The Agromeck and The Watagan respectively, should be admitted also. These publications are a credit to the college and to the state, and should be recognized.

Practically all the men who were the charter and only members of this club are readers of the present TECHNICIAN. Some of them are still on the campus, and others are within a few hours ride of Raleigh. It is with the hope that they will read this statement of our views and be spurred to action, even at this late date, that we are discussing this subject editorially.

Why do they organize? Did they merely desire to belong to yet another organization? Did they desire another key to dangle from their watch chains? Did they wish the name of another club to appear after their names and under their pictures in The Agromeck? Do they not realize that that key will mean much or little to them in accordance with the future success of the organization of which it is the symbol?

WHITHER SHALL WE GO?

On the one side the calamity howlers are dressing themselves in sackcloth and ashes as they announce that over-production of cotton, fruit, vegetables and other farm products is ruining the farmer. On the other side the physicians of social unrest and inequality are advocating a "back to the farm" movement as the one and only cure for the poor and oppressed worker in industry. Is the one right, and the other wrong?

If the farmer ceases to produce he will have to seek other means of obtaining a livelihood, which usually means that he will take his place in the ranks of the industrial workers. If the man in industry takes himself "back to the farm" he is merely joining the producers, who are already afflicted with over-production.

This is a problem that has baffled all economists and social workers since man first began to specialize in a division of labor. Instead of becoming adjusted, it becomes more complicated. It is the old struggle for class supremacy, and we see no immediate relief. In either case the only sure cure is to live within the income, instead of keeping a week ahead of the income, as is the present tendency.

INVADÉ CAROLINA OCT. 30

When the Wolfpack meets the Tar Heels on October 30 it will be the first time that the Pack has invaded the Tar kiln in several years. The Carolina team will be backed by the largest student body in the state, and a student body that has at present one of the greatest epidemics of college spirit in the history of that institution. The backing that the Pack receives from the bleachers will depend in large measure upon the attendance of the students of State College. There will be many friends and alumni of State College there, but they cannot do the organized "rooting" that the students can. If every student from this college is not at Chapel Hill when the first whistle blows, then every student is not doing his duty by the team.

Barring chances of upsets in the games today the two teams will trot on the field evenly matched. The bleachers will be called on to furnish their part of the fight. We shall be outnumbered as much as two to one, but if we show the pep that we had at the Davidson game we can out-yell them, if they have five to one. If every man will begin planning now there is no reason why every man cannot be there. There will be a special train, there will be countless "scooters" and "hobos" should be fair. It is the only big game that we shall be privileged to see of our own field, and promises to be one of the greatest games of the year. Next year they will swoop down upon us in a body. Let us invade their camp in like manner this year. "Obey that impulse."

We have been in the habit of "hanging around" the printers to watch the "make-up." This week when we came down we were confronted with a large sign: IF YOU HAVE NOTHING TO DO—DON'T DO IT HERE.

STUDENT FORUM

WANTED! A POSTOFFICE!

A new postoffice at State College Station would be an improvement which West Raleigh really needs. The present office is entirely too small to accommodate such a large student-body.

Any one who hasn't a box has to wait from five to ten minutes nearly every time he calls for his mail. The office should be larger and have more boxes so that each student might have one.

If this improvement was made, it would eliminate a great deal of class lateness, which is a nuisance to the college. Many students go to the postoffice every morning between classes. If there was a box for all students, they would have plenty of time to get to their classes.

Why not enlarge the present postoffice and make possible a box for every man, or at least a box for roommates?

T. E. WHITE, JR.

COLLEGE AID ONLY HOPE FOR A FRATERNITY ROW

A fraternity row is impossible without the aid of the College. The article appearing in last week's Technician sounded very well, but the writer happens to know more about the aid of the large insurance companies and their representatives than do the majority, having been through their plan.

Of course our local insurance men will sell the fraternities lots of insurance, which is a very good thing, but beyond that their power is practically naught.

The school is the only thing which can foster a fraternity row. If others attempt it, it is for the money they are receiving, and there is not a fraternity on the campus that can afford to pay "middleman profits." It will be impossible to have a fraternity row at State College until the school gets behind the movement.

