STATE COLLEGE STATION, RALEIGH, N. C., MAY 11, 1929

DR. COVINGTON TO DELIVER SERMON AT STATE GRADUATION

Two Hundred and Twenty Expect to Receive Diplomas

SENIOR ORATORICAL MEET TO BE HELD HERE MAY 13

First Class Was Graduated From North Carolina State College in 1890, When Fifteen Men Were Sent Out as Alumni of This School.

The fortieth baccalaureate sermon in the history of State College will be delivered to the graduating class in the annual commencement exercises, to be held this year at 8:30 o'clock on Sunday night, June 2, in Pullen Hall. Dr. Henry Harris Covington, St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Norfolk, Va., will send the 1929 seniors out on that night on their beginning of the road of life with spiritual best wishes for success.

Graduation day will be Tuesday, with the program opening at 10:00 o'clock, the previous day being taken up with meetings of the board of trustees of the institution and gatherings of the various alumni unions. The first class was graduated from North Carolina State College in 1890, when 15 men were sent out as alumni of the school. Two hundred and twenty are expected to receive their diplomas this year, college officials said. Members of this year's class and visiting alumni will be entertained at a luncheon, in their honor, at 1:00 o'clock on Monday, the day before graduation.

The annual meeting of the Alumni Association will be held at 2:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. That night at 7:30 the alumni will be entertained at a smoker in the college dining hall. The college.—Continued on page 4.

PRINCIPAL NEWSPAPERS CARRY STATE FEATURES

Pictures of College Stars and Other Heads of State Departments Listed

Distribution of pictures relating to news of State College athletics, students, and professors has been made this year to virtually all principal newspapers of the country. The college's department of public information and syndicate representatives in Raleigh, Charlotte, and Atlanta have contributed numerous N. C. S. pictures to leading services, including The Central Press Association, N. E. A., International Newsweek, International Illustrated News, Associated Press, and other photo distributors. Pictures distributed in print, mat, or cut forms have included:

Fred Vaughan, all-southern football guard; Frank Goodwin, basketball center, leading scorer in country for 1929; Hank Young, co-captain of basketball and track; Bob Warren, half-back-captain; Young and Larry Haar, basketball forwards; Dr. Roy Sermon, Butch Slaughter, and G. K. Tobell, Wolfpack coaches, and numerous other athletic pictures.

A photo of Miss Grace Jolly, Meredith girl who won the first textile institute prize recently, went to approximately 2,500 papers through the largest syndicates of the country. Lines for her cut said she wore a dress designed and woven by State College students, this in itself a good advertisement.

Writings of and by professors have been freely circulated and pictures have been carried with them. The amount of news carried in state and southern papers about the R. O. T. C. has been astonishing to officers of other college units. It has been learned here. Full cooperation of professors and students with the department made it possible for such creditable news stories.

State College news carried in North Carolina afternoon and morning papers has been of much benefit. The department has sent out news that is news when it is news.

GREAVES-WALKER IN VALEDICTORY ADDRESS TO GRADUATING CLASS

A. M. Greaves-Walker, Raleigh, student in ceramic engineering, will deliver the valedictory address of the 1929 graduating class Monday night, the second day of this year's commencement exercises, when the Senior Oratorical Contest takes place in Pullen Hall at 8 o'clock.

H. C. Green, Jackson Springs, will speak for the school of education in the senior contest, his subject to be some phase of rural education. H. H. Burroughs, Bethel, senior in pre-medical work, will represent the school of science and business in his talk on a phase of American Jurisprudence.

J. F. Lutz, senior from Newton, will uphold the agricultural school in a talk on the present farm relief situation that now is holding the spotlight of public interest through proceedings in the halls of the national capitol at Washington. W. H. Smith, Lexington, textile senior, will eulogize Tompkins, the great industrial builder of the South and founder of the textile department of this institution, with the building bearing his name as the center of its activities.

The men will compete for the orator's medal which will be presented to the one winning first place.

Accounting Fraternity Initiates New Members Into Society Wednesday

The local honorary accounting fraternity, Sigma Alpha Kappa, last Wednesday night initiated into its membership five new men who have signified their intention to become accountants, and who so far have made the required grades in accounting.

