

NORTH CAROLINA STATE UNIVERSITY AT RALEIGH

P. O. Box 5067, RALEIGH, N. C. 27607

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST AND VICE-CHANCELLOR

April 25, 1979

MEMORANDUM

TO: Dean C. J. Dolce Dean A. C. Menius
Dean J. E. Legates Dean R. O. Tilman
Dean C. E. McKinney

FROM: Lawrence M. Clark LMC
Assistant Provost

SUBJECT: Nominations for AAUW Educational
Foundation Awards

Would you review the attached letter from the American Association of University Women Educational Foundation pertaining to nominations for the Foundation's two awards which will be presented at the AAUW National Convention in June, 1980. 1984

Please forward to me by June 8, 1983 ~~May 7, 1979~~, your nominees along with vitae and two appropriate letters of recommendation and a draft letter of recommendation for the Provost or Chancellor.

Perhaps we should give more attention to the Recognition Award for Young Scholars than the Achievement Award.

CW
Attachments

Have reviewed but do not have competitive candidates to offer JEL

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN
EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

2401 VIRGINIA AVENUE, N.W.

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20037

March 30, 1979

Dear University Colleague:

Once again, I am writing you on behalf of the Educational Foundation Programs Committee of the American Association of University Women, asking for your assistance in selecting two women to be honored by the AAUW Educational Foundation for scholarly achievement and promise. The awards will be presented at the AAUW State Division Presidents Conference in Washington, DC in June 1980.

The two awards are the Achievement Award, which has been presented annually for 36 years to a mature scholar with an outstanding record of achievement, and the Recognition Award for Young Scholars, which was presented for the first time in 1972. Enclosed for your information is the list of women who have been honored by these two awards in the last several years.

The Achievement Award of $3000 is presented to a woman in recognition of achievement in a scholarly or professional field. There is no limit on age nor are there restrictions on the field of achievement, but awards have usually gone to a mature woman whose record of accomplishment covers a span of ten or more years. If you wish to suggest a possible recipient, please include a vita and a resume of the accomplishments of the woman you feel worthy of this consideration.

The Recognition Award for Young Scholars is $1000 and a nomination form is enclosed. Three letters of recommendation are required, one of which shall be from the president or an equally qualified official of her institution and a second shall be from the nominator. The conditions specified for the award are:

1. Under 35 years of age at the time of nomination
2. ~~Earned doctorate or equivalent~~
3. At least one outstanding contribution by the nominee in the academic and/or professional field of her choice
4. Potential of achievement (determined by past accomplishments and letters of recommendation) in an academic discipline or professional field

AAUW invites you to submit the names and supporting data of women you think qualified for these awards. Please send your nominations and suggestions to me at the above address not later than May 15, 1979.

Sincerely yours,

Beverly A. Harden

Beverly A. Harden, Ph.D.
Director
Educational Foundation Programs

BAH:gma
Enclosures

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

NOMINATION FOR AAUW RECOGNITION AWARD

To a young American woman scholar under 35 who has demonstrated great potential for achievement

Name

Address

City

State

Zip

Date and place of birth

Education (institution, field of study, degree, date received)

Professional experience (position, institution or organization, dates of employment)

Honors, publications, and other professional recognition

Basis for nomination: Outstanding contributions to area of specialization
(Please attach newspaper clippings and other supporting materials)

Future career plans and potential

Nominated by (name and institution)

Date

RECIPIENTS OF AAUW ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

and of

RECOGNITION AWARD FOR YOUNG SCHOLARS

1973-79

Achievement Award

- 1972-73 Dr. Helen H. Nowlis
Director, Drug Abuse Education
US Office of Education*
*On leave from University of
Rochester, Rochester, NY
- 1973-74 Dr. Mamie Phipps Clark
Executive Director, Northside
Center for Child Development
New York, NY
- 1974-75 The Honorable Edith Green
Representative
United States Congress
Washington, DC
- 1975-76 Dr. Dixy Lee Ray
Assistant Secretary of State for
Oceans and International
Environmental and Scientific
Affairs
US Department of State
Washington, DC
- 1976-77 Dr. Jessie Bernard
Visiting Scholar
US Civil Rights Commission
Washington, DC
- 1977-78 Dr. Gisela Konopka
Director of Center for Youth
Development and Research
Professor of Social Work
University of Minnesota
St. Paul, MN
- 1978-79 Dr. Margaret Mead
Anthropologist
American Museum of Natural History
New York, NY

