Notes from The Wolfpackage

By ED STOREY, Director of Athletic Publicity

Tonight's game brings together two winless football elevens, both determined to get their first taste of victory this season. Such determination on the part of the participants should enliven the proceedings considerably. Davidson bowed to Virginia Tech, 28-14 and Washington and Lee 33-14. State was stomped last Saturday night by George Washington 39-0.

Davidson, despite the record, has a tremendous running and passing combination in Quarterback Jack Ruth and Ends Dick Kelley and Gene Pierce. The Wildcats have scored in both their games and led both Virginia Tech and Washington and Lee before finally going down to defeat. Against V.P.I., Davidson scored the first touchdown and early in the third period had a 14-13 lead over W. & L.

State could do practically nothing right last week in losing to George Washington. Fumbles were numerous, blocking and tackling were poor, excellently thrown passes were dropped, defensive halfbacks were slow and generally speaking the Wolfpack made every mistake in the books. The game was not a true indication of the strength of the State team. Perhaps a truer picture may be had of State football after tonight's game.

Both State and Davidson, however, have much in common. Each team is facing a tough schedule with a new coach and young, inexperienced material. Coach Bill Dole of the 'Cats has had marked success at Fayetteville High and Eastern Carolina College. Coach Horace Hendrickson joined the State staff a year ago as backfield coach after coaching successes at Elon College, University of Pennsylvania and Duke. Both men are sound football fundamentalists and will undoubtedly bring both institutions toward new heights on the gridiron. But Dole and Hendrickson both will need time to accomplish their jobs, success cannot be achieved overnight.

The State-Davidson series has been dominated by the Wolfpack over the years, but there have been several surprises. Foremost of the upsets occurred just three years ago in 1949 when the Wildcats, underdogs by 18 points in the pre-game guessing, tallied a touchdown with seven minutes to play in the fourth quarter to win by 20-14. A 95-yard run by Halfback Jake Wade of Charlotte with an intercepted pass did the trick. The next game in 1950 was finally won by State 15-7, but it was a hard-fought game for the 'Pack. Last year State won by 31-0 at Charlotte. The series record stands at 26 wins for State, 10 for Davidson and six ties.

State and Davidson can each offer an All-Southern candidate for the fans approval tonight. The Wildcats boast Sophomore Jimmy Thacker, 160-pounder from Rome, Ga. Last year Thacker gained 437 yards in 80 carries for a 5.5 yard average. Davidson folks predict that Thacker will become one of the school's greatest stars before his graduation after two more football seasons.

Wolfpack fans like the play of Halfback Alex Webster, a 200-pound speedster from Kearny, N. J. Last week Big Alex had one of his poorer nights, gaining only 19 yards. For the 1951 season Webster gained 1,256 yards and is due to be a key man this year. The top man last week against George Washington was Fullback Don Langston, a 197-pounder from Lexington, Ky., who gained 121 yards on 16 tries. Both these players are All-Southern caliber.

Next week State faces its traditional rival, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. As usual, the Tar Heels are favored, but the game probably will be close and hard-fought. Following the Carolina clash, State returns home for two daytime affairs with Duke, Oct. 18 and Florida State, Oct. 25. These two games will wind up the Wolfpack's home schedule and Coach Horace Hendrickson will have his team on the road for the final five games against Wake Forest, Washington and Lee, Pittsburgh, William and Mary and Texas Tech.

Meet . . .

THE DAVIDSON HEAD COACH WILLIAM E. DOLE

William E. "Bill" Dole steps into the ranks of Southern Conference football coaches, bringing with him an outstanding record of pigskin achievement that leaves very little to be desired.

The genial West Virginian first saw the light of day in Kalamazoo, Michigan, where he made the usual grade school journey and took up high school football. Upon graduation from Kalamazoo high, Dole entered Michigan State where he remained one year before transferring to the University of West Virginia.

An injury hampered his varsity competition at West Virginia where he received his Bachelor's Degree in 1932. Dole then went to work on his Master's Degree, which he received from New York University in 1936.

