

Student Fees pawn of committee when Increased By $11 through action of Regent Board

Meeting in executive session last Friday the executive committee of the Board of Trustees of the college increased the registration fee of students here from $6 to $10, dormitory service from $15 to $17.50, library from $4.50 to $6, and laboratory fees from $21 to $24, making a total boost in payments to the treasurer's office next year of $11.

A reduction was made in the student publications fee of 75 cents, cutting the individual assessment down to $6 for the next term. Room rent in 5th, 6th, and South dormitories was kicked up from $51 to $54 a year.

Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of the college, last night issued the following statement concerning the increased fees:

"Student fees, beginning with the scholastic year 1929-30, will be increased for the following reasons:

"1. The appropriation made by the General Assembly for maintenance was decreased $7,600 for the year 1929-30.

"2. The appropriation for library books, made by the General Assembly heretofore from the Permanent Improvement Fund, and amounting to $7,500 annually, was discontinued by the last General Assembly.

"3. Increased expenditures for the upkeep of the physical plant, which have been inadequate for the past year, are necessary in order to prevent deterioration of buildings and to provide replacement of equipment. The physical plant has increased faster than the funds have been provided for upkeep.

"4. A large per cent of the student body has urged the administration to provide better supervision of the dormitories and more favorable opportunities for work. It is the purpose of the administration to grant so far as possible this just request.

"The increase in fees will be about balance the decrease of $15,100 in appropriation, but will not be sufficient to meet other needs. However, the General Assembly provided an increase in maintenance funds of $10,000 for the year 1930-31, and it is believed that this amount, together with the general increase from fees derived from the increased enrollment, will make it possible for the college to maintain all departments on the present basis.

Maryland Loses to N. C. State diamond men By Score of 4 to 3 when Brake hits liners out

It was sophomore day on Riddick Field Monday afternoon when State College turned back the University of Maryland in a hard-fought baseball game 4-3. It was a sophomore day in the fact that two sophomores were the chief factors in the victory.

It was Bill Brake's single in the eighth inning that sent in two runs, to give State a one-run margin, and this was enough to win the game. The other sophomore was Bill Everette. It was this chap who relieved Sandy Shore of the pitching burden in the second inning, after Maryland had scored three runs in the first, to hold them in check for the remainder of the game, only three hits being earned from him.

Maryland's three runs came on singles and McGinn, Radice, and Kessler. State trailed the Marylanders for two innings before they could cross the rubber plate. Averette was hit by a pitched ball by Phipps, stole second, and came home on Basil Melton's single into right field. State scored again in the fourth when Woodworth was safe on first on an error, stole second, and came home on Charlie Eattman's single into left field.

After those first four innings both teams settled down to real baseball in the form of field play and it was not until the eighth that the home plate was again crossed, this time for two runs for the Doakmen. These two runs were sent across on the single by

COLLEGIATE PRESS ASSOCIATION MEET BEGINS THURSDAY

The spring meeting of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association will convene in a three-day session next Thursday at Greensboro College, Greensboro, under the leadership of the president, Walter Spearman, editor of The Tar Heel, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Two meetings of the association are held each year, the fall meeting of 1928 being convened at Davidson College, Davidson, N. C. Delegates from each member college publication will be present, usually at the spring meeting the old and new editors representing their publications.

This is the first meeting to be held at one of the Gate City colleges since 1927, when North Carolina College for Women entertained the spring convention of that year. North Carolina State and Duke University split honors the last collegiate year.

Other officers of the association are: Alice Dowd, Meredith College, secretary; A. S. Parker, Guilford, treasurer.

Bears Get 5 Runs in game here last Saturday To 11 For Wolves with its starring Brake-man

A crouching Bear returned to Hickory and the campus of Lenoir-Rhyne College last Saturday, after his stubby tail had been pulled by the baseball team of North Carolina State as the Wolf howled eleven times in answer to the five growls of the opponent.

