

Stallings
1/6/69

STATE PURPOSE 481 AND 482

The Rural Civil Defense program during 1968 centered mainly around training with agents, 4-H members, Homemakers Clubs, and leader groups. Considerable work was also done with agricultural workers councils, USDA Defense Boards, organized community groups, civic clubs, etc.

Special countywide 4-H training workshop series of meetings were conducted in seven counties with seventeen hours instruction given by the Rural Civil Defense specialist for each.

Fifty-six counties participated in District 4-H RCD Demonstration Contests with excellent quality of presentations. LuAnn Hall of Rowan County was the state winner. Fifty-two counties presented medals to winners in the RCD project. Julie Gardner of Martin County was the state project winner and was awarded a trip to National 4-H Club Congress. No other state has had a club member win this award, while North Carolina has had two, one in 1967 and one in 1968.

Nine counties have been worked with this year in special training programs for Homemakers Clubs. Leaders and agents were trained and in turn taught the same subject matter to all clubs.

Some agents have given RCD programs to all 4-H Clubs, some to all Homemakers Clubs, others to organized communities or civic clubs using slides and other visuals provided by the RCD specialist.

The RCD specialist gave a talk on RCD programs at five local government officials district meetings, prepared a special training problem for a State USDA Defense Board meeting and another for district meetings of County USDA Defense Boards.

Thirty-two counties used the two slide sets entitled "Finding the Best Protected Part of Your Home" and "Food for Family Survival" at County Defense Board Meetings.

Through the RCD educational program, more people of North Carolina are being informed on important survival procedures and most people contacted are found to be both interested and impressed, resulting in some planning and preparing being done.

4818 Annual Report
482 Rural Civil Defense

The Rural Civil Defense program during 1968 centered mainly around training with Agents, 4-H members, Homemakers Clubs and leader groups. Considerable work was also done with agricultural workers councils, USDA Defense Boards, organized community groups, civic clubs etc.

Special countywide 4H training workshop series of meetings were conducted in seven counties with seventeen hours instruction given by the RCD Specialist for each.

Fifty-six counties participated in District 4H RCD Demonstration contests with excellent quality of presentations. Lu Ann Hall of Rowan Co. was the state winner. Fifty-two counties presented medals to winners in The RCD project, Julie Gardner of Martin Co. was the state project winner and was awarded a trip to National 4H Club Congress. No other state has had a club member win this award while NC has ^{had two, one} in 1967 ^{and} ^{one in} 1968.

Nine counties have been worked with this year in special training program for Homemakers Clubs. Leaders + agents were trained and in turn taught the same subject matter to all clubs.

Some agents have given RCD programs to all 4H Clubs, some to all Homemakers clubs, others to organized

Communities or civic clubs using slides and other visuals provided by the RCD Specialist.

The RCD Specialist gave a talk on RCD ~~at~~ programs at 5 local govt officials district meetings, prepared a special ^{training} problem for a State USDA Defense Board meeting and another for district meetings of Co USDA Defense Boards.

Thirty two counties used the two slide sets entitled "Finding the Best Protected Part of your Home" and "Food for Family Survival" at County Defense Board Meetings.

Through the RCD educational program we are getting more people of NC informed ^{on} ^{important} survival procedures and are finding most people contacted both interested + impressed ~~with~~ resulting in some planning and preparing being done.