Before entering the coaching profession, Dole studied abroad in Germany in 1933, and upon his return to the states began assuming various educational responsibilities. He was named President of the West Virginia State Physical Education Association in 1934, and when he moved into North Carolina circles after the war was named as a member of the North Carolina High School Athletic Executive Council in 1946-47-48, being also named chairman of the basketball committee. Dole organized the first state basketball tournament in North Carolina, held under the auspices of the state at Duke University in 1948.

Dole's coaching career began in high school football in West Virginia after his graduation from the University there. He coached at Beaver High in Bluefield, W. Va., for seven years, producing an undefeated eleven in 1940.

After World War II, Dole started his North Carolina coaching career, a career that burst forth to rapid attention when he picked up the reins at Fayetteville High School and produced championship elevens there in 1947 and 1948.

From those record breaking achievements, the genial Wildcat boss headed into the collegiate world and gathered in the faltering steed at ECTC, bringing the lowly pirates into a picture of contention in the North State Conference. His first Pirate squad won 4, lost 5, tied one, and the very next season saw the ECTC squad make hay in the North State with 7 wins against but 3 losses.

Dole's over-all pigskin record is one to be envied by any coach. Since assuming head coaching duties both in high school and college, Dole's elevens have gathered 114 victories against 45 losses and six ties.

When Crowell Little resigned at Davidson to move into the business world, Bill Dole saw the opportunity to move into Southern Conference competition, and took over the helm. He has here much the same situation that he found at ECTC, and the genial Dole thrives on challenges, and this is a great challenge to him—to pull the Wildcats up the ladder of the ungainly Southern Conference family.

He has his work cut out for him, but Bill Dole is the type of man who relishes a chance to do what seems impossible, and if Davidson's Wildcats are to start that climb to Southern Conference prominence, they have the right man to lead the way.

Meet . . .

THE DAVIDSON ATHLETIC DIRECTOR PAUL K. SCOTT

Since arriving on the Davidson scene in April of 1950, Paul Scott has become a well-known figure in Southern Conference athletic circles and is throwing in every ounce of his seemingly boundless energy in his untiring efforts to see Davidson's athletic program succeed.

The genial mid-westerner has only recently been named secretary-treasurer of the newly formed Southern Conference Athletic Directors Association, and has been carrying out his functions with enthusiasm.

Scott has organized a splendid program for the physical development of Davidson students, a program that must cater to the needs of every member of the student body, and the sports program at Davidson has felt the influence of the keen-witted Cornell College graduate.

Scott's efforts stem not only from his desire to see the Davidson football and basketball program succeed from every standpoint, but he is also a firm believer in all sports, and has been a staunch champion for the so-called minor intercollegiate sports.

Before coming to Davidson, Scott was athletic director at his alma mater, Cornell College of Iowa. He tutored outstanding wrestling teams at the Mid-West institution, turning out the National champs in 1947, and finished third in 1948-49. His wrestling teams at Cornell were undefeated for eight straight years in Mid-West competition.

Prior to joining the Cornell College staff, Scott was Director of Physical Education and Athletics at Culver-Stockton College, Missouri, from 1937 to 1941.

The Davidson athletic director is 46 years of age, and holds a Master's Degree in Physical Education from Columbia University.

MARTIN, Ralph—205 pounds, 5-11. Junior, Niagara Falls, N. Y. Injury hampered this big fellow last year but he will probably be one of the top flight defensive flankers on the current squad. He plays both blocking back and fullback. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation.

DAVIS, Charles—205 pounds, 5-11. Sophomore, Goldsboro, N. C. Potentially one of the best newcomers on team. Has quick charge and is crisp blocker. Holds his own on defense as well as being one of the best offensive blockers. Studying Construction Engineering.

KOSILLA, Steve—188 pounds, 6-1. Senior, Tarrytown, N. Y. Steve is perhaps the best pass receiver on the squad. Last year Steve caught a total of 21 passes for 226 yards for an average of 10.8 yards. He also scored two touchdowns. Studying Rural and Industrial Recreation.

C. A. (Tim) Temerario – End Coach

The appointment of C. A. (Tim) Temerario, former end coach and chief scout with the Cleveland Browns as football end coach and defensive coach at North Carolina State College was announced last April by Dr. H. A. Fisher, chairman of the college athletic council.

C. A. (TIM) TEMERARIO
End Coach
N. C. State

Temerario, a native of Lorraine, Ohio, has an extensive background in both collegiate and professional football circles. A graduate of Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa., with a Bachelor of Science degree in Education, Temerario holds a Master's degree in Education from Indiana University and has completed a major portion of his work toward a doctorate in Physical Education.

Following his collegiate gridiron career at Geneva College and his graduation in 1931, Temerario played one season of professional football before entering the coaching ranks of East Liverpool, Ohio, High School. In 1934 Temerario accepted an appointment as freshman line coach at the University of Indiana and remained until 1938 when he moved to Denison University as football line coach and head baseball coach.

At Denison Temerario served as assistant professor of Physical Education and worked in both football and baseball. In 1941 Temerario left Denison to become a physical education instructor at Indiana University and football end coach under Coach Bo McMillian.

Temerario entered the Navy in 1942 and served in the V-5 program under Captain Tom Hamilton. His first assignment was at the Iowa Pre-Flight School at Iowa City, Iowa, where he worked with Bernie Bierman, former Minnesota coach as head of athletic department and assistant football coach.

During his Navy service Temerario saw overseas duty in both the Philippines and during the invasion of Normandy.

Temerario was released from the Navy in September of 1945 and immediately took over as head line coach at Indiana University. He remained at Indiana through 1947 when he joined Coach Bo McMillian in a move to the professional Detroit Lions. Temerario remained with the Lions through 1949 when he switched to the Cleveland Browns.

In his two seasons with the Cleveland Browns, Temerario gained a wide reputation for his ability as defensive coach.

Defensive Coach Beattie Feathers

Former Head Coach Beattie Feathers, who tutored Wolfpack teams from 1944 through 1951, has been retained on the current staff to guide the defensive destinies at State. He is certainly well-versed in this art, having produced teams which led the nation in defense in both 1946 and 1947.

In point of service Feathers is the oldest member of the State athletic staff. He came to West Raleigh in 1943 as assistant football coach to Williams (Doc) Newton and in 1944 was named head football coach. During his eight seasons as head coach his teams won 36, lost 37 and tied four.

A native of Bristol, Va., Feathers has a long career behind him as a player that includes 15 seasons in high school, college and professional football. He was an All-State fullback at Bristol, Va. before heading for the University of Tennessee where he became one of Coach Bob Neyland's all-time great stars. Feathers was selected All-America in 1933 and was rated one of the finest backfield stars ever turned out at the Volunteer institution, which is a consistent producer of stars.

BEATTIE FEATHERS
N. C. State

In 1934 Feathers moved into the professional ranks with the Chicago Bears and here he attained the height of achievement once again. In his freshman season in the play-for-pay ranks, Feathers led the league in the ground gaining department, personally accounting for 1,800 yards rushing, which stood for 13 years as the league record until it was broken by Steve Van Buren of the Philadelphia Eagles in 1948. Feathers teamed with Fullback Bronco Nagurski as the one-two punch of the fabulous Chicago Bears, which won the pro title for five seasons while Feathers was a player.

Beattie saw seven seasons with the Bears and then wound up as a player with the Brooklyn Dodgers and Green Bay Packers. Injuries hampered him during his last season in the league. In 1940 Feathers moved into the coaching field with Appalachian State Teachers College at Boone, N. C. After two years as assistant he was made head coach.

Feathers should prove to be a great asset to the State staff this season. Head Coach Horace Hendrickson says, "I know of no one who can do a better job of setting up defenses than Beattie Feathers. He is highly respected among coaches throughout the Southern Conference and we are mighty happy that he is staying here to help with our squad."

NORTH CAROLINA STATE PLAYERS

BETHUNE, Dickie—170 pounds, 5-11. Sophomore, Clinton, N. C. Another break-away type runner. Although he lacks weight, Bethune is tough and likes to play. Injured last year but is expected to be important performer this year.

BRITT, James C.—208 pounds, 6-3. Senior, Fayetteville, N. C. One of the best linemen on the State squad, Britt has the speed of jet plane and the hitting power of a Mack truck. Few big men have Britt's speed in the open. Studying Textiles.

BARKOUSKIE, Ray—210 pounds, 6-1. Senior, Kulpmont, Pa. Captain of the 1952 squad Ray has seen extensive service on Wolfpack teams for the past three years. Ray also handles the extra point tasks on the team. Majoring in Industrial Arts.

ABOUT OUR SQUAD

We don't have room on this page for more than just a few of our squad or star programs and personalities. Of course, we've got plenty more—both big names and big shows.

We're not the most powerful station in the world—or even in Raleigh—in terms of watts. But we do have something—a very big something. That's listeners. At almost any given time of day, most of the radio dials in Raleigh will be tuned to our GC frequency.

We're not big. We're not overly-powerful. We're not fancy. But we manage to do a doggone good job of carrying the broadcasting ball.

We're the most popular station in Raleigh for news, for sports, for kids and mystery shows. And for morning and night music and variety shows.

We hope you enjoy today's game. We hope you'll tune us in next time you're in Raleigh. We hope you'll come up and pay us a visit. We think you'll like us, too.

Roy B. Clogston

ROY B. CLOGSTON
Athletic Director

After four years at the helm of N. C. State's athletic program, Roy Bennett Clogston has shown that he knows his way around. His popularity has grown by leaps and bounds and everywhere he has made additional friends for the school's athletic teams.

Taking over the reins at State on August 1, 1948 Clogston found many problems confronting the program, but with a systematic effort he set about the task of building Wolfpack teams and facilities to the point where today they are considered among the best in the Southern Conference.

Under Clogston's administration the huge William Neal Reynolds Coliseum was completed and readied for the 1949-50 basketball season. It was largely through his personal efforts that the first contest was staged in the structure on December 1, 1949.

Clogston has untiringly devoted his time to the progress of athletics at State. He has been instrumental in helping round out the schedule of intercollegiate contests for State teams and through his efforts a full-time tennis and soccer coach was added to the Wolfpack staff. Not only is Clogston vitally interested in the major sports on the campus, but he is a close follower of the so-called minor sports of swimming, track, tennis, golf, soccer and wrestling.

A graduate of Springfield College at Springfield, Mass., Clogston is a native of Ballston Lake, N. Y. He holds a degree in physical education from Springfield and a Master's degree in physical education from New York University.

Clogston's background in college athletics is extensive. For nearly 20 years he was director of athletics at St. Lawrence University at Canton, N. Y. and during his tenure there established St. Lawrence as one of the leading small colleges in national athletic circles. At St. Lawrence he served as head football coach as well as golf and wrestling mentor.

During World War II Clogston saw extensive service with the Navy. He served as administrative officer under Commander Tom Hamilton in the far-famed Hamilton-program which brought recreation facilities to the far corners of the world. He also served as rehabilitation officer on Guam and

Willis R. Casey

Assistant Athletic Director and Swimming Coach

Jack-of-all trades on the State athletic staff is Willis Casey, who has one of the most impressive records as any tank coach in the Southern Conference. Besides his coaching duties, Casey handles much of the business of the athletic department, is manager of both the Dixie Classic and Southern Conference basketball tournaments, and pitches in to assist in running off track and cross country meets.

Casey's record as swimming coach is slightly terrific. Although only 32 years old he has amassed a record of 123 victories against only 12 losses in seven years as head tank coach at N. C. State. His 1952 Wolfpack team won 14 and lost once and as individuals won eight Southern Conference titles. During his 10 years of coaching in the Southern Conference, he has nine times won the Carolinas A.A.U. title and copped five Southern A.A.U. crowns.

Over the years Casey has coached many successful swimmers, including 40 boys who were National Junior Champions of America. Standouts of the past year include Frank Nauss, Southern Conference 1,500, 440 and 220 champion, who is also a member of the All-America team in the 440-yard free style, Bob Mattson, Southern Conference 150-yard individual medley, and 150-yard breaststroke champion, also a member of the 1952 All-America medley team.

Willis is a graduate of the University of North Carolina where he majored in Physical Education. He was a champion swimmer in his undergraduate days and one of the top breaststrokers in the nation. After graduation from Carolina he remained as swimming coach for two years before coming to N. C. State in 1946.

Casey has been instrumental in not only raising the standard of swimming teams at N. C. State, but he has also assisted greatly in improving track and cross country teams. He began the North Carolina Cross-Country Championships, which are held annually at State and also instigated the first Big Four All-Star track and field meet, which is held each year. Casey was recently elected as secretary of the Southern Conference Cross Country Coaches Association and is also a member of the Southern Conference Swimming Committee.

Head Trainer Merle J. McIntosh

Newest addition to the N. C. State athletic staff is Trainer Red McIntosh, who comes to West Raleigh via the University of Arizona and Rhode Island State University. McIntosh reported for duty on September 6.

A native of Newcastle, Pa. Red was an outstanding football player in 1929. In 1930 Red enrolled at Duke University as a player under Coach Wallace Wade and saw service with the Blue Devils for two years before leaving that institution to play professional football. For two years he barnstormed around the country until he signed with the Cleveland Rams.

In 1936 McIntosh returned to college, enrolling at Slippery Rock Teachers College at Slippery Rock, Pa. As an undergraduate he also assisted with the football team as line coach. During McIntosh's stay at Slippery Rock that institution ran up a string of 23 straight football victories that extended over three seasons.

After leaving Slippery Rock in 1940, Red was football coach at Emerson High School in Union City, N. J. for a period of four years. In 1944 McIntosh accepted a job as assistant football coach and trainer at Rhode Island State. During his eight year stay with the Rhodies, McIntosh took time off to study physio-therapy at New York University, and serve an internship at St. Joseph's Hospital in Providence, R. I.

McIntosh holds a degree in physical education from Slippery Rock Teachers College and has completed graduate work in physio-therapy at New York University. While at Rhode Island he was an instructor and assistant professor of physical education.

Trainer McIntosh has wide experience in treating all types of athletic injuries. Rhode Island Football Coach Ed Doherty says, "Red McIntosh can rehabilitate an injury faster than anyone I've seen in the business." Other Rhode Island coaches attribute much of the success of the Rams great basketball teams to the skill and savvy exhibited by McIntosh. Frank Keaney, former cage coach, and H. C. Haire, present basketball mentor, both are high in their praise of McIntosh's ability as a trainer. Fred Tootell, Rhode Island track coach, says "If Red McIntosh can't get 'em ready to run, there's no hope."

The new State trainer was to have accepted a position at the University of Arizona on Sept. 1, but when he was offered the opportunity to join the staff at West Raleigh he requested to be released from his contract at Tucson in order to report to the Wolfpack.

RIDDICK STADIUM

Riddick Stadium, present site of North Carolina State's home football contests, was started in 1907 as an athletic field and the first football contest was played on September 30, 1907 between State and Randolph-Macon.

In 1912 the stadium received its present name when the senior class voted to name the field in honor of Professor W. C. Riddick, who is regarded as the father of athletics at North Carolina State.

Construction of the concrete stands on the west side was begun in the summer of 1916 and during that year football contests were held at Raleigh with Davidson and Wake Forest.

In 1928 the stadium was enlarged and the east stands were completed. The field house and present lighting system were completed during the 1938-39 seasons.

Many changes have taken place in the physical field as it now exists. Once it was level with surrounding ground, but grading and new construction has lowered the present field until it is approximately eight to ten feet below the level of the surrounding earth.

During recent years the large crowds attending contests in Riddick Stadium have forced athletic officials to increase the seating capacity by adding extra bleachers at both ends of the playing field. The structure, which once could care for only 5,000 persons in 1916 can now accommodate a gathering of about 20,000 people.

Head Coach Horace (Horse) Hendrickson

Taking over the football coaching reins at N. C. State this year is Horace Hendrickson, former Duke University football star, who has been in the coaching field for the past 18-years. He brings a wealth of experience to his first head coaching job in the Southern Conference, which includes positions at Duke, Elon College, University of Pennsylvania and with the professional Brooklyn Dodgers.

HORACE HENDRICKSON
Head Football Coach
N. C. State

A native of Beaver Falls, Pa., Hendrickson attended Kiski Prep and was a standout performer on football, baseball and basketball teams. In 1930 he entered Duke and went on to become one of that institution's greatest all-around athletes, starring as quarterback of the Blue Devils first Southern Conference championship team, as regular third baseman on Coach Jack Coombs baseball squad and earning letters as a basketball regular under Coach Eddie Cameron. He is one of the few three sport-lettermen in Duke athletic history.