New members include G. H. Parham, R. E. Singletary, A. E. Cathy, and J. G. Lewis, juniors, and A. C. Little, sophomore.

Next year the fraternity expects to have as the guests of State College the fall semiannual meeting of Certified Public Accountants of North Carolina. Several members of the local chapter and the accounting faculty attended the convention last fall held in Charlotte, and extended the invitation to meet here next fall. The reply was very favorable in regard to holding the meeting at State College.

AGRICULTURE CLUB ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR; I. A. McLEAN IS PRESIDENT

Officers for the Agricultural Club next year, recently elected and who will take charge at the next meeting of the club, are: I. A. McLean, president; E. H. Meacham, vice-president; L. H. Angell, secretary; L. D. Eagles, treasurer, and Robert Sessions, reporter.

A. E. Tucker, retiring head, presided at the weekly meeting held May 1. The main topic was the Agricultural Fair for next fall, about which discussion was led by Joe Ellis, manager or president of the exposition, who urged that the club members be considering the event, and announced that individual student exhibits will be emphasized at this next show.

MECHANICAL MEN RULE WORLD IN PLAY TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT AT 8:00

By J. T. TOWSON
"When Robots Rule the World" might well be the title of the play which is to be presented by the Red Masquers at the Hugh Morson High School auditorium tonight at 8:00 o'clock. This is the initial appearance of the Red Masquers in public and is the first time in many years State College has attempted any such presentation.

The play is built around the making of mechanical men who overthrow mankind and finally obliterate him from the earth. There is only one man left alive after the great Robot Revolution. The play seethes with tense action from start to finish. It is written by Karel Capek, noted Czech-Slovakian playwright, who has attained fame from several of his plays. The play consists of four acts on a remote island which contains the factory in which the mechanical men are made. Harry Domain, general manager of the plant, is played by John Litchfield, of Poplar Branch; Helena Glory, who comes from England to visit the factory and remains as Domain's wife, is played by Miss Ada Spencer of Raleigh. Dr. Gall, the famous physiologist, is played by Milton Vipond, of Norfolk, Va.; Helena, the robotess, is played by Miss Josephine Richards, of Raleigh; Primus, the robotess Helena's lover, is characterized by John White, of Boston, Mass.; these two bring love and other emotions.—Continued on page 4.

M'RACKEN TO HEAD STATE GLEE CLUB AND ORCHESTRA

Elections Made at Banquet Held in College Y.M.C.A. Tuesday Evening

W. R. McRacken, of Whiteville, a junior in electrical engineering, was elected president of the State College Glee Club and Orchestra at a banquet held in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening. R. A. Smith, of Fairfax, Ala., a junior in textile manufacturing, was elected vice-president of the glee club, and H. Shachtman, of Greensboro, a junior in electrical engineering, was chosen vice-president of the orchestra. J. A. Gelle, of Seymour, Ind., a specialist in mechanical engineering, was named as secretary and publicity manager for both organizations.

The banquet, held in honor of the members who are graduating this year, was presided over by R. H. Harrell, retiring president, as toastmaster. Charles Marshall, special guest, Dean E. L. Cloyd, and A. S. Brower, in their responses to toasts, praised highly the fine impression made by the orchestra and glee club on their trips this year.

Major Price, better known as "Daddy," stated in his talk that the results of this year's trip were very pleasing, bearing out his statement by announcing that nine cities have requested engagements for next year's trip.

PROFESSOR CLARK WILL BE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT HEAD

Succeeds Dr. Harrison, Who Goes to State Conservation Department

J. D. Clark, professor of literature and chairman of the literary department of the English department, has succeeded Dr. T. P. Harrison as general chairman of the department at State College.

Professor Clark received his A.B. at Columbia University, his M.A. degree at Harvard University, and has had a year and a half of graduate work at Oxford University and the University of Chicago. He is now pursuing work leading to the Ph.D. degree.

Before coming to State six years ago Professor Clark was assistant professor of English at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. Professor Clark has been interested not only in various plans to improve the English department, but also interested in other activities, such as establishing The Watauga Literary magazine of the college, and serving as the chairman of the faculty advisory committee on Student Government for the past two years.