Recognition Award for Young Scholars

- Mary Eva Swigar, M.D.
Assistant Professor
Department of Psychiatry in
Obstetrics and Gynecology
Yale University School of Medicine
New Haven, CT
- Dr. Susan M. Hartmann
Associate Professor of History
University of Missouri
St. Louis, MO
- Dr. Donella H. Meadows
Assistant Professor of Environmental
Studies
Dartmouth College
Hanover, NH
- Dr. Edna Bonacich
Assistant Professor of Sociology
University of California, Riverside
Riverside, CA
- Dr. Donna E. Shalala
Associate Professor of Politics and
Education
Teachers College, Columbia University
New York, NY
- Dr. Sarah Woodin
Assistant Professor, Marine Biology
Department of Earth and Planetary Sciences
The Johns Hopkins University
Baltimore, MD
- Dr. Martine Watson Brownley
Assistant Professor of English
Emory University
Atlanta, GA

NORTH CAROLINA STATE UNIVERSITY | AT RALEIGH

P. O. Box 5067, RALEIGH, N. C. 27607

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST AND VICE-CHANCELLOR

May 1, 1979

cmc

MEMORANDUM

TO: Mrs. Linda Nipper

FROM: N. N. Winstead, Provost
NN Winstead

SUBJECT: AAUW - NCSU Corporate Representative

Please note the attached copy of a memo from Mary C. Williams. I recommend that when we get the announcement late this summer or next fall that we nominate Debra W. Stewart, Associate Professor of Political Science. She has agreed to serve if the Chancellor accepts this recommendation. I am passing this on to you now in case the request comes in during the period when I am on vacation in August.

NNW/gj

cc: ✓ Dr. Clark

Constitution

1. De Gloria (5/1/79)
(no constitution)

NORTH CAROLINA STATE UNIVERSITY | AT RALEIGH

P. O. Box 5067, RALEIGH, N. C. 27607

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST AND VICE-CHANCELLOR

April 25, 1979

MEMORANDUM

TO: Dean C. J. Dolce
Dean J. E. Legates
Dean C. E. McKinney

Dean A. C. Menius
Dean R. O. Tilman

FROM: Lawrence M. Clark LMC
Assistant Provost

SUBJECT: Nominations for AAUW Educational
Foundation Awards

Would you review the attached letter from the American Association of University Women Educational Foundation pertaining to nominations for the Foundation's two awards which will be presented at the AAUW National Convention in June, 1980.

Please forward to me by May 7, 1979, your nominees along with vitae and two appropriate letters of recommendation and a draft letter of recommendation for the Provost or Chancellor.

Perhaps we should give more attention to the Recognition Award for Young Scholars than the Achievement Award.

CW
Attachments

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN
EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

2401 VIRGINIA AVENUE, N.W.

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20037

March 30, 1979

Dear University Colleague:

Once again, I am writing you on behalf of the Educational Foundation Programs Committee of the American Association of University Women, asking for your assistance in selecting two women to be honored by the AAUW Educational Foundation for scholarly achievement and promise. The awards will be presented at the AAUW State Division Presidents Conference in Washington, DC in June 1980.

The two awards are the Achievement Award, which has been presented annually for 36 years to a mature scholar with an outstanding record of achievement, and the Recognition Award for Young Scholars, which was presented for the first time in 1972. Enclosed for your information is the list of women who have been honored by these two awards in the last several years.

The Achievement Award of $3000 is presented to a woman in recognition of achievement in a scholarly or professional field. There is no limit on age nor are there restrictions on the field of achievement, but awards have usually gone to a mature woman whose record of accomplishment covers a span of ten or more years. If you wish to suggest a possible recipient, please include a vita and a resume of the accomplishments of the woman you feel worthy of this consideration.