Wallace Wade, now commissioner of the Southern Conference, who coached Hendrickson at Duke, rates the new Wolfpack football coach as one of the greatest quarterbacks he ever coached. Wade's career covers nearly a half-century of coaching great teams at Alabama and Duke. Hendrickson achieved his nickname "The Horse" during his senior year at Duke when he played every position in the Blue Devil backfield.

Hendrickson's football achievements at Duke were many. He was selected to the All-American first-team and was a standout in the 1933 game with Tennessee, which Duke won 10-2. Hendrickson was also voted to several All-America blocking teams.

After his graduation in 1934 from Duke, Hendrickson was named assistant freshman coach by Wallace Wade. He remained in that capacity through June 1937 and also assisted in basketball and baseball.

In the summer of 1937 Hendrickson was selected to his first head coaching job at Elon College and it was the start of one of the most successful connections ever made by the Fighting Christians. During the five years from 1937 through 1941 that Hendrickson guided the destinies of Elon, the football squad won two North State Conference championships, two in basketball and three in baseball. Hendrickson was head coach of all three sports as well as athletic director. His football teams, meeting the best in the North State, won 32, lost 12 and tied 1.

After a highly successful 1941 season when the Elon Christians won eight and lost only once and claimed the North State Conference crown, Hendrickson resigned to move to the University of Pennsylvania as backfield coach under George Munger and head baseball coach. Hendrickson served as chief scout for Munger's Pennsylvania Quakers, who won the Ivy League title each year during Hendrickson's stay between 1942 and 1948.

Hendrickson resigned at Pennsylvania in 1948 to join Carl Voyles with the now defunct Brooklyn Dodgers of the National Football League. In the Dodger organization Hendrickson scouted for the baseball team and handled the backfield coaching job.

When the Brooklyn team decided to withdraw its football interests from the professional game Hendrickson had several offers of coaching assignments, but his love of North Carolina drew him back to his alma mater, Duke University, where he was named head freshman coach of football, baseball and basketball.

Hendrickson's second job at Duke was a highly successful venture as all his other assignments had been. His first Blue Imp freshman football squad was undefeated in six games during the 1949 season and ranks as one of the best yearling teams ever produced at Duke. In 1950 Hendrickson's freshman team won three and lost two. Among the victories was a 19-0 win scored over an N. C. State freshman team, which was one of the best turned out at West Raleigh.

When State began a search for a new backfield coach in the summer of 1951, Hendrickson was recommended for the position and was immediately signed to a three-year contract. He assumed his duties on August 1, 1951, and took over as chief scout in addition to his backfield coaching job.

In December, 1951, when the State Athletic Council began a search for a new football coach they had to look no further than their own staff to pick a successor to Beattie Feathers. Hendrickson was given the approval of the council and was signed to a three-year contract. He immediately assumed the duties and began to lay plans for the 1952 season.

A thorough student of football, Hendrickson has had experience with all styles of play. He began to switch from the single-wing to the split T-formation in spring practice in April and succeeded in moulding the squad into the new style of play in time to impress observers in the annual Red-White intra-squad contest in May.

Hendrickson faces a big task with the 1952 Wolfpack, but its one that he is tackling with a determination that has characterized his entire coaching career, which has never been marred by a losing season. He predicts no miracles with his first Wolfpack team, but those who know "The Horse" feel that he will give State one of its better clubs. Hendrickson's lifetime record as a head coach shows 41 victories, 14 defeats and only one tie. During five years in the tough North State Conference at Elon his teams lost only five league games and were never beaten by more than two touchdowns. At Duke as freshman mentor his teams won nine and lost only twice and his Blue Imps were regarded as the best coached yearling team in the Southern Conference.

At Duke Hendrickson was an outstanding campus leader as well as one of the greatest athletes in that institution's history. He graduated with honors with a Bachelor of Arts degree in History and a minor in Education.

POWER

Power . . . to some, may be represented in the driving piston-like legs of a fullback, churning his way through a mass of unyielding humanity. Still . . . to another person, it may bring to mind the lifting of tons of earth with one scoop of a giant shovel or perhaps a big diesel engine pulling a mile long string of freight cars.

All of us . . . at some time, have thrilled to a display of power in one form or another . . . and realize that progress is dependent upon power.

