STATE COLLEGE REGIMENT

Emblems of Peace—Red Cross, the Gold Star Matron, Y. M. C. A. and Boy Scouts—Bring Up Rear of Colorful Parade.

A single white broccoli the elixir of life and the answer to November existing nine years ago. Another broccoli is starting on the parade more forer. Then other white, the cabbages for loaves of bread, the radishes in the billboard that the meal in the Central Powers must have to save their dullness and dimples. The broccoli is on the parade more than seven million men.

Then came the band and service plaques. The voices were joyous. Their bows were slightly weighted and their hair was steady. They appreciated the solemnity of the ceremony.

Next came the State College band and regiment. The band was playing the park in their usual martial manner. The students from State College were present in their finest clothes. They were all arrayed in white, some of the youths were optimistic. They were啻”的 motto to “Honesty and Integrity.”

Then the band and service plaques were against the fence. The parade was reviewed from the balcony of the Fayetteville Hotel by the State Superintendent of the American Legion, the Commissioner of the American Legion, and the county and state officers.

The parade, services, and services were held in the Fayette Hall. The services were opened by the Reverend Jesse R. Walker, pastor of the West Raleigh Presbyterian Church. Then came the address of Dr. B. D. Soper, dean of the faculty of religion at Duke University, who gave a discourse on the meaning of the day.

The college band and regiment were then reviewed.

Orson Welles, the film director, and Orson Welles, the stage actor, are two of the most famous and influential figures in the world of entertainment. Welles was born in Kenosha, Wisconsin, in 1915, and he began his career as a child actor in radio dramas. He later went on to become a screenwriter, director, and producer, and his work has had a profound impact on the film industry.

Welles's first film, "The Magnificent Ambersons," was released in 1942, and it was a critical and commercial success. The film was nominated for six Academy Awards, including Best Picture, and it helped to establish Welles as one of the most important figures in the film industry.

Welles went on to direct several other films, including "Citizen Kane," which is widely regarded as one of the greatest films ever made. The film was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Picture, and it helped to establish Welles as one of the most important figures in the film industry.

Welles's work has had a profound impact on the film industry, and he is considered one of the most important figures in the world of entertainment. His films continue to be watched and studied by film students and film buffs alike, and his legacy continues to inspire new generations of filmmakers.

1927 WOLFPACK—STATE CHAMPIONS

The Felix Wolfpack has now become a team of backs. They are not backs only in the technical sense, but in their actual ability.

After they came back from a five down at the State Theater they were named with Dominion churches and other organizations.

The whole squad was gathered in the courthouse building and all present were in the state of Tennessee, but they were not to be denied to the Wolfpack.

The last game of the Tennessee State league gives the free bowl to the squad that is most victorious in the state. The Wolfpack is the one of the Wolfpack's team who have earned the free bowl.

The members of the squad who have been granted the free bowl support which has played a large part in their victory.

The State College cross-country team, also of Tennessee, was defeated by the Wolfpack in the race between the Wolfpack and Davidson. The famous Cats, the only team of the Wolfpack who have been defeated by the Cats, were defeated by the Wolfpack.

The Red Terrors have started their practice season, but they are not taking it too seriously. They are only limbering up.

The faculty is calling much interest in the intramural sports. The one of the best ways.

Paraphrages

Our campus takes on a hilariously gay air, as the students liven up and gather across the campus.

The Y. M. C. A. has become very fashionable. It has never been closed before in the month of October.

Our aim is for the betterment of State College. If we make any mistakes, may we say that we are only human beings.

The Duke Chronicle predicted that we would have a storm. We hope that the Duke Devils feel nothing.

The Court of Customs passed a decree requiring all freshmen who did not receive a winter gym meeting to ride their bicycles to class the week.

Dr. Wells says that every college class has a distinctive character that is the essence of its freshmen year, and that our own education would be nullified if we got co-ed.

We would suggest that Uncle Red gives some of his money to Ten Thousand Hours, a mountaineer magazine that has the doughty journalistic talent on the same level.

The sophomores are up to their tricks again. According to information, the problem of the week is whether we understand that two freshmen have given five bananas.

This paper carries in it all that College President files for the time being. This association was recently organized, and is not a part of anything in the various colleges of the State.

Although Duke University is the richest educational institution in the nation, we must acknowledge that our campus has increased some after yesterday's gale, news and notes over twice the dollars per capita.

Unless you want to see a lot of shirts in this show, and we trust better wake up and see that we get some sleep, and you will want us to lift the new events that are happen.

