DIXIE CLASSIC

The Dixie Classic, the nation's outstanding holiday basketball tournament, enters its 12th session this year, with the tournament opening on Dec. 29 and concluding on Dec. 31, New Year's Eve. Nearly 75,000 basketball enthusiasts are expected to witness the 12 games in the three-day tournament held in North Carolina State's Reynolds Coliseum.

The brainchild of North Carolina State coach Everett Case, the Dixie Classic was started in 1949 and has mushroomed into a spectacular attraction. The format of the tournament matches North Carolina's Big Four schools of State, Duke, Wake Forest and North Carolina against four of the nation's best teams each year.

Another outstanding field of visiting teams has been arranged this year, featuring Villanova, a major Eastern power; Marquette, a mid-west standout; Wyoming, a perennial title-contender in the Skyline Conference; and Maryland, one of the Atlantic Coast Conference's top teams. Villanova and Wyoming will be making their second appearances in the Classic, with Maryland and Marquette first-timers.

First round pairings, which are drawn in September by the Big Four coaches, are shown on the opposite page.

No outside team has ever won any of the past 11 Classic titles. State's Wolfpack has been the most successful of the Big Four hosts, having won the title on seven occasions. North Carolina has taken the crown twice, with Duke and Wake Forest, the defending champion, one each.

The 1959 Dixie Classic missed tying the all-time attendance mark by 300 fans. A total of 73,300 persons attended the six double-header sessions. Capacity for the three-day tournament would be 74,400. The 1959 tournament had only one session—the afternoon consolation double-header—which was not sold out.

Teams which have played in the Dixie Classic include, Michigan State, Yale, Cincinnati, Louisville, Duquesne, Northwestern, St. Louis, Seton Hall, West Virginia, Rhode Island State, Penn State, Georgia Tech, Tulane, Navy, Colgate, Southern California, Cornell, Columbia, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Holy Cross, Brigham Young, Oregon State, Minnesota, Wyoming, Villanova, De Paul, Iowa, and Dayton.

Together we can do it

Sometimes a task is just too great for one person. Sometimes we need an extra pair of hands to swing the job—quickly, easily, effectively.

This is just another way of saying "People, working together can do anything" . . . and, that's the working creed of Nationwide Insurance.

People want the protection of insurance. They want the strongest and broadest protection they can get, at the most reasonable price possible. Nationwide Insurance is working with people to help them achieve just that. Are we succeeding? . . . Over 3,000,000 Nationwide Insurance owners say "Yes"!

It will pay to investigate Nationwide Insurance.