Striving to repeat their victory of a year ago, the Bears held on to a 3-0 lead for four innings. Pitcher Meisner yielding four hits and coming out of tight places in the third and fourth acts to prevent Wolfpack scoring. But Doak's kids would not be denied and after a brief exhibition of loose playing settled down to a man's game, to get ahead in the later innings.

The tilt opened with Hager and Cauder hitting safely for the Bears. Gandy Shore passed Lentz, and Boggs bunted perfectly for one tally. Shore wasn't right and Captain Larry Allgood, who tried his wares on the mound, was greeted with a home run into left field by Catcher Kiser, a Gaston County product, with Lemon on base. Allgood improved, however, and it wasn't until the ninth when Harvey McLawhorn, southpaw sophomore, took the mound, that Lenoir-Rhyne could

MERCER DEFEATS STATE DEBATERS AT MEETING HELD AT ROCKY MOUNT

Debaters from State College were defeated by speakers from Mercer University in a debate held in the auditorium of the Rocky Mount high school on Tuesday evening, April 9, at 8 p.m., by a 2-to-1 decision.

The subject for debate was: "Resolved, That a system of expert jurists, three or five in number, should be substituted for the jury in all trials." Edgar W. Buchanan and John B. Litchfield upheld the affirmative for State College against Sam Overstreet and W. A. Womack, Mercer representatives.

H. J. Oberholzer served as chairman for the evening, with Mrs. William A. Lewis, instructor in public speaking at Atlantic Christian College, Mr. Z. L. Foy, principal of the Rocky Mount high school, and Rev. Willard Conger, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, serving as judges. Timekeepers for the evening were H. H. Burroughs and William R. Dixon of State College.

The debate was heard by a large and varied audience. This was the first State College intercollegiate debate held in that city. Invitations were offered to the debating teams to make this an annual occurrence.

OUTEN WITH YANKEES

W. A. ("Chink") Outen, former State student, who this season made his debut into professional baseball with the Yankees, has been farmed out to Asheville of the Sally League. He is to play in the same league this season that he originally signed with, although with a different club. According to reports, Outen made a good impression with the Yankees with his powerful line drives. He can also catch and play the infield as well as the outfield.

Stump Talks in student campaigning Initiated Here for first time in history By Candidates

By W. R. DIXON

J. P. Choplin initiated "stump" speeches on the State College campus Thursday night in the auditorium of Pullen Hall, when he made a spirited speech as nominee for the office of president of the student body, laying down his platform in words that left no room for doubt as to his position.

According to Choplin, men are needed on the campus who have self-control, who are strong, and who are not afraid to face public opinion. There is no place here for the men who are caterers to mass thought. Men who take the job for the sake of the job are the type we need here, he said.

Freshman caps are a necessity and must stay, says Choplin. They are definite developers of college spirit. The reason the cap has not been worn this year is no fault of the freshmen, says Choplin, but rather the fault of the upperclassmen. The freshmen should take their minor initiations as do men who join all other clubs. "What we need is an effective 'rat' system," says Choplin, "such as is practiced at Davidson College."

He expressed no views on the gauntlet question, which has caused a lot of discussion on the campus the last few days.

Abolish Gauntlet

Henry G. Love opened his fireworks with direct reference to the freshman cap. It is vitally needed, said Love, and State College could not do without them. First, according to Love, they are a means of identifying the new men, also making them careful of their actions when they are not on the campus. Again, the cap is a definite means of increasing the spirit here, if it is required to be

Any Campus Group Eligible For Newest Diamond Schedule

An "All Campus" baseball league in which all organized clubs, fraternities, and societies are invited to participate is now in the process of formation under the direction of J. F. Miller, of the physical education department.

Any organized society is eligible to enter a team and a student is eligible to sign with only one team, with which he must remain throughout the season. All games will be played on the Freshman Field.

The league will be run off similar to a tournament. Each team as it is defeated will automatically drop into the consolation round and the undefeated teams will proceed with the schedule.

