DAVIDSON "WILDCATS"

COACH DANNY MILLER

Wildcat hopes for hardwood honors in the New Southern Conference revolve around a thoroughly likable fellow, whose talented persuasiveness has given him one of the finest basketball coaching records among the country's young mentors.

Now in his sophomore year as a Davidson coach, Miller was from 1946 to 1952 hoop coach at Wingate Junior College where he posted a remarkable 169-39 six-year mark.

Danny was born in Braddock, Pennsylvania in 1919, and remained there to graduate from North Braddock High School before forsaking the snow and ice for the Southland.

At Appalachian State Teachers College, where he graduated in 1942, he was a standout basketball player. The government was making the decision about post graduate work those years, so Danny signed with the Navy until 1945.

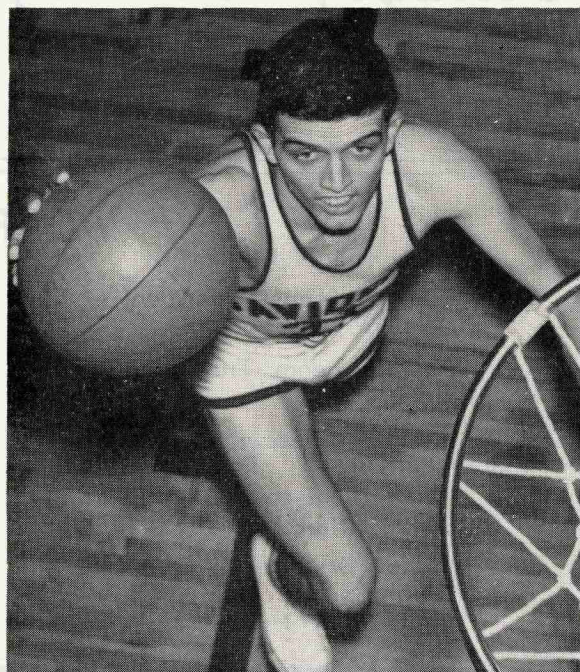

Miller has continued the style of basketball at Davidson that made him famous at Wingate. His teams play a fast type of ball with the emphasis on offense and a lot of scoring. Game average for the Wildcats last year was 64.0, just nine points behind opponents' average and pointing out how misleading a 4-17 record can be.

The 34 year old skipper is married to the former Attice Pierce, and has one young daughter, Monica Lois.

JOHN "ISH THE SWISH" BENNETT

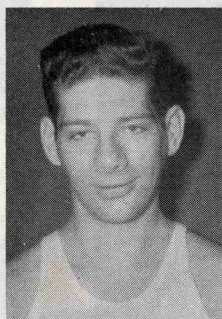

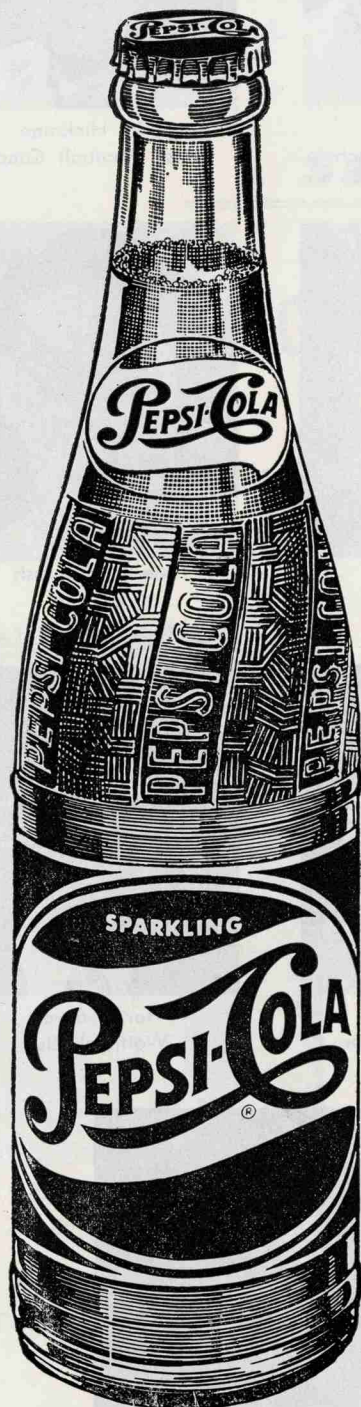

According to Coach Danny Miller, "Ish" is due for his "big year" this winter . . . Missing only one game last year, Bennett is the top scorer among the returning regulars . . . posted a solid .310 average on the floor . . . is a valuable man on the backboards as well . . . plays clean but hard . . . a two-sport stand-out—throws a wicked curve on the Wildcat mound . . . a team favorite . . . forward . . . from North Fork, W. Va.