The Recognition Award for Young Scholars is $1000 and a nomination form is enclosed. Three letters of recommendation are required, one of which shall be from the president or an equally qualified official of her institution and a second shall be from the nominator. The conditions specified for the award are:

1. Under 35 years of age at the time of nomination
2. Earned doctorate or equivalent
3. At least one outstanding contribution by the nominee in the academic and/or professional field of her choice
4. Potential of achievement (determined by past accomplishments and letters of recommendation) in an academic discipline or professional field

AAUW invites you to submit the names and supporting data of women you think qualified for these awards. Please send your nominations and suggestions to me at the above address not later than May 15, 1979.

Sincerely yours,

Beverly A. Harden

Beverly A. Harden, Ph.D.
Director
Educational Foundation Programs

BAH:gma
Enclosures

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

NOMINATION FOR AAUW RECOGNITION AWARD

To a young American woman scholar under 35 who has demonstrated great potential for achievement

Name

Address

City

State

Zip

Date and place of birth

Education (institution, field of study, degree, date received)

Professional experience (position, institution or organization, dates of employment)

Honors, publications, and other professional recognition

Basis for nomination: Outstanding contributions to area of specialization
(Please attach newsclippings and other supporting materials)

Future career plans and potential

Nominated by (name and institution)

Date

RECIPIENTS OF AAUW ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

and of

RECOGNITION AWARD FOR YOUNG SCHOLARS

1973-79

Achievement Award

- 1972-73 Dr. Helen H. Nowlis
Director, Drug Abuse Education
US Office of Education*
*On leave from University of
Rochester, Rochester, NY
- 1973-74 Dr. Mamie Phipps Clark
Executive Director, Northside
Center for Child Development
New York, NY
- 1974-75 The Honorable Edith Green
Representative
United States Congress
Washington, DC
- 1975-76 Dr. Dixy Lee Ray
Assistant Secretary of State for
Oceans and International
Environmental and Scientific
Affairs
US Department of State
Washington, DC
- 1976-77 Dr. Jessie Bernard
Visiting Scholar
US Civil Rights Commission
Washington, DC
- 1977-78 Dr. Gisela Konopka
Director of Center for Youth
Development and Research
Professor of Social Work
University of Minnesota
St. Paul, MN
- 1978-79 Dr. Margaret Mead
Anthropologist
American Museum of Natural History
New York, NY

Recognition Award for Young Scholars

- Mary Eva Swigar, M.D.
Assistant Professor
Department of Psychiatry in
Obstetrics and Gynecology
Yale University School of Medicine
New Haven, CT
- Dr. Susan M. Hartmann
Associate Professor of History
University of Missouri
St. Louis, MO
- Dr. Donella H. Meadows
Assistant Professor of Environmental
Studies
Dartmouth College
Hanover, NH
- Dr. Edna Bonacich
Assistant Professor of Sociology
University of California, Riverside
Riverside, CA
- Dr. Donna E. Shalala
Associate Professor of Politics and
Education
Teachers College, Columbia University
New York, NY
- Dr. Sarah Woodin
Assistant Professor, Marine Biology
Department of Earth and Planetary Sciences
The Johns Hopkins University
Baltimore, MD
- Dr. Martine Watson Brownley
Assistant Professor of English
Emory University
Atlanta, GA

April 25, 1979

Dean R. O. Tilman,
School of HASS
119-A Tompkins Hall
NCSU Campus

Dear Dean Tilman:

Attached is a copy of the materials you submitted on Dr. Joan H. Stewart your nominee for 1978. You may wish to update this material and renominate Dr. Stewart.

