LECTURE SERIES

Speaking On:
AN ORIGINAL THEORY OF BLACK EXPRESSIVENESS THAT REVEALS AND ANALYZES THE ARTISTIC AND CREATIVE EXPERIENCES OF BLACK LIFE

ALFRED B. PASTEUR, who holds a Ph.D. degree from Northwestern University, is a native of Ocala, Florida. He has worked as a teacher, counselor, and psychologist in many schools and agencies. Dr. Pasteur is a noted lecturer and group facilitator and currently is a professor at Hunter College of the City University of New York.

By examining emotionalism, spontaneity, and rhythm, the threads that run through the fabric of black culture, THE ROOTS OF SOUL presents a holistic overview of what black expressiveness is and where it comes from.