Yes, this country depends on power of all kinds . . . particularly electric power. That's why electric companies, like Carolina Power & Light Company, make sure that a plentiful supply of power is available.

Carolina Power & Light Company is now engaged in the biggest program of expansion in its history . . . a $100 million program that offers reasonable assurance that everybody in this area who wants electric power, may continue to have it . . . when . . . where, and in whatever quantity it is needed, at the flick of a switch.

Backfield Coach Billy Hickman

A T-formation quarterback with wide and varied experience, Billy Hickman is a valuable addition to Coach Horace Hendrickson's coaching staff. Like Mike Karmazin, Hickman assumed his new duties at State last March in time to assist with off-season drills.

WILLIAM HICKMAN
Backfield Coach
N C State

Hickman, a native of Baltimore, Md., has earned five varsity monograms, four at the University of Virginia and one at Maryland. After a highly successful prep school career at Baltimore Polytechnic, Billy entered Maryland in 1943 and played regular at quarterback as a freshman under Coach Doc Spears.

In 1944 Hickman was inducted into the Navy training program and assigned to the University of Virginia where he played football under Coach Art Guepe for one season before going to Cuba for another Navy assignment. In 1946 Hickman was discharged from the service and entered Virginia. He was a regular quarterback for Coach Guepe for the next three seasons, 46-47-48 and one of the stars of the team. During his stay at Charlottesville Hickman played every position in the Virginia backfield on both offense and defense.

After taking a degree in Mechanical Engineering in 1948 Hickman remained at the University of Virginia to help Coach Art Guepe with the Cavalier backfield. After two years at Virginia, Billy moved to Duke University at Durham, N. C. in 1950 where he helped Coach Wallace Wade set up defenses against the T-formation.

In 1951 Hickman accepted a position with the Elliott Machine Corp. of Baltimore, Md. as a consulting engineer. During the fall he kept his hand in football by doing some scouting for Coach Guepe at the University of Virginia.

Last March when Coach Hendrickson began a search for a T-formation specialist, Hickman was recommended to him most highly by several leading coaches. A call to Baltimore brought an interview with Billy and after two weeks of negotiations, Hickman finally agreed to return to the coaching field and take the post at N. C. State.

A very serious student of the T-formation, Hickman has become a virtual authority on the subject as far as the Wolfpack staff is concerned.

Line Coach Mike Karmazin

Big, likable Mike Karmazin joined the State football staff last March in time to assist Coach Hendrickson with the installation of the brand new split T-formation attack for the Wolfpack.

A native of Irwin, Pa., Mike has a rich football background both as player and coach. After making all-state at Norwin (Pa.) High as a guard in 1939, Karmazin cast his football future with Duke's Blue Devils at Durham, N. C. where he was to become one of the Big Blues best forwards.

Karmazin was an All-Southern under Coach Wallace Wade for two years, 1940-41 and was regarded as one of the best running guards ever to play for Duke. He was selected to the All-America second-team and made a first-team selection on the All-America Blocking squad. Mike was one of the mainstays of the Duke Rose Bowl team which met Oregon State in the transplanted contest at Durham, Jan. 1, 1942.

Mike entered the Coast Guard in 1942 and served for three years before returning to Duke to complete work on a Bachelor's Degree in History. At Duke he was assistant under Coach Wade during his undergraduate days.

Karmazin decided to take a crack at professional football in 1946 and played two seasons with the New York Yankees. During both seasons in the play-for-pay ranks the Yankee team was runners-up to the Cleveland Browns for the pro championship. Karmazin returned to Duke in 1948 to assist with the Duke defenses and remained with the Blue Devils until 1951 when he was named head coach at Fork Union Military Academy, Fork Union, Va. His 1951 team had a record of five wins and four defeats.

When Horace Hendrickson was named head coach at State he immediately sought Karmazin's services to help install the T-formation attack for the Wolfpack. Mike agreed to terms and immediately moved his headquarters to Raleigh where he and his wife, Betty and their two-year old daughter now make their home.

Although only 33 years old Karmazin is regarded by Hendrickson as one of the best young football coaches in the business. At State Mike will have charge of all line play and will concentrate his work on developing offensive blocking assignments, a department in which he excelled as a player.