BLUE KEY FRATERNITY TO INITIATE FIFTEEN MEN AT NEXT MEETING

Blue Key national honor fraternity, sometimes spoken of as a "Rotary Club for Colleges," will initiate fifteen new men at 7:30 Monday night of next week at the annual pledge banquet, to consist this year of a five-course dinner at the Meremont Tea Room on Fairview Road.

O. Max Gardner, governor of North Carolina and an alumnus of this institution, and Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of the college, have accepted bids to the organization and are to be taken in at the first opportunity.

Pledges who will receive their oath next week are Dr. R. R. Sermon, athletic coach; W. T. Mast, W. D. Stephenson, E. H. Harwood, M. R. Vipond, W. W. Weltman, C. L. Clark, J. C. Vipond, R. S. Dunham, A. D. Weaver, R. H. Gatlin, E. G. Couch, J. B. Litchfield, W. E. Koonce, and W. R. Dixon. Present members of Blue Key are A. F. Greaves-Walker, professor of ceramics; Frank Capps, librarian; Hardy M. Ray, former instructor in public speaking here; P. W. Elam, H. H. Burroughs, A. B. Holden, A. M. McK. Greaves-Walker, D. H. Hutchinson, A. L. Ayldett, J. E. Moore, W. P. Albright, C. E. Hibbard, R. W. Shapard, H. R. Fitz-Gerald, C. H. Harshaw, P. A. Mast, R. W. Shoffner, H. C. Green, A. D. Stuart, E. W. Buchanan, H. G. Love, J. P. Chopin, E. H. Roberts, and C. H. Belvin.

GENERAL DAVIS REVIEWS STATE COLLEGE R. O. T. C.

Commander of Fourth Corps Area Here Thursday; Is a Native of Salisbury

Major-General Richmond P. Davis, commanding the Fourth Corps Area, has just completed a tactical inspection of the army post at Fort Bragg and reviewed the State College R. O. T. C. unit Thursday.

General Davis is a native of Salisbury, and the first major-general that North Carolina has had in the regular army since the War Between the States. He has a very distinguished service record, both in war and peace times. General Davis is an enthusiastic follower of athletics, and formerly managed the West Point football varsity while on duty as professor of chemistry there. He is considered a good golfer, recently having won an amateur tournament in Atlanta.

Since General Davis assumed command of the area, comprising eight southern states, he has impressed his tremendous energy on all military activities in the district, to make it the outstanding section of the United States in military efficiency.

4 New Men Become Members of A.S.C.E. in Local Initiation

H. E. Shaw, A. D. Thomas, A. L. Cooke, and T. C. Adams were taken into the local chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers at the club's annual spring initiation held Tuesday night at half-past seven in the new Civil Engineering building. Following the initiation, a short social meeting was held, which was later turned into a business session. Plans were made to have the yearly banquet of the society at the Carolina Hotel on May 21.

BAPTIST STUDENT MEET HERE MAY 4, FIRST TIME IN A NUMBER OF YEARS

Fourteen young ladies from Meredith College were on the campus last Saturday night, comprising the Baptist Students' Union, which was entertained by the Y. M. C. A. cabinet at a social in the "Y" building, in the first event of its kind in years.

The welcoming address was made by E. W. Buchanan, new cabinet head, and response by Miss Marguerite Mason, president-elect of the B. S. U. The purpose of the B. S. U. was explained by Miss Ruth Truesdale, following which each of the visitors from the suburban institution arose, introduced herself, and told her place in the union. (The same routine was observed by the bpsts, with J. E. Moore, retiring president of the "Y," giving the information needed covering the cabinet here. A toast to Meredith was offered by A. D. Stuart, and one to State by Miss Kathleen Durham. Following this was a solo by Miss Pauline Powell, accompanied at the piano by Miss Marguerite Mason.

The principal address of the evening was delivered by Dr. J. H. Powell, student secretary of the Southern Presbyterian Church, his subject being, "The Rule of God in the Hearts of Men." His advice was that the individual take as a motto a passage from the Scripture and try to live accordingly.

Le Royce Shepherd gave an amusing account of the way in which he determined the cost of the average toothpick. Ed King, the "Y" secretary, said a few words at the close of the affair.

The guests were: Ruth Truesdale, Margaret Peele, Gladys Blaylock, Mabel King Beeker, Madeline Elliott, Marguerite Mason, Alice Freeman Jones, Julia Grimes, Emma Hartzell, Sheila Bennett, Vida Miller, Kathleen Durham, Pauline Powell, Sarah Briggs, and Dr. J. H. Powell.

The State College representatives were E. W. Buchanan, A. D. Stuart, Shelton Dunham, W. D. Stephenson, C. L. Clark, M. L. Shepard, W. B. MacKenzie, N. Gross, W. B. Callihan, L. E. Anderson, J. C. Whitehurst, Elbert Overton, J. E. Moore, P. M. Coley, T. G. Smith, E. C. Conrad, W. F. Albright, and E. S. King.

This is the first time in ten years that the State College "Y" cabinet has entertained the Meredith B. S. U., and since the evening was such a success it is thought by many that the event will become an annual occurrence for the two organizations.

FINAL PLANS ARE UNDER WAY FOR INSTALLATION OF BETA DELTA CHAPTER

Final plans for the installation of Beta Delta chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, international professional fraternity, at State College, are being made by the local organization of Pi Delta Sigma. The date in all probability will be May 22, as it is agreeable to the national officers and the initiation team. Initiation will be conducted by H. G. Wright, grand secretary-treasurer of the international organization, with the aid of the visiting team of Alpha Lambda chapter at the University of North Carolina. Preparation is being made to initiate 30 local members, as well as several of the business faculty and some ten alumni. The initiation will be held in the library at 1:30, and will last the entire afternoon. A banquet will be held at the Carolina Hotel at 7:00 in the evening.

'29 AGROMECK OFF PRESS; DEDICATED TO O. MAX GARDNER

Theme Portrays the Life of Sir Walter Raleigh

DR. RAYMOND R. SERMON HONORED IN STATE BOOK

This Year's Annual Said To Be One of Best in History of Institution — New Cover Designed by David J. Molloy.

The Agromeck of North Carolina State College is just off the press, and the staff presents to this school one of the best annuals in the history of the institution.

The theme of the book portrays the life of Sir Walter Raleigh. His life as a statesman and benefactor cannot be better described than as in the foreword of the year book, which reads: "More than three centuries after Sir Walter Raleigh, English nobleman, established in what is now the United States its first permanent settlement, North Carolina State College, in the city that bears his name, would do honor to his memory by blending in art and story its ideals and records with those of that distinguished statesman and benefactor."

This new cover, designed by David J. Molloy, is a greenish blue, with the seal of the annual at the top and the seal of the college centered below.

Leaving the title page, one is greeted with a picture of Governor O. Max Gardner, to whom the '29 Agromeck is dedicated.

The dedication depicts in words the life of this great State College alumnus, and tells of his rise from this institution to the highest possible award of the people of North Carolina.

GOLDEN CHAIN TO HOLD INITIATION CEREMONIES

Dr. W. L. Poteat of Wake Forest Will Deliver Address at Annual Tapping

The Golden Chain senior honor society will hold its annual initiation ceremonies around the sun-dial back of the memorial tower at 6:10 on the afternoon of May 16. Dr. W. L. Poteat, of Wake Forest, will deliver the address. Twelve outstanding juniors will be "tapped," and will compose the active society for 1929-30.

This society was organized April 24, 1926, for the purpose of fostering the traditions of N. C. State College and creating more traditions. Its members are selected by the active society itself, with perfect citizenship as the ideal.

The members initiated last year were C. C. Hibbard, R. P. Shapard, W. P. Albright, D. H. Hutchinson, A. B. Holden, H. H. Burroughs, J. E. Moore, W. V. C. Evans, W. A. Outen, A. McK. Greaves-Walker, T. A. Grant, and H. J. Young.

The honorary members are: Dr. E. C. Brooks, Dr. C. C. Taylor, E. L. Cloyd, C. C. Cunningham, A. F. Greaves-Walker, E. S. King, P. F. Price, J. F. Miller, Tal H. Stafford, Major C. C. Early, O. Max Gardner, and Jack McDowall.