Sincerely,

Lawrence M. Clark
Assistant Provost

CW
Attachments

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

NOMINATION FOR AAUW RECOGNITION AWARD

To a young American woman scholar under 35 who has demonstrated great potential for achievement

Name Joan Hinde Stewart

Address 522 Wofford Road

City Durham State N. C. Zip 27707

Date and place of birth August 11, 1944. New York City

Education (institution, field of study, degree, date received)

Yale University, French Literature; Ph.D.; 1970
Yale University, French, Spanish; M. Phil.; 1969
St. Joseph's College, French, Spanish; B.A.; 1965

Professional experience (position, institution or organization, dates of employment)

7/77 to present: Assoc. Professor, N. C. State University
9/73 to 6/77 : Asst. Professor, N. C. State University
1/73 to 6/73 : Part-time Instructor, Duke University
9/70 to 6/72 : Instructor/Asst. Professor, Wellesley College
9/67 to 6/70 : Teaching Associate/Acting Instructor, Yale University

Honors, publications, and other professional recognition

The Novels of Mme. Riccoboni (Chapel Hill, North Carolina Studies in the Romance Languages and Literatures, 1976)
Five articles in scholarly journals, either published or accepted for publication, 1977-78.
Six papers read at regional national and international conferences,
1977-78.
1977: Outstanding Teacher Award, N. C. State University
1974: N. C. State University Faculty Research and Professional Development Award. (Publication subsidy: $1100)
1973: NEH Summer Stipend for Younger Humanists ($2000)
1971: Ford Foundation Summer Grant (230)

Committee Assignments

Search Committee for Chairman of the Speech Communications Department (1975)
Comparative Literature Committee (1975)
Departmental Personnel Action Committee (1975)
Departmental Curriculum Committee, Chairman (1975-76)
Curriculum Committee of the School of Liberal Arts (1976-78)
Advisory Committee for the Division of University Studies (1977-)
Departmental Program Review Committee (1977-78)

Basis for nomination: Outstanding contributions to area of specialization
(Please attach newspaper clippings and other supporting materials)

Dr. Stewart's scholarship alone would justify the nomination, which is however, being made on the basis of her distinguished performance in all professional areas.

Her book has been acknowledged by established scholars (see attached letters). Professor Petrey (SUNY, Stony Brook) writes that it "filled an important need and will be profitably consulted...for some time to come." Professor Lewis (Cornell), editor of the influential Diacritics, thinks that it "will stand for a long time as the basic work on this unjustly neglected writer."

Dr. Stewart's value to the profession and to this University is not limited to her field of specialization. Her literary erudition is comprehensive; she has a most lucid mind and extraordinary capacity for work. Through her participation in various committees (see above) she has done invaluable work in the creation and improvement of departmental and university programs. Moreover, her distinguished contribution to the instructional program on this campus has been acknowledged by students, peers and supervisors, as the attached letter from Chancellor Thomas shows.

Future career plans and potential

Dr. Stewart will be on sabbatical leave during academic 1978-79 to do research in France and complete a book manuscript on French women writers of the eighteenth century

She has signed a contract for a book on the French writer Colette.

Will become Assistant Head July 1, 1979, upon return from leave.

In my opinion, Dr. Stewart's potential is unlimited. I feel fairly sure that her achievements will justify promotion to full professor in the near future.

Nominated by (name and institution)

Alan A. Gonzalez - Professor and Department Head
Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures
North Carolina State University
Box 5156, Raleigh, N. C. 27650

Date

May 2, 1978

Alan Gonzalez

NORTH CAROLINA STATE UNIVERSITY AT RALEIGH

SCHOOL OF HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

OFFICE OF THE DEAN
Box 5036
RALEIGH, N. C. 27650
(919) 737-2467

May 5, 1978

Dr. Beverly A. Harden
American Association of University Women
Educational Foundation
2401 Virginia Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20037

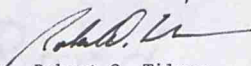

Dear Dr. Harden :

I am very pleased to join my colleagues in nominating Joan Hinde Stewart for the Recognition Award for Young Scholars. Others have spoken of her scholarly attainments and her outstanding classroom performances, and I heartily endorse these enthusiastic appraisals. Without in any way diminishing the importance of her well recognized scholarship and highly praised teaching let me address myself to another facet of Dr. Stewart's contributions to this university.