Teams that suffer defeat in the opening games will then have an opportunity to strive for honors in the consolation round.

A large silver cup will be given to the winning club in each division. All clubs are urged to get in touch with J. F. Miller, at the gym, before the closing time for entries on Tuesday night.

The following clubs are eligible to enter a team. Also any other organized club will be granted admission.

The clubs are as follows: Alpha Chi Beta, Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Lambda Tau, Chi Alpha Sigma, Delta Sigma Phi, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, Phi Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, Phi Pi Phi, Phi Omega, Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Phi, Sigma Psi, Sigma Tau Beta, Theta Kappa Nu, Tau Rho Alpha, Theta Phi, Gamma Delta Sigma, Brooks Literary Club, Red Masquers, Poultry Science Club, Pullen and Learz Literary Societies, Berzelius Chemical Society, Student Engineers' Council, Ceramic Society, Civil Engineers' Society, Electrical Engineers' Society, Mechanical Engineers' Society, Chemical Engineers' Society, Tompkins Textile Society, Business Club, Architectural Club, Agricultural Club, and the Animal Husbandry Club.

BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN AND STATE TO DEBATE AT GREENSBORO SOON

Arrangements have been completed for a debate between Birmingham-Southern and North Carolina State College speakers at North Carolina College for Women, Greensboro, on Wednesday night, April 17, the proposition to be discussed being the abolition of trial by jury. Professor C. C. Cunningham of State College will serve as chairman at the contest.

State will be represented by Edgar W. Buchanan of Spruce Pine, a junior in business administration, and John B. Litchfield of Poplar Branch, a junior in vocational agriculture. Birmingham-Southern will be represented by Ted Hightower of Goshen, Ala., and Elbert S. Wallace, Albuquerque, N. M. Hightower, a senior at Birmingham, has lost only three arguments in four years. Wallace, a junior, has won over such teams as Emory, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, and Millsaps. The two have been speaking together for the past two years.

Buchanan of State is now in his second year of successful college debating, and placed third in the American Legion citizenship contest last year in a field of eleven contestants. Litchfield is in his first varsity season, but has had considerable experience in literary societies, said Professor Cunningham.

RHODES ELECTION SOON

The 1929 election of Rhodes scholars will be held on December 7, and students of this college must file their applications with the secretary of the state committee of selection before October 19. Rhodes scholars are appointed without examination on the basis of their record in school and college.

BOARD FINALLY AGREE ON SELECTIONS FOR PUBLICATION HEADS

Editors and business managers of the different publications were finally nominated by the Publication Board at a meeting held 12 p.m. in Peele Hall, Wednesday, April 10.

Very little discussion took place at this meeting, due to the fact that Professor Stewart Robertson was unable to fight the whole board alone. Several changes were made in the nominees named at the last meeting.

H. B. Merriam and L. C. Vipond were nominated as editor of The Watauga, with M. A. Holjes and W. T. Garbald runners-up for business manager. On The Technician ticket W. R. Dixon and Frances Tripp will clash for the position of editor, with L. A. Weaver and T. G. Smith competing for business manager. E. W. Buchanan and H. G. Love are the nominees for the position of student body publication representative. Finals elections will be held on April 17 in the Y. M. C. A.

Saville Rescues by daring heroism two small Babes From Fire in Ithica, N. Y., residence

R. J. Saville, former professor here and now residing at 726 Linden Ave., Ithica, N. Y., made a daring rescue as he saved the lives of two young children from a burning building. Professor and Mrs. Saville, while driving their car into a garage on the lot of Jerome Drake, 2206 Linden Avenue, noticed the light of flames through the basement window of the Drake home.

On seeing all that part of the house was dark except for the brightness of the flames, they rushed to the front of the building, giving an alarm as they went. But the professor thought of moving the car and turned back, while Mrs. Saville opened the front door and telephoned the fire department.

As Mr. Saville returned toward the car he heard the voices of children from the basement bedroom. Thoughtfully, he seized his overcoat, and after quickly opening a window, rushed into the burning bedroom. The children were frightened at the stranger and refused to go with him. He threw the coat aside and took the children, in their night-clothes, and rushed outside.