WHY NOT ETIQUETTE?

Why not a course in etiquette for the freshman roster next year? Of course we don't want to start the idea that whenever a fellow is in doubt he should look in the "book" and turn to page 52, or anything like that;

Mother's Day

Tomorrow is Mother's Day. This day was set apart by virtue of a resolution of Congress, the author of which is now the Junior Senator from Alabama, J. Thomas Heflin.

The second Sunday in May has become a fixed institution in America. On that day the flag is to be unfurled from every public building; the flag was never used for a more sacred cause than when flying above the tender and gentle arms of Mothers.

Kings, presidents, congresses, and parliaments have proclaimed holidays and thanksgiving days for observance by various peoples of various kingdoms, countries, and states.

For more than nineteen centuries mankind has had Mother as an unfailing source of inspiration for heroic efforts, noble accomplishments, and great achievements.

We get a very beautiful poem from an anonymous author: "And can I ever cease to be Affectionate and kind to thee, Who was so very kind to me— My Mother?"

"Oh, no; no; the thought I cannot bear; And if God please my life to spare I hope I shall reward thy care— My Mother."

"When thou art feeble, old, and gray, My healthy arm shall be thy stay, And I will soothe thy pains away— My Mother."

"And when I see thee hang thy head, 'Twill be my turn to watch thy bed, And tears of sweet affection shed— My Mother."

that part of his active life which yields the greatest power in shaping his career, his bearing and actions in his personal associations.

Every man should learn to conduct himself well, and therefore we advocate a course in etiquette for each man who enters State College.

LEON JOYNER.

COLLEGE CITIZENSHIP

Citizenship, one of our country's greatest needs, is one of the great aims of the North Carolina State College. It intends to approach the individual mentally and physically in an educational manner.

As well as book knowledge, in every department of our school the student is taught a sense of chivalry, duty, thrift, loyalty, unselfishness, and charity.

In the teaching of citizenship the student learns that he must stand for equal opportunity and justice, which the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution guarantee, and that in every duty of life he may be on the right side and loyal to the best interest of the state and nation.

TICKS & POLITICS

By M. A. SQUARE

Of all the expensive writings done by Mr. Coolidge, has any one ever seen an advertisement of the pen, pencil, or typewriter he used?

Senator J. Thomas Heflin made a Ku Klux Klan speech in Brockton, Massachusetts. Somebody threw a beer bottle at the Senator. He tried to get the United States Senate to condemn the people of Massachusetts by passing his resolution.

For a while we thought THE TECHNICIAN was the only college paper which had a political column; but we notice that our good friends in the University of South Carolina have an infant column—"Political Pot"—in the Gamecock.

The College Humor says Al Smith is going to sue the Democratic party for non-support.

Since the National election, Senator William E. Borah deplores religious bigotry and intolerance; but why was he as silent as a statue about the religious issues during the campaign of 1923?

The Democratic party is getting its old band wagon in good running condition. Last week new headquarters were opened in Washington, with Mr. Jouett Shouse, of Kansas City, an old Wilsonian veteran, at the helm.

With new headquarters, a new manager, and a new thing—not a large debt, the Democratic party ought to do some good work.

A friend sends the following clipping, to go with the last week's farm-relief poem:

"Congress, may I have farm relief? Yes, my charming farmer; Hang your faith to a big farm board, And prepare yourself for slaughter."

If a majority of the people reject an idea of government which is fundamentally right, it does not lose its virtue. No election ever made right change to wrong, or wrong change to right; nor ever made a sound policy unsound, or unsound policy sound.

Freshman: "But your sign says, 'First-class haircut, thirty-five cents,' and here you're trying to soak me fifty cents for one."

Barber: "Yes, I know; but you haven't got first-class hair."

Mercer Represents Old North State In Oratorical Contest

Plans are rapidly being completed for the fifth annual Southern Interstate Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, to be held in the auditorium of the Asheville Normal School, Asheville, N. C., on the night of Friday, May 17, according to Professor C. C. Cunningham, director.

