Dear Ms. Reiman:

Enclosed you will find a copy of our new constitution (versus last year) approved by the group on September 20, 1989. Two significant changes (with others) were made to which I would like to call to your attention: First, we have changed our name from Campus Advance to REACH. This was done to reflect a change of emphasis in our purpose. Also, it was done to clarify our operation as an autonomous group with respect to any other student organization across the nation (including those named Campus Advance).

Second, we have changed our organizational goals as you can note on the constitution copy. We want to be people who sincerely care for the well being and growth of our peers on campus. We want to show by our action that we are here to support the university and serve to the benefit, need or development of its students and faculty. We believe that real love for God expresses itself in real respectful love for our fellow man. We want to reach out to our community with a spirit of hope.

Thank you for your work on behalf of the students and the university. Please make this your file copy of our constitution, replacing the now obsolete one. Do not hesitate to contact us now or in the future if the need so arises.

Sincerely,

Bailey Forrest

The purpose of Campus Advance is to develop a family community that introduces and encourages each individual to develop the closest possible relationship with Christ.

A brief explanation of some of the above words may aid in understanding and give enlightenment:

Family - growth, development process

Community - fellowship

Introduces - evangelism

Encourages - study

Individual - personal growth

Develop - leadership

Relationship - knowing Him personally

Christ - active and visible in each life