J. McDOWALL.

STUDENTS LOSE GREAT SUMS WHILE WAITING

The mail question is becoming a proposition at State College. It causes numbers of boys, especially freshmen, a lot of trouble and time to stand in line for their mail. There are approximately 1,350 boys in school, and of this number about 650 do not have post-office boxes. Each boy will wait in line on an average of one hour and a half a day, counting a 30-minute wait for each mail. Multiplying the time each boy spends in line by the total number of boys without boxes we get 975 hours a day wasted. These figures will give you approximately 76,050 hours that will be wasted this term.

If the 650 boys worked this many hours at twenty-five cents an hour they would make $19,012.50. As it is they waste 76,050 hours and lose $19,012.50.

The above figures will show that if the College and postoffice would co-operate in improving the situation there would be a great saving of time.

J. C. COBB.

STUDENT COUNCIL TRIALS

All trials held by the Student Council should be made public. What would the whole mass of people think if the Federal, State, and city courts were held secretly? There would be trouble. People want to know what is going on at trials, and it is right that they should know.

We are supposed to have Student Government on the campus, but affairs are controlled by sixteen men. It is true that the student-body elects these men on the Student Council, but that is not the thing of it; the whole student-body wants to know the evidence in each case. When the entire student-body learns the evidence in each case, they are more satisfied over the decision. Every student on the campus should know all the evidence in each case, pro and con. If the trials were held publicly it might keep down hasty decisions. I think the Student Council, in the past, has been entirely too hasty in expelling students. Every student brought before the Council, under certain circumstances, should have the second chance to do better. State College students in the hands of the Student Council do not get as much consideration as a bootlegger does in our State courts. In the opinion of the student-body, there have been students brought before the Student Council who have not had due consideration. I believe that the majority of students are in favor of open trials.

RUDOLPHUS STRIDER.

OLD GRAD. MADE HAPPY

Please allow me to express to the student-body, through the columns of the Technician, my personal pride and gratification in the magnificent showing made by our cheering section at the Davidson game. The spirit and enthusiasm was by far the best displayed here in recent years. I want the students to know that this old grad's heart thrilled with pride once more, and that a great host of alumni on the side-lines were equally elated.

The staff of the Department of Physical Education and the members of the football squad are deeply appreciative of the whole-hearted support given the team in the hard without battle. We didn't win, but the team played real football, and our fine showing against a superior team was due, largely, to that constant roar of encouragement which came from our stands.

The cheer leaders, also, are to be commended for the splendid figures executed between the halves. The maneuvers were well planned and carried out in a pleasing and orderly manner. The writer has heard many favorable comments on the feature by residents of the city. It is my firm conviction that old N. C. State is again definitely headed for the top of the football heap. We may fall a trifle short this season, but just watch our smoke next year. With the united support of the student-body, as displayed last week in the Davidson encounter, the team is bound to go far along the trail that leads to championships. Our season is just beginning. Football history will be written during the next few weeks. Let's see that many of its pages are liberally smeared with Red and White.

TAL H. STAFFORD, '12.

WILL WE BEAT CAROLINA?

That is a question that is being debated pro and con all over the campus. Some think we'll have an easy job, while others, who are more pessimistic, think Carolina will beat us, and I think I'm safe in saying—as usual. Since 1921 we have been defeated by this team regularly, and on our own field. Now we're going to play them in Chapel Hill, and it's going to take all the pep and fight the student-body and the team have to kill this jinx.

We had fine spirit at the Davidson game, and consequently the student-body aided the team in holding Davidson to only three points, when they were doped to beat us by at least fourteen. If we can only take that pep to Chapel Hill—well, fellows, the Blue and White will have a hard job holding that Wolfpack. We've got a good fighting team, and all they need is the undivided support of the student-body to make the rest of the North Carolina eleven sit up and take notice. Let's ever get over to Chapel Hill and help push them across to victory. Don't put off buying your seats. A special section of the bleachers at Chapel Hill has been reserved for State College supporters. This does not mean students alone! It means every one who is going to back State College. We want all of the students together so we can out-yell Carolina. To do this you must buy your ticket as early as possible. The seats are

Professor Zip says--

I'LL swab my throat and sing a note to C. F. Shuford's glory; until he's dead, no fair co-ed can come, and that's the story. It makes him riled—these grounds defiled by female footsteps stealthy; he flunks his math to vent his wrath in accents strong and healthy. He rues the day when 'cross our way came skirts, and curls, and snickers; he bares his chest and fights his best for men, and pipes, and knickers. Since Adam's day, his stories say, they drag us down the chasm; with caustic phrase he strives to raise our old enthusiasm. The crimes of man since time began at woman's door he places; beneath her spell the strongest fell for painted lips and faces. Her varied mind has been behind the whole world's stock of trouble; and when she's near, with smile or tear, our cares at once redouble. So let us praise our Shuford's ways and bid him strength and vigor; and when he shoots his jibes and hoots, we'll slyly pull the trigger.