This contest will bring together on the platform seven winning college orators from eight of the southern states. The speakers and the colleges and states represented are:

Kentucky, William Smith, of Centre College; North Carolina, Lee R. Mercer, of North Carolina State College; Florida-Georgia, name of winner not yet received by national headquarters; Alabama, Maxwell Lancaster, Howard College; Virginia, Gordon Edwin Fogg, University of Virginia; South Carolina, F. B. Farr, Clemson Agricultural College; Tennessee, E. I. Caraway, University of Tennessee.

The following distinguished citizens of Asheville have been invited to serve on the committee of judges: Edwin J. Bjorkman, of the Asheville Times, noted writer and critic; Miss Eleanor Stratton, head of the department of English of the Asheville High School; Hon. John H. Cathey, formerly mayor of Asheville; Dr. H. S. Randolph, superintendent of the Farm School of North Carolina, and the commander of the local post of the American Legion.

Headquarters for the contest will be in the Battery Park Hotel, and arrangements have been made whereby the visiting speakers will be entertained by the Chamber of Commerce and the Asheville Normal School.

The winner of the contest will represent the south in the national contest in Los Angeles on June 20.

Generals Defeat State College At Lexington; 9-3

Lexington, Va., May 10—Washington and Lee Generals were defeated by the N. C. State Wolfpack here last Saturday when the invaders rallied to send across six runs in the twelfth inning to win by a 9 to 3 score.

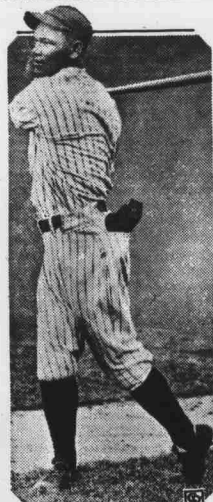

The victory marked State's third in the five games played on the road last week, and climaxed a successful journey.

Allgood, State's pitching ace, twirled a fine game, fanning 14 and issuing no free passes. White, his rival, fanned seven and walked four.

Each outfit connected for eight bingles, but nine errors by the Generals spoiled the day.

State opened the scoring in the fifth when Allgood walked and scored on a double by Snipes. In the final half of the session the Generals counted twice on a pair of hits, an error, and a stolen base.

State tied the score in the ninth on Woodworth's single. He advanced to second on an error and scored on Clark's single.

Each team scored in the eleventh to keep the score even. With two out in the twelfth Thibodeau fumbled Nuttitt's hit and Woodworth singled. Wright fumbled Avery's throw, and Kerr was walked. Jacob fumbled Furtado's grounder and Allgood reached first on an infield hit. All men scored except Allgood, who was left on base when Snipes flied out. The Generals failed to score on their turn at the plate.

N. C. State Held Hitless In Game With V. P. I. Men

Blacksburg, Va., May 10—The North Carolina State College baseball team was held hitless by Murden, sophomore Virginia Polytechnic Institute hurler, here last Friday, and fell victims to the Gobblers by a 6 to 0 score.

Eight members of the Wolfpack reached the initial sack, and only one got as far as third. The Gobblers jumped into an early lead when they scored four runs in the opening session on hits by Logan and Rice, an infield out, and two errors.

V. P. I. scored again in the eighth when McEver walked and Rule reached first on a fielder's choice. Coffey doubled to center to score McEver. Nicholas followed with a single, to send over the final run.

PAUSE AND REFRESH YOURSELF

IT'S REALLY A SHAME TO INTERRUPT THE PROFESSOR'S CHASE OF THE DIURNAL LEPIDOPTERA AND TURN THE BULL ON HIM BUT YOU HAVE TO BLAME THE ARTIST FOR THAT.

Obviously, few of us have the chance—or temerity—to make matadors out of ourselves. But even in the normal course of human events, there's nothing so welcome as a refreshing pause. Happily there's a soda fountain or refreshment stand—with plenty of ice-cold Coca-Cola ready—around the corner from anywhere. With its delicious taste and cool after-sense of refreshment, it makes a little minute long enough for a big rest.

men and kept their five hits well scattered. Herman Gardner, Wolflet third sacker, the only man to touch him for an extra base hit, made a double in the fourth inning.

