1963 / AWARDS EDITION

4-H ACHIEVEMENT

In this special edition, we honor our 1963 State and National champion 4-H Club members in North Carolina. As we honor these we, at the same time, pay tribute to every 4-H Club Member in North Carolina who, to the best of his ability, has lived up to the 4-H Club motto, "To Make The Best Better,"--he too is a champion.

Every person in North Carolina may well be proud of the achievements of our 4-H members in county, state, national, and international affairs. Few states can boast of a finer record of achievement--these achievements due in a large measure to the untiring efforts and consecrated leadership of the Extension workers and local volunteer leaders who have given more than they were expected to give in the way of service and influence in the direction of 4-H activities. The sympathetic understanding of parents interested in obtaining the best training possible for their boys and girls, and individuals and business organizations, who through the years have given moral and financial support, have helped boys and girls to make these achievements.

To all of you, 4-H members, parents, Extension workers, sponsors, and local leaders, we, the members of the North Carolina 4-H staff, express grateful appreciation for the privilege that has been ours in working with you and having a part in making these achievements possible.

STATE LIVESTOCK JUDGING TEAM

The State 4-H Livestock Judging Team is determined from the two 4-H'ers who score highest on the highest scoring county team in the state contest and the other two 4-H'ers who obtain the highest individual scores. The Forsyth County team scored highest in the State contest with Garland Fearrington and Jimmy Morris being the top judges of the team. Connie Mac Pittman and Garland Fearrington were the two top individuals. These four boys represented North Carolina at the Regional 4-H Livestock Judging Contest in Richmond, Virginia. Gene was unable to leave college to participate in the National contest so Dick Idol substituted for him. These four boys placed first over 29 teams at the National 4-H Livestock Judging Contest at the International Livestock Show in Chicago receiving trophies and ribbons given by Union Stock Yard and Transit Company of Chicago. Dick Idol was the second high individual judge in the nation receiving a $400 Savings Bond given by Armour & Company.

Donor: First Union National Bank, Wilson, N. C.

STATE DAIRY JUDGING TEAM

STATE 4-H DAIRY JUDGING TEAM: (Left to Right) Robert Stamey, Iredell County; Dennis Shepherd, Guilford County; Ricky Reitzel, Catawba County; and Douglas Craig, Caldwell County.

These four boys placed highest as individuals in the final State Dairy Judging Contest at State 4-H Club Week, July 22-23. Douglas could not go to the national contest so Nancy Harrison, of Yadkin County substituted for him. This team placed 11th at the National 4-H Dairy Judging Contest held at Waterloo, Iowa. The team placed 7th in Guernseys and 5th in Holsteins. Robert Stamey ranked 4th in Holsteins and Nancy Harrison ranked 8th in Holsteins.

Donor: N. C. 4-H Development Fund

STATE VEGETABLE JUDGING TEAM

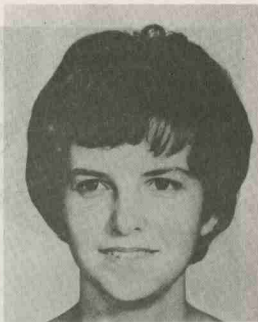

STATE VEGETABLE JUDGING, GRADING, AND IDENTIFICATION TEAM: (Left to Right) Roger Sharpe, Mary Renegar, and Anne Cooke, all from Iredell County.

The team placed highest in the State contest held at N. C. State on July 22. Each member of the team received a watch.

Donor: Farmers Cooperative Exchange, Raleigh, N. C.

DANFORTH CAMP DELEGATES

Hoke Smith, III, Randolph County and Brenda Fairless, Hertford County attended the American Youth Foundation Leadership Training Camp at Stony Lake, Michigan, for two weeks in August. They were selected from special application submitted on the basis of character, leadership in 4-H Club work, scholastic standing and athletic activities. Its purpose is to assist young people to discover and to develop their best selves, to help them make a constructive live adjustment, and to better equip them to guide others.

NATIONAL 4-H CONFERENCE DELEGATES

Left to Right: Wilson Lowery, Jones County; Evann Rowe, Craven County; Karen Cash, Union County; and Clement Lucas, Wilson County

These four delegates were selected for their outstanding achievement, personal growth, demonstrated leadership ability, community service and citizenship endeavors. From the applications submitted from each county in January, 16 club members were selected to come to North Carolina State for a personal interview. A panel of judges studied their written records prior to their arrival and jointly from their records and personal qualifications selected these 4-H members for the highest honor which a club member can receive.

National 4-H Conference was held in Washington, D. C., April 20-26, with four delegates attending from each of the 50 states. The conference program was designed to give new insights and understanding about responsibilities as an American citizen and a keener appreciation of our great American Heritage.