Uncle Dudley's Opinion--

On Woman-Haters

The author of last week's article about Co-eds, and scoring me, was very interesting, and I enjoyed reading it. I am sorry that the author did not stick to the stand he took at first and keep one opinion.

He contradicted himself in the same article, and it seems as though he is doing more raving than thinking. I admire Mr. Shuford for his spunk of sticking up to what he believes, and fighting for it, but he is on sale now, and the first one to buy them get the choice of the best seats there. Don't trust to luck and go to Chapel Hill thinking you'll be able to get a good seat after you get there. The seats will cost you just as much then as they will now, and in all probability you won't get a half-way decent seat.

We've got to have pep to beat Carolina, and to do this we must have the student-body together. If we have three-fourths of the student-body together and yelling as they did at that Davidson game, we'll certainly chalk up a victory.

Let's every one go over and show Carolina what real school spirit is! Back that team with all that's in you, and that is as much as any one could ask.

BILL DENTON.

THE DORMITORY QUESTION

State College needs new dormitories. With the registration becoming larger and larger each year, something must be done immediately to furnish room for new men. It has been rumored around the campus that nearly two hundred freshmen were turned away from school on account of the lack of rooming facilities during this last registration. If this is true, it is little short of an outrage, for State College wants to build up and become an even greater institution, rather than to stand still. We could easily have 800 freshmen here next fall if we were able to take care of them. Men want to come to this school.

Possibly the funds for the building of dormitories and such things are pitifully insufficient, but even so, it seems to me if the faculty would show the State clearly (and it could be shown clearly) the acute rooming situation the conditions would be improved. The University puts up a howl whenever they want something. What's more, they get what they howl for.

Not only is there inadequate room to take care of more than 500 new men each year, but to even take in—Continued on page 5.

Chemist Finds Earth a Good Location To Stake Out Claim

The chemist finds the earth an exceedingly fit place for life. Water, air, and soil are composed of substances in the best possible proportions, and these substances have properties exactly suitable for the growth and nourishment of the most complex organisms. In the last meeting of the Chemistry seminar, Dr. Frank E. Rice reviewed "Fitness of the Environment," a widely discussed book written by Professor Henderson of Harvard, in which analytical data are presented in support of this contention.

Life could not go on without some kind of a liquid, and no other liquid could take the place of water. It has peculiar properties that no other liquid possesses—large capacity for storing up heat, unusually high heat absorption on evaporation and freezing, extraordinary capacity for rising in small spaces such as are found within the tree. It will dissolve more substances and is more stable than any other liquid. It is the only liquid known that expands on freezing; as a result of this property, ice forms at the surface of a body of water instead of at the bottom. This property alone probably makes life possible on this planet, when it would otherwise be impossible.

Of the bases, carbon dioxide is the most vital to living things. Data are presented, similarly, to show that no other substance could take its place. Furthermore, it together with the water on our globe appear to be present in ideal amounts.

These substances must have been on the earth before any form of life appeared, and they must also have had the same properties that they now have. So Dr. Henderson leads us to the view that this is scientific evidence of an intelligence directing the formation of the world as a fit environment for life long before life began.

In conclusion, Dr. Rice stated: "The biologists, the theologians, and philosophers have found things wrong with our world—too much waste of life and cruelty, too much evil, too much apparent unreasonableness—but how we meet the chemist-optimist. He finds everything exactly right; if he were building an earth he would construct it exactly as he finds this one."

STUDENT FORUM

(Continued from page 4.) that many, often three and four students have to occupy one room. To say this is a distressing situation is to put it entirely too mildly. The rooms were made for two men and no more, and when there are more than two, crowded and stuffy conditions tend to more or less demoralize the student.

We want a bigger and better State College. If every one will push, we can get it.