Brist, lead-off man for the visitors, connected for four singles out of five attempts. The fielding of Barbour in left for State was a feature. Scott started for State, but was yanked in the first after he had balked, permitting Duke's first run to come home from third base. Morris finished and went well until the ninth, when Duke hit four times for three runs.

STATE TENNIS PLAYERS LOSE TO WAKE FOREST

Deacons Win Five of the Seven Matches With Wolfpack Netters

The N. C. State tennis team was defeated by Wake Forest racquetters at the Raleigh Tennis Club last Wednesday afternoon, dropping eight of the ten matches played.

Bill Brannon and Skip Merriam were the only State men who won in the singles matches. State dropped all of the doubles matches.

The local racquetters have a tentative match scheduled for May 20 with the strong U. N. C. tennis team. A return match will probably be played with Duke during the coming week.

WHY CAMELS ARE THE BETTER CIGARETTE

Camels contain the choicest tobaccos grown... expertly blended for matchless taste and fragrance.

They have a welcome mellowness and mildness that you will find in no other cigarette.

Smoke them as often as you like, Camels never tire your taste.

The quality of Camels is never permitted to vary. Only a superior cigarette could have won and held world leadership for all these years as Camel has done.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

N. C. Beta and N. C. Delta Dance
N. C. Beta and N. C. Delta chapters of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity will entertain at a dance on Friday evening, May 17, from 9 to 2, at the Washington Duke Hotel in Durham. The music will be furnished by Jelly Leftritch's orchestra.

Announce Engagement
Mr. and Mrs. David Samuel Cox announce the marriage of their daughter, Catherine Holt, to Mr. Charles Kimball Marshall, Jr., head of the department of public information at State College. The marriage will take place early in the summer.

Miss Cox is a popular member of the young social set of Raleigh. She is a graduate of Meredith College and took an active part in student activities while in school. Her friends at State College will be interested to hear of her engagement.

Mr. Marshall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kimball Marshall of Gastonia. Mr. Marshall attended Davidson and Sewanee colleges. He is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity. At present Mr. Marshall is director of public information at State College; before that he was with the Gastonia Gazette and the Associated Press.

Sigma Pi Banquet
The Sigma Pi fraternity gave a very enjoyable banquet last Monday night to the new members of the fraternity and the fathers of the town boys. The dinner was at the Carolina Hotel. Mr. A. W. Tucker, business manager of St. Mary's School, was the principal speaker of the evening.

Old Grad Visits College
I. N. Tull, graduate of State College in 1910 with the B.S. degree in electrical engineering, visited State College last week, after having been away from the college for many years. Mr. Tull is now at Cleveland, Ohio, where he is the electrical engineer for a large steel company.

Dr. Brooks Goes To New York
Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of North Carolina State College, left last night for New York, to confer with interested parties in regard to plans for an aviation school or department at the institution here.

Dr. Brooks had no definite information regarding the project at this time. Leaders in the mechanical engineering school of the college have been studying for some time the proposition of opening a school for aviation-inclined students.

To Receive Seniors
President and Mrs. E. C. Brooks will be at home to the members of the graduating class Friday evening, May 17, from 8 to 10 o'clock. The reception will be informal.

'29 Agromeck Off Press; Dedicated To O. M. Gardner
"the greatest friend of the Wolf-pack."

The annual of this year is printed on ivory paper. The six divisional pages are printed in four colors on pebbled stock.

The sponsor section of the annual is another of the attractive features of the book, presenting twenty-one of the activities on the State campus.

With no reflection upon the color plates previously mentioned, the page for the organization section is one of the finest. Sir Walter Raleigh is pictured in the cabin room of his ship, directing the plans for the expedition. Each little detail stands out with due prominence; each character is representative of the pioneers of the sea. This picture shows that printing is still an art.

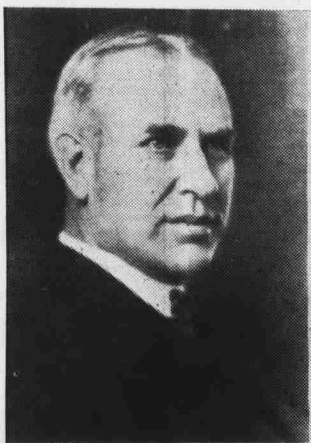

The nineteen-hundred twenty-nine Agromeck was edited by Robert P. Shapard, Jr., and business manager T. A. Grant. The work of these men and their staffs is creditably reflected in this year's annual.

