THE DOPE SHEET

The 1947 edition of the North Carolina State Wolfpack heads into a nine-game schedule on Sept. 27 with a general mixed feeling of both optimism and pessimism on the coaching staff.

Perhaps the biggest question mark is how much the team can improve over last year. It's the concensus of opinion that State must be better to meet many of its opponents on an even basis.

The answer seems to rest with 28 lettermen veterans of the 1946 Gator Bowl team. Despite the loss of four linesmen, the Wolfpack forward wall will be strong. Competent replacements are set at the tackles where Taylor Moser and Curtis Ramsey were graduated. At the ends George Blomquist and Al Phillips will fill in for Paul Gibson and Bobby Courts, the missing '46 flankmen. They'll have valuable help, too, from Bill Stanton, Freddie Miller, Freshmen T. S. Ary and Tony Romanowsky.

The chances are that the backfield will hold the key to success. Charlie Richkus, Ogden Smith and Gwynn Fletcher, all lettermen, must carry the brunt of the offense, but there's not a triple-threater in the trio. True, there'll be men in the lineup who can handle running, kicking and passing assignments, but the triple-threat individual is missing. Leslie Palmer will handle the kicking from his fullback post. His main assistance will come from Dick Johnson and George Allen and possibly from Freshman John Huzvar. Oscar Bozeman, '46 veteran, is-set on the wing and Bob Bowlby gets the blocking back position.

Strong point of the 1947 club is definitely at the guards. Bernie Watts, star of the 13-6 win over Duke last year, and Tom Joyce are the lettermen heading the list. Freshman Charlie Musser, a prize 190-pounder from Frankford, W. Va., can be expected to play a lot of ball. Other lettermen at the guards are John Wagoner, Ralph Barksdale, Ralph Burnett and Tony Gaeta, an expected returnee from service, who earned letters at State in 1943-44-45.

Questions remaining to be answered are: How well has Gwynn Fletcher recovered from an arm operation and will he be able to take up where Howard Turner left off in 1946? Is there a defensive end with the capabilities of Paul Gibson, the 1946 all-Stater? Can Jim Rees and Ted Dostanko handle the tackle assignments as well as Moser and Ramsey did last season? Will State get as many real breaks in the nine-game schedule as the team managed last year? When these are answered and only then will the Wolfpack know its fate for 1947.

NAVY BOWL CHAMPS

THE COACHING STAFF

BEATTIE FEATHERS, head coach. Coach Feathers begins his fourth season this year as director of the Wolfpack. He came to N. C. State in 1943 on loan from Appalachian State Teachers College as an assistant to Williams (Doc) Newton and the following year when Newton moved to the University of South Carolina Feathers was made head coach.

In his three-year reign over State's gridiron destinies Feathers' teams have won 18 games and lost eight. Last season's bid to the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., after a record of 8 wins and only 2 defeats, topped off his three-year contract and he was immediately signed to another three-year apper.

Familiar to gridiron faithful all over the nation for his outstanding performances at the University of Tennessee where he made All-American in 1933 and with the professional Chicago Bears where he established a league record by gaining 1,080 yards in a single season, Feathers can boast of playing football under four systems—the single wing, double wing, T-formation and Notre Dame. During his professional grid carreer with the Bears in 1934 Feathers had an average of 9.8 yards from scrimmage for each time he lugged the pigskin. Besides the Bears Feathers played with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1938-39 and the Green Bay Packers in 1940. Including high school, college and professional playing Feathers has actively participated in football play for 15 years, a mark which few coaches can claim.

Still only 38 years old, Feathers has established himself in the coaching field in the Southern conference. His unassuming but effective leadership has gained the respect and praise of sports writers, commentators and fans all over the South. Probably his best asset is knowing how to handle men.