Mrs. Saville said that when they discovered the fire the ceiling and the further wall of the room were burning, and by the time her husband reached the interior the bed next to the wall was burning. There were two single beds and the children had been put to bed one in each, but both were in the front one when he got there.

Professor Saville is studying at Cornell University while on leave of absence of one year from North Carolina State College, where he is a professor of economics. Mr. Saville is working on a social service research fellowship of $750 a month.

Mrs. Saville, who started the alarm and called the fire department, was formerly Miss Marguerite Ray, of Pittsboro.

Tenth Yearly Function Opened by Speakers — Registration Records Figure Around 100

With the agricultural and engineering celebrations things of the past, the Textile Department of North Carolina State held the scepter of exhibition this week when the tenth annual review of products made in Tompkins Hall was had, with a feminine style show adding spice to the program. Garments of the style exhibit were made of cloth manufactured on the campus.

Preceding the style show were a short series of addresses at the morning session, the speakers being Edward T. Pickard, chief of the Department of Commerce, textile division, Washington, D. C., and Dr. W. F. Edwards, director of laboratories of the United States Testing Company of New York.

Of the score of women students from the colleges of Raleigh who took part in the style exhibit, Miss Grace Jolly of Ayden, a Meredith College girl, was awarded the grand prize and crowned queen of the institute. She received a beautiful beaded dress from Taylor's. Miss Jolly wore an all-cotton black and white checked sport dress, trimmed in military braid, with large pedal buttons down the front.

Other girls winning prizes were: Misses Lella Nolen of Stoneville and Elsie Brown of Reidsville, from Meredith; Mary C. White of Rock Hill.

Blue Key Thinks Caps Should Be Worn All Year

Were the local chapter of Blue Key, national honorary fraternity, to have its way, the freshman class next year would wear the little red caps until the last week before final examinations of the school year, when a cap-burning night would be recognized after having been set by the functions of student government.

This was the consensus of a warm argument back and forth on the headgear question. As a natural sequence of the previous discussion, the gauntlet question flared forth and swept in a hot wave over the luncheon tables as some members suggested endorsement of the movement for return of punishment, and others backed up the opinion of Dennis G. Brummitt, North Carolina attorney-general, that the gauntlet was an illegal method of hazing. The matter was finally dropped.

It was brought to the notice of the organization that Golden Chain, senior honor society, had asked the cooperation of Director J. F. Miller, physical education head, in the establishment of a freshman-sophomore tug-of-war contest at the Carolina grid game as one means of making up school spirit. By lengthening the period of wearing the caps, it was thought, the spirit will be further raised.

Petitions circulated several weeks ago among the student body members and letters from campus organizations were suggested to be turned over to administration officials, as showing the student endorsement without opposition of the plan of Blue Key to fit out the college band in uniforms next year.

College action had been taken, it was learned, on a recommendation of the organization, to remedy muddy conditions before the gymnasium in wet weather while dances or athletic contests are in progress.

FRESHMAN CAPS

It is our opinion that the student body would most strongly oppose any action submitted to it for abolition of the red headgear worn by the first-year men until about Easter of their freshman year.

It has been several years since the inauguration of the cap custom; sufficiently long for the idea to become ingrained in the social order of the institution. Were it to be abolished now, all of a sudden, there would be nothing to balance its loss; the result would be an upset in the student body that would perhaps take on the appearance of a revolution.

The university freshmen wear no distinctive dome-coverings and learn little of subordination. By the time they are among the upper classes they have adopted the traditional U.N.C. superiority and high-hat complex.

With the abolition of caps will go laxity in the rule of speaking to everyone on the campus; then matches will be thrown away and errands go undone. What small amount of school spirit we now have will be cast to the winds.