Every dean on every campus keeps mental lists of faculty members most appropriate to do certain kinds of jobs. The shortest and most important list is likely to be made up of those faculty members who are bright and who set high standards of excellence for themselves and others, but who are blessed with a sense of perspective, a gift of common sense, and a knack for diplomacy. From this mental list we draw persons to take some of the most difficult committee assignments on campus. With a faculty of almost 300 my mental list in this area contains fewer than ten names. Dr. Stewart is one of these, and I believe she is the youngest. In some three years of calling on her to fill difficult assignments she has never disappointed me. She has always had as much time as the situation demanded; her contributions have always been respected by her colleagues and the administration; and she seems able to pursue her teaching and scholarship diligently no matter how much extra effort is asked of her.

Dr. Stewart is a remarkable young woman and truly deserving of this prestigious award. I am honored to be able to nominate her.

Sincerely yours,

Robert O. Tilman
Dean

NORTH CAROLINA STATE UNIVERSITY AT RALEIGH

SCHOOL OF HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES
OFFICE OF DEPARTMENT HEAD
P. O. Box 5156 Zip 27607
TEL. (919) 737-3343

May 2, 1978

Dr. Beverly A. Harden
American Association of University Women
Educational Foundation
2401 Virginia Avenue, NW
Washington, D. C. 20037

Dear Dr. Harden:

Joan Hinde Stewart is a young woman of unusual talents: she is a productive scholar, an outstanding teacher and a loyal and helpful colleague. As her record shows, she has achieved more than most. It is, however, the quality of her work that is most impressive. Her intellectual brilliance is adequately attested to in the attached letters from scholars at other universities. Their opinion shows that Dr. Stewart has already achieved national recognition and that she is expected to become one of the leading scholars in her field. Certainly, our experience on this campus more than justifies the esteem in which she is held elsewhere. It would be superfluous for me to attempt to duplicate the opinions expressed by Professors May, Lewis and Petrey, although I would gladly do so. I can best reinforce their strong support speaking, rather, of my experience of Dr. Stewart as a colleague. What has impressed me most during the past five years is her matchless professionalism as reflected in her capacity for work, her impeccably high standards and her maturity of judgment. In spite of her impressive record, Dr. Stewart exhibits refreshing modesty in her own self appraisal. Hers is a constant effort for improvement and I have not the slightest doubt that, as she matures further, she will become one of the leading authorities in French studies in the country. It is, therefore, with great pleasure that I nominate her as a leading contender for the Recognition Award for Young Scholars.

Sincerely yours,

Alan A. Gonzalez
Professor and Department Head

AAG/chy
Attachments

DRAFT LETTER TO BE WRITTEN BY THE CHANCELLOR OR PROVOST

Dr. Beverly A. Harden
American Association of University Women
Educational Foundation
2401 Virginia Avenue, NW
Washington, D. C. 20037

Dear Dr. Harden:

I take pleasure in supporting the nomination of Dr. Joan Hinde Stewart as a strong contender for the Recognition Award for Young Scholars. In the five years that Dr. Stewart has served on this campus, she has amply justified the confidence that her Department Head and Dean had placed on her. But her activities have not been limited to departmental or school duties. She has gained a reputation campus-wide as an effective collaborator, with a clear mind and an ability to get work done.

Strong though she has been in these fields, her greatest strength lies, as it should, in her achievements as scholar and teacher. After reviewing her record, I had no hesitation in agreeing both with the recommendation for early promotion and the Distinguished Teacher Award in recognition of success in the classroom. Joan Stewart has become, in a short time, one of the leading members of our faculty. She has brought luster to our University and will continue to do so as her national reputation increases. I cannot think of any other person whom I would rather recommend for the Recognition Award of the AAUW.

Sincerely yours,

Stony Brook

State University of New York
at Stony Brook
Stony Brook, New York 11794
Department of French and Italian
telephone: (516) 246-8876

September 24, 1976

Professor Alan A. Gonzalez
North Carolina State University
Raleigh, North Carolina 27607

Dear Professor Gonzalez,

I am pleased to respond to your letter of September 14 concerning the possible promotion of Ms. Joan H. Stewart.