"Y" WILL CANVASS FOR MORE FUNDS

Due to the fact that the treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. did not get to see all the students at the time of registering, to receive their contribution for this year's "Y" program, it has been decided to make a canvass of the dormitories next Thursday night, October 28th, and thus give every student an opportunity to contribute something toward carrying on the "Y" program of the year.

It is hoped that the students will co-operate by contributing as much as possible and help the "Y" make this program a success. As is known, the "Y" is not on a fee basis, which makes it necessary to put on a canvass for the student contribution.

"This Week's Ads"

By G. F. DICKINSON

Have you been to see our friends yet? If not, then the sooner that you can the better they will feel. For many years the Raleigh merchants have very liberally contributed to The Technician. It is true that they have received the students' trade, but not as much as they should. If you were to do something for some one and they were not to show the least appreciation, it is only natural to assume that they would feel bad. Well, if you feel bad, it is only natural to assume that they feel bad also.

But have they ceased to contribute? They have not; they have clearly shown that they are our friends, for when the day is darkest for them they still keep on being our most liberal benefactors.

Make a self case of the question. How would you feel? That is the way that they feel. Do unto them as you would have them do unto you. When you need anything, make a note of the merchant who carries the article which you want, and go to see him; and in so doing you will do him a favor as well as yourself, for you can save money by trading with friends.

WHY A STORM DOOR?

—Because the ordinary door does not keep out cold winds, drafts, snow, and rain; because the storm door we make is cold-tight and winter-proof, and you will be able to keep your house good and warm and save coal in the bargain. Ask us for prices and see our samples. We are making storm doors for most of the wise folks in town.

EAST MEETS WEST

BETWEEN FLOORS IN JAPAN

Every day in the Mitsukoshi Department Store of Tokyo Otis Escalators are refuting Kipling's positive statement that "Never the twain shall meet."

Rather, Otis Escalators emphasize that "There is neither East nor West" for conveniences of modern civilization and progress.

The escalator is applicable wherever it is necessary or advisable to keep a large number of people moving constantly, rapidly, and without fatigue.

The chronological and numerical record of escalator installations in a few typical department stores is an important chapter in merchandising history.

LEAZAR SOCIETY DECIDES IN FAVOR CO-EDUCATION

Hot Line by Men of Experience Wins Exciting Debate for the Negative

Co-eds for State College were unanimously approved by the judges of a debate on the co-ed question in Leazar Literary Society Friday night, October 8.

The subject for debate was: "Resolved, That N. C. State College should abolish co-education." The affirmative was upheld by W. A. Alexander and W. C. Walker. They pictured State as being a college for "he men," with the accent on the "he," and as no place for the domestic man or the sentimental woman. They desired that women receive an education, but that she should seek it in colleges that have a curriculum fitted to their needs. They insisted that co-education lessened man's respect for woman.

R. R. Fountain and J. B. Britt defended co-education to the last ditch.

They asserted that the segregation of the sexes is but the carry-over of the nurseries of old, and that it has no place in our modern society. Woman has a right to demand her admittance to the colleges of the State, they declared. Britt argued that the students need the refining influence of women. Fountain's plea, "I care not what course others may take, but as for me, give me women or give me death," was so effective that the judges gave their unanimous verdict in favor of the affirmative.

NOTICE

All students taking Industrial Management and Business Administration that are interested in becoming a member of the Business Club, meet in Leazar Literary Society Hall for a few minutes just after dinner Monday.

The Business Club is planning to unite in a closer friendship the professors and the members of the Business School, so that greater interest can be shown in this school. Don't forget—Monday. Let's all be there.

PRESIDENT.

Observations and Communications of ZIPPY MACK

"Dick" Gurley, captain of the great 1919 football team and now coach of the Lenoir-Rhyne aggregation, was over here for the Davidson encounter. Since that time his team has snowed under the team from Emory and Henry. Good work, Dick.

Mr. S. H. R. (Sam) Hassall, of the '26 Civils, and F. F. (Cowboy) Clarke, of the '25 and '26 Architecturals, came over from Greensboro during the week-end for the transaction of business. We saw some of the transactions. Rather good proposition, we think.

Mr. J. M. (Jim) Potter, of the '26 Civils and editor of last year's Agromeck, was on the campus Sunday. Jim is now with the Engineering Department of Elizabeth City.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Edward Matthews, of Raleigh, announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Anderson, to Mr. Robert Huston Broome, Jr., Saturday, October 16. Mr. Broome is a member of the Textile Class of '23, and since his graduation has been connected with the Cotton Growers Association. They will make their home in Cameron Park.