Shall we see North Carolina State drop down like this? Rather let us build it up more towards the sky. Permit the freshmen of next year to protect themselves from woodpeckers, but allow no exceptions, as in the past. State College doesn't want to be without its traditional freshman caps.

Student Forum

LOVE'S POSITION

At the last meeting of the House of Student Government the subject of retaining or abolishing the freshman cap was brought to the attention of that body. Since then a number of students have discussed the question and have shown some degree of interest in it.

An article in the last issue of THE TECHNICIAN by a member of the student body requested that each candidate make himself clear as to his position on that issue. As a candidate for president of the Student Body, I am taking this opportunity to tell the student body how I feel on the question.

I have first considered the question from this angle: Does the freshman cap perform a function that is worthwhile?

My answer to that is, "Yes." There is an obvious need for the cap at the beginning of the school year. It is a means by which the freshman may become acquainted with his fellow classmates. It is also a reminder that he is a State College student and must act the part of a gentleman at all times, so that he will bring credit to himself, his class, and to his college. The cap creates a common bond between the new students and tends to the development of a better college spirit.

I was proud to be the wearer of a red cap in my freshman year, to let people know that I was a student at State College. It is a tradition here that the freshmen shall wear the cap and I am wholeheartedly in favor of it. But, under existing conditions, it is unfair to a part of the freshman class. There are some who have not worn the cap and have gotten by with it—while others have been compelled to buy as many as three and four extra caps, and through no carelessness of their own.

As to the enforcement of the wearing of the caps, the gauntlet is out of the question. Last year when we

With the brilliant, dazzling rôle of a beautiful, dance-mad daughter of old Mexico to occupy her versatile talents, the scintillating Lupé Velez never had a better opportunity in any production to be "just herself" than she has in the Paramount part-talking thriller, "Wolf Song," which comes to the State Theatre for a three-day run, beginning Monday, featured with Gary Cooper.

In addition to "Wolf Song" will be seen Fox Movietone News, "Our Gang" comedy, entitled "Growing Pains," and a Movietone Act, "Van & Schriek," well known singing comedians.

Manager Enloe, of the State Theatre, announces next Friday and Saturday as the opening date for Warner Bros. latest special production, "Stark Mad." The cast includes H. B. Warner, Louise Fazenda, Jacqueline Logan, Henry B. Walthall, Lionel Belmore, Claude Gillingwater, Andre Beranger, John Miljan, Warner Richmond, and Floyd Shackleford. The story is by Jerome Kingston, the adaptation by Harvey Gates. Lloyd Bacon directed.

"Stark Mad" recounts the thrilling adventures of an expedition sent to locate a hunter lost in Central American jungles.

A huge gorilla, a madman, and all the hair-raising machinery of the unknown makes the play absorbing, thrilling, and at the same time ludicrous in the extreme.

On the same program will be seen a Paramount News, Charlie Chase comedy, entitled "Is Everybody Happy?" and a movietone revue.

The glorious, glamorous days of Louis XI of France will be brought back to thrilling life again in the swinging, vibrant, musical drama of Francois Villon, "The Vagabond King," which will be seen at the State Theatre next Thursday night only, for a return engagement.

Villon, a beggar, thief, a tippler, a libertine, a patriot, but for posterity a poet of unforgettable vitality, is the central character in "The Vagabond King," which, based on Justin Huntly McCarthy's "If I Were King," provides the composer, Rudolf Friml, with one of his choicest themes.

The amazing success of "The Vagabond King" on this tour has unquestionably proven that he has richly fulfilled his promises.

abolished the gauntlet all of the state papers commended our action. If we could reestablish the gauntlet, and did it, we would give us a black eye. As it is, we can't bring it back if we wanted to, because last week the attorney-general of the State ruled it as a form of hazing. To reestablish it would make the college liable to prosecution by the State authorities for violation of the law against hazing. Besides, a more efficient and civilized means of enforcement can be worked out. For example: by depriving the offender of his social privileges by having him put on class prohibition, or by camping him.