Ms. Stewart's scholarly accomplishments are impressive. Her book on Mme Riccoboni filled an important need and will be profitably consulted by students of eighteenth-century literature for some time to come. Written with intelligence and grace, it displays the ability to perform painstaking research on primary historical resources, to use the results of that research to buttress arguments based primarily on sensitive readings of the literary texts which are always Ms. Stewart's main concern, and to present the whole as an ordered essay which is as enjoyable as it is informative. In addition to familiarity with the methods of traditional literary history, Ms. Stewart demonstrates the capacity to employ the insights of contemporary criticism into literature's synchronic configurations without being either pedantic or tendentious. The seminal ideas of May and Rousset and the theories of more recent work are presented so as to illuminate Mme Riccoboni's novels in a way that requires a degree of maturity highly unusual in a first book. In itself, The Novels of Mme Riccoboni is thus a meaningful contribution to academic inquiry. Perhaps more importantly, it suggests the scholarly skills and intellectual gifts necessary to continue to produce scholarship of the high quality which stimulates international interest and debate.

I have also read in manuscript two of Ms. Stewart's forthcoming articles. Like her book, they prove a remarkable ability to take the best from traditional perspectives and current trends. Her essay on Aucassin et Nicolette is a masterful study based on thorough philological analysis--description of how the text molds the structure of medieval French--and contemporary linguistic sophistication--concern for how and what the molded structure comes to signify. Her paper on eighteenth-century women novelists is a balanced and exciting inquiry into how recent feminist concerns should, and should not, orient inquiry into a historical phenomenon which has never been adequately explored. Taken together, these two articles are eloquent testimony to the range of Ms. Stewart's skills. One analyzes a short passage whose richness is best manifested by detailed explication, the other orders a widely disparate set of facts from a century of literary and social history in England and on the continent. Ms. Stewart's work has the breadth as well as the depth of mature and important scholarship.

Professor Gonzalez:

-2-

September 24, 1976

Her spoken and written French is flawless, probably as close to perfect as a non-native speaker's can become. I have attended a meeting she chaired, and my impression is that she would have a lively and provocative classroom presence. I highly recommend her promotion with confidence that she will continue to be a credit to your university.

To answer your question on the Freedom of Information Act, my letter may be made available to the candidate.

Sincerely yours,

Sandy Petrey
Associate Professor of French and Comparative Literature
Chairman, Humanities Program

SP:rr

diacritics > a review of contemporary criticism

October 4, 1976

Professor Alan A. Gonzalez, Head
Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures
North Carolina State University
Raleigh, North Carolina 27607

Dear Professor Gonzalez:

In response to your letter of September 14 concerning the qualifications of Joan Stewart, I can state my unequivocal endorsement of the recommendation for her early promotion. Needless to say, my high regard for her is based primarily on her scholarly work, and I shall focus on that in a moment. I would like, however, to offer a few remarks that should have some bearing on one of the other criteria for promotion noted in your letter, pedagogical effectiveness. Ms. Stewart is an extraordinarily charming, vivacious person who must, it seems to me, be able to project herself in the lively, energetic manner that truly superb language teachers invariably assume in the classroom. In addition, her mastery of everyday idiomatic French is simply stunning. While these virtues are certainly of considerable value in teaching literature or other subjects as well, they are especially so in a somewhat schizophrenic field like ours, where we are constantly forced to seesaw back and forth between practical linguistic training and the loftier concerns of literary history and criticism. My functions here as Department Chairperson and presently as editor of our journal have put me into contact with literally hundred of colleagues in universities all over the country. I have very rarely encountered anyone so well-equipped for, and comfortable in, the dual role we commonly have to play as Ms. Stewart. I believe your department should count itself very fortunate to have a young teacher-scholar of her temperament and versatility.