Mr. Nelson Norfleet Harte and Miss Lena Maybelle Ray were married Wednesday morning at the home of the bride's parents in Raleigh.

Mr. Harte is a graduate of Wake Forest, '22, and also a graduate of State, having finished with the Textile Class of '26. He and Mrs. Harte will make their home in Gastonia, where he is employed by the Priscilla Spinning Company.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Freeman announce the birth of a son, William Franklin, Jr., Saturday, October 16, at Greensboro.

The elder Freeman is a member of the '22 class of Civils, and is well known in Raleigh. Mrs. Freeman was formerly Miss Elizabeth Denton, of this city.

Mr. R. C. (Royal) Stephenson, of the '24 Civils, who has been visiting his parents in the city, failed to keep his pledge of coming to see us and of telling us of his experiences, and has returned to New York, where he is in the employ of the Corn Exchange Bank. But we presume no news is good news, and that Royal is doing well in the metropolis.

Over a hundred happy Freshmen are now wearing pledge buttons of the various fraternities on the campus.

The band and quartet gave a concert at Oxford last Wednesday night.

Mr. "Red" Hunt of Carolina was a visitor on the campus last Wednesday.

Mr. J. J. Watson left Thursday for Summerville, S. C., where he will visit friends.

Mr. E. C. Rochelle went to Chapel Hill Saturday afternoon to see the Carolina-Duke football game.

Mr. Henry Kendall, who graduated from this college last spring, spent Wednesday afternoon here with his fraternity brothers.

Messrs. "Hub" Sullivan and Howard White motored to Carolina Saturday to see the football game.

Mr. "Mount" Wilson, an alumnus of this institution, spent Tuesday with us.

Messrs. R. V. Goodman and G. R. Scott spent the past week-end with Mr. Scott's parents in New Bern.

Mr. Walter Melver, who finished last June, spent Wednesday with friends on the campus.

Giesch Cafe Wednesday night, October 20. C. O. Butler was master of ceremonies. C. B. Denson, as toastmaster, proposed several toasts that were enthusiastically received.

O. J. Williams, of the Junior Class, spoke for the junior members. Dr. L. F. Williams, Dr. O. H. Browne, and Mr. H. E. Jordan, who are charter members, gave a brief history of the chapter since its installation. Dr. A. J. Wilson and Mr. W. E. Jordan furnished the important talks of the evening.

Gamma Sigma Epsilon is an honorary fraternity which was founded at Davidson College. The Alpha Beta Chapter was installed here in 1920, and any chemical student who meets the scholarship requirements is eligible to membership.

Those present were: Dr. L. F. Williams, Dr. A. J. Wilson, Dr. O. H. Browne, Mr. W. E. Jordan, W. H. Barkley, G. H. Browne, C. G. Butler, C. B. Denson, J. R. Sechrest, and C. J. Williams.

Resists Corrosion

THIS picture, taken in the salt marshes near Kearny, N. J., shows two lines of 30-inch Cast Iron Pipe replacing pipe made of other material. The alternate exposure to the action of salt water and air is a severe test.

While the pipe shown in the picture is subjected to unusual corrosive influences, all underground pipe must be able to withstand corrosion to a greater or less degree. Cast Iron Pipe has this quality. It does not depend on its coating to resist rust; the material itself is rust-resisting. The first Cast Iron Pipe ever laid in is service today at Versailles, France, after two hundred and sixty years' service.

The 25-Year Parker Duofold Point

Lifelong Wear Combined with Writing Excellence

In a Non-Breakable Barrel Dropped 3000 Feet

PUT the Parker Duofold point under a magnifying glass and you'll see this.

The two nibs are extra strong because made of extra thick gold, so skillfully tempered that they do not have to bind together for support, each is self-supporting. Thus a thin film of ink instantly forms in the channel between these nibs—ready to flow the instant the point touches paper.

To write, you do not have to shake a Parker Duofold or spring the nibs apart. The Parker writes immediately by its own weight alone—without pressure, without effort.

A point tipped with an extra large pellet of pure iridium that defies a generation of wear.

And we can guarantee it for 25 years not only for mechanical perfection but for wear!

Step in to the nearest pen counter today and try your favorite point in a Parker Duofold—Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Stub, Broad or Oblique.