At Princeton a new man who doesn't comply with the freshman rules is asked to leave the institution. We may be able to get the administration to assist us in a like manner.

In this article I have attempted to make myself clear on the subject of the freshman cap. Regardless of my opinion in the matter, I shall be governed, if elected to the presidency, by the will of the student body.

I pledge myself to uphold student law and government as directed by the will of the student body, and to endeavor to promote a better understanding and a better spirit between all State College student.

H. G. LOVE.

STUMP SPEECHES BY CANDIDATES

worn. It is, furthermore, a tradition that the school cannot afford to lose. All colleges have some traditions that are held in esteem. Harvard and Yale are full of traditions they highly value. The cap is as valuable as a tradition to us as any of theirs. The Golden Chain has as one of its objectives the founding and preservation of traditions. What would be the effect upon State College if the cap was discarded?

There are better means of enforcing the wearing of the cap than the gauntlet, said Love. When the gauntlet was abolished last year all the newspapers of the state and some out of the state praised State College. They said it was time for it to be abolished and the action had come when it was needed. According to Love, it was a "black eye" to the college.

Deprivation of social privileges, not allowing them to go to athletic games and dances would be a means of enforcing the wearing of the cap, said Love, as well as a means of handling the freshmen in all other cases. In closing Love pledged himself to carry out the will of the student body, letting no personal opinions or feelings to enter into his judgment.

Other Nominees

After these "stumps," other nominees were introduced by President W. P. Albright to the approximately 40 members of the student body who were present. Below is a list of the nominees:

Candidates for presidency of the campus Y. M. C. A. are E. W. Buchanan and A. D. Stuart; for treasurer, R. S. Dunham and T. G. Smith; for secretary, E. G. Couch and W. D. Stephenson.

In the student body race for office J. P. Choplin and H. G. Love are running for the presidency, with the loser taking the vice-presidency. W. T. Mast and L. R. Mercer are the choices for secretary and treasurer of the student group.

Technician ticket: Editor, W. R. Dixon and Francis Tripp; business manager, A. L. Weaver and T. G. Smith.

Watauga ticket: Editor, H. B. Merriam and L. C. Vipond; business manager, M. A. Holjes and W. T. Garibaldi.

Student body publications representative: E. W. Buchanan and H. G. Love.

Spring Term Program Outlined By Physical Education Department

The department of Physical Education has outlined its program for the spring term.

Freshmen will have an efficiency test, will play playground baseball, and will learn to swim.

Sophomores will play tennis, playground baseball, and have an efficiency test.

The efficiency test is an all-around test, combining agility, speed, and strength. About two weeks practice on the following tests will take place before the final events. 100-yard dash, 12-pound shot, running broad jump, dip, sit up, chinning, basketball throw for distance, and standing, hop, and step.

A certain number of points will be given for each event. When all events are completed a total of each student's points will be taken, and in this manner it will show where he stands in the physical education phase of college life.

Much interest has already been shown in playing tennis, swimming, and baseball. It is hoped that this same spirit will continue.

DEMAND FOR TRAINED MEN IN SOIL AND FERTILIZER STUDY CANNOT BE FILLED

Demand for trained men in soils and fertilizers for several years has been far greater than the supply, according to Dr. W. B. Cobb of the faculty of North Carolina State College.

The college has had to turn down several opportunities to place graduates in such positions, which pay good salaries, because of the shortage of men, Dr. Cobb said.

"All of our graduates in this work have gone with companies now paying an average of $600 a year more than the amount received by men who have not completed requirements for an M.S. in soil study," said Dr. Cobb.

The State College extension division, in charge of Edward Ruggles, is offering correspondence course in soil studies for 12 college credits towards the advanced degree. Nine credits may be taken in soils, and the other three in education, economics, or sociology, while the remaining necessary credit may be secured at summer school or during one of the regular terms.