Dr. Covington To Deliver Sermon To State Graduates

is expecting a number of the "old grads" to return this year.

The oldest class to return to the college will be the class of 1899. With them will come the classes of 1900, 1901, and 1902. These men were juniors, sophomores, and freshmen when the oldest class men were seniors. In like order the classes of 1918, 1919, 1920, and 1921 will return and renew old friendships. The class of 1904 will hold its twenty-fifth anniversary at the same time. In this way the college brings back those classes that were in school together.

The senior oratorical contest will be held in Pullen Hall, Monday evening at 8:30. Each school will be represented by a contestant selected by the respective deans. Concluding the contest will be the valedictory, delivered by A. McK. Greaves-Walker.

DEDICATION

OLIVER MAX GARDNER

THIS volume of THE AGROMECK is dedicated to Oliver Max Gardner, of the Class of 1903, who was inaugurated Governor of North Carolina January 11, 1929.

As First Lieutenant and Adjutant of the R.O.T.C. unit, manager of the baseball team, captain of the football team, vice-president of the Pullen Literary Society, commencement orator, winner of the orator's medal and of the debater's medal, assistant editor of THE AGROMECK, president of the senior class, graduate of State College with the degree Bachelor of Science in Industrial Chemistry; he touched successfully every phase of student activity. Governor Gardner's public career is but an enlargement of his college career, more maturely planned and executed.

It is appropriate, therefore, for this edition of THE AGROMECK to be dedicated to a prominent alumnus and distinguished public official, who at one time was its assistant editor.

of Andrews, respectively, and Marlers by J. E. Seagrave of Charlotte.

For the past week the actors have spent all their spare time in getting ready for the play. They have practiced afternoons and far into the night so that the play may be a credit to the college. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Oberholzer and Prof. C. C. Cunningham have been with them constantly, smoothing out the rough places and making the whole play work like a well-oiled machine. No expense or effort on the part of the directors and those in the cast is being spared to make the production one of the best in the history of the college. Years ago the college had a dramatic production which included in its cast the present governor of the State, O. Max Gardner, and E. E. Culbreth, mayor of Raleigh. Both of these men are patrons of the Red Masquers.

The patronage of some of the most prominent men in Raleigh has been

STUDENTS MAKE GRAND RUSH FOR ROOMS HERE NEXT YEAR

Rents Raised in Fifth, Sixth, and South; Price in Others Is Same as This Year

According to T. T. Wellons, superintendent of buildings, the rooms on the campus are being assigned rapidly. Up to the present date, May 10, 508 rooms have been taken. All students planning to room on the campus next year should see Mr. Wellons immediately and sign up for their room. Those who have already signed up for rooms are asked to call by the superintendent of buildings' office to check up to see that they have registered for the right rooms for the year 1929-30. Next week will begin the assignment of rooms to the incoming freshman class.

No changes have been made in the price of rooms except for 5th, 6th, and South. The price in those dormitories has been raised from $51 to $54.

There will be no place provided by the college for students to store their trunks and other things as has been heretofore. Therefore students wishing to leave trunks here will have to find a place for them downtown.

During the summer, 1911 Dormitory will be remodeled. All the storage room on the campus will be filled by beds and other equipment moved out of 1911 in order that remodelling may go on. This dormitory will be remodeled just as South was. All the partitions will be taken out and a hall will be made, running from one end of the building to the other. There will be hot and cold running water in every room. There will be three showers on each floor. The rooms will be altered, some made smaller and some larger.

It is thought that when 1911 is remodeled it will be one of the best places on the campus to room, if not the best.

Philadelphia---An "Otis Skyline" City

THE "City of Brotherly Love," rich in history and Colonial tradition, is steadily growing skyward. Higher and higher reach its tall buildings, keeping pace with increasing land values.

When Elisha Graves Otis gave the world the first safe elevator in 1852, he made possible the constant upward growth of our cities, for without the safe and speedy elevator the skyscraper could not have been built. Thus the skylines of our great cities can truly be called "Otis Skylines."