WALTER (BABE) WOOD, backfield coach. Veteran of the varsity staff is another Tennesseean, Babe Wood. Joining the N. C. State staff in 1939, following his graduation from the University of Tennessee, Wood handled the freshmen teams until 1940 when he was elevated to the varsity crew.

A native of McMinnville, Tenn., Wood first attended school at the University of Oklahoma, but later transferred to Tennessee where he was an All-Southern quarterback.

Wood entered the Navy in 1942 and rose to the rank of lieutenant commander. He re-joined the Wolfpack coaching staff last season when Star Wood resigned to accept a position as Dean of Men at Tusculum College in Tennessee.

BOB SUFFRIDGE, line coach. The third Tennessee alumnus on the N. C. State coaching staff is genial Bob Suffridge who was three times All-American guard under General Bob Neyland at Knoxville. Rated as one of the best linemen ever turned out by the Vol coach, Suffridge is charged with the job of tutoring center and guard candidates of the Wolfpack squad.

Suffridge has had extensive professional experience, having played with the Philadelphia Eagles. In 1941 he was voted the most valuable player on the squad. During his stint at the University of Tennessee Suffridge was given many awards. In 1940, his senior year, Suffridge was named the most outstanding lineman in the nation and presented with the Knute Rockne Trophy by the Washington Touchdown Club. He was also selected as the most valuable player to his team in the Southeastern conference in 1940.

LYLE M. RICH. end coach. A former director of athletics and physical education in Charleston, W. Va., high schools, Coach Rich joined the N. C. State staff in 1945 as coach of tackles and ends. He's also an experienced exponent of the Tennessee style of play, having aided the Volunteer squad of Coach Bob Neyland in 1945 when the Vols went to the Rose Bowl.

Rich is a native of South Dakota where he began his coaching career after graduating at Yankton College. He received his master's degree in physical education at the University of Michigan.

Sometimes referred to as "The Brain," Rich is valuable for his ability to diagnose the mistakes of opposing linemen. His judgment on the choice of plays has proved to be a deciding factor in several of State's recent triumphs on the gridiron.

CARL (Butter) ANDERSON, B squad. A star in football, basketball and track at Anderson, Ind., high school, Anderson, a six foot, two inch, 260-pounder, made his way to athletic fame at the University of Southern California where he won two letters as a Trojan footballer and served as team captain his senior year. Anderson is a jack-of-all-trades on the Wolfpack coaching staff. He serves as coach of the B squad and assists Coach Feathers with the varsity. He's faculty advisor of athletics along with his other duties.

Butter entered the Navy's athletic program in 1942 and rose to the rank of Lieutenant Commander. His Navy tour of duty included coaching posts at Bunker Hill Naval Air Station and the Naval Air Technical School. He served overseas with the Combat Airservice Unit 11 through the invasion of Okinawa.

During the winter months Anderson serves as assistant basketball coach to Everett Case.

AL CRAWFORD, trainer. Joining the State College athletic staff last season as wrestling coach and assistant trainer, Crawford became so popular among Wolfpack athletic teams that he was named head trainer during the summer when Dr. G. B. Powell resigned his post as trainer of State's athletic teams.

Crawford is a native of Wilmington, Del., but got his education in North Carolina. He attended Appalachian State Teachers College where he graduated with a BS degree. Later he was appointed assistant wrestling coach at the University of North Carolina and there he completed work on his MA degree.

Holder of three National AAU wrestling titles and one International championship which he copped in Stockholm, Sweden in 1938, Crawford is ideally suited to the job of athletic trainer. He recently competed an extensive training course under Dr. S. C. Billik in New York City.

A SKETCH OF STATE'S 1947 GRID OPPONENTS

DUKE. Coach Wallace Wade's Duke University Blue Devils dropped their first game to State since 1932 last year when Beattie Feathers' Wolfpack copped a 13-6 triumph. The Blue Dukes play host to the 'Pack at Duke Stadium on September 27 and the game in the offing should produce one of the hardest fought of the series. Despite pre-season moanings from the Duke campus Wade will have plenty of backfield material and a stalwart line. The Duke staff has reportedly put this game down as one they must win in 1947. It'll be the opener for both schools and probably no more fitting contest could have been chosen.