Graduates in Soils at State College who are now holding high positions include: A. E. Davis, Washington, N. C.; A. H. Harris, Goldsboro; John R. Herman, Norfolk, Va.; S. K. Jackson, Raleigh; H. B. Mann, Raleigh; W. J. Nuckolls, Jr., Blacksburg, Va.; L. G. Willis, N. C. Experiment Station; H. H. Jobe, State College; J. J. Morgan, Experiment Station; A. E. Shearin, Washington, D. C.; A. O. Smith, Richmond, Va.; C. L. Straghan, Greensboro, and C. S. Wilson, Tela, Honduras.

A Novelty in '71—A Necessity Today

ACCORDING to old records the first passenger elevator in San Francisco was installed in a photographer's gallery on Montgomery Street in 1871.

Time has wrought great changes since then, and the San Francisco of today is a great city with many tall buildings in which Vertical Transportation is a necessity instead of a novelty.

From coast to coast, American cities are constantly growing; populations increase each year, and buildings mount higher and higher. The Otis organization, which pioneered the way with the world's first safe elevator, is today meeting the needs of the present and planning to anticipate the requirements of the future.

Captain Hank Young Leads Wolfpack To 67-59 Win Over Duke

Captain Hank Young, Jr., of North Carolina State College, led his team mates to a 67-59 win over Duke University here last week. Young scored two firsts and one third for eleven points, and Patterson for State made two firsts for an additional ten points. Serron's squad grabbed the lead early and kept it throughout the entire meet.

The final event, the broad jump, was the deciding one, and was captured by Young at the expense of Duke's duo of well-trained steppers, Futrell and Freeman, who counted second and third. The score at the beginning of the last event was 62 to 55 for State, the Durham "millionaires" holding a chance to cop the meet until the last.

Two State College records were broken, the record in the shotput, held by Joe Ripple of Lexington, who was in college in 1923, were smashed by the State trackmen. Dean Patterson out-heaved the contender from Duke in the shot-put with a distance of 42 feet 1 1/4 inches, beating Ripple's record of 41 feet 11 1/4 inches. Jim Edmondson of Rosemary threw the javelin 178 feet to best Ripple's mark of 175 feet, to establish a new campus record.

The dashes were won by State in fine order, Melton and Stout carrying off first and second places in both the hundred and the two-hundred.

CANDIDATE FOR PATROL JOB

Candidacy of John B. Bray for the captaincy of the state highway patrol suggested to the natives hereabouts that had Mr. Bray been chosen North Carolina would have had the greatest football government on earth.

Mr. Bray is about the most famous center ever produced by State College in the past forty years, and Bill Metts is not forgotten. The other members of the trio who at about the same time played for State or Carolina are Governor Gardner and Judge Townsend.

STUDENT FEES INCREASED BY REGENT BOARD

ent plane and continue to make progress at a moderate rate.

"The cost of education is not increasing at this institution, but just to the extent that the State reduces its appropriation per student, to the same extent the student fees must be increased, unless necessary living expenses and cost of materials used show a decrease."

Appointment of committees to confer with the Attorney-General on the new workmen's compensation act as it applies to the institution, and to report on the college's position in the Poole shooting case, marked the meeting of the executive committee. The trustees met with Governor Gardner, who presided at the session held in his office.

Mark Squires of Lenoir; Irvin B. Ticker of Whiteville, and Robert N. Page of Aberdeen were requested to consider the Poole case involving the shooting of one of the college students by a negro employee of the college, Marshall Hoover, in an apple orchard on the campus last year. This committee was asked to make its report to the full board, which meets here in June.

Mr. Squires and Dr. E. C. Brooks were asked to investigate the compensation act and confer with Attorney-General Dennis C. Brummitt in regard to its application to college employees, and also to report to the full board.

Dean of Students E. L. Cloyd was granted a leave of absence from June 10 to September 1. The board granted the request of Colonel J. W. Harrelson, new director of the State Department of Conservation and Development, for a leave of absence from his duties as professor of mathematics.