Now, in regard to Ms. Stewart's scholarly abilities and achievements, let me begin by noting that, in terms of quantity, her publications, papers, and the like more than amply satisfy the nominal (if unwritten) requirements for promotion to tenure applied by major universities (including the most demanding ones). Moreover, she has apparently achieved this record without the last-minute rush-to-publish in which candidates for tenure typically engage. Thus, as I see it, the only serious question facing your department now on which I can furnish useful testimony is that of the interest and quality of her work. In that regard, the principal item to be considered--and the vital factor in any promotion of this kind--is her book, in this case a long needed study of Madame Riccoboni's novels. In my opinion it is a very solid piece of scholarship; I expect that, in eighteenth-century studies, it will stand for a long time as the basic work on this unjustly neglected writer. Ms. Stewart's other work and her current projects allow for at least two comments. First, her general competence in the field of eighteenth-century French literature is well established. Second, she is not a narrow-minded scholar: her active interest in literature of periods other than the eighteenth century, in synthetic topics, and in critical issues permits us to anticipate a process of broadening and deepening in her scholarly work. She has already demonstrated a maturity, reflected in meticulous research and argumentative rigor, that speaks well for her ability to resist the temptation to advance too rapidly and to make unwarranted concessions to tendentious or faddish forms of inquiry.

In my judgment, then, Ms. Stewart is an outstanding young scholar of well proven capabilities and achievement whose future in our profession is exceedingly bright. I hope that you and your colleagues will see fit to promote her.

278 Goldwin Smith Cornell University Ithaca, NY 14853

Sincerely yours,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Philip Lewis".

Philip Lewis
Editor

P.S. Please feel free to make my letter available to Ms. Stewart.

SEP 1976

September 21, 1976

Dear Professor Gonzalez:

I have not seen her for many years, and would feel, therefore, that any remark I might have to make regarding her as a person would be based on old evidence which may be deemed no longer applicable. I would rather, therefore, limit my comments to her qualifications as a scholar. This means neither that I have anything to hide-- indeed all I remember about her is favorable -- nor that I disagree with your criteria for promotion -- for indeed I am wholeheartedly in favor of them.

Although I may be considered to have a favorable bias by virtue of the fact that she is a former student, I honestly believe that the record speaks for itself: she has demonstrated that her scholarship is such as to earn her legitimate promotion to tenure. Indeed it is my opinion that you are to be envied for having her as a colleague.

Regarding your question concerning the Freedom of Information Act, my only hesitation is that answering affirmatively (i. e. that this letter may be made available to her) may raise some doubts in the minds of other readers regarding the candor with which it is written. Let me, therefore, simply add that I would not write it differently were it to be restricted to yourself and administrative officers of your University.

Guyana

Georges May
Sterling Professor of French

NORTH CAROLINA STATE UNIVERSITY | AT RALEIGH

P. O. Box 5067, RALEIGH, N. C. 27605

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST AND VICE-CHANCELLOR

April 24, 1978

MEMORANDUM

TO: Dean C. J. Dolce
Dean J. E. Legates
Dean C. E. McKinney
Dean A. C. Menius
Dean R. O. Tilman

FROM: Lawrence M. Clark LMC

SUBJECT: Nominations for AAUW Educational Foundation Awards

Would you review the attached letter from the American Association of University Women Educational Foundation pertaining to nominations for the Foundation's two awards which will be presented at the AAUW National Convention in June, 1979.

Please forward to me by May 4, 1978, your nominees along with vitae and two appropriate letters of recommendation and a draft letter of recommendation for the Provost or Chancellor.

Perhaps we should give more attention to the Recognition Award for Young Scholars than the Achievement Award.

LMC:sm

Attachments

NORTH CAROLINA STATE UNIVERSITY

Raleigh, N. C.

OFFICE OF PROVOST AND VICE-CHANCELLOR

HOLLADAY HALL

4/10/78

Date

TO: Dr. Clark

ACTION REQUESTED ON ATTACHED:

- | | |
|---|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Note and Return | <input type="checkbox"/> Please draft reply for my signature (return attachments) |
| <input type="checkbox"/> For your information (need not return) | <input type="checkbox"/> Please give me your comments (return attachments) |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Please handle | <input type="checkbox"/> Requires your approval |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Please answer; furnish me copy | |

Follow up with SchoolDeans - Tolson, Merino, LegatesMcKenney - Dolce -(Ellwood no, Cheney no, Fodum yes)I see no need to nominatefor Achievement Award - but wemight try one if Deans supportfor young scholars - Note 35 -get materials prepared to send forward if a nominee -FROM: me.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN
EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

2401 VIRGINIA AVENUE, N.W.

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20037

Dr. Vinstead

President
MARJORIE BELL CHAMBERS, Ph.D.