DAVIDSON. Coach Bill Story, one of the best story tellers in the coaching game, is also one of the smartest mentors in the Southern Conference. He proved it last year when his underdog Wildcat eleven fought a highly favored State team to a scoreless deadlock in the first half of their tiff at Riddick Stadium. The scene changes to Charlotte's Memorial Stadium this year, but the potentialities remain the same. Davidson will be strengthened in several departments and the Presbyterians could turn up with the surprise club of the circuit. Story is still building and the watchword in the loop is "Watch Davidson."

CLEMSON. With a good neucleus of veterans from the 1946 aggregation on hand this year Coach Frank Howard. Clemson's tobacco chewing head man, can be expected to deliver another scrapping Tiger eleven. It's always been a rather dog-eat-dog affair when the Wolfpack and Clemson get together and this year it'll be no different. The noggin banging between these two rivals dates back to 1899 when State first entered inter-collegiate athletics. The Tigers hold a 17-6 edge in the battling and State broke into the win column last season for the first time since the Wolfpack copped a hectic 7-6 edge in 1942.

FLORIDA. After a lean season in which the Gators failed to find a single victory in 10 starts, Coach Raymond (Bear) Wolf expects to employ a double-wing with a modified T-formation in 1947. He's crying a bit over his inexperienced club, but there'll be 22 freshmen regulars of last year to make the Floridians a tough customer to deal with. It's the only Southeastern Conference club on the Wolfpack slate and may prove to be State's toughest game of the season.

CHATTANOGGA. This one may look like a breather to a lot of people but its not being looked upon as such by the Wolfpack coaching staff. A. C. (Scrappy) Moore, chief of the Moccasins, didn't get his nickname without just cause and the Tennesseeans will come up with another battling eleven. Gene Roberts, Chattanoga's Little All-American of 1946 has departed, but the word out of the Moccasin camp is to the effect that he won't be missed. Moore makes a specialty of knocking off the bigger fry and he'll be gunning for State on November 1.

NORTH CAROLINA. If Coach Beattie Feathers could be granted one wish for the 1947 season it would be to win this one. The Tar Heels with Charlie Justice leading the way are being described as the "Team of the Year." Coach Carl Snavely will be fortified at every position with stars three and four deep. The club is the answer to a coach's prayer and should be the best ever to come out of Chapel Hill. The series is being renewed this year after being discontinued in 1943. Spirit will be high in both camps on November 8 and the breaks of the day will probably decide the winner.

WAKE FOREST. They don't come much tougher than the Demon Deacons, especially at this stage of the season. Last year Coach D. C. (Peahead) Walker got his club 'up' for a ride to Knoxville, Tenn., and it was there that the Black and Gold upset high-riding Tennessee. Deacon Walker can relax with his fine line that includes such standouts as Ed Royston and Bob Leonetti, but he must worry about replacing such backfield stars as Red Cochrane and the Sacrinity's from the 1946 club. This one is homecoming for State alumni and it's set for Riddick Stadium.

VIRGINIA. The Cavaliers were up and down last year, but with a fine group of lettermen that includes Fullback Bruce Bailey, Coach Art Guepe should have a winner at Charlottesville this season. The series goes back to 1904, but there have been only eight games played with a long lapse between 1908 and 1944. Virginia holds a 4-3 edge with one tie on the records.

MARYLAND. Jim Tatum moves over from Oklahoma to the Old Liners this season and brings the Wolfpack face to face with the man who was largely responsible for a 34-13 licking in the Gator Bowl on last January 1. Big Jim has already done some pre-season guessing about the contents of his club and although he's not impressed, it's likely that the Terrapins will be tough to handle at College Park on November 29.