At the suggestion of President Brooks the board approved revision of student fees wherein additional funds for plant upkeep and administrative business might be secured. The increase of registration, dormitory service, library and laboratory privileges amounted to $11 a student and publications fee was cut 75 cents, the net increase being $10.25.

A committee, composed of Dr. Brooks, Mr. Page, Hubert Upjohn, A. S. Brower, Hubert Upjohn, and Professor L. L. Vaughan, was appointed to receive the new $194,000 engineering building and settle with the construction contractors.

The committee accepted Dr. Brooks' recommendation that the contract the college has with J. B. Cullins for operating the laundry for students' work be terminated because his conduct has been objectionable to the college and his services unsatisfactory under present conditions. Students have requested the administration to take such a step.

Formal selection of Professor W. H. Darst of the faculty, as director of the new division of farm crop improvement, was made in complying with the new legislation regarding purebred seed certification for the State.

Other routine matters were referred to the full board at its June session.

Trustees present included, besides those mentioned on committees, Pascal S. Boyd, of Mooresville; J. M. Gamewell, Lexington; B. F. Shelton, Speed, and Daniel Allen, Raleigh, along with Chairman Clarence Poe and A. S. Brower, college comptroller, who served as secretary.

again cross the rubber. Then, McLawhorn walked a couple and Fisher hit a lengthy single to right for two runs. Allgood rushed into the box again, returning from the outfield, to top the Bears' greedy growl for scores.

Brake's hitting was the show of the day in the game in which Doak used six sophomores to start.

North Carolina State College R. O. T. C. regiment entertained at a regimental dance in the Frank Thompson gymnasium last evening from 9 to 12. The dance was one of the most elaborate military social events ever given in the Capital City, and was unsurpassable by any social event of military character that has ever been given at State College.

The gymnasium was decorated in military fashion with flags, guns, and dogwood. Around the sides of the gymnasium each company of the regiment had booths for the members of the company to gather together. In the auxiliary gymnasium refreshments, consisting of punch, ice cream, and cake, were served during the evening.

The grand march was led by Major and Mrs. C. C. Early and Cadet Colonel J. H. McKinnon and his partner. The Blue Devil Orchestra furnished music for the dance.

FOSTER TELLS AG CLUB OF JUDGING CONTEST AT BLACKSBURG ON APR. 19

Professor J. E. Foster made a very interesting talk at the Agricultural Club meeting last Tuesday about the Block animal judging contest to be held at Blacksburg, Va., April 19. He said that any junior or senior registered in the school of agriculture here was eligible to try out for the team that would enter the contest to represent the college. Since he is going to train the team and the time left to do this is very short, he urged everybody that was interested to see him immediately. The place to hold the contest each year will rotate to the different colleges taking part in it. Due to the fact that the V. P. I. and the V. M. I. students will know the animals that will be used in the contest, they will not enter the contest this year.

Plans now are for Professor Ruffner to take the team on the trip in his automobile, leaving a day or two early in order to visit all places of interest between here and Blacksburg.

The contest will consist of judging beef cattle, sheep, and hogs. They will judge three classes of each kind of these animals, divided between the different breeds of each class.

RIFLE TEAM SEASON ENDS WITH SUPPER IN ARMORY, FOLLOWED BY ELECTIONS

H. West manager for the coming year. The past season was very successful for the sharpshooters of State College, they winning 21 and losing only three matches. Some forty matches are scheduled with institutions in different sections of the country for the coming season.

Drink Coca-Cola Delicious and Refreshing

PAUSE AND REFRESH YOURSELF

ONE SOUL WITH BUT A SINGLE THOUGHT— TO PAUSE AND REFRESH HIMSELF AND NOT EVEN A GLANCE FROM THE STAG LINE

Enough's enough and too much is not necessary. Work hard enough at anything and you've got to stop. That's where Coca-Cola comes in. Happily, there's always a cool and cheerful place around the corner from anywhere. And an ice-cold Coca-Cola, with that delicious taste and cool after-sense of refreshment, leaves no argument about when, where—and how—to pause and refresh yourself.