W

March 17, 1978

Dear University Colleague:

On behalf of the Educational Foundation Programs Committee of the American Association of University Women, I am writing you for assistance in selecting two women to be honored by the AAUW Educational Foundation for scholarly achievement and promise. The awards will be presented at the AAUW national convention in June 1979.

The two awards are the Achievement Award, which has been presented annually for 35 years to a mature scholar with an outstanding record of achievement, and the Recognition Award for Young Scholars, which was presented for the first time in 1972. Enclosed for your information is the list of women who have been honored by these two awards in the last five years.

The Achievement Award of $3,000 is presented to a woman in recognition of achievement in a scholarly or professional field. There is no limit on age nor are there restrictions on the field of achievement, but awards have usually gone to a mature woman whose record of accomplishment covers a span of ten or more years. If you wish to suggest a possible recipient, please include a vita and a resume of the accomplishments of the woman you feel worthy of this consideration as well as three letters of recommendation including one from the nominator.

The Recognition Award for Young Scholars is $1,000 and a nomination form is enclosed. Three letters of recommendation are also required, one of which shall be from the president or an equally qualified official of her institution and a second shall be from the nominator. The conditions specified for the award are:

1. Under 35 years of age at the time of nomination
2. Earned doctorate or equivalent
3. At least one outstanding contribution by the nominee in the academic and/or professional field of her choice
4. Potential of achievement (determined by past accomplishments and letters of recommendation) in an academic discipline or professional field

AAUW invites you to submit the names and supporting data of women you think qualified for these awards. Please send your nominations and suggestions to Dr. Beverly A. Harden at the above address not later than May 15, 1978.

Sincerely yours,

Marjorie Bell Chambers
Marjorie Bell Chambers

MBC:gma
Enclosures

RECIPIENTS OF AAUW ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

and of

RECOGNITION AWARD FOR YOUNG SCHOLARS

1973-77

Achievement Award

Year Name and Position at Time of Award

1973-74 Dr. Mamie Phipps Clark
Executive Director, Northside
Center for Child Development
New York, New York

1974-75 The Honorable Edith Green
Representative
United States Congress
Washington, D.C.

1975-76 Dr. Dixy Lee Ray
Assistant Secretary of State for
Oceans and International
Environment and Scientific
Affairs
Department of State
Washington, D.C.

1976-77 Dr. Jessie Bernard
Visiting Scholar
U.S. Civil Rights Commission
Washington, D.C.

1977-78 Dr. Gisela Konopka
Director of Center for Youth
Development and Research
Professor of Social Work
University of Minnesota
St. Paul, Minnesota

Recognition Award for Young Scholars

Name and Position at Time of Award

Dr. Susan M. Hartmann
Associate Professor of History
University of Missouri
St. Louis, Missouri

Dr. Donella H. Meadows
Assistant Professor of Environmental
Studies
Dartmouth College
Hanover, New Hampshire

Dr. Edna Bonacich
Assistant Professor of Sociology
University of California, Riverside
Riverside, California

Dr. Donna E. Shalala
Associate Professor of Politics and
Education
Teachers College, Columbia University
New York, New York

Dr. Sarah Woodin
Assistant Professor, Marine Biology
Department of Earth and Planetary
Sciences
The Johns Hopkins University
Baltimore, Maryland

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

NOMINATION FOR AAUW RECOGNITION AWARD

To a young American woman scholar under 35 who has demonstrated great potential for achievement

Name

Address

City

State

Zip

Date and place of birth

Education (institution, field of study, degree, date received)

Professional experience (position, institution or organization, dates of employment)

Honors, publications, and other professional recognition

Basis for nomination: Outstanding contributions to area of specialization
(Please attach newsclippings and other supporting materials)

Future career plans and potential

Nominated by (name and institution)

Date