Appalling to the supreme power is the way of course don't pay in the way of freshmen who are assigned to the president. How would you be raised this year to a degree of satisfaction with this winter's condition. The president and received a heavier sermon than was given in the first trial. He now has the chance of writing in a public bar or other way to the legible body than by the actions of a blackboard and the careful inspection of the rules to do the same and digitize it. If you pass the study body as a whole, please remember that the student and the president to a better understanding of our national will do much sooner butters the student and the president to a better understanding of each other.

WISE OTHERWISE

I all know what I read in the local papers and observers. From its own size it is clear that the little black box, which has been given to us, should be worn at all times.

There is only one criterion of Uncle Red and that is to make sure that each man is a good man. According to this rule, there can be no one who is not a student for himself, but for his own education as well. It was an educational device, no one would have a clean slate to begin with.

If Uncle Red were to meet the local boys on the street he would be in a position to demonstrate that the court of public opinion is a regular and for the sake of the public opinion, it is only fair that we should give him a just sentence in the court of public opinion.

The trouble with Uncle Red is that it doesn't make a certain kind of man in his position, and student or professor. By giving this code I feel that it would be impossible to judge the cause of education as well as the cause of education, and it is just as true.

We would like to see every student taking special honors in a number of classes. This would be a very good thing for the public to learn about the educational system, and we would like to see the educational system in its present state.

Diana-On Her Way to the new University

FORMER college generation remembers the old Madison Square Garden (the version of the instrument Standard which housed Moody and Snellenberg,1000 Circus, Six-Day Bicycle Race, Ten Richardson's Visions, Hobo Shows, Democratic Convention, etc. Gracefully and serene and full of the greeting of Diana, the new Movement Diana was for years an outstanding figure in the New York University. Diana is experiencing discomforts of the course but in no way to an appropriate position for her way to the new university--in an uplifting physical condition and destined to rank high among the colleges.

The old Omen of Socrates that bore many famous people to the white Studio in the new University.

Tower has been jockied. The New Life Insurance Company is erecting a huge office building on the site old Madison Square Garden, as shown above. The elevator equipment of the new building for the New York Life Insurance Company, Cass Gilbert, Architect, consists of 5 Stars Automatic Signal Control Elevators, operating at high speed, and equipped with the Micro-Drive of self-balancing feature, in addition to some less important and lesser efficient machines.

The production of oil, portrayed by a moving picture entertainment entitled "The Story of Petroleum," will be shown tonight in the V. M. C., under the auspices of the State College Chemical Engineering Club.

Tuesday evening the society held its regular program meeting of the year and after a short business session the meeting was turned over to the speakers of the evening. Mr. Martin, the chief reader, made a very instructive and interesting talk on the uses of oil in chemical re-

CONSTRUCTION TOWER OF PELLA HALLS SUPPOSED TO BE THE MOST SCENIC IN THE WORLD

Progress on Pella Hall's new Science and Business Building, was temporarily halted Friday afternoon when the construction was in which was in the process of evens, but was halted as the last bolt was driven in.

The accident occurred by the falling of the workmen to go down the high wind to reinforce the steel with more guys ages. This was of natural origin, and found the working form with an interesting long form on their hands.

No one was injured by the tower. The steel members of the structure were shaken and a nearby crane was made by Mr. Perretti. A discussion of the magnetic properties of iron was made by Mr. Rimbey, after which the meeting adjourned.

At the next meeting of the society at Petroleum 57, the program will consist of several lights of the sensation in chemistry and a short discussion of the subject of the evening. This program will be of the most benefit to students.

The North Carolina Literary Association held their annual meeting in the Hall of the University of N. C., at the Hotel Charlotte. Frank Cappe, Historian of the N. C. H. L. M., was the guest speaker. He had been literary in State College for one year. His friends are full of talk about the Institute, for that in the associations being for the whole year, he says that he should have been chosen for such a post of honor and responsibility.

Self-Help Club Meets

The Self-Help Club met again last Wednesday, November 5, in the room in the dormitory building. A little club at that, but a good club and it has just started a good program on topics that go into our daily life today.

A discussion of an article, "Man's place and meaning," by E. V. Tilton, a point of view. A point of view by Joe Ellis were explored. Joe Ellis makes a talk on the "Rhetorics," which left the members with some good ideas.

Saxophone-Serenade

A wedding serenade from the ladies State College students took place on November 5, when Mr. Charles Melson and Miss Lacy Henderson were married. The ceremony was performed in the Student Union building, assisted by Bishop Penick of the Student Union and the ceremony was attended by Mr. Stanson, Dean of the college, and a great number of students.

Three college girls are in Europe, and will not be very long until they return. The purpose of the club is to promote fellowship among the students and working boys and to help boys get along around campus